DAINTY LINGERIE

Interests Every Lady in the Land.

Every woman must give a certain amount of consideration to her lingerie, and that is no great task nowadays, when there is so much daintiness to catch the eye.

The chemise is so rapidly gaining in favor that another summer will see very few wearing the vest. The chemise is so much more dainty and feminine looking than the ugly little knitted vests, be they of silk or cotton. The fancy for silk underwear has passed and is seen now only where it originated—among the cocottes.

There is no material so especially adapted to the making of underwear as fine sheer linens or cottons, and this every one now recognizes. Much of the lingerie intended for midsummer wear is made up of the thinnest of mulls, some dotted and some perfectly plain, but smothered in masses of dainty laces and narrow ribbons.

One of the daintiest sets of clothing I have yet seen shows a long chemise, long enough to answer for a short underskirt, as it is intended. The material is the sheerest of linen lawn with a finish as fine as muslin; there is very little fulness to make it bulky, the lines of the body being followed somewhat with narrow lace insertions let in at the seams; double rows of insertion cross these at the foot, where a deep frill of fine lace is put as a finish. A second deep frill of lace forms a bertha about the shoulders, set off by knots of white bebe ribbon. The drawers are odd and new, both in cut and mode of trimming: they are wide and flaring, the width being intensified by the deep frills of lace at the foot, which is caught into festoons and jaboted all along the side half way up the leg. Small knots of white bebe ribbons are used here also.

To Identify Old Lace.

It is pleasant, and often useful, to be able to identify a piece of real old lace when we see one. This may be very easily done by reference to the following:—

Mediæval style—The first development of lace from mere threadwork on linen. Introduced about the end of the 15th century. The original pattern is composed of symbolic groups, with figures, emblems, misshapen monsters, sacred and other animals, trees, leaves, wreaths and scroll work. This forms the prevailing style until about 1550.

Geometrical style—1550 to 1620. A combination of squares, triangles, lozenges, wheels and segments of circles.

Renaissance style—1620 to 1790. Very artistic and elaborate. Fanciful, flowing and undulating wreaths, garlands of flowers, leaves, scroll work—first in close patterns, afterward more open and connected by button-holed netground.

Rococo style—1720 to 1770. Period of decline. Designs stiff, rigid and disconnected. Angular leaves, flowers and bunches of flowers crowded together.

Dotted style—1770 to 1810. Very small patterns, consisting of tiny bouquets, the ground dotted with rosettes, tears, bees. Old lace, supplanted by drawn muslin, and braid or tape-work once known contemptuously as point de canaille, or beggars' lace.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Thousands testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

HOod's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists. 25c.

CASTORIA.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Mrs. P., says: "My daughter was pale and sickly for two years; she took Miller's Compound Iron Pills for one month and is now well and strong." 50 doses for 25 cents. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill druggist.

DANCED WITH A KING.

Two Little Americans at the Court of King Christian of Denmark.

Virginia Yeaman Remnitz, in St. Nicholas, tells a true story of the adventures of two young Americans at the court of the King of Denmark. They were children of the American Minister, and had been invited to a children's party at the palace. Here is what followed:—

It was to Ellen a never-to-be-forgotten night. The crowds of happy children; the great room, brilliantly lighted; the strains of music; the presence of a real king and queen—all combined to make the scene a fairy land wherein events took place which made Ellen feel herself a sort of fairy queen.

The king opened the ball with Ellen. Hardly understanding the honor, some sense of it nevertheless thrilled her childish heart. She could not even see his face, so tall was he, but his strong arms bore her around and around, she knew not how, for Ellen danced with as little precision and method as the leaves on a tree or the ripples in a lake. Yet all through her being she felt that she was dancing with the king. It seemed but fitting, after that dance, to find herself seated on the sofa between the king and queen. With royal disregard to the claims of other small guests, and with royal indifference to the effect upon little Ellen, they lifted her up between them. She looked pretty, natural and unconscious, and was herself a little queen in all her ways! While Ellen sat there, too happy and pleased to feel proud, the other children danced on.

With no thought of imitating their elders in manner or motion, the young dancers abandoned themselves with childish freedom and simplicity to the enjoyment of the hour. Those who had never been trained in the different steps adapted their movements to the promptings of happy hearts and light feet, and were as contented as the others. And little Ellen rested comfortably between the king and queen until she was ready to dance again.

The evening wore on, and Ellen was overcome with weariness and sleep. Slipping away from the children, who now were whirling around in some dizzy game, she threw herself on a couch. Just as the scene grew misty to her eyes and the dazzling events of the evening began to weave themselves into the suggestion of a dream, she was aroused by some one asking: "Where did you get your pretty pink slippers, Ellen?" and she opened her eyes. Why was the king sitting beside her and talking to her when she was so sleepy? She had a confused idea that he ought to put on his crown, and sit on a throne. "Please, Mr. King, don't hover me; I'm so sleepy;" and Ellen, turning her face upon royalty slipped away to her pleasing dreams. "Little Ellen, little Ellen," said the king, musingly; "it is not often I hear the truth so plainly told, and it is refreshing to my ears."

Wise Ostrich.

The stock illustration of what a fool will do is the habit which ostriches have of sticking the head into the sand, leaving the body exposed; but the author of "The Gold Diggings of Cape Horn" says that this habit does not seem foolish to one who studies the ostrich in its desert home. On the contrary, it is nature's wise provision for the safety of the bird in a region where hiding-places are scarce.

The male ostrich hatches out the eggs, looks after the brood, keeps his eyes open for men, beasts and birds, and sounds a loud snorting, warning call when he sees an enemy. The brood, when warned, fade out of sight. Each chick squats motionless, its head in the sand, and its body so near in color to that of the sand and scant herbage as to deceive even an experienced hunter.

Its body looks like a gray desert bush, and the gauchos—the cow-boys of the pampas — when searching for young ostriches examine every bush within many rods of the spot where a brood disappears. Often what seemed a bush is found to be in part or wholly a young ostrich. With its head up the bird would be at once detected; with its head in the sand, it often escapes even the keen-eyed fox.

Deep-Dyed Deceit.

"So your engagement is broken," said her dearest friend.

"Yes," she replied, sadly. "I was never so deceived in my life. He made all sorts of vows and promises, and then—"

"Why don't you sue him for breach of promise?"

"No use," she answered, with a shake of her head. "That's the way I was deceived in him. I thought he was good for a breach of promise suit, and at the last minute I find it would only be money wasted."—Chicago Post.

Where the Disgrace Came In.

Mrs. Bigwad—It must be terribly embarrassing to be as poor as the Joneses—they never give anything to charity.

Mr. Bigwad—But we don't, either.

Mrs. Bigwad—Well, they can't say that it is because we haven't got it to give.—Vanity.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await checque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

BOYS AND GIRLS

A MISSPELLED TAIL.

A little buoy said, "Mother, deer,
May I go out to play?
The son is bright, the heir is clear,
Owe, mother, don't say neigh!"

"Go fourth, my sun," the mother said,
The ant said, "Take ewer slay,
Your gnel s knew sled, awl painted read,
But dew knot lose your weigh."

"Awe, know!" he cried, and sought the street,
With hart sew full of glee—
The wether changed—and snow and sleet
And reign fell steadily.

Threw snowdrifts great, threw watery pool,
He fine with mite and mane;
Said he, "Though I wood walk by rule,
I am not rite, 'tis plane.

"I'd like to meat some kindly sole,
For hear new dangers weight,
And yonder stairs a treacherous whole—
Two sloe has bin my gate.

"A peace of bred, a gneiss hot stake,
I'd chews if I were home;
This cruel fete my hart will brake,
Eye love knot thus to Rome.

"I'm week and pail, I've mist my rode,"
But hear a carte came past;
He and his sled were safely toad
Back two his home at last.

—St. Nicholas.

A Marvellous Guest.

The children came up from the riverside in the bright August morning.

They brought flowers; tufts of dull-white turtle's head, delicate sprigs of pink gerardia, the little, sweet-scented white ladies' tresses, the first goldenrod, pale-red milkweed, blue spikes of pickerelweed, and long sprays of the coarser loose-strife, beginning to be stained scarlet by the coming autumn.

With happy talk and laughter they crowded them into my hands, and I began to arrange them in a cocoanut cup suspended from the ceiling over the center of the dining-table.

Then I discovered on the milkweed a handsome caterpillar eating the green leaves.

"Let him stay, mamma, do; he is having such a good time!" the children begged. So I arranged the flowers, caterpillar and all. He was dressed in bands of what seemed like black velvet and light-green silk, with two black horns on his head and two on his tail—a very stylish caterpillar.

For some days he kept his place among the flowers.

One noontide the family sat at dinner in a state of great tranquillity, when suddenly they were electrified by a little voice that cried shrilly:—

"Oh, mamma, mamma! The caterpillar has thrown his skin into the potato-dish!"

Such indeed, was the surprising fact; his cast-off clothing adorned the half-empty dish.

We looked up at the milkweed stalk whereon he had clung, and there hung something so curious, so marvellous!

Oh, children, could I but describe to you the beauty of the thing he had become!

No fruit of Aladdin's wonderful valley could have been more strange or more beautiful.

The long, brilliantly-colored caterpillar was transformed into an urn-shaped object, pale emerald-green, and half transparent like chrysoprase.

Lovely in shape as some rare, antique vase, it hung suspended from a slender thread, like the most exquisite jewel.

Round the shoulders of this vase-shaped chrysalis was a band of black, set close with gilded spots, like gold beads on black velvet—and it was spangled all over with bright gold. The whole thing was about as large as the top of my finger. Everybody was lost in admiration of this so charming little casket.

When all had gazed enough at it, I took the flower-stalk, chrysalis and all, and put it upright in an empty glass in the parlor. There it remained for several weeks, delighting all who saw it.

One morning when I went into the room, I saw the pale-green, gold-banded jewel had disappeared, and in its place a large, orange-red butterfly, striped with jet-black and flecked at the edges with white, waved its broad and perfect wings in a gentle triumph.

It was like a miracle: one could hardly realize that this brilliant creature, with its velvet sails spread wide on either side, could have been folded into such a little compass, could have ever appeared in so different an aspect.

Once more we admired our friend in this new shape, and then I opened the window and let him fly out into the bright air, to live his brief life as heaven meant he should, in joy and beauty. We never saw him again, but we learned that the name of our royal guest was Danais Archippus, and we were proud to have had the honor of his acquaintance, and considered ourselves fortunate to have read such an interesting chapter from his private history.

Bulbs in Winter.

A writer gives some experience in having bulbs blossom in the winter. He says that "for the first few years I always procured named bulbs for winter blooming, thinking that no others could be a success for forcing, but since then I have found out that the mixed unnamed bulbs can be made to do as well, though we cannot be sure of the exact shade of the flowers; however, they can be obtained under the general colors as red, pink, yellow, blue, purple or white, and the double and single ones are kept separate. The Roman hyacinth will be found admirable for early flowers, as it can be forced to bloom earlier than the other sorts. The spikes of flowers are smaller and more loose, but there are several of them and as they can be flowered in time for the holidays they are great favorites. Narcissus bulbs are general favorites especially Paper White, whose pure star-shaped flowers are so white that they almost shine. When the buds show themselves the soil in the pot must be kept wet all the time to keep them from drying up, which they are quite liable to do in the dry heat of the living room.

Hoop Petticoat narcissus is a sweet little flower, deep yellow and a full bloomer. It takes up so little room and blossoms so fully that all should have a pot of them. Golden Spur, one of the giant trumpet class, is a grand one for forcing, the blossoms being four or five inches across and of a beautiful golden yellow color. Trumpet major, yellow, and poeticus, white, are both fine for winter blooming. When carefully dried off after blooming most of these bulbs are in good shape for planting in the ground for permanent beds. The ordinary crocus seems to be something out of the ordinary when grown in the house, the blossoms grow so large, and instead of only remaining open one day, often stay for four or five days, closing each evening and opening again in the morning. Ten cents worth of these little bulbs planted in a pot will give more real pleasure when in bloom than a dollar's worth of some kinds of bulbs. Tulips and lilies are somewhat difficult to raise in an ordinary window, and I seldom try them. The tulips are never as handsome as when grown in the open ground, and the lilies take so long to come to maturity that I cannot wait for them. It is usually cheaper to buy a plant already bulbed from a florist and have the pleasure of the blossoms without the weary waiting.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness, puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and, in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

NORWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Wednesday evening the Baptist congregation held their annual tea meeting. Tea was served from 6 until 8, and a programme was given in the church afterwards. Speeches were delivered by the Rev. Messrs. Peer, McCamus, Hewson and Somerville. Music was provided by the choir and local talent.

The annual meeting of the Bible Society will be held in the Methodist church here on Wednesday evening, the 11th prox. Rev. R. D. Fraser of Bowmanville, will address the meeting in the interest of the Society.

Next Thursday evening the Women's Foreign Missionary Society in connection with the Presbyterian church, are giving a free social. Mrs. Graham, a well-known worker in missionary work, will address the meeting. There will also be speeches by others, and music by members of the choir.

Last Sunday evening W. R. Hewson tied his horse in the Methodist church sheds while he attended divine worship. After the service was over he was unable to find any trace of his horse. Posters have been sent out and rewards offered but no clue has as yet been obtained of the animal. The horse was a dark grey, with a white face and a blemish on the left hind foot. The buggy was new and had a grey buffalo robe in it.

WESTWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Y.P.S.C.E. Society held a very successful social in the town hall on Friday, Oct. 23rd. The members may congratulate themselves on its success, both financially and numerically. The following is the programme:

Chorus.....C E Choir
Chairman's Address.....Mr J A Metcalf
Duet.....Miss Jennie Esson and Mr D M Hunter
Address.....Rev Mr Laird
Quartette.....Misses Sharpe and Breckenridge [and Messrs Hunter and Metcalf
Refreshments and Social Chat.....
Instrumental, piccolo and mouthorgan...Messrs [Hunter and Breckenridge
Chorus.....C E Choir

The lecture given by Rev. Mr. Laird, of Campbellford, was very interesting and instructive. He took for his subject "Books." The terseness of his remarks and the depth of meaning underneath, conveyed to the mind of the listener the startling effects of books or reading upon every nation, individually as well as collectively. Books he claimed to be second in the class of powerful agents that swayed and guided the movements of the world. It is not the privilege of any of us to see what is going on in the great vast world around us. Christian Endeavour progress was not so far advanced as it might be owing to the fact that there was not enought educative power. This was to be gained through the medium of books. How? Christian Endeavourers are stirred up to new life and energy by reading the works and deeds of men who have laboured diligently for the Master's cause. Reading, whether secular or religious, tends to broaden and expand the mind. Every person should keep themselves informed of the events. Printing has indeed been an enormous step in the way of putting reading into our hands at a small cost. Books are the accumulated treasures of past ages. They contain the world's failures, experiences and successes. Is it any wonder that men of to-day can take lessons for themselves after reading such? Good, healthy literature exerts a powerful influence in stimulating men of action to greater efforts and attainments. Christian Endeavourers, by studying the lines of great and noble men in the Bible, and even in our time, can make their lives sublime and reach to the higher level of Christian grace and godliness.

Mr. John Robb, of Stony Lake, is visiting friends in the village.

Mrs. J. Kindred has been home the past week visiting her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan, of Norwood, were the guests of Mr. Jas. Robb.

Miss Lizzie Ryan, of Percy, was the guest of her brother and sister, here, last Sunday.

The scholars of our Public School, here, intend holding a concert in the near future.

Miss M. A. Forsythe, Peterborough, will give an address at the W. F. M. Society meeting Tuesday, Nov. 3.

The Epworth League Society are making arrangements to have a union meeting in the Methodist church, Nov, 22nd. An invitation has been extended to the C. E. Society to join them in the service. Rev. Mr. Anderson, pastor of the Methodist church preaches a special sermon to the young people.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

RYCKMAN'S KOOTENAY CURE.

He Used the Medicine Himself and Recommends It.

BE SURE AND READ HIS LETTER.

University of Ottawa,
OTTAWA, CANADA, April 10, 1896.

Dear Mr. Ryckman,—I wrote to you in July last stating that I derived much benefit to my health from taking two bottles of your truly marvellous remedy "Kootenay Cure." Since then I have taken three more bottles, and am now pleased to be able to inform you that I am freed from chronic and acute Rheumatism, Diabetes and La Grippe. This is the first winter since 1890 that I have escaped from having several severe attacks of La Grippe, and notwithstanding the incessant and onerous duties of my position in this university, I have, thank God, enjoyed excellent health since August last.

I have recommended the remedy to many persons, both inside and outside of the university and in most cases with entire success. These include persons suffering from Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Boils, Salt Rheum, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, Insomnia, Somnambulism, Skin Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, La Grippe, etc., etc. In some of these cases the patients had been under the care of physicians for several months without relief and were cured by using a bottle or two of "Kootenay." I shall adopt it as the "Family Medicine for this Institution"

Yours truly and gratefully,
(Signed) J. M. McGuckin, O.M.I., D.D., Rector.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

G. W. Green's Pump and Windmill Business to be Continued.

I beg to announce to the public that although the distruction of my Factory on Dickson's Race on Sunday evening, has deprived me of premises and machinery for the present, it does not deprive me of my business.

Arrangements will immediately be made for opening up again in another building, which I hope to be able to secure in a short time.

In the meantime the business will be kept going without serious interuption to the public. Orders for Pumps, Windmills, &c. may be sent by mail to my address, Box 362, Peterborough, P.O., which will be filled as promptly as possible, from my Millbrook Factory, where my Peterborough workmen have been sent to assist in turning out the work.

A GREAT MISTAKE

You hear of people who have paid high for the privilege of buying because of a name. They thought that the name or size of a store made the prices right, but found to their cost, it was a Great Mistake.

Come here and compare values first, then buy. Don't buy first and compare last—unless you're buying here.

CUT AND FITTED FREE

All Dresses bought here costing 50c. per yard, will be cut and fitted free, and every fit guaranteed. Same inducements offered in Mantles—and we have always a fine selection of Mantle Cloths to choose from.

Dresses and Mantles made on the premises in the newest fashions. MISS WALL still continues to attend to this de-department, with her usual success.

WINTER MILLINERY AND MANTLES.

SMUGGLERS' TRICKS.

They Shipped Whisky in Oyster Barrels

BUT GOT CAUGHT BY THE OFFICERS

Hiram Walker & Sons Claim a Concession—Newspaper Men and Refused Papers—The Case of Page v. the Attorney-General of Ontario Settled—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 28.—For ways that are dark there are some men who think they can beat the renowned Ah Sin. The other day a number of barrels of alleged potatoes were seized at St. John, which, on being opened, were found to contain oysters, taken during the close season. Now word has come of the seizure at Dalhousie of 23 barrels of whisky, which had been put up in oyster barrels and filled with genuine oysters in one car for the West. It appears that this is a new trick of the St. Pierre smugglers. They have been watched so closely in the Gulf that they are afraid to make any attempt to pass the cruisers. They have, therefore, had the contraband spirit put up in casks similar to oyster barrels, and boldly billed it for western points as oysters. Fortunately the departmental officers have got on to the little game and very little whisky will go through in this way hereafter.

Messrs. F. H. Walker of Walkerville, and Peter Ryan of Toronto, had an interview with Sir Henri Joly to-day on the subject of the evaporation of spirits, while in process of maturing and before it can be placed on the market. It appears that Hiram Walker & Sons mature in wooden barrels the spirits which they manufacture, while many other distillers keep it in metal tanks. The Government always makes an allowance of from two to five per cent. for evaporation, but Walker & Sons contend they are entitled to better terms from the department in view of the greater evaporation caused by the manner in which their product is kept. The Controller of Inland Revenue looked carefully into the representations made to him. He admitted that the question was surrounded with difficulties, and while on the face of it there appears to be some ground for making a concession for the additional evaporation, yet on the other hand, it was admitted that the firm secured better prices for the whisky which was matured in wood. He promised to carefully look into the matter.

Commander Spain reports to the Fisheries Department that the United States mackerel fleet is now beginning to move homewards. They have had a very poor catch off our coast.

The other day your correspondent gave publicity to a paragraph indicating the intention of the Postoffice Department in regard to newspapers sent to alleged subscribers and refused by them. An attempt was made in certain quarters to cast doubt upon the authenticity of this announcement, but the proof of it is forthcoming in the following official communication, which has been sent to all postmasters: "Certain postmasters have reported that newspapers continue to come free of postage to persons who refuse them, and who declare that they are not subscribers. It is proper, therefore, to mention that for the purposes of free postage no person is to be considered as a subscriber who declares that the period for which he subscribed to a given paper has expired, that he has paid for that period, and that he refuses to receive the paper or other publication any longer. If the names of such persons are sent to the Department the office of origin will be instructed not to forward the paper to their address free."

This order has been greatly modified since the first draft was prepared, owing to protests of newspapers.

Postmasters have been reminded that they cannot exercise too much caution in redirecting (i.e. in changing the addresses of) letters that have come to their offices for delivery; inasmuch as if any loss occurs through an erroneous or unnecessary redirection, it will fall on the postmaster who took upon himself the responsibility for doing that for which he had no authority. If a letter has come to a certain office, being plainly addressed thereto, the proper province being also specified in the address, then nothing short of an order from the addressee, or possession of positive and certain information that the letter was intended for another office, can justify a postmaster in redirecting it.

In the Supreme Court to-day Mr. McCarthy, Q.C., proceeded with his argument for the respondent in Page v. Attorney-General of Ontario, and towards the conclusion of the argument, a suggestion for a settlement was made, which both counsel agreed to, with the result that a consent judgment will be entered, whereby the judgments of the courts below are varied by adding to the decree setting aside the patent and directing that a new patent issue, granting to the appellants the land of which they have been in possession and a water front of 20 chains on Lake Erie; no costs to either party.

This being the last case on the Ontario list the court adjourned until Monday next, when the Maritime Provinces list will be taken up. The reference in regard to the criminal code sections relating to bigamy will not be argued this term.

The Imperial Government have determined that pension cheques shall not get into the hands of improper persons if they can stop it. Under our postal regulations "registered correspondence addressed to a deceased person may be delivered to the legal representative of the deceased." Postmasters are instructed that an exception is, however, to be made to this rule in case of letters from the office of the District Paymaster of British North America at Halifax, addressed to an Imperial Army pensioner or reservist. Such letters are not to be delivered to any party whatsoever claiming them on behalf of a deceased pensioner or reservist, but are to be sent to the dead letter office here for return to the district paymaster.

Mr. Thomas Fuller, Chief Architect of the Public Works Department, has been presented by the Governor-General with a handsome little souvenir in the shape of a solid silver snuff box, the lid of which is a very finely executed bas-relief of Christ blessing little children. On the inside of the lid is engraved: "To Thomas Fuller, Esq., from H.E. the Earl of Aberdeen, as a small token of appreciation."

According to advices received at the Fisheries Department Lake Winnipeg's waters are two feet higher than ever known before. This is somewhat extraordinary, in view of the low water in the Great Lakes. Whitefish are schooling in the southern portion of Lake Winnipeg in great numbers.

Col. Beer, lessee of Sussex Farm, a military property in New Brunswick owned by the Government, has been given three months' notice to quit.

Hon. Mr. Mulock returned to the city to-day.

The Controller of Customs has received $90 conscience money from a party in Glasgow, Scotland.

The Council of D.R.A. met to-night to consider plans for the proposed permanent buildings at Risley. It is proposed to put up a fine structure with all necessary conveniences and 14 double bedrooms.

The hearing of the Goodwin case was continued in the Exchequer Court to-day.

WELL PAID FOR KEEPING SOBER.

George Crocker Got Half a Million for Five Years of Abstinence.

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—As a reward for five consecutive years of total abstinence from intoxicants, George Crocker was yesterday awarded $500,000. Charles Crocker, father of George, bequeathed a portion of his property to his son George, who was given to over-indulgence in intoxicants, if within 15 years after the death of his father George should stay sober for five consecutive years.

FAMINE PROSPECT IN INDIA

The Outlook Reported to be Very Serious—Prices Have Risen Materially for the Necessaries of Life.

London, Oct. 28.—Advices from Simla say the prospects that a famine will occur in India are increasing, and that the outlook is very serious. In the northwest Paujaub and central provinces there is a scarcity of food products extending as far as Behar and Bombay, and prices have risen materially. The Government, the advices state, have advanced 30 lakhs of seeds. The work of irrigation in the northwest has been begun, and relief works have been established elsewhere.

GETTING ANXIOUS.

London Times Correspondent Not So Sure About McKinley's Election.

London, Oct. 28.—The Times this morning prints a letter from Mr. Moreton Frewen, the English silver advocate, dated at Chicago, expressing confidence in Mr. Bryan's election. He is certain, he says, that McKinley must carry all seven of the great Central States in order to avoid being beaten.

The Times points out editorially that their correspondent in New York, who has hitherto maintained that the Republicans are in little danger of defeat, sends a despatch yesterday, admitting that the situation in Chicago is disquieting. The more serious factor, says The Times, is the prominence which Mr. Bryan now gives to the socialist side of his policy. "The victory of these doctrines would be fatal to all confidence. Mr. Bryan's return would be calamitous not only to America, but to all the civilized world, though active legislative spoliation might not immediately be possible. We see nothing in the situation to affect our hope that the Americans will choose the better part, though we do not look forward with much confidence to the policy of Mr. McKinley's Government if he is elected."

Wheat Acreage in Britain.

London, Oct. 28.—The Times' agricultural returns show that 278,076 acres have been added to the British wheat area this year. Nevertheless the area is yet only 1,734,118 acres, the smallest on record except in 1895.

AN AWFUL DEATH.

Joseph Girouard Was Knocked Into a Sawdust Chute and Carried Into the Boiling Chaudiere.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Joseph Girouard, a married man about 28 years of age and living in Mechanicsville, met with an untimely death at Booth's Mill at 1 o'clock this morning. Girouard belonged to the night gang and worked at one of the band saws. He was pushing the carriage to the saw, and it is supposed that he shoved it too fast, for as the stick touched the saw the carriage flew back, striking Girouard with terrific force, throwing him back several feet and causing him to tumble head first through a hole in the floor used to carry off the accumulation of sawdust and rubbish. Search was made for him, but the poor fellow could not be found, and it is supposed he was carried into the boiling Chaudiere.

Bread Goes Up.

London, Oct. 28.—The wheat market at the Baltic to-day opened dull at 3d to 6d decline. The Mark-lane opening was also dull and 3d to 1s lower than yesterday. The price of bread has gone up ½d, and the increase is being acutely felt in the poorer districts of London, where many families have in consequence been obliged to reduce their supplies.

Mr. Chamberlain for Lord Rector.

Glasgow, Oct. 28.—The students of the Glasgow University had a meeting last evening, and nominated Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, for the Lord Rectorship of that institution.

DIED IN THE SWAMP.

Melancholy Fate of an Owen Sound Man.

HE WENT SHOOTING WITH A PARTY

Wandered Away From His Companions in Pursuit of Game and Was Accidentally Shot by His Own Weapon—Searchers Found His Lifeless Body.

Owen Sound, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—A hunting party, consisting of George Inglis, local registrar of the high court of justice; William Masson, postmaster; W. A. Inglis, Jack Inglis, miller; Robert Edgar, town tax collector, and John Fox, liveryman, left here early yesterday morning on a hare hunting excursion to Elliott's swamp, near Hall's settlement, in the Township of Derby, about six miles from Owen Sound. The party put in the day in the swamp, running hare, without anything out of the usual occurring. Along about 5 o'clock in the evening, however, Mr. Edgar separated from the rest of the party and went back alone into the swamp after a hare which the dogs had just raised. Darkness coming on shortly afterwards and he not having returned his comrades began to become somewhat anxious about him and returned to the swamp in the direction in which he was going when last seen, to endeavor to bring him out. The swamp is not a large one, being but a narrow strip covering some fifteen acres, but after searching for a couple of hours as thoroughly as could be done in the semi-darkness they were forced to abandon the search and come to town for lanterns and further assistance to continue the search. On reaching here a large searching party was hurriedly organized and equipped with the necessary lanterns, etc., and a return was made to the swamp, where, after a search of an hour or so, the party came upon the lifeless body of Mr. Edgar lying upon the ground face downwards, with his gun under him, and himself terribly shot in the abdomen. Death must have been instantaneous. In making his way through the swamp he must have, by falling or in some other way, accidentally discharged his gun with the above sad result. The body was brought in to Owen Sound at 1 o'clock this morning by the sorrowful party and taken to his home.

The accident is undoubtedly a very sad one and will be deeply lamented by the whole community. Mr. Edgar was one of Owen Sound's oldest residents, having come in the early days of the town. He was for many years bailiff of the first Division Court of Grey, giving up the position a year or two ago. He has been town tax collector for the past ten years and upwards, as well as being at the same time collector of water rates. The deceased was one of the best known men in the county, was a prominent Orangeman and a staunch and energetic Conservative, besides being connected with many of the different fraternal societies. He was about 58 years old and a native of Ireland. He leaves a widow and grown up family.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Mrs. George H. Sternaman Arrested in Buffalo in Connection With the Death of Her Husband.

Several years ago George H. Sternaman went from the Township of Rainham, Haldimand County, Ont., to Buffalo to work. He secured board at the home of Ezra Chipman, a carpenter, and fellow-workman, whose wife, nee Olive Sevenpiper, also came originally from Rainham. Chipman died somewhat suddenly, and after a time Sternaman married the widow, Mrs. Chipman having secured the amount of a life insurance policy on her husband. Last July the second husband was taken ill, showing symptoms similar to those of Chipman, and now it is suspected that both were poisoned.

Sternaman's mother sent for the sick man to come to his old home and he did so, his wife accompanying him, and insisting on attending him. Sternaman died in August and the Canadian doctors, finding the man carried substantial life insurance, suspected that there was something wrong. An inquest was ordered, the body exhumed, and the viscera sent to Dr. Ellis of Toronto for analysis. The result was the finding of arsenic, and the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of arsenical poisoning. The widow has been arrested and is now in custody at Buffalo.

The above is briefly the story of which the following is a continuation:

MRS. STERNAMAN ARRESTED.

The Accused Woman Shows No Trepidation Over the Matter.

Buffalo, Oct. 28.—Last night a telegram was received from Cayuga, Ont., asking the police to arrest Mrs. Olive Sternaman on the charge of murder. She was accordingly arrested. Mrs. Sternaman admitted that she was expecting arrest. Ferdinand Duckwitz is her lawyer. He said he believed no indictment had been found. There would be an application made for a commitment and he would do everything he could to defend his client. "We are willing to abide by the event."

Mrs. Sternaman has been living at Black Rock for a long time and is with the mother of her first husband, Mrs. Chipman. There has been no attempt to get away.

Mrs. Sternaman was arraigned before Judge King this morning and was committed to jail. She will be held to await the arrival of requisition papers from Canada. When she appeared in the police court she did not appear at all nervous.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

"THE SILVER QUESTION," BY J. W. GARVIN, B.A.

At the Meeting of the Fortnightly Club Tuesday Night Mr. Garvin, B.A., Read the Following Paper on the Silver Question.

The following is a continuation of the report from yesterday's issue of the paper on "The Silver Question," read by Mr. J. W. Garvin, B. A., at the last meeting of the Fortnightly Club.

When but one metal is primary money, its value can be measured only by the amount of other property for which it will exchange. When silver was demonetized the demand for gold was much increased and the demand has since been unlimited. Gold cannot be mined fast enough to cause it to depreciate to any extent. One other metal at least as primary money is absolutely necessary.

By the appreciation of gold the producing classes have been unjustly defrauded through the decline in prices and debtors mercilessly robbed. The farmers have probably suffered most. A mortgage incurred twenty years ago for half the value of a farm, notwithstanding the interest has been paid in full every year, is to-day, through the decrease in the price of land, almost equal in value to that of the farm; (real estate owners in towns and cities have likewise been heavily despoiled.) As the prices of farm produce have declined faster than the rate of interest, it has become more and more burdensome to pay the interest on the mortgage; and in many cases, the interest having accumulated, the whole farm has been taken to liquidate the debt.

In the United States and in Canada about half the people are tillers of the soil. As the conditions of living have become harder and harder with them and money scarcer and scarcer, their purchasing power has steadily declined, and so the manufacturer and the merchant have likewise felt the weight of depression; in short, all other classes, excepting one or two, are so intimately associated in trade and commerce with the farming community that if the latter are restricted in their purchasing power, the former must share the hardship to a greater or less extent.

Even the rank and file of those who live by lending money, while their wealth has been largely added to by the appreciation of gold, have lost at times heavily through the failure to collect debts. But the great financial kings of the earth who deal almost exclusively in government bonds, by the demonetization of silver, have had their wealth added to enormously. It is said that the Rothschilds now possess 1,600 millions, or about two-thirds of the total gold coin and bullion of the world.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST THEIR REFUTATION.

1. "Prices rise or fall according as they are controlled by supply and demand." This is a very common assertion, but it needs consideration. Locally, supply and demand are chief factors often in changing prices, but who would assert that they had anything to do with the recent rise in the commercial value of thread and of coal. Combines are a very powerful factor in controlling prices. But the most powerful factor of all is the ability to purchase. The truth is that the purchasing demand for a commodity is determined by its price. Every merchant is aware of this, as cheap cash sales on market days or Saturday evenings testify, and so is every manufacturer.

2. "Falling prices with their accompanying evils are due to general over-production." If this means anything, it means that produce in general has increased faster than the demand for it, resulting in declining commercial values, depression and distress.

John Stuart Mill long since proved this argument to be fallacious. No manufacturer or trader will continue to invest his capital in a business unless he hopes in a certain time to realize a fair profit. This constantly tends to regulate the price of commodities. If the rate of profit is high production is stimulated; if low, production is checked and there exists what is commonly called "over-production." Such an over-production of a commodity can only be temporary, for the low prices will check the supply, and the restricted supply will soon result in restored profit-paying prices. It follows that wealth cannot generally be produced in such superfluity as to result in a permanent lowering of values.

3. "Declining prices have been due to cheapening the cost of production by mechanical invention." Not so; the cost of mining the precious metals has also greatly cheapened, and had it not been for the demonetization of silver there exchange value of the dollar would have continued with very little variation. Demonetization of silver resulted at once in an inequitable balance through the appreciation of gold, and prices have since steadily declined. The many have been despoiled to benefit the few, whereas the greatest good should be done to the greatest number.

4. "Bryan's victory means a 50-cent dollar and hence repudiation." Dr. Arendt, a well-known German authority on bimetallism, gives his opinion in these words: "Bryan's victory will no doubt prepare the way for an international agreement. Should Bryan be elected we bimetallists would gain formidable allies, while American bankers would certainly do all in their power to forestall depression of American values by backing our cause of international bimetallism."

A couple of months ago Prince Bismarck wrote to the Governor of Texas, in reply to a communication as follows:—

"Your esteemed favour of July 1st has been duly received. I have always had a predilection for bimetallism, but I would not, while in public office, claim my views of the matter to be infallibly true when advanced against the views of experts. I hold to this very hour that it would be advisable to bring about between the nations chiefly engaged in the world's commerce a mutual agreement in favour of the establishment of bimetallism.

"Considered from a commercial and industrial standpoint, the United States are freer by far in their movements than any nation of Europe, and hence if the people of the United States should find it compatible with their interests to take independent action in the direction of bimetallism, I cannot but believe that such action would exert a most salutary influence upon the consummation of international agreement, and the coming into this league of every European nation."

The opinion alone of Bismarck, a statesman of such pre-eminent ability should certainly restrain, in the present contest, the vituperative tongue and the scurrilous pen of the Republicans and Gold Democrats.

If the United States adopt free coinage of silver at a fixed ratio and establish standard silver coins as legal tender for all debts, public and private, the unlimited demand will at once raise the commercial value of silver and that of all property, by the depreciation of gold. If this be robbery how shall we characterise the demonetization of silver in 1873?

The price of silver fixed by United States statute and the unlimited demand must inevitably fix the price of silver throughout the world, as foreign nations would be compelled to increase its commercial value or it would leave for the great Republic. The foreign trade of the United States is over $1,500,000,000 per annum. As Europe needs every year for coinage and the arts and sciences about twice as much silver as she produces, an unlimited demand in the United States could not fail to stimulate a European demand.

5. "As a bushel of wheat to-day exchanges for as much of what the producer has to buy as it ever did, the farmer would be no better off by a "General rise in prices"—Twenty-five years ago when high prices prevailed generally the farmer was certainly better off. He could pay his fixed charges and purchase his necessary supplies with half or two-thirds of his receipts, and have a surplus to gladden his heart and inspire to increased effort. The fixed charges referred to are the municipal taxes, wages, church dues, lawyer's and doctor's fees, interest on mortgage, or note, it may be, etc. These are on the whole higher than they were a quarter of a century ago. Had they declined in proportion to the decline in wheat and other farm produce, then the above contention would have been nearer the truth. As it is many farmers cannot now even pay the fixed charges, and misery and want are staring them and their families in the face. (The artizan and the labourer are probably even worse off, for though their wages may at present be higher than in the past, they are frequently put on half time or no time, and so find it hard to earn enough even to provide wholesome food and decent clothing for those dependent upon them.)

6. "You cannot have at any fixed ratio, the same commercial value on two separate metals that are from time to time varying in the quantity of each product."

This is a stock fallacy of monometallists. As the supply is necessarily limited and the demand unlimited, under free coinage the price of each metal shall tend ever upward, and so keep the statute price and ratio steady and unvariable.

Between 1849 and 1854 the gold mines of California greatly increased the world's stock of gold, and consequently changed the relative quantities of the two metals, but there was no variation in their commercial value which could not be accounted for by the cost of exchange and by the French ratio of 15½ to 1.

Between the years 1687 and 1873 the commercial ratio of the two metals was never higher than 14.14 to 1 nor lower than one to 16.25. Through the centuries their commercial values were kept at a parity, notwithstanding varying quantities.

7. "Look at Mexico with her 50 cent dollar."—This is one of the strong points made by the Republicans, and the argument adduced is that a Mexican silver dollar quoted at half its value in monometallist countries is disastrous to the finance and commerce of Mexico.

Let us look at Mexico. On the 9th Sept. last the president of that country sent a letter to the New York Journal from which we quote the following extracts:

"While our material interests have increased steadily and healthfully for the last twenty years, since the close of the Indian mints and the repeal of the Sherman law, so called, in the United States, the growth of Mexico's commercial and industrial interests has been particularly marked. The consequent appreciation in the price of gold, and the increase in exchange between Mexico and the gold standard countries at once operated to reduce importations and stimulate home manufactures."

"In the fiscal year ending in 1890 our importations exceeded $52,000,000. In the fiscal year ending 1895 they were slightly in excess of $34,000,000. On the other hand our exportations increased. In 1890-91 they amounted to $63,000,000, and in 1894-5 to $90,000,000. There was nothing in the nature of a commercial panic consequent upon the sharp advance in silver exchange."

"The demand for skilled labor has grown with the great increase in the number of mills and manufactories. This demand in all branches of labour is strong. The added exchange has not impaired the value of our dollar as applied to the purchase of articles of home manufacture. Its buying power is unchanged in this respect, and prices for domestic merchandise and produce vary only according to the supply and demand."

"Heavy investments of foreign capital in Mexican enterprises have been made since the appreciation of gold elsewhere."

It might also have been pointed out that as the exports are paid for in gold by foreign nations the exporters are reaping a rich reward.

Is it not clear from the above that Mexico, under free coinage, is enjoying the greatest material prosperity of her history?

8. "Silver was demonetized because of its increasing abundance in comparison with gold." This contention is not borne out by facts. Mulhall, the London, England, statistician, gives the relative quantities of gold and silver coin and bullion in the world for six periods as follows: In 1800 A. D. there were in the world 27 tons of silver to one ton of gold; in 1700, 34 tons of silver to 1 of gold; in 1800 the ratio was 33 to 1; in 1848, 31 to 1; in 1890, 18 tons of silver to 1 of gold, and in 1890 the same.

The report of the United States Director of the Mint shows that since 1850 the world has produced less silver than gold, whereas during the first half of this century the quantity of silver produced was considerably in excess of that of gold.

When silver was demonetized in 1873 it was worth 1.03 measured in gold, so the argument of depreciated silver was at that time scarcely applicable.

But my time is up; let me conclude.

The mighty financial struggle at present taking place in the United States is a battle between the suffering many and the millionaire few. Primary money is the life-blood of the commercial world. Before silver was demonetized there was none too much to feed the living tissues of trade. Since then slow death has wasted the vitals of exchange. The disease can only be cured by increasing the life-blood. Silver must be restored as primary money and coinage of both metals must be free and unrestricted. Prices will then rise generally to their normal condition, restore to the many the heritage of ages, lighten the burdens of despoiled humanity, and bring hope and cheer to the hearts of oppressed millions.

BANQUET AT QUEBEC

The Premier Honored Among His Constituents.

TOPICS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED.

The Big Bridge Project, the Fast Steamship Line and the Manitoba School Question. Hon. Mr. Dobell and Other Leading Libs: Mis Endorse the Premier's Sentiments.

Quebec, Oct. 28.—The banquet tendered to the Premier, Hon. Mr. Laurier, here to-day, was attended by a large number of leading men of the city, and many from outside points. The menu and other appointments were of the best, and good feeling was apparent all round.

The first toast presented of course was "The Queen." The National Anthem was heartily sung and the toast was given a tiger.

The health of the Governor-General was drunk with three cheers and a tiger.

The next toast was that of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Then followed the toast "Our Guest."

Mayor Parent said that he felt the thrill of the soldier on the battle field, when victory has been proclaimed. I feel happy, said His Worship, in voicing the people of Quebec on this auspicious day. By putting into power the first French-Canadian Prime Minister, the country has shown its tolerance and broad-mindedness. The Mayor continued, Whilst you are here let us beg of you your most influential concurrence in a scheme most dear to our hearts, a bridge across Quebec. (Wild cheers.)

Hon. Mr. Laurier, rising, said: It is now three years since I had the pleasure of addressing a meeting in this very hall. The only difference between then and now is that we were then on the left, whilst now we are to the right. It has been given to us that the Liberal policy goes far towards expressing the principles which formed the platform of the Conservative party, if that party exists to-day. The Mayor, continued Mr. Laurier, apparently knows the trend of the people over whom he has the honor of being the First Magistrate, for he struck a very sympathetic chord by speaking of the distance which separates Quebec from Levis, and to remove the obstacle which separates them from one another, yet still there are many towns and cities in Canada which crave and would welcome such an obstacle. Arthabaska, for example, would rather have the St. Lawrence to cross than the humble Nicolet River.

Quebec is by far the best seaport of the Dominion. All our efforts should concentrate to one point, and that is to restore Quebec to its old commercial prestige, and this can only be attained by facilitating the canal traffic. There is again another scheme which should be much to the advantage of Quebec, and this is the Parry Sound Railway, which is straight in line from the great lakes as a bird flies. Quebec must avail itself of its geographical position to secure the trade and traffic to which it has a right.

Speaking then of the fast line, the Premier said that a man who had a share in the public gratitude was Sir Hugh Allan, who had the honor of being the pioneer of the St. Lawrence-trans-Atlantic navigation. Whatever the amount of the bonus the Government would grant a company for a fast line of steamers, the mercantile people would condemn us if we favored only a passenger line. What the country wants is a fast freight line combined with a passenger service. "I am not," said Mr. Laurier, "competent in nautical matters, but ere we disburse $750,000 we shall be well informed as to the service of a fast line we are to have. When we have ascertained our point we will establish such a service as will rival with the best lines plying between American ports and the Mother Country.

"Now, for your most earnest wishes, your bridge. Let me tell you that the Government does not build bridges, but the Government helps in building bridges. Let Quebec watch its own interest and the Government will second its efforts. I may state that our Government will help you to build your bridge four times as much as the help promised you by the other Governments." (Cheers.)

Speaking of the Manitoba school question, Hon. Mr. Laurier said that he was not in a position to give out the arrangements arrived at, "but in a few weeks I shall be able to place before the people the arrangements made towards uniting opinions on the school question. I do not speak for those Catholics who have been bargaining with religion since the last twenty-five years, but I appeal to all Christians, either Catholic or Protestant, and we shall see whether or not religion cannot be taught in school. We shall not have been six months in power, and we are on the eve of exposing to you what has been done toward's bringing about concord and peace."

Upon resuming his seat, Hon. Mr. Laurier received very enthusiastic applause.

Hon. Mr. R. R. Dobell responded to the toast of the Dominion Government.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick succeeded Hon. Mr. Dobell, and Hon. F. Langelier, M. P. for Quebec Centre, endorsed Hon. Mr. Laurier's sentiments anent the Quebec bridge and the fast line, which, he said, would not anchor at Quebec if the city could not load or unload. Quebec must take the initiative.

Mr. Edwards, M. L. A. for Russell, was the next speaker. He was happy to be present in old historic Quebec to acclaim his chief, a worthy son of old Quebec. He was happy to see the royal demonstration given him tonight, but he was sure that Mr. Laurier would be acclaimed as royally in Ontario. (Cheers.)

Mr. Prefontaine, M.P. for Maisonneuve, in a spirited speech, sustained Montreal's interest, and said that as far as trade and Maritime enterprise were concerned, Quebec had better side with Montreal hand in hand to secure whatever trade could be taken from American ports.

Mr. Lavergne, M.P. for Drummond, followed, and approved of the general policy inaugurated by the new Administration.

Mr. Choquette, M.P. for Montmagny, said it was time for the Conservative civil employes to think of earning their bread by the sweat of their brow, as the Liberals had done for eighteen years. It is time for them to see and earn their living without the help of the Government.

The banquet came to an end about 2 o'clock this morning.

GUILTY OF SEDUCTION.

Dr. Lee, Formerly of Listowel, Ont., Gets Himself Sent to Prison in the States.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—The jury in the case of the notorious Dr. John Edward Lee, charged with seducing Miss Bird Madeline Palmer, a young artist, and attempting to perform an operation, returned a verdict of guilty last evening. Dr. Lee was at once sentenced by Judge Thayer to five years in the State Prison. Attorney Chase asked for a stay of judgment, but the Judge refused, and Dr. Lee was taken back to jail.

Lee came to New Haven from Listowel, Canada, four years ago. He was barely 30 years old then. He left a wife and two children with his father in Listowel and began practice here.

In less than a year he was arrested for causing the death of Maggie Schloss, a pretty girl of Ansonia, who was barely 18 years old. After a long trial Lee and James E. Whitten, who, it was charged, assisted in the operation, were discharged.

Lee stayed in New Haven, lived well and drove good horses. The while the police watched him closely. He was arrested in a year for causing the death of Mrs. Margaret Miller of Grand-avenue, by an operation. Mrs. Miller confessed on her deathbed that Lee was guilty, but no ante-mortem statement was taken. In the Superior Court Lee was tried before a jury, which disagreed, and Lee was discharged. A few days afterward the late Tilton E. Doolittle, then State Attorney, had Lee re-arrested on charges in both the Schloss and Miller cases. The plea was made that Lee's life could not twice be placed in jeopardy, but this was overruled. Mr. Doolittle died while preparing the case. His successor, State Attorney Williams, knew little or nothing of the facts which Mr. Doolittle possessed. The jury in the Schloss case disagreed, the Miller case was dropped and Lee escaped the fourth time. This was last spring.

During the trials and his imprisonment Lee had only one friend. She was Mrs. Palmer, the wife of E. M. Palmer of Whalley-avenue. She had known Lee as a boy and had taught him in Sunday School. She befriended him all through the trials, and when he was released took him into her house because he was penniless. She gave him her parlor for an office, and helped him to get another start. While she was doing this Lee accomplished the ruin of Mrs. Palmer's only child.

Miss Palmer received a letter purporting to come from relatives in Sheffield, Mass., early last September, enclosing money and asking her to come to visit them. She left home, and Lee joined her. For two weeks they lived in hotels between here and Sheffield.

Lee had a bogus marriage performed, and presented the girl as his wife. She was about to become a mother. Lee, while they were driving near Great Barrington, while intoxicated, allowed his horse to run away. Miss Palmer was thrown out and injured. In her testimony she said Lee beat her over the back with a loaded driving whip while she was lying on the ground, and then compelled her to walk miles.

Finally they reached the Mansion House, in Ansonia, on Sept. 24. There, the girl says, Lee tried to perform an operation. He beat her when she pleaded for mercy, and her cries finally attracted the attention of the housekeeper and the proprietor. The proprietor knocked Lee down, and then ordered both him and the girl to leave.

Lee and Miss Palmer went to the station, and Miss Palmer there escaped and returned to New Haven, being obliged to go at once to the hospital.

The police with difficulty got a confession from the girl, and arrested Lee just as he was about to escape from New Haven.

When the case came up for trial yesterday the court was crowded. Miss Palmer was closely guarded by her parents, and avoided Lee's steady gaze. She has all along declared Lee hypnotized her, and that she did not dare face him or testify against him, as he had told her he would kill her if she ever betrayed him.

When she was called to the witness stand she told a pathetic and horrible story. She told in detail how Lee struck her, threw her against the wall and dragged her by the hair and pounded her.

Lee had no defence, and did not even take the witness stand. He is cool, and has never lost his boldness, nor ceased to assert his innocence. When Miss Palmer began her testimony to-day he weakened for the first time, looked troubled and became nervous.

It took the jury only a few minutes to decide on a verdict of guilt. Lee was followed to jail by a great crowd.

It was with the greatest difficulty that the state got Miss Palmer to testify against Lee, I learned this evening. While the jury were out she became nervous, and asked City Attorney Matthewman if he thought Lee would be convicted. When Matthewman told her there was no doubt of conviction, Miss Palmer said she regretted that her story had been the cause of it.

Golden Fleece Decoration.

Vienna, Oct. 27.—Emperor Francis Joseph has decorated the Duke of Orleans, who is to be married to the Archduchess Maria Dorothea, with the order of the Golden Fleece.

Saved by a Child's Cry.

Hespeler, Oct. 27.—Shortly after midnight the family of Mr. J. Burns, who lives on the extreme eastern limits of the town, were awakened by one of the little girls crying fire. The inmates immediately ran outside, and just as they left the whole structure collapsed. The building and contents were a total loss, and there is no insurance.

It is kidney education.
Tweed people are learning fast.
Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

CAUGHT ON A BULL'S HORN.

The Awful Spectacle Witnessed at a Bull Fight in Mexico.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 27.—A bull fight, with fatal results, occurred at Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, yesterday, and caused a panic. One of the bulls became enraged and gored everything within reach. A horse was disemboweled, and a picador, Jose Anguelo, in an attempt to place a thorn in the side of the animal, was caught on one of his horns and pierced as with a sword. He was tossed and fell to the ground, bleeding and mangled, where the beast held him between his horns and pawed him. He was frightfully mangled, and died a few minutes later. Intense excitement reigned in the audience. The bull was finally killed.

G. W. Green's Pump and Windmill Business to be Continued.

I beg to announce to the public that although the distruction of my Factory on Dickson's Race on Sunday evening, has deprived me of premises and machinery for the present, it does not deprive me of my business.

Arrangements will immediately be made for opening up again in another building, which I hope to be able to secure in a short time.

In the meantime the business will be kept going without serious interuption to the public. Orders for Pumps, Windmills, &c, may be sent by mail to my address, Box 362, Peterborough, P.O., which will be filled as promptly as possible, from my Millbrook Factory, where my Peterborough workmen have been sent to assist in turning out the work.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

Charles Pogue was before the magistrate this morning charged with "false pretences." It seems he bought a rig some time ago from Thos. Cochrane for $60.00. He paid $30 00 cash and gave two notes for the balance. When the notes came due he did not meet them, and when he sold the rig a few days ago to Mr. John Cox, it was promptly seized under a manufacturers' lien by Mr. Cochrane and Mr. Cox instituted proceedings against Pogue. Judgment has been reserved in the case until Monday next.

Business Change.

Mr. Joe Hutchinson, formerly foreman of the late Mr. Hattrick's meat store, will in the future conduct the business under the name of Hutchinson & Co. Under the new management Mr. Hutchinson will have every facility for supplying the store with the choicest of meats. Mr. Hutchinson is a man well known in town for his manly way in conducting business, and also for his courteous manners in the store. He intends exerting his powers for pleasing his patrons even more than ever. Mr. Hutchinson will be pleased for a continuance of his customer's patronage, and hopes for a steady growth of the business.

HON. A. G. BLAIR BANQUETTED

Escorted by Steamer Over the Lakefield and Stony Lake Sections.

DELIGHTFUL TRIP AND SUCCESSFUL BANQUET.

Inspection of Work in Progress and View of Great Water Stretches.

Splendid Speeches at the Banquet—A Well-Managed and Grandly Successful Social Function—Fitting Close of a Successful Visit by the Minister—Hon. Mr. Blair Creates a Decidedly Favourable Impression—He Goes Over the Balsam Lake Division To-Day.

Yesterday Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, paid his expected visit to the Trent Valley Canal, and the occasion was in all respects a very marked success. The Minister saw much that created the deepest interest in his mind, and received an enthusiastic welcome, which if in the beginning it was dictated by his official position and reputation, at the last was as warm on account of the admirable social qualities which day's and night's association with the people of this district revealed. There is reason to know that the visiting minister was delighted with what he saw and heard, as well as with the extremely hearty hospitality he was the object of. While as a Minister of Railways and Canals he has done his duty by personally inspecting a most important work and listening to the representations of those who are specially interested in it and specially qualified to give expert and general information, the people of the district have reason to feel gratified that a strong presentation of the case of the canal has been made, that its friends have been increased, and that the scheme has received an impetus that it is not too much to hope will promote its completion in due time. Everybody is delighted with the sucess of the visit in every respect. The speeches given at the banquet are pronounced by competent judges to have never been excelled on any similar occasion, and it was conceded to have been in all ways an excellently managed and successful affair, as was the whole matter of the entertainment from the Minister's arrival till his departure.

As mentioned yesterday, Hon. Mr. Blair, accompanied by Deputy Minister Schreiber and private secretary, arrived in town on the Government car Ottawa by the C. P.R.

The Minister and Mr. Schreiber were met at the station by Mr. John Lang, M.P., R. B. Rogers, C.E., Geo. A. Cox, Robt. Jaffray, Toronto, J. R. Stratton and John Carnegie, and after driving to the Canadian General Electric Works and other points of local interest, began at the entrance of the canal at Little Lake, with the object of the minister's journey, and subsequently drove over the entire route of the canal between that point and Lakefield, examining minutely and carefully every detail of important work embraced in this section. The minister was much pleased with the masonry at the entrance point of Little Lake, and at the Maria street bridge, and as well as at other points, the bridge at the Norwood road and the pipe culvert at the Warsaw road. The examination of Lock No. 6, at the lake was made with great care, and in this, as all along the route traversed, Mr. Blair was especially anxious to make himself personally familiar with every detail. In the vicinity of the lake he was much pleased with the manner in which the route had been laid out and with the manner in which the natural advantages of location had been made available.

The several locks in succession in more or less advanced state of construction were visited. Nassau is the meeting point of the sections under contract to Mr. Corrie, and Messrs. Brown, Love and Aylmer. The chief work of present importance is the construction of a new dam at this point to raise the water of the river to the point necessary for canal purposes.

The unwatering of the river by the removal of the old Red Mills dam has disclosed a large amount of sunken timber, which has accumulated from time to time, and there seems to be a fairly thriving local business done in reclaiming the logs that have so long been hidden from view.

No. 5 lock is situated about a mile and a half above Nassau, and though work has not been very far advanced, all the plant is on the spot and active work is being pushed.

No. 4 lock, still further to the north, ready for the gates, and work is very well advanced on the dam. The completed lock is built entirely of concrete and seems to be a most substantial as it is certainly a elegant piece of work. Concrete is a comparatively new material for purposes of lock construction, it being only about two years since this material has been submitted to practical test; but since it has been tried it has shown itself, it is said, to be equal to stonework, and it has the advantage of being very much cheaper and less liable to breakage. A feature of the solidly constructed dam is the deep facing with concrete of the upper aspect of the dam, a precaution that makes it absolutely water-tight and consequently more effective for its purpose.

No. 3 lock is situated a mile and quarter above Lock No. 4, and at this point excavation for the lock channel is well forward, and active operations are being conducted at the dam.

No. 2 lock is a mile and a quarter below Lakefield and at this point as at No. 1 lock at the village the rock is stripped and everything ready for active blasting operations. At the village the party went carefully over the local situation and the respective advantages, desirability and disadvantages and undesirability of a low level and high level bridge respectively, were not allowed to go by default by the local authority, consisting of the reeve and village council, who had met the minister and his party at Lock No. 4, and accompanied them to Lakefield. Both the minister and his deputy were pleased with the condition and excellence of the construction work they had witnessed during their drive.

THE CIVIC DEPUTATION.

Coincident almost with the setting out of the minister and his party the civic deputation from Peterborough, consisting of the town council and their guests, comprising three bus loads, also drove over the canal route, though not so closely as the minister's party. Of course the amateurs were delighted with what they saw and the official members of the party the town representatives, had a splendid object lesson in road building, presented by the excellect diverted new road constructed by the contractors in lieu of the more romantic but less direct and smooth old road that wound along close to the river bank in the vicinity of lock 4.

The arrival at Lakefield and the actual inspection of the local work done, the minister was escorted to the town hall for the purpose of being presented with an address. The party making the journey of the day and the villagers who turned out in considerable numbers, pretty well filled the hall. Upon the platform, in addition to the guest of the occasion, were seated John Lang, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Reeve Casement and Councillors R. H. Braden, John Hull and F.J. Lilliprap. John Carnegie, Geo. A. Cox, Toronto, Robert Jeffray, of the Globe Printing Company, Toronto, Richard Hall and others.

Mr. Casement, reeve of the village of Lakefield, then read the following

ADDRESS:

Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals:

The residents of the village of Lakefield by their Reeve and Council, desire to express to you their gratification at your opportune visit to this village, and to offer you a most hearty welcome.

Considering the depression that prevails so widely, the people of this section of the country congratulate themselves on dwelling in a land of comparative plenty and under a form of Government which secures to them the utmost freedom and enjoyment of law and order.

The incidents of life bring about changes of government but no change in the stability of our institutions and no cause of anxiety by reason of the transfer of Government from one party to the other loyal devotion to the best interests of the country characterising all our rulers, irrespective of party.

We anticipate under the present Government such wise and progressive measures as will secure the happiest results.

The long-anticipated and long-looked-for construction of the Trent Valley Canal, now being so actively prosecuted, is a cause of much satisfaction to us and to the people of this section of the country. Our hearts are bound up in this work, and we respectfully submit that no more useful nor popular undertaking has ever been prosecuted by our Government.

In view of its immense capabilities, both as a national and local means of transit, we would urgently appeal to our Government, through you, that it be prosecuted to a completion, that we may speedily see the traffic of the boundless west passing down on its way to the seaboard via the St. Lawrence instead of being diverted by more southern routes.

As touching our own local necessities, after much consideration we have concluded that a low level bridge over the canal at Bridge street will best serve the community, and we pray that our wish in this respect may be given effect.

Wishing you a pleasant visit, and assuring you of our high respect, we are, Sir,

Your most obedient servants,

W. H. CASEMENT, Reeve.

A. BELL, M.D. Clerk.

On behalf of the Village of Lakefield. Lakefield, Oct. 28th, 1896.

Mr. Casement in addition to the written address, desired to draw the minister's special attention to the requirements of the village for

A LOW LEVEL BRIDGE.

Hon. Mr. Blair, in replying, was very heartily cheered. He said he had not heretofore had the pleasure of receiving an address. One of the many pleasures incident to the office of a minister of the Crown, was that of visiting new sections of this great country and receiving such marks of public respect and approval. But he did not take the honours and courtesies that had been extended to him as personal to himself, but he took them as a desire to show respect to the government of the day. His presence among them to-day was an extra pleasure because the duties of his office did not permit him the enjoyment of many outings, and also because it gave him an opportunity of visiting a beautiful section of country. The present was his first visit, and had reason to be very well pleased with the generous hospitality and kindness of those he had met, and he was glad to see the evidences of prosperity that everywhere surrounded him. He for one had unbounded faith in the future of this country. (cheers.) He felt all the impulses of a young man and he fervently hoped neither he nor the people would under any circumstances yield to the feelings of hopelessness and despair. There was a bright future before Canada. In the heat of political strife the members of both parties were apt to take too gloomy a view of the actions of their opponents. He had been a minister in a cabinet for fourteen years, which was composed of Liberals and Conservatives, and while they had thus harmoniously co-operated to administer the affairs and advance the interests of the province, they had divided on the lines of their respective parties in Dominion politics. While coalitions were desirable under certain conditions, the speaker hoped if we were divided into political parties, under whatever banner we fought, we should have the one aim of the advancement of the country's interests, for its future greatness depended upon the harmonious cooperation, with this object in view of both parties. (Cheers.) As to the local question of his opportunities of forming a personal opinion were small compared with those possessed by his predecessors.

He had reached Parliament from a contested election at the middle of a session and had been overwhelmed with departmental work, and it had been impossible for him to judge from the little time he had had to devote to the matter of the Trent Valley Canal undertaking. It was to be regarded as not a trifling one, but it would be regarded as fair that he should not be called upon to pass judgment before he had had an opportunity of going over the work. (Hear, hear.) He claimed that he had a right to be given a chance to personally examine into the merits of the work before being called upon to express an opinion. He approached the subject without prejudice, except in respect of the large expenditure that been already made upon the work, and this was a point that would be an important factor in arriving at a decision as to the future prosecution of the work. Referring to the purely local matter, the low or high level bridge over the canal, the Minister said that the Government had been confirmed in its previous decision to adhere the idea of a high level bridge, largely on account of the diversity of local opinion that had prevailed on the subject, but the present unanamity of opinion in reference to the desirability of a low level might preclude the idea of the decision of the department in reference to a high level bridge being final. However the best interests of the general public must be consulted, and it would require important considerations of cost to outweigh the local desire for a low level bridge, and the unanmity of the local feeling on the subject had its weight, and the matter would be re-opened and considered on its merits. (Cheers). He again thanked the council for the address presented. He hoped at no very distant day to pay this district a visit again, and go through the beautiful Trent Valley, and he looked forward to not many months hence.

The party then separated with cheers for the Queen and her Minister, and at once resumed its journey by highway to Young's Point, the Minister and his party proceeding by the steamer Undine by water. Above the locks (the latter being out of commission and undergoing repairs) was the staunch steamer Esturion, kindly placed at the disposal of the Minister and his friends by Mr. M. M. Boyd, Bobcaygeon, whose courtesy the party which greatly enjoyed the pleasant trip, as well as the extreme courtesy of the officers and crew regarded with the warmest appreciation.

It was a jolly party of about forty, the representatives of Lakefield and various members of the county council, Mr. Warden Middleton joining the party en route, and Mr. W. H. Bennett, the energetic young member for East Simcoe, and and Mr. R. H. Jupp, Mayor, of Orillia, joining the party at Buckhorn. The party was a most enjoyable one, the day delightful for the time of year, and the circumstances were most favourable for impressing the Minister with the magnificent character of the water stretches through which the steamer ploughed her way—water stretches that are nature's splendid contribution to the Trent Valley Canal. The journey has been so often described in these columns that it is unnecessary to go into details. The route lay through Clear and Stony Lakes to Burleigh, where the grand double locks was viewed with great interest. Then Lovesick Locks and Lovesick Lake, Buckhorn Locks, Buckhorn Lake and Deer Bay were passed through. The chief engineer and Mr. Schreiber, the Deputy Minister, who seems a very mine, and a deep mine at that, of ready facts respecting public works, being laid under frequent contribution by Mr. Blair, who seemed to be extremely desirous of obtaining the fullest and about the varying points of interest passed through in regard to their relation to the canal.

He seemed, indeed, to be more desirous of gaining such information than of enjoying the many personal courtesies and attentions which his approachable and pleasant demeanour make it a delight to tender him. But towards the close of the journey, when the steamer had passed out from Buckhorn Lake into Chemong, and as darkness came down upon lake and sky about the middle of the lake, making observation of objects on water and shore impossible, there was an opportunity for more attention to the social side of the journey. Mr. Blair was most affable and made many friends by his kindly, unaffected demeanour, and the little reunion in the forecastle a short time before landing, made him many friends amongst the jovial members of the party, though Mr. Blair's natural geniality only was pitted against the adventitious hilarity of the party, into whose spirit of good fellowship he entered in a manner that won him the appreciative endorsation of "a jolly good fellow." Altogether Mr. Blair won golden opinions both personally and officially, and many will be the pleasant recollections that will remain of his visit and his tour on the waters of the Trent Valley Canal.

Arrived at Chemong the party found their conveyances in waiting and the return journey was made to town, when in the evening Hon. Mr. Blair was given a

COMPLIMENTARY BANQUET AT THE ORIENTAL HOTEL.

The doors of the banquet room in the Oriental Hotel were thrown open at nine o'clock, revealing the tables artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, smilax and palms, and further beautified with prettily shaded banquet lamps of handsome design.

Covers were laid for a hundred guests, and every chair was filled.

At the head of the principal table sat his worship, the Mayor. The guest of the evening sat at his right, and he was supported on the left by Mr. George McHugh, M.P., of South Victoria. Other guests present were Messrs. George A. Cox and Robert Jaffray, Toronto; W. H. Bennett, M.P., East Simcoe; John A. McGillivray, M.P., North Ontario; S. Hughes, M.P., North Victoria, and J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., West Peterborough.

Games for Halloween!

According to a popular superstition, which long prevailed, as the evening of the 31st of October closed in, all the elves of Fairyland were afoot. From the borders of those uncanny regions which were so familiar to the dabblers in Demonology. The first ceremony on Halloween appears to have been the going out of lad and lassie hand-in-hand to the kail-yard. How the kail-yard suffered, and how it still suffers, on Halloween, is well-known to both old and young. Other mystic rites were the burning of nuts, two and two, and eating of apples, candle in hand, before a looking-glass, etc. As Burn's depicts it:—

"Some merry, friendly countra folks,
Together did convene,
To burn their nuts, and pou their stocks,
An' haud their Hallowe'en."

"Wi' merry sangs and friendly cracks,
I wat they did na weary;
An' unco' tales, and funny jokes,
Their sports were cheap and cheery."

Of late years, however, the popular PARLOUR GAMES have largely taken the place of juvenile pranks at the celebration of Halloween, and The Peterborough Bookstore has anticipated the demand for these delightful amusements, which helps to fill in the long evenings of the coming season:—

Crokinole.

Combination Crokinole, Checkers and Table. Readily taken up, and adapted to old and young of both sexes. A very social game, as it admits of free conversation and furnishes entertainment to any number of spectators as well as the parties playing. Sufficiently fascinating to make home the most attractive place.

Fort.

Purely a game of skill. Everyone present can take part. Played with cue and balls.

Louisa.

Parchesi Revised. Combines chance with moderate skill. Played by the throws of two dice, four men of each player are entered.

Steeple Chase.

A mimic horse race. Horses are entered and moved over the spaces on the race track according to the throws of dice.

Parcheesi.

The back gammon board of India. The Eastern Rajahs are passionately fond of Parcheesi.

Halma.

A magnificent game to while away a pleasant hour. It is for two, three or four players, but even one may play a lone hand and improve the mental faculties by studying its "solitaires."

Go-Bang.

One of the most remarkable games. It is tit-tat-to improved. Yet with all its simplicity it fascinates old as well as young.

Lotto.

A set of cards, laid off in properly numbered squares, and a set of ninety numbered pieces. Well-known and largely played.

HER MAJESTY, THE QUEEN—
"A constitutional ruler winning the love and devotion of her subjects."—Murray.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL AND THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF ONTARIO—
"Imperial and Colonial—A paternal benison to guide the course of youth."—Parker.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND THE LOCAL LEGISLATURE—W. H. Bennett, S. Hughes, Jno. A. Macdillivray, George McHugh, J. R. Stratton.
"The finest product of the ballot—rather more than half the people's choice."—Davis.

THE GUEST OF THE EVENING—HON. A. G. BLAIR—
Called to the bar; elected to the House; elevated to the Ministry.

OUR NATIONAL INLAND NAVIGATION—THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL—D. W. Dumble, Joss Carnegie, M. S. Morrison of Trenton, George A. Cox and Robert Jaffray of Toronto, Mayor Bothwell of Barrie, Mayor Jupp of Orillia, and Warden Boddy of Simcoe.
"We move quarters with a thread, toss wits a cord, and the weight of pyramids with a cable. Water is work's greatest lubricator. Let us use it."—Watt.

OUR MUNICIPAL INSTITUTIONS—
"The reason our promises to the people are larger than our deeds is because they come much cheaper."—Lincoln.

THE PRESS—
"And I'll give you a pointer, my boy—the news they don't print is a blessed sight more interesting than what they do."—Ike Marvel.

The opening of the toast list was signalized by the proposition of the health of the Queen, by the chairman, which was honoured by the singing of the National Anthem and three ringing cheers for Her Majesty.

"The Governor General and Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario" was a toast which called for three more cheers.

The names of Messrs. W. H. Bennett, M. P., East Simcoe; Sam Hughes, M. P., North Victoria; John A. McGillivary, M.P., North Ontario; Geo. McHugh M. P., South Victoria, and J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., West Peterborough, were coupled with the toast of the House of Commons and the Local Legislature.

Mr. Bennett in replying stated that the public held in high estimation the House of Commons as it was at present constituted. He held that the statesmen of Canada had done and would do great things for the development of the country and referred to the harmonious whole composed of the English and French speaking citizens of the Dominion. All and one were CANADIANS AT HEART.

The assimilation of the different provinces with such dissimilar interests was difficult but the task had been accomplished and we had, now the happiness of beholding these diverging interests all built up into an harmonious whole. It had been said that the new government was putting on the garments of the old one. It was to be hoped that it would assume the half finished garment known as the Trent Valley Canal, and in assuming it would be able to do so with it in a completed state. He was pleased to have had an opportunity of going over a part of the canal and proposed going as much more as possible to-morrow. He was convinced it was one of the factors which would materially assist in Canada's development. Canada to rise with the other nations of the world and not be outstepped by them, for was she not an integral part of the greatest empire the world had ever seen.

Mr. John A. MacGillivray in his response to his toast, complimented the mayor on being the presiding officer of a council of the best known and most prosperous town in the Dominion of Canada. He regretted the absence of the two Peterborough representatives to Parliament, as Peterborough was famous for the energetic men whom it sent to represent it at Ottawa. Speaking for the Liberal-Conservative party, Mr. McGillivray stated that there none who thought that the Premier's nationality was a bar to his assuming the leadership of the Commons. All alike who sat with the great Liberal leader learned to revere and love his grand qualities. The speaker then congratulated the Premier on his selection of a cabinet, surrounding himself, as he did, by those whom he believed to be the foremost men of the time, and not being guided in his selection by any example set by his predecessors. Of those he choose none was more capable than he who came down from the sea—the honourable, the guest of the evening. (Cheers.) He believed from what he had heard of the minister that he and his Government, if they believed the canal was for the good of Canada, Canada should have it. He trusted that, on the trip over the canal to-morrow, through his own constituency, that the minister would become convinced of the necessity of the completion of the work in the general interests of the country.

Major Hughes expressed his pleasure at being present, and in the course of his remarks stated it as his opinion that if the people of Peterborough could but interest Messrs. Geo. A. Cox and Robert Jaffray in the canal and persuade them to use their influence in Toronto, th effect could not but be beneficial. He availed himself of the opportunity of pointing out to Mr. Blair that he would find men along the line of the canal who, whether they were would stand united together, shoulder to shoulder, in his support regarding the completion of this important work. He would go even further and promise the support of himself and the other members of the district on every question which commended itself to their approval, without regard to politics.

This was the route thought of as a connecting link with the upper lakes long before the Welland Canal was contemplated, yet it had never yet been completed. It was the route contemplated by that famous explorer, Champlain, who tried to force a passage through by it.

What the River St. John was to New Brunswick, the Trent Valley Canal was to this whole section of Ontario. Along the line of the canal were hundreds and thousands of agriculturists who were at present completely at the MERCY OF THE RAILROADS.

Freight rates were such that the farmers could not lay down wheat in Liverpool to compete with Manitoba, the rates from that province being cheaper on account of the competition in the carrying trade. The completion of the canal would place the farmers of Ontario on the same footing as their Manitoba brethren and revive the wheat trade. The people of this district had been willing to tax themselves for the building of such public works as the Sault Canal, the Intercolonial Railway, and the Welland Canal, and now demanded that these districts should assist in giving to Peterborough the same privileges as they themselves enjoyed.

In building the 'Soo' Canal, steel could be sent to that point from Belgium cheaper than from Peterborough, simply because there was in the carrying trade, and the rate from Belgium was actually lower than that from Peterborough. These were the disadvantages which the Peterborough district laboured under and wished rectified.

Mr. George McHugh, M.P., for South Victoria, was pleased to see both parties united in a question which was so much in the interests of the country. He was pleased to hear Major Hughes offer his support, as it was an evidence that the completion of the great work had now become a question aside from politics. The minister, he thought, had taken a prudent course in coming to view the works before pronouncing upon the feasibility of completing them. When he saw the natural courses, he would see that the route was one planned by nature and that a most perfect mode of communication with the inland waters could be established at a very small outlay. The minister would be able to judge of the large agricultural interests, which would be revived by the placing of at their disposal with the attending reduction in freight rates.

M. J. R. Stratton M. P. P., referred to the advanced and progressive form of government engaged in the provincial legislatures and expressed his gratification at seeing that the leader of the new government thought so highly of the legislatures as to assemble so many around him picked from those bodies. The Premier had seen that in the Legislatures were such men as were capable of grappling and disposing of any question regarding the public interests, no matter of what magnitude it might be.

For the first time in the history of the town the citizens had the honour of entertaining the Minister of Railways and Canals. He assured Mr. Blair that the impression which he had created was a most happy one.

The speaker then referred to the

which had manifested itself at times in the district and explained that the opposition was not against the construction of the canal, but the manner in which that construction had been carried on, dragging over a period of forty or fifty years, instead of being completed in four or five. He hoped the minister would be so impressed with the feasibility, practicability and necessity of the canal that he would be able to say to his confreres in Ottawa that it was a desirable work, the completion of which would be in the interests of Canada. He believed the people of Canada as a whole would see the advantage to the Dominion which lay in the completion of the work, and would sustain the Liberal Government in such a decision. The present generation would then have an opportunity of seeing the work completed, which would never have been the case, had the past policy of delay been perpetuated, as was possible, but for the change in government. The Royal Commission had reported favourably on the scheme, and all the people desired was the carrying out of the finding. In the between Waubaushene and Quinte there remained but forty miles of canal to be built at a cost of a paltry three millions of dollars, whilst all that stood between Peterborough having all the advantages in competing rates with a frontier town. This would be the case with scores of inland towns which were connected with the great system. Peterborough possessed the greatest establishments of their kind in Ontario—the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., which was daily turning out mining machinery for the fields of British Columbia, the Electric Works, which had no rival in Canada and few in the United States, the Bridge Works, with a capacity for bridging the entire canal, or the waters of all Canada, the Peter Hamilton Company, which was famed far and wide for its agricultural machinery, the Auburn Woollen Mills, surpassed by none. The cut in shipping rates would give the impetus which they needed to attain even greater prominence in the manufacturing line.

In conclusion, Mr. Stratton impressed on the minister the fact that the district was unitedly demanding the completion of the canal, irrespective of politics, and would be up in arms against any Government which would not give the question the attention which was its due.

HON. J. G. BLAIR'S reception was a grand one when he rose to respond to the toast of "The Guest of the HON. A. G. BLAIR.

Minister of Railways and Canals.

Evening." He was given three great cheers, was declared to be "a jolly good fellow," and then given three more cheers before he was allowed to speek. In opening the speaker stated had he not been in a very comfortable condition produced by the hospitality of his hosts, he would have been inclined to find fault a little. He thought he would have had some hint of the great banquet which was being tendered him, and further he should have been told that it was to be attended by the most representative men of the whole district. He was greatly surprised to find the deep and profound interest which all manifested in the completion of that important public work, the Trent Valley Canal. He had no idea that the banquet was tendered to extend to him any courtesy in his personal capacity, but recognized the honour which was being conferred on him in an official capacity. He understood that the desire was to express the feeling that the Government was entitled to this recognition at their hands, and he was willing to in the sense in which it was proffered.

Mr. Blair said he was sorry that he had not had an opportunity of spending more time and making himself better acquainted with the feasibility of the canal scheme. In passing through the chain of lakes and noticing the great water facilities, he could not conceal from himself the fact that the district had been dealt with very generously by Nature, and not a great deal more was required to let the residents in the section be able to benefit fully by these advantages. (Cheers.) He was on his present trip simply to hear and to observe, and not to make a report until he had been able to make a full investigation into all the many details surrounding a work of such magnitude and importance. For 14 years he had been a Provincial Prime Minister, but it did not follow that though his range of vision had been somewhat limited, that his ideas would be the narrower on that account. He thought that he was fully capable of realizing the justness of any question. It was not a question of removing from his mind, as he had an unbiassed opinion on the question, and he was perfectly prepared to be convinced if the scheme was one which would commend itself to any reasonable mind. Although in his own province he was accused of raising the debt from three quarters of a million to two million dollars, yet no man could say that the money had been unwisely spent. Expenditure if wisely incurred was not a question which should concern a progressive man. If a debt grew through the erection of great public works then where was the man who was bold enough to say that the debt should not have been incurred. For himself he would listen with proper disregard of them. The public debt might be increased but to what a greater degree was the value of Canada enhanced. If he thought that the Trent Valley Canal or the railways in British Columbia would advance the interests of the Dominion it was not a question of cost—he would RECOMMEND THEIR CONSTRUCTION.

If they are to promote the best interests of Canada, said he, are we to stay our hand and strangle enterprise. "No, we must not stand in our tracks and mark time and refuse to recognize the march of events."

He was, of course, impressed with the importance of keeping down the public expenditure of money, but he wished it clearly understood, that if there were any who imagined that the policy of the Liberal party was a policy which will be unable to meet the just needs of this great country, then he does not understand the true policy which this party is prepared to carry out. (Cheers.)

Continuing, the minister stated that he had experienced a most delightful trip and only wished it had been earlier in the season. When accepting his portfolio he had no idea of the great questions which would arise, and therefore was so busy that he was unable and give the whole route that close inspection which was due it. He had never an opportunity of considering the advantages which this great water route might offer, nor any idea of the natural beauties which had that day been enjoyed by himself. He hoped to be able to make a favourable recommendation to his colleagues, and no recommendation he could express would be other than that which he arrived at after a most careful study of the entire question. There had been dissimilar views in regard to the scheme. Two sides of the question had been presented, and it being his duty to make a recommendation it was not unreasonable to ask that he have an opportunity of satisfying himself as to the true merits of the matter.

The evident prosperity of the town had made an impression on his mind which he found himself

INADEQUATE TO EXPRESS.

He only had an opportunity of having a passing glimpse, but it was evident that the citizens were proud of their flourishing town, of its enterprise and its success. It was a good sign to see citizens proud of their town. When that kind of spirit prevails it augurs well for the future. It not only shows that the town is appreciated, but it is an earnest that the citizens intended acheiving still greater success.

In concluding, the minister stated that he was glad to hear his friends of the Opposition present promise him their support. They were generous, and he was prepared to be equally generous and accept their support, offhand. He welcomed them to the fold. (Laughter.)

It fell to Mr. D. W. Dumble to propose the toast of "Our Natural Inland Navigation—The Trent Valley Canal." Mr. Dumble stated that the occasion

one of a like kind occurring about 15 years ago, when a member of the late Government came to Peterborough to consider the scheme. He went over the waters and they were their own argument, as a royal commission had been appointed. His imagination took him back seventy years, when the scheme was first contemplated.

It was then that some of the great men of Canada cast their eyes over the great western waters and the idea presented itself of having these waters ploughed by by British keels, and the scheme of the Trent Valley Canal was formulated to complete the work started by the Creator in the creation of between Lake Huron and the Bay of Quinte. The breaking out of the revolution of 1837 however, put a stop to the work on the canal, and since that time operations had only been carried on in a desultory manner.

The great trade of the west was crowding the carrying facilities already, although the grain trade was as yet only in its infancy. The great need of more carrying facilities could be perceived. If needed now, how much more would the want of extra carrying facility be felt when the grand west was more fully developed.

The day of canals was not over, but was only in its incipiency. Great works of this nature were being pushed forward in Belgium, France and in England continually. The Erie Canal carried 50,000,000 bushels of wheat into New York last year, and $9,000,000 was being spent on enlarging it. It was, therefore, folly to say that the days of canals were over. On the canals of small barges had to be used, but on the Trent Valley Canal route a whole flotilla of barges could be taken from lock to lock on account of the magnificent natural advantages which were enjoyed. The completion of the canal meant the advancement of Canada, and loyalty to the country demanded that this scheme be adopted. Ottawa imagined that all the western trade should go down its river. The Welland district was supplied with a canal and was therefore apathetic, and Toronto never said anything in favour of the great work, but there were two influential citizens present, Messrs. Geo. A. Cox and Robert Jaffray, who could materially benefit of the cause of the canal if they could be interested.

Mr. John Carnegie referred to the fact that the district had been supine to its own interests in not of the canal years ago, when all other portions of the Dominion were being improved. The mistake had been that the citizens had not dropped politics and stood shoulder to shoulder on this question. The speaker compared the district with New Brunswick, showing it to equal that entire province in population and developed resources, and then asked if with such a showing we were not entitled to receive the three or four millions of dollars necessary to complete the canal, when the eastern province had been given the Intercolonial Railway to help it along.

The canal would draw the entire trade of the great west through it, as Midland was far ahead of Buffalo as a lake port for the eastern end of Huron and the trip to the seaboard via the T.V.C. route was fully than by the Erie Canal—the great American waterway.

AN EXCELLENT TETHER.

Very Convenient Where Only a Few Animals Are Kept.

The cut shows a tether which I have been using, and found safe for any of the farm animals. The old way of driving a stake into the ground, and tying a rope, is very dangerous; many a horse has had a foot made sore from burning with the rope, besides very often being thrown. I have seen a horse lie down, roll, get up and have a good play while hitched to the tether. I kept a horse hitched out all last summer, with one, because it could not be caught when turned loose. It will be found very convenient when only one cow is kept.

It is made as follows: "A is the pole, 12 feet long by 1¼ inch thick and five inches wide where the pin passes through, which should be at one-fourth the length of the stick from the end. The long end may be tapered down to two inches there is no strain on the pole sidewise, need not be very strong. B is a block of hard wood, 16 inches long, four inches square, with a slot cut in for the pole to play in. The bottom end has a hole bored five inches deep so that it will turn freely on the end of the iron bar which is driven into the ground. Should the animal be headstrong, and the ground soft, the bar might be pulled over. If a piece of tubing be driven into the ground a few inches, and the bar set inside, it will not be tipped out. A short rope is on the end of the pole for convenience to hitch to. D is an iron bar, E a short piece of tubing, F a pail or kettle with weight sufficient to balance, which is easily set off when moving. I use an ordinary iron bar which is found on most farms, and may be stuck by hand. Only in a very few instances, when the ground was soft, have I found it necessary to use the tubing, E.—L. D. Gale, in Rural New Yorker.

Hand-Embroidered Stockings.

Hand-embroidered stockings are a fad of the hour, and girls who are skilful in the use of the needle are hard at work, getting up elaborate hosiery for a very small sum, according to the Chicago Chronicle. The favorite stocking for hand embroidery is not the silk, but the very fine cotton and lisle. There is a weight that is easier to handle than silk, and is just as fine in grade. The very industrious embroiderer begins her work by running silk threads round and round the leg of the stocking to make stripes, or up and down from the calf. For colors she selects the gown to which the stockings belong. Suppose a green taffeta covered with canvas cloth. After the green stripes have been industriously traced around from toe to top, there must be a pattern put upon the front. Here comes a chance for scroll work and small designs. Fleur-de-lis and crescents are the favorites. When the stocking is finished it is a very pretty thing, as elaborate as any bought for twice the cost.

Steel Petticoats.

Many fashionable dressmakers are shocked by the appearance upon the scene of a steel petticoat. This tormentor comes from Paris, and is made of the finest material. It is destined to be worn with the widest of the new skirts to keep them well spread out. Though the modistes are aware of the presence of the steel petticoat, also the bustle and the hoopskirt, yet they decry all knowledge of their use and anticipate a decided movement against all such artificial and unhealthful aids to eccentric fashion in America. There is no doubt that the metropolitan dressmakers are doing all they can to ward off the hoopskirt and its annexes. As a rule they are personally against their adoption, according to one of their number.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 4c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

HOME MARKET THE BEST

Sir William Van Horne Talks Interestingly About the Wheat Boom and Other Matters.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Sir William Van Horne, Senator Forget and Chief Engineer Peterson arrived back to-day from a three weeks' visit to the coast. The President of the Canadian Pacific Railway was interviewed by your correspondent, and expressed the greatest satisfaction at the state of the road, and especially the improvement in business along the line. Referring to the boom in wheat, Sir William Van Horne said: "This shows clearly the enormous advantage of having wheat converted into flour as near as possible to the place of production. It shows also that the home milling market is the best market that can possibly be had."

Speaking of the several milling establishments in the West, Sir William spoke as follows: "The flour mills of the Northwest already in operation are equal in character to the best to be found elsewhere. They have already done a vast amount of good but in order to secure the best results for the farmers of the Northwest the capacity of these mills should be very much increased and additional mills should be constructed.

"I trust," continued Sir William Van Horne, "that the Government will appreciate the advantage to the country of doing anything in reason to attract the large amount of capital required for the development of this industry."

As for the Canadian Pacific, the President said he found the road in splendid condition from Montreal to Vancouver, in fact, much better than ever before.

"The clearing and settlement of the timber country," went on Sir William, "for 150 miles west of Lake Nipissing, and all along the Algoma branch, is quite surprising. The district also between Lake Superior and Lake of the Woods, which has been looked upon by few as of any value, is likewise attracting many settlers, and there are here many beautiful farms."

This will, in Sir William Van Horne's opinion, soon become one of the most prosperous sections of the Province of Ontario. "In Manitoba, and, in fact, all along the line," the President concluded, "there has been a marked change within the past year, and this is especially the case in British Columbia, the effect of the extraordinary mining development in that province being now felt in all branches of business."

Your correspondent also called upon Mr. Peterson, who spoke of the temporary and trestle work at the north of Lake Superior and in British Columbia as fast giving place to iron spans and permanent roadway. On some sections, in fact, the Chief Engineer states that it is almost impossible to find any temporary work whatever. On every section runs of 60 miles per hour were made, and all the new bridges and culverts between Fort William and Winnipeg, and between Carleton Place and Sudbury, have been made sufficiently wide to admit of a double track.

"GOD BLESS THE UNION JACK!"

Bishop Hartzell Praises Britain's Treatment of Her Colonies.

New York, Oct. 27.—At yesterday's meeting of the Methodist preachers at 150 Fifth-avenue, Bishop J. C. Hartzell, who was elected at the last General Conference of the church to succeed Bishop Taylor, retired, as head of the missionary work in Africa, addressed the preachers on the outlook in his new field of labor. The Bishop spoke of the long struggle which has been carried on for hundreds of years by philanthropic and Christian people for the moral, mental and social elevation of the negro, and reminded his hearers that the colored man had proved to be a willing and industrious pupil and grateful for the efforts in his behalf. Of the future of Africa Bishop Hartzell said:

"It is usual to refer to Africa as the 'Dark Continent,' but, in my mind, Africa is the land of promise, the country where the missionary will win his grandest and greatest victories in the future. God, in His wisdom, has held the veil of mystery over Africa and will continue to do so until the civilized nations can be entrusted with its custody. We hear a good deal said about the gold and silver question. But, I tell you, there is a 1200-mile stretch of gold-bearing rock in Africa, worth $3,500,000,000 in sight already, which will settle the whole matter and keep the ratio between gold and other coin metals at the proper figure."

Of the attitude of Great Britain toward her colonies and missionaries, the Bishop spoke in warmest commendation. "God bless the Union Jack!" he said. "I want to see the troubles between the United States and Great Britain settled, and settled quickly. May the day come soon when the flags of the two nations shall float together from the same staff, wherever there is a strategic point between civilization and barbarism."

WALL-STREET GOT A SCARE.

A Rumor That Gen. Fitzhugh Lee Would Report on Cuba Caused It.

New York, Oct. 27.—Wall-street was frightened this morning by a report that Gen. Fitzhugh Lee's report to the President on the situation in Cuba was about to be made, and that it was of such a character that a call for an extra session of Congress would be sent out in a short time, to which the President would address a warlike message. The stock market was broken sharply on these reports, Sugar being the main sufferer.

Nothing in It.

Washington, Oct. 27.—So far as can be learned from the best sources, the rumors put in circulation on Wall-street to-day as to the probability of a warlike message from the President on Cuban affairs, and a possible extra session of Congress, have no foundation in fact, and were set afloat for stock-jobbing purposes only.

OLD COUPLE ROBBED

The Thugs Crushed Their Heads With Sandbags and Stole $3600.

New York, Oct. 27.—A Herald special from Shamokin, Pa., says: At a possible cost of two lives, four masked robbers, Sunday morning, stole $3000 from Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Monaghan in the mining village of Rappahannock. The heads of Mr. and Mrs. Monaghan were crushed with sand bags. Last night they were in a critical condition, and it was not expected that they would live until morning. The robbers are still at large, but small parties of men are scouring the mountains on each side of the village in search of them.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

Prof. Ellis Found Arsenic in the Stomach of George Sternaman of Hainham Centre.

Cayuga, Ont., Oct. 27.—The adjourned inquest on the body of George H. Sternaman, who died at Hainham Centre last August under suspicious circumstances, was resumed to-day and completed. Mr. C. W. Coulter, Crown Attorney, was present in the interests of the Crown. The coroner, Dr Thompson, read the report of Dr. Ellis on his analysis of the viscera of deceased. He found arsenic in the stomach, bowels and liver. After taking further medical evidence as to the symptoms of arsenic poisoning, the case was left in the hands of the jury, who, after half an hour's deliberation, returned a verdict that deceased George H. Sternaman came to his death Aug. 13, 1896, by arsenical poisoning, administered by some party or parties at present unknown to the jury.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. MAKING A TERRACE.

This Article Explains How to Make a Durable One.

Whatever may be one's personal opinion as to the beauty of terraces, it is certain that men and women will continue to like them and to construct them. It is important, therefore, to know how to construct them in the best manner. But before explaining a wrinkle or two that are of value in terrace building, I want to protest vigorously against the making of double terraces. They are an abomination in the sight of good landscape gardening; and as for three terraces, one above another—well, words fail me fitly to characterize such atrocious mutilation of the "old sod."

In making a single terrace it is a somewhat difficult matter to make a loose bank of earth remain in place until the sod is applied, and even after the sod is in place any pressure on the top of the terrace is likely to cause the whole upper edge to slip off. To prevent this trouble, drive two or three rows of stakes along the extent of the proposed terrace, and to the upper part nail rough boards, as shown in the cross section in Fig. 1. This will hold the heaped-up earth in place till the sod is applied, and thereafter will give great firmness to the terrace until nature so compacts all the materials as to make slipping impossible, as shown in Fig. 2.

There is shown in this cross-section an excellent point in applying turf to terraces. The end of the roll is begun on the level top of the terrace, and is carried out over the edge and down the slope, thus giving no open crack at the upper edge, where an opening is specially detrimental to the well-being of a terrace. As sharp and distinct an edge can be made in this way as where the opening comes at the edge, while the results of the former practice are far superior.—Country Gentleman.

Every ingredient in Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is a blood maker and health giver. If you are weak or run down, try it.

Dear Sirs: It is with pleasure I can recommend others to take Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, as I am thoroughly satisfied it is a sterling preparation, and as a tonic I think it has no equal. Other members of my family, besides myself, have used it, and in all cases it gave the most gratifying and pleasing results. Yours truly,

WANTED THE FEE.

He Was Paid as a Witness, But Wanted More Money as an Interpreter.

A good story was told lately by Commodore March, of Marie's Point, Fidalgo Island, whose ready wit is well known to the habitues of the Hotel Butler, and, indeed, all over the Sound, says a writer in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. The Commodore was called as a witness in the Point Roberts dispute between the cannery men and the Indians, and the lawyer on the other side with a "what-can-you-know-about-it air" put the question to him:—

"How long have you been in this part of the country, Mr. March?"

Mr. March has a pretty chin, and he shaves his white whiskers to each side to show it off. When the question was so suddenly put he softly caressed the pretty chin and slowly and meditatively said, as to himself:—

"Forty, forty-five, fifty," and at length answered: "Fifty-five years."

"Fifty-five years" said the lawyer, and then, as if he were addressing Christopher Columbus, asked:—

"And what did you discover, Mr. March?"

"A dark-visaged savage."

"A dark-visaged savage, eh! Yes; and what did you say to him?"

"I said it was a fine day."

"Fine day? Yes, and what did he say to you?"

Mr. March rattled off a whole yarn in Chinook, and kept on, to the mirth of the whole courtroom, until peremptorily cut off by the gavel of the judge.

"I asked you what reply the savage made to you, Mr. March. Please answer the question," said the irate cross-examiner.

"I was answering."

"Tell us what the savage said?"

"That was what he said."

"Then tell us in English?"

"Not unless I am commissioned by the Court to act as interpreter and paid the customary fee."

The lawyer thought a moment, looked at the judge, who could not resist a smile, and said severely, "Mr. March, you may stand down."

ON THE FARM.

He Was a New Man in the Business, But Was Getting Experience.

"Well, how do you like farming? Has the hog cholera got in your pigweed patch yet?" asked the friend from the city.

Johnson, who had rented a farm to escape an epidemic of appendicitis that was raging in the city extracted a sliver from his thumb and replied: "I can tell you farming isn't the snap folks think. There's lots of work. A couple of weeks ago I wanted to set a hen. The hens were all laying and not wishing to interrupt them I set a rooster. I've been working with him ever since. That bird is as faithless to his vows as a summer girl. But my worst stroke of luck was last week."

"What was it? Forgot to put quilts on your onion bed?"

"No, not that. You see I had a colt that was in rather poor flesh. One of the neighbors told me to feed it plenty of corn in the ear. I did so and I'm afraid it is going to die. The poor animal has been deaf as a bat ever since."—Truth.

STUCK ON HIS SHAPE.

Travelled on His Face.

"You are a dead beat."

At the harsh words the cyclist roused himself and opened one eye. The policeman, bending over him, went on:—

"You have been trying to travel on your face."

The cyclist opened the other eye.

"I have," he admitted. "On my face and one elbow. But they could not stand the strain."

And rising weakly to his feet, he staggered toward the nearest drug store, bearing the fragments of his wheel with him.—Wisconsin Sentinel.

Making It All Right.

Bixby (very near-sighted)—Who's that dumpy fright coming up the road on the wheel?

Stinchcomb—That's my wife.

Bixby—N-no, I don't mean that one. I mean the grand guy with the bologna bloomers.

Stinchcomb—That's your wife.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

One Way of Putting It.

Lushforth—Look here, dd you say that I would rather drink than eat?

Wickwire—Why, no, not exactly.

"Well, what did you say?"

"All I said was that if you were to go for a meal to a place where you had to go through the bar to get to the dining-room the chances were that you would come out hungry."—Indianapolis Journal.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness, puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and, in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Bulb Planting.

From the middle of September to the middle of October is the best time for bulb planting, particularly crocuses, hyacinths, and tulips.

The crocus likes a rich soil, and should be set about three inches below the surface, and some distance apart. Before hard frosts, cover the bed with stable litter or any coarse dressing, it will need no further care. If your garden is convenient to border, the crocus is a nice bulb to use, but the hyacinth shows to better advantage in beds.

Set hyacinth bulbs four inches below the surface about six inches apart, give liberal top dressing when cold weather sets in.

The gay and flaunting tulip, and the crocus as well, have long been popular in the bulb family. Like all other spring flowering bulbs, it must be set in autumn, but once planted it remains in the ground, and, if conditions are favorable, increases from year to year.

The narcissus or daffodil should be found in every garden, and the little scillas and snowdrops should also have a place. One will find the price of bulbs quite reasonable, and their culture easy. The iris, too, in its many colors and varieties claims attention, and the little Ranunculus bulb will show its brilliant flowers in June.

After bulbs are set and secured from winter freezing, the work of the gardener is done. No weeds to fight nor dry weather to lament. Nothing but to push away the covering and enjoy the flowers.

Don't dally with rheumatism. Purify your blood and cure it at once by taking a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the old-time way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and why every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful. An even product throughout.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's. Genuine has a salmon-colored wrapper.

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.

James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

Peterborough had two railways, it was true, but they had a fixed freight rate and there might just as well be but one, as there was no cutting on either line. With a waterway all this would be changed.

It was the poor man's highway which he was advocating. Through the medium of cheaply constructed barges the rates would be cut to such a degree that the small shipper could be able to earn a livelihood. The barges which could carry our produce to American ports would return laden with coal, which as present was yielding an enormous profit to the railways at the expense of the public. Fully 900 miles of coast line, said he, can be opened up through this canal.

stretch out from our back lakes, along which the barges can run, collecting freight all the way up to Sault Ste. Marie, and developing and encouraging our grand resources.

The money already expended on the canal, he said, is gone. The route is completed, all but forty miles, and, queried he, is the Government justified in withholding their consent to the entire completion when so much has already been spent, and will be an entire loss, unless the route is completed?

Mayor Morrison of Trenton, speaking for his town, stated that the citizens there were as one man, irrespective of politics, in favour of the completion of the canal. He criticized the late Government severely for not carrying on the work, and expressed the belief that in Hon. Mr. Blair the right man was in the right place to see that the day of delays was past.

Mr. George A. Cox was greeted with three cheers. He claimed that although he was stated to be a citizen of Toronto, yet he regarded it as being merely a western suburb of Peterborough. (Cheers.) He hoped that when on returning to Peterborough to take up his residence he would be able to see the town more prosperous than ever as the result of the completion of the Trent Valley Canal. Mr. Cox expressed the hope that Mr. Blair would realize that the district was only claiming its rights when insisting on the completion of the canal. It was only fair play to at the province was claiming in order that it might develop its great resources in the north.

Mr. Robt. Jaffray, of Toronto, was also greeted with cheers. He spoke of the pleasure he had experienced in viewing the beautiful lakes and in seeing the great natural water advantages of the route over which he had sailed during the day's trip. He expressed himself as being with the claims of the canal upon the public and was sure that the scheme would receive a fair open-handed consideration at the hands of Hon. Mr. Blair, who was noted for his great executive ability and who could not withstand, he thought, the pressure which was now being brought to bear in the way of forcing upon his attention the merits of the great canal scheme.

Mayor Bothwell, of Barrie, explained that his town was at the extreme end of the system and the people there were greatly impressed with the vital interests which were at stake. Barrie had only one line of railway and a competition with regard to rates was their only salvation. The citizens were suffering under the heavy rates imposed by the railway, being great shippers of grain.

Mayor Jupp, of Orillia, endorsed all that had been said by the previous speakers, as a non-political representative of Orillia. He thought that in so freely accepting the support of the three Tory members the minister could not help accepting their pet scheme along with them. (Laughter.) He enlarged upon the necessity of encouraging the great lumber interests of the north. At present the lumber was being taken to the seaboard via the Erie Canal, whereas the proposed Trent Valley Canal route was fully two-thirds shorter and would consequently be so much cheaper that the trade would flourish.

Warden Boddy, of Simcoe, ably backed up the arguments brought forward in favour of the scheme by the previous speakers in a few forcible arguments, after which, as the hour was late the toast list was brought to an end by the singing of National Anthem, and thus concluded one of the most successful banquets, in every sense, ever given in Central Ontario.

Hon. Mr. Blair, who is more a man of action than of words, did not let the grass grow under his feet. He went from the hall of feasting to a carriage, in which he was driven to Chemong, in readiness to embark on board the Esturion at an early hour this morning for a trip over the upper section of the canal. He was accompanied by Mr. Schreiber, Mr. R. B Rogers, Mayor Yelland, the northern delegates, and some of then Trenton delegates. The Minister and party return to town this evening and go east to-night.

CARD OF THANKS.

On behalf of the Dickson Company, I desire to tender to the Peterborough Fire Brigade the most hearty thanks of the Company for the very valuable services given on the occasion of the fire on Sunday night. A fire which at one time threatened to sweep the Raceway, and which would have been, if not prevented, most disastrous to the company. Especial thanks are also due to a large number of citizens who at no inconsiderable personal sacrifice did so much in preventing the spread of the conflagration.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

Sad Death of Mrs. John Cain.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mrs. John Cain, who was just in the prime of life and and one of the strongest and healthiest women in this township, was attacked with a severe form of erysipelas and very unexpectedly died after an illness of only six days. Deceased lady will be greatly missed in the neighbourhood in which she resided, and her memory will ever be fresh in the minds of those who associated with her in every-day life, on account of the kind and genial way she had of entertaining those with whom she came in contact. What made this unhappy event more painful was the fact that her husband and two sons had just left one week previous to her illness to a distance north of Dorset to work in Gilmour & Co's. lumber camp. Mr. Cain arrived home in time for the funeral which was largely attended. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in the hour of their trouble.

Mr. T. Henderson was summoned by Constable Finlay to appear before Mr. H. Seymour, J.P., of Harvey, to answer to an information laid by his nephew for unlawfully claiming a two-year-old heifer belonging to his brother, Mr. J. Henderson. The plaintiff, however, did not apperar at the court to press the prosecution, and the matter was dropped.

The weather is fine again and the farmers are busy taking in their root crop.

SMITH LITERARY SOCIETY.

The first regular meeting of the Literary Society, S. S. Fo. 1, Smith, was held Monday, Oct. 26th. The attendance was very large, the room being almost crowded. The president took the chair about 7.30 o'clock, and after giving a short address, the society proceeded to business, of which there was a great deal. Afterwards the following programme was rendered:

Address	President
Recitation	Miss Edna Middleton
Instrumental music	Rollie and Lou Ferguson
Reading	Miss L Mahood
Club swinging	Miss S Young
Recitation	Miss Lottie Middleton
Recitation	Mr Down
Song	Miss Edith Tully
Recitation	Miss Clara Middleton
Instrumental music	Lou and Rollie Ferguson
Recitation	Miss Edith Elliott

On account of the short time since the last meeting the programme was short, but nevertheless it was well rendered, and those who so willingly took part deserve much credit.

It was decided that the regular meeting be on Thursday nights of each week, therefore the next regular meeting will be on Thursday, Nov. 5th.

PRICES ARE UP AGAIN

All the Wheat Markets Show Renewed Strength.

HEAVY BUYING AT LIVERPOOL,

British Farmers are Holding Their Stocks, Confident That the Price Will Go Still Higher—Manitoba Flour Selling Well in Australia—Bad Outlook in India.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Wheat started in to-day with a boom in full possession of the pit and prices jumped skyward with startling rapidity. For about an hour it looked as though there was to be a repetition of the action and scenes of ten days ago, but at 73 1-4c for December realizing began. Rumors of tightening money at New York, which later were more than verified, caused great energy in selling and a break of 2c took place. Afterwards the fluctuations were nervous and erratic, it being evident that traders could find nocomfort on either the long or short side. There were a number of foreign buying orders here and at New York to-day, to which great prominence was given, the early advance proving how fruitful in effect they were. Liverpool opening cables were 1 1-2d higher and 3-4d was added at the close.

FARMERS ARE HOLDING.

English Agriculturists Decline to Part With Stocks, Confident of a Rise.

New York, Oct. 29.—Ballard Smith in a special cable to The World says: "A remarkable feature of the situation, one plainly indicating a belief that higher prices are coming, is that the farmers in the wheat growing districts of England are firmly holding on to their stock, even though the figures now obtainable are much higher than they had ever hoped to see again. The continued absence of rain in the Punjaub district and the measures now being arranged by the East Indian Government to deal with a possible famine seem certain to make large demands on the market next month."

The World representative had a talk to-day with Mr. Schamasch, the manager of the great firm of E. D. Sasoon & Co. of London and Bombay, the largest and most important London house in the East Indian trade. It was his purchase of several cargoes for Bombay last week that caused the first decided advance in price. He says: "I consider the prospect of the market excellent for some months to come, notwithstanding that the price of wheat shows a downward tendency. It has now fallen to 32 shillings, and I believe it will drop to 30s, from which point it will rise steadily in a healthy, stable manner."

Manitoba Flour Wanted in Australia.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Manitoba flour is in good demand in Australia. This afternoon the Lake of the Woods Milling Company accepted a cable offer for 500 tons, equal to 5000 barrels, for shipment from their Portage la Prairie mill to Vancouver, and thence to Sydney, N. S. W.

A Famine in Sight in India.

London, Oct. 29.—Cablegrams received from Bombay say that the drouth continues, with no signs of abatement, and that the crop situation in India is daily becoming more serious.

To-day's Continental wheat markets were as follows: Antwerp—Wheat opened firm on the strength of English and American advices, but the market was lifeless, buyers being unwilling to meet higher prices. The market closed dull, but steady.

Paris—The market opened weak and lower, but became strong on the stimulation of American advices, and prices advanced, but buyers were shy, in view of the recent collapse and the volume of business was small.

Berlin—The market opened higher upon the strength of advices from America. Wheat opened firm at fully two marks improvement, the bears covering freely, and closed firm at 2 1-2 to 3 marks above yesterday's closing. Holders were influenced by the unfavorable advices regarding the crops in India.

Buda Pest—There was a sensible advance in wheat at the opening, which had the effect to restrict business.

Hamburg and Amsterdam markets firmer, holders asking higher rates; business limited.

The Russian markets were unchanged.

Higher in New York.

New York, Oct. 29.—The New York wheat market was strong and higher to-day, presenting some of the prominent features of the recent bull movement. The opening was at a full 1c a bushel overnight advance. December at 73 7-8c. After a momentary shifting on fractional changes, as if for position, a sensational rush covered another 1c a bushel advance and more to 80c. The trading was of large volume, very active, but void of special excitement. Buying for European account was the feature.

A FRENCH GLOBE TROTTER.

His Agreement is to Circle This World Without Money and Without Begging — Race by Steamships.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 29.—Among the passengers who arrived from the Orient on the steamer Victoria yesterday was M. Ch. Brouard, the Maurice Bonkay of Gil Blas, the French journal, who is traveling around the world, not in the luxurious style that most globe trotters enjoy, but as best he can. He left Paris Feb. 25 with 3c in his pocket and made a wager that he would circle the globe without begging, and be back in Paris Christmas Day. So far he has been successful As much of the journey as possible was made by land. At Yokohama he gave a lecture, the proceeds of which paid his way across the Pacific. He leaves this evening for San Francisco, where he will start for the east, and will board a steamer for Liverpool.

Oriental papers received by the steamer Victoria give a description of an ocean race between the Canadian liner Empress of China and the French cruiser Alger. It is stated that the Alger left Kobe for Yokohama, its engines doing 76 revolutions, giving a speed of 13 knots. The Empress of China was following two miles astern. The merchantman overhauled the cruiser during the night, whereupon the latter increased her speed and forged ahead again, keeping the lead throughout the race. The next morning the Alger steamed into Yokohama two hours in advance of the Empress of China. This feat proves that the Alger in the course of a few hours' steaming could have easily attained her trial speed of 20 knots.

KILLED IN A DUEL.

Civil Engineer Roderick of Seattle Slain by Foreman Keene—The Story of McAulay's Hold-up.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 29.—Matthew Roderick, civil engineer, of Seattle, was killed Monday by Foreman Keene of the Cariboo Mining Company, in a duel near Camp McKinney, B. C. On Aug. 18 last Secretary McAulay of the Cariboo Company was held up and relieved of a gold brick valued at $11,000. Roderick was suspected of the crime and followed to Seattle by detectives, but they were unable to secure evidence against him. A few days ago he returned to the mine, where he was closely shadowed. On Monday he left for the woods and was supposed to be searching for the buried bullion when detected by Keene. A fight followed which resulted in the death of Roderick. Keene is being held by the British Columbia authorities. Roderick was widely known in the mining districts. He leaves a widow and two children in Seattle.

Mr. McAulay, from whom the bricks were stolen, has spent the last two or three weeks in Toronto and Montreal. On Oct. 12, when he first arrived here from the west, The World published the following account of how he was held up:

"George B. McAulay of Spokane is at the Queen's. Mr. McAulay is secretary-treasurer of the Cariboo Mining Company. He is the chief character in the famous Cariboo gold brick robbery, which has been talked of in mining circles for two months past.

"The Cariboo mine is one of the richest in the west. Over $221,000 of bullion has been taken out of the property, and the mine has already declared $93,000 in dividends. In August last Mr. McAulay left the mine, which is located in Camp McKinney, near the boundary country, for the nearest railway point with two gold bricks, worth $12,000. He drove alone in a buggy, and the bricks were stowed in a saddle-bag in the rear part of the rig.

"When he had proceeded some distance he heard a man coming in the bush which bordered the road, and turning he found the barrel of a Winchester rifle against his face.

"'Throw those saddlebags out,' ordered the highwayman with a string of oaths.

"McAulay obeyed.

"'Now drive on,' said the robber, and Mr. McAulay drove on.

"Nothing has been heard of the two gold bricks since."

Kaiser is Suspected.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 29.—Charles O. Kaiser has been placed under arrest charged with the murder of his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser were supposed to have been waylaid by highwaymen last evening. Mrs. Kaiser was shot dead and Kaiser received a wound in his arm. Suspicion pointed to Kaiser.

Not an Election Platitude.

"In proprtion as we love truth more and victory less, we shall become anxious to know what it is that leads our opponents to think as they do. We shall begin to believe that the pertinacity of belief exhibited by them must result from a perception of something we have not perceived. And we shall aim to supplement the portion of truth we have found with the portion found by them."—Herbert Spencer.

THE BRENNAN TRIAL

Jurymen Consulted for Several Hours

AND COULDN'T REACH A VERDICT

They Were Ordered to be Locked Up for the Night—The Defence Sought to Prove Insanity—Dr. Clarke of Toronto Asylum Testifies—Addresses of the Lawyers.

Barrie, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The Brennan trial opened this morning with the examination of the prisoner's brother, John J. Brennan, who gave a history of his dealings with Michael, while the latter was laboring under the belief of his wife's infidelity. Mr. Johnston's cross-examination shattered considerably the witness' attempt to support the contention of the defence that the prisoner is insane. The same may be said of the evidence of Agnes and Mary, who gave only general statements of prisoner's insane actions, but, when pressed to give particular instances, could not do so.

Dr. Daniel Clark, Medical Superintendent of the Toronto Asylum, testified to his belief that the prisoner is insane, assuming that the evidence which he had heard during the trial is true. The kind of insanity was the delusion of jealousy, which delusion is more common with men than women, and is likely to make the subject homicidal. The passion of jealousy, whether founded or unfounded, is the strongest of passions, and is intensified with the insane. This delusional insanity may manifest itself in an attempt to punish those whom he thinks the cause of all his trouble. He would naturally expect that Brennan, believing what was evidently not true, that Mr. Strathy was the cause of his trouble, would attack Mr. Strathy, as was done on the morning of the tragedy. John Brennan's evidence stated among other things that the prisoner had heard voices, which were imaginary. In respect to this, Dr. Clark said that auditory hallucinations such as these were common among the insane, but he had never seen such in the sane, though sane people are subject to hallucinations of all other senses. He believed that Brennan knew the nature and quality of the act, viz., the murder. He had a mere intellectual appreciation of what he did or was doing, but not a moral recognition of it, that is, he might have thought he was doing right, though he really knew what he was doing. Dr. Clark would not say that the prisoner could not have controlled himself from committing a murder.

Dr. Clark's evidence was a disappointment to many, as it was expected it would more materially strengthen the defence than it did. His evidence contained nothing relating to any medical examination of the prisoner.

This closed case for the defence. Then followed rebuttal evidence from the Crown, given by Dr. McCarthy, Barrie; Dr. Richardson, jail surgeon, Toronto; and Coroner A. J. Johnson, Toronto, whose evidence was intended to establish the sanity of the prisoner.

In Mr. Lount's cross-examination of Dr. Richardson, there was a war of words. Mr. Lount asked the Doctor: "Are you not a standing witness for the Crown?" to which the Doctor said: "What do you mean? Do you mean to insult me? You use very insulting language, and I leave it to His Honor whether such is not the case."

Chancellor Boyd explained Mr. Lount's question, but the Doctor asked an apology. However, Mr. Lount would not apologize, but gave the question in another form. The Doctor replied that he was generally a Crown witness, but not always, as in some cases he has testified to the belief of the insanity of certain prisoners.

Mr. Lount began his address to the jury at 2.35, and for 1 hour and 35 minutes pleaded eloquently and solemnly for the life of his client. During his allusions to the prisoner's dying wife, the prisoner sobbed bitterly, as also did his two daughters, sitting near the prisoner. Mr. Lount asked for a verdict of manslaughter. During his pathetic address two or three of the jurymen shed tears.

Mr. Johnston began his address to the jury at 4.10, and in eloquent words urged the jury to have no hesitation in coming to an honest verdict, no matter what that verdict may be. Sympathy must hold no place with them, for, if they offered the hand of sympathy to the Brennan family, they must stretch their hands across the dead body of John Strathy.

Chancellor Boyd explained that this second trial is owing to a miscarriage or misstatement of the law during the first trial, this being a new trial on entirely new evidence. Their duty as jurymen was the most responsible of citizenship, but they were to discharge it fearlessly, manfully and conscientiously. In discussing the point of insanity, His Honor quoted Lord Bramwell, who said, in answer to the question, "Could a man help doing it?" that he could if he know, first, the nature of the act; second, the quality of the act; third, the law. Evidence went to show that the prisoner knew these. His Honor then dwelt at length on the questions of murder and manslaughter, reviewing the evidence in all important details, leaving the case in impartial and clear outline in the minds of the jury.

The jury retired at 6.05, and at 10.30 had not agreed on a verdict, so were locked up for the night, the large crowd being told there would be no news to-night.

SIX MINERS KILLED.

An Explosion of Gas in a Wilkes-Barre Colliery - Rescuers Fell Dead in Their Tracks.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 29.—By an explosion of gas this afternoon in No. 3 shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company six men were killed and two injured. The dead are: William R. Jones, fire boss, who had been in the employ of the company for the past 25 years; John W. Josephs, who had been assistant mine foreman for the past 12 years; Thomas Owens, William Lacey, contractor; James Herring and Joseph Worth. The injured are: David Williams and John Davis, laborers, overcome by gas. Six others who were in the mine were brought to the surface uninjured. When the explosion occurred William Lacey, a contractor, was at work in a rock tunnel, about a mile from the foot of the shaft, with 13 men. Immediately after the explosion a rescuing gang was organized by Fire boss William R. Jones and Assistant Foreman John W. Josephs. The men proceeded down the shaft, Jones and Josephs being in advance.

When about one mile from the foot of the shaft they stumbled over the bodies of Contractor Lacey, Owens, Herring and Worth. At this point Jones and Josephs were overcome by black damp and fell dead in their tracks. The other rescuers were forced to beat a hasty retreat, bringing the bodies of Jones and Josephs with them.

A few hours later the air current was partly restored and the men were able to push their way into the tunnel and at 8.30 to-night signalled that they had recovered the other bodies. The rescuers, with the bodies, were brought to the surface shortly afterwards.

Blaze in Woodstock.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 29.—The rear section of the Arlington Hotel received a scorching early this morning and for a time it looked as if the whole building would fall a prey to the flames. The section burnt is a two-storey frame annex, and is the centre of the group of buildings near the market often termed the rookery.

Mr. Walper, proprietor of the hotel, estimates his loss at between $400 and $500. No insurance.

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

Feel-

ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Conservative party of Canada with its strong rank and file is worthy of better leaders than the political flotsam and jetsam washed up to the front by the diluvial disintegration of the past few years.

THE reorganization of the Conservative party is on the old lines; the old flag, the old man and the old—yarns. Sir Charles Tupper in his speech repeats the fiction of the Mail that the Conservatives in the last election were not defeated—they polled 20,000 more votes than the Liberals. Sir Charles is a heavy load to carry, and the Liberals are not at all sorry from a political point of view to see him at the head of the Conservative party.

HARKING BACK.

Ottawa Journal (Independent Conservative)

Sir Charles Tupper at the Conservative convention in Toronto, referred once more to the Governor-General's course after the defeat of the late Government. Sir Charles is reported thus:

He had no hesitation in saying that if her Majesty were to adopt the course which was taken by the Governor-General in reference to the late Government, she would not be able to obtain the services of a single state man in the whole of the United Kingdom who would undertake the responsibility of answering to Parliament for such an act. Sir Charles claimed that with the accession to office of the new administration, all precedents had been brushed aside and the policy of introducing personal, instead of parliamentary, government, had been adopted.

Sir Charles Tupper thus distinctly reaffirms his conviction that after men who have been trustees of the people are formally notified by the people that the trust has ceased, they, the said discredited trustees, should continue to use the people's authority for partisan advantage. This re-affirmation by Sir Charles of a bad principle in the face of the adverse vote of parliament, of the adverse criticism by impartial British papers, and of opposition in even the Conservative press of Canada, indicates more the unreasonable obstinacy of age than the courage or wisdom of statesmanship. Sir Charles might well have dropped that subject when parliament endorsed the Governor-General's position.

There does not seem to be much prospect of the Conservative party coming to a harmonious combination with a leader like Sir Charles Tupper.

Miss Clara Burgess is visiting friends in Perth.

Mrs. Hugh Fitzgerald and family, who have been visiting Mrs. Mahood, returned to their home in Iowa City last week.

Mr. J. H. Sberia returned home from his trip to St. John's, N.B.

A public meeting was held in the Town Hall on Friday evening, when it was unanimously decided to have the reeve petition the Minister of Railways and Canals, while on his visit here, to have the proposed high level bridge over the canal on Bridge street, changed to a swing bridge.

A special meeting of the council was held on Tuesday evening, at which an address was submitted to be presented to the Minister of Railways and Canals, on his visit here on Wednesday. It is announced that the address is to be presented at 10 a. m., Wednesday.

HALLOWE'EN CONCERT.

Belle Rose Emslie Concert Company.—This excellent company gave two performances in the town hall last Friday and Saturday evenings to large and enthusiastic audiences. Mrs. Emslie is an elocutionist of no mean ability and is one of the best readers of Scottish pieces that we have heard since the days of Kennedy, the prince of Scottish song and story. In fact, her rendition of "Saunders McGlashan's Courtship" could scarcely have been equalled by Kennedy himself. Mr. C. Kelly possesses a wonderful bass voice, which was shown to advantage in such pieces as "The Mighty Deep" and "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," which later song he accompanied himself with the guitar. Miss Kelly is the fortunate possessor of a sweet contralto voice, and is an accomplished player on the piano and mandolin.—Pembroke Standard. Graham & Son.

The local hunters are now happy, as the celebrated case, Lakefield vs. Strickland has been postponed until spring, Messrs. Strickland & Co. paying all costs incurred to date.

Mr. F. J. Moore, our local fishery and game overseer, is kept busy working at the licenses for shooting for deer. Fourteen were issued Tuesday.

On Sunday last His Lordship Bishop O'Connor administered the sacrament of confirmation to about twenty-five children in this parish, after which he delivered an eloquent and practical sermon to the children.

A little ten-year-old daughter of Mr. James Hanrahan while returning home from school on Monday evening, was riding on the lumber cars from the mill, and had the misfortune to have her foot crushed between the cars. Dr. Bell was summoned and dressed the wounded and bruised foot. She was removed on Tuesday to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment. It is to be hoped that she will soon recover the use of her foot.

Sunday evening Rev. G. H. Raley, a returned missionary, delivered an address to a large audience in the Methodist church under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of the church.

The Burleigh taxes this year are very excessive and the island owners of Stony lake are very indignant at the large tax bills they have to pay the municipality. There is some talk of petitioning the Ontario Government to appoint a commission to investigate the finances of the municipality. It is thought that the rate will exceed that of any city, town, village or township in Canada. The rates for 1896 are as follows: County rate, 5 mills; township rates, 20 mills; school taxe, 13 mills; special school tax, 4 3-10 mills; special debenture, 5 mills;—total, 47 3-10 mills! being $4.73 for each $100 of assessment. Burleigh should certainly take the cake for its rate of taxation for 1896.

On Saturday last one of our citizens had been in Peterborough making his purchases, and his parcel went on the wrong train, thereby losing it. Would it not pay the people just as well if they bought their goods in Lakefield, where they can buy just as cheap, save all worry, and have their parcels delivered in a few minutes? Money can be saved every year by buying in Lakefield, and where a person lives and makes his money is the place where he should spend it.

Everyone who lives in a place should uphold that place to the best of his ability. Employ the doctors, druggists, carpenters, stonemasons of your own town, and also patronize the local merchants, who will endeavour at all times to to meet their requirements both as regards quality and price.

WAS THIS WOMAN POISONED?

The Mother of Mrs. Rose Villeneuve of Ottawa Demands an Investigation by the Coroner.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—An evening paper says Dr. Mark, city coroner, has been asked by Mrs. C. Morse of 42 Daly-avenue to hold an investigation into the death of her 17-year-old daughter, Mrs. Rose Villeneuve (wife of Peter Villeneuve) of Rockland, who died there yesterday, under what Mrs. Morse claims are very suspicious circumstances. The body was to have been buried this afternoon in Moose Creek Cemetery. Mrs Morse states that her daughter has always been quite strong, and until about two weeks ago was in the best of health. Dr. Ferguson, who attended her during her last sickness, stated that death was due to brain trouble, but she could not understand how that could be the case, in view of the fact that her daughter had never had the slightest trouble in that way. In her opinion, she said, death was caused by poison, which her daughter may possibly have taken herself, or which might have been given to her. One of her reasons for thinking so, she said, was that the body of her daughter after death showed all the signs of poisoning, as it turned black, froth formed at the mouth, the eyeballs protruded and there were other signs which pointed to that belief. A singular thing about the story is that Dr. Mark had not heard anything of it officially up to 3 o'clock to-night.

A GOOD HONEST DOLLAR

Is What McKinley Says They Want in the United States—And the Crowd Shouted "Hurrah for McKinley."

Canton, O., Oct. 29.—In addressing a Charleston, W. Va., delegation, Major McKinley said: "What we want in this country, my fellow-citizens, no matter where we live, no matter what our occupations may be, is a good, honest dollar that has value in it. When we give our labor to our employers, when we give our eight or ten hours of a day's work to their company we have given them the best we have, and we want in return dollars that represent the value of the work we give to these railroad companies. (Cries of "That's right," and "Hurrah for McKinley!") We want no depreciated dollars in the United States. We have had short hours for the last three years and a half. We do not like them, and don't want short dollars. Then there are some people who seem to believe that the way to get on best is to have one body of our citizens arrayed against another. I do not believe that. I believe we are all brothers, all equal under our constitution and flag, and all of us have a right to aspire to the highest and best things in a free Government like ours. The most glorious thing our history has demonstrated is that the poorest and humblest boy, with the poorest surroundings, but with clean hands and pure heart, may reach the highest places in the gift of the Republic."

SUGAR ADVANCES.

The Market Greatly Excited at Montreal Owing to a Sharp Rise That Took Place in New York.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—There is at present more excitement in the local sugar market than it has seen since the tariff advances in the raw article over a year ago. This has been caused by the sharp advances which the New York markets have taken in the past two days and the big, sharp and active demand for goods which has been made in the local refineries.

It was reported here this morning that a refinery in one of the other provinces had withdrawn their yellow sugars from the market.

No particular reason can be given for the advance, other than the fact that for a year past they have been sold under value and were bound to advance with other commodities. The heavy demand upon the St. Lawrence and Canada sugar refineries is in some measure to be accounted for by the higher freight rates which go into effect on Nov. 2. The market in the States is no doubt affected by the election campaign, and it is said that if McKinley is elected the prices will go much higher. This will mean, of course, that the Canadian refineries will advance in proportion, so higher sugars all around may be looked for COAL IN ONTARIO.

The Anthracite Article in Sudbury District

VERY MUCH LIKE LEHIGH COAL

Samples Brought to Toronto Burned Well in an Ordinary Furnace—Farmers in the Neighborhood of the Mine Burned It in Their Stoves Last Winter.

Toronto, Oct. 30.

The Sudbury region has surprised the geological world twice already by the unexpected occurrence of valuable minerals in new combinations, and under new conditions. First, nickel and pyrrhotite, or magnetic pyrites, were discovered in that district, and later platinum was for the first time found in a strange combination, by Sperry, the assayist. And now the climax would seem about to be capped by the finding in this part of the country, contrary to all former geological opinion, of a first-class quality of anthracite coal. Instead of the Cambrian formation extending unbroken west of Sudbury, as indicated by geological charts, there is a probability that an intrusion of strata of the carboniferous era will be shown to occur in that region.

For months past rumors have constantly reached the city that a bed of coal existed just to the west of Sudbury, but geological experts pooh-poohed the reports and stated that it was impossible, from the stratification of the country, that deposits of the fuel should be found there.

The fact remains, however, that the inhabitants of the neighborhood all last winter used the deposit as their coal bin, and carted away such quantities of the mineral that the owner of the bed finally put a stop to the depredations.

BURNED IN THE WOOD FURNACES.

And last night specimens from the mine were experimented with in The World office. A quantity of the mineral, which is of a glossy black hue, was placed in our furnace, and The World is bound to say that, whether the substance be true coal or not, it certainly burned like coal. When it came into contact with burning coals under a good draught, it soon ignited, and for a lengthy period it burned with a ruddy glow, giving forth a slight cherry-colored flame. The absence of the bluish flame ordinarily accompanying the combustion of anthracite coal is said to be due to the fact that the fuel is unusually free from deleterious sulphurous matter.

One of the strongest points made by those who pronounce the deposit to be coal is that it is found in a true slate formation, just as are the Pennsylvania beds.

This find, if borne out by further investigations, as it almost surely will be, is the most important Ontario has ever witnessed. The location of coal beds in this province will mean cheap fuel for our homes, the easy development of our other mineral resources and the giving of a tremendous impetus to many of our manufacturing industries.

The extent of the deposit has not yet been fully ascertained, but it is known to exist over at least a hundred acres of land. An option upon the lands known to contain the deposit has already been secured by a syndicate of Ontario capitalists. Mining operations, it is expected, will be shortly begun and the sanguine ones among the promoters of the enterprise prophesy that Sudbury coal will be placed upon the Toronto market before the winter is over, at little less than half the price paid for Pennsylvania anthracite, for which, and other United States coals, it should prove a formidable competitor.

The C.P.R., by the way, have, through a special agent, sent to examine the deposit, promised to run a switch to the property, which is only one mile and a half from Larchwood Station.

An exhibit of this Sudbury mineral may be seen to-day in the windows of Campbell, Currie & Co.'s offices on lower Yonge-street. It is largely through the enterprise of this mining firm that the deposit is being brought to the attention of the public, Captain J. A. Currie, having just returned from an investigation of the find, made on behalf of a syndicate, which he organized.

The Captain left Toronto on Monday at 4 p.m. for the purpose of visiting Sudbury and examining the reported discovery of coal in that region. For some time there have been rumors abroad of the finding of coal near Chelmsford, and the officers of the Geological Department, both here and at Ottawa, have thrown cold water on the thing and pronounced the find anthraxolite.

At first Mr. Currie thought that it was strange if anthraxolite were found in large deposits, and that even if the deposit were only anthraxolite, it was worth looking after. He claims, anyway, to be something of a geological heretic and thinks that geologists err in not following the maxim of the greatest authorities that "We should always look out for new conditions." He therefore thought that the Government officials might have misjudged the situation. Subsequently parties who had acquired lands in the neighborhood of the deposit asked him to go and see it. They informed him that assays showed 64 per cent. of carbon, with very little sulphur, and a specific gravity such as to lead anyone to believe that it was a reasonably fair grade of anthracite coal, mixed at the surface with slag and silicate, which had percolated down through the bed and filled the crevices with silicious matter.

Let Mr. Currie tell the story of his trip in his own words:

"I reached Sudbury on Tuesday morning," said he to The World, "and spent the afternoon visiting Copper Cliff mine, which, by the way, I regard as a big proposition. They are now working the mine at a depth of 90 feet and are now bringing up pure ore of a high grade. In the smelter two furnaces are running, with a combined capacity of 250 tons per day. They are using the ore of their three mines together, as they form a flux. The percentage of coke they use there is one to seven. The furnaces are 'water-jackets' and the slag is carried off by a powerful stream of water. Some time ago they used to carry the slag to the dump in pots, but now, by means of the new contrivance, this waste matter is deposited in a pit, and elevated to the dump by machinery. By this means the slag, instead of being in big chunks, is deposited in a gravel-like form, and the C.P.R. is using it in ballasting its tracks.

"On Wednesday morning I was driven 18 miles out to the coal beds, being accompanied by J. R. Gordon, mining engineer, C.P.R. Station Agent Martin and Mr. Van Sickle, traveling freight agent of the C.P.R. On the way we passed the Murray or Hussey-Vivian nickel mine, owned by the wealthy Welsh firm and now standing idle. Passing through the Township of McKim and Rayside, we reached the deposits in Balfour Township.

"The formation from Sudbury out to the mine is diorite and red syenite, occurring in parallel serrated ridges running more-east and southwest. A mile and a half past the nickel mine the diorite formation ceased, and we came upon a bracceated slate. The country up to the Murray mine is rough in contour, with reddish and greenish-grey jagged rocks, but after that the land stretches away perfectly level, and in the Townships of Rayside and Balfour are found a number of fine farms, occupied by German and French-Canadian settlers, who appear to be very thrifty. The soil is black loam with a thin underlayer of soft moldy sand, with a soft bluish clay sub-soil. This sub-soil seems to be an alluvial deposit from the bracceated slate. The country, where it is not cleared, is covered with poplar, whitewood, birch and other light timber, with hardly any pine, one thing to be noted here is that the whole region was swept by fire 35 years ago.

"The bracceated slate referred to before obtrudes through the soil in terraces 10 or 12 feet in width, each terrace being overlaid with an alluvial deposit. This bracceated slate is similar to ordinary slate in texture and color, but is different in that it breaks irregularly. Prof. Bell of Ottawa says that it is a volcanic deposit. One thing that goes to prove this is that the slate decomposes when heated, breaking into fragments with a loud explosion. The terraces run parallel with the diorite formations further east.

"Four miles west of Chelmsford and about a quarter of a mile from Larchwood, another C.P.R. station, we turned south along the Government road, leading to Vermilion Lake, and came upon a cabin located in the 'coal' lands. Thus, it will be seen that the deposit is only a mile and a quarter from the railroad track, and a branch can be laid to the mine over level country, without any need of 'cutting' or 'filling.'

"The number of the lot upon which the outcrop is situated is 'Ten,' in the first concession of Balfour. Close to the cabin the slate crops out in its true form. This outcrop is in the form of a ridge about 30 feet high, and the slate is of a dark blue color, and splits readily and smoothly and should make good roofing material. Crossing this ridge and running in a line to the northeast occurs the coal outcrop. This coal has been shipped by Mr. Gordon's men from the top of the ridge to the bottom, a distance of about 100 feet. The width of the bed varies from six to 15 feet.

"In appearance the material is black, where the surface is broken, but where unbroken it has a reddish appearance, due to discoloration. The theory is that the bed has been burned over, leaving a covering of reddish cinders.

"For our benefit, the miners put in two shots, making a hole in the bed some six feet in depth, from the bottom of which we procured some specimens of very fine-looking coal. A peculiarity of the deposit is that at the surface it appears in small cubes, interspersed with fissures filled with earthy and silicious matter. As the depth increases, these cubes become larger, until at the bottom of the hole, we were able to pick out some hand specimens, in which the lines of cleavage were irregular, and which, in weight, lustre and general appearance, closely resembled the highest grade of Lehigh Valley anthracite. This, it is to be remembered, was at a depth of only six feet.

"Having satisfied ourselves that the deposit is large and widening out as it deepens, we next proceeded to test the coal as to its burning and heating qualities. I had been told that it was used all last winter for heating purposes in Chelmsford stoves and furnaces. Mr. Gordon, in fact, forbade the people carrying it away, as coal up there costs $9 per ton. There is a forge on the property for sharpening the drills. This was cleared off and a fire made of small dry wood, with the coal piled upon it. After twenty minutes blowing the coal burned with an intense heat, giving off none of the offensive sulphurous odors usually experienced with ordinary hard coal, showing that the percentage of sulphur the deposit contains is small. After the blowing had been discontinued for half an hour the fire still burned with a ruddy glow. The ash left was of a light pinkish color, containing some sand, which is due to the coal used being taken from the surface of the bed. The coal burned freely, but not any faster than high grade coals, and not as quickly as the low grade semi-anthracite coal known as Loyal-Sock from Pittsburg, Pa. The absence of sulphur will make it invaluable for smelting purposes, the shortcoming in ordinary anthracite for smelting being that it is largely sulphurous.

"The wall rock on both sides of this deposit is of dark blue slate, identical, according to experienced men, with the slate formations in which anthracite coal is found in the United States. Mr. Granville Cole, Ph.D., made an analysis of a piece from the surface, which gave the following result: Carbon, 64.1065 per cent.; residue of silicious matter, iron and copper, 2.075 per cent.; silicate and aluminum, one of the best authorities on geology, good anthracite contains 78 to 88 per cent. of fixed carbon; 2 to 3.5 per cent. of hydrogen; 1.5 to 3.5 of oxygen; 4 to 12 per cent. of earthy substance; 3 to 7 per cent of volatile matter. As the ordinary impurities of coal Mr. Dana gives silica, alumina, oxide of iron and more or less pyrites of iron sulphides. It is usual for coal of this class to contain enough sulphur to make it valueless in metallurgic operations. There is an entire absence of sulphur in the Sudbury coal. It will be therefore seen that the constituents of Dana's anthracite and those shown by the Sudbury assay are to a large extent similar. Another geological fact which points to this being anthracite is that this kind of coal belongs especially to regions of rock. The stratification of the Sudbury slate is almost perpendicular or at an angle of about 80 degrees, showing that the bed has been upturned through some volcanic disturbance.

"I am satisfied that this deposit is one of anthracite coal, and that at a depth of 40 feet the bed will show the best quality of this fuel, as in the United States mines the first 30 or 40 feet of a deposit is thrown away as useless."

Should the present prospects of this find materialize the other minerals of the immediate region will obtain a great impetus.

There are within a radius of the "find" four big smelters, three of which are at present idle partially on account of the scarcity of fuel. One of them is located on the Hussey-Vivian nickel mine, four miles and a half from the deposit, and others at the Copper Cliff mines.

There are also within eight miles of the bed unworked hematite iron deposits, owned by Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary. The Copper Cliff and Murray mines have Bessemer steel forges, and should the new discovery prove to be coal, it should not be long before steel rails are turned out in the Sudbury region.

LONDON GIRL SUICIDES.

Police Sergeant Crawford's Daughter Very Deliberately Kills Herself by the Rope Method.

London, Ont., Oct. 28.—Miss Meida Crawford, daughter of Police Sergeant Robert Crawford, committed suicide by hanging this morning. Miss Crawford left a note addressed to her parents, in which she said that it was evident that they could not agree, and that she had determined to end her life. Coroner Flock decided that no inquest was necessary, and that the affair was the outcome of girlish willfulness and an impulse formed probably in the heat of a passionate moment. The very character of the act displayed an unusual amount of determination.

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds or fevers arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomache, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

A Hunting Party.

Mr. James Snider and party have returned from a pleasant outing down the river. Mrs. James McCabe's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. James McCabe took place this morning from her late residence, Ashburnham, to St. Peter's Cathedral, where a requiem mass was sung, after which interment took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery. Amongst many floral tributes received was a beautiful wreath from the Lacrosse Club, of which Messrs. James and John McCabe are members.

Sidewalk Accident.

While Mrs. J. H. Chatten and daughter were walking down Aylmer street north Wednesday night, they walked off a piece of sidewalk that had been taken up for renewal, and both sustained very painful injuries. The street was dark at this point, and it is claimed by those injured that the accident was due to neglect of the street authorities in leaving so dangerous a piece of work uncovered with planks.

A Fraternal Visit.

Peterborough Lodge No. 111 I. O. O. F. turned out in full, last night, to meet the C.P.R. local from the west which brought to town about a score of visiting brethren from Pontypool lodge, upon six of whom the three degrees were conferred, in the Lodge rooms during the evening. Afterwards fully a hundred Oddfellows sat down to a fine banquet provided by Bro. McCallum, and the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in story and song.

St. Andrew's Choir Concert.

The Belle Rose Emelie Concert Company gave a most excellent entertainment last evening in the Opera House, under the auspices of St. Andrew's choir. The house was well filled and the programme was of such varied interest as to be most pleasing. As an elocutionist Miss Emelie stands at the top of her profession, as does Mr. Charles Kelly, as a vocal soloist. Both are well known to the concert going public of Peterborough. Miss Hattie Kelly possesses a very sweet contralto voice which should make her a great favourite in musical circles. St. Andrew's choir is to be congratulated on bringing so excellent a concert company to town.

TEACHERS IN COUNCIL.

County Educators Comparing Notes—Hints of How to Teach Important Subjects—A Good Attendance for the Opening Session.

Ashburnham, Oct. 29th.

The Peterborough County Teachers' Convention met Thursday afternoon in the old town hall, Ashburnham, the president, Mr. M. W. Matchett, in the chair. After the reading of the minutes by the Secretary, Mr. J. Herman Beer, the subject of "Infinitives and Participles" was introduced by Mr. Matchett, who gave their uses, definitions, characteristics, constructions, etc. At the close of the paper, the subject was further discussed by Mr. W. A. Evans, principal of Lakefield Public School.

The next subject was "History," taken up in an excellent paper by Mr. Evans. He went thoroughly into the subject, speaking of the subject in general and mentioning various methods, good and bad, of teaching it. Some teach the isolatid events, in succession, just as they occur. Others take the events of each reign, and associate them if possible. It is well in teaching history to follow the development of national life. Group less important details around those that are more important—

TEACH NOTHING THAT WILL BE USELESS.

While Canada is a great nation we cannot afford to cut loose from the Mother country, and while we should give most attention to Canadian history, we should not neglect British history. The standard for entrance examination should be raised to give more time for a thorough grounding in history.

Mr. Evans gave many useful hints on the teaching of this important subject.

The roll was then called and many responded. There was a good attendance considering it was the opening session.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Edwards, B.A., took up Memory Training, and Rev. Mr. Symonds Religious Instruction in Public Schools.

The Afternoon Session began at half-past one o'clock, the President, Mr. Matchett, in the chair.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, public school inspector, took up the subject of Arithmetic. He said arithmetic is second in importance only to reading. The Grube' system was denounced. He would begin by teaching children to count, by sections, the first section being the digits, which he preferred to name as the numbers from one to ten. Then come the teens, etc. A child should learn to count from one to one hundred while passing through the first part of the First Book. The pupils should be able to count thoroughly backwards as well as forwards. They must learn to write numbers as well as read them.

After pupils can count to one hundred get them to distinguish odd from even numbers. This may be done by reference to pairs of various articles. After teaching the odd and even digits, teach them all odd numbers by their endings.

The next important step is addition. If pupils are good at addition, they will be good at all other parts of arithmetic when they come to it. Drill them on counting by odd and even numbers. Two odd numbers added give an even number. An odd and even number added give an odd number. Teach rapid addition, using the numbers in this order :—1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 10, 9, 8, 7, 11, 12. Drill pupils on naming the preceding and succeeding number to any already mentioned, and on all possible combinations of numbers. Remember this maxim :—"Drive the nail well at first, but do not forget to clinch it." Secure this result by repetition.

is an excellent exercise. It is a constant change for the pupils, and it involves little work for the teacher. Put down two numbers, have them added. Then use the sum as an additional addend, etc., to some specified limit. Train pupils in arranging addends in either ascending or descending order. Explain what is meant by a number, e.g. : 90 is 9 multiplied by 10. Where 90 ? After 89, etc.

In Second Book pupils should understand numbers up to 1,000,000.

After addition, the next step is subtraction. Subtraction is doing the reverse of addition when there are two addends.

Teach pupils the names of the various parts of questions—addends, sum, minuend, etc. If the teachers use these terms continually, pupils will soon become familiar with them.

Mr. Brown's address was well received and was full of helpful suggestions.

A communication was read from the Educational Journal Publishing Company, urging teachers to subscribe for that excellent journal.

Mr. Brown also stated that copies of the minutes of the Ontario Educational Association could be procured from the secretary of that association.

A committee was, on motion of Mr. J. Herman Beer, appointed to consider the advisability of the institute paying part of the price of some educational journal, the committee to report on Friday morning.

Rev. Mr. Symonds then took up the subject of "Religious Instruction in Public Schools."

A DISCUSSION.

At the close of Rev. Mr. Symonds' paper, which will be given to-morrow, the subject was discussed by Rev. Mr. Beer, Inspector Brown, Mr. K. Mark and others.

After a short recess, Inspector Brown gave an address on "Reading." Though this is an important subject, yet in very few cases are satisfactory results attained. Many pupils after being at school for several years are still unable to read well. Hence there must be something wrong with the methods pursued.

The word-method was used for a time. Then came the phonic method. A combination of these two methods is found in many city and town schools. But in most country schools words are taught by spelling and pronouncing, hence as a rule there is greater progress in country schools in less time.

Mr. Brown advocates a number of radical changes in the system of teaching reading. He claims that a child who goes to the school at the age of six should be a good reader at the age of nine, and then in the succeeding four years he will make wonderful progress in the other subjects which he has to study. A great teacher one said : "I teach my pupils to read, and get them to learn everything else." Herein lies much of the secret of successful work.

By means of a sentence written on the blackboard Mr. Brown gave some very useful hints on the proper way to teach reading and other connected facts.

The U. S. Ballot.

A copy of the ballot to be used in the United States election, was received at the EXAMINER office to-day. It is a very complicated affair, about two by three feet in size, and cannot possibly be analysed without a day's study. There are seventeen different tickets on it. The curiosity may be seen in the EXAMINER window.

HURRAH FOR THE PETERBOROUGHS!

THEY WON FROM MADOC BY A SCORE OF 4 TO 2.

A Great Game of Lacrosse was Played in Campbellford Yesterday and was Witnessed by Fully a Thousand People—The Peterboroughs Victorious.

A big crowd accompanied the Peterborough Lacrosse team to Campbellford yesterday to see their team win from the Madocs in as fine an exhibition as has been seen in the Midland district in years. The game was clean and it was very fast. The two teams appeared evenly matched on the home field at the beginning of the game, but the Peterborough defence was far the stronger. Madoc played Cross and Jimmy McDonald of the Tecumsehs, as agreed upon, and these two so strengthened the Madocs as to make them almost a match for the Peterboroughs. Fully a thousand people witnessed the game, and were more than delighted with the article of lacrosse which was put up for the first hour. After that it for the Peterboroughs, as their big lead inspired them with a confidence which enabled them to play rings around their opponents.

WAS MERELY PLAY

The teams lined up as follows :—

Peterborough.	Position.	Madoc.
F Dobbin	Goal	A Collings
F Lynch	Point	D Collinge
J Brown	Cover point	T Seymour
J Mein	First defence	J Kirk
R Glover	Second defence	C Kirk
W Bo land	Third defence	T Kirk
T McDonough	Centre	J McDonald
F Rubidge	Third home	F Sutton
R Lattimer	Second home	W Sinclair
W Galley	First home	C Cross
G Lipsett	Outside home	J Stoneburg
A Thompson	Inside home	G Burns
E Hickey	Field Captain	C D McDonald
L LeBar	Umpires	Wilson

Referee—H. German, of the Tecumsehs, Toronto.

THE BALL WAS FACED

off at 3.28 and was taken down on the Peterborough goal, but Lynch intercepted a pass and brilliantly relieved. The Madoc flags were then bombarded, but the Peterborough home had evidently not warmed up to their work, as although all the play play was around the Madoc goal for a quarter of an hour yet no goal was scored. The Madoc defence finally passed the ball to Cross, who took it down the field and passed to Burns, who scored the first game of the match for Madoc. Time, 16 minutes.

The second game started off with a rush on the Madoc flags and Galley and Lattimer both made very close shots before the Madoc goal was relieved. Things were then made warm for the Peterborough defence and a number of times it was thought that Madoc had scored another game. Dobbin, however, let nothing pass and seemed able to stop everything which came near him, and when he wasn't there those two stalwarts, Lynch or Brown were sure to intercept the ball. "Badger" stopped it with his head once, getting a bullet like shot in the eye, as a result of which his optic was not used much afterwards, as in five minutes it was closed up hard and fast.

The efforts of the Madoc's to score won for them great applause and as prevented the Peterborough defence getting in any long throws to relieve, the excitement ran very high. Finally, however, after over a quarter of an hour of this work the Peterborough defence gathered themselves together and the ball was sent far down the field, where the home boys were waiting impatiently for it. Some pretty stick handling was seen then. The Madoc defence crowded in front of their flags, whilst the ball was sent circling about the crowd between Lattimer, Galley and Rubidge. It seemed impossible to draw out the Madoc defence, but an opening appeared at last and the ball was passed in to Lipsett, who scored Peterborough's first game, tieing the score. Time 18 minutes.

The third game was all played in Madoc territory, as the home field of the Peterboroughs began to which appeared to have been entirely forgotten until the end of the second game. Lattimer scored for Peterborough in four minutes. There was a big kick over the scoring of this goal, and the crowd rushed on the field looking for blood. The constables had all they could do to preserve order, but this was the first and only sign of disorderly conduct during the entire day. Both umpires were changed, being replaced by Messrs. D. C. McNaughton, of Montreal, and C. Broderick, of Stirling.

The fourth game again went to Peterborough in four minutes, Rubidge making a long shot from the field, which it was thought would have gone a trifle high, if the Madoc goal keeper had not pulled it down, allowing it to pass directly between the flags and making the score 3 to 1 in favour of Peterborough. The fifth game was a "rattler," the Peterboroughs scoring again

IN ONE MINUTE.

Galley made a terrific shot on the Madoc flags, which was well stopped, but the ball bounded out to "Sampson" Thompson, who sent it through the flags like lightning. The score was now four to one in favour of Peterborough.

In the sixth game the Madoc boys made a desperate rally and the Peterborough defence men were given an opportunity of showing their calibre. The game which they put up was faultless and the crowd cheered and shouted with delight as shot after shot was made and successfully stopped. This game was the hottest of the entire match and lasted twenty-two minutes, when Stoneburg scored for Madoc, leaving the score still 4 2 in favour of Peterborough.

Time was called before any more games were scored and the boys cheered themselves hoarse when the match was awarded to Peterborough.

NOTES.

The town team and a large number of its supporters were treated to an oyster supper by Mr. Geo. J. Hopkins last night on their return to town. The banquet took place at the Palace Restaurant, and was greatly enjoyed.

The band was taken along and the Madoc boys had one, too.

A good deal of money changed hands over the game, and there were very few who went down from town who did not risk a fiver on the result and double their money.

Madoc still thinks it has the best team, and another game may probably result.

Lattimer played a beautiful game for Peterborough.

Peterborough's defence put up a "horse" of a game all the way through, but the home field boys were away off in the start. After they got warmed up, however, they were able to play rings around Madoc.

DEATH OF MR. BENJAMIN A. JACKSON.

He Never Fully Recovered from the Effects of a Stroke of Apoplexy Received Last Year.

The death of Mr. B. A. Jackson occurred yesterday, after an illness of several weeks during which his demise was daily expected. He was the victim of an attack of paralysis last fall and never fully recovered from the effects.

Mr. Jackson was a native of Madrid, N. Y., being residuary legatee, was one of the Mrs. Nicholls heirs, and came to Peterborough with Mrs. Jackson just six years ago to a day. He was 54 years of age, and led a retired life, his only public position being that of a life trustee of the Nicholls Hospital—being appointed by the Legislature, together with Messrs. Richard Hall and Chas. McGill. The kindly presence of the deceased will be greatly missed in his large circle of friends. He leaves a widow to whom the sympathy of the entire community goes out.

The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. Dr. Torrance conducting the ceremony.

That Shooting Affair.

An intoxicated young Italian fired off a revolver near the corner of Hunter and Reid streets, last night, and as the result most startling rumours are afloat, it being even stated that a bloody shooting affray had taken place and that the victim had been carried into Mr. John Cameron's residence.

Barbering Business

—OF THE—

LATE HARRY ROBINSON.

I desire to inform the patrons of the late Harry Robinson and the public generally that I have purchased the Barber Shop and Business conducted for so many years by Mr. Robinson and I will be pleased to be favoured with a continuance of the liberal support heretofore bestowed upon my late employer.

I have had considerable experience in Shaving, Hair Dressing and Beard Trimming, and I hope by care and attention to business to merit a fair share of public support.

The Business will be conducted at the old stand, Water Street, south of Sun Life Insurance Office.

Games for Halloween!

According to a popular superstition, which long prevailed, as the evening of the 31st of October closed in, all the elves of Fairyland were afoot. From the borders of those uncanny regions which were so familiar to the dabblers in demonology. The first ceremony on Halloween appears to have been the going out of lad and lassie hand-in-hand to the kail-yard. How the kail-yard suffered, and how it still suffers, on Halloween, is well-known to both old and young. Other mystic rites were the burning of nuts, two and two, and eating of apples, candle in hand, before a looking-glass, etc. As Burn's depicts it:—

"Some merry, friendly countra folks,
Together did convene,
To burn their nuts, and pou their stocks,
An' haud their Halloween."

"Wi' merry sangs and friendly cracks,
I wat they did na weary;
An' unco' tales, and funny jokes,
Their sports were cheap and cheery."

Of late years, however, the popular PARLOUR GAMES have largely taken the place of juvenile pranks at the celebration of Halloween, and The Peterborough Bookstore has anticipated the demand for these delightful amusements, which helps to fill in the long evenings of the coming season:—

Crokinole.

Combination Crokinole, Checkers and Table. Readily taken up, and adapted to old and young of both sexes. A very social game, as it admits of free conversation and furnishes entertainment to any number of spectators as well as the parties playing. Sufficiently fascinating to make home the most attractive place.

Fort.

Purely a game of skill. Everyone present can take part. Played with cue and balls.

Louisa.

Parchesi Revised. Combines chance with moderate skill. Played by the throws of two dice, four men of each player are entered.

Steeple Chase.

A mimic horse race. Horses are entered and moved over the spaces on the race track according to the throws of dice.

Parcheesi.

The back gammon board of India. The Eastern Rajahs are passionately fond of Parcheesi.

Halma.

A magnificent game to while away a pleasant hour. It is for two, three or four players, but even one may play a lone hand and improve the mental faculties by studying its "solitaires."

Go-Bang.

One of the most remarkable games. It is tit-tat-to improved. Yet with all its simplicity it fascinates old as well as young.

Lotto.

A set of cards, laid off in properly numbered squares, and a set of ninety numbered pieces. Well-known and largely played.

OLD MAID,	LOST HEIR,
AUTHORS,	SNAP,
NATIONS,	CHECKERS,
PERRYWINKLE,	CHESS,
LOGOMACHY,	DOMINOES,

Playing Cards.

All kinds—Bicycle (the best quality), Cyclist, Trophy Whist, Apollo, Boston, Up-to-Date, Etc. Special Prices for Progressive Parties, whether Progressive Games, Pedro or Euchre.

MESSRS. FORTYE & HARPER.

Description of The Well Equipped Establishment and New Stock of This New Hardware Firm.

Messrs. Fortye & Harper are now comfortably established in their commodious and well equipped premises, No. 330 George street. The three-story building which was formerly occupied by John Cameron, as a grocery and liquor store, has been so completely remodelled and improved that the old time shoppers at this store would fail to recognize it. From cellar to roof every foot of space has been overhauled and modernized to make the entire premises what the new firm insisted it should be—an up-to-date, convenient and well-equipped hardware, stove, tinware and plumbing establishment.

It is an interesting sight to take a view of the plate glass windows of the store from the sidewalk. Window dressing and the skilful effects that can be produced by the display of goods, is an advertising feature of business for which Messrs. Fortye & Harper seem to have a happy knack. Window dressing well done is one of the most potent forms of advertising, outside of the newspaper. It antedates the modern style of newspaper advertising, but has been much overshadowed by the latter. Our store windows should help to attract customers or shoppers, and the handsome plate glass fronts in all our stores have of late years stimulated the art of window decorating to a very noticeable extent.

But it is on entering Fortye & Harper's store that the principal interest of the visitor is awakened. The stock is now all carefully placed in well dedned departments and gives the best idea of what can be done by completeness and convenient arrangement of shelving and store fixtures. The hardware department is mainly arranged on the north side of the store, in suitably arranged divisions, running clear up to the ceiling. The shelf goods have been displayed in sections in which convenience has been fixed by the demand for the particular line of goods. On the south side is the stove and tinware department, equally convenient and well arranged, both on shelves and on the platforms off the floors. In addition to full lines of kitchen and household utensils, there are the large ranges for hotels and residences which seem capacious enough to cook meals for half the town, and from these down to the handy little stoves which would just warm a room or two, or cook a meal or two. You can find any or everything in the heating and cooking line which the skill of man could devise or the heart of woman or man desire. Nearly all the different lines are named "Oxford," and an inspection of all these goods gives one the distinct impression that Oxford heaters, ranges and furnaces are as fine a class of goods as could be made.

The tinsmithing and plumbing department occupies the second storey. Mr. Wm. Kennedy, a thoroughly practical man, formerly with the Gurney Foundry Company, of Toronto, superintends this department. Here modern tools and machinery suitable for tinsmithing and plumbing is being placed as fast as necessary, and every facility is to be given with labour saving machinery of turning out the work promptly and satisfactorily and at the smallest cost.

The rest of the building upstairs and in the large cellar under the store, is utilized for storing surplus stock. A new elevator on the first floor conveys the goods to and from any part of the building, and stock is so judiciously distributed over the premises that it can be moved with the least possible loss of time.

The business office is conveniently situated in a handy corner of the first floor, and is neatly but modestly fitted up for that purpose.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME.

A Most Successful Autumn Social Held Last Evening.

A most pleasant evening was spent in the rooms of the Catholic Literary Association last night, when the members were entertained by the Ladies' Auxiliary, to whom great credit is due for the manner in which the affair passed off.

The large hall was very prettily decorated for the occasion by Mr. A. Kingscote with flags and bunting, and consequently presented a more than usually attractive appearance.

Mr. M. Costello was master of ceremonies, and as Butcher's orchestra was present, the evening passed off most delightfully. The refreshments, which were served by the ladies, are deserving of especial mention. It is to be hoped this is only one of a series of entertainments which the ladies may be induced to give during the winter months.

THE NICHOLLS SCHOLARSHIPS.

HON. A. G. BLAIR ENDS HIS TOUR

OF TRENT VALLEY CANAL INSPECTION AT LAKE SIMCOE.

Over the Northern-Middle Route—From Chemong to Kirkfield—Mr. M. M. Boyd's Special Courtesies—Deputations at Bobcaygeon. Fenelon and "The Fort"—The Minister's Reply—A Hard Worked Journey.

Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, got a decidedly early start on his second day of his tour over the Trent Valley Canal, starting about one o'clock on Thursday morning from the Oriental at the conclusion of the banquet, for Chemong, where he spent the remainder of the hours of darkness. He was accompanied by Mr. Schriver, Mr. Rogers, C.E., and J. Lyon Biggar, of Belleville. In the morning a large number of persons were taken up by Mayor Yelland, including the Trenton deputation and the northern members and delegates who had attended the banquet.

At the early hour of six o'clock in a pouring rain the minister and party boarded the steamer Esturion, kindly kept by Mr. Boyd at Chemong during the night, and the voyage to Bobcaygeon was begun. But at Pigeon Lake an annoying delay occured. The dense fog prevented the steamer from proceeding and she lay to for about half an hour. A good many jokes were passed on the ludicrous nature of the situation, and the Minister had a rather emphatic impression of the great extent of the water stretches—a steamer lost on the waters of the Trent Valley Canal. But the fog lifted opportunely and Bobcaygeon was reached at about 8.30. There Mr. Blair was met and heartily welcomed by the village council and, in fact, by the appearance of the crowd, by a large proportion of the villagers. Here a complimentary address, read by Mr. Reeve Lewis, was presented to Mr. Blair, setting forth the merits and importance of the canal.

Mr. Blair, in his reply, said that he was particularly struck with he met everywhere from everybody in reference to the importance of the canal, and he felt that such earnestness would not be manifested had not the people confidence in the canal and its capabilities worthy of inspiring so much interest in the work. He again expressed his intention of looking into the work and giving it fair and unbiased consideration. He again expressed his surprise at the magnificent stretches of water on the route so abundantly provided by nature, leaving so little, comparatively, for the art of man to do in order to complete the canal highway.

Then, according to previous arrangements and to save time, the Minister and party left the Esturion to wood up and lay in supplies, and boarded Mr. Boyd's beautiful yacht the "Calumet," where a splendid breakfast appealed to the appetites of the guests, sharpened by the early hour of rising. Mr. Boyd's splendid hospitality not only on this occasion, but throughout the minister's visit, was a theme of warmly appreciative remark. About fifteen went board the Calumet, the others coming a little later on the Esturion.

In Sturgeon Lake the ministerial party met the Lindsay delegation, on board the Alice Ethel. They included the reeve and council of Lindsay, Warden Switzer and members of the county council, also Dr. Wood, of Kirkfield, the reeve and several of the Beaverton council. Capt. Crandell, Reeve Smyth and Warden Switzer joined the party on board the Calumet, and the somewhat imposing flotilla of a yacht and three steamers bore down upon Fenelon Falls, where Mr. Reeve Smythe, of Lindsay, read an address on behalf of the corporation of that town, and Dr. Wood, of Kirkfield, gave a splendid address in support of the canal scheme. The minister's reply was necessarily brief, as time was pressing. About noon the combined party advancing passed through Cameron Lake to Rosedale and examined the dredging of the channel, whose condition made this point

THE TEMPORARY HEAD OF NAVIGATION.

On account of the character of the channel at Rosedale the party had reluctantly to leave the palatial "Calumet" and embark on the plain, but self-respecting steam punt, with the ambitious title of "Pride of the Lakes," by which a deliberate voyage of Balsam Lake was made to The Fort, where the present work in canal construction is being conducted. Here deputations representing the municipalities of the vicinity were present, and a fine luncheon had been provided. Carriages were in waiting, and the Minister and his party were driven over the work in progress examining it critically and minutely as was done on the Peterborough Lakefield section the previous day. The Minister was very favourably impressed with the extent and character of the work. The inspection extended to about a mile beyond Kirkfield, where the Oaderdonk contract ends.

They then drove over No 2 section, not yet placed under contract, to Gamebridge, on the Grand Trunk line near Lake Simcoe, where the Government car Ottawa was in waiting, and Mr. Blair and his party returned by the evening express to town. On arriving in Peterborough the Minister retired, being pretty thoroughly fatigued with the nearly forty-eight hours of continuous travel and activity day and night. Mr. Blair went to Ottawa by the midnight C. P. R. express and thus ended a journey which, from all points of view, so far as having the cause of the canal forcibly presented from every aspect to a Minister who took the utmost pains to gain every possible point of practical information, and exhibited the utmost courtesy in receiving the representations respectfully and patriotically presented by enthusiastic advocates of the canal in this district.

BRENNAN'S SECOND TRIAL

The Slayer of Mr. Strathy of Barrie Brought Up in Court Again Yesterday.

Barrie, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Michael Brennan was supported into court this morning for the beginning of his second trial for the murder of John A. Strathy in February last. He is in a very feeble condition, the awful anxiety of mind since the day of the tragedy having evidently wrought fatally on his physical strength. He wept freely this morning when placed in the prisoner's cage, and had very great difficulty in composing himself sufficiently to attend to the selection of a jury, which occupied some forty minutes.

Fifty-seven jurymen were called, the following being sworn to deliberate truly according to the evidence: William Jenkins, Alliston; W. T. Blackburn, Nottawasaga; David Aikins, Nottawasaga; Frank Colbett, Nottawasaga; Edgerley Calverley, Flos; John Miller, Essa; James Blair, Nottawasaga; F. N. Gaviller, Beeton; R. Speers, Essa; John Blackstock, Innisfil; Charles Lee, Oro; James Craig, Barrie.

Nineteen were set aside by the Crown, fourteen challenged by the defence, and twelve challenged by the Crown.

Crown Prosecutor E. F. B. Johnston then presented the case to the jury, asking that they free their minds of the influence newspaper reports, public discussion, etc., may have had in leading them to the opinion of the guilt or non-guilt of the prisoner.

Architect McVittie testified to the making of the plan of Mr. Strathy's house as produced in court.

Jennie Neally, cook; Phemie McKay, maid, and Mrs. Strathy were all called and gave substantially the same evidence as during the first trial.

Dr. Wallwin, coroner, and Thomas Ambler, on whose sleigh Brennan rode from Strathy's to the market, after the murder, gave their evidence as already published.

Mr. Lount's cross-examination appeared to go on lines hunting for evidence as to a scuffle. Nothing new was adduced, however, until Constable Marvin took the stand. His evidence differed in some particulars from that given at the last trial. To-day he swore that among other things Brennan said to him, when he gave himself up, "If Strathy had not attempted to throw me out, I would not have shot him." This was not given in his last evidence.

During Marvin's evidence and others following during the afternoon Brennan's two daughters, Agnes and Mary, were present and sat with downcast look during the proceedings. Brennan wept considerably at times, and appeared terribly agitated.

George F. Oakley of Toronto testified to the belief that the bullet produced came from the pistol produced in court.

Fred M. Smith, ex-deputy sheriff, testified to being in the sheriff's office when Brennan came in and said: "I've done a dreadful deed this morning; I've shot John Strathy, and," handing the revolver to the sheriff, "here is the thing that done it." He talked considerably about his troubles, saying: "I blame John Strathy for all of it."

"During the last fifteen years the prisoner did not appear to be quite sound in his mind. He romanced a great deal. At one time said he was shareholder in Morgan and McVittie greenhouse. He spoke seriously of running for mayor." Here the judge humorously asked Mr. Lount: "Is that an evidence of insanity?" This seemed to satisfy Mr. Lount, who at once closed the cross-examination.

Sheriff Drury corroborated Mr. Smith's evidence. While Mr. Drury was relating his visit to the jail to tell Brennan of Strathy's death, the prisoner sobbed bitterly, and appeared broken in remorse.

The rest of the evidence of the day was corroborative of that given last spring.

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness, puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and, in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Senator Forget Tells About His Trip Across the Continent—Wants to Encourage Settlers.

Montreal, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Hon. Senator Forget, who made the trip to the coast and back with Sir William Van Horne, said to your correspondent to-day that he was a convert to the greatness of the Canadian Northwest. "Many of my friends in this province," the Senator said, "have been against the idea of spending money in the west, but from this out I will fight for that country. Ontario and Quebec should make every effort to people the Northwest, for a big population up there means increased wealth for Montreal and Toronto."

He was glad the Hon. Mr. Tarte had gone to the Coast, and he hoped the Government would adopt an energetic immigration policy. Hon. Mr Forget is in fact so enthusiastic over the question that he suggests that the Government and Canadian Pacific unite and offer not only a free homestead, but erect a small house and barn, and offer this to the cramped-up farmers of the Old Land. The Senator says no effort or expense should be spared in getting twelve thousand more farmers and wheat producers in the Province of Manitoba.

"I thought I was a good Canadian before I left, but I am a better one now, for I never knew before what a country we possess."

The Senator also related the fact that in returning home he was glad to see that, while the American side of the "Soo" seemed to be at a standstill, there were no less than 25 fine buildings going up on the Canadian side. Hon. Mr. Forget is not one of these men who believe Canada begins at Cape Caspe and ends at Carillon.

It appears that Hon. Col. Baker, Minister of Education in the British Columbia Government, had rather a unpleasant quarter of an hour on Sunday afternoon in O'Brien Hall, where he had been invited to deliver a short address. There is a good deal of socialism in those Sunday afternoon reunions, but the Western Cabinet Minister had been under the impression that he was to address something like a Sunday school. The result was that when the gallant Colonel, who is an ardent Britisher, had had his say, one or two of the members who were present got up and severely censured the visitor for the ideas he had proclaimed. "One of the chaps damned England and the other damned me," is the way the Colonel explained the incident to his friends; but he would not be damned, and in replying to the remarks of the speakers in question he raked them fore and aft. In fact both of them came and apologized to the dignitary from the Pacific Coast.

Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who is in town, said this morning, in answer to a question, that the tariff enquiry has not yet commenced. "We will certainly take all proper means to let those affected know in ample time," he said. "Communications will be sent to the press and in other ways all will receive notification. It is possible that the Ministers who are chiefly concerned with the enquiry will first of all proceed west, and pursue their enquiries there, returning east when they have finished. Montreal can always easily be reached."

Montreal is threatened with a disaster even worse than that of Johnstown, owing to the present condition of the city reservoirs on Mount Royal overlooking the city. The two big basins have been leaking for years, and the leakages have been increasing rapidly, as the repairs have been delayed. The superintendents of the water works, as the responsible heads of the departments, have become more and more alarmed, and have so reported. The authorities of McGill University, which is situated just below the reservoirs, have also been alarmed, and have frequently written the city, protesting against the leaky state of the reservoirs. The leakages have increased so as to thoroughly saturate the university grounds, and threaten to undermine the foundations of the big building. The leakages have been left to grow from bad to worse until the condition of the reservoir has become such as to threaten an appalling disaster.

WOULD SHUT THEM UP.

The Canadian Packers' Association Will Meet the Tariff Commissioners With Strong Arguments.

Toronto, Oct. 29.

In order to obtain statistics in regard to the season's output, and the stock on hand held by its various members, the Canadian Packers' Association met in the Walker House yesterday. President W. A. Ferguson of Delhi occupied the chair, and the following factories were represented: Sydenham Canning Co., South Essex Preserving Co., Strathroy Canning Co., Miller & Co. of Trenton, Simcoe Canning Co., A. C. Miller & Co., Picton; Lakeport Preserving Co., Garden City Preserving Co., Bay of Quinte Canning Co., as well as the Aylmer, Lincoln, Dunmore, Port Hope and Burford Canning Companies.

In reviewing the business situation the consensus of opinion was that the returns for goods so far disposed of were unsatisfactory. A large amount had been sold at cost, and considerable more even at a loss. The canners therefore would like to realize substantial profits from what they still have to sell. The fact that several of the leading lines, such as tomatoes, have taken an unexpected advance in price in the United States leads them to hope that the price will go up here, and also that they will be better able to compete in the markets of Great Britain.

The pack in the eastern section of Ontario is reported to be much smaller, while in the west it is larger than in former years.

The following deputation was appointed to consult with the Dominion Government Tariff Commissioners: Messrs. Hugh Malcolmsom, Chatham; Dr. King, Kingsville; W. P. Innes, Simcoe; W. A. Ferguson, Delhi; Thos. Nihan, St. Catharines; H. I. Matthews, Lakeport, and A. C. Miller, Picton.

They will represent to Her Majesty's advisers that, if the duty on canned goods be reduced in the least particular, it would lead to the closing up of many, if not all, of the canning factories in this country.

The Numbers at Ottawa for the supreme Council Meeting Augmented Entertained at a Banquet.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The Scottish Rite Masons already here were augmented in numbers to-day by the arrival of Hon. J. M. Gibson, J. J. Mason and W. H. Ballard of Hamilton; E. T. Malone, Toronto; Daniel Spry, London; D. F. MacWatt, Barrie; H. A. MacKay, Berlin, and others. The Supreme Council held its first meeting to-day, and among the business transacted was the election of three illustrious riters as honorary thirty-thirds. They are W. R. White of Pembroke, W. B. McArthur of Ottawa and Alex Stevens of Halifax. To-night the visitors were entertained at a grand banquet, which was given by the local riters in the Masonic Hall.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

TWO POULTRY COOPS.

Faults in Construction Described and Explained by Cuts.

The first (Fig. 1) shows how not to make a coop. It has two faults. The front is open to top, whereas it should have a shield of solid boards one-third of the way down to keep out the wind and rain. If this shield was made in the form of a projecting hood it would be still better. The other fault is that the floor projects outside of coop. Rain will fall on this and run down the roof and sides and surely find its way inside and thus keep the floor damp. The object of the floor is to secure dryness, and this construction promotes the opposite condition every time, and we know it. The floor should always fit inside of the walls of the coop.

The second (Fig. 2) illustrates a convenient coop for common use. It may be made from 21 to 24 inches deep, the three sides of the triangular frame being 30 inches. The construction is shown by the cut, and does not need description.—Farm Journal.

Rust and Rainfall.

The rust problem is just as serious today as it has been in the past. Various experiments made with fungicides have shown that these are in no way preventive. Then, too, spraying would probably not prove practical. The only hope seems to be in obtaining varieties that are resistant, but in a climate like ours, the most resistant varieties will be attacked by rust. A study of different seasons shows that rainfall and humidity play an important part in the rust problem.

Rust has been so destructive to oats and wheat in many parts of Iowa this season, that it will prove instructive to compare that period with those of 1894 and 1895. In 1894, rainfall at Ames in May amounted to .93 inches, distributed on seven days. June, 5.87 inches, distributed on twelve days, but 2.36 fell on the 23d. In July only .04 inch on four days towards the end of the month. In 1895 the rainfall for May was 4.98 inches, distributed on nine days; 5.26 inches distributed on thirteen days; July, the first half of the month, .40 inches on the 14th and 15th. The early part of July was dry. In 1896 the rainfall for central Iowa was little over six inches, distributed on thirteen days. June in central Iowa between two and four inches. In this month there were twelve clear days; thirteen partly cloudy days and five cloudy days. The average precipitation for the whole state was 3.11 inches. The rainfall, according to Mr. J. R. Sage, was 1.84 inches below the June normal. Mr. Sage further gives the mean temperature for the state in June, 1896, at 69.1 degrees, which is normal. The nights were cool.

On the whole, the month was favorable for vegetation, and it seems to have been extremely favorable for rust infection. July, 1896, up to the middle, was dry, but since then we have had nearly 9 inches of rain in central Iowa. This, of course, has had no influence on rust, as grain had approached maturity. The cool, moist and rainy season of the latter part of May and June are alone responsible for the great damage done by rust to our cereals. If the soil were poorer there would have been less rust. In Iowa the best grain crops can only be produced in droughty years, such as 1895, in which rain is ditributed evenly and in not too great quantities. The great drouth year, 1894, was better for small grain than 1896.

PERRY DAVIS & SON, Proprietors, Montreal.

Variety in Cattle Feed.

Good results are obtained from a mixture of grain when the use of one kind may not be satisfactory. Variety in feed, especially in the summer season, enables the farmer to produce meat, milk and butter at the lowest cost, because the condition of the animals is always better when thy receive a variety. It is not advisable to change from one kind of food to another, but to reduce the one and add something else. During the summer it is more essential to supply a full ration of green food than to allow grain, as concentrated food is heating and may cause disease in the flock or herd.

Keeping the Breeding Ducks.

After the young ones are sold the ducks intended for next year should be turned on a grass plot and made to get their food wherever they can find it. They will be all the better by such treatment, and will give but little care to their owner. One drake for six females should be retained, but it is advisable to also keep an extra drake to replace one should a loss occur in any manner. After the ducks have ceased laying they should receive no food, as they will only become fat and also liable to disease.

A GOOD WAITER.

WAS GOOD ENGLISH.

The Editor Thought It Was Not, But Changed His Mind Later.

The reporter had begun to write a paid puff for a hotel, when the critical city editor happened to see the first line of it.

"Here, here!" he exclaimed warningly, "don't do that!"

"Don't do what?" asked the reporter, thinking he was going to get rid of the work.

"Don't say 'we have in our midst today.'"

"What's the matter with that?"

"It's country newspaper English. It's ridiculous. We don't have things 'in our midst.'"

"Don't we?" sniffed the reporter, resuming his work. "Suppose you read the completed sentence," and the city editor read: "We have in our midst to-day the finest dinner that has been there in years."

"Um—er," he hesitated, "that sounds all right. "Wonder if I couldn't strike something of the same kind?"—New York Recorder.

Taken at His Word.

She was very young for the responsibilities of housekeeping (as every woman is who has not been married long), and he was doing his best to give her good advice about how to economize and systematize her affairs. And (as most young husbands do) he was constantly casting discredit on his own fitness to advise by making applications to borrow back, for his personal expenses down town, money which he had given her for domestic use.

"I have only a little money, dear," she protested, "barely enough to market with."

"But I thought I handed you quite a little sum for an emergency some time ago. This is an emergency, you know. You wouldn't want a man to go without his lunch and a cigar, would you?"

"I don't know what money you mean?"

"Why, I gave it to you only last week and told you there was something for a rainy day."

"Oh! Why dear, I used that the same afternoon."

"What for?"

"For a rainy day."

"I guess you must have misunderstood me."

"Maybe I did. But I certainly got a lovely mackintosh; and it was a real bargain, too."—Detroit Free Press.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

THE SULTAN YIELDS.

A Better State of Affairs is Noticeable at Constantinople Regarding Armenia.

Constantinople, Oct. 29.—Since the conference of the Russian Ambassador, M. de Nelidoff, and the Sultan, it is noticeable that there has been another change for the better in the attitude of Abdul-Hamid and his advisers towards the Armenians in particular and the reform policy in general. It is known that M. de Nelidoff used very plain language, and it is apparent that the Sultan was convinced that the Russian Ambassador was in earnest.

This, supplemented by grave reports from the Turkish Embassies at London and Paris, pointing out the distrust and irritation caused by the attitude of Turkey, has brought about eager professions upon the part of the Turkish Government of a desire to honestly push the work of reform.

As a commencement, five Christian deputy-Governors have been appointed in Armenia, and it is probable that there will be changes shortly in the composition of the Turkish Ministry.

Mrs. Higginson Marries Smith.

New York, Oct. 29.—It is learned here that Mrs. Julia Higginson, the Boston leader of society, wife of a rich banker, who eloped with James W. Smith, a Harvard graduate, a year ago, was married to him in Paris yesterday. She left four children, and was 15 years older than Smith.

After she got abroad Mrs. Higginson tired of her young lover, and wrote to her husband, asking him to take her back. He sent $100,000 to her and then got a divorce.

TEN YEARS AND 45 LASHES.

A Brute Sentenced at Cornwall for One of the Worst Offences Judge Ferguson Ever Heard of.

Cornwall, Oct. 29.—In the Assizes today but one of the three prisoners was found guilty. Albert Bowker of Winchester was found guilty of criminal assault. His victim was an innocent little girl of 13, and her story revealed a most horrible condition of depravity in the prisoner and his companion, a man named Pitsman, who has since escaped. In passing sentence on the prisoner, Judge Ferguson condemned the crime in the strongest terms, and said that this was the worst case that had ever come before him. The sentence of the court was hat the prisoner should be confined in the penientiary for ten years. At the expiration of three months from his entry, he should be whipped to the extent of 15 lashes, at the end of five years 15 lashes, and three months before his release 15 lashes. The prisoner was visibly affected during the judge's remarks.

BIG PROFITS ON TEA.

Hamilton Civic Contractors Who Bought Tea for $10 50 and Charged the City $87.60 for It.

Hamilton, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The investigation of the House of Refuge irregularities began to-night before Judge Snider in the City Council chamber, and after evidence had been taken for about three hours the sitting was adjourned. A number of interested citizens were present. Mayor Tuckett and Chairman Roach of the Board of Governors, sat beside Judge Snider, and County Crown Attorney Crerar was present. City Solicitor Mackelcan was present in the interests of the city, and S. F. Lazier, Q. C., was present for Small & Son, and George S. Lynch-Staunton looked after the interests of the other tenderers. Chairman McKeown of the House of Refuge Committee, who was largely responsible for the investigation, was present, also St. Clair Balfour, a wholesale grocer, was an important witness, testifying that Small & Son had purchased teas from him to the amount of $10.50, which they charged $87.60 for, a profit of $76.10. The tenderers were: Peacock Bros., John O. Carpenter, C. H. Peebles, and Small & Son, and he could not explain the peculiar circumstance except there was an understanding between the tenderers. W. H. Lumsden agreed with a statement of Mr. Balfour's that the year before last the tenderers had offered the same quality of tea to the city for 28c and 35c that they asked 58c and 65c a pound for this year, and he could explain the circumstances in no other way than that the tenderers had an understanding Between themselves. The witness said Mr. Small told him that Mr. Peacock had paid certain parties to tender higher than 60c a pound so that he (Small) could get the contract. The enquiry was adjourned till Tuesday evening.

About 9.30 to-night fire broke out in the workroom of Hall & Co., piano manufacturers, of King-street west. The workroom is on the third flat of the store occupied by E. L. Kraft, harness maker, and below the workroom is Lannigan's book bindery. The fire spread to the book bindery, but the blaze was extinguished before more than $600 or $700 damage was done

Sergt. Cassells and Sergt. Robinson, with P. C. Campbell, Johnson and Duncan, raided two houses of ill-repute to-night on Rebecca-street. Edith Hamilton and her two young women and Olive Taylor and her two inmates with Della Clayton and another woman, who were visiting at Olive's house, were arrested. Edith Hamilton paid $100 bail, and with her girls was liberated, but the others found it difficult to get bail. Della Clayton had $50.

C. P. R. Earnings.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—Canadian Pacific Railway Company's statement of earnings and expenses is as follows: Gross earnings Sept., 1896, $1,826,680.45; Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, 1896, $14,669,391.97. Working expenses, Sept., 1896, $1,008,352.30; Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, 1896, $9,288,031.42. Net profits, Sept., 1896, $558,328.09; Jan. 1, to Sept. 30, 1896, $5,381,360.55.

In September, 1895, the net profits were $744,545.23; and from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, 1895, there was a net profit of $4,488,775.26. The gain in net profits over the same period last year is, therefore, for September, $13,782.86; and from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, $892,587.29.

HE HAD $400.

A Man of Weak Mind Roaming About the Falls—He Claims to Have Earned the Money.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Late last night Officer Doty of the Centre arrested a man about 30 years of age, who was roaming about in the vicinity of the Clifton House. When taken to the police station over $400 was found on his person. He gives his name as John Fees, alias Coyle, and claims to be a resident of Tweed, Ont. The prisoner is weak-minded and appears to be avoiding the police. The money he claims he has earned, and the officers who have him in charge are of the opinion that this statement is correct.

A number of men employed on the construction of the new steel arch bridge have been laid off for a few days on account of material not arriving fast enough.

Lost 68 Cattle.

North Sydey, C. B., Oct. 29.—The steamship Durham City, Capt. Patterson, of the Furness Line, from Montreal to Havre, with a general cargo, arrived with her main deck swept, and the cattle from amidships aft gone. On Sunday morning, off Anticosti, a very heavy sea struck the ship abaft the funnels, carrying away her deck load, including 68 head of cattle, stalls, stanchions and everything movable. It was only one sea that did the damage, but it made a clean sweep. The steamer has made temporary repairs and is now sailing for her destination.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await checque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

THE COAL DISCOVERY

Toronto Is Greatly Excited About It.

THOUSANDS GO TO SEE THESAMPLES

Dealers Will Go the Spot to Investigate the Find—If It Turns Out Well the Coal Barons of Pennsylvania Will Lose a Lot of Canadian Business.

Toronto, Oct. 31.

Yesterday's announcement of the discovery of what appears to be coal near Sudbury created a profound sensation throughout the city, and in fact all over the Province. The news simply took the populace by storm. Householders drank in the story pie. Householders drank in the story with with a relish, because the discovery meant a great reduction in their living expenses; capitalists interested in the mines saw visions of the wealth to be obtained by the development of their idle gold, silver, copper, nickel and iron mines; and manufacturers recognized with joy that if the prospect of cheap fuel were realized the capacity of their various industries would be indefinitely increased.

Of such importance did the leading coal merchants consider the reported discovery that at a special meeting held in the afternoon they earnestly, though informally, discussed the situation. Some of them recognize the big cut in the price of fuel that may come if the present prospects eventuate.

How the find affected the ordinary citizen may be judged from the fact that a number of heads of families stated during the day that they would delay ordering their winter's coal until there were further developments as regards the Sudbury deposit.

So rapidly do the discoveries of wonderful mineral wealth in Canada follow one another these days that the ordinary man is becoming bewildered, and, judging from the events of the past twenty-four hours, the general public will be stricken down with a coal fever before they recover from the present attack of the gold epidemic. One well-known citizen yesterday afternoon cancelled an order for 2500 shares of Rossland mining stock, saying that he wished to keep his coin to invest in the coal enterprise.

Everyone will now await with anxiety the pronouncement of Prof. Coleman of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, who will within a few days make public his opinion of the Larchwood deposit.

From early morning yesterday until nightfall a steady stream of citizens flowed to and from Campbell, Currie & Co.'s offices in lower Yonge-street, in the windows of which was exposed the exhibit of coal. It is estimated that fully 5000 people viewed the specimens during the day.

The tide set in before 7 o'clock, when workmen, dinner pail in hand, made their way to the display, and paused to scrutinize it. Between 8 and 9 a.m. the stream included business men and their employes, and before 10 o'clock this class gave place to capitalists and the leaders of commerce. From this on the crowd grew cosmopolitan and larger in size until the curious at times lined the pavement in front of Campbell, Currie & Co.'s offices, and blue-coated policemen interfered to prevent a stoppage of traffic. The mob overflowed from the sidewalk into the office itself, and throughout the day the members of the mining firm had to endure a constant fire of questions concerning the discovery.

Amongst some of the most prominent information-seekers were: Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson, Mr. Eby of Eby, Blain & Co., Elias Rogers, John Keith and Mr. McFarlane of McFarlane & Co., the big coal dealers; T. C. Irving of Bradstreet's; D. W. Alexander, William Elliott, Prof. Mills of the Guelph Agricultural College, G. B. Ryan of Guelph and a number of Hamilton moneyed men.

Mr. Elias Rogers of Elias Rogers & Co., coal merchants, when seen in the afternoon, was inclined to be reticent. He did not, he said, like on the one hand to throw cold water on the proposition, nor on the other to make statements in favor of it which might mislead the investing public. He asserted that the specimens of the Sudbury deposit he had seen were not, in his opinion, anything like Lehigh Valley anthracite in quality. He admitted, however, that if the discovery should materialize it would capture the Western American market, to the exclusion of United States coals.

A gentleman connected with another leading city coal firm, McFarlane & Co., after examining the exhibit, pronounced the specimens identical with the surface coal found at the Lehigh Valley anthracite mines. Having lived for a great part of his life in the Pennsylvania coal region, he should know whereof he speaks. Judging from the Sudbury surface specimens, he described the probable formation of the bed. The vein, he said, would, in all likelihood, descend with its present width for a few feet; widen out into a small pocket, then narrow again to the surface width, and finally broaden away out at a depth of 40 feet or so into a great chamber of rich coal.

A fourth mining expert, who wished his name suppressed for the present, stated that the exhibit at Campbell, Currie & Co.'s is evidently taken from a cropping identical with what is found at the surface of the great English coal mines.

Mr. E. P. Rice, formerly superintendent of the Saskatchewan coal properties, observed that the display reminded him of samples of anthracite found in the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. Lamb, who opened the Canmore anthracite beds, stated that the success or failure of the Sudbury deposit all depended upon the quality that deeper investigations would bring to light.

Perhaps the most hopeful statement was that made by the same gentleman to the effect that the Sudbury samples were identical in appearance with "cannel" coal, the highest type of the fuel known. This cannel is found sometimes in very small veins in the chief English collieries.

Mr. A. Hardmann, the railway and coal authority, thought that the exhibit resembled anthracite.

It is stated that if the deposit turns out to be bona fide anthracite, coal can be laid down in Toronto at $3 a ton. This so interests some of Toronto's leading coal men that they will leave for Sudbury to-day to "hunt deer."

It is understood that the syndicate which owns the land upon which the bed is located consists of five young Canadians, four of whom are graduates of Toronto University. Besides owning outright the known deposit, it is said that they have other lands in the vicinity under option.

Fresh samples of the deposit are now on their way to Toronto, and assays are being made by several experts.

THEY FIRED AT THE BURGLARS.

But the Rascals Got Away in the Darkness—Huntingdon Postoffice Robbed.

Huntingdon, Que., Oct. 30.—At 2 o'clock this morning people living in the vicinity of the postoffice were awakened by a loud explosion. An instant later Mr. J. H. Gilmore, who lives near the office, ran out on the street, rifle in hand, and called police. The Chief was not long in responding, and between him and Mr. Gilmore they fired a couple of shots at the retreating burglars, who at once returned the fire. The night was very dark, and a heavy fog soon obscured the retreating forms from view. It is thought that some of the buckshot from Chief Vaughan must have struck one of them. The safe and the interior of the office are badly wrecked: nearly all the windows were blown out by the force of the explosion. The inner door of the safe, which is burglar proof, saved the contents. The total spoils amounted to about $10, part postoffice funds, in stamps and cents, and a portion of funds of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company. At present no further traces of the burglars can be found.

A NICE LITTLE WRANGLE

Which Quebec Politicians are Having over the Seat Vacated by the Death of Hon. Henry Starnes.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—There is a crisis at Quebec, or at least there was one hovering round the provincial council table at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and all over the appointment of a legislative councillor in place of the Hon. Henry Starnes, deceased. The latter's father was English and his mother French, and, although he attended his mother's church, religious subjects never apparently troubled very deeply the brain of the late lamented councillor for De Salaberry. However, there has been a scamper for his place in the Upper House. The English claimed it because they said Mr. Starnes was of their nationality, and the Irish would have the succession on account of the deceased's faith, while the French-Canadians desired the seat on general principles. It is understood that Hon. A. W. Morris, who was Minister without portfolio under Premier Taillon, was as good as promised that if he would resign his seat in St. Lawrence division and give the new Treasurer, Hon. A. W. Atwater, a chance of election, the former should have the vacant seat in the council. However, when the appointment came to be discussed it was found that Hon. Mr. Beaubien favored Mr. Lamothe, Hon. Mr. Nantel, Dr. Rodier, while Hon. Mr. Atwater stuck to his friend, Mr. Morris, and declared that if the latter was not given the councillorship the English people of this province would know the reason why. Hon. Mr. Hackett sided with Mr. Atwater, and the Quebec members looked on and laughed while Hon. Messrs. Atwater, Nantel and Beaubien glared at each other across the table and pounded their fists to such an extent that Premier Flynn had to call his belligerent colleagues to order and threaten them with eviction if they did not conduct themselves like dignified statesmen. The latest report is that a compromise has been suggested and that Hon. L. O. Taillon will be the new M. L. C.

HIGHBINDERS WARNED.

Fung Yeng Heng Threatens to Punish Them Through Their Families.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Fung Yeng Heng, the Chinese Consul-General in this city, has issued an edict, which he has had posted on the walls throughout Chinatown, to the effect that if the See Yup Highbinder Society does not immediately disband and stop levying tribute upon respectable merchants and others in Chinatown, as it has been in the habit of doing for some time past, and cease making complaints against him in the San Francisco courts, he will take the names of the leaders of the society and the place of their homes, and through the Minister will complain against them to the Governors in Canton and punish their families through the local magistrate of their province. The edict has caused the greatest consternation throughout Chinatown.

BRYAN'S HARD WORK.

Has Had Trouble With His Throat—The Weather Was Suffocating.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Mr. Bryan's three days in Chicago have been probably the most exacting of the campaign. The weather has been unseasonably warm, and the atmosphere in the halls where the candidate spoke has been suffocating. At every meeting last night at least four women fainted, and at one place no less than 10 were carried out. Since his arrival here, Mr. Bryan has had difficulty with his throat, which he did not experience before. Between the frequent changes from sweltering halls to the cool outer air he has several times suffered from slight chills, and he contracted a cold several days ago. Just before his train left, Mr. Bryan was seen at the Northwestern Depot.

DAIRYING INDUSTRY.

The Government's Plan for the Northwest

CONCESSION TO BUSINESS MEN.

Mr. Archie Stewart May Go On With His Canal Contract Canadian Grapes Arrived in England in First-Class Condition—General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 30.—The Agricultural Commissioner has sent out a circular to farmers of the Northwest detailing the mode in which assistance is to be rendered to them for the promotion of dairying. The Prince Edward Island plan will be pursued in the Northwest. Joint stock companies of farmers are to be organized if they will put up buildings, while the Government will run the institution, charging the farmers a small amount for expenses. It is expected the creameries will be self-sustaining in three years.

The Controller of Customs has reached a decision regarding blank forms used by importers, which will commend itself to the business community. Since 1868 a charge of 5c has been imposed for each set of blank forms. This charge is now abolished and customs officers may hereafter supply them as required for use in making an entry, report or application without charge to the importer. The department, however, does not consider itself bound to furnish these blanks gratuitously. It will, therefore, be open for importers to lay in their own stock.

Hon. Mr. Blair left for New York yesterday. Before his departure he gave instructions that Mr. Archie Stewart of this city, one of the contractors for the Soulanges Canal, might resume the masonry work on his contract. The stone used is procured near Rockland, and before any of it was quarried was approved by the departmental engineers. Some weeks ago, however, Mr. Munro, superintending engineer of the Soulanges Canal, prohibited any further stone going in on the ground that it did not come up to specifications, and there was a streak of iron running through it. It is now evident that the Minister is well satisfied with the stone, inasmuch as the report of Mr. Schreiber has been confirmed by that of Dr. Dawson, director of the Geological Survey, who went specially to Rockland to inspect the quarry. Mr. Stewart has about 2100 cubic yards of stone ready at the canal to be laid. He has been delayed for nearly four months by the action of the superintending engineer, and in departmental circles the impression prevails that he will have a good claim for damages on account of this delay.

Discussing the question of improved steamship service between Canada and England with Mr. John Lowe, the ex-Deputy Minister of Agriculture, the interesting fact was elicited to-day that Mr. Lowe has recently sent to England several baskets of grapes grown in this vicinity, including varieties of Rogers, Salems, Lindsays and Burnetts. They were placed in ordinary cold storage and Mr. John Ennis, the Liverpool passenger agent of the Allan Line, who received one basket, writes that the fruit arrived in England in splendid condition, and just as fresh as if they had been picked off the vine the day before. The bloom was still on them and the flavor perfectly delicious. This experiment is, in its way, a pointer to the grape growers of Ontario as to the possibilities for export of grapes to England when adequate cold storage arrangements are made for them on steamships from Canada.

The Department of Fisheries has been notified that the cruiser Petrel has seized fourteen sturgeon gill nets and eighteen herring gill nets, with buoys, etc., at the eastern end of Lake Erie, and within a mile of the Canadian shore. Local fishermen think these nets are owned by parties in Buffalo.

At the Inland Revenue Department no confirmation could be obtained of the report that a number of officers of the outside service have received their conge, except Mr. Cosgrove, in the district of Labelle. Probably his dismissal led to the report being magnified.

Inspector Dan O'Leary of the Dominion Police left for Huntingdon today to investigate the robbery of the postoffice in that town yesterday.

The Department of Railways and Canals received word to-day of another break in the machinery of the American Sault Canal, involving an increase of business to the Canadian canal.

Dr. McEachran, Dominion Veterinary Inspector, was here to-day.

A Minister of the Crown stated to-day that there was no truth in the report that the Government intended reviewing the list of superannuated officials with a view to re-appointing some of them.

Mr. Stairs, ex-M. P. for Halifax, and Mr. H. Graham had an interview with Controller Paterson to ask the Government to reduce the duty on steel billets.

A recent statement in The Victoria, B. C., Times is being greatly canvassed here. The paragraph says: "There is some prospect that in a certain well-known case a Conservative deputy may be convicted of interrupting important communications between the public and his chief, with a view to saving a political friend from well-merited decapitation."

MR. VANDERBILT IMPROVING.

Stricken Millionaire Now Able to Walk Without Assistance.

Newport, R.I., Oct. 30.—Cornelius Vanderbilt is rapidly improving in health and begins to take an interest in what is going on about him. He can now walk without assistance, but his right arm is still paralyzed.

He drives out each afternoon with his wife, and is often seen in the business part of the city. He attends the afternoon service at Trinity Church each Sunday, and has given notice to the sexton that he will use his pew all winter.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1896.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, has come and gone and has looked over the route of the Trent Valley Canal, And in so doing he has discharged the duty of a conscientious Minister of the Crown, in making himself familiar with the conditions and the merits, demerits and demands of the works under his department. As was remarked in THE EXAMINER yesterday, Hon. Mr. Blair made many friends by his unassuming demeanour and personal approachability, as well as by the very evident desire he showed of possessing himself, to the fullest extent, of the greatest possible amount of information respecting every detail of the great work he came specially to see. He seemed decided to take nothing on trust, but to see for himself what was to be seen. And there can be no doubt that he was very much surprised at the great natural advantages of the proposed canal route in the shape of long stretches of navigable water and abundant supply for the needs of the small ratio of actual canal that would require to be constructed as complementary to the provisions of nature, in order to give a continuous water way from the Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario. In fact the Minister so expressed himself on more than one occasion during his visit, and thus being convinced of the feasability of the work, and the attainment of very great results at comparatively little cost, we may expect that the Trent Valley Canal made a friend in Mr. Blair, as we know that Mr. Blair, by the candid unreserved interest he took in making its acquaintance at close quarters, and the courteous heed he gave to the representations of enthusiastic advocates, made himself hoste of friends in this district.

Possibly many of the latter may have been disappointed at the Minister not having made some positive declaration of an intention of completing the work. This is natural; but is not to be regarded as altogether regrettable. We know in the past that we have been treated to assurances of intense interest in the canal and to glib promises of completing the work. Such promises, made fifteen years ago, are still unfulfilled. Mr. Blair has promised to give the project unbiased and careful consideration; and we may be sure that if, after what he has seen, after what he has has heard, and upon mature deliberation, Mr. Blair promises in the name of the Government, to enter upon the completion of the work, that that promise will be faithfully fulfilled and not be made a shuttlecock to the battledor of successive election contests. On the whole, the people of the district have reason to be well pleased with the great moral impetus that has been given to the subject of the construction of the Trent Valley Canal by the visit of Mr. Blair, and the renewed prominence that has been given to its merits and claims.

GLASGOW'S TAXATION.

Many newspapers are founding articles, abounding in fine scorn of the expensive inefficiency of Canadian corporations, upon the statement going the rounds of the press, that the city of Glasgow will in another year be entirely free of civic taxation, through the revenue derived from its two franchises, the gas works and the street railway. It is a pity to spoil so pretty a picture, but it is not drawn from the life—no such picture exists, except in fancy. Prof. Mavor, who occupies the chair of Political Economy in Toronto University, was in town a day or two ago to address the County Teachers' Conventions on the Silver Question. The Glasgow incident was mentioned to him, and he pronounced it absolutely false and unfounded. The franchises referred to are not the civic gold mines represented, and as a matter of fact there is no prospect of Glasgow reaching the millennial condition of freedom from taxation. In addition to flatly contradicting the statement to that effect, Prof. Mavor gave reasons, in a manner peculiar to himself, why such a state of things as freedom from civic taxation could not, and would not, arrive. We are forced to the conclusion that we must have taxes, like the poor, always with us.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

CANADIANS sympathize with McKinely in the Presidential election contest in the United States, not that they love his high protection heresy more, but that they love Bryan's free silver heresy less.

THE following sensible remarks by the Welland Tribune, made in reference to the election of members of the new County Council, apply with equal pertinence to the selection of members of town and other municipal councils:—"The reduction in the number of councillors and the lengthening of the term for which they sit (under the new Act) render it all the more advisable that good men be chosen. If the ratepayers would observe the same rule in selecting municipal officers that they do in employing clerks to transact their own business, the result would be most advantageous. Unfortunately, however, too often the vital requirements of ability and honesty are overlooked, and votes cast for candidates because they are good fellows, or because they belong to a certain lodge, church or party, and the proverbial blundering and incompetency that marks municipal administration generally is the unhappy result." If we could get a council that would conduct civic business on ordinary business principles, the beneficial results would be greatly increased and our taxes greatly reduced. We should have better results for less money.

COBOURG POST OFFICE SCANDAL

A Shuffle of Officials—Was the Position of Postmaster Purchased by or for the Brother of the Member of the Riding?

The story of what appears to be nothing short of the purchase and sale of the postmastership of Cobourg was extracted from a handful of unwilling witnesses at Cobourg on Thursday, before a commission appointed to inquire into the serious charges which have been made against some of the persons directly concerned. Away back in 1873 Mr. William Sykes, then over three score years of age, was appointed by the Government of Sir John Macdonald, postmaster of the town. He discharged the duties of the office for a time, but gradually the actual work passed into the hands of his daughter, who in the course of time married and became Mrs. Amelia Schwabe. She left the postoffice at the time of her marriage, but upon the death of her husband she resumed her place as her father's chief assistant. Altogether she had been eighteen or nineteen years in the postoffice, and being a woman of more than ordinary ability, she rendered most efficient service to the department and to the citizens of Cobourg. Old Mr. Sykes, who has now celebrated his 84th birthday, had for the last two years been anxious to retire upon the condition that he should be placed upon the superannuation list, but not having contributed to the fund he was ineligible. Previous to the last general election it became necessary either in the interest of Mr. George Guillet, the representative in Parliament of West Northumberland, or of a member of the family, to procure a vacancy in the post office. Mr. Sykes would gladly have retired upon the terms proposed by himself, but was not willing to be forced out of the position, and, as he declared in the box, no man could buy him to get out. The real power behind the throne, however, seems to have been Mrs. Schwabe, who managed the business affairs of her venerable parent. The day that Sir Charles Tupper visited Cobourg—June 18th—Mrs. Schwabe mentioned the fact to Mr. Edwin Guillet, a brother of the member, that her father proposed to retire, and as was brought out in evidence, the retirement took place; and, co-incident with the resignation of Mr. Sykes and on the day that it had been urged by Mr. Edwin Guillet, brother of both the sitting member, Mr. Geo. Guillett, and of Mr. Charles Guillett, brother, who afterwards was appointed postmaster, $1,000 was loaned to Mrs. Schwabe without interest. The resignation was produced in court, and it was found to have the date of June 18, 1896, the day that Sir Charles Tupper visited Cobourg. Appended to the resignation was the following unusual appendix to a resignation: "I recommend Mr. Charles Guillet as successor to William Sykes. (Signed) George Guillet."

Mr. Sykes said that the recommendation was not upon the resignation when he sent it in.

Mr. LeSueur produced the papers in the case. There were not many, but among them was this one from Hon. Dr. Montague to the Postmaster-General: "Please be guided by Mr. Guillet in matters at Cobourg."

Mrs. Schwabe denied that the "loan" of $1,000, for which a note was subsequently given, had any connection with her father's resignation, though Mr. J. H. Bickell, deputy collector of Inland Revenue, a former partner of the Guillet's, swore that he had discounted the note to get money for some "financial arrangement" with Mrs. Schwabe of the post office staff. The Guillets were to pay the note given to secure the payment of the $1,000, which Mr Edwin Guillet 'lent' to Mrs. Schwabe. The note has not been paid but has been renewed through Mr. Charles Guillet, the present postmaster, who had lived in Rochester and had foresworn his allegiance to the "old flag" and become a Yankee subject.

The investigation was adjourned until No. 13, in the hope of securing the evidence of the absent Mr. George Guillet.

Doctors Could Not Help Him, But Two Bottles of South American Kidney Cure Removed the Disease—The Story of a Wingham Farmer.

Kidney disease can be cured. Mr. John Snell, a retired farmer of Wingham, Ont., says: "For two years I suffered untold misery, and at times could not walk, and any standing position gave intense pain, the result of kidney disease. Local physicians could not help me, and I was continually growing worse, which alarmed family and friends. Seeing South American Kidney Cure advertised, I grasped at it as a dying man will grasp at anything. Result—before half a bottle had been taken I was totally relieved of pain, and two bottles entirely cured me." To cure kidney disease a liquid medicine must be taken, and one that is a solvent, and can thus dissolve the sand-like particles in the blood. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all summer complaints and fluxes of the bowels in children or adults.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 259 George Street.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

The Despair of Imitators—The Admiration of All Users.

We were the leaders—the first in the world to keep a distinctively kidney pill treatment on the market, and this was named Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This was a trifle less than a dozen years ago. We said then that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure any curable kidney disease, and that they had come to stay.

We now say that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any kidney disease, and we have testimony from thousands of persons cured at various stages.

Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills have more than kept every promise. We have advertised two years for the particulars of any case wherein they had ever failed, but thus far without a single reply.

We have constantly aimed to reach and benefit the masses. We want every sick man or woman in Canada to know that all but one in every twenty who are sick can be cured by kidney treatment.

Comparatively only a few of the millions have as yet learned the truth as to the cause of all their sufferings. The death rate of the Dominion has been lowered, and to the extent that Dodd's Kidney Pills become known as life savers, it will be lowered further still.

In every case of kidney suffering where Dodd's Kidney Pills are known, available but not used, it is like viewing the promised land and refusing to enter.

To all those who have been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills we say: Let your light shine, tell of your cure—write all the facts and particulars to us, that we may publish them for the benefit of the sufferings and despairing everywhere.

HEALTHY DIGESTION.

A BOON AND A BLESSING TO MANKIND.

The Life of a Dyspeptic one of Constant Misery—One who has Suffered from its Pangs Points the Way to Renewed Health.

(From the Cornwall Freeholder.)

The life of the dyspeptic is proverbially a miserable one, eliciting universal commiseration. Not so much because of the actual painfulness of the ailment, but largely because it projects its pessimistic shadows upon all the concerns of life, and here they sit like a deadly incubus upon every enterprise. An impaired digestion gives rise to an irritability that exposes the person to much annoyance, besides being extremely trying upon others. We are all aware of the value of cheerfulness in life. It is a flower of the rarest worth and strongest attractions. It is a tonic to the sick and a disinfectant to the healthy. Those things that destroy a man's habitual cheerfulness, lessen his usefulness, and ought therefore to be resisted by some drastic and efficient remedy. The duties that devolve upon the average man and woman are invested in so much difficulty as to put a premium on hopefulness. The relation between the prevailing moods of the mind and the health of the digestive apparatus is close and vital. Hence it is not surprising that many would-be benefactors have caught the patronage of sufferers from indigestion. Judging by results, Dr. William's Pink Pills is a remedy unique in its success, therefore it is confidently recommended as a safe and adequate cure for dyspepsia. This claim is substantiated by experience, as the following facts will show.

Mrs. D. McCrimmon, of Williamstown, Glengarry Co., suffered untold misery from a severe attack of dyspepsia, which manifested itself in those many unpleasant ways for which dyspepsia is notorious. Every attempt to take food was a menace to every feeling of comfort, until the stomach was relieved of its burden by vomiting. When not suffering from the presence of food in the stomach, there were other symptoms more or less disagreeable consequent on the functional disturbance of the stomach, such as impaired taste and appetite, unwonted languor, increasing apathy and failing ambition. Such an aggregation of the symptoms produced a trying state of affairs, and relief was eagerly sought. One of the best physicians of the neighborhood was consulted. He prescribed. His medicine was taken and his directions followed, but unfortunately three months of treatment brought no substantial relief. When Mrs. McCrimmon expressed her intention of trying Dr. William's Pink Pills, the doctor laughed and held the thought in derision. However Mrs. McCrimmon decided she could not afford to leave untried such a well recommended remedy as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Hence she took a course of this medicine, which after a fair trial was eminently successful. From being only able to take stale bread and milk or soda biscuits, she became able to take a hearty meal of any variety, without the painful effects that once asserted themselves after every meal. It only remains to be said that Mrs. McCrimmon improved in flesh and general comfort from the first taking of the pills, and almost anything going she could eat with impunity. Dyspepsia became a thing less dreaded, and largely belonging to the past. It is little wonder therefore that she urges the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon others similarly afflicted.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

THE PROPHETS WERE ALL WRONG

Some of the Election Calculations of the Past Shown Up by Reference to the Record.

Washington, Oct. 30.—In connection with the wide divergence of estimates and claims as to the outcome of the Presidential election some previous signal failures of election prophecies are recalled.

Four years ago Senator Quay, in New York, said the election of Harrison was certain. "This belief," he added, "is not based on hope, but on an absolute knowledge of the conditions existing in the so-called doubtful States. Harrison will have 211 electoral votes outside of Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and West Virginia. Kansas and Wisconsin are perfectly safe."

Harrison received but 145 electoral votes altogether. Kansas and Wisconsin were not safe, for Weaver carried Kansas, and Cleveland carried Wisconsin.

R. C. Kerens member of the National Republican Committee from Missouri, said: "I have investigated carefully, and know that Harrison will carry every State that he carried four years ago."

Harrison failed to carry eight States that he had carried four years before.

John Wanamaker, Postmaster-General, had been stumping in Indiana, and gave this as his prediction: "I have no doubt, judging from the enthusiasm that I saw everywhere, that Indiana will go for Harrison." Indiana gave Cleveland a plurality of over 7000.

Garrett A. Hobart said at that time: "We are as sure of New Jersey as we are of anything." New Jersey went Democratic by 14,000.

Dr. E. A. Nicholas of the Michigan Populist State Committee said three of the electoral votes of that State would undoubtedly go to Weaver. None of them went to Weaver.

Regarding New York, the Chairman of the Republican Committee prophesied that Harrison would get it by 18,000. Harrison lost it by 45,000.

Said Allen G. Thurman, candidate for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket, at the close of the campaign of 1888: "The Democrats will carry New York and Indiana without a doubt." They lost New York by 13,000 and Indiana by 2300.

Senator Voorhees had said that Indiana would go Democratic by 10,000 and that a Republican poll of the State which had been supposed had shown a Democratic plurality of 5000.

Gov. Gray of Indiana was quoted as say-

Women Often Endure

Terrible Burdens and Sufferings.

Paine's Celery Compound An Unfailing Cure for all Dangers That Beset Women.

To a multitude of women life is one long dreary road of suffering, without an escape or turn.

Few outside of their own sex have any idea of the sufferings which women endure. Many of the troubles are the direct outcome of the constant, imperative demands of household work and society and social worries.

The troubles from which women suffer arise like most other diseases, from a deranged liver and stomach and weak kidneys, the result of thin, impure and poisonous blood. Then follow constant and periodical headaches, aches in back and kidneys, pains in the sides and shoulder blades, feelings of lassitude and bearing down pains across the loins.

When the nervous energies are thus exhausted, Paine's Celery Compound should be used in order that the whole system be strengthened and fortified. There is no other medicine which is so uniformly successful in curing the ills which afflict women.

Paine's Celery Compound is a purely vegetable remedy, and contains no harmful ingredients. Hundreds of physicians prescribe it for their lady patients with the utmost satisfaction.

The weak, weary, broken-down, sick, suffering and diseased women who use Paine's Celery Compound soon become hearty vigorous and strong, and rosy cheeks, splendid complexions, and bright sparkling eyes follow the health-giving influences of earth's best medicine.

NEWS BY CABLE.

Denmark Said to be an Ally of Russia—The Muscovite Holds the Key to the Baltic.

London, Oct. 30.—A despatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Copenhagen says an entente was concluded between Russia and Denmark during the Premiership of M. Estrup, who retired from the Presidency of the Danish Ministry in 1894, which places at the disposal of Russia, in the event of her engaging in war with Germany or in a war involving France and Russia against the Dreibund, the whole of the available forces of Denmark, with power on the part of Russia to occupy Copenhagen and other Danish harbors and fort works.

In return, Russia guarantees the integrity of Denmark, with the restoration of the Danish Schleswig to the kingdom.

On the part of France and Russia the scheme, in the event of an attack upon Germany, makes Copenhagen the point of concentration for the allied fleets and army corps, the latter of which could be landed in Germany at an unexpected point within a single night.

The Pall Mall Gazette adds: "The Government in Berlin have for a long time scented this danger; hence they expedited the completion of the Baltic-North Sea canal and made other preparations. The agreement explains why, though the annual budget of Denmark was a little over £3,000,000, millions were spent in fortifying Copenhagen, which is now provided with the best modern armaments and the latest projectiles and fort works, thus securing to Denmark the key to the Baltic."

An Official Denial.

London, Oct. 30.—The Morning Post will to-morrow publish a news agency despatch from Copenhagen, saying that an official denial has been given to the story published by The Pall Mall Gazette of an entente between Russia and Denmark.

Scare at Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—A panic was caused Wednesday evening by the gun practice of the French guardship in the Sea of Marmora. It caused the Turkish Government to urge upon the French embassy that the guardship should practice further away from the city. The French Ambassador, M. Gambon, replied that he regretted the alarm, but the people should become accustomed to the sound of firing.

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds or fevers arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomache, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

Board meeting on Monday afternoon at 3.30.

Gospel and Song Service this evening from 8 30 until 9 o clock.

Make a Memo. of This.

A concert in aid of the Fraser Mission Band of St. Paul's church will be given in the school room on Friday evening, Nov. 6th. A good programme; tickets 10c. 2d

Last Night's Assembly.

The first of a series of assemblies was held last evening in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, and was attended by about fifty couples. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed in tripping the light fantastic.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

A Nice Present.

Mrs. James Stubbs received from Seattle, yesterday, a present of a cage containing a dozen fine canaries. The birds travelled across the continent apparently without discomfort, as all are in a healthy condition. The cage may be seen in Gough Bros'. window.

Palms.

A fine assortment of palms from Holland has just been received at the West End greenhouse, Park street (at the residence of G. M. Rogers). These palms have graceful shapes, perfect leaves and are hardy plants. No better house plant grows; withstands cold, dust, gas or neglect better than any other. 6d

The Bicycle Factory Not Coming.

That the Board of Trade is a live organization and is allowing slip no opportunity to endeavour to attract manufactories to the town is shown by the fact that the secretary, Mr. J. S. Knapman, on hearing that the Pope Manufacturing Company of the United States intended establishing a branch bicycle factory in Canada, wrote inquiring into the matter. The firm, however, states that the report had no foundation.

Mrs. General Tom Thumb.

The most noted little lady that ever lived, with a full company of the smallest and most talented little people that ever appeared before the public, will appear at the opera house Thursday evening, also at a grand ladies' and children's matinee in the afternoon at four o'clock. This is announced as the farewell appearance of this famous little woman, who has had the honour of appearing before the crowned heads and the nobility of Europe, and she will doubtless meet with crowded houses on this occasion. Popular prices of admission.

"Faust" at the Opera House.

"Faust" as usual drew a large audience to the Opera House last night as the fascination of Goethe's masterpiece seems to increase year by year. Mr. John Griffith took the role of Mephisto, and sent cold shivers through the audience by his malevolent chuckles and sneering laughter. Griffith is not Lewis Morrison, but he is Griffith, which is tantamount to saying that he can hardly be placed as inferior to his great rival. Miss Anna Boyle-Moore made a charming Marguerite, but Eugene Moore as Faust, was hardly up to the mark. As a whole the play took well and the management of the Opera House is to be congratulated on bringing so excellent a production to Peterborough.

REV. J. G. POTTER'S LECTURE.

The Parable of the Butter and the Sawdust—An Excellent Y. P. S. C. E. Entertainment — The Programme Presented—Synopsis of Lecture.

There was a large attendance at the school-room of St. Andrew's church last night to enjoy the able lecture of the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, and to enjoy the entertainment presented under Y.P.S.C.E. auspices.

Mr. F. W. Gladman occupied the chair and introduced the following programme: A hymn, sung by the congregation, was followed by prayer by Mr. James Garrow. To this succeeded a piano-forte solo by Miss Grant and a vocal solo by Miss Weddell. A vocal solo by Mr. Cross was well appreciated and honoured with an encore. A pianoforte duet by Misses Fowler and Gladman closed the musical portion of the programme.

The lecture by Mr. Potter and the subject, "Can you eat sawdust without butter?" was listened to with great attention, and it is to be hoped, profit.

After explanation of the subject, the lecturer deduced the following lessons: First—In order to be successful in any calling there must be activity, willingness and readiness to undergo the bitter pangs of poverty without the sweets of life. Second—There must be devotion to duty. It was impossible to escape trouble and discipline by running away from them and thirdly, it was pointed out that endurance wins the crown. A survey was then made of eminent men of the past, who had struggled against great odds and had become earth's greatest sons. The great secret of all true success was a firm trust in the "Greatest Man." The lecture was listened to with rapt attention.

Do not allow your system to get weak and debilitated. It is easy to keep well and strong by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The men's meeting to-morrow afternoon at 4 15 will be addressed by Rev. Mr. Potter. Come and hear him.

There will be a good gospel and song service at eight o'clock to-night, to which all young men are invited.

The Singing Class

Will commence study in earnest on Tuesday night in St. Andrew's school room. Don't miss the first lesson. Any who find it impossible to be present Tuesday night can call on Mr. Mulligan at 416 Rubidge street and get the first lesson any time during the week.

Catholic Association Entertainment.

The first of a series of entertainments to be held during the winter season will take place in their rooms on Tuesday evening next. Ven. Archdeacon Casey will give an address, and a fine musical programme will be presented. All are welcome. Admission 10c. 2d Tanbark Shipment.

Mr. J. P. O'Donnell, of Bobcaygeon, shipped to-day from Chemong station six cars of tanbark to Mr. Jas. Carrington, of Kingston. The bark is piled 9 feet high. Mr. O'Donnell has also closed a contract with the Rathbun Company for the taking out of over a million feet of timber in Harvey, Raising the Fees.

The doctors of Stirling have signed a tariff of fees to be observed in their medical practice. The agreement is to the effect that the examination fee for entrance to lodge insurance be $2 50 each as mimimum fee. The other doctors of the county will without doubt sign this schedule. It is needless to state that this tariff will promote uniform charges to be made and exacted.

Accident at Lakefield.

On Monday afternoon while a little daughter of Mr. James Hanrahan, Douro, was on her way home from the ward school, Lakefield, she got on one of the loaded handcars running from the mill to the lumber yards, and in some manner that cannot be explained, got her right foot badly crushed. She was taken home by Mr. Wm. Hamilton, and medical aid sent for to the village. It was found that the foot was badly jammed and the flesh burst open in several places. After the foot was dressed she was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. Hoods, heads, backs and breasts in black waterproof, impervious to water, soft and pliable. Any kind or style of ordered goods required. Lap rugs, strictly waterproof. Also cheese covers as requested by members of the Cheese Board, and for covering all kinds of goods liable to damage from wet. A. KINGSCOTTE, Tent, Sail and Awning manufacturer, 344 Water street, opposite market.

A Fast Mail for Peterborough.

The great scenic production, Lincoln J. Carter's "Fast Mail" Company, which appears at Bradburn's Opera House, Tuesday evening, Nov. 3rd, has played all over the United States for the past three years. It is unnecessary to dwell upon its merits—suffice to say that for this season it has new scenery and mechanical effects that surpasses all previous efforts. The present season Mr. Carter has six companies—four in this country and two in England. Popular prices.

Who are Kicking Themselves?

The men who didn't buy the People's Coal Co's coal, when they drop into their neighbours' houses and see how nicely their fire burns. You people who are continually pulling clinkers out of your stove and sifting ashes, don't you ever get tired? The People's Coal Co's coal burns to a white ash—no clinkers, leaves nothing to sift. Best blacksmith coal and hard Briar Hill, Black Bank and Butt's cannel for grates, for sale. Office, 230 Charlotte street, Telephone 366.

American Canoe Association.

Mr. J. N. MacKendrick, of this town, says the Galt Reformer, has had a well merited honour conferred on him. He has for years been an enthusiastic canoeist, and there was a time when the MacKendrick Bros., H. F., W. G., and J. N., stood in the front rank of the followers of this excellent sport. Mr. J. N. MacKendrick attended the recent meet of the American Canoe Association, at Grindstone Island, St. Lawrence River, and it was on this occasion that his past services in the interests of canoeing were recognized, he being unanimously selected for presentation to the executive as commodore for the 1897 meet, which goes to the Northern Division. Mr. MacKendrick was reluctant to accept the office, but on being pressed by his numerous friends and admirers, consented to act in that capacity. At the meeting of the Executive Committee, Mr. MacKendrick's nomination was accepted, and that gentleman elected to the high office of commodore.

HENRY DENNE RECOMMENDED

For the Vacant Position of Tax Collector.

At a meeting of the Committee on Appointments last evening in the town clerk's office the session lasted till midnight, when it was finally decided to recommend the name of Mr. Henry Denne for appointment to the position of Collector of Taxes, rendered vacant by the resignation of Miss Bessie Cumming.

All the members of the council were present at the meeting, and the contest for the position is said to have been a close one between several of the candidates. A ballot, however, decided that the committee send to the council the name of Mr. Denne.

P. C. I. LITERARY SOCIETY.

Resolved: "That Intemperance Does More Harm Than War."

The second regular meeting of the P. C. I. Literary Society was held on October 31th, The report of the Piano Committee was received. The following programme was then rendered:

Reading	Miss Murphy
Instrumental solo	Miss English
Dialogue	Messrs. Turner and Brooks
Journal	Miss Yenney
Instrumental solo	Miss M Hall
Debate—Resolved "That Intemperance does more harm than War"

The affirmative was supported by Mr. Alex. Elliott and Miss Judge; the negative by Mr. W. Alexander and Miss English.

The judges, Miss Yenny, Miss Brown and Mr. Denny decided in favour of the affirmative.

During the absence of the judges, Mr. W. Beer gave his report as critic.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

COUNTY TEACHERS' CONCERT.

An Excellent Programme—Inspector J. Coyle Brown in the Chair.

On Thursday evening the county teachers had an excellent entertainment in the new town hall in Ashburnham. The attendance was large, and all present were well pleased with the excellent programme, which was as follows:

Vocal Solo	Mrs H Jones
Violin duet	Misses Maud and Fox
Address	Prof Mavor of Toronto University
Solo	Mr E G Porter
Club swinging	Miss Sarah Hamilton
Solo	Miss Roxborough
Address, "Mind your own Business"	Rev J J Rae
Quartette, "The Professor at Home"	Misses Roxborough and Howson, Messrs Porter and Hunter
Recitation	Mrs Wesley
Piano duet	Miss Belleghem and Mr P Owens
God Save the Queen.

The chair was ably filled by Mr. J. C. Brown, who stated that, though this was the first convention and concert in Ashburnham, it was so successful he hoped it would not be the last.

PERSONAL.

Miss Forsythe will address the W. F. M.S. of Westwood on Tuesday next.

Inspector Brown was on a visit to the Lakefield schools during the week.

Miss Bessie Best, town is visiting with Mrs. Alex. Hunter, Fallis Line, near Millbrook.

Mrs. Geo. Armour and daughter left this morning on a visit to friends in Hallburton.

Mrs. Spence has returned to town after spending a week in Dummer with her mother.

Miss Thompson of town is spending a few days at the residence of Mr. Thomas Choate, Warsaw.

Mr. Thos. Marshall, overseer of the Manitoulin Island farm of Dr. Herriman, Lindsay, is in town on a visit to relatives.

The Lakefield News says:—Mr. and Mrs. Warrington, Miss Milly Nicholls of Peterborough are visiting friends in the village, the guests of Mrs. Geo. Nicholls.

Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Foresters, has returned to Toronto from his California tour of Forestric Courts of the Golden State.

Capt. E. B. Willis of Woodstock, is in town for a day or so. The captain was formerly the commanding officer of Woodstock's Company of Cadets which was uniformed in white.

Messrs. Fairweather & Co. have engaged the services of Mr. Frank M. Clancey, of Toronto, who has been connected with the fur business in that city all his life. He is an experienced fur salesman and is well known by many of the best customers in this district.

Mr. Geo. Gullet, M.P., of Cobourg, was in Peterborough on Monday paying a short visit and returned to his cottage on Stony Lake, where he is spending some time in fishing and hunting. He purposes remaining for some time, but it is likely that he will be subpœnaed in time for the adjourned sitting of the investigation into the post office affair in Cobourg, referred to on our second page.

DOURO WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Moore-Cox Nuptials on Wednesday.

Mr. James Moore, eldest son of Mr. Hamilton Moore, of Otonabee, was wedded to Miss Mabel Cox, only daughter of Mr. Solomon Cox, of Douro, on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, by the Rev. G. Robinson (Methodist). At about four o'clock the wedding guests began to arrive from the neighbourhoods of the contracting parties up to six o'clock, by which time about seventy-five guests had put in an appearance. As the auspicious hour approached and preparations were complete, the ears of one and all were caught by the strains of the Wedding March, which brought silence to every lip, also an expectant look to each for the approach of bride and groom. No one was wearied at this juncture, for the same strain that called the attention of the guests called also the parties of the pleasing event. The bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, was presented to the groom. They were assisted in the ceremony by the sister of the groom, and Mr. Elliott, of Otonabee. The bride and bridesmaid were charming indeed in their gowns of nile green, beautifully trimmed to suit the occasion. The ceremony being over and the usual congratulations offered, the guests were invited to a most delicious spread, which in every respect showed the culinary skill of a very experienced hand. After the wedding supper had been partaken of the evening was spent in music and various amusements. The bride received many valuable and beautiful presents. We understand Mr. and Mrs. Moore are taking up farm life in the vicinity of Havelock. Mrs. Moore will be missed in the vicinity of her former home as she was one who was a willing worker in any social way, full of cheer and energy and wise enough to use it well. She will be also greatly missed in her home, but will cheer another home and other hearts, and our well wishes go with her and Mr. Moore in their new relationship.

Games for Halloween!

According to a popular superstition, which long prevailed, as the evening of the 31st of October closed in, all the elves of Fairyland were afoot. From the borders of those uncanny regions which were so familiar to the dabblers in demonology. The first ceremony on Halloween appears to have been the going out of lad and lassie hand-in-hand to the kail-yard. How the kail-yard suffered, and how it still suffers, on Halloween, is well-known to both old and young. Other mystic rites were the burning of nuts, two and two, and eating of apples, candle in hand, before a looking-glass, etc. As Burn's depicts it:—

"Some merry, friendly countra folks,
Together did convene,
To burn their nuts, and pou their stocks,
An' haud their Hallowe'en."

"Wi' merry sangs and friendly cracks,
I wat they did na weary;
An' unco' tales, and funny jokes,
Their sports were cheap and cheery."

Of late years, however, the popular PARLOUR GAMES have largely taken the place of juvenile pranks at the celebration of Halloween, and The Peterborough Booketere has anticipated the demand for these delightful amusements, which helps to fill in the long evenings of the coming season:—

Croklnole.

Combination Croklnole, Checkers and Table. Readily taken up, and adapted to old and young of both sexes. A very social game, as it admits of free conversation and furnishes entertainment to any number of spectators as well as the parties playing. Sufficiently fascinating to make home the most attractive place.

Fort.

Purely a game of skill. Everyone present can take part. Played with cue and balls.

Louisa.

Parchesi Revised. Combines chance with moderate skill. Played by the throws of two dice, four men of each player are entered.

Steeple Chase.

A mimic horse race. Horses are entered and moved over the spaces on the race track according to the throws of dice.

Parcheesi.

The back gammon board of India. The Eastern Rajahs are passionately fond of Parcheesi.

Halma.

A magnificent game to while away a pleasant hour. It is for two, three or four players, but even one may play a lone hand and improve the mental faculties by studying its "solitaires."

Go-Bang.

One of the most remarkable games. It is tit-tat-to improved. Yet with all its simplicity it fascinates old as well as young.

Lotto.

A set of cards, laid off in properly numbered squares, and a set of ninety numbered pieces. Well-known and largely played.

OLD MAID,	LOST HEIR,
AUTHORS,	SNAP,
NATIONS,	CHECKERS,
PERRYWINKLE,	CHESS,
LOGOMACHY,	DOMINOES,

Playing Cards.

All kinds—Bicycle (the best quality), Cyclist, Trophy Whist, Apollo, Boston, Up-to-Date, Etc. Special Prices for Progressive Parties, whether Progressive Games, Pedro or Euchre.

Gone to Havelock.

Mr. James Evans, of the Queen's Hotel, Havelock, has sold out to Mr. Wm. Dineen, late of the Queen's, Peterborough. The people of the district may rest assured that the Queen's will be run in first class style. Mr. J. J. Crowe, license inspector, was in Havelock Wednesday and transferred the license to the present proprietor.

Explanatory.

The attention of THE EXAMINER has been called to the fact that the name of Mr. Carnegie was inadvertently omitted from the list of prominent guests at the Blair banquet on Wednesday night. In the report of almost every large public banquet the name of some guest is omitted, and it is to be regretted that the name of Mr. Carnegie was the one on this occasion.

Barbering Business.

Mr. Wm. McGregor, who had been employed by the late Mr. Harry Robinson, has purchased the barbering business of the deceased, and will conduct it at the old stand. On Monday he will have an assistant, and hopes to meet with the support of all the old friends of the shop and as many new ones as will favour him with their patronage.

November Magazines.

The monthly publications for November have arrived at the Peterborough Bookstore. The best include McClure's, Metropolitan, Strand, Cosmopolitan, Munsey's, Godey's, Scribner, Harper's, Black Cat, Nickel, Ladies' Home Journal, Puck, Judge and truth, besides the regular illustrated weekly papers. Lay in your supply for Sunday and every day reading.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

An Over Zealous Police Force.

Nine little boys were up before the Police Magistrate this morning for having committed the heinous crime of playing "foot and a half" on the corner of Reid and McDonnel streets. The ministers of the town should now be called upon to speak on the subject of our over zealous police force. One little lad was placed in the witness box who could barely lisp on account of his excessive youth. Complaints are being heard of depleted clothes lines and other thefts continually, and it is thought by some that if Officer Stewart would give a little more of his attention to such matters and overlook the little boys for a time, it would be more advantageous to the welfare of the town.

St. John's Services.

To-morrow, All Saints Day, will be, as already stated, the anniversary of the re-opening of St. John's church in 1883. The service will have reference to this fact, as well as to the association of All Saints Day. The early communion service will be held at 8 a.m. instead of 8.30. There will be at 11 a.m. another communion service and also sermon. In the afternoon, at 3 30, there will be a children's service, and in the evening the congregation of the mission will unite with that of St. John's. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Carl Smith. The offertories at all services will be devoted to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, to which all members of the parish are asked to give their very hearty support.

Mercer's

PETERBOBOUGH COUNTY TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

IT WAS BROUGHT TO A CLOSE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Many Interesting Papers Have been Read During the Session—Conventions Hereafter Will be Held Alternately in Ashburnham and Norwood.

FRIDAY'S SESSIONS.

The first subject was a paper on "Drawing" by Mr. W. M. Eadie, Principal of Havelock Public School. He gave a number of good suggestions on the study and teaching of this important subject. His paper was well received, and at its close was discussed by Mr. M. W. Matchett and others.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, B.A., was then introduced, and gave a carefully prepared astronomical paper on "Our Island Group in Space." It was full of information of great interest to teachers, and to all interested in astronomy. He named and described the various planets, explained their motions, and gave very interesting facts in connect on with them.

It would be unwise to attempt a summary of this important paper, as we cannot do it justice in a short space. Mr. Garvin was heartily applauded at the close of his paper. Although not now closely connected with the teaching profession, Mr. Garvin is ever ready to assist in their work.

Rev. Mr. Nelson Burns, B.A., an ex-High school principal and gold medallist of Toronto University, then addressed the convention briefly in a very interesting and somewhat humorous way.

A committee appointed on Thursday then gave their report, recommending that the Institute pay one third of the price of any Ontario educational paper subscribed for by any of the convention.

A DISCUSSION

then took place on the subject of uniform promotion examinations. A committee was appointed to prepare a syllabus of work in each subject for the different classes, Inspector Brown to be chairman of this committee.

After roll call the convention adjourned, to resume at half-past one.

In the afternoon, after the convention had been called to order by the president, Mr. M. W. Matchett, Mr. Pringle, principal of the Peterborough Business College, took up the subject of oblique writing. He read an excellent paper. He said he would not object to vertical writing, simply because he had not given the subject very much attention. He said a good writer must exercise legibility, neatness and speed. The reader is most interested in the first two qualities, while the writer is interested in all three. Speed concerns the writer only.

There are three positions at the desk, and four kinds of movements in writing. The whole arm movement has little or no place in the public school.

Do not teach a pupil one form of letter in the lower grades, and make him learn another form in the higher grades.

When a pupil begins to write the finger-movement only should be used, as it enables the pupil to make letters in proper form, and because his muscles are not sufficiently developed to use the muscular movement.

First place a copy on the blackboard. Then analyze it carefully. Then use your time in the class by directing them individually, and encouraging them where necessary. It is better to approve of the good work than to condemn the bad work of some of

THE CARELESS WRITERS.

The "Penman's Art Journal" is perhaps the best available paper on the subject of writing.

At the close of his paper he was heartily applauded, and Mr. Garvin then took up "Vertical Writing."

He said he could not agree with very many of the ideas advanced by Mr. Pringle. On one point, all agreed that writing should always be legible.

About 15 years ago it was advocated that a child should learn to write the Spencerian style before he learns to print.

A strong point in favor of vertical writing is the fact that the letters are simple and are as nearly like print as possible.

Upright strokes attract and hold the eye much better than oblique lines.

Do not give the child too many directions at first, but set the child to making a letter or a word, and he will have better success.

The most rapid writers in the world all use verbal writing. Edison, noted for his fast writing, used the vertical system, and did not connect the letters.

Mr. Garvin would not use the finger movement, but the muscular movement in junior classes.

The vertical system is more healthful than the Spencerian system. This is one great advantage of the vertical system.

Let the child do his best himself, but do not help him to do it. He will take more pride in what he does himself.

There was a very interesting discussion at the close of these two papers.

PROF. MAVOR, of Toronto University, then gave an excellent address on the "Silver Question."

After a brief introductory address he took up the question, What is money, and what is the historical origin of money.

Among primitive people there is a system of barter. One commodity is exchanged for another, and a proportion of exchange once established is difficult to change.

An Indian's wealth is measured by the number of horses he owns. Among the Tartars cattle were the unit of exchange.

In the transaction of business primitive tribes used their commonest commodities, of necessity.

Those tribes dealt with one another most easily whose habits were most similar.

Cattle make a large unit of value, are difficult to transport and are perishable. Hence this led to the use of a different article of exchange, namely butter. This was followed by the use of bells as a means of exchange. Another means of exchange was the knife, an article of various and considerable uses.

After a time such articles as these began to change in form. The professor illustrated these changes very graphically on the black-board. The final result in each case was the use of a means of exchange, round in form, with a square hole in the centre.

There is a great difference between commodity as commodity and money as money.

After a time the exchange of commodities gave place to the exchange of commodities for money, which was laid by to be exchanged for other commodities when necessary.

The more trade there is going on, the more demand there is for money.

When commodities are sold, their selling price depends such as tariff, climate, transactions in allied trades, &c.

Generally the price of an article is determined by supply and the demand.

New York, London and Paris are the three great centres of the money market. When money is plentiful interest is low, and vice versa, and the lower the rate the more people are enabled to buy.

When production is increased wages are increased also, and there is a general stimulation of those industries that supply what the workingman needs and of those industries that supply the machinery needed in factories, etc. He then went on to fully explain the gold and silver standards, and made the subject quite clear to the minds of those who had the pleasure of hearing him.

It is quite impossible to give any adequate idea of the excellent address of Prof. Mavor in the limited space at our disposal. Those present were highly favoured in hearing the professor's splendid address.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mr. W. A. Evans.
Vice-President—Miss S. Hamilton.
Sec.-Treas—Mr. H. Kindred.
Auditors—Mr. E. G. Porter and Mr. M. W. Matchett.

Committee—Miss L. Lewis, Mr. D. Eason, Mr. D. Hunter, Mr. Andrews, Miss Roxburgh, Mr. R. Simpson, Miss E. Mark.

Delegates to Ontario Educational Association—Mr. Edwards and Mr. Eadie. (These were appointed at the May convention.)

Before closing, votes of thanks were, on motion of Inspector Brown, tendered to all who had assisted in the convention by taking subjects, to those who assisted at the evening concert, to the teachers of Ashburnham for their careful and painstaking preparations for the convention, and to the retiring officers.

IT WAS DECIDED

by the convention that hereafter the meetings be held alternately at Norwood and at Ashburnham, the spring convention to be at Ashburnham and the autumn convention at Norwood, to give the Model School students an opportunity to attend.

The roll call brought to a close one of the most successful conventions ever held in Peterborough County. The attendance was good and many helpful suggestions were given in the various papers, besides the intellectual treat of several papers and addresses not directly in the line of school work.

Appended is a synopsis of Rev. Mr. Symonds' interesting paper:—

After referring to disputes and discussions about religious instruction in Public Schools, not forgetting a reference to the Manitoba school question, he said it was a subject worthy of our most careful consideration, and gave excellent reasons why it should form part of our Public School curriculum.

He said Biblical instruction should be given in schools, because the state had no right to punish its members for crimes unless it first taught them that the actions were wrong, and nothing was more important than good citizenship.

The Bible is the best of all books, and contains lessons quite adaptable to the study of children. All children should be taught the Ten Commandments, the golden rule, and selections from the Psalms.

There are three ways of giving religious instruction in Public Schools:—

(a) By means of a separate school for each denomination.

This is neither practicable nor desirable.

(b) By the clergy of different denominations.

(c) By the teachers themselves.

It would be well to have a text book on the subject, composed of Scripture selections to be used in all schools, as parts of the Bible are not suited for children's study, and to put the Bible as a whole into the hands of teachers might lead to doctrinal disputes.

There are sometimes objections to religious instructions in public schools, but nearly all concede that some moral and religious instruction should be given. To this he added that this instruction should be given from the Bible, and given by the teachers themselves from some authorized text book.

It is impossible, in a report like this, to give an adequate idea of the splendid paper given by Mr. Symonde.

HUNTING NOTES.

Fawns must not be killed at all.

Sabbath will be observed by the deer hunters.

Deer in Maine are being slaughtered in an unprecedented way.

Mr. Wm. McIvor, of Millbrook, is enjoying his annual hunt in the north country.

No true sportsman will go into the woods for an indiscriminate slaughter of deer.

Many Toronto gentlemen have passed through town this week to their hunting grounds.

Lindsay hunters have had trouble this week in getting out their licenses, the blank forms not being forwarded.

The Lindsay warder says:—"The famous Sinclair party will be on the war path again this fall hunting in Anson township. This party have never failed to make a good capture when north and we may expect some big things this yearr, perchance a few black bears. The party comprises the following:—Capt. Dougall Sinclair, Johnston Ellis, Thos. Saddler, sr., T. Blackwell, Rev. S. J. Shorey, E. H. Hopkins, J. McDonald, Jas. McLean and Dan. Sinclair, all of Lindsay; M. Lafferty, of the Bank of Commerce, Toronto; J. D. Collins and W. N. Rae, of Peterborough.

The Commissioner of Crown Lands for Ontario has issued a circular notice to outside employees of his department, respecting the enforcement of the law for the protection of game. It is more than ordinarily premptory in its tone, and perfectly explicit in its terms. The wood rangers and other officers are expected and instructed to aid the game wardens in preventing violation of the statute, and in helping to secure the punishment of those who violate it. Officers guilty of conniving at illegal slaughter of deer, will be, and ought to be, dismissed from the public service.

The Ray-Rutherford party left this morning at one o'clock for this old camping ground at Gold Lake, about forty miles north, the outfit being transported thither by a couple of Charlie Westlake's big wagons. The party is composed of Sam Ray, Tom Rutherford, W. Snowdan, Thos. Boddy, A. Blade, Larry Slute and Martin McFadden. Al. Garlick is being taken along for a cook. There will be 10 dogs attached to the camp.

BREACHES IN THE WALL.

The Weak Spot, the Kidneys—They Must be Guarded as Life Advances—Defence Strengthened by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope, Oct. 26.—(Special)—Citizens called on here to vouch for correctness of the following statement without an exception endorsed it as true. Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Chief of Police and government fishery overseer of his own case said:—"For ten years my distress increased until the doctor called it Diabetes. At times my suffering was intense, and medicine taken did no good. At last a friend assured me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. A few boxes have kept that promise, and I thank these pills for a perfect, and I believe, permanent cure.

SAD FORBODINGS OF AUTUMN WEATHER.

Thousands who Dread an Attack of Catarrh as Winter's Cold Approaches—Yet Catarrh can be Banished Under the Magic Touch of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

This is not a dogmatic statement, strong as it may seem. Leading members of Parliament, the most prominent clergymen of the Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Roman Catholic churches, have borne testimony to the effectiveness of this medicine. Mr. John MacEdwards, the popular purser of the Canadian Pacific steamer "Athabasca," is one who was cured of intense suffering from catarrhal troubles by the use of this medicine. Good Samaritan-like, he has ever since recommended it to any who suffer. Head off an attack of catarrh by having this medicine at your hand. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A THOUGHT THAT KILLED

A MAN!

He thought that he could trifle with disease. He was run down in health, felt tired and worn out, complained of dizziness, biliousness, backaches and headaches. His liver and kidneys were out of order. He thought to get well by dosing himself with cheap remedies. And then came the ending. He fell a victim to Bright's disease! The money he ought to have invested in a safe, reliable remedy went for a tombstone.

Warner's Safe Cure

is the only standard remedy in the world for kidney and liver complaints. It is the only remedy which physicians universally prescribe. It is the only remedy that is backed by the testimony of thousands whom it has relieved and cured.

SWINTON ON BRYAN

The New York Labor Leader at Cooper Institute.

MAKES A REMARKABLE SPEECH.

Extols the Flag, the Constitution, Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Bryan —Chairman Washburne Tells How the Nebraska Man Will Win— Closing Days of the Campaign.

New York, Oct. 30.—The workingmen of New York and vicinity who favor William Jennings Bryan held two big meetings in Cooper Institute and at Union-square tonight. Over 50,000 workingmen attended the meetings.

The meeting in Cooper Institute was called to order by Henry Oscar Cole, who introduced as the first speaker John Swinton. Mr. Swinton, he said, was the pioneer of the labor movement in this country.

Mr. Swinton was received with applause. He said: "This is a meeting of patriotic American citizens, true to country, honor and the general welfare. We believe in the American flag and in W. J. Bryan. We believe in the United States, in our republic, in the Federal constitution fairly construed, in the rights of the states, in the ballot box and in William J. Bryan. We believe in the Chicago platform and Bryan. We believe in law and order and Bryan. We believe in sound money and Bryan. We believe in the Declaration of Independence of 1776, which bears the name of Jefferson, and in the declaration of Independence of 1890, which bears the name of Bryan. We believe in the revolutionary forefathers, in the sons of the revolution and in the child of the revolution, W. J. Bryan. We believe in Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and Bryan. We believe in our Americanism, free forever Bryan. We repudiate Carlisle and bond jobbery, anarchism and militarism. We repudiate the pagan clergy who worship the gold image Nebuchadnezzar set up. We repudiate fire-eaters, Shylocks, demagogues, corruptionists, fanatics and Wall-street gamblers.

"We oppose coercionism, Presidential usurpation and government by boycott. We oppose that dogma of despotism, the infallibility of the Supreme Court, as illustrated by Justice Shira of Pennsylvania, the man who changed his mind. We are opposed to political bossism as manifested by the unspeakable Hanna and General Weyler, the butcher.

"We are opposed to the repudiation of any debt or obligation, public or private, not less than to the system under which debts, public and private, must be paid in a metal the power of which was fraudulently doubled after the debts were contracted.

"We are opposed to the millionaire snob of New York, to the New York rack-renter, who seeks to marry into the British royalty. We are opposed to the blow-hole dynamiter of Homestead, the sleuthhound of Pullman town, to the shotgun and fish-hook monstrosity of the White House, Grover Cleveland.

"We proclaim our opposition to McKinley and Hobart, and the villainies for which they stand. We proclaim our devotion to Bryan, the star of the west, and to Sewall, who shines illustrious in the east. We proclaim our devotion to the divine ideas they have emblazoned on the skies."

HENRY GEORGE SPEAKS.

Henry George was the next speaker. He said: "I believe that the time for argument is almost over. This is a time for demonstration. I believe the people of the United States next Tuesday will elect William Jennings Bryan President. I also believe that the electoral vote of New York will be counted for him on that occasion. I am neither a gold man nor a silver man. I am what is called a greenbacker. In the predictions of prosperity on one side and adversity on the other, if we adopt free silver, I take very little stock. The stock of the opposition to the nominations of Chicago is, it would be dishonest to change our financial position. It has been changed before. Have we not the right to change it again? In Mr. Cleveland sending Federal troops to Chicago without consulting the Governor of that State I saw the danger of Government by injunction. That is an issue to-day. It is on that account I to-day stump for the election of the Chicago nominees. I do not believe that the trusts and the rings, powerful though they may be, can force on the country a President. In the union of the farmer and labor forces I see victory to the Democratic party. I see at last a Democratic standard. Your Whitneys and your Hills and your trusts and rings have taken back seats. I know that despite everything the vote of the City of New York, and I hope the State of New York, will be recorded next Tuesday in favor of Bryan."

There were several other speeches and enthusiastic telegrams were read from John McBride at Chicago and Edward King at Binghamton, N.Y.

LATEST POPULIST COUNT.

Chairman Washburne Shows How Bryan Will Win Without a Doubt.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The following final statement from the Populist side as to the election day possibilities and expectations throughout the country was given to-night to the United Associated Presses by Chairman Washburne of the Chicago headquarters:

In view of the fact that the people are anxious to know what combination of States are likely to win, I have grouped together several, any group of which is liable to be the correct one on election day. It is conceded that the Democratic gold defection will be offset by the silver Republicans, which leaves the normal conditions of the two parties. Then add to the Democratic vote the two millions of Populist votes and it is apparent that Bryan must win. Fortunately, the Populist vote is largest in States where it is most needed, and, while Bryan cannot win without it, he is sure to win with it, and will get the full Populist vote.

In analyzing the vote of the country I have grouped as Bryan States the agricultural and mining States, where the gold Democratic defection and floating vote is smallest, and where the success of the ticket depends on the farmers, who have been educated on the silver question through school house and alliance meetings, and who feel insulted if offered a price for their votes or when coerced in any manner. Therefore, it is conceded that thirty-one States west of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio Rivers, representing 242 electoral votes, are 18 more than needed, and the States which Bryan is most likely to carry. The States which are comparatively sure for McKinley are the New England States, the ground with New Jersey and Pennsylvania representing 81 electoral votes. The doubtful States are the Middle Western, including Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin, together with New York, making 124 electoral votes. It is apparent to any political student that while Bryan can be elected by half a dozen different combinations, on the other hand McKinley must carry every Eastern State, together with every one of the Central Western doubtful States in order to win. Therefore he has one chance where Bryan has six. While Bryan cannot win without the doubtful States, his chances for carrying them are better than McKinley's, and should he get them all it would prove to be a veritable landslide. Of the 31 Bryan States, the most doubtful are Iowa, Kentucky, Delaware and Maryland. We can lose Iowa and Delaware, or Kentucky and Delaware, or Maryland and Delaware and still win, without carrying a single doubtful State in the middle west. We can give McKinley all of the Eastern and Middle Western or doubtful States, together with Iowa or Kentucky or Maryland, and then win. Of the doubtful States Ohio is most likely to furnish the greatest surprise. The silver Republican vote will be enormous. Our most conservative polls and reports of Indiana, Illinois and Michigan give these three States to Bryan. Now, concede the other three doubtful States, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin, to McKinley and we can afford to lose Kentucky, Wyoming, Maryland, Delaware, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oregon, West Virginia, Minnesota and Iowa and still win. Again, we can carry Indiana and Michigan, which are sure for Bryan, and lose Illinois, Ohio, New York and Wisconsin, and in addition to all this give them Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware, North Dakota, West Virginia and Iowa and all the Eastern States, and we still win. There are several other combinations which include States naturally for Bryan, and which in a like manner would enable him to win. In Illinois Bryan will carry the State outside Chicago by between 60,000 and 40,000 majority. The uncertainty is Chicago, with its 100,000 unplaced votes. If Bryan carries this city he will carry the State, and no combination can beat him in the rest of the States. In former years the floating vote could be bought, because there were only one or two pivotal States. While it is possible to buy the floating vote of a single State, it is not possible to buy up a whole nation. Then, again, in former years the floating vote was indifferent to the results. This year every man has strong convictions, and will secretly vote them in the booth, whether he takes any money or not. Possession is nine points of the law. Bryan has already enough States to win, with more than an equal chance in the doubtful States, and only needs to hold his own.

An Englishman's Idea.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Mr. Thomas Lloyd, editor in chief of The London Statist, who is making a tour of the country to study the present situation, is in San Francisco, having come to this city by way of Chicago and Portland. In his weekly cablegram to The Statist to-day he says: "Everywhere I find those who have anything to lose are McKinleyites. Party lines are everywhere obliterated. It is the fight of the masses against the classes. There is a bitter feeling in the West against syndicates, trusts and combinations, but not so much against the East."

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

How a Widow Won a Husband.

As a result of going to jail, Mrs. Mary Herbst, a San Francisco widow, secured a wealthy husband, John A. Henninger, who owns much valuable real estate.

Mrs. Herbst lived near a small shanty in which a flagman at a railroad crossing spent his spare time. When the flagman missed some fuel he intimated that perhaps the pretty widow knew where it went. She heard the story and paid the flagman a visit. During the call the flagman was severely trounced. He afterwards caused Mrs. Herbst's arrest on a charge of assault.

Mrs. Herbst spent a few hours in jail before bail was secured. Her story appealed to Mr. Henninger. He wanted to see what sort of a woman she was and called on her. The calls became frequent and finally he asked her to marry him. Despite her success in the argument with the flagman, Mrs. Herbst decided that she needed a protector, and consented. The marriage license gave the bridegroom's age as sixty-five and the bride's as thirty-five. She declares now that she is glad that she whipped the flagman and went to jail therefor.

Fisherman Thought to be Lost.

Penetanguishene, Oct. 27.—Napoleon Charlebois of Lafontaine started out on Sunday to take up some nets he had set last week, and, as he did not return on Sunday evening, a search party went out yesterday and found his boat on the shore full of water, with the sail set. He is supposed to have been drowned.

Drank Another Man's Beer.

Blenheim, Oct. 27.—Frank Currie of the Royal Hotel was forbidden to furnish liquor to Frank Sterling. Sterling came into the bar, and, on being refused a glass of beer, appropriated a glass filled for another patron and drank it. Now Currie is summoned for giving the man liquor. The Magistrate is puzzled.

TRIALS AND TROUBLES

When Inferior Dyes Are Used.

The Diamond Dyes Make Work Easy and Pleasant.

It is admitted by all that the good wife and mother has, in her management of home affairs, many trials and tribulations.

These trials and troubles are very frequently increased when the mother or daughter makes use of some of the many deceptive and worthless package dyes put up for home dyeing.

Merchants who sell such dyes are certainly deserving of public censure and condemnation. The women of Canada who uses dyes with the view of economizing should never be deceived; it is cruel and heartless to do so. However, the case is plain to those who know; the greedy dealer thinks more of his big profits than he does about the welfare and happiness of his best customers.

All troubles and losses in home dyeing are avoided when the Diamond Dyes are used. By their use, work is well and quickly done; results are perfectly satisfactory, as the colours are at all times bright, clear, brilliant and fast. In order to guard against all future trouble, you must watch the merchant who recommends the something just as good as Diamond Dyes. Tell him plainly that no other dyes are as good as the "Diamond." Take only the "Diamond," and your work will be done easily and well.

Deviled Eggs.

Boil twelve fresh eggs for fifteen minutes, take them up and immerse in cold water for one-half hour. Remove the shells and cut the eggs lengthwise. Take out the yolks and rub them to a smooth paste with a teaspoonful of mustard and a tablespoonful of melted butter; add a tablespoonful of minced, cold boiled ham, with salt and cayenne to season. Fill the whites of the eggs with the mixture and serve on a bed of cresses.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USI

AYER'S P.LLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills fo. ver thirty years have kept me in g. l health, never having had a sick day a all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. FOR DRYING FRUIT.

Description of an Economical Way of Curing Green Fruit.

Sun-dried fruit has a flavor that cannot be approached by the evaporated, sulphur-bleached article. Besides, sun-drying is the most economical plan for curing green fruit, where but small quantities are prepared annually. Fruit exposed to the sun and air should, however, be protected from the flies. A convenient plan is shown in the cut. Two frames of inch-by-two-inch stuff, of equal size, are covered with wire mosquito netting. On the one the fruit is spread evenly and thinly while the other serves as a cover, the whole resting on a saw-horse frame, or upon four stakes driven into the ground with cross-pieces nailed to the tops. The air thus circulates up through the fruit, while flies and other insects have no chance to soil it. Two strips can be nailed across the bottom to support the weight upon it, if needed.—American Gardening.

COULD NOT TURN IN BED.

Terrible Suffering of an Elora Lady from Rheumatism—Fifteen years a Sufferer, but Cured by two Bottles of South American Rheumatic Cure.

No pen can describe the intensity of suffering that may come from an attack of rheumatism. "For fifteen years," says Mrs. John Beaumont, of Elora, Ont., "I have been more or less troubled with rheumatism, which took the form of pains in my back, often confining me to my bed, and rendering me part of the time wholly unfit for my duties. At times I suffered so intensely that I could not turn in my bed, and the disease was fast reaching a point where both myself and my husband had become thoroughly discouraged of recovery. A friend recommended South American Rheumatic Cure, and after the first bottle I was able to sit up, and before four bottles were taken I was able to go about as usual, and have been in excellent health since."

To Put an Egg in a Bottle.

An egg in a bottle is a great curiosity to the uninitiated. Soak an egg in strong cider vinegar till the shell softens, and it will bear sufficient pressure to be gently forced lengthwise into a wide-mouthed bottle. Pour cold water over the egg repeatedly and it will resume its natural shape and color.

BOYS AND GIRLS

FEATHERED PARSON.

An Antipodean Bird Who Probably is the Best Talker of His Kind.

Some time since a friend of mine, having occasion to purchase a small article, entered a little thread and needle shop in the environs of the city of New Orleans, but found no one in the place, writes J. Carter Beard in the Philadelphia Bulletin. As she turned about to leave, a hoarse voice called out:—

"Wait a moment, ma'am. Take a chair."

Looking around her in some surprise at not seeing any source from which she could suspect the voice to proceed or any possibility of accepting the invitation so cordially extended to her, she replied:—

"I'll wait, but I see no chair."

"Betty! Betty! come quick! come quick! come quick! Some one here. Take a chair," called out the voice loudly.

As there happened to be no one in the little shop but herself, my friend hastened to the door, when she happened to catch sight of a bird cage just inside it, containing a strange looking black bird, with two white bands, that reminded her of those worn by English clergymen, extending downward from its throat. At the same moment a woman appeared at the half-opened door leading to the rear of the shop.

"Tas tha burd be talken, mum," said she, with a strong North-of-England accent. "Tas a parson, mum; them do go on wors'n parrots."

On inquiry, the talker proved to be what naturalists call Prosthemaders, which had been brought by the shopkeeper all the way from New Zealand (where she had formerly resided,) of which the bird is a native.

Its popular name, "parson bird," given it by the early colonists of New Zealand in allusion to the peculiar tufts of long white feathers that hang down from the throat as if to set off its glossy black plumage, and which resemble clerical bands, certainly seems appropriate. Perched on a stump, as an extemporized talker, it gives vent to a jargon of sounds, displaying its bands and gesticulating in a manner that irresistibly reminds one of the declamatory style of preaching. A gentleman describing the bird says:—

"He shakes his head, bending to one side, then to another, as if he made his remarks first to this part of his hearers and afterward to that, and once again, with pent-up vehemence, contracting his muscles and drawing himself together, his voice waxes loud, as if to awaken sleepers to their senses."

It is a favorite cage bird with the colonists, being easily reared in confinement, and its extraordinary powers of mimicry make it a very interesting pet. It can repeat whole sentences and imitate among other things, the barking of a dog to perfection. Its memory, teachableness and articulation are better than those of any parrot; in fact, perhaps, it is the best talker among birds.

Paying One's Debts.

An ingenious method of paying one's debts has just come to light in England. It seems that a certain person had long been in debt to his shoemaker, and the latter was becoming angry at the delay. Calling upon the delinquent he spoke to him in no very gentle manner.

"But, my good fellow," the debtor replied, "I have no money, but I will give you an order on Mr. H—, who has been in my debt for ever so long. Here, take this sealed packet, but don't let him perceive that you know anything of its contents."

The shoemaker, in great hopes, betook himself to Mr. H——, and handed him the missive, which ran as follows:—

"Dear H——, the bearer, an unfortunate but honest man, has lost his wife and children during the last week, and is, besides, threatened with imprisonment for debt. Persuaded that you will gladly seize the opportunity to assist a poor man in distress, I commend him to your kindness. Yours, sincerely, C——."

H—— gazed with emotion at his visitor, and pressed 30 shillings on his acceptance. The shoemaker departed in a happy frame of mind, little suspecting that he had been taken for a beggar.

How Lincoln Kept Books.

In his early life Abraham Lincoln had a primitive method of keeping books. At the time his law partner, John T. Stuart, represented the Springfield district in congress, Lincoln was forced, much against his will, to keep an account of some kind. The plan he adopted was somewhat remarkable. When he received a fee he divided it in halves. His half he put in his pocket; Stuart's portion he put in an envelope and, labeling it "Stuart's half," threw it into a drawer until his partner's return from Washington.

Virtues of Lemon Juice.

Lemon juice and water without sugar will oftentimes relieve one of a sick headache in a short time, and a half a gill of lemon juice three times a day in a little water is said to be good for rheumatism.

Blood is Life.

It is the medium which carries to every nerve, muscle, organ and fibre its nourishment and strength. If the blood is pure, rich and healthy you will be well; if impure, disease will soon overtake you. Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to keep you in health by making your blood rich and pure.

HOOD'S PILLS are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness. 25c.

Tobacco Heart

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief, by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

FISH EATING GRASS.

Oregon Farmer Claims That Carp Are Denuding His Meadows.

A rancher whose place is on the bottom along the Willamette slough, below Holbrook Station, was in the city the other day to find out whether he had resource to the United States fish commission for the introduction of carp into the rivers of this section.

He says these fish are destroying his meadows by eating his grass and grubbing up the roots. As the water overflows his meadow the carp follow it up in thousands, the small ones weighing about three pounds pushing their way up where the water is only three inches or so in depth and clearing off all vegetation, so that when the water recedes he will have mud flats in place of meadows.

He says that while looking at the fish eating his grass he got so mad that he took off his shoes and stockings and went out into the shallow water and attacked them with a hoe. He slashed a lot of them in two, but when the drove became alarmed and made for deep water they bumped their noses against his shins and came near knocking him off his feet, and his ankles are black and blue from the thumping he got. As for driving the carp away, he says he might as well have tried to sweep back the rise of the Columbia with a broom.—Portland Oregonian.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. LXXVI.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Fortnightly Club Column :

SIR,—Mr. Garvin's brief was "Free Coinage of Silver," his argument was "bi-metallism"—two entirely different things.

Mr. Garvin ascribed the fall in prices of all commodities to the appreciation of gold. Gold has not lowered prices ; human genius and inventiveness have been the instrumentalities. Take one example—sugar. Twenty years ago we could get 10 pounds for a dollar, within a year 25 pounds have been sold for one dollar. Was this caused by the rise in gold or by improved methods of manufacture ?

Nothing is more common than the mistake that money and property are identical. They are not. A redundancy of money does not prove prosperity. The issue of paper secured by silver is no more an increase of wealth than the issue, by an individual, of his promissory note would show an increase in his property. It is not the volume of money but the activity of money that counts. One $10 bill passing through the hands of ten George street merchants in one morning would do ten times more good than the deposit of $100 in the bank.

Now, in the larger transactions of life there is no money used at all. The with money is purely a mental operation. If, for instance a farmer sells a cargo of wheat in Winnipeg, a draft for it is drawn on London. That draft is sold in Montreal, to purchase property by a merchant who owes for a consignment of dry goods in Manchester. A check is remitted to Winnipeg in payment of the debt. The farmer draws his checks against that check for the debts he owes. Here is an exchange between a cargo of wheat and a cargo of dry goods, in which money plays no part whatever, except to mentally fix the rates at which those commodities are exchanged. But Mr. Garvin says that scarcity of money is entirely due to the demonetization of silver, and he proposes to make it more plentiful by proceeding to coin all the silver of the world.

These silverites never tell us how they are going to get all these countless millions of silver dollars into circulation, and they overlook the fact that there are now 600 millions of silver dollars in the U. S. treasury that nobody seems to want.

What will be the effect of this free coinage of all the silver presented to the U. S. mints ? Mr. G. says that silver will instantly rise in value on account of there being a new demand for it, and on account of that rise in value it will go up until it meets gold, and then we shall have the two metals for money instead of one, and there being more primary money in two metals than there is in one, there will be more wealth in the world, and we shall all be happy. We all agree that MONEY IS A MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE.

Without discussing the question whether, if we get bimetallism in this way, it would be the advantage to the people of the U. S. that Mr. Garvin says it will, let us consider that, as money is a means of the transportation of articles from one man to another, and the cart is a method of transporting hay from one place to another, whether more carts would produce more hay or more hay produce more carts.

Mr. Garvin lays great stress on the idea that the demand for silver will be so great under free coinage that there will be an immediate rise in the price of it. Well, there is a fundamental principle, that the more there is a demand for a thing, the higher price it will bring. But there is another law which the world is just finding out, and that is, the bigger demand for a thing the more will be the supply and the cheaper it will be. We see this around us all the time.

> The only thing that would raise silver to the value of 16 to 1 would be the government's engagement to pay gold for all the silver brought to it at that ratio.

In conclusion let Mr. Garvin remember that it requires the labour of man, and the LABOUR OF MAN ALONE TO CREATE WEALTH.

The brawny hand of the artizan can fashion a piece of wood into a domestic utensil. But all the powers ever yet exercised by tyrant or by constitutional monarch cannot cause a barren field to become fruitful or two blades of grass to grow where one grew before, without the labour of man. That labour and mutual industrial co-operation produce civilization. Everything that a man does for his own benefit acts directly upon the interest of his neighbour. No man can stand alone in a civilized community. Underlying the whole scheme of civilization is the confidence men have in each other. Anything that attacks that basis of human confidence is a crime against civilization and a blow against the foundations of social order. The basis of all this silver cry is socialism whose finest fruitage is anarchy and murder. Beyond the feeble presentation of the money heresy lies the deep abyss of socialism into which the American people are invited to plunge.

DEAR SIR,—It is with pleasure that I write to inform you that your valuable remedy, "Kootenay Cure," has been tried in our institution with most gratifying results. I can say this, as I am one of those who have conscientiously tested it. I have no hesitation in recommending it as a wonderful medicie for Rheumatism, a disease which has baffled medical science for so many years. To my own knowledge also the remedy has proved most beneficial in cases of Dypepsia.

I have much pleasure in communicating the foregoing testimony as regards the benefits which I know "Kootenay Cure" has conferred on many sufferers, and you have my full permission to make use of this testimonial in any way you may think fit.

DEATH FROM SUFFOCATION.

Almost a Fatality but for Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—Strange Story of a Northwest Lady.

A death to be dreaded is that from suffocation, and yet this is one of the usual phases of heart disease. Mrs. J. L Hillier, of Whitewood, N.W.T., came as near this dangerous point as need be. She says : "I was much afflicted with heart failure, in fact I could not sleep or lie down for fear of suffocation. I tried all doctors in this section of the country, but they failed to give me relief. A local druggist recommended Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart. I tried, it, and with the result that I immediately secured ease that I did not know before, and after taking further doses of the medicine the trouble altogether left me. It is not too much to say that it saved my life. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

WALL STREET RUMORS.

President Simmons Gives Assurance That the Banks Are Able to Meet Every Emergency.

New York, Oct. 30.—It was rumored on Wall-street before the opening of business this morning, that an informal meeting of certain bank presidents had been held last night for the purpose of extending every possible aid to stock exchange firms. This action, it was said, was due to the advance in call loans to 100 per cent. yesterday. About 11 o'clock it was stated that a meeting of the bank presidents was held at the Union League Club last night. They decided to take measures to assist the street, but not to issue clearing house certificates. President J. Edward Simmons of the Clearing House Association said this morning : "There is nothing in the situation to excite alarm. The banks are abundantly able to meet any emergency that may arise, and they will do so."

A member of the clearing house says : "There was no large house or any house of good credit yesterday which did not succeed in getting whatever funds were required to enable them to meet engagements The fact that there was no distress anywhere was clearly shown by the total absence of cash stock in the market. It has been almost invariably the case that whenever a stock house is unable to procure money it sells stock for cash, and in this way obtains a sufficiency of funds to pay its loans. A few small and inconsequential stock brokers, assisted by malicious bears, made an artificial rate for money that has excited more ridicule than alarm. An investigation, furthermore, proves that no one laid down on his bank. There will be no clearing house certificates issued. It is evident to all thinking men who have examined the last bank statement that the banks are abundantly able to meet any monetary stringency that can possibly arise. Money on call opened at 50 per cent., decreased to 30 per cent., and then lent at 50 to 60 per cent."

JOHN BOYD IS DEAD.

The Would-be Suicide Succumbs to the Self-Inflicted Injuries Sustained

Barrie, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—John Boyd, who on Wednesday last attempted to end his own life by hanging, died last night from cuts resulting from his rash act. For a time it was thought he would recover from the effects of his folly, but his extreme age and physical weakness formed a detrimental combination too great to overcome. A large measure of sympathy is expressed for the family, who are eminently respectable and feel keenly the position in which the unfortunate affair has placed them.

The kidneys are talking trouble.
Here is some Norwood talk :

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills :—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

NO COMFORT FOR THE BEARS.

The Bulls Had the Best End of It in the Chicago Wheat Pit Yesterday—Markets All Firm

Chicago, Oct. 30.—There was no cause for satisfaction to the bears in the action of wheat to-day. Although the opening was lower the tone even then was firm, and it took but a moment to recover the losses and holders had clear sailing from that time until the close. Occasional sharp reactions took place, but they were the result of realizing and not by any means due to a wavering in the bull sentiment. No regard was paid to news unless it favored higher prices, and even information of that sort was only a secondary consideration. The trade was not broad, but it was effective in placing values on a higher plane. The cables were lower, Liverpool, Berlin and Paris all quoting declines, whilst Antwerp was unchanged. San Francisco reported the sale of a cargo for Australia with bids for a number of others under consideration. The last five minutes of the session were very active, prices rising about half a cent from a reaction of one cent during the period. December wheat opened from 71⅛c to 71⅝c, advanced to 73⅛c, closing at 72⅝c to 73c, 1⅝c higher than yesterday. Cash wheat was 1c to 1½c higher.

The Continental Market.

London, Oct. 30.—Following are reports of to-day's wheat markets on the Continent :

Antwerp—The wheat market was almost at a standstill to-day, awaiting developments from America. Prices were slightly lower. Corn was easier.

Amsterdam—Market weak. Merchants were without confidence.

Paris—Market opened weaker on disappointing American advices, but later became firmer. There was little business. The market closed easier.

Berlin—Market opened quiet, following the tone of the Berlin market.

St. Petersburg—Market weakened. There were large offerings, but the foreign advices were discouraging.

Any doctor will tell you that Professor Hare, of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, is one of the highest authorities in the world on the action of drugs. In his last work, speaking of the treatment of scrofula, he says:

"It is hardly necessary to state that cod-liver oil is the best remedy of all. The oil should be given in emulsion, so prepared as to be palatable."

He also says that the hypophosphites should be combined with the oil.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is precisely such a preparation.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay ; whether cash down or on terms ; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await checque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same ; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms ; that's what we are here for.

G. W. Green's Pump and Windmill Business to be Continued.

I beg to announce to the public that although the distruction of my Factory on Dickson's Race on Sunday evening, has deprived me of premises and machinery for the present, it does not deprive me of my business.

Arrangements will immediately be made for opening up again in another building, which I hope to be able to secure in a short time.

In the meantime the business will be kept going without serious interuption to the public. Orders for Pumps, Windmills, &c, may be sent by mail to my address, Box 362, Peterborough, P.O., which will be filled as promptly as possible, from my Millbrook Factory, where my Peterborough workmen have been sent to assist in turning out the work.

IT'S COAL ALL RIGHT

Sudbury Mine Examined by Prof. Coleman.

'EXTRAORDINARY,' 'WONDERFUL.'

Were His Exclamations on Seeing the Fine Vein—Tried the Coal at a Smithy's Forge and Found it to Work First-Rate—Worth $6 Per Ton.

Sudbury, Ont., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The register at the White House Hotel, Sudbury, this morning bore the name of A. T. Coleman, Toronto, on its pages. This, it was learned, referred to Prof. A. T. Coleman of the Ontario School of Mines, and from further enquiries it was learned that the Professor had come here to examine the coal deposit in the Township of Balfour and report on the same to the Ontario Government. Before 7 a.m. the Professor was anxious to make a start, and shortly after that hour, in company with Mr. J. R. Gordon, owner of the mine; G. Harwood, accountant, and one of The Sudbury News' representatives started for the coal fields. It was a drive of eighteen miles over very muddy roads, but passing splendid farms en route the party arrived at the coal deposit about noon.

Professor Coleman was shown the vein and left to himself as to his mode of examination, etc. He looked over the vein where stripped and blasted and remarked, "Extraordinary; wonderful deposit."

Measurements were taken, which resulted about as follows: Vein stripping commences at the road and ascends at an angle of about sixty degrees a distance of 75 feet due north, 6 to 16 feet in width, or an average of 13 feet wide; the coal then splits and dips under the country rock in two strong veins, one continuing due north and the other northeast. At both points of dipping test shafts about six feet deep have been blasted and a good quality of coal obtained, some exceptionally fine crystals being apparent. The coal proper is enclosed by walls of Cambrian slate, running about south southwest, and being streaked at some points by fine splashes of iron pyrites.

Prof. Coleman, with compass and hammer, took bearing with the former and specimens with the latter, and in answer to questions as to the deposit being black, said it may be similar and have all the qualities contained in coal, but the upheaval not having taken place in the era of coal formations, it consequently is not scientifically called coal. Had the deposit been made at the time mentioned scientific men would certainly call it coal.

The party having dined at Mr. Gordon's camp, they again repaired to the coal deposit, where a hole had been put down for a blast. This was blown out and the Professor took samples from this and other points. He then repaired to the smithy forge, where a fire was started with coal from the vein. In about fifteen minutes the wood used to kindle the fire was consumed and the coal, while under blast from the bellows, gave out extreme heat, with a clear, red glow and very slight perception of sulphur fumes, and when not under the blast it gave intense heat and burned with a slight yellowish green flame on top and bright clear red heat below. It burns very slowly, keeps up a steady heat and deposits a pinkish colored ash; clean to the touch. At the forge a piece of the vein matter that had been put on one side as a cull material, under the impression that on account of its hardness it contained a large percentage of slate and rock, was shown to Prof. Coleman, and he remarked that it could not be as suggested, as it was too light in weight. This was broken up and fed on the smithy fire, resulting in the discovery that it was coal of a finer grain and its heating powers much greater than that of the coarser grain.

Shortly after leaving the mine Prof. Coleman asked if the coal had been tried in base-burner stoves, and, being answered in the affirmative, asked Mr. Gordon why he did not put on a force at once and get out coal sufficient to supply the wants of the people of Sudbury and district. Mr. Gordon replied that he had already a standing order for all he could supply in Sudbury at $6 per ton, but the roads now being in very bad order he had decided to operate a diamond drill and further prospect to determine the extent of the deposit. The party returned to Sudbury, arriving about 6 p.m.

From the base of the hill, where the coal vein is uncovered, it dips apparently under the roadway and adjoining swamp in a southerly direction, and there is no doubt but that the diamond drill will strike the coal formation after getting through the clay surface of the swamp about ten feet in depth. From the upper or north end of the vein, where it divides and takes a north and northeast direction respectively, there is a slate capping of six to eight feet.

This capping it is not Mr. Gordon's intention to remove at present, but while working his diamond drill and carrying on other prospecting work he will sink his shaft on the vein at about sixty feet from the base of the present showing, which will undoubtedly at, say a depth of 40 to 50 feet, put him in a position to drift and crosscut to advantage.

The people of Sudbury are now thoroughly convinced that they have a good bed of coal at hand, and are correspondingly jubilant. Old-timers are prognosticating as to the early return of good times, as experienced here when nickel was first discovered in Sudbury.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

Geological Survey People Advise Investors Not to be in Great Haste.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Not unnaturally, the report that coal has been discovered in the vicinity of Sudbury has attracted some attention here, but it would not be advisable for people to place too great reliance in the suggestion that it is genuine coal and that the deposits extend over a very wide area. The offices of the Geological Survey have had samples of this alleged coal before them for several weeks. In June last Mr. Archibald Blue, director of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, sent a sample to the Geological Survey Department, where it was carefully examined by the chemist, Dr. Hoffman. Although having the appearance of coal, it is not coal, but properly speaking anthraxolite, or, in other words, a carbon with more or less impurity in it. It has probably resulted from the metamorphorism of some bituminous substance, which has originally filled the veins in the rocks where it has been found. Speaking to your correspondent yesterday, Dr. Dawson, director of the Geological Survey, mentioned that in the past there have been coal excitements at different points throughout Canada where coal was generally supposed not to exist. Anthraxolite has been found in small quantities in the vicinity of Port Arthur; also in the neighborhood of Point Levis and in several places in Labrador. The Sudbury deposit is precisely of the same character as that previously discovered in the localities mentioned. Dr. Dawson says that if a sufficient quantity could be obtained it might be used as a fuel, but, from the samples received here, it would be a fuel of a very inferior quality on account of the large proportion of ash which it contains. Dr. Dawson states that it is extremely unlikely that there is any large quantity of it in the Sudbury district, although, of course, anything is possible. He bases his conclusion on this point from the fact that it has never been discovered in workable quantities anywhere else. It has not the regularity of a bed of coal, because it is usually found in fissures or pockets, which break irregularly through old rocks.

The sample which Mr. Blue sent to Ottawa contained 55.96 per cent. of silicacious matter, the rest being chiefly carbon. Another sample received contained about 65 per cent. of carbon, so that it will be seen the quantity of carbon varies. It burns not unlike anthracite, but the quantity of ash is so great that its usefulness will always be confined to very narrow limits. In view of these statements of the Director of the Geological Survey, it would not be well for Ontario people to build too great hopes regarding the recently discovered deposits.

A Hamiltonian's Opinion.

Hamilton, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Deputy Tax Collector Neill, a local geologist, has examined a sample of the coal found in Sudbury, and is of the opinion that it is carbonized peat bog. He thinks the find is a valuable one.

DELUGE IN FRANCE.

The Seine Causes Alarm—Other Rivers are Raging Torrents and the People are Terrified.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Seine has been rising for some days, and has now reached a point that is causing much alarm. Low lying structures along its banks have been flooded and much damage has been done above and below the city. The river is so full of floating debris that traffic upon it has been stopped.

Most of the other rivers in France are also out of their banks. Many of the villages along the Rhone are completely surrounded by water. At Vallabreques, near Tarascon, the inhabitants have been driven from their homes by the rising waters, and are camping in the cemetery, which is situated on high ground.

Near Nismes, Department of Gard, and Bourg, Department of Aisne, a number of bridges have been swept away. Families living on low ground near the Rhone have taken refuge in the upper storeys of their houses, the lower portions being inundated.

The district northeast of Nismes has suffered extensively. The Bishop of Nismes has gone on a boat to render what assistance he can to the distressed villagers. The inundations are so extensive that the postmen have to use boats to perform their labors.

The plain of Roquemaure is an immense lake. The water is deep, only the tops of the trees being visible.

The roads northeast of Bourg are impassable. The inhabitants are terrified, as the flood gives promise of increasing.

THE EVE OF BATTLE.

Election Prophets Get in Their Final Predictions.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM NEW YORK STATE

Republicans Expect a Plurality of 200,000 and Have Money to Back Up Their Opinions—Calculations in All the States—But It's All Talk.

New York, Nov. 1.—The campaign closed in this State last night. It has been a series of hurrahs for the flag, appeals to patriotism and arguments for conservatism in financial and Governmental affairs.

The sound money naval display a week ago and the monster street parade yesterday, in which Democrats as well as Republicans took part, mark the campaign as one of the most enthusiastic ever conducted in the Empire State.

The Democrats have managed the campaign for Bryan and Sewall in a perfunctory way. They have apparently had little money to spend, and with Senator Hill silent, William C. Whitney an avowed McKinley man, and ex-Gov. Roswell P. Flower and other leaders stumping for Palmer and Buckner, it has been a spiritless campaign. Hard work has been done, however, among the workingmen.

The national Democrats have conducted a brave campaign for Palmer and Buckner, and though they do not expect to carry a single county they are confident of making a showing at the polls which will justify them in continuing their organization for future work.

The Republicans expect to carry the State for McKinley by from 200,000 upwards. They expect to elect Frank S. Black Governor and to capture the Congressional delegation of 34 with possibly two exceptions. They count upon electing 100 out of the 150 members of the Assembly, thus insuring the election of a Republican to succeed David B. Hill in the United States Senate.

Chairman Danforth, of the Democratic State Committee, says he is confident of carrying the State for Bryan by 40,000. He looks for a Democratic plurality in this city of 30,000. The betting, however, is the other way. Money is freely offered on even terms that McKinley will have over 200,000 plurality in the State and over 40,000 in this city.

A great many Democrats who will vote for McKinley are expected to cast their ballots for Griffin, the national Democratic nominee for Governor, and his vote is expected by some to equal that cast for Porter, the regular Democratic candidate for Governor. The division of the vote between Porter and Griffin makes it an easy race for Black, the Republican nominee. Great interest in the result of the election is shown. The registration is considerably in excess of all former years, and the heaviest vote on record will probably be polled.

Not in Kentucky.

Louisville, Oct. 31.—The bitterest political campaign ever waged in Kentucky closed to-night with the excitement at white heat. More speeches have been made in Kentucky this fall than in any two previous campaigns. Violence has been a frequent occurrence at political meetings, and several killings have resulted from quarrels which arose at these gatherings.

Chairman Roberts of the Republican Campaign Committee claims the state for McKinley by from 15,000 to 25,000. He also claims nine Congressmen, including Col. Breckenridge, and a fighting chance for two more.

Chairman Sommers of the Free Silver Democratic Campaign Committee avers that Bryan will come to Louisville with 20,000 plurality. He concedes Louisville to McKinley by 3000. Mr. Sommers claims 11 Congressmen.

The free silver Democrats and Populists have fused on the electoral ticket and Congressional candidates in all but two districts. The Populists have two representatives on the electoral ticket, and this will bring 10,000 Populist votes to Bryan.

Chairman George M. Davie of the National Democratic State Committee estimates that there are 50,000 Democrats who will not vote for Bryan. He does not state how many of these will vote for Palmer and Buckner, but the indications are McKinley will get the biggest part of this vote, especially in Louisville.

In Louisiana.

New Orleans, Oct. 31.—Reliable information from all the parishes of Louisiana indicates that the election on Tuesday will result about as follows: Bryan's majority in the state will be 35,000 to 40,000. The four Populist electors who are on the regular Democratic as a result of the fusion of the Democrats and Populists will cast their votes for Bryan and Watson, leaving four electoral votes to be cast for Bryan and Sewall.

Alabama for Bryan

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 31.—A conservative estimate considerably below that of Chairman Shelley of the Campaign Committee places Bryan's majority at 40,000. The defection of gold Democrats will be more than offset by the Populists, the great body of hom is expected to vote for Bryan and Sewall. As to the Congressional situation, there is little doubt of the election of eight representatives in accordance with the Chicago platform.

Tennessee.

Memphis, Oct. 31.—Both parties are laying claim to Tennessee, the Republicans by a majority of 8000 to 15,000, the Democrats from 30,000 to 50,000. As between ex-Governor Taylor and G. N. Tillman, Democratic and Republican gubernatorial candidates, respectively, the situation is considerably mixed. The amount of gold standard Democratic strength that will be deflected to the Republicans is a quantity as yet impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy, and so it is, too, of the silver Republican vote coming to the Democracy.

Down in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 31.—The result in Georgia is not problematical. The Populists have withdrawn their electoral ticket in Mr. Watson's own state. The Bryan and Sewall electors will receive not only the practically solid vote of the Democrats, but also a great many from Populists. It is not believed that Palmer and Buckner talent in this state will poll as many as 5000 votes. McKinley will get the solid Republican vote of the state. It is estimated that the Democratic plurality will approximate 50,000, the Democratic state ticket receiving 56,000 majority in the October election. There seems to be no doubt that every Democratic nominee for Congress will be elected.

Hot Fights at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Bryan and McKinley forces met in West Madison-street last night. Four men were injured. The trouble necessitated the calling out of extra squads of officers until a whole company was detailed within two blocks bounded by Desplaines and Halstead streets. The injured are: Hugh Murray, Richard Porter, E. J. Proctor and Roger Converse.

The trouble began at 6.30 o'clock. The headquarters of the 18th Ward Silver Democrats and Republicans are nearly opposite each other, and the crowds which hang about both places came together three times before midnight.

Both Sides Claim Iowa.

Des Moines, Nov. 1.—The campaign in Iowa closed last night. It has been the

The lion-hunter needs steady nerves. If he misses the lion's eye, his life is surely lost. The Bon-hunter is not the only man who needs steady nerves. The business man nowadays needs them. He must have them if he would bear the strain of business competition and be successful. A man with shaky nerves stands a mighty poor show in the business world of to-day, where he must hit the bull's-eye of fierce competition many times in a day. Steady nerves are dependent upon pure blood, and to have pure blood one must have a perfect digestion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery goes to the seat of the trouble. It is not a sedative. It makes the nerves steady by furnishing them with proper nutriment. It corrects all disorders of the digestion. It invigorates the liver. It makes the blood rich and pure in nutriment. The nerves receive their proper nourishment from the blood and soon become strong and steady. Business men recognize the value of the "Golden Medical Discovery" and thousands have testified to its virtues. Druggists sell it.

"Having suffered for several years with indigestion," writes: Samuel Walker, Esq., of Parkesburg, Chester Co., Pa., "I concluded to try your valuable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After taking five bottles I was entirely cured. I also suffered from bladder trouble, which was also cured by the 'Discovery.' I feel like a new man."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is a book of 1,008 pages and over three hundred illustrations, some of them colored, all fully explained. This book is free. It has been selling for $1.50. Now you may have it in all its usefulness, and in strong paper covers, for 21 one-cent stamps, which pays the cost of customs and mailing only, or in cloth binding for 50 stamps. MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1896.

THE COBOURG POST OFFICE.

The Toronto World has the following to say respecting the alleged purchase of the Cobourg postmastership for a brother of Mr. George Guillet, the sitting Conservative member:—

"The politicians are having a nice piece of scandal in connection with the Cobourg postoffice. * * * The charge is made that Mr. Guillet, member for the West Riding of Northumberland, was a party to the payment of $1,000 in order to create a vacancy in the postermastership of Cobourg, and that the said vacancy was created in order to give the appointment to his brother. This is only one of a number of scandals in connection with postoffice appointments by members to relatives, and the result in each case has been to ower the tone of Parliamentary life in this country. * * * *

Even Mr. Guillet, so far as The World knows, is a very estimable man in the community in which he lives, has always been a staunch Conservative, and enjoyed the respect of his fellow-members, but if the charge made against him by his political opponents and brought out in evidence at Cobourg on Thursday is substantiated, his conduct in connection with the Manitoba school question may be open to the imputation of not being disinterested. One of the unfortunate developments of that school question was the defeat of the Conservative party when such defeat was altogether unnecessary if the party had been well advised, and another result that attracted general attention was that quite a number of Conservatives from Ontario who voted for the Remedial bill either retired into office or retired from public life, or had office given to their relatives. There were still others who were promised offices who did not get them. We have no doubt that Mr. Guillet, through his devotion to the party, suffered considerable loss to his business and great inconvenience to himself, but the bestowal of the patronage at his disposal on his relatives was a wrong way to even up in the matter."

The World's reference to Mr. Guillet having made sacrifices is ingenuous enough, and if the fact is established that he wished to provide for a member of his family by purchasing the retirement of the incumbent with a view of being recouped out of the emoluments of the office, then we have West Northumberland wheeling into line with East Northumberland in the matter of trafficing in public offices. The enterprise of Mr. Edward Cochrane, in the east riding of Northumberland, in converting several petty offices into profitable sources of revenue for campaign funds, was upon a different scale, but the offence was the same—making traffic of public office for the purpose of adding to the party funds. The East Northumberland affair has never been repented of by the Conservative party, for though Mr. Cochrane was plainly proven guilty of the charge of buying appointments the public service in cold cash, the partisan committee that condemned the transactions did not condemn Mr. Cochrane—he was whitewashed and retained his seat, which he still holds. If the charge practically made against Mr. Guillett is sustained as unmistakeably as a somewhat similar charge against Mr. Cochrane was brought home, then in respect of "dickering" in public offices, West Northumberland, the pot, cannot call East Northumberland, the kettle, black.

THOUGH the Conservative reorganization is mainly inspired with a view of getting access to the spoils of office, it must not be forgotten that Sir Charles chief aim is to get Lord Aberdeen's head. He can never forgive the Governor General for standing in the way of the Conservative Government holding office after it had been discharged by the people.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S programme is a great one. One plank of it is to get Lord Aberdeen out of the office of Governor-General, and another is to get Conservative municipal councillors elected all over the country.

NOVEMBER CHEESE.

The Butter and Cheese Association Decides to Discourage its Manufacture.

The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association means to do what is possible to discourage the manufacture of November cheese. For this purpose a special meeting of the Association was held at the Board of Trade Thursday afternoon. Mr. A. W. Grant presided, and there was a large attendance. It was the general opinion that by discontinuing the manufacture of November cheese the farmers of this country would, no doubt, be greatly benefitted by higher prices next spring for their grass cheese. The few coppers that they would make by the manufacture of November cheese would be lost in the spring, and a great deal more besides as the November article not only hurts the consumption, but added a weight to the market that it was very difficult to get relieved of. Mr. Arthur Hodgson moved "That a committee of three be appointed to draw up a circular discouraging the manufacture of November cheese, and at the same time placing before the factorymen all the advantages to be gained by discontinuing the manufacture of November as well as spring fodders" This was seconded by Mr. James Alexander, and after some discussion was carried.

The president named Messrs. A. Hodgson, P. W. McLagan and John McKergow as the committee to draw up the circular.

THE TRIAL FIENDS.

Wheelmen After Records Everywhere—Johnson and Michael Go to New Orleans—At Brantford.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 31.—John S. Johnson had to be content to-day with the three fastest miles ever ridden in one day. He lowered the three-quarter mile mark of 1.15 3-5, held by Wells, and made at Coronada, to 1.13 2-5. One attempt at a mile record this morning was in 1.42, and the first this afternoon in 1.40. The second was in 1.41. The day was fine, but the wind was contrary, blowing across the track and in gusts. The first half was made in 49 this morning, and in 49 for the first trial and 48 for the second this afternoon. Failure was due to the fact that the men have raced every evening this week, and made record trials every morning and afternoon.

Owing to the horse races the coming week Cumberland Park track must be abandoned, and the team leaves for New Orleans Monday, where Michael will be sent for all records from three miles to the 100, and Johnson for the shorter marks. Ten records have fallen before the team at this track.

The record breakers smashed three bicycle records yesterday afternoon, though the team was not as successful as on former days in making a clean sweep of everything tried for. The records broken were the one-half mile, unpaced, tandem, the time being made by Phillips and Brady, in 51 1-5, breaking the record of 52 4-5, made by Terrill and Taylor. John S. Johnson made a try for the one-quarter, paced, record of 23 4-5, made by Stephens, and knocked it out, making the distance in 23 2-5. Phillips and Wing then went out after the one-quarter mile, tandem, record, making the world's record 22 2-5.

RECORDS WITH THE WIND.

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 31.—The record-breaking contests were continued to-day at Parkdale Driving Park. The receipts went for the benefit of R. E. Axton, the injured 25-mile amateur champion. The track was faster than ever, but owing to a gale of wind the riders attempted to break no records over a quarter of a mile. With the exception of about 20 yards at the start, they were assisted by a 40-mile an hour gale. Two Canadian records were broken and also a world's tandem record. Tucker and Boake are the best tandem team in Canada. To-day for the second dtime within one week, they broke a world's record, riding one-quarter mile, flying start, in 24 4-5 seconds. Angus McLeod has now rounded to his old time form, and to-day proved himself to be the fastest sprinter in Canada by riding one-quarter mile, flying start, paced by two tandems, in the remarkable time of 24½ seconds. Fred Westbrooke broke Harley Davidson's paced quarter-mile standing start record 3-5 of a second, riding the distance in 28 4-5.

FELL 250 FEET AND LIVES

Awful Drop of a Section Boss Who Lost His Balance on a Train While Crossing a Bridge.

New York, Nov. 1.—Charles A Heaganey of Bound Brook, N. J., fell from the rear of a Lehigh Valley passenger train Thursday night as it was passing over Green's Bridge, N. J., and dropped to the tow-path of the canal below, a sheer fall of 250 feet. He is still alive in St. Luke's Hospital, South Bethlehem, Pa.

Heaganey is a middle-aged man and railroad section boss. He went to Easton, Pa., Thursday night and took part in the sound money parade. He started for his home on the special train which left about midnight. It was crowded and he stood on the rear platform of the train. As it was passing over Green's Bridge he lost his balance and fell.

How he escaped instant death is marvelous. He lay on the bank until yesterday morning at 7 o'clock, when he was found by Conductor Bigley, who was returning from Perth Amboy with the empty coaches. One leg was broken, three ribs were fractured, one eye was cut, and Heaganey received internal injuries that may prove fatal.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Lorne Paradis in Trying to Save a Horse From a Burning Barn Lost His Own Life.

Tavistock, Ont., Nov. 1.—A fire attended with fatal consequences occurred on the farm of Michael Paradis, about four miles southeast of this village in East Zorra, about 7 o'clock last evening. His 16-year-old son Lorne went to the barn to do chores, and by some means unknown set fire to the building. The young man bravely ran a buggy out of the building, and then undertook to take out the horses from a box-stall in a distant corner. Here he was evidently smothered and burned, as his body was found where the stall had been, along with that of the horse. The father is working at Murphy's station near Owen Sound, where he was informed of the calamity by telephone later in the evening.

Blaze and Accident at Georgetown.

Georgetown, Ont., Oct. 31.—About noon to-day fire damaged the residence of Mr. Wm. Forgraves at Glenwilliams to the extent of $200; no insurance.

During the exertions of the citizens to put out the fire, Mr. Ben Williams fell off the roof, receiving severe injuries, including a fracture of the ankle.

MR. CAMMELL ACQUITTED.

The Simcoe Sensation Has Petered Out in Pretty Short Order.

Simcoe, Ont., Oct. 30.—The case of Mrs. Ben Cammell was dismissed by the Police Magistrate to-day, there not being sufficient evidence produced to commit.

Codfish Took a Drop.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 30.—The price of Newfoundland fish dropped 70 cents per quintal in the Portuguese markets yesterday, owing largely to French and Norwegian competition. This will further accentuate the prevailing depression here and widen the area of probable distress during the coming winter. Fish dealers are very apprehensive of the consequences of a collapse in this market.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

OFFICE—FURNITURE WAREROOMS

THE EVE OF BATTLE.

most active and absorbing the State ever knew. Both sides conducted vigorous and well-organized campaigns. The Republicans claim the State by 75,000, and the Democrats say they will carry it by 15,000 to 25,000. Common opinion is that the Republicans will safely carry the State. The Republicans claim every one of the 11 Congressmen; the Democrats claim they have good chances to carry five. Indications are the Republicans are practically sure of nine and that the Democrats have fighting chances for two.

Claims West Virginia for Republicans.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Chairman William C. Dawson of the Republican Committee claims West Virginia by 15,000 and Chairman Andrew Edmiston of the Democratic Committee by from 8000 to 10,000. The chances seem favorable to the Republicans, as they have had the best organization in the history of the State, while the Democrats have had scarcely any.

Boss Sheehan Sizes it Up

New York, Oct. 31.—Mr. John C. Sheehan, the leader of Tammany Hall organization, this evening issued a statement, in which he said: "Knowing the desertions from our ranks, knowing the fact that capitalists of the entire country are arrayed against us, we are satisfied that our efforts will be crowned with victory, and that William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall will carry New York by a substantial majority. The Democratic candidates represent the cause of the people, and Tammany in this battle, as it has ever been, is on the side of the people."

Ballot Boxes With False Bottoms.

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 1.—The Republican and Populist State chairmen to-day sent out circulars saying they have information that nearly 200 ballot boxes with false bottoms have been made in Baltimore and shipped to this State for use next Tuesday.

California Claimed for McKinley.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—The Republican State Central Committee claims the State for the McKinley electors. The Democratic and Populist party committees claim that the State will go for Bryan with 30,000 majority, even after allowing 10,000 votes for the gold Democrats. The Legislature is claimed by both sides, but it is generally believed that the result will be close.

Utah Conceded to Bryan.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 1.—It is conceded that the Democratic, Silver Republicans and Populist fusion of the Bryan electors will carry the State by an overwhelming majority, that the McKinley electors may get 20 per cent. of the votes to be cast, and that the Palmer-Buckner electors will do well if they get 1 per cent. of the total vote.

Dakota for Sound Money.

Yankton, S.D., Oct. 31.—The campaign in South Dakota closed to-day. The Republican managers claim a majority of 10,000 for McKinley. The fusionists, Democrats and Populists, declare that they will have a majority, but do not give any figures. Chairman Elliot of the Republican State Central Committee estimates the election of 93 out of 126 members of the State Legislature, and thereby claims the election of a sound money Republican to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Kyle, Populist.

Nebraska is Doubtful.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—The most exciting and stubbornly-contested political campaign in the history of Nebraska virtually closed to-night, with big meetings at nearly all the larger towns of the State. Conservative men generally admit that the contest will be close. Chairman Post claims the State for McKinley by 18,000 and insists that John H. MacColl, for Governor, will fare as well. Chairman Edmiston, for the Populists, and Chairman Dahlman, for the Democrats, whose interests are identical, place the plurality of Bryan and Holcolm, for Governor, as a result of fusion, at 25,000.

Bryan on Hanna's Estimate.

Osceola, Oct. 31.—When Mr. Bryan was shown the table published in the morning papers as the estimate of Chairman Hanna of the Republican National Committee, and asked if he had anything to say as to its correctness, he made this answer: "I shall leave the National Committees to issue estimates, but if I were to express an opinion upon his (Mr. Hanna's) table, I should say that fully one-half of the electoral votes which he counts upon will be found in the free silver column. Unless the reports which come to us from various States are entirely erroneous, we shall have considerably more than 300 electoral votes."

Mr. Bryan also stated that he was confirmed in the opinion, uttered some time ago, that the study of the money question had increased the number of Republicans who would support free silver, and had decreased the number of gold standard Democrats.

Fusion in Kansas.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 31.—The three headquarters of the Democrats, Populists and Republicans, were practically closed to-night. The Democrats and Populists, who have fused on the State, electoral and Congressional ticket, claim the State by not less than 20,000. The Republican managers issued a statement to-night, in which the electoral vote of Kansas is claimed for McKinley by 10,000 majority.

Indiana Claimed for Bryan.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—The campaign in Indiana closed to-night with a big demonstration by both parties in this city. Chairman Martin of the Democratic State Committee figures that Bryan will carry the State by 40,000. The Republican managers claim the State by from 50,000 to 60,000.

Colorado Solid for Bryan.

Denver, Oct. 31.—Indications are that Bryan will carry Colorado by a majority of 100,000. Senator Wolcott, who leaves the McKinley forces, hopes to secure 50,000 votes, but the Bryan members will not concede McKinley more than 25,000, which would give Bryan over 100,000 majority.

Wyoming Pretty Close.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 1.—While the silver sentiment is strong in this State and the chances are in favor of a victory for the fusion ticket, the majority will not probably be more than 1000.

Bryan Sure of Texas.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 1.—J. W. Blake, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, says that Bryan and Sewall will undoubtedly carry Texas by at least 80,000 majority.

Horsemen Thrown Down.

Uhrichsville, O., Nov. 1.—While the Republican parade was crossing the Logan-street bridge in Dennison yesterday the bridge collapsed, carrying 25 horsemen with it. All were injured, but none fatally. One horse was killed.

Both Sides Claim Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 1.—Conservative Republican managers estimate McKinley's majority at from 5000 to 6000, while the fusionists claim the State for Bryan by from 2000 to 3000.

Republicans Claim North Dakota.

Fargo, N.D., Oct. 31.—The Republicans claim the State at this time by between 2000 and 5000 majority.

Florida for Bryan.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 31.—Indications are that Florida will give her four electoral votes to Bryan and Sewall next week and will poll a very full vote.

DISASTERS AT SEA.

Crew of a British Vessel Picked Up—A Captain Washed Overboard.

London, Nov. 1.—The British steamer Pecona, Capt. Mills, which arrived at Gibraltar to-day from New York, landed the crew of the British barque Udshire, Capt. Dennis, from Bridgewater, N.S., for Port Antonio, The Udshire was previously reported as abandoned at sea.

The British steamer Isle Worth, from Pensacola, via North Sydney, N.S., arrived at Newcastle, Eng., to-day. Her commander, Captain Matthews was washed overboard and drowned off Dunnet Head during the heavy weather experienced off that point.

WE WANT TO KNOW.

Not a Single Reply to our Question—Not a Failure to Cure—A Half-Million Users of Dodd's Kidney Pills Satisfied.

Toronto, Nov. 2 (Special)—Without a single reply, for over two years, we have advertised this question:—"Does anyone, anywhere, know of any case wherein Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure any kidney disease at any stage?"

We estimate that a half million people must have joined in using the two and a half million boxes already sold in Canada, and yet not a single complaint—not one failure to cure.

Now, reader, here's one for you:—Do you know of a death from kidney disease or of heart failure, the victim having used Dodd's Kidney Pills?

SALISBURY IS FOR ABSTINENCE.

The British Premier Will Remain Unshaken on That Question.

New York, Nov. 1.—A London correspondent cables: "In one respect alone does Lord Salisbury seem likely to remain unchanged to the end. He has been for years the most influential advocate of total abstinence in England, and his speeches this week show that, on this point at least, he will stand unshaken. That he will be able to secure any legislation in the direction of enforced temperance, let alone of prohibition, is, however, entirely unlikely. Several members of the present Government are personally friendly to the temperance cause, but the Tory party as a whole would revolt at the mere whisper of such an idea as attacking the brewers and tide-house interests."

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

W. H. CUDNEY, Port Burwell, Ont., says—"I was afflicted with Rheumatism and tried all cures. I did not get relief until I tried Miller's Compound Iron Pills, and before I had finished two boxes I was completely cured, and now feel like a different man." Only 25 cents a box. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in:—

Pogue Released on Bail.

Police Magistrate Dumble committed Charles Pogue for trial this morning on a charge of false pretenses, the particulars of which appeared in Saturday's EXAMINER. He was released on bail, himself for $200, and two sureties of $100 each.

A Sad Case.

Richard Tice, an old gentleman with the frost of fully eighty summers on his hair and whiskers, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy this morning, stating that he had no home, no friends and no work. He accepted a six months sentence with a smile, as he is now sure of a warm home for the winter.

Palms.

A fine assortment of palms from Holland has just been received at the West End greenhouse, Park street (at the residence of G. M. Roger). These palms have graceful shapes, perfect leaves and are hardy plants. No better house plant grown ; withstands cold, dust, gas or neglect better than any other. 6d

Deer Hunting.

The law requiring deer hunters in Ontario to take out a license has not unnaturally been looked on with much disfavour by the settlers in the north country to whom their supply of venison is a very important affair. This has been represented to Hon. Mr. Gibson, who has notified the game wardens that the license clause of the act will not be enforced against settlers.

Sale of Bakery and Confectionary Business by Auction.

On Saturday next, at two o'clock, Mr. John Haggart will sell en bloc by public auction the bakery and confectionary business of Mr. John C. Craig, George street. Mr. Craig is retiring from business in Peterborough on account of ill health and this affords an excellent opportunity for some person to drop into a good paying business already established and in a very flourishing condition.

A New Broker Business.

As will be seen by reference to a card in another part of this issue Messrs. W. J. Anderson & Co. have opened an office, as commission agents, in the new Bank of Commerce building, Hunter street, and will deal in Chicago grain, and New York, stocks. Mr. W. Trickey will have charge of the local branch of the Toronto business as soon as Mr. Anderson has placed the affairs of the local office in smooth running order. Mr. Anderson and his firm in Toronto have a reputation in the city for fair dealing, which will, we are sure, characterise the transactions intrusted to the care of the local branch.

MR. GUILLETT SERVED.

The Absent Witness in the Cobourg Post Office Investigation Found on Stony Lake.

In the EXAMINER on Saturday a summary was given of the report of the investigation into the alleged purchase of the resignation of the postmaster of Cobourg in order to permit the Government, before the elections, to appoint Charles Guillett, brother of Mr. Geo. Guillett, the Conservative candidate and the present sitting member.

On Saturday Constable Orr, of Cobourg, came to town with a subpoenas to be served on Mr. Guillett requiring his attendance at the investigation which is to be resumed on Nov. 13th.

In company with Constable Cochrane Mr. Orr drove to Burleigh Falls. Here a canoe was taken and the two proceeded to Mr. Guillett's summer cottage about a mile and a half from the Falls. Mr. Guillett was not found at home but a little further search resulted in his being located at the Island of Mr. Levi Payne, of Lakefield, the two being engaged in fishing and shooting, and the service of Mr. Guillett was made without further difficulty. As the reader will remember, the investigation was adjourned to Nov. 13th to secure Mr. Guillett's attendance, and on that date we shall be able to get additional light upon a very peculiar transaction.

CRIMINAL LIBEL SUIT.

Mr. Robt. W. Payne, of Dummer, is the Plaintiff.

Mr. W. H. Robertson was in court this morning as editor and publisher of the Morning Times, charged with publishing a defamatory libel, calculated to injure the character of Robt. Payne, of Dummer, and also to prejudice his case in a suit which was being brought against him by Ada Dwyer by her father, Wm. Dwyer, for attempted assault.

Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., acting for Mr. Robertson, stated that an apology had been published expressing regret at the insertion of the article, and that any future apology which might be required would be cheerfully given.

Mr. Payne stated that he had read the apology, but did not consider it strong enough to vindicate him. He denied in toto the charges which were brought against him in the suit mentioned.

The hearing was enlarged until Friday next in order that an opportunity might be afforded the parties concerned to settle the matter before evidence was taken, Mr. Payne demanding a fuller retraction.

Mr. E. B. Edwards represented the plaintiff.

HE WAS FROM PETERBOROUGH.

And Got "Done up" for Twenty Dollars in Toronto.

The Toronto Globe says: Auguste Johnston, comes from Germany, and has not been in this country very long. He came from Peterborough on Friday, and met on the train a very companionable man who said that he also had the Fatherland for a birthplace. On arriving at the Union the two went to the Albion Hotel where they put up for the night. On Saturday Johnston's friend had to pay some insurance money, and he borrowed $20, giving as security a gold watch, which turned out to be made of brass. He also offered a check for $1,000, but Johnston did not like to take this. Although the man promised to return in a short time, neither he nor the $20 turned up, and Johnston complained to the police, who are now on the lookout for the stranger.

That Street Fight.

James Carr and John Miller were before the magistrate, this morning, charged with being disorderly on the street, as the outcome of a fracas on the corner of Hunter and George streets on Thursday afternoon. Miller plead guilty and was fined one dollar. The charge as against Carr was dismissed, but as he has a black eye as the result of the scuffle things are considered even. Miller has been bound over to keep the peace.

Bad For the Lawyers.

Whatever the cause may be, it is a fact that Osgoode Hall is beginning to take on the characteristics of a deserted village. Two years ago an average of 14 writs were issued daily at Osgoode hall, now the average is between four and six writs per day. The litigation to-day is no more than half the litigation two years ago. People are beginning to learn that ten litigants are impoverished for every suitor who is enriched at Osgoode Hall. There is an ever-growing tendency to settle disputes without an appeal to the courts. And no matter how the lawyers may regret, the facts forbode a sign of legal decay.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest fullest of promise ! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which the doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

Send 21 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

ST. JOHN'S ANNIVERSARY.

Festival of the Re-Opening of the Church—Special Services During the Day—Large Congregations Present.

Fourteen years ago yesterday, All Saints' Day, the restored church of St. John's was re-opened for Divine worship, and yesterday the anniverary festival was observed.

There were special services, and at all these services there was a good attendance —especially in the evening. At 8 a. m. there was the service of Holy Communion ; at 10 a. m., Morning Prayer, and at 11 o'clock another service of Holy Communion with sermon by the Rector. The sermon had special reference to the occasion celebrated and the happy co-incidence of the anniversary of the re-opening and of All Saints' Day was treated of. While dealing with the associations of communion between the living and the sainted departed, the speaker's remarks had a deep effect on very many present, to whom the circumstances appealed with more or less personal directness. A very large number communicated at this service. The music was special and of a high order.

At 3 30 o'clock a largely attended children's service was held.

In the evening there was an overflowing attendance. The evening services at the mission had been merged with that of St. John's, and besides there were large numbers from the congregations of St. Luke's and other congregations in the town.

The music at this service was particularly attractive and the service throughout was a bright and hearty one, in sympathy with the gladsome nature of the occasion. The preacher was Rev. Carl Smith, of the mission, who on this occasion preached his last sermon, for the present, in Peterborough. Before announcing his text he desired to take occasion to thank the people for all the kindness he had experienced at their hands, and hoped that he, and Mrs. Smith would be held in their memory and receive the prayers for success in their new field of labour.

Rev. Mr. Smith took for his text St. Luke, chap. 1. v. 4, "Launch out into the deep," and Hebrews, chap. xii, v. 1, "Wherefore, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses." The speaker dealt with the call to work implied in his first text, and the incentives furnished by the examples of the great cloud of witnesses referred to in the second text. He elaborated these ideas in in a sermon of unusual force and eloquence impressing the deep and solemn lessons the subject suggested.

The church was beautifully decorated for the day, the altar, chancel, rails, pulpit and lectern being swathed with festoons of the snowy chrysantheum.

The music throughout the day was special and very effectively presented, particularly the offertory anthem in the evening.

HAVELOCK METHODIT CHURCH.

The New Edifice was Dedicated Yesterday.

Havelock, Nov. 1—The new Methodist church here, was formally dedicated to-day by Rev. Dr. Carman, D.D., General Superintendent of Conference, assisted by Rev. Mr. Campbell, president Bay of Quinte, Conference ; Rev. Mr. Sanderson, Blairton; Rev. J. A. McCamus, Norwood, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. McQuade.

Rev. Dr. Carman preached in the morning from Deut. 10, 14 :

"Thou shalt remember the Lord that He made the rich."

Rev. Mr. Campbell delivered the sermon in the afternoon, and Rev. Dr. Carman spoke again in the evening.

The building is a brick one with stone foundations, 38x66 in size, and is furnished very uniquely, the interior being very handsome. Nearly all the equipments and furniture were purchased from the merchants of the village, and about all the labour and contracting was also done by Havelock residents. The architect, Mr. Jos. Knox, deserves great credit for the erection of the whole structure.

The choir, under the leadership of Mr. E. Williams, and Mrs. Dodd, organist, led the praise service in a most praiseworthy manner, and the special music prepared and rendered by them was excellent, especially the sole parts which were taken by Miss E. Mark, soprano, Mrs. Ackerman, alto, Mr. J. A. Courtice, tenor, and Mr. E. Williams, bass.

The whole edifice cost $4,500, of which there is yet $1,600 to raise. An endeavour will be made to wipe out that amount at once. The building committee is composed of Messrs. A. Meill, J. Rose, R. Ritchie, J. Wiseman and J. Mark. A grand tea is being held to-night (Monday.)

ALL SAINTS' IN DOURO.

High Mass Celebrated by Rev. Father Phelan—Special Music.

Rev. Father Phelan, who is in charge of the Douro parish during the absence of Rev. Father Kielty, celebrated high mass yesterday morning in St. Joseph's church. The choir was composed of a number from St. Peter's Cathedral, assisted by Mr. Thos. Dunn. Peters' Mass in D was sung in perfect harmony and fine effect, and during the offertory Mr. Dunn sang Clifton's "Ecce Deus," in which his rich baritone voice was heard to great advantage. Fev. Father Phelan delivered a most appropriate sermon on Gospel of the day, and a great many children partook of the communion.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH NOTES.

The Ladies' Aid, Women's Auxiliary and Young Women's Chapter of the Guild are all busily engaged in preparation for the annual sale of work and tea, which will be held on Thursday, Dec. 3rd.

It is proposed to form a branch of the W. A. amongst the country members of St. Luke's parish. A meeting for this purpose will be held at Mrs. Sedgwick's house next Thursday.

The newly formed company of the Church Boys' Brigade initiated six new members at their last meeting. Much enthusiasm prevails amongs the lads.

The congregations in St. Luke's yesterday were large at both morning and evening services. The choir is much improved and the congregation greatly appreciate their earnest efforts to render the service bright and hearty. The number of communicants yesterday morning was larger than on any Sunday (except the great festivals) since Mr. Symonds' incumbency.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

A junior Rugby team of Peterborough badly defeated a team from "the Grove" school, Lakefield, on the P.A.A.A. grounds, Saturday afternoon. By the way the boys of the local team made ground it is evident that Peterborough will be at the top of the ladder in Rugby football before many years. The score is understood to have been 78-1 in favour of the town.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Charles Thompson, of Otonabee, on Saturday.

The death of Jessie Glendenning, wife of Charles Thompson, took place on Saturday afternoon of old age at the family homestead, lot 25, concession 8, Otonabee, after an illness of two months.

The deceased was 82 years of age and was born in Roxburgshire, Scotland. She was married in 1835 and came to Canada seven years later. After living for a year in Baltimore, Northumberland county, the family moved to Otonabee, where they have resided since that time, attending St. Andrew's church. Mrs. Thompson bore nine children to her husband—seven sons and two daughters, the latter of whom are dead. Of the sons, three reside in Peterborough County, one in Thorboro and three in California.

The funeral took place this afternoon at half past one to the Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. J. G. Potter conducting the service.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards, two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.

A Sore

These Fine Days; Wall Papers.

The spanking list of low prices at which we are selling our Wall Papers is inducement enough, surely. Even at this time of the year with goods right and prices low enough we can sell without much of an effort.

Wall Papers are as saleable now as at any time, only you pay less. Thanks to the present fine weather and our good fortune in buying, you pay VERY MUCH LESS.

The money saving hobby is in active operation here all the time.

We've planned for a few more days of brisk Wall Paper selling, while the present fine weather continues. We are making the cost so insignificant it ought to be an inducement to re-paper one room if not the entire house :

600 Rolls of Wall Paper, finished in metal colourings, suitable for bedrooms, kitchens, dining rooms and halls, with 6 and 9 in. border to match, regular price 7c and 8c, sale price this week only..... .5

800 Rolls of American and Canadian Gilts and Glimmers, in newest designs, for halls, parlours, sitting rooms and bedrooms, with matched border, 9 and 18 inches wide, regular price 10c, sale price this week only..... .6

400 Rolls Glimmer Wall Paper, with ceilings to match, new designs, suitable for parlors, bedroom, sitting rooms, etc, usually sold at 10c and 12½c, this week only..... .7

700 Rolls Gilt Wall Paper, with ceilings to match, conventional patterns, in light and medium colours, suitable for parlours, sitting rooms, children's rooms, etc., usually sold at 12½c and 15c per single roll, this week only..... .8

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1896.

THEIR TENTH ANNUAL DINNER.

The A. O. of the R. B. K. of the C. S. Club held held their 10th annual dinner in their handsome parlours, Ashburnham, on Wednesday evening last. It was without doubt one of the greatest events of the kind of the season. Mr. M. Costello was master of ceremonies during the evening, and the music was supplied by Prof. Drain's string orchestra. The handsome parlours were artistically decorated with flags, bunting, stringers, Chinese lanterns, festoons and clusters of evergreen and maple boughs intermingled together. The tables were adorned with calla lilies, sweet-scented geraniums and chrysanthemums, and illuminated with Chinese lanterns of handsome design, making it, with the richly set tables most striking and pleasing to the eye.

Covers were laid for fifty members and their friends. At the head of the main table sat the newly-elected president, Mr. Wm. Croft, at his right was President H. Neill, and at the left Vice-President Steve Holland. Other members present were Secretary Bert Wallace, Treasurer Peter Corkery, Chaplain Joseph McGowan, Adam Davidson, standard bearer; M. J. Costello, organist; Alex. Patterson, custodian of the C. S.; Messrs. Billy Warrington, Capt. Jim O'Shea, Robt. Butcher and W. Guy, Dan Foley, James Drain, Wm. Gibbs, Jack Lacheur, Sam Adams, W. J. Scott, Wm. Crane.

Every chair being filled, supper was partaken of. The following is the MENU.

At the conclusion of the repast a brief address was given by Hon. President Croft, who stated that he was proud to think that he was made Hon President of so flourishing a club as the A. O. of the R. B. K. of the C. S. C., and proud of its enterprise and success, showing that the lodge is appreciated as well as the officers, who are to be congratulated on the ever-gaining popularity of the knights. The remainder of the evening was spent in music, mirth and song, and was opened by an eloquent, humourous recitation by the Hon. President, entitled "Spread Eagle's lawyer's address to the jury in behalf of having killed a man." 'Tis needless to make any comment upon the reciter as he is familiarly known as an elocutionist of much merit. No shorthand reporter was necessary, as his utterances were too fast for a phonograph to catch. The next number was a song from Grand Organizer Foley—"Will you love me when I'm old." It was well received. Mr. Foley sang in splendid voice and was heartily encored. The president, Harry Neil, after a few remarks as to the standing of the club, financially and otherwise, by special request sang in his usual good form "A Handful of Earth," and, on being encored, gave his renowned stump speech "The Silver Question down South," which caused a great deal of merriment. It was followed by a song and dance by Messrs. Gibbs and Wallace, entitled "Dancing in the Barn." At this juncture the three rings were all engaged. "Some day I'll wander back again" was well rendered by Organizer Foley. Bob Butcher's song, "Walking and Talking," was indeed the song of the evening. Adam Davidson gave a song entitled "Mother's Letter," followed by a song from Frank Vinnette "The Three Jolly Coopers." Being encored he recited "The Bung Hole and the Chine." Here Mr. Peter Corkery, the secretary of the club, was called upon for the rendition of his famous song "The Skipper," which was effectively sung in a ship shape manner. Being recalled he recited "Mary's Lamb," which created a deal of laughter. Next came a recitation from Hon. President Croft, entitled "A Love Letter," by J. R. McCullogh, of Port Hope, 1847, which is founded on facts, as the author is well known by the older settlers. Mr. Croft has the original document and intends having it set to music. Mr. Foley then sang "Bless My Boy at Sea," in his usual good style.

In conclusion the Hon. President thanked the members for the honour conferred upon him, and hoped that he would have the pleasure of again presiding at the next annual supper. He regretted that owing to other counter attractions such as the banquet tendered the Minister of Railways and Canals, he missed his friend Mr. Thomas Cahill, the late grand organizer of the club. He also regretted the absence of Domino Carlos LeBrun, M. A. Jamison, Dad Sanderson, Billy Creamer, Sam Campbell, Jack Jay, and Fred Lund.

The banquet came to an end with singing of "Good Night Roll Along," and "God Save the Queen."

—Town Council to-night.

—The Ashburnham council meets this evening.

—Glorious weather for wheeling on the country roads.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held to-morrow evening.

—The town was unusually quiet on Saturday night considering that it was All Hallowe'en.

—Chrysanthemums, the Queen of autumn, is now holding sway over numerous flower shows throughout the country.

—The Provincial board of health have traced several cases of typhoid fever to different summer resorts.

—A great deal of counterfeit money, principally small coin, is in circulation in the western part of the province.

—The Harry Neil hunting party leaves to-morrow morning for the battlefield, and will pitch camp at Roach's Point, Rice Lake.

—Mr. "Andy" Paterson, of the Edison Works, has been receiving the congratulations of his friends on the addition of a new incandescent light in his family circle.

—Inspector Murray, of the provincial detective force, says that all the country is full of crooks. He expects to hear of many burglaries in the next few months.

—Major Henry Gray, C.E., Toronto, was in Port Hope, yesterday, inspecting the harbour. We understand that he recommends that an expenditure of $1,000 be made in repairs.

—The Orangemen of Baillieboro and surrounding districts are giving a fowl supper and entertainment on Nov. 5th. The boys out there know a good thing and how to entertain properly.

—You can buy 30 pounds of the best light brown sugar for one dollar at J. Giles' grocery. Surprising how cheap he sells. Just ask the price of other things when you are getting your sugar.

Teachers holding third-class certificates wishing to obtain second-class certificates must do so this year, otherwise they will come under the new regulations, and will be compelled to study two or three languages.

—Mr. Wm. Armstrong, North Dummer, had his house and barns destroyed by fire Friday evening. The house was newly built and the furniture nearly new. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp.

—In St. Mary's over five hundred women have pledged themselves to do their Saturday shopping early enough to enable business men to close their stores at eight o'clock. A similar arrangement might be of advantage here.

—Mr. Jack Frost, of the Hartley-Frost hunting party, Rice Lake, was in town Saturday with fourteen brace of duck for disposal. The two have thirty-eight brace to their credit, as the result of a two weeks' shoot.

—Inspector McEwan, of the Windsor Humane Society, has notified owners of horses that they must not leave their animals on the street unblanketed, on pain of prosecution. Who looks after these matters in Peterborough?

—Weather prophets base their prognostications of the heavy winter ahead on the height of the ragweed growing about. The weeds are from two to three feet high, and an old adage is recalled which says that the snow will fall as deep as the ragweeds are tall.

—A big pile of foreign looking baggage in front of the Golden Lion, this morning, indicated that another representative of the Kidderminster carpet industries was in town and was giving Mr. Fair a call. It is understood that the agent will receive such an order as will send him away with a very cheerful countenance.

—To-morrow night the "Fast Mail," one of Lincoln J. Carter's great spectacular plays, will be the attraction at the Opera House. This company appeared here last season and gave great satisfaction, the scenery being the finest that has ever been seen here. The prices have been reduced to 25, 35 and 50c. United States election returns will be read from the stage.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. J. Hall was in Port Hope Saturday.

Mr. Ed. Roy, of Belleville, is in town visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Roy, Stewart street. Ed. has just recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

The marriage of Captain George Kirkpatrick, son of the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, with Miss M. Denniston, daughter of the late J. F. Denniston, of Peterborough, and granddaughter of the late Judge Denniston, is arranged to take place next month in England. His Honour, the Lieutenant-governor, intends leaving for England shortly to be present at the wedding. The wedding has been announced in Toronto.

Mr. Geo. Dies, who for the past year or so managed the local branch of the R. S. Williams' Co., left this morning to take charge of the London branch, which is the oldest and most important agency of the Company. During his residence in town Mr. Dies established the local branch, and has conducted it so successfully as to earn the present promotion. He may possibly continue to oversee the local agency for some time yet, making occasional trips to Peterborough from London. Whilst being a thorough business man, Mr. Dies has yet found time to make himself most popular in a wide circle of friends, amongst whom he will be greatly missed.

ST. JOHN'S SOUTH WARD MISSION.

Rev. Carl Smith's Last Service and Sermon.

Yesterday morning the cosy little chapel of St. John's South Ward Mission was well filled. Rev. Carl Smith, who has retired from the curacy on account of his appointment to the rectorate of St. John's church, Berlin, Ont., conducted the service and preached the sermon.

He prefaced the sermon with a few remarks of a valedictory nature to the congregation, expressive of his regret at the severance of the ties between the pastor and the people that had become so firmly knitted. The manner in which Mr. Smith has endeared himself to his parishoners was evidenced by the fact that many were very deeply moved during the formal announcement of his departure. Rev. Mr. Smith took for his text the 9th verse of the third chapter of Corinthians, "For we are labourers together with God. The preacher pointed out that this was a call to work for Christ and the interests of His church. He spoke especially of the needs of the mission parish in relation to the duty that lay before the parishioners. He exhorted to unity of sentiment as well as effort. He referred to the broadness of the Church of England which, while it was one in regard to essential doctrines, yet admitted of great latitude of individual independence in matter of opinion. It admitted of many schools of thought, while at the time it had a comprehensiveness as wide as the truth itself. He exhorted to the exercise of charity for the opinion of others and urged the congregation against allowing themselves to be sectarian in their church sentiments and practices.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith leave Peterborough to-morrow for Port Hope, whence they will depart on Thursday to their new field labour, and, it is pretty certain, judging by experience, of usefulness. Mr. Smith, in becoming rector, will have, of course, increased responsibility, but he has shown himself in every way fitted for such a responsibility. During his residence of a little over a year in Peterborough Rev. Mr. Smith has gathered a large circle of warm friends, who will greatly miss him, not only in church circles but in the social and literary coteries, where he occupied so prominent a place. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith leave Peterborough with the very best wishes of the people for a prosperous and happy future in their new home and sphere of labour.

EXAMINER'S SPECIAL STOCK MARKET REPORTS.

Furnished to the Latest Hour by the Special Wire of Anderson & Co., Commission Brokers.

THE EFFECT OF THE ELECTIONS ON THE MARKETS.

The following was received over the special wires of Messrs. W. J. Anderson & Co., Bank of Commerce building:

NEW YORK, 10 a.m., Nov. 2nd, 1896.—Interest in the preparations for the great sound money parade was very active on Saturday in all parts of Wall street, but this did not prevent a rousing bull market that made the supporters of McKinley feel even more confident than was the case earlier in the week. At times it was apparent that the smaller traders sought to emphasize the decline in prices in London Saturday morning but it was easily to be seen that they did not care to go home short of stocks. As a matter of fact the weakness of London on Saturday was not a significant thing, as the markets there will be closed to-day. Those dealers who desired to liquidate their speculative ventures in advance of election here did so on Saturday and the selling on the other side was therefore of just such a character as that to be looked for here to-day from timid holders of stocks who will see fit to take a certain profit. The expectation, however, is that dealings will be on an unimportant scale unless there should in the last hours of the campaign be a pronounced change in terms upon which wagers are offered on the result of the contest.

Many commission houses were of the opinion that to-day might bring considerable of such selling but brokers who watched the market closely held that there would be much relief among small holders of stocks, when they find the bank money syndicate still in the field to-day with still sufficient confidence in the outcome of the voting to induce them to continue the noble efforts of last Friday in behalf of the general situation. So great was the enthusiasm in bull circles Saturday that there was little time to discuss even the weekly showing of banks. This morning the railroads of the west will begin to operate under much improved conditions when the new agreement goes into full effect. It is believed that in a short time all the trans-Missouri roads will be compelled by force of circumstances to cast their lot with the new western freight association.

Wheat.

Liverpool, Eng., 4 p.m., Nov. 2—Wheat opened at 1½ penny higher. Corn dull and unchanged.

Chicago, 9.30 a.m., Nov. 2—Wheat opened firm at 73½c for December, and advanced one cent within an hour from the opening. At 11.30 a.m., Canadian time, December wheat is 74½c, and May wheat is 79 cents.

Live Stock.

Chicago, Nov. 2—Receipts of hogs at Union Stock yards, Chicago, for to day are 16,000, and estimated receipts of hogs for to-morrow are 12,000.

Live Stock Market.

New York, Nov 2—We had a wild opening on the New York Stock Exchange to-day. The whole list of American securities advanced from one to two cents per share in anticipation of McKinley having an overwhelming majority to-morrow.

The Wheat Supply.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Visible supply of wheat for last week:—Wheat increased 1,395,000, corn increased 1,484,000 and oats increased 955,000, as against same week last year: Total visible receipts for world—wheat, 58,670,000; corn, 19,340,000; oats, 11,731,000.

McKinley's Estimated Majority.

New York, Nov. 2nd.—It is derived from good authority that the estimated majority for McKinley for New York will be in the neighborhood of 100,000.

A CALL MADE AND ACCEPTED.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman Accepts a Call From the Murray Street Baptist Church.

Last night at the conclusion of the evening services a full meeting of the members of the Murray street Baptist church was held to discuss the subject of calling a pastor to the vacancy that has existed since the retirement of Rev. J. E. Trotter. Mr. A. E. Stanley, one of the deacons, occupied the chair.

A resolution was adopted extending a call to the pastorate of the church to Rev. A. T. Dykeman, of Digby, Nova Scotia, who has been conducting the services for the past two weeks with reference to receiving a call.

A committee was appointed to wait upon Rev. Mr. Dykeman, and tender him the call. This morning the call was accepted, and it is expected that the new pastor will be able to close up his affairs in Digby in time to arrive in Peterborough about the middle of December. It is probable that the formal induction will take place early in the new year. Rev. Mr. Dykeman, who is in the prime of life, was a former pastor at Quebec, subsequently at New Glasgow, N. S., and has been the pastor at Digby for about five years. He is a fine pulpit orator and comes highly recommended as a pastor by leading members of the Baptist church, among these Rev. Dr. Goodspeed, of McMaster University, speaking of him in terms of the warmest commendation. Rev. Mr. Dykeman left for the east at noon to-day.

November Magazines.

HOWARD'S QUAIL TRAP.

How Its Poor Little Captive Froze to Death in a Snowstorm.

Twenty years ago I was a little boy going to school. I lived in the country and the school house was a small frame building in the edge of the woods, about half a mile distant from my home. During the winter some of the older boys made traps which they set in brushy places for rabbits and quails, for there were a good many of both there at that time. The traps were attended at mornings, during the noon hour and evenings after school. Now and then a rabbit or a quail was caught by some one of the boys, much to the envy of the others.

One Saturday I made a trap, too. I had watched the older ones and knew how. It was what is called a log cabin trap, being made of narrow strips of oak, laid up two and two like a log cabin and drawn to a peak at the top, the whole held in place by a hickory bow bent over the top and tied by the ends to the two lower pieces. It is set with figure 4 triggers, the long one pointed sharp and pushed into a broken ear of corn.

In the afternoon I went to the school house, carrying my trap. There was no school, it being Saturday, but I could not wait. I was a little boy and the big oak trap was very heavy, but I tugged it across the plowed field to the woods. I rested a little in front of the empty school house, then set out to find a suitable place for my purpose.

Some distance from the school house there was a thick growth of hazel and in the midst of this I set my trap. I placed the triggers so as to fall easily, then laid grains of corn in two long rows leading away from it, placing the grains a few inches apart, so as to entice the game nearer and nearer and to final capture.

It was very quiet there among the hazel. It had been moist and warm all day and the clouds above me were heavy and hanging low. Somehow after all I did not feel as happy as I had expected. I was inclined to be tenderhearted and the thought of trapping the timid little bobwhites I think weighed on my conscience. But I consoled myself by thinking that I probably would not catch any and if I did I could let them go. Then I ran home and I believe I was more quiet than usual during the evening.

About dusk it began to snow. A few inches fell during the night, then the weather cleared and turned cold. All day Sunday it grew colder and Sunday night the thermometer fell below zero. Monday morning it was too cold for me to go to school. Tuesday morning the weather had moderated. I hurried down my breakfast and hastened to my trap. Before I got to it I could see through the brush that it was down and partially covered with snow.

My heart was beating with excitement as I ran to it and looked in between the slats. Then I raised it up and flung it back, bottom upward. I had caught a quail, just one, and it was lying there frozen—dead

I believe that as a child my imagination was unusually vivid. I could see the little creature lost from its mates, seeking food and a place of shelter from the storm; finding at last the scattered grains that led to what seemed protection; pecking at the ear until the heavy trap fell and shut it in forever; sitting there crouched down and frightened; beating against the slats or pulling nimbly at the flinty kernels that clung stubbornly to the broken ear. Colder and colder the wind and fine snow blew in through the crevices. All night it had sat there trying to get warm—perhaps by Sunday morning it had been too numb to stir—surely it had died by Sunday night.

I untied the hickory bough from the trap and kicked the oaken slats in every direction. Then I hid the little dead quail and covered it up with sticks and leaves from beneath the snow. On the way back to the schoolhouse I said a little prayer I never told of my trap and I have never set another to this day. —Howard White, in Brooklyn Eagle.

A Shark Story.

Three or four sea captains were capping stories, says London Answers, when one of them said, "Now, then, I will tell you a thing that really happened." The other men smiled, and he went on:—

"One afternoon, in the Indian Ocean, I noticed a shark swimming round the ship—a pretty bad sign, you know. The next day he was still with us, and swimming round the ship, till I got nervous and baited a hook for him.

Ringing noises in the ears, snapping, hissing, roaring, caused by catarrh, all disappear with the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George Street.

BEWARE THE BICYCLE EYE.

Are the Eyes of American Wheelwomen Beginning to Outgrow Their Sockets?

Persons who have been gently but firmly opposed to bicycling for women have ventured to suggest from time to time that this somewhat violent form of recreation left its unmistakable traces upon the delicate feminine frame. It has been broadly hinted that the harmonious proportions of the most finely formed young woman rapidly succumb to the baleful influences of bicycle riding and that the results of the unlady-like exercise appear in enlarged waist, and broader and more masculine hands, and feet of a size that is positively disgraceful. Hardly have these charges been met and defended when the watchful foe of the wheelwoman comes out with another that is much more terrifying. It is now claimed that the woman bicyclist, not only has the "bicycle face," of which we used to hear so much, but she has it in an aggravated form. Her malady is, to be exact, the "bicycle eye."

The worst feature of this malady, say those who have observed its development is that it is chronic and incurable. This makes the case well worthy of consideration and cannot fail to suggest to overzealous wheelwomen that if they persist in cultivating the stare that seems to be necessary in order to acquire speed and avoid vehicles, they may actually be menacing the future of the human race. It is easy to see that the falling off in physical beauty will be swift and sure. When all women become converted to the wheel, as they soon will, the clash and confusion of bicycles will be so great that only the cleverest will escape alive. As the most clever in taking care of themselves will be those who have cultivated the biggest stare and consequently the most bulging eyes, the transmission of this undesirable characteristic will be as inevitable as it will be unlovely.

The scenes represented in the illustration will then not be occasional but universal. The bulge-eyed bicyclist will be synonymous with the average citizen. Worse than this, not only every man but every woman will be the victim of the abnormal facial characteristic that the artist so cleverly pictures. The blushing maiden, who responds to her lover's ardent protestations, cannot look up at him with the shy, confiding gaze of which her grandmother was mistress. She will be obliged to look through him and beyond him, to envelop him, as it were, in a meaningless and unmaidenly stare, for which her unnaturally distended orbs are responsible.

Similarly, the mother who is quieting her sobbing infant has an expression of stepmotherly ferocity which greatly belies her amiable intentions. Such a condition may be reached in a fortnight, according to those who know whereof they speak, if a woman devotes her entire energies during that period to the making of a record. Record making is the readiest incentive to the bicycle eye.

Perhaps the most unfortunate feature of the disease is that it cannot be concealed, even to promote the pleasure of social gatherings. An innocent restaurant lunch is converted into a ceremony that is appalling to behold when two young women sit and glare at each other with a ghastly rigidity that is most incompatible with feminine charm.

It would by all means behoove every woman who owns a wheel to see to it, not only that her hands do not outgrow their gloves, but that her eyes do not outgrow their sockets. The first stage is merely an anxious look. Next the cheeks become thin and the bones pronounced. Then the eyes become circular and glassy and begin to occupy a position of altogether disproportionate prominence. And finally, almost all that is visible of the afflicted wheelwoman's face are her two "bicycle eyes."

Chance to Find Out.

"What I object to about the 'new woman,'" said the apprehensive man, "is that she pushes ahead too fast."

"Oh, I don't know," replied the man in bicycle clothes.

"She wants to do as much work as a man does."

"You're wrong. You get a tandem, ride up a hill with one of them, and you'll find out your mistake."

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to throughly expel the poison from the system by the faithful and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy proves successful when all other treatment has failed to relieve the sufferer.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly. I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USI

AYER'S P LLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills fo. ver thirty years have kept me in g l health, never having had a sick da a all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. PLAIDS EVERYWHERE.

Notes on All the Latest Fashions.

Plaids! Plaids! say all those who are supposed to know. Plaids for gowns, plaids for capes and plaids galore for lining. For young misses there is nothing more satisfactory than a smart plaid frock, for either ordinary or dressy wear. If only fleshy women would eschew them all would be well, but unfortunately, the over-fat ones never seem to realize their size and deck themselves out in such things as should be worn only by their thin sisters.

Plaid skirts will be worn a great deal with plain colored bodices, through the early fall. That fashion is ever fickle is evinced by the return to the regular coat sleeves on the newest models of sealskin. Woe to the woman who succeeded in coaxing her husband into putting a cool hundred into widening her sealskin jacket sleeves last winter. She will not be happy. Belts continue to widen; we see new ones of black velvet which, when clasped with handsome buckles, are especially smart.

The newest chiffon veils show a narrow border of white satin ribbon run on.

Gaiters to match the costume are a necessary adjunct to the tailor-made gown.

Silk shirt waists will be worn all winter with separate skirts, beneath the small-sleeved coats.

White and golden brown is a fetching combination.

Royal purple is one of the new colors liable to grow into high favor; it combines beautifully with white, gray or tan.

A chic gown of tan and black mixed cheviot has a novel arrangement of the bodice; it has no seam, being drawn smoothly across the figure over a lining of black taffeta.

It is round at the waist, and forms a sort of bolero jacket at the front, opening over a vest of white satin.

The edges of the waist and collar are bordered with an inch wide pattern of black silk braid.

The correct mourning veil reaches only to the waist, and is made up of quite transparent English crepe, finished with a broad hem at the bottom; it is caught to the front of the bonnet, and drawn back into a soft fold, closely pressed in place by small jet pins.

A dainty handkerchief is made of sheer white linen, having a narrow edge of lace set in at the top of the hem, and the initial worked in the corner in white floss.

The coming muff promises to be immensely large and roomy.

Velvet is one of the favorite materials for all fall gowns for street wear.

Fur is finding its way on house gowns as well as those intended for street wear.

Feathers, great heavy ones, will be used in abundance on fall hats, to the exclusion of other trimmings.

Velvet sleeves are appearing in many of the new gowns; it's a clever way to renovate a gown whose sleeves have become old-fashioned.

A chic little fall coat is made up in tobacco-brown broadcloth, with a loose front and tight fitting back, the fulness over the skirt arranged in one big box pleat instead of two, which gives it rather an odd look.

Plaids are more in vogue than ever for both old and young, and many of them show an entirely new mixture of coloring. All the clans are well represented. A pretty gown of soft wool in plaided black and white has a wide skirt of the plaid lined with crisp black taffeta, and a smart little bodice of the plaid, set off by coat-sleeves of stiffened black taffeta, drawn down in long points over the hands and edged with frills of black mousseline de soie.

There is a girdle of black taffeta drawn down narrowly at the back, finished with a full bow and long ends. The straight stock is of black taffeta, with a frill of black mousseline de soie at the top, setting well up under the ears, and especially at the back.

Another smart frock is made up of pale tan melton, combined with blue and green plaid velvet, barred over with scarlet and gold. The sleeves and girdle are made up of the plaid velvet. The sleeves buttoned to the elbow with tiny brass buttons, while the girdle is fastened with the same. Entire plaid bodices are being worn with dark-colored skirts, either in blue or green. A fetching gown I have in mind has a wide skirt of Lincoln green broadcloth, and a Norfolk waist of blue and green plaid, cut so as to run on the bias.

These bodices are commonly decorated with small gilt buttons.

The Out-of-Door Complexion.

Women will have to organize a new crusade against wrinkles and the leather-like, growing-old-sort-of-look of the skin if they persist in following all the open air pursuits which belong to man's kingdom. Fresh air in all kinds of weather may be conducive to health, but it is very trying to delicate skins. Women who row and ride bicycles should substitute oatmeal or boiled bread and milk for soap. The dry skin is especially sensitive to the effects of sun and air and needs all the precautions it is possible to find to keep it smooth and white. Potatoes boiled in milk are said to be very effective in whitening and softening the skin and almond meal should be on every toilet table.

Horticultural Notes.

Bear in mind that white celery, while handsome enough, is not the best celery. The red and pink colored are richer and sweeter and more tender.

A German pharmacist states that for some years he has used, with excellent results, solid paraffine for stopping vessels containing substances which change easily in the air. A vessel should be filled nearly to the brim, and melted paraffine being poured on will form an air-tight seal on cooling. The paraffine may be used over and over again.

Copper or brass kettles are bad for preserving purposes, unless kept scrupulously clean and bright. Better use the porcelain-lined kettle. Keep jams in a dry, cool place. Made right, they will need only a piece of white paper laid quite close, and another paper tied over the top. Made on a dry day, I believe that the inclination to mold is less. Should mold appear, boil them again. To prevent preserves from spoiling, apply the white of an egg to a single thickness of white paper, with which cover the jars, lapping over an inch or so. It will need no tying, becoming when dry hermetically tight and strong.

Fruit growing has in this country been too generally made a side issue by farmers, who have given most of their time, thought and fertilizer to other crops that have not half the possibilities that fruit growing has. Occasionally the conditions for large crops of fruit are all right and everybody has a large crop, usually making the orchard pay far more than all the farm besides. It is at such times as these that farmers see what fruit growing may be made to yield. What is needed for this result is that more farmers go into fruit growing as an exclusive business, or only combined with such other branches of farming as can be subordinated to it. When this is done and the orchard is managed after business methods it will be made to pay, and not before. It ought not to be thought any more risky to spend a hundred or a thousand dollars to supply the orchard with needed fertilizers than it is to use the same amount of money to buy feed for cows, horses and other stock. It is the habit of thinking that the orchard produces wholly by the aid of nature that makes farmers regard its treatment differently from other crops. They buy fertilizers for grain and also for hoed crops and find that this pays them. They will find that it pays still better to buy fertilizers for the orchard, whose crop is much more valuable.

A Complete Toilette.

A late Paris production in an exquisite shade of green Japanese silk or alpaca, looks quite charming. Up the skirt run strips of grass lawn and guipure embroidery, a collar of the same extending over the shoulders of the bodice, which is of white chiffon. The bolero and tight portion of the sleeves are of the silk or alpaca, faced with white silk, and the puffings on the sleeves also of the chiffon. No prettier gown ever graced a woman's form, and the simple black hat, with its plumes and green tulle trimmings, detracts in no way from the perfect completeness of this toilette.

To Clean White Gloves.

White leather gloves may be cleaned most excellently by putting them on one at a time and going over them thoroughly with a shaving brush and lather. Then wipe over with a clean handkerchief or sponge, and dry them on the hands by the fire or in the sun.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills;
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugatore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

ENGLISHMEN'S IDEAS

About the Elections in the United States.

SOME EVEN ANTICIPATE CIVIL WAR

Should Bryan and Sewall Carry the Day American Securities Would Then be Utterly Unsaleable in London —Uneasiness in Some Quarters as to the Outcome.

New York, Nov. 1.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London to The Tribune as follows:

"Uncertainty as to the result of the election in the United States is frightening English investors. The market for American securities has been weak and wellnigh paralyzed this week. The spectacle of Bryan instigating a Socialist revolution in one State after another has dazed and alarmed the best friends of America in England, and has drawn from them expressions of apprehension respecting the permanency of Republican institutions in the New World.

"While writing these sentences in a London club house I have been interrupted by a Conservative Englishman, who asked me whether the election in America on Tuesday might not lead to a civil war. This is one of the commonest comments made in London clubs upon the impending crisis. It is assumed that a canvass ending, as the English think, with section arrayed against section and class against class, and with the electorate at a white heat of excitement, menaces the existence of the nation. One of the most cautious business men in the city remarked to me yesterday: 'It is more than an issue of finance and morality. The question to be determined on Tuesday by the Americans is whether the United States will remain a nation, or whether it will be given over to political anarchy, socialism and organized warfare upon property.'

"If Bryan's appearance in Illinois as the apostle of class hatred and sectional animosity inspires comments like these among educated men in England, what effect would be produced by his election? This question was readily answered to-day by one of the most experienced bankers in the city. He said that the United States would be brought to a silver basis within forty-eight hours. President Cleveland, when convinced that the country had decided in favor of the silver party, might order the Treasury to pay out silver in redemption of paper, in order to keep the gold reserve unimpaired, or he might allow gold payments to be made so long as any gold remained in the vaults; but in either event the country would settle at once to a silver basis, since gold would command a premium and be withdrawn from circulation. A financial panic could not be avoided, but when the worst was over, there would be a gradual adjustment of business and values to a silver basis. American securities would fall in Europe and be utterly unsaleable. Everybody would want to sell and nobody to buy. Every European with money invested in America would want to get it out as soon as possible. The gold now in America in the Treasury and banks or in private hoards would be driven out, by inferior currency and brought to London. One result of Bryan's election would be a plethora of money in that city, with a gradual reduction of the bank rate. This would not be serious, but the decline of confidence in American securities and the impairment of faith in American honesty would be a fatal blow to the national interests.

"I asked this banker whether the conditions of exchange were not such as to prevent the return of gold to England, since the wheat and cotton crops would have to be paid for, and American exports would probably continue to exceed imports. He replied that the bulk of these crops had already been virtually sold and paid for, and that by January exchange would turn against the United States, no matter who might be elected president. The suspension of gold payments would inevitably involve the expulsion of gold from the United States as soon as a premium was realized by those hoarding it. This view is entertained by all practical English financiers and financial journals. Bryan's election would be the signal for discrediting every class of American securities abroad, whereas McKinley's election would involve the restoration of confidence in the stability of American investments and the permanence of American institutions. Apart from English interest in American investments, great uneasiness is felt in London in view of the possibility of such a leap in the dark as a Popocratic triumph, and its effect in producing a catastrophe in America which would shake the foundations of the financial world.

"The Bank of England, by borrowing heavily and raising its charges for short loans, has now acquired good control over the open market, as is shown by the shrinkage of bankers' balances, and is taking every precaution to diminish as far as possible any disturbance which may be caused by the result of the American election.

"American residents of London, with whom I have talked, do not take a depressing view of the coming election. They chaff one another on the possibility of Bryan's election, with the chance of having Tillman or Altgeld to succeed Mr. Bayard as American Ambassador or of having Mr. Collins displaced as Consul-General by Debs or Coxey, if one or the other of those patriots were not drafted for Secretary of War in Bryan's Socialistic Cabinet."

THE PRICE OF BREAD

Is the Uppermost Topic Among the People of England Just Now—An Advance Already.

London, Nov. 1.—The uppermost question among the general population just now is the price of bread, which is rising throughout England in consequence of the advance in the price of wheat. Already the quartern loaf in the bakeries of the West End costs six pence, and the three-penny loaf in the East End now sells for four pence. The rise is not yet universal, but the action of the London Bakers' Association clearly forecasts dear bread throughout the winter. While this was a common experience a generation ago, it will cause unexampled distress among the poor in England just now, because, with bread cheap for a long period, they have become dependent upon it as the chief article of food. While the bakers are responding with suspicious alacrity to the advance in the price of wheat, it is impossible for the statisticians to estimate the visible supply as anything less than 14,000,000 bushels below that at the corresponding period last year, while the deficiency, compared with the stock in sight in October, 1894, is 46,000,000. English farmers are profiting heavily by the advance, since the decline in wheat acreage from last year was slight, and a good crop was harvested before the rains set in. They are contented and happy, with a clear appreciation of the fact that the price of this great staple depends upon the universal law of supply and demand, and with minds unclouded and undisturbed by silver polemics. Freight rates have risen with the price of wheat, and ship-owners are finding the supply of tonnage inadequate for meeting the greatest demand for moving crops known since 1888. Many old hulks, which had presumably made their last voyage, have been pressed into service, and the ship yards are receiving orders for new vessels on the strength of the present abnormal activity in shipping interests.

There are rumors that the present boom in freights has been brought about by a timely combination of shipowners, but such matters receive less attention in England than in America. Nine of the principal coal corporations in the United Kingdom formed a trust a few days ago for controlling the production and price of coal. But there are no public outcries against it. The same English journals that are in the habit of describing the evils of trusts and monopolist combinations in America, as a legitimate consequence of the protective tariff, choose to ignore the obvious and notorious fact that the United Kingdom, under free trade, as Mr. Blaine once said, is plastered over with capitalist combinations and trusts.

EASTERN FAMILY JARS.

Pots Like Those in Which the Forty Thieves Were Pickled.

When the clever servant of Ali Baba brought the redoubtable "Forty" to their untimely ends, it will be remembered that each one of the two-score thieves were squatted inside a jar of huge dimensions in the courtyard of the man they had come to murder. The manner of their taking off, it will also be recalled, was decidedly oleaginous (with strict regard for the etymology of the term), as they were drowned in a bath of hot olive oil. Whether the oil smothered them or the heat killed them has never been satisfactorily ascertained by the readers of the "Arabian Nights;" but one thing has at last been established beyond a doubt—that the thing was possible, so far as the size of the jars was concerned. To an occidental mind, which has never been called upon to grasp the conception of a jar much bigger than a bean pot, the apparently exaggerated dimensions of these in which the thieves came to grief is the least credible part of the story. But even today, in regions of the orient where western customs have not prevailed, such as Turkey in Asia, Algiers and Morocco, a well-to-do family would not consider itself at all well-equipped without a jar or two big enough to contain a least 40 gallons of oil or wine. Not alone in the far east, but in old Spain which is in many things a thousand years behind the times—the people cleave to the earthen antiquities of their ancestors. In that country they are known as "tinajas" and are manufactured in Valencia and along the eastern coast of the peninsula.

Jars equally large and of similar shape have been found in the graves of Peruvian Incas, containing the remains of royal personages who "went to pot" hundreds of years before the Pilgrim fathers landed on Plymouth rock, and before Boston became famous for the production of that esculent which can only be baked to perfection in an earthen receptacle.

Mice Are Fond of Music.

It is a fact that mice, in common with almost every other species of animals, are attracted by music. Mice have been known to regularly come out of their holes and run about a schoolroom whenever boys were singing psalms. An officer confined in the Bastile, at Paris, begged to be allowed to play on his flute, to soften his confinement by its harmonies. Shortly afterward, when playing on his instrument, he was astonished to see a number of mice frisking out of their holes and many spiders descending from their webs and congregating around him, while he continued his music. Whenever he ceased they dispersed; whenever he played again, they reappeared.

A Smart Coat.

A smart coat and skirt in a dark blue bird's-eye coating must recommend it to notice. The coat was double-breasted, and was fastened with large pearl buttons, four on each side, while the collar was simply the usual step collar, with narrow revers. The blouse worn under this coat was of grass linen, with white linen collar and cuffs, and a more suitable dress for an autumn expedition is rarely seen.

As Well as Ever.

Dear Sirs,—After suffering for two years from acute indigestion I tried B.B.B. I took only three bottles, which made me as well as ever I was. I highly recommend B. B.B. to all dyspeptics.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE

A Substantial Increase for Last Year

SHOWN BY THE OFFICIAL RETURNS

Mr. Torrance of the Dominion Line Wants a Mail Subsidy for the New Steamship Canada — The Proposed Quarters at Bisley—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Official figures of the exports and imports for the fiscal year ending June 30, show the total foreign trade of Canada to have been $239,024,852, as compared with $224,420,485 in 1895. The total imports were $118,011,000, against $110,781,000 in 1895, and the exports $121,013,852, against $113,638,803. In 1895 the total imports, $110,587,480, were entered for consumption, of which $67,239,759 paid duty, amounting to $20,197,345. Of the total exports $109,915,337 worth was the produce of Canada.

Mr. John Torrance of the Dominion Line was in town to-day and had an interview with the Premier in regard to securing a subsidy for the new steamship Canada to carry the mails from Halifax to Liverpool during the winter. The existing arrangement is with the Allan Company, who sublet half the service to the Dominion Line. The Labrador and Vancouver of that line carry the mails in connection with two of the Allan steamers. If a third vessel of the Dominion Line were put on it would only leave the Allans with one-fourth of the service. Mr. Laurier discussed the whole matter with Mr. Torrance and informed him that he would lay it before his colleagues. Mr. Torrance also visited the Marine Department in order to secure the certificate of inspection of the Canada.

Another steamship man here to-day was Mr. Thomas Harling of the Elder-Dempster Line, who saw the Agricultural Commissioner in regard to cold storage matters. Mr. R. Bickerdike accompanied Mr. Harling.

Mr. John Sheridan of Toronto, Vice-President of the Canadian Cattle Feeders and Horse Export Association, was here to-day and had an interview with Mr. Courdeau, Deputy Minister of Marine, on the subject of accommodation on steamships for horses and especially as regards the depth of berth and supply of fodder. It has been arranged that a meeting will be held at the office of Pope and Morgan, the Government inspectors at Montreal, on the 13th inst., at which the steamship owners and shippers of horses will attend and discuss regulations to govern the trade. A memorandum will be prepared for submission to the Minister of Marine for his approval.

Two sets of plans for the permanent quarters of the Canadian rifle teams visiting Bisley have been prepared, but the trouble with both is that they will cost too much. One set of plans was prepared by an architect, and it is said the buildings, if erected by them, would cost $10,000, which is double the amount of the Parliamentary appropriation, and then to this must be added the cost of furnishing. The council of the D. R. A. will call for competitive plans from different architects before deciding on any one particular set.

Mr. George Johnson, Dominion Statistician, who returned from a well-earned holiday to-day, found awaiting him a letter from the secretary of the Buluwayo Chamber of Commerce, acknowledging the receipt of a copy of the Canadian year book. He says that the contrast between that country (Matabeleland) and the Dominion of Canada at present may be illustrated by the fact that Mr. Harvey, the Government Statist at Salisbury, Mashonaland, was one of those killed in the sharp engagement in the Matoppo Hills a few weeks ago at a time when doubtless other statisticians were more generally occupied in compiling figures.

Scores of people to-day tried to secure acceptance of their applications for permission to write at the civil service examinations. Saturday was the last day for receiving applications, but as usual some delayed. The total number of applications was 1500, as compared with some 800 last year. There will be about 800 for the qualifying and 700 for the preliminary examinations. They open a week from to-day, and a new set of sub-examiners has been chosen. Dr. Thorburn will preside at the examination in Toronto.

Hon. F. Peters, senior counsel for the Canadian Government in the Behring Sea case, returned to the city to-day. He and Mr. Beique, Q.C., with Mr. R. N. Venning of the Fisheries Department leave for the Pacific Coast to-morrow, carrying with them a small library of books of reference, which will be cited in support of their case. Application has been made for the use of a portion of the Provincial Parliament buildings in Victoria, where the commission will sit. It is understood that the request has been complied with.

Mr. Mulock has cancelled another mail contract. This time it is in Manitoba. It is for carrying mails from Emerson to Dominion City. It is said the deparment gave the contract to C. Whitman of Emerson, for four years for $535, on the request of Mr. Lariviere, M.P. for Provencher, whereas the lowest tender mounted to $312.

In about a month an electric locomotive will be placed on the Ottawa Street Railway tracks, for hauling lumber from the W. C. Edwards Co. yards to the C. A. R. after the hours of the regular passenger service. Four hundred horse-power will be its capacity. It will have eight wheels and will weigh 36 tons.

Mr. George Casey, M.P., has been in the capital since the close of the session, working up an insurance enterprise. He is securing stock for a new company, the Northern of London, and the subscription list now is in the neighborhood of $650,000. The company will very shortly enter the field in active competition with companies already doing business.

Mr. Edward Haynes of The Timber Trades Journal, of London, Eng., has arrived in the Dominion for the purpose of writing up the forest wealth of Canada.

Mr. F. T. Shutt, chemist at the Central Experimental Farm, leaves for Washington on Wednesday to attend the annual convention of agricultural chemists of the United States and Canada. While away from Ottawa, Mr. Shutt will visit some of the leading laboratories in the Eastern States for the purpose of reporting upon the class of building to be erected as a laboratory on the Experimental Farm here, to replace the one burnt a few months ago.

Four new locomotives arrived in the city to-day from the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, consigned to the Canada Atlantic Railway. Two are Mogul freights, and the other two passenger locomotives. The engines will be used on the C.A. and P.S. Railway.

The sale is reported of three nickel properties in Sudbury district for $350,900. They are the properties known as the Levac Group.

Sir James Grant, ex-M.P., arrived to-day from England. A number of friends were at the station to meet him. Sir James was honored by being invited to dine with the Queen.

Mr. Mulock is still delving into the mail contracts. Some sweeping changes are promised shortly.

Nothing is known here of the report emanating from Toronto that the Militia Department is organizing a flying column in case of trouble in the States. General Gascoigne laughed heartily when informed of the story, and said it was the first he had heard about it.

Oscar McDonell, editor of Le Temps, who is threatened with cancer of the tongue, goes to Montreal to-day for special treatment in the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Ottawa is going in for vigorous enforcement of the wide tire bylaw. Three carters were fined to-day for infraction of the law.

The Supreme Court resumed to-day, when the appeal in the case of the United States fishing schooner, Fred Gering, which was seized for poaching in Canadian waters last spring, was argued.

RAID ON THE KNIFE CASE.

Burglars Carry Off a Lot of Razors and Other Edge Tools From a Chatham Store.

Chatham, Ont., Nov. 2.—The gang of burglars who have been making themselves felt here tapped Westman Bros.' hardware store Saturday night, and secured more booty than in all their previous hauls combined. The knife case, especially, suffered, as no less than five dozen pocket knives of various makes, styles and values were stolen. The knives stolen were Baker's, Butler's, Westenholm's and I. X L.'s, about a dozen and a half razors made by Wade & Butcher, Reynolds & Baker, with five revolvers, three of which were Boston bulldogs, one American bulldog, 48-calibre, 6-inch barrel, and a 38 Harrison & Richardson, all double-actions. Four shaving mugs, with brushes, and about $6 in loose change from the till, made up the amount of their booty. The police are satisfied that the job was the work of local thieves, who knew the plan of the building.

A Burglar With a Gun.

London, Nov. 2.—George T. Walker, a G. T. R. engineer, living at 70 Hamilton-road, discovered a burglar in his home last night. The burglar made a dash for the door and on being intercepted by Mr. Walker fired a pistol at him, the ball, however, going wide of its mark. Another man who tried to stop the burglar on the street was also shot at, the ball again going wide. In the excitement the burglar escaped.

McKINLEYITES OFFERING BIG ODDS

Bryan Supporters, However, Express Confidence That He Will Carry the Country—Predictions of the Bosses the Day Before the Great Battle at the Polls.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Practically the campaign is over. No appreciable change, at any rate none sufficient to affect the result, is now possible. But what will be that result? That is a question which cannot yet be answered with any real confidence. Both sides claim that they will assuredly win. I have heard men say, not for effect, but because they believe it, that Bryan will be elected by the largest majority ever cast for a Presidential candidate. I have also heard men, just as intelligent and just as much in earnest, declare that McKinley's majority will be beyond all precedent. Clearly, the betting men believe McKinley will win and are offering all kinds of odds; three, four, five, even ten to one. The Bryan people can hardly be induced to bet at any odds on the general result, though some have taken bets at odds even as low as three to one. There is a good deal of money up, but not on the general result. Even bets have been made that McKinley will carry New York by 200,000 majority, that Illinois will go Republican by 150,000, and Iowa by 75,000, and so on. The Democratic committee claim that they will carry Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, but the betting men in their party evidently do not believe it, for they can hardly be induced to risk anything, even at long odds. If a Republican wants to get a bet on any of the "doubtful" states, including even West Virginia, Kansas and Tennessee, he must offer odds or bet on majorities. It is pretty safe to conclude that the betting fraternity on both sides have got all the information obtainable at their respective headquarters, and if these headquarters were well supplied with reliable authority the betting would furnish a good straw to indicate what direction the political wind will blow to-morrow. Have they this information? I don't think they have. The Republicans say they have and believe they have, for they have had polls made by their state and County Committees and they base their claims on the result of these polls.

The Democrats have been much less thorough, and their estimates are admittedly guesses. They claim, however, to be in possession of positive evidence that vast numbers of men who say they will vote for McKinley and who are wearing Republican buttons and badges, marching in Republican parades, and shouting at Republican meetings, are secretly pledged to Bryan. Their claim is not that these men are to be found in a few localities, but that they exist everywhere and in numbers great enough to upset all the calculations of the Republican canvass and determine the result for Bryan. At first glance such a claim seems preposterous, but I am convinced that those who make it have some belief in it. I have tried to find some evidence of the existence of a class of voters such as this, but have found none. I have found men who say they know such men, but always at some distance. Occasionally I have approached working men, wearing McKinley buttons, and in a tone calculated to cause them to think that my sympathies lay otherwise, asked them if they really intended to vote Republican, and if they were not wearing the button as a blind. So far I have not found one who did not deny, and that with a flash of manly indignation, that any man could force or intimidate him into wearing a button he did not believe in.

Yet, though I have not been able to find them, the hosts of Bryanites disguised as McKinleyites may exist. If they do and are as numerous as the Democratic Committee claim, Bryan may be elected. This is the one element of uncertainty. The Republicans scout it, but it is quite evident that they are not as confident as they say, and it is evident, too, that it is the fear that there may be something in this Democratic claim which is at the bottom of any lack of confidence. The Chicago Record has been taking a vote in the states in which it is conceded the battle must be lost and won, by means of postal cards. The votes, as they came in, were counted by a sworn commission, composed of men of all parties, and were no doubt honestly counted. Of course this is only a straw, inasmuch as the poll is incomplete, but it does seem that, though incomplete, it is fairly representative. On the face of these returns it would seem that McKinley will certainly be elected. But there are so many unknown quantities, the value and probable effect of which cannot be estimated, that one cannot rely upon the story the face of the figures shows.

It is curious how the same figures cause different men to arrive at different conclusions. For example, the Democrats take the total of postal card votes cast by Bryan, then figure up the number of these that were cast by men who say that they voted for Harrison last election, and they find that of the votes cast for Bryan 23 per cent. voted Republican in '92. Then they figure that of the votes cast for McKinley only 13 per cent. were cast for Cleveland in 1892. If, they say, this proportion holds good to-morrow, the excess of Republicans voting for Bryan, as compared with Democrats voting for McKinley, will ensure a Democratic victory. They have not falsified or misrepresented the figures, but is their conclusion warranted? Here is how the Republicans interpret these same returns. The fair way, they say, to use the partial returns of the postal card election is to take the votes cast for Harrison and Cleveland respectively in 1892, and ascertain the percentages of those by whom they were cast who have changed. Figuring this way they find that the returns indicate that McKinley has much the best of it. Here is how they figure it out: In The Record's ballot there were 68,704 voters, who say they voted for Cleveland in 1892. Of these 21,779, or 31.67 per cent., vote now for McKinley. There are among The Record's ballots 164,972 who voted for Harrison in 1892; of these 13,250, or 8.03 per cent., are now for Bryan. That is that the percentage of Cleveland voters who are now for McKinley, as shown by the postal card election, is nearly four times as great as the percentage of Harrison voters who will now vote for Bryan. Figures won't lie, they say, but here are the same figures telling two different stories.

The whole thing is in a beautiful state of uncertainty, which nothing but the final counting of the votes will change to certainty. My own opinion is that McKinley will be elected, and that by more than a fair majority. I am even inclined to doubt whether Bryan will carry his own state, or any of the so-called doubtful states, and yet just because I have no means of knowing how much or what there may be in all the talk one hears of undercurrents and secret influences, I confess that I do not feel certain.

During the last few weeks the whole aspect of the campaign has changed. One does not hear so much now as formerly of the free coinage of silver. The Democrats evidently realize that the Republican "campaign of education" has riddled their theories on silver, and if they could, they would

THE SILVER QUESTION.

To the Editor of Fortnightly Club Column:

SIR,—Permit me to reply to the following criticisms of my paper on the "Silver Question," which appears in your column Oct. 31st, over the signature "W.S."

1. "Mr. Garvin's brief was Free Coinage or Silver, his argument was Bi-metallism, two entirely different things."

What my paper advocated was the free and unrestricted coinage by Government mints of both the precious metals at a certain ratio fixed by statute, both standard coins being full legal tender for every debt, public or private. This is bi-metallism proper, and such a law prevailed in the United States from 1792 to 1873. At first the ratio between silver and gold was 15 to 1, but in 1834 this was changed to 16 to 1. If this latter ratio had been, or should be, found on experience to be unequitable it can or could be, easily changed by the nations. A modified phase of bi-metallism is now in vogue in the United States and in France. The amount of silver coin is limited, but it is full legal tendar unless specified otherwise in the contract.

2. "Gold has not lowered prices. Human genius and human inventiveness have been the instrumentalities." My paper fully answers this contention. It is proven therein that "primary money is the measure on values," and that the demonetisation of silver by most of the civilized nations in 1873 and 1874 greatly lessened the primary money of the world and resulted in a decline generally of prices—a decline that must continue so long as trade or exchange increases faster relatively than primary money. Human inventiveness has also and had it been possible to have produced enough of this precious metal to have enabled gold as primary money to have filled up the gap made by the demonetisation of silver and to have subsequently kept pace with the increasing volume of exchange, prices would not have fallen generally. As it is they must ever keep declining—the demand for gold being unlimited and the supply by nature limited.

3. "Nothing is more common than the mistake that money and property are identical." Primary money—the measure of values—must necessarily be wealth or property intrinsically. No nation would carry on trade with another that paid in "fiat money" only. Paper money, cheques, drafts, etc., greatly facilitate trade, but to do so they must represent and be redeemable in gold, or primary money, which has in itself a property value. In the early tribal days, even, when barter prevailed, the unit of value was a cow, a sheep, a bell, a knife, a pound of butter, etc., something that had intrinsic value and exchanges were often made by means of these.

4. "The issue of paper secured by silver is no more an increase of wealth than the issue by an individual of his promissory note would show an increase in his property." This is a queer comparison. Paper money secured by silver represents wealth but promissory note may or may not do so. Demonetise silver and no man will refuse silver certificates or notes, but few promissory notes are now accepted without being endorsed by names which represent wealth or property. It is true that the issue of paper money representing primary money does not in itself add to wealth, but who ever heard of anyone who contended that it did? The contention is that an increase in redemption money—the basic circulating medium—will raise prices generally, lighten the burdens of oppressed debtors, and stimulate industrial activity.

5. "It is not the volume of money, but the activity of money, that counts. Decrease in primary money results in falling prices. Declining prices make investors timid, and money ceases to be active. Increase the redemption money and rising prices and commercial activity must result.

6. "Now, in the larger transactions of life there is no money used at all. The comparison of values with money is purely a mental operation, etc., etc." This is a remarkable argument. It is true that many exchanges take place without any interchange of coin or "credit money," but it is equally true that if the "credit" paper referred to was not redeemable in in gold the exchanges would not take place. Cheques, drafts, etc., are similar in function to government and bank bills.

7. "These silverites never tell us how they are going to get all the countless millions of silver dollars into circulation, and they overlook the fact that there are now six hundred million silver dollars in the U. S. treasury that nobody seems to want." W. S. does not seem to have grasped the fact that the silver coin is already in circulation. What the Silverites want is its re-monetisation, so that, along with gold, it will become full legal tender for every debt, and hence as redemption money unite with gold as the measure of values. The second assertion is apparently an extravagant guess. United States Treasurer, Carlisle, stated the other day over his own signature that the amount of silver coin and bullion in the treasury not in circulation was a trifle over $37,000,000. There are hundreds of millions of bullion there besides, but it is the property of citizens who have placed it in the treasury vaults and taken therefor "silver certificates" which circulate as paper money redeemable in silver. Coin and bullion represented by circulating bills or certificates is already in circulation.

8. "Let us consider that as money is a means of the transportation of articles from one man to another, and the cart is a method of transporting hay from one place to another, whether more carts would produce more hay or more hay produce more carts." Money never transported anything. It has purchased or paid labour to build the cart or the railway train, or the steamboat to transport commodities. To compare it to a cart is therefore an absurdity.

MONEY IS MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE

so well described by W. S. in a preceeding paragraph.

9. "The bigger the demand for anything the more will be the supply and the cheaper it will be." This does not apply to the free and unrestricted coinage of silver, as the supply is necessarily limited and the demand unlimited. If it did it would also apply to gold under present conditions, yet we know that gold is steadily appreciating.

10. "The only thing that would raise silver to the value of 16 to 1 would be the Government's engagement to pay gold for all the silver brought to it at that ratio." From 1792 to 1873 silver and gold had each free and unrestricted free coinage at the United States mints. For 42 years the ratio was 15 to 1 and for 30 years 16 to 1. Those ratios were equitable, and because of the limited demand there was no difficulty in retaining them. If, taking into consideration the cost of production of each of the precious metals at the present time, the ratio, 16 to 1, be not equitable, then let it be 18 to 1 or 20 to 1. The present low price of silver, which has closed most of the silver mines in the United States, is due almost entirely to the demonetization of silver and the consequent appreciation of gold.

11. "The basis of all this silver cry is socialism, whose finest fruitage is anarchy and murder." It is difficult to understand how anyone can assert that socialism has as its "finest fruitage" "anarchy and murder." Socialism aims at a more equal distribution of the products of labour through public collective ownership of land, capital and industries. But socialism has nothing to do with bi-metallism. For centuries the world had bi-metallism; then bribery and intrigue brought about the demonetization of silver in many civilized nations to the despoilment of the many. The silverites desire this great wrong to be righted.

Truly yours,
J. W. GARVIN.

A PERMANENT CURE.

A Letter That Proves the Value of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Medicine That Makes People Well and That Keeps Them Well.

Fergus, Ont., Sept. 22, 1896.

Gentlemen:

The following testimonial, relative to your Paine's Celery Compound, will no doubt interest all who remember my testimonial given more than two years ago.

This long interval has afforded me ample opportunity for judging of the effects of the medicine.

I have always valued the duration of a cure more than the temporary relief. It is difficult, if indeed it is possible, to get a medicine that will produce a permanent good effect, so much being dependent on right use and dietary regulations. We must help Paine's Celery Compound; we must consider the quantity as well as the quality of the food we eat. I am convinced by experience that, if this medicine be properly used and afforded fair play, it will do good work.

I am past seventy; yet, since I took the Paine's Celery Compound, I feel as well as an old man can feel. For this condition of health I can think of no other cause than use of the Compound. I am, gentlemen,

Yours thankfully,
JOHN IRELAND.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Jennie Leonard of Peterborough is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alex. Kearney.

Mr. Thos. Hockaday is confined to the house through sickness. We hope he will recover soon.

Mr. George Cummings, who has been ill for the past five weeks, is able to be around again.

The weather is delightful here the past few days, and by all accounts we are enjoying Indian summer.

The chief topic of conversation now is the hunt. A great many would like to go hunting and shoot one of the coveted game but on account of the law being revised lately they will not all go who are talking.

Partridge seem to be plentiful around our neighbourhood this year, and quite a number have been shot.

The Point was visited Wednesday by a large number from Peterborough on account of the visit of Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals. The Esturion, of Bobcaygeon, came down here to meet Mr. Blair and party, so when the honorable gentleman arrived on Mr. Strickland's yacht with Messrs. Geo. A. Cox, Esq., J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., etc., they all took the Esturion for Chemong. A number from Peterborough drove up in different vehicles and caught the boat, so their rigs could meet them at Chemong. The vehicles and horses from Peterborough looked well, also the drivers, who looked hale and hearty.

Mr. Wm. Walters, of Lindsay, has charge of a number of men working at the locks here in the interests of the Provincial Government. The locks needed repairs very much, and the work will be appreciated.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which the doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

WEAKENED AND BENT

Lost Health by La Grippe—Suffered Two Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Arnprior, Nov. 3—Special—Mr. David H. Cone is a man well known here, especially among mill hands and lumbermen. Mr. Cone was crippled by his sufferings from kidney trouble, and so remained until he met a better fate in Dodd's Kidney Pills. We will let him tell his experience in his own words:

"For over two years I suffered great and almost constant misery.

"La Grippe so deranged my kidneys that I was bent and became so weak that I could, with great difficulty, drag myself to my work.

"As I am sixty-two years old I gave up all hope of ever regaining my health. Such a cure at my age is nothing short of marvellous—and so every one says who knows me and the state I was in.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have made a new man of me, and all I have used of them is three boxes.

"I am perfectly cured and hundreds of men here can vouch for the truth of what I say. Not one of my intimate friends expected that I should ever be cured.

"I have not hidden my light, for I have advised more than a score of afflicted people to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Everyone tells the same story; all praise them."

MR. C. W. STORMS, Dresden, Ont., says "I have been taking Miller's Campound Iron Pills for two months; have increased in weight 12 pounds and feel better than for years." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all summer complaints and fluxes of the bowels in children or adults.

You note the difference in children. Some have nearly every ailment, even with the best of care. Others far more exposed pass through unharmed. now drop the discussion on that question entirely. I speak now, not of the Populists and free silver men proper, but of the Democrats, who have accepted the silver plank as what they thought would prove a winning card. It is very evident that these would now very much prefer to trust to class cries and to attempts to array the working classes against their employers. On the other hand, the Republicans appear to feel that they have fully met all the arguments of the free silver men, and are trying to force the fighting on the tariff issue.

Mr. Bryan's personal campaign has been a picturesque one. Rushing over the country in a special car and addressing hundreds of audiences in short, snappy speeches, he has certainly made a record in miles traveled and number of speeches made which has no parallel among presidential campaigns. From the standpoint of mere physical endurance, it is remarkable, and, if the speeches he made had required any considerable thought it would have been impossible. Speaking to men who have attended Bryan's meetings, I have met many who were impressed with his ability as an orator, but he has failed to impress any thought on the minds of his audiences. He pleases, but he does not convince. McKinley, on the other hand, has not left his home, but he has been visited there by hundreds of thousands of men from many states. He has probably addressed as many men as his rival and his speeches bear evidence of thought and statesmanship. W.

For the Benefit of Stock Gamblers.

New York, Nov. 2.—The London Stock Exchange will open at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, New York time. Nearly all the foreign banking houses and brokerage concerns in New York having correspondents in London will keep both their main down-town offices and their uptown offices open all night to-morrow night to receive orders to be executed in the department of American securities on London exchange. Investors and speculators who desire to make transactions based on election results will have five hours in which to do so in London before the New York Stock Exchange opens.

The withdrawals of gold from the Sub-Treasury to-day aggregated $1,350,000, the largest amount on any day except one since the movement of gold to America began. The express companies withdrew a good deal of gold on the order of out-of-town banks. The bullion dealers increased their premium on cash gold, that is, gold for immediate delivery, from ⅛ to 1¼ per cent. The banks were called upon to make heavy shipments of currency by express to banks in the interior.

Alec Calls on the Major.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 2.—A. W. Wright of Toronto, who has something of a Canadian reputation as a stump speaker, and who has been speaking for McKinley during the campaign, was among the Major's callers to-day.

New York Stock Brokers Wild.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Stock Exchange was quite a scene of excitement when the gong sounded for the closing of the board at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A large crowd of members were present and were regaled with songs by the Glee Club of the Republican Dry Goods district. The Glee Club consisted of four members, two ladies and two gentlemen, and it is the first time in the history of the Exchange that ladies have appeared on the floor of the Exchange. The club sang a number of national airs and were applauded to the echo. After each song the enthusiasm reached a higher pitch, and finally the brokers were fairly beside themselves, waving hats and handkerchiefs amid wild shouts for a sound money victory at the polls to-morrow. No such scene at the Stock Exchange has been witnessed in any previous Presidential campaign.

TO STEAL THE ELECTIONS.

A Plot to Stuff the Boxes in an Illinois County.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Senator James K. Jones, Chairman of the Democratic Committee, sent the following despatch this forenoon to the Chairman of the State Committee: Hon. A. L. Maxwell, Democratic candidate for State Auditor in Illinois, wires me from Lawrenceville, Ills., that our friends have discovered a plot on the part of the Republican managers to steal the election in that county; that they have captured a wallse full of official ballots. I understand that vigorous steps have been taken to prosecute everybody connected with the fraud and that a number of arrests have been made already. It would be well for you to advise every county committeeman in your State at once of this and to have them notify each township committeeman in their respective counties and urge the most extraordinary vigilance on the part of our people to prevent the perpetration of such rascality in your State. Spare no expense necessary to ferret out anything of this kind in your State. Call the attention of our papers everywhere to this villainy and have the people aroused. (Signed) James K. Jones.

McKinley Buoyant.

London, Nov. 2.—George W. Smalley, the American correspondent of The Times, who was in Cincinnati Saturday, cables to that paper as follows: "Chauncey M. Depew and I visited Mr. McKinley at Canton on Friday and found him buoyant. His confidence and elation were evident during the whole visit and he talked freely. We both brought away the same impression, that if any Republican depression existed it was not in Canton, and least of all in Mr. McKinley himself." Mr. Smalley pays an enthusiastic tribute to Mr. Depew's speeches and dwells on the cordiality of his reception.

In a despatch sent from Columbus, O., to-day, Mr. Smalley cables that the present is the most strenuous contest in the political history of America, adding that Mr. Depew declares that he never saw anything like it.

THE BALLOT PUZZLE.

What Voters in the United States To-Day Will Have to Figure Out.

The system of voting in the elections in progress to-day across the border is somewhat complex. In the State of New York the voters have to select 36 Presidential electors, the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Appeal Court Judge, coroner, Congressman and Assemblyman. There are six straight party tickets, each of which is printed and occupies a column of the ballot paper. There is another column left blank, where the voter can write any names which are not printed. The entire ballot paper covers a space about 20 inches by 14 inches. If the voter supports a straight party ticket all he need do is to mark a cross at the head of the proper column, but if he does not support a straight ticket he must, besides making the cross at the head of the column he supports in the main, strike out any names he does not vote for and place a cross opposite the names in another column of those he substitutes. No more than 100 voters can poll at any booth. In some places the polls close at 4 p.m., and in others not till 6 and the earliest returns should come to hand about 6 o'clock.

Bald Bets on McKinley.

Buffalo, Nov. 2.—Edward "Cannon" Bald, the bicyclist, to-night made a wager of $1,000 to $500 put up by John Brown, a prominent banker of Hamilton, Ont., that McKinley would be the next President of the United States. Mr. Bald offers to bet $2,000 more at the same odds, and thinks he will be able to place his money before noon to-morrow. J. W. Ashley, a well-known sporting man of this city, is the stakeholder.

HORSEWHIPPED ON THE STREET.

A Handsome Blonde Attacks a Man She Claimed to be Her Husband on Yonge-Street Last Night.

Toronto, Nov. 3.

Those who were in the vicinity of King and Yonge-streets shortly after 6 o'clock saw a man properly horsewhipped by a woman. The fun started in front of The World office, and was kept up as far as the corner, where the police interfered. The woman who handled the whip was a handsome blonde, and the man was well dressed and about 35 years of age. He gave his name as John Rolston, and his address as 31 Temperance-street. She claimed the man as her husband, and says he is living with another woman. After the police separated them she hurried down King-street, and refused to say anything more about the affair. Rolston denies that he is living with another woman.

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

HAVANA THREATENED.

Maximo Gomez Said to be Concentrating His Forces and Marching Westward Toward the Capital.

New York, Nov. 2.—A despatch to The Herald from Key West, Fla., says: A prominent Cuban resident said to-day that, without assuming the role of a prophet, it could positively be announced that the City of Havana would be besieged by Maximo Gomez within the next sixty days. To that end Gomez and all the rebel forces are now marching westward toward the capital.

Gomez has not been heard from since his attack on the town of Cascorro, and the subsequent engagement at Desmayo plantation, where he defeated Gen. Jiminez Castellano. The ominous silence of Gomez is said to presage the planning of a series of attacks on the principal cities within Havana and Matanzas provinces.

MAD JEALOUSY.

Scott Linton Shot "Dot" Gray and Her Paramour and Then Killed Himself.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 2.—Jealousy caused a terrible tragedy at Georgetown, Ohio, three miles from this city, all the parties being from Wheeling. Scott Linton shot Dot Gray, a resident of a house of ill-fame, who is said to have been his wife, and also William Metzger, with whom he caught her. With both lying at his feet he fired a bullet into his own brain and died almost immediately. The girl will probably recover, but Metzger will die.

CENTURY RIDERS.

Fifty-One Canadian Wheelmen Who Have Ridden Over 100 Miles.

Secretary S. John Schulte of the Canadian Century Club reports that 51 centuries, ridden in Canada the past season, have been accepted and registered by him. Dr. Robertson of Stratford made the best time—6 hours and 56 minutes—and with Sergt. Beattie and A. Jackson, compiled the most century marks. Sergt. Beattie performed the feat of riding a double century within the 20 hours. H. A. Dean of Deseronto held the 24 hour record—225½ miles—until beaten by Dr. Robertson. Here is the list:

SHE DIDN'T JUMP OVER.

A Niagara Falls Maiden Who Wanted to Die—The Presidential Conflict.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 2.—Many are the innocent, dramatic and tragic romances which owe their birth to the alluring influences and poetic surroundings of the far-famed cataract. Deep into the history of the red man, who first occupied this fair land, are found traces of noble and tragic deeds committed by youths and maidens wounded by little Cupid's wicked darts. Though modern ideas would fain cut down this tender spirit its popularity seems not one whit abated, and pretty or tearful scenes are as numerous as ever. On Sunday evening a pretty maiden of 19 years, living with her parents in Niagara Falls South, was observed by an officer of the law in Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park to be shedding tears over the brink of the precipice. Query produced the ply that her lover had deserted her, and she intended to seek a short cut off this mundane sphere on the rocks below. A little wise advice, accompanied by an illustration of the heavy drop of 200 feet, succeeded in restoring to the maiden her confidence in life, but not in men.

The excitment over to-morrow's battle is almost as keen on this side of the river as across the border. Many residents are well-informed in United States political circles, and among them are found several silverites, but the general feeling is for sound money. A few small bets were made.

WAS BISMARCK CROOKED

Or Was He Beaten at His Own Game by M. De Giers?

London, Nov. 2.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily News reports that he has learned that the German treaty with Russia was in no way as harmless as is alleged, but was disloyal to Austria. "Prince Bismarck was eager to come to terms with Russia," says this correspondent, "at Skierniewice, where the Czar and Emperor William first met, and later, in interviews with M. De Giers, he gave too warm an expression of his desire. The Russian diplomat noticed this and raised his price, the result being the agreement, which, it seems, contained clauses which even now are unknown, but which prove bad faith to Austria. In Government circles, it is suspected that Bismarck's ultimate object was to dissolve the Dreibund, as the price of a Russo-German alliance."

Not a Single Reply to our Question—Not a Failure to Cure—A Half-Million Users of Dodd's Kidney Pills Satisfied.

Toronto, Nov. 2 (Special)—Without a single reply, for over two years, we have advertised this question:—"Does anyone, anywhere, know of any case wherein Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure any kidney disease at any stage?"

We estimate that a half million people must have joined in using the two and a half million boxes already sold in Canada, and yet not a single complaint—not one failure to cure.

Now, reader, here's one for you:—Do you know of a death from kidney disease or of heart failure, the victim having used Dodd's Kidney Pills?

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights, Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

New Fancy Goods Store.

Mrs. Appleby wishes to inform the ladies of Peterborough that she will, in a week or ten days, open for their inspection a stock of fancy goods at 426 Water street, south of Mason's greenhouse. A share of your patronage is respectfully solicited. Look out for new advertisement next week.

Coming!

Jebb, the eminent eye specialist and inventor of the famous Recherche Optometer, for pointing out every defect and disease of the eye and sight, will be at Clarke & Gibson's Jewelry store, Nov. 9th, 10th and 11th. Consultation and examination free. See small bills. Treatise on the eye and sight free. 3d

Palms.

A fine assortment of palms from Holland has just been received at the West End greenhouse, Park street (at the residence of G. M. Rogers). These palms have graceful shapes, perfect leaves and are hardy plants. No better house plant grown; withstands cold, dust, gas or neglect better than any other. 6d

A Fine Looking Team.

A team of beautiful brown horses, the property of Wm. Russell, Plainville, was being examined this afternoon at the fire hall for fire department purposes. They took 3rd prize at the Peterborough Central exhibition this year, and 1st at the Cobourg fair for general purpose horses. They are a fine looking young team.

Public School Inspector.

The Committee on Appointments of the Board of Education met last evening to discuss the selection of an inspector for the public schools of the town. Although the superior claims of one applicant were acknowledged, still no recommendation will be made to the Board until the subject has been considered further, as the position will not be filled until the first of the year.

A Bicycle on the Sidewalk.

One of Peterborough's mostaffable young dry goods clerks has to pay three dollars and sixty cents into the town treasury for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk near the C.P.R. station on Saturday last. The town's flimsy bylaw, on which these convictions are made, will be tested in the courts before long, and as the Town Solicitor himself states that it will not hold water, Peterborough may have a big bill of costs to pay.

THE ABUSE OF HORSES.

Work for a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

There is abundant room in Peterborough for a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The abuse that horses, especially, receive from irresponsible and cruel boy drivers is incalculable, and instances of cruel overdriving and abuse can be seen on the outskirts, at a distance from the eyes of the owner, almost every day. Yesterday afternoon on Charlotte street west of Park, two boys were in a delivery wagon driving or rather abusing a slight and rather good looking bay horse. The driver was beating the poor brute, which when it started forward under the sting of the blows, would be 'yanked' by the reins with a force almost enough to break its jaw. While one boy was thus maltreating the poor brute the other boy was cutting a fresh supply of clubs from a Lombardy poplar growing on a roadside lot. When remonstrated with by a lady living near by, the ill-bred lads replied with foul and blasphemous impudence, and said that the horse was balky and had kicked a hole in the dashboard. A horse would not be worth a straw that wouldn't resent such cruel treatment, and it is no wonder that a horse becomes balky when subjected to such usage. Owners of horses fit for anything but the boneyard, use a false economy in employing boys without judgment to drive their horses because they can be got for small wages. The police would be better justified in arresting boys guilty of maltreating horses, than in apprehending infants guilty of the heinous offence of playing leap-frog.

STRAIGHTENING UP THE PIERS.

The Water, However, will not be Lowered in the Little Lake.

A gang of men are at work to-day, under Mr. Thos. McGregor, straightening up the piers in the Little Lake, they having fallen into decay.

The water was to have been lowered a couple of feet, but as several steamers will be coming up the river this week the stop logs were not taken out, and consequently the work will not begin below the water level.

If the water had been lowered it was the intention of the corporation to have begun repairs on the George street bridge at the mouth of Spaulding's Bay.

A large amount of water is being held back at Lakefield and just enough is allowed to come down to keep the mills going, as several dams are being constructed across the river on the Aylmer, Love & Cook section of the canal.

To-day Decides.

The citizens of United States are neck-deep in politics to-day and somebody's neck is sure to suffer. Will the "gold bugs" or the silverite kite flyers win? McKinley has the call and his chances are generally considered best. The result will hardly be known until to-morrow.

Remembered the Fire Laddies.

Councillor Joseph Mills, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, has received a cheque for $100 from the Dickson Company to be handed to the men of the fire department for the hazardous services rendered at the recent fire. The boys are grateful for this generous recognition.

To-Night, "The Fast Mail."

Lincoln J. Carter's great scenic production, will be the attraction at the Opera House. On its previous appearance here the house was jammed, and everyone was more than pleased, the scenery being the best that was ever seen in Peterborough. See the flight of the Fast Mail. Prices reduced to 50c., 35c. and 25c. Box seats 75c.

Who are Kicking Themselves?

The men who didn't buy the People's Coal Co's coal, when they drop into their neighbours' houses and see how nicely their fire burns. You people who are continually pulling clinkers out of your stove and sifting ashes, don't you ever get tired? The People's Coal Co's coal burns to a white ash—no clinkers, leaves nothing to sift. Best blacksmith coal and hard Briar Hill, Black Bank and Butt's cannel for grates, for sale. Office, 230 Charlotte street, Telephone 326.

The Collectorship of Taxes.

At the meeting of the council last night Mr. Henry Denne was appointed collector of taxes. If long residence in the town, long services in the council and many other services in the public interest and clerical fitness for the position are to be taken into account, then it is to be concluded that the council made a good selection from the great number of applicants. But Mr. Denne's appointment does not argue that other candidates were not also well qualified and entitled to the position. However, the council had to make a choice, and it is felt that the interests of the town and of the office of collector will be efficiently administered in Mr. Denne's hands.

The World's Greatest Novelty.

The wonderful Liliputians—the smallest people on earth—headed by the original Mrs. (Gen.) Tom Thumb, presenting the musical comedy entitled "The Countess," full of good specialties, funny situations, bright dialogues and catchy music. Introducing the royal midget and Liliputian comedians, the Magri Brothers, in the realistic sword combat, songs, dances, etc. Don't miss seeing the great scientific three round glove contest by the world's smallest pugilists, Count and Baron Magri, at Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday, Nov. 5th. Children's matinee at 4 o'clock. Prices 15 and 25c. Evening prices, 15, 25 and 35c.

Grenville Kleiser Coming.

On Thursday, Nov. 12th, Grenville Kleiser, reader and impersonator, will appear at the Opera House, under the auspices of the George street Sunday school. Mr. Kleiser will give one of his most interesting programmes, and those who love humour, pure and refined, will enjoy the impersonations. Prices are fixed at 25 and 35c. Plan at Stratton's bookstore. Mr. Kleiser's reputation is continental, and among the very flattering comments in the press, the San Francisco Call says: There was a large and appreciative audience at Association Auditorium, Thursday night, to hear Grenville Kleiser, reader and impersonator, make his debut in this city. He gave "Our American Cousins," impersonating all the different characters in the play, and he acted the various parts with so much delicacy and expression that people listened with as much interest as if the play were being acted.

Oak Hall's New Claims.

The London Free Press contains the following which it will be seen has a local interest: "Senator Sanford, head of the large clothing company of Hamilton, says he is seriously contemplating the removal of his establishment to Toronto, the inducements in that city being cheaper labour, and a better market for jobbing. He has not decided definitely, however, and may not remove. If the concern is removed to Toronto it will affect about a thousand homes in Hamilton, who are either employed in the establishment or do work for it at home." It is well known that the company of which Senator Sanford is the head, is interested in the various branches of the Oak Hall clothing stores in different parts of the country, and the public have an interest in knowing that the new arrangement will result through increased manufacturing facilities etc., in giving to them, at even lower prices, first quality of clothing, which has made Oak Hall a household word over so large an area of Ontario.

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO REV. CARL S. SMITH.

He and Mrs. Smith Handsomely Remembered by the Congregation of St. John's Mission—Presented With Addresses and Tokens of Esteem—Addresses by Others.

It is seldom that any clergyman or curate, after only about a year's work in a parish, has won so warm a place in the esteem of his parishioners as has Rev. Carl Smith, as was shown by the extremely cordial valedictory reception tendered him and Mrs. Smith by the congregation of the South Ward Mission last night.

The reception was under the auspices of the Girls' Guild and Ladies' Auxiliary, the former of which had for the occasion charmingly decorated the school room, which was well filled with members of the congregation, many from St. John's and St. Luke's and from other congregations.

Rev. Mr. Davidson, Rector, occupied the chair, and after a pleasing preliminary address, in which he paid a warm tribute to Mr. Smith's worth, and expressed the regret of the clergy at losing his association and services, called upon Rev. R. V. Stevenson to read the following for the occasion:

To the Rev. Carl S. Smith, M. A., Assistant Curate St. John's Parish, Peterborough, Ont.

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR,—On behalf of your many friends in this Parish, and especially on behalf of those with whom you have been more intimately associated in the work of this Mission, we desire to express to you the feeling of universal and deep regret which has pervaded the members of this congregation on learning that you are to retire from the guidance and care of the Mission—a position which you have during the past year so efficiently and faithfully filled.

The announcement recently made that you have decided to withdraw from us, and have accepted another appointment, has caused a feeling of unfeigned sorrow to those amongst whom your willing efforts, cheerful sympathy and genial address have always been so fully recognized and so heartily appreciated.

While sensible of the loss we shall sustain by your withdrawal from us, it is gratifying to us to know that your new field of labour affords promise of much that is encouraging and inviting, and perhaps, too, a larger scope for the exercise of your unquestioned ability.

In parting with you we can only pledge to you and your good wife the Christian love and devotion which everywhere impels the members of your congregation in these expressions, and the interest with which we shall all follow the development of your future efforts.

And we beg also that you will accept this clock as a small evidence of the constant affections of the members of the congregation of St. John's Mission Building, Peterborough.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

R. W. McFADDEN,
W. B. BAMFORD,

Peterborough, Nov. 2nd, 1896.

Mr. Willie Akey read the subjoined address on behalf of

THE BOYS' BRIGADE.

To Rev. Carls Smith:

DEAR SIR,—We, the undersigned members of the Boys' Brigade, learn with regret and sorrow of your leaving us for another sphere of labour. We know that we shall miss your kindly interest and also the lessons which you have striven to inculcate. But in losing you we all sincerely hope that it will be to your best interest, and that you will be very happy in your work there.

We present you this very small token of esteem (a banquet lamp) to you and hope that it may sometimes remind you of the Boys' Brigade at the South Ward Mission Chapel.

May every blessing go with you, and every good attend you, is the sincerest wish of

Bert Cranfield, Capt.,	Gilbert Harris, 1st Lt.,
Wallace Hutchinson, 2nd Lt.,	Clarence Staunton, Col. Sergt.,
Roy Armstrong, 1st Sergt.,	Eddie Deline, 2nd Sergt.
Harold Armstrong,	Willie Bullen,
Albert Brundett,	Frank Brisbin,
Jack Sanderson,	Hollie VanEvery,
H Staunton,	Fred McFadden,
Archie Hillier,	Percy Gilbert,
	Bruce Fee.

Nov. 2nd, 1896.

Rev. H. Symonds, on behalf of St. Luke's, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, on behalf of the congregation of St. John's, paid tributes to Rev. Mr. Smith's work and expressed deep regret at losing the pleasure of further personal association with him and the wish and hope that he would meet with success in his new parish.

Mr. Smith made a suitable reply and said that he parted from his many friends in Peterborough with genuine regret and sorrow and though he obeyed the dictates of duty in leaving them and the uniform and great kindness he had experienced at the hands of the members of all the congregations represented on this occasion would be remembered with pleasure.

The following

PROGRAMME

was presented during the evening:

Pianoforte duet	Misses English
Recitation	Miss Partridge
Comic Song	Mr Wm Taylor
Recitation	Miss Hattie Holmes
Vocal solo	Miss Clara Belleghem
Recitation	Miss Hattie Holmes
Pianoforte Solo	Miss Maud Brown and Mr. Torrance Laing.

Midway in the programme, not the least interesting item was introduced—excellent refreshments—and while they were being discussed a pleasant season of social intercourse was enjoyed.

A most pleasant evening, dimmed only by the shadow of parting with a beloved pastor, was spent and brought to a conclusion by the singing of "God Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne."

PERSONAL.

Dr. Fitzgerald has returned to town and proposes to remain here.

Mrs. (Dr.) Spears, of Montreal, is visiting in town the guest of her father, Mr. Richard Hall.

Mr. W. M. Eadie is retiring from the position of principal of the Havelock Public School and is assuming orders. Mr. Gillies, of Pontypool, has been engaged to fill the position.

Mrs. and Miss Jessie Fairweather left on the 4.48 C.P.R. this evening for Belton, Texas, to join Miss Fairweather, who is in charge of the pianoforte department of the Conservatory of Music at that place. They will remain the winter, returning probably in May. They go in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lowndes, who also intend spending the winter in the Lone Star State. The numerous friends of all the party wish them a pleasant stay and happy return from their winter outing.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—An entertainment will be given in the Catholic Association rooms this evening.

—The steamer Beaver arrived in port this morning with a barge load of wood for local dealers.

—Thirty-three sheep were killed night before last in Mr. G. W. Bennet's farm yard North Monaghan, by dogs.

—It is rumoured that Commencement exercises may be held in connection with the Collegiate Institute this year.

—Mr. F. Fairen has made arrangements by which he will receive the returns of the Presidential election at the Pullman House to-night.

—You can buy 20 pounds of the best light brown sugar for one dollar at J. Giles' grocery. Surprising how cheap he sells. Just ask the price of other things when you are getting your sugar.

—The City of Peterborough is about through dredging at the mouth of the Keene river. When through she will commence dredging at the mouth of the Otonabee, which everybody knows is badly needed. The smaller as well as the larger boats find it difficult to find the original channel, in fact there is no channel. The work is being done under Government supervision.

AN ODDFELLOWS EXCURSION.

Visit of the Grand Master to Lindsay—Local Oddfellows Will Join in the Grand Reception.

On Thursday next G. M. White, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows will pay an official visit to the Oddfellows of Lindsay. He will be in Peterborough on Thursday afternoon, and accompanied by large numbers of local brethren will go to Lindsay by special train, which leaves the Grand Trunk station at 7 o'clock p.m. The visiting Oddfellows will take with them the degree team of Otonabee Lodge, which will enter into competition with the Lindsay degree team. On his arrival at Lindsay the Grand Master will be met at the station by the Citizens' Band and a torchlight procession and escorted to the Opera House, where he will be given a public reception and be presented with an address, after which the society object of his visit will be entered upon, including the competition. The reception ceremonies and events will conclude with a grand banquet in the Town Hall.

The special train will, as mentioned, leave at 7 o'clock, and return when the proceedings terminate. The return fare is 75 cents.

LACROSSE.

At a meeting of the lacrosse club last evening, it was decided not to accept Madoo's challenge to play a match in Belleville, as it would take an entire day to reach that point and return, and the boys have been away from work so much this summer that they do not feel that they would be justified in asking for further holidays. If, however, Madoo can be reached in half a day the team will accommodate them, providing an impartial referee can be decided upon.

A CHALLENGE.

The Collegiate Institute Rugby football team would like a match with the Junior Bankers fifteen, who may consider this paragraph in the light of a challenge.

CURLING.

A meeting of the local Colts is called for this evening at the Palace Restaurant at 8.30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested in view of the annual meeting of the Midland District Colts' Association being held here next Monday.

We "Meat" Everybody

At our store, and tender tender meat to our patrons. Our mutton is sold as mutton—not spring lamb. Same with beef—cuts are sold as such. Yet the people keep coming to JOHN J. HOWDEN'S Meat Store, 416 George street. Telephone 29.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. Hoods, heads, backs and breasts in black waterproof, impervious to water, soft and pliable. Any kind or style of ordered goods required. Lap rugs, strictly waterproof. Also cheese covers as requested by members of the Cheese Board, and for covering all kinds of goods liable to damage from wet. A. KINGSCOTTE, Tent, Sail and Awning manufacturer, 344 Water street, opposite market.

ELLSWORTH ESTATE.

We are instructed to sell at once the following properties:

1. New brick house on East 27 feet of lot 5, west of George street and south of London street. The house is new and in beautiful order, and was recently occupied by Mrs. Ellsworth.

2. The rough cast house and lot (same size) adjoining.

3. House and lot at corner of Elizabeth street and Lake street, Ashburnham—the old homestead. This is a splendid business property.

4. Vacant lot adjoining 50 feet frontage on Lake street.

These valuable properties will be sold at sacrificing prices to close up the estate business.

The first accepter of our prices, which are away below value, will get the properties.

These Fine Days; Wall Papers.

The spanking list of low prices at which we are selling our Wall Papers is inducement enough, surely. Even at this time of the year with goods right and prices low enough we can sell without much of an effort.

Wall Papers are as saleable now as at any time, only you pay less. Thanks to the present fine weather and our good fortune in buying, you pay VERY MUCH LESS.

The money saving hobby is in active operation here all the time.

We've planned for a few more days of brisk Wall Paper selling, while the present fine weather continues. We are making the cost so insignificant it ought to be an inducement to re-paper one room if not the entire house:

600 Rolls of Wall Paper, finished in metal colourings, suitable for bedrooms, kitchens, dining rooms and halls, with 6 and 9 in. border to match, regular price 7c and 8c, sale price this week only..... .5

800 Rolls of American and Canadian Gilts and Glimmers, in newest designs, for halls, parlours, sitting rooms and bedrooms, with matched border, 9 and 18 inches wide, regular price 10c, sale price this week only..... .6

400 Rolls Glimmer Wall Paper, with ceilings to match, new designs, suitable for parlors, bedroom, sitting rooms, etc, usually sold at 10c and 12½c, this week only..... .7

700 Rolls Gilt Wall Paper, with ceilings to match, conventional patterns, in light and medium colours, suitable for parlours, sitting rooms, children's rooms, etc., usually sold at 12½c and 15c per single roll, this week only..... .8

500 Rolls Special line of Gilt Papers, suitable for parlours, dining rooms, &c., with 18 inch gilt fringe to match, delicate shades, such as light blue, green, buff, terra cotta and mauve, regular price 20c, sale price this week..... .10

400 Rolls heavy Embossed Gilts, in exquisite designs and shades, for halls, libraries and drawing rooms. Regular price 30c and 40c, sale price this week only..... .20

MR. WHITEN'S NEW STUDIO.

A Handsome Suite of Rooms With all the Newest Modern Accessories for the Photographic Art.

For some weeks past workmen have been busily engaged in restoring and remodelling the premises on Hunter street, near the corner of George, formerly occupied by Sproule's photographic studio. The valuable skylight on these premises was specially constructed for photographic purposes years ago, and has been considered by competent artists as one of the best lights for the purpose to be found and although it has lain idle for a number of years, it has always been looked upon as a good opening for an enterprising photographer. Mr. Geo. E. Whiten, who recently came to Peterborough from Orillia, where he has done an active business in this line for twenty-two years, secured a lease of the premises from the proprietor, R. A. Morrow, Esq., and immediately set to work to transform the old gallery into a modern studio. Mr. Whiten is not only a practical man with capital and experience, but is also an enthusiastic worker in his profession and the important changes and improvements which he has introduced in modernising these premises reflect credit on his skill and thoroughness.

The general entrance is off Hunter street, a short distance from the corner of George street. On reaching the second landing the visitor is ushered in the general reception room, which has been laid with a neat pattern of new carpet and finished in a luxurious and home-like manner. The walls have been papered with a warm ingrain shade of wall paper, and the ceilings and cornices ornamented with a rich effect in ceiling paper and bordering to match. The wood work has all been painted a delicate drab colour to harmonize with the hangings, and the general furnishings in the room, including upholstered furniture, chenille portieres, show tables, fancy wicker chairs, framed engravings, and samples of photographs, complete a decidedly cosy room, tastefully arranged. An arched opening is made on one side of the room, connecting with the work room adjoining, where the the office is placed, and where orders will be received and checked. All that patrons are required to do is to leave their orders with the assistant in the office, who hands out a check to be presented to the operator upstairs.

The work room adjoining the reception room is where the printing, finishing and retouching is done. A new burnisher, called the Globe Enameler, has been purchased for finishing the photographs in the highest style of the art. The Globe is said to be the best burnisher invented for producing a rich finish on the work.

The operating room upstairs has also undergone many improvements, and is equipped with the best appliances, and after the most most modern ideas. The skylight, as previously mentioned, is arranged for the best light desirable for perfect negatives. The old glass has all been removed, and the finest double diamond ground glass substituted therefor. All the accessories of the operating room are complete and up-to-date. The backgrounds are very conveniently changed by a shifting device of Mr. Whiten's own construction, which saves time and labour. A side alcove large enough for storing away such articles as are not required for certain sittings is also another new convenience and saves the operating room from being crowded. The lenses used are the very finest in the world, including one by Dallemeyres, one by Voigttanda & Son, one by Ross and one for tintypes. The dark room is very conveniently situated off the operating room, where the light is skillfully adjusted for the new work, and the various baths and washes are supplied with suitable water services. Off the operating room and at the top of the stairway a ladies' toilet room and improved closet, with all the modern conveniances.

Throughout the whole suite of rooms neither pains nor expense has been spared to furnish an art studio well worthy of inspection and a credit to the proprietor.

Mr. Whiten has had the distinguished honour of receiving an order from the Queen. On the occasion of the celebration of the Queen's jubilee at Orillia, a photograph commemorative of the event was so well executed that a copy was ordered to be laid before Her Majesty, and a reply came from Downing street acknowledging the same and requesting that her thanks might be returned to Mr. Whiten.

MR. HENRY DENNE COLLECTOR OF TAXES.

HE WAS APPOINTED AT THE COUNCIL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The Question of Raising the Treasurer's Salary has not yet been Settled—Reports Received and Miscellaneous Business Transacted.

At the regular meeting of the town council last evening the Mayor presided and there were present Councillors Best, White Hughes, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Weir, Sawers, Moore, Graham and White.

There was a large attendance of citizens as it was understood that the vacant office of the tax collector would be filled and that the question of the raising of the Treasurer's salary would come up for discussion.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and referred as follows:

From the Trustees of the Park street Baptist church, requesting that a crossing be constructed on Park street opposite the church in order that teams might cross the sidewalk to the sheds.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

From Mrs. Hammond asking for an electric light on Smith street.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the Fort Wayne Electric Corporation asking for information concerning the local municipal electric light plant.—Received.

From John J. Lundy, asking permission to construct a branch drain in connection with the Queen street drain.—Granted on motion of Councillors Best and Denne.

From A. S. Maguire, applying for the position of tax collector.—Received.

From W. B. Tripp, asking for refund of dog tax.—Granted on taking the usual declaration.

From John Lynch, asking that a poplar tree on Park and Brock streets be removed.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From Wm. Langford, tendering his resignation as a member of the town council.—Received.

Councillors Best and W. H. White moved that the resignation be not accepted, and that Councillor Langford take his seat.

Councillors Sawers and Mills moved in amendment that the resignation be accepted.

The amendment was lost and the motion carried.

Councillor Langford resumed his seat.

A PETITION

was received from Jas. McClennan and a number of others asking that an arc light be placed on the corner of Barnardo avenue and Conger street. This portion of the town is in total darkness and as there is a church near by the necessity for the light is represented as being urgent.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

A STATEMENT

was received from the town treasurer showing the receipts of the month to be $3,091.78, and the payments $10,265.51. The town account with the Ontario Bank is overdrawn to the extent of $19,404.15—Referred to the Finance Committee.

2. That James Bradley be paid $3.00 for damage done to his buggy on George street.

3. That 75 cents be paid Wm. Collins as witness fees in Rossel vs. Brice, the fees having been paid to the town.

4. Your committee cannot recommend the payment of the account of Miss B. Cumming for serving tax bills.

The report was adopted on motion of Councillors Moore and White.

On motion of Councillors Best and Graham the account of J. Smith, for timber, was ordered to be paid, without reference to the Finance Committee.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE through its chairman Councillor Mills recommended:

That 500 feet of Baker Fabric fire hose be purchased from the Gutta Percha and Rubber Manufacturing Company at 90 cents per foot and that the mayor and clerk be authorized, if it is thought necessary, to execute a contract with the company for the hose, the company to give the guarantee contained in their tender.

Adopted on motion of Councillors Mills and Denne.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Councillor Langford, reported as follows:

1. That the Mayor and Councillor Hughes be a committee to act with the solicitor in the case of Jackson vs. the Town.

2. On account of the amount of work that has been ordered to be done by the council, your committee cannot recommend that the sidewalk asked for on Cedar street be done this fall.

Adopted on motion of Councillors Langford and Graham.

THE COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS, through its chairman, Councillor Sawers, reported as follows:

Your committee recommend that Henry Denne be appointed collector of taxes at a salary of $800 a year, he to furnish a guarantee company bond for $10,000 and two sureties for $10,000 (each) in addition.

Councillor Graham and Best moved the adoption of the report.

Councillors Sawers and Langford moved in amendment that Wm. Might be appointed tax collector.

The amendment was lost on the deciding vote of the Mayor.

Councillor Wm. White addressed the council in favor of Mr. Denne, stating that the older resident had the best right to any favour which the council could bestow.

Councillor Sawers stated that as the mover of the amendment he had not a word to say against Mr. Denne, but no resident of Peterborough could say a word against Mr. Might.

As the council, on the vote being called for the adoption of the report, was evenly divided on the question, the Mayor cast the deciding vote in favour of Mr. Denne, and the yeas and nays were recorded as follows:

Yeas—The Mayor and Councillors Best, W. H. White, Denne, Phelan, Graham and J. M. White.—7.

Nays—Councillors Hughes, Mills, Weir, Sawers, Moore and Langford.—6.

SOME BYLAWS.

Councillor Hughes introduced a bylaw amending the market bylaw in such a manner as to prevent non-residents coming into the town and selling meat from door to door, such action being unfair to the local butchers who pay taxes to the town.

The bylaw passed its several readings and was adopted.

Councillor Mills introduced the bylaw awarding the contract for electric lighting of the streets to the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

Mr. A. Stevenson on behalf of the company, objected to a clause which stated that at the expiration of seven years the company's right to maintain poles and wires on the streets ceased. This stipulation, he stated, was not contained in the contract itself.

Councillors Mills and John White moved that the clause be struck out.—Carried.

The question then came up regarding the rental to be paid by other companies erecting poles on the streets, and it was decided to refer the bylaw back to a committee of the whole council in order that a sliding scale might be prepared governing the matter.

The bylaw appointing Mr. Henry Denne as collector of taxes received its several readings and was adopted.

Councillors Moore and Phelan moved that J. E. Belcher receive $100 on account.—Carried.

THE SALARY QUESTION.

The question concerning the raising of the town treasurer's salary then came up for discussion and motions and amendments came thick and fast for half an hour. The council held a star chamber session just previous to the regular meeting and it was decided then that the town clerk should be affected by the change. Hitherto that official has received $1200 per year and the fees pertaining to the office. He has, however, had to employ an assistant at $150 per year and the councillors thought, if the treasurer took over the work pertaining to the receiving of the money for dog tags and town licenses and also assisted with the rolls, that the clerk's assistant could be done away with; and, as the town would be supplying in the treasurer one who could assist, this money could be paid direct to Mr. Brownscombe, together with a sufficient amount more to raise his salary to $400 per year. The perplexing question related to the degree to which the pruning knife could be applied to the clerk's salary and the preliminary conference adjourned without this point being settled.

The two officials are at present paid $1500 per year between them, of which amount the Treasurer receives $300 and it was thought desirable that the total amount paid should

NOT BE INCREASED.

Councillors Phelan and Mills moved that the salary of the town clerk be fixed at $1,000 per year and that of the town treasurer at $600.

Councillors W. H. White and Hughes moved in amendment that the salary of the town clerk be placed at $900 and the treasurer's at $600 per year.

Councillor Hughes explained that although all acknowledged that the town possessed a clerk who could not be surpassed in the province, yet salaries were being cut to economise everywhere and therefore he supported the amendment.

Councillor Weir pointed out that it would be most unfair to reduce the clerk's salary, after he had given up an even more lucrative position to accept the office. As he could now do away with his assistant it would be all right to pay over her salary to the treasurer, but beyond this amount he would not agree to have the salary reduced.

Councillor Langford did not think that the two matters should be linked together. It would not look well to have the public understand that the salary of one official had been cut

TO BENEFIT ANOTHER.

As the clerk expected the fees to increase, it would not be any reduction to place his salary at $1,000, when he had not to engage an assistant any longer. Therefore he moved, seconded by Councillor Graham, that Mr. Armstrong should receive $1,000 per year and fees, and that the question of Mr. Brownscombe's salary be taken up separately.

The motion carried on the following division:

Yeas—Councillors W. H. White, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Weir, Sawers, Moore, Langford, Graham and J. White.

Nays—Councillor Hughes.

Councillor Best declined to vote.

The previous motion and amendment were withdrawn when the last mentioned one was introduced.

Councillor W. H. White moved that the treasurer's salary be fixed at $700 per year, but could get no seconder.

Councillors Graham and Langford moved that it be placed at $500.

In amendment, Councillors Denne and Phelan moved that it be fixed at $600.

Councillor Langford raised a point of order, stating that rule 54 of the By-laws was being violated, as the motion involved an expenditure of money without a notice of motion being given at a previous meeting of the council. An effort was made to override the point of order, but the necessary two-thirds vote required could not be obtained and the council adjourned without settling the matter.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

Councillors Calcutt and Craig moved that the taxes charged against T. H. Goldie, Edward Goldie and Dickson Coy. $2a.65 (No. 166) be remitted, being in respect of Nicholls Park, exempt by statute, and that T. H. Goldie and Edward Goldie be put upon the poll tax roll.—Carried.

Councillors Craig and Johnston moved that the dog tax of R. Brennan and W. Brennan be remitted.—Carried.

SNOWPLOUGHING TENDERS.

Councillors Johnston and Rutherford moved that the council advertise for tenders for snow ploughing, the same to be let in two sections as follows: Section No. 1 comprising all side walks and walk ways north of Elizabeth street.—Section No. 2 comprising all sidewalks and walk ways south of Elizabeth street. The parties whose tenders are accepted are to give the necessary bonds to guarantee the completion of said work to the satisfaction of the Street Inspector from Dec. 1st, 1896, to April 1st, 1897; tenders to comprise all snow ploughing required and to be attended to at proper times. No person to hold more than one contract and no contract to be transferred without consent of council. Tenders to be in for the next council meeting in December.—Carried.

The matter of the disputed bill rendered by the Town of Peterborough for fire protection was brought up for discussion, and it was resolved to endeavor to settle the question amicably as soon as possible. The clerk was instructed to notify the Peterborough council, and to endeavour to arrange a meeting for Friday, if possible.

The council on the suggestion of Councillor Johnston will seriously consider the introduction of a waterworks system for the village, and will consult with the Peterborough Water Company on the feasibility of the scheme some day this week.

A childless marriage cannot be a happy one.

A healthy baby is the real jewel for which the wedding ring is only the setting. There is no place in Nature's economy for a childless marriage. Wedded couples that are childless are never truly married. A baby is the tie that binds. The baby is the pledge that makes husband and wife one in nature and in fact, and that teaches mutual self-sacrifice and sympathy. Thousands of couples are childless because of the wife's neglect of her health as a woman. Too few women fully appreciate the importance of keeping healthy and vigorous the organs upon which motherhood is dependent. As a consequence, they are weak where they should be strong, and motherhood is either an impossibility or a torturesome and dangerous ordeal. This is easily remedied.

The most wonderful medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on those delicate organs upon which the perpetuation of the race depends. It allays inflammation, soothes pain and makes those organs healthy and vigorous. It prepares for motherhood. It makes the expectant period comfortable. It makes baby's coming easy, and almost painless and insures health in both mother and child. Druggists sell it.

"I take pleasure in expressing my faith in your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Miss Edith Cain, of Clinton, Allegheny Co., Pa. "After two years of suffering I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and now I am entirely cured. I had been troubled with displacement of internal organs for some time and also with ulcerative weakness, but now I am well and happy. I will cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all invalid ladies."

The profit side of life is health. The balance is written in the rich, red, pure blood of health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and make the blood rich and pure. They never gripe. By druggists.

Growth of Trees.

In a recent bulletin of the Forestry Department of the United States, reference is made to the effect of light on the growth of various trees. It is well known, says Prof. Fernow, that light is necessary for the development of chlorophyll, and, therefore, for the life of all green plants, and especially for that of trees. The heat alone which accompanies the light is not sufficient, although the influence of the light and the heat on the growth is still an open question, as well as the relative requirements in light of different species of trees. In the case of forest trees, which in forestry serve as an indication of the amount of shade which the trees exert, and with that their capacity of impending evaporation, some require full sunlight for their development, others are averse to a high degree of light. To this must be due the change in the plants of a district when its forests are removed. Then the amount of light or shade needed is modified by site. Where the sunlight is strong, in higher altitudes, drier climates, or where the growing season is longer, or there are more sunny days, some species will endure more shade. The flora of high altitudes in general requires light. Trees nearly always develop best, in other words make most wood, in the full enjoyment of light, but their capacity of developing under shade varies greatly. The yew will thrive in the densest shade; while a few years' overtopping kills the larch; the beech will grow with considerable energy under partial shade, where the oak would only just keep alive, and the birch would die. When planted in moist places all species are less sensitive to the withdrawal of light. In the open, maples, elms, sycamores, and others grow well and make good shade trees, in a dense forest they thin out and have but scanty foliage. Conifers, such as spruces and firs, which preserve the foliage of several years, have perhaps the greatest capacity of growing under shade, and preserving their foliage in spite of the withdrawal of light. In America sufficient data to group the forest trees according to the amount of light required by them have not been collected, but rules based on experience have long been formed in Germany, where the behavior of trees under different conditions of light has been carefully studied. It has been found, for instance, that on the same branch those leaves which are developed under the full influence of sunlight are not only larger and often tougher in texture, and thicker, but that they have a larger number of stomata or breathing pores than those less exposed to light. The whole subject is one of the utmost importance in forestry, and observations and experiments are to be carried out in regard to it in the United States.

For the Hair.

The evil effects of dandruff in the hair are very well known, and although it does not actually cause baldness, it certainly very considerably hastens the fall of the hair. Should there be any sign of bald patches showing themselves, the following lotion may be used with advantage: Tincture of cantharides, 2 drachms; liquid ammonia fort., two drachms; rectified spirit of wine, half an ounce; glycerine, one drachm; rosewater, eight ounces. The lotion need not be applied every night; three times a week will be sufficient, and the friction must be continued until the skin has a red appearance. When the hair is thus thinning it is not advisable to wash it too often.

Sense and Taste.

She who has sense and taste will always discriminate, and let no one persuade her into buying or wearing anything that does not suit her, whether in itself it is nice or nasty. Admitting that there are some women entirely wanting in that sixth sense that at once tells when anything makes her look best, for others more fortunate no one else's opinion is as good a guide to what to buy—only the good taste must be there first.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Thousands testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

DAINTY LINGERIE.

Every Woman Desires a Complete Stock of Fine Underwear.

How dear to the feminine heart are all the trifles belonging to dainty lingerie. A truly refined woman much prefers to be the proud possessor of a complete stock of beautifully fine underclothes than to revel in numerous gowns minus the aforesaid. Hand work marks all these garments for its own. Not a bit of machine stitching desecrates the truly correct undergarment.

Only the finest and sheerest of linens and mulls go into their manufacture with the fleeciest and fluffiest of laces as trimmings. When embroideries are used, the Nainsook takes the preference, and is almost as fine and delicate as lace. Next to the chemise and drawers, the robe de nuit attracts the attention of ma belle who plies the needle for her own beautification.

The yoke night dress always fits to perfection, and is far more simple of management than any other design, but the fact that it is a yoke does not restrict it to one line of decoration. It may be tucked, and be frilled all the fancy may desire, and the yoke effect still farther lost by the addition of a wide, oval collar. Wide frills of Nainsook or lace on the edge of the collar and over the shoulders, give a chic to the garment.

Narrow sleeves are not to be tolerated in a night robe; here, at least, the full sleeve is likely to obtain for many a day to come; the elbow length is by far the prettier and more comfortable. The sailor collar is used upon many night dresses, and upon it is lavished much of the laces and tucks. Very few night robes are closed at the throat; the old fear of exposing the throat has subsided.

Short Skirts vs. Bloomers.

A great deal has been said, and with reason, against the bloomer costume, and many women express horror at the idea of wearing it even on a bicycle, where it is really becoming and appropriate. The fact of its having been selected by a foolish woman several years ago, and worn as a stepping stone to the adoption of masculine dress in its entirety, has created a prejudice against it; but in point of fact, its full Turkish trousers, strapped in at the ankle, and short skirt falling just below the knee, are far and away more modest than the aggressively abbreviated skirt now worn as a bicycle dress, with no drapery to conceal thick ankles, big feet, dusty stockings or gaiters, in which the ladies now stride over verandas, into public dining rooms and over country roads. The bicycle is inevitable and universal, and no time must be lost in starting for a ride at the earliest hour possible. As a consequence this hideous attire is assumed as a breakfast dress, and summer hotels are crowded with nondescript figures in men's hat and ties, with feet and legs protruding from short, scant petticoats, and nothing whatever to veil their ugliness. A stranger from some distant country where bicycles have not yet intruded would be quite at a loss to understand to what sex or planet the wearers might belong. A full Turkish trouser, tied in at the ankle, would be comparatively graceful and becoming. The skirt could then be short without offending taste or propriety.—N. Y. Sun.

For Between Seasons.

A between season creation has often turned out a great success, and has thus been enabled to hold its own with later and much more ambitious companions. There is more often than not a touch of refreshing individuality about gowns modeled with no particular mode or fancy in view.

One has a material in rather a coarse brown canvas, one sufficiently close in texture to dispense if desired, with a silken lining. The main coloring of the silk should be Indian red, and it would add a dainty completion to arrange a frou-frou frill of this coloring beneath the edge of the skirt.

There is a pleasing originality displayed in the arrangment of the gaugings on the bodice, the small V-piece fastening up separately after the center front of lining has been hooked from neck to waist. Over all the side fronts are carried, and hooked invisibly at the waist.

It will be necessary to set the gaugings on to a small separate foundation, and as the back sufficient fulness is allowed to permit of those at the waist being carried round the figure.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

GORED CAPE.

With a Plain or Fancy High Collar.

The cape is here shown made of cloth, with velvet for inlaying the fancy collar and stitching and small buttons for decoration. It consists of eight gores, having extra widths on their seamed edges a little below the top. A round yoke is arranged beneath the upper part of the cape, and the seams joining the gores are tacked to it above the extra widths, which are underfolded at each seam in a box plait. The outer folds of the plaits flare prettily and between them the cape ripples slightly. Pointed straps are arranged over the seams above the plaits. The neck may be finished with a plain or a fancy high collar. The fancy collar is oddly shaped at the outer edge and is made with a center seam that is discontinued some distance below the upper edge, the edges flaring prettily above the seam; it rolls softly in Medici style and its ends flare sharply from the throat. The plain collar is of the Medici order and rolls softly all round.

The cape is unusually graceful and is appropriate for cloths, silks and velvets. It may be made very elaborate by the arrangement of effective garniture, but the finish illustrated is best suited to cloths.

Handy and of Holland.

An apron of fine, creamy holland, which you can get just a yard wide, and of which you will only require a single yard, as the depth of the skirt need not exceed 27 inches, and your remaining quarter of material will serve for the bib, is pretty for house wear. Nothing could be easier than the manufacture of the skirt part, which has a fairly wide hem at the bottom and sides, and is gathered somewhat finely at the waist into the band. By way of trimming, put at the bottom of the skirt three bands of the fashionable grass lawn; you must choose a very open pattern, as there is to be a running of ribbon beneath; stitch these on at intervals of about an inch and a half, starting just that depth above the hem. Two and a half yards of lawn, including a strip for the bib, will be enough, reckoning that your bands of insertion do not extend over the wide hems on each side.

You must cut away the holland beneath the bands afterwards, and when it is tidily hemmed back, insert a bright cherry-colored ribbon, which is drawn forth at each end in a smart rosette. The bib is cut in three points; the center point is formed of the lawn, folded over at the top to produce the triangular effect, and beneath it runs the cherry-colored ribbon to match the skirt. A pretty finish is afforded by the pair of ro-

For Weak Backs, Lame Backs, Painful Backs or any kind of Bad Backs, Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is the Great Back Strengthener.

Wm. Rogers, 8 Ottawa Street, Toronto, Ont., writes:—"For a number of years I have been troubled with a lame back. Some of the doctors I consulted called it Lumbago; others, Kidney Disease. I received no benefit from their treatment. Nine months ago I was lucky enough to try Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, and, after taking two or three bottles, the pain entirely left me, and I have had no return of it for 6 months now."

Sold in Peterborough by John McKee.

sette on the corners of the bib; these are made of ribbon exactly the same hue, but only an inch wide; you will want one yard of ribbon for each rosette, and a third yard to make the straps starting from them and meeting in the center of the back. This holland apron, with its lawn insertions and cheerful ribbons, will be a very natty little garment with which to conceal a shabby gown on a dull or dark day.

To Prevent Hair Falling Out.

For falling hair, and for baldness as well, any of the preparations made from cosmoline or vaseline may be used successfully. The greater part of cosmoline is coal oil, and there is nothing better as a hair grower when properly used. The following is a good vaseline formula:—

Yellow vaseline, 50 grammes; cocoanut oil, 30 grammes; garlic acid, 6 grammes; essence of rosemary, 12 drops. Rub well into the hair every night.

Brushing the hair thoroughly and gently is of the greatest importance. Even the longest hair should be washed once a week, and where there is much exposure to dust or much dandruff it should be washed every other day. There is no danger of catching cold as long as the hair is properly dried and all draughts during this process are avoided.

Wetting the hair with bay rum, cologne water or alcohol, contrary to popular belief, increases the tendency to catch cold, unless the head be lightly covered to prevent the effects of rapid evaporation.

To Paint Frost-Tinted Foliage.

To paint a group of leaves just touched by the frost is not easy, but the variety of coloring in them is beautiful, the reddish tints being specially effective. For the leaves turned yellow at the edges mix yellow ochre with white. For the pale green tints toward the center add to pale lemon yellow some ivory black; glaze here and there with raw sienna. A gray green can be made with yellow ochre, cobalt blue and white, add raw umber in the shadows. A rich green can be made with light cadmium and indigo. For a brighter green substitute Prussian blue for the indigo. For the reddish tints crimson lake slightly modified with raw umber is good, while burnt sienna gives the rich, bright brown tone into which the crimson generally merges. When the greens are too bright in parts glaze them with ivory black. When too gray glaze with raw or burnt sienna, according to the tone desired.—September Ladies' Hom eJournal.

Transparent Capes.

The popularity of transparent capes has surpassed expectations. An artistic arrangement of muslin and lace, exhibiting some degree of sartorial skill, calls for the utmost approbation. One is fashioned of cream muslin spotted with black.

An immensely full frill of the material is set on to the edge of the cape, and above this there is a second gathered frill of cream lace, which is divided in the center back and on the shoulders by lace motifs. These afford an admirable example of the power of a subtle modistic touch, while the falling lace frill at the throat suggests grace combined with coolness, and at the same time accords most happily with the rest of the design.

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla neutralizes the acid and cures rheumatism.

How Lincoln Kept Books.

In his early life Abraham Lincoln had a primitive method of keeping books. At the time his law partner, John T. Stuart, represented the Springfield district in congress, Lincoln was forced, much against his will, to keep an account of some kind. The plan he adopted was somewhat remarkable. When he received a fee he divided it in halves. His half he put in his pocket; Stuart's portion he put in an envelope and, labeling it "Stuart's half," threw it into a drawer until his partner's return from Washington.

Virtues of Lemon Juice.

Lemon juice and water without sugar will oftentimes relieve one of a sick headache in a short time, and a half a gill of lemon juice three times a day in a little water is said to be good for rheumatism.

Wouldn't Pray for the Prince.

In every service of the Church of England the royal family is prayed for, the Queen and Prince of Wales being especially mentioned. It is related that a little English girl, after long cogitation, asked her mother why the prince was excluded from the prayers. "He isn't," said the mother. "Yes, he is," persisted the child. "The minister always says: 'All but Edward Prince of Wales.' The mother laughed heartily, and had some trouble in explaining that the clergyman's pronunciation was to blame. He said: "Awlbert Edward Prince of Wales."

An Experiment That Failed.

A bee is a busy little creature, and as wise as he is busy. It can gather about a grain of honey a day, which seems very small, but as there are 10,000 bees in a hive, the aggregate is very large. Years ago a speculator sent swarms of bees to the West Indies, hoping to have honey in plenty, but he was disappointed. The wise little insects soon learned that there was no use piling up honey for winter, because the flowers were in blossom all the year round, so they only made as much as they could eat, and the experiment failed.

"So Long."

An English correspondent says the expression "so long" is the same as the "sa lange" of the Swedes, which corresponds to the "a tantot" of the French. "Sa lange," as pronounced by a Swede, is almost identical, he says, with what you would hear from a Northumbrian, if you got him to say the English words "so long."

Tobacco Heart

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief, by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They cure Constipation and Sick Headache.

Dressing for Dinner.

Do you dress for dinner? Or do you consider that a practice incompatible with sterling merit and democratic spirit? Have you regarded it as a habit to be left exclusively to those who have nothing better to do than to exhibit different sets of garments at different hours of the day? If so, disabuse your mind at once of these views. Dressing for dinner is a custom to be commended from every point of view, including the economic and hygienic.

It is economic to wear a semi-evening gown at dinner, for the street gown, which costs twice as much as the house gown, lasts twice as long with judicious changes. It is hygienic because there is actual bodily refreshment in soap, water, fresh linen and a fresh gown after the toil and turmoil of the day, and there is also the less easily defined but equally potent influence of pretty clothes upon the mind and hence upon the health of the wearer.

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wondertul story :—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, aut got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Wood's Phosphodine.—The Great English Remedy.

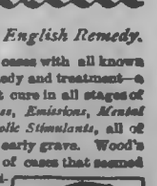
Is the result of over 35 years treating thousands of cases with all known drugs, until at last we have discovered the true remedy and treatment—a combination that will effect a prompt and permanent cure in all stages of Sexual Debility, Abuse or Excesses, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Mental Worry, Excessive Use of Opium, Tobacco, or Alcoholic Stimulants, all of which soon lead to Insanity, Consumption and an early grave. Wood's Phosphodine has been used successfully by hundreds of cases that seemed almost hopeless—cases that had been treated by the most talented physicians—cases that were on the verge of despair and insanity—cases that were tottering over the grave—but with the continued and persevering use of Wood's Phosphodine, these cases that had been given up to die, were restored to manly vigor and health—Reader you need not despair—no matter who has given you up as incurable—the remedy is now within your reach, by its use you can be restored to a life of usefulness and happiness.



Price, one package, $1; six packages, $5; by mail free of postage.

One will please, six guaranteed to cure. Pamphlet free to any address.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eyes.

The fortnightly iced refrigerator car service of the C.P.R. to Montreal has been discontinued.

The telegraph operators and train dispatchers in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Ry. have each received a circular letter from the company asking them to fill up a blank attached, stating any grievance they may have. Some of the men object to acting individually in this way, as they appear to fear that any complaints they may make would be used against them later on by the company. The officials of the Canadian Pacific, however, state the company is actuated solely by the desire to find out exactly what are the grievances of the men with a view to their being remedied.

Trainmaster Cunningham of the Grand Trunk has issued an order to train hands notifying them that in future, when they wish to lay off they first must secure permission from him. The only excuse that will be taken in the future for being away from duty is sickness, and if an employee does not get relieved from duty by asking permission he will be discharged.

The trainmen employed on different sections of the Grand Trunk will shortly hold meetings and elect delegates to attend the annual meeting to be held between representatives of the employees and the officials of the road. This meeting is held every year to give the men an opportunity of laying any grievance they may have before the company.

The Month for Coloring and Recreating.

Diamond Dyes Make Old Things Look Like New.

This month thousands of women will be colouring dresses, shawls, coats, vests, pants, knitting yarns, carpet rags, sheepskin mats, etc.

The dyeing operation is an important one, and demands much care. The great essential is to get the right dyes—colours that are pure, bright, and fast to washing and sunlight.

The Diamond Dyes—the only guaranteed dyes in the world—possess all the important virtues that make perfect colours. The popular Diamond Dyes have such an extended sale that unscrupulous dealers have made efforts to imitate them. Avoid all such imitations. If you would have your goods and materials coloured richly and permanently, use only the "Diamond." Refuse all dyes that your dealer tells you are just as good as the "Diamond." The "Diamond" are the best in the world and he knows it well.

THE MONEY MARKETS.

Everything at a Standstill Awaiting the Result of the Election—London and New York Affected.

London Nov. 2.—The position of the money market to-day is as described on Saturday, and it will remain so until the result of the election is announced. Feverish markets are expected to-morrow; indeed, Mr McKinley's election or defeat is likely to give the cue to the future of the markets here for some time to come. The rate for money on the London market continues firm to-day at 3 3-8 per cent, awaiting the result of the American election.

The Paris bourse was cheerful today. The settlement there is going more smoothly than had been expected. It is reported, but not confirmed, that a Spanish internal loan of 500,000,000 pesetas has been taken firm by the North of Spain Railway Company, or rather by Paris and Madrid banks behind the railroad company.

As to Wall-Street.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Evening Post's financial article says: "The memorable Presidential campaign of 1896 ended to-day with a violent advance in prices, in which very heavy transactions on both sides of the speculative account resulted in the shifting of the general list to a materially higher level. This was believed to foreshadow the firm conviction of the best authorities regarding a sound money victory to-morrow. The best judgment of Wall-street—and it was interesting as reflecting sentiment—agrees in foreshadowing a panicky break in the improbable event of Mr. Bryan's victory, and a reaction of greater or less extent in case McKinley were to win by a close majority. The doubtful problem is exactly what will prices do next Wednesday and during the balance of November if tomorrow should bring about an overwhelming sweep for the sound money candidates? If conditions outside the financial markets proper were such as existed at this time in 1895 and 1894 it would be reasonable, even with such a victory to look for some reaction. The security market has a habit, at such junctures, of moving contrary to preconceived general opinion. But commercial and general trade conditions now are not at all what they have very lately been. No doubt a sound money victory would be followed by a very great increase in our merchandise import trade over the last few months—an increase sufficient, ordinarily, to turn the scales of foreign export decidedly against us. But, on the other hand, we have and shall continue to have our present enormous outward grain movement based, not upon excessive surplus, but upon Europe's pressing needs. We have also the quite unprecedented increase in our exports of manufactured goods compared with other years. All this, moreover makes no account of the possibility of a sudden outburst of European demand for our securities when the stability of the money standard is assured. Such a demand may come, or it may not. If it does, it certainly will far outweigh, so far as our internal trade balance is concerned, both the increase in merchandise exportations and the return of floating capital to Europe when our open market money rates decline."

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Heavy Arrivals of Wheat at Calcutta

AND THE PRICE HAS GONE DOWN

Calcutta, Nov. 2.—The arrival of thousands of tons of California wheat at this port has had the effect of causing a reduction in prices in some parts of the districts affected by he famine. It is believed that a total of 30,000 tons of wheat has been purchased for importation into India. The Government is doing everything possible to alleviate the distress. It has employed 53,900 persons in works which have been started, in order to furnish work for those who without it would probably starve to death. The effects of the failure of the crops are not felt as seriously now as they will be after. The worst distress will be felt in the middle of December.

ATROCITIES REPORTED.

Both Spaniards and Rebels in the Philippines Said to be Guilty of Great Excesses.

London, Nov. 2.—The Daily News will tomorrow publish a letter from an English merchant in the Philippine Islands that was despatched to London on Sept. 30. The writer alleges that horrible atrocities have been perpetrated by both the rebels and the Spaniards, but more especially by the latter, who torture their prisoners, particularly when they are prominent men, with a view to forcing them to confess complicity in the rebellion. He declares that in some cases prisoners' hands have been nailed to walls, while in others thumbscrews have been used. A hundred prisoners were thrown one night into a dungeon in the fortress at Manila, where there was hardly room for 30. The place was worse than the Black Hole of Calcutta. The poor wretches were up to their knees in filthy, putrid mud. Fifty-nine of them died during the night. A reign of terror exists in Manila and elsewhere in the islands. Wholesale arrests are made daily of innocent and guilty persons.

The writer adds that the rebellion is solely due to the rotten and corrupt administration of the Spaniards, which the natives were unable to endure any longer. The outlook is of the blackest description, and business is at a standstill. The writer was compelled to leave his estate, the Government refusing to guarantee his safety there.

Prisoners are executed by the wholesale. In treating of this subject, the writer describes the shooting of four men on the public promenade. The troops held their rifles so close to the heads of the condemned men that when the weapons were discharged their heads were blown to atoms. Crowds of Spanish women went to see these four rebels executed.

THE POWERS AND TURKEY.

Which Power Will Undertake the Occupation of the Sultan's Country.

London, Nov. 2.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily News claims to have authority for the statement which he telegraphs to that paper, that the powers are working actively to solve the Armenian question, and that a provisional solution will be to recognize a military occupation as the only remedy. It has not yet been agreed which power will undertake the occupation.

THE CASTLES' CASE.

It Has Been Set for Hearing Next Friday in London.

London, Nov. 2.—At the opening of the Clerkenwell sessions to-day Chairman McConnell directed the special attention of the grand jury to the case of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Castle of San Francisco, who are charged with stealing goods from various London stores, saying that it presented some remarkable circumstances. He said that the facts did not differ from those ordinarily resulting in charges of larceny, except for the position of the parties. "Upon most occasions," he said, "the Castles visited the stores together, but sometimes the female prisoner was alone." Still there was evidence which bore the construction that there was joint possession of the articles, and he expressed the opinion that it was a proper case for investigation by a common jury, as, with the exception of one, all the seven charges were shoplifting. The hearing of the case was finally set for Friday next, 10.30 a.m.

Defying the Probs

AND FORCING THE SEASON.

We Can't Change the Weather

BUT WE CAN CHANGE OUR PRICES.

At no time of the year are we satisfied to sell at regular prices. At no time of the year can we afford to allow unseasonable weather to clog our business. Our stocks must keep on the move. We're constantly running across lots of goods offered to us at Special Prices. That means ample opportunity to discount the trade in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings without any trouble. Please remember that this business is PERSISTENTLY in advance of every other, and that prices here are always, with seldom an exception, the LOWEST.

We start off this week with a double head of steam to Reduce all our prices on all our stock, and make business boom in defiance of the mild weather.

Ordered Work.

Tweeds and Worsteds must get a quicker move on like everything else. Boom! Boom! all along the Cloth Department. Well dressed men come here—this store appeals to gentlemen of refined taste, and provides most fully for all. Our Fall Stocks of Cloths and Tweeds for custom work will please all who prefer their garments made up to their own measure from carefully selected fabrics. We deny the right of High Prices to exist while this balmy weather hangs on.

Just imagine the condition of things where everything is held for a regular profit until sold. Gough Bros. the progressive and aggressive leaders of Low Prices, make prices the moving power all along the line. REPUBLICANS ARE ON TOP.

Big Majority for McKinley and Hobart.

BRYAN'S SUDDEN RISE AND FALL

New York Swings Itself Clear of the Tammany Tiger's Claws—All the New England States Give Increased Republican Majorities—No Doubt as to McKinley's Election.

The Presidential election is over.

Major McKinley is in the saddle, while his silver-tongued opponent from Nebraska lies vanquished by the wayside.

Owing to the change in the system of balloting, exact figures cannot be ascertained till this evening, if then. The ballot papers were like newspaper folios, and contained in some instances a hundred names, not counting the seven tickets for President, as follows:

Republican—William McKinley, Garret A. Hobart.

Democratic—William J. Bryan, Arthur Sewall.

WILLIAM McKINLEY.

People's Party—William J. Bryan, Thomas E. Watson.

Prohibition—Joshua Levering, Hale Johnson.

National Party—Charles E. Bentley, Jas. H. Southgate.

Socialistic Labor—Charles H. Matchett, Matthew Maguire.

National Democratic—John M. Palmer, Simon B. Buckner.

Of course, the last five tickets really did not cut any figure whatever in the result, and all bulletins and figures are based on the fight between the Republican and Democratic candidates, McKinley and Bryan.

An Extraordinary Contest.

New York, Nov. 3.—One of the most extraordinary election contests in the history of the country terminated to-day in the utter routing of the free silver advocates, the wrecking of the Democratic party and the triumph of the policy of protection and the maintenance of the gold standard as advocated by the Republican leaders. It is thought at this hour (11 o'clock) that 250 Republican Congressmen are surely elected and perhaps an even greater number, and a sufficient number of the new Legislatures will be Republican to give that party control of the United States Senate. It is not likely that full returns of a satisfactory nature will come from Delaware, California, Kansas, North Dakota,

GARRET A. HOBART.

Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah and Virginia until a very late hour, and in the appended table these States are placed, not from any reliable information, but rather on scant bulletins which may or may not prove to be correctly interpreted..

Electoral Vote at 1 a.m.

New York, Nov. 4.—From returns received by the United Associated Presses up to 1 a.m., the indications are that McKinley will have 318 electoral votes, as follows:

	M'KINLEY
New England States	30
New York	36
New Jersey	10
Pennsylvania	32
Ohio	23
Wisconsin	12
Iowa	13
South Dakota	4
Maryland	8
Illinois	24
Kentucky	13
West Virginia	6
Virginia	12
Nebraska	8
North Carolina	11
Indiana	15
Michigan	14
Minnesota	9
Missouri	17
Total	304
	BRYAN
South Carolina	9
Georgia	13
Alabama	11
Florida	4
Mississippi	9
Louisiana	8
Arkansas	8
Montana	3
Idaho	3
Colorado	4
Utah	3
Nevada	3
Texas	15
Tennessee	12
Total	106

The returns from the other states are meagre, and they are classified as doubtful, as follows: Kansas 10, North Dakota 3, Wyoming 3, California 9, Oregon 4, Washington 4, Delaware 3. Total 36.

The total number of electoral votes is 447; necessary for a choice 224.

Hobart to McKinley.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Major McKinley received this telegram:

"Paterson, N.J., Nov. 3.—Congratulations with all my heart on the glorious achievement under your magnificent leadership. The manhood of the Republic has asserted itself and the nation's honor and integrity will never again be assailed by the same forces. Mrs. Hobart joins me in congratulations. (Signed) Garret A. Hobart."

A telegram to Major McKinley says that the Tippecanoe Club of Cleveland, 1000 strong, will leave for Canton on a special train at 9 o'clock to congratulate the next President.

Manley's Estimate.

New York, Nov. 3.—J. H. Manley says the Republicans will have 240 representatives in Congress.

At Democratic Headquarters.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—At Democratic headquarters the bulletins were eagerly watched. In Senator Jones' rooms were gathered with the chairman Committeemen Campau of Michigan and Johnson of Kansas. Secretary Walsh, Senators Teller and Tillman, Congressman Hartman of Montana and others.

The early bulletins were unfavorable from a Democratic point of view, but Chairman Jones declared that this was expected, and therefore not at all discouraging. The announcement that Iowa was claimed for the Republicans by 50,000 plurality was accompanied by the statement that the Democratic chairman of that State also claimed it for his party.

McKinley Illinois by 100,000.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The indications, based upon returns from all but 100 precincts of Chicago, and scattering returns from outside the city, are McKinley and Tanner have carried Illinois by over 100,000. Tanner is running ahead of his ticket, but somewhat behind McKinley.

Minnesota Republican.

St. Paul, Nov. 3.—Four hundred of the 1717 precincts of Minnesota have reported, and indicate that the state has gone overwhelmingly for McKinley. St. Paul has given him a majority of at least 6000, and Minneapolis has done as well. The state has, apparently, given the Buckeye statesman about 50,000 plurality. Every county so far reporting gives a big McKinley majority. The only man on the Democratic state ticket who has a chance of election is Lind, for whom the Scandinavians have voted very extensively. Lind, however, seems to be buried under the McKinley avalanche. It is a clean Republican sweep on Congress, except the Seventh District. The Legislature is Republican by two-thirds on joint ballot.

Maryland With McKinley.

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—Chairman of the Democratic State Committee refused to-night to make a statement regarding Maryland, except be conceded the state to the Republicans, except the First Congressional District.

In Massachusetts.

Boston, Nov. 3.—The indications are that McKinley has carried Massachusetts by 150,000. Wolcott for Governor runs somewhat behind McKinley. The vote is very large in all parts of the state. Fitzgerald (Dem.) is elected to Congress in the Ninth District and the Tenth District is still in doubt. In the other 11 districts Republican Congressmen are elected. The Executive Council will stand seven Republicans to one Democrat, the same as last year. The Palmer vote promises to equal the desired 3 per cent. of the total to give the National Democracy standing on the Australian ballot. Legislature overwhelmingly Republican.

In New Hampshire.

Concord, N.H., Nov. 3.—Returns are coming in very slowly, but enough have already been received to indicate that the Republicans have secured the most sweeping victory in this state in its history, and that their ante-election claim of a plurality of upwards of 20,000 for McKinley and nearly as much for Ramsdell for Governor, with increased majorities in both branches of the Legislature and enlarged pluralities for Congressmen, will be verified.

Heavy Vote in Maine.

Portland, Me., Nov. 3.—One hundred and ninety-five towns give McKinley 55,175.

MR. COLE'S ANALYSIS

He Says the Sudbury Coal is Good Anthracite.

ONTARIO FUEL FOR ONTARIO HOMES

Remarkably High Quality of Coal for So Near the Surface of the Earth Geological Reports From British Columbia With Special Reference to the Gold Mines.

Granville Cole, Ph.D., analytical chemist and practical coal miner, yesterday sent the following to Messrs. Campbell, Currie & Co., regarding the find of Sudbury coal:

I beg to send you the assay of the sample of coal which I selected in your presence. This sample of coal was carefully selected and came from the vein at a depth of six feet.

Loss on ignition, including carbon and volatile matter, average of two assays: No. 1, 97.76 per cent.; No. 2, 98.65 per cent.; average, 98.206 per cent; residue insoluble silicates, 1.46 per cent; iron and alumina, 0.78 per cent.

There is only a trace of sulphur to be found in the coal. The carbon is remarkably high for coal so very near the surface, and indicates a very high grade of coal beneath.

I am of the opinion that it is anthracite. Its specific gravity is 1.843 at 40 Fahr., pure anthracite being 1.800 at the same temperature.

Work of the Geological Survey.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Messrs. R. G. McConnell and James McEvoy, two of the members of the Geological Survey Staff, who have been engaged all season in British Columbia, returned to the city yesterday. Mr. McConnell was part of the season in the vicinity of Toad Mountain, and afterwards moved over towards the Rossland camp. Mr. McEvoy was engaged for the first part of the season in finishing up the Shuswap sheet, and afterwards worked in conjunction with Mr. McConnell. The latter, speaking to your correspondent, said that undoubtedly the Rossland camp was a very promising one, and a lot of good, conscientious development was taking place, but at the same time there were many wild-cat schemes on the market. On account of the boom in that town many eastern people who were now taking a great interest in mining had got the idea into their heads that Rossland was not only rich, but the richest mining camp in British Columbia. There were, however, many other exceedingly rich camps, as for instance the Slocan, Lardo, Toad Mountain, East Kootenay, Boundary Creek, Big Bend and others, all in the southern part of the province, and all of which have most promising outlooks. Some of these he knew from personal observation, others from specimens of ore and the reports of reliable men. Mr. McConnell has not the slightest doubt of British Columbia's destiny as a great mining country. The Rossland boom has set the heather on fire, and the excitement was going to sweep over the whole province.

A Petition to Mr. Hardy.

Hon. A. S. Hardy has received a petition signed by over 400 residents of Sudbury and vicinity with respect to the opening of certain townships in the district to prospectors. The petition sets forth:

"1. That, whereas the investing public of Ontario are beginning to take a more active interest in mining, and especially in the gold mines of British Columbia.

"2. And, whereas there are in the Wahnapitae section and other parts of this district, a great many gold 'prospects' of the most promising character, and whose development would be of the greatest benefit to the district and the province at large.

"3. And, whereas the townships of Rathbun, Scadding, Kelly and Davis, in which (as far as known) the main gold belt lies, have been withdrawn from the market indefinitely, the work of prospecting for gold and of opening up the mines is greatly discouraged and kept back;

"We, therefore, earnestly petition your Government to cancel the withdrawal of the said townships from the market, and to issue patents or leases, for all locations that have been taken up therein, as it will simply be impossible to interest capital in the development of such mining claims until a proper title can be obtained for them."

INGERSOLL ROAD RACE.

Muir of Brantford First In—Scoular of Ingersoll Won the Time Prize.

Ingersoll, Nov. 3.—There was beautiful weather for the road race to-day. There was a quarter holiday proclaimed and generally recognized. The road was in first-class condition, having been thoroughly repaired by the committee. The start was made at the market and the turn at Woodburn Mills, Woodstock, the finish being at Boles' Corner. Forty entries were made altogether, and every one came to the mark. The race started at 3.40, and fast time was made by nearly all. A Brantford man got the wheel, but Ingersoll did nobly. There were not many accidents. Markham was beaten by Garbutt for the Griffiths prize. The Henderson special went to R. McKay. Scoular did nobly, winning the time prize from Graves and Robinson of Toronto. He gained over a very large contingent of riders. Scoular's time was 49.21, Graves 49.25, Muir 50.35. The finish was as follows:

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

A TOO-WILLING WITNESS.

THE Montreal Witness, a generally temperate and sober journal has evidently become intoxicated with canal water. It refers to the visit of Hon. A. G. Blair to inspect the Trent Valley Canal, and characterizes it as a sea serpent, which it hopes will be "knocked on the head." It is no little scandal that the great Witness has been pursuing a course that results in its seeing snakes. If the article of the Witness bore any evidence, either internal or otherwise, that it knew what it was talking about, the severity of its condemnation might excite concern. The Witness should remember that the only ground of question amongst those who know most of the subject, is that of money. The feasability of the work is settled; its utility, both nationally and locally, is undoubted, The importance of its function in permitting the farmers and farming community to enjoy reduced freight rates, is conceded on all sides by those who have taken any pains to make themselves conversant with the circumstances. It would take more than false Witness to shake the faith of the promoters in the desirability of the completion of this great waterway. How would the Witness feel if an influential journal should call Montreal Harbour a sea serpent, when the city is clamouring for Dominion millions to facilitate precisely the same process as the Trent Canal is designed to serve—making easy the access of the grain of the Northwest to the seaboard? Does the Witness desire to bring Montreal into competition with Toronto in the matter of hoggishness?

CONSERVATIVE papers are exceedingly prompt in taking for the Conservative Government credit for the large volume of trade in the last year of that Government, as shown by returns just published. But they shrink from assuming for the Conservative government responcibility for the extravagant expenditure that necessitated the large supply bill passed at the last session of Parliament. If they accept credit for the one they are bound to accept blame for the other.

THE reported discovery of coal of paying quantities in Ontario is a matter of the greatest importance, and it is desirable that the character of the discovery should be settled as soon as possible. Prof. Coleman, of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, finds the Sudbury vein, according to press despatches, as good as Pennsylvania anthracite, but Dr. Hoffman, of the Dominion Geological Survey, judging from specimens submitted, pronounces the mineral found, anthraxolite, a kind of carbon of no commercial value. Would it not be as well for the officials of the Geological Survey to imitate the Bureau of Mines and send a man to the spot to investigate. It is very desirable that the truth be known in respect to the value or otherwise of the discovery, as soon as possible.

THE late administration was not above working the Indian Department for the benefit of the party, and pensioning unnecessary officials on the fund belonging to the wards of the Government. Some time ago Dr. Langrill, medical officer on the Reserve near Brantford, says the St. Thomas Journal, removed to Hamilton to practice, and was given a grand "send-off," making a tear-drawing farewell. He still continued to draw pay as medical officer, however, and when the Indians petitioned to have a local medical man appointed, the Tupper Ministry refused to make any change. The new Government has acceded to the wishes of the Indians, appointed the doctor nominated by the council, and now the Mail and lesser organs are hysterical over the "outrage." It is a poor business, attempting to use the Indian money as a pension fund for party purposes.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union.

WORLD'S CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR PRAYER CHAIN.

(Subject of Prayer for October.)

Pray that Canada may be a God-fearing, law-abiding, Christian land. Pray for every wise effort to advance the Christian citizenship.

A LITTLE LESSON IN THE SCHOOL OF PRAYER.

The nations of the earth are restless. There are mutterings and moanings among the peoples of every land. Revolutions, uprisings and discontent, wars and rumors of wars, are the news of every day. Even America and Great Britain are facing times and problems that make thoughtful people look anxious. The broad and grand conception of national life that is the mainstay of any people is everywhere giving way to a petty selfishness and a local or class spirit that portends danger. In official life, especially, is self-interest enthroned. Statesmen are being supplanted by spoilsmen; patriots by parasites. Men are eager to raise themselves — even by the destruction of their fellows. What shall we say to this? To whom shall we turn for help, save to the omnipotent and living God? He is not regardless of the affairs of nations, and He maketh even the wrath of man to praise Him. If God loves to guide and guard an individual life, how much more must He care for aggregated lives, for a great nation? If He is glorified by the uprightness of a single Christian why not by the uprightness of a Christian country? Prayer to God on behalf of a nation is well pleasing to Him. He wills that even men should cry for His help, in removing the sin that is a reproach to any people. His strength for the instilling of that righteousness, which exalts a nation, may be obtained for the asking. Let us bring our beloved country under the sway of the King of Kings by our prayers this month. As we love our native land, as we love the glory of the Lord, let us bear to Him in faith this petition.—Golden Rule.

NORTH MONAGHAN UNION SOCIETY.

This society was organized last February and has steadily pushed forward. The attendance at the meetings is good and the society has increased in numbers. They sent assistance to the suffering Armenians and on Friday, Oct. 23rd, held their first social, which proved a great success. The meetings are held on Tuesday nights, and a hearty invitation is extended to all living in this district to attend the meetings.

KEENE E. L. OF C. E.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 13th, the Keene E. L. of C. E. spent a very pleasant and profitable literary evening with the poet, Longfellow. After the opening exercises an essay, showing careful preparation, was read by Bella Howson, subject, "Poets," followed by another equally good one from Wilson Avison, subject, "Life of Longfellow." Mr. Porter then made an analysis of the poem "The Builders," bringing out very clearly some of the practical lessons taught in the different stanzas, and making emphatic this thought, "our minds are given us but our characters we build," therefore we should day by day be careful to build our lives with pure, noble and upright deeds, so that at the end we will stand a fair temple honoured by God and man. The singing of that beautiful song "Longfellow's Rainy Day," by Miss Roxborough, and a recitation, "Excelsior," by Miss Porter, completed the first part of the programme. During intermission apples were distributed with slips containing quotations from the "Psalm of Life," and to make it a social ten minutes with each apple there was but half of a line, and every one was expected to look up the other half of the quotation, and it proved a very pleasant and effectual way of mixing up the audience. After intermission Mrs. Harrison sang "The Bridge." David Edwards read the history of the poem "Resignation" and the poem was recited by Mary Kane.

On Tuesday, Oct. 20th, Mrs. Harrison conducted a very helpful conference on committee work. This was a timely lesson for our new officers and convenors have been but recently appointed and if we make practical use of the suggestions given we will expect good results during the next six months.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

The work done by this society during the past term was reported on Monday night. Miss McIntosh, the past president, reviewed the work and thanked the members for assistance rendered during the term, and solicited for the new president a continuance of same. Mr. Jas. Connal, the president-elect took charge of the meeting. He briefly presented the plans for the term and requested a more loyal support to the work by the members of the society. The future outlook for this society was never brighter.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY.

Our year is nearly at a close. We have twenty-five more members now on our roll than at this time last year. We have an honourary members' roll, on which members of our Lookout Committee are working. This list is gradually on the increase. It has been the aim of the Prayer Meeting Committee to bring our young members out into active service in our prayer meetings, which has proved very beneficial. The spiritual growth, we feel thankful, is perceptible and steady. Our Missionary Committee has put forth an effort to increase the work in that department. The Social department is very active, and has for some time done good work.

LOCAL UNION.

The Local Union Executive met on Tuesday evening in the Y.M.C.A. parlour. They decided to ask the various societies in the union to direct the thoughts of the members to suffering Armenia at next Monday night's meetings, and that all prayers offered to our Heavenly Father be for the preservation and protection of the Armenians, that the hand of the assassin may be stayed, and that Christian nations may be impelled to action in guarding this persecuted people.

Next week, Nov. 8 to 15, is devoted to this question the world around in C. E. circles, and therefore it is suggested that in our private devotions this subject will be remembered.

On the suggestion of the Ministerial Association it was agreed that our next quarterly meeting be devoted to the question of "The Observance of the Lord's Day," and that Mr. O'Meara, of Toronto, secretary of "The Lord's Day Alliance," be principal speaker of the evening. The meeting will be held in St. Andrew's church on Monday, Nov. 30. There will no doubt be a large attendance at this meeting, as the subject to be discussed is one of the live questions of the day.

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

BLAZES AT COLLINGWOOD.

Cooper's Lumber Yard Scorched in the Morning O'Connor's Hardware Store in the Evening.

Collingwood, Nov. 2.—This morning at 10 o'clock a fire broke out in the lumber yard at the foot of Minnesota-street, owned by D. G. Cooper. The firemen were soon on hand and in a short time had the flames under control, but not before a number of piles of lumber were partially destroyed. The loss will be considerable. There is some insurance.

This evening a fire broke out in the oil cellar of the Hardware store of Messrs. O'Connor & Co. Before the fire brigade could arrive the cellar, which contained many barrels of coal oil and other inflammable matter, was a roaring furnace. Fortunately the fire was confined to the department in which it originated. The flames were soon extinguished, but not before the stock in the cellar was destroyed. There was also considerable damage done to stock in the store by smoke. There is some insurance. The loss will be heavy. The fire originated from a barrel of street lighting oils, which caught from the lamp being too near it. During the excitement, Arthur O'Reilly, an employe of the water works department, was run over by a carter and received slight injuries.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which the doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

Send 31 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

REPUBLICANS ARE ON TOP.

Bryan 27,104, scattering 3319. The same towns in 1892 gave Harrison 43,373, Cleveland 32,452, scattering 3353. The Republican plurality now is 33,011, against 10,921 in 1892, a gain of 22,000. The towns to hear from gave Harrison 19,508, Cleveland 15,-686, scattering 2100. If these towns gain in the same ratio the total plurality will be between 47,000 and 48,000, against 14,827 in 1892.

331 Electoral Votes for McKinley.

New York, Nov. 3.—The National Republican Committee has advised that its chairman, Mark A. Hanna, claims 331 electoral votes for McKinley and Hobart.

Black is Governor of New York.

New York, Nov. 3.—Frank S. Black, the Republican candidate for Governor, is elected by about 240,000. Timothy L. Woodruff (Rep.) for Lieutenant-Governor and Irving G. Vann for Judge of the Court of Appeals are elected by nearly as large pluralities. The Republicans have elected 29 Republican Congressmen to the Democrats' five. They will have about 110 out of the 150 members of the State Assembly, and the election of a Republican to succeed David B. Hill in the United States Senate is assured. About the only salvage from the wreck that the Democrats have secured is the election of Sulzer, Cummings, McClellan, Bradley and Vehslage to Congress from this city.

Republicans Carry Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 3.—The first seven precincts reported outside of Portland give McKinley 654, Bryan 390, Palmer 72. At this rate McKinley will carry the state by 3000 plurality.

Small Vote in Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 3.—The vote cast in the state from the present outlook will be much less than in August this year or in November, 1892. The ticket is so long that but few returns have been received, and those not sufficient to base estimates on. Bryan will have the state, but by a greatly reduced majority. Clark, the sound money candidate for Congress in the Second District, and Gomar in the Third are making a strong run, with even chances of success.

Bryan Wins in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 3.—The election in this state was a quiet affair, and less than 50 precincts, all Democratic, have been heard from. There is, however, no doubt of the election of the Bryan and Sewall ticket by an overwhelming majority. The Congressmen elected are all Bryan Democrats. It is estimated here that the state will go Democratic by 30,000.

McKinley Sweeps Connecticut.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 3.—McKinley has swept the state by about 50,000 plurality in a total vote of 170,000. Lorn A. Cooke of Winsted (Rep.) is elected Governor by a plurality of perhaps 35,000. The four Republican Congressmen are all elected by majorities ranging from 6000 to 15,000. The Legislature will stand: 229 Republicans to 37 Democrats, a majority of 192 on joint ballot, ensuring the election of United States Senator Orville H. Platt to succeed himself.

Republican Claims in the East.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Committeeman Payne claims for the Republican ticket all the New England States, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, Oregon and California.

The Revised List.

New York, Nov. 3.—A revised list of Congressmen-elect is: Republicans 252, Democrats 92, Populists, Silverites and Fusionists 11.

Washington Goes Republican.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3.—Indications are that McKinley has carried Washington by a small plurality, and that Sullivan (Rep.) is elected Governor.

To-Day's Bulletins.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Times' bulletin says the Democrats concede Delaware to the Republicans by 1000.

New York, Nov. 4, 2.30 a.m.—Legislature reports from the various States indicate that sound money Republicans will have 48 Senators in the next United States Senate and Democrats and Populists 42.

New York, Nov. 4, 4 a.m.—A despatch from Pierre, S.D., to the United Associated Presses says McKinley carries the State by 12,000.

Washington, Nov. 4, 4 a.m.—Republicans will have as many members in the next House of Representatives as in this, while the Senate will have a good working sound money majority.

Louisville, Nov. 4, 4 a.m.—Unofficial returns from all counties in the Seventh Congress district give Settle (Dem.) 1760 plurality over Breckenridge, he of scandalous notoriety.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4, 4 a.m.—Chairman Gourley, Republican State Committee, wires Mark Hanna that McKinley's plurality in Indiana will be 30,000.

McKinley's plurality in Kentucky is between 10,000 and 20,000.

Tammany Wiped Out.

New York, Nov. 3.—McKinley and Hobart made a clean sweep of the Empire State. The Democratic plurality of 45,000 in 1892 is reversed, and the unprecedented plurality of 254,000 has been rolled up for the representatives of Republicanism and sound money. Tammany's usual enormous majority in this city has been overcome, and this stronghold of the Democracy has given a plurality of 21,000 for McKinley.

In Brooklyn, McKinley's plurality is 29,-000. In the state, outside of two cities, he has a plurality of 254,000. In every county and every town there have been Republican gains, which are equal to all that Republican campaign managers claimed in this state.

Bryan Snowed Under by 300,000.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Returns from Pennsylvania counties are coming in very slowly, but figures received indicate a plurality in the State for McKinley of nearly 300,-000. The 21 Congressional districts heard from show the election of 20 Republicans and 1 Democrat.

Texas Democratic.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 3.—It is certain that the Democratic ticket will have a good majority in Texas. Culberson, Democratic nominee for Governor, will win by 25,000 or 30,000, and the national ticket will have a much larger plurality.

New Jersey With the Major.

Newark, N.J., Nov. 3.—At the headquarters of the State Republican Committee Chairman F. Murphy at midnight rested his claim at 50,000 for the Republican plurality in this State. The entire Republican Congress delegation rides in on the landslide.

Big Vote in Vermont.

White River Junction, Vt., Nov. 3.—Beautiful weather through Vermont to-day helped to bring out a large vote. Returns came in more promptly than in previous years. One hundred and sixty towns gave McKinley 38,097, Bryan 7569, Palmer 987, Levering 514. Republican plurality 30,528.

Bryan Wins Idaho.

Boise City, Idaho, Nov. 3.—Returns come in very slowly, and there will be no figures obtainable until to-morrow. The state is conceded to Bryan by 15,000 to 20,000 majority. Borah Sil (Rep.) it is claimed is ahead for Congress.

Tennessee Was Bryan.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 4.—The Republican committee admits that Bryan has carried the State.

The Journal Gives it Up.

New York, Nov. 4 (3.30 a.m.).—The Morning Journal (Silver Democrat) says this morning: Besides New York and the entire east, Major McKinley has carried the so-called doubtful states of Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The Southern States won by Bryan are: Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Missouri. Nebraska is claimed by both the Republican and Democratic committees, as are Delaware, North Carolina and Dakota. New York will probably give McKinley a plurality equal to that given Governor Morton in 1894. The Republican candidates for Governor and Lieut.-Governor will have pluralities nearly as large as that given McKinley, while the Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican. New York city has given McKinley 25,000 plurality. Notwithstanding the meagreness of the reports, the Legislature chosen in the various states that elect senators after March 4 will probably stand just as it does now on the silver question. The fifty-fifth Congress will be Republican by about the same plurality as the fifty-fourth Congress. The free silver element will possibly be strengthened from the west.

A Sound Money Victory.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Times this mornings says: William McKinley and Garret A. Hobart, the Republican candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States, have been elected by a tremendous majority in the electoral college, and by an enormous plurality of the popular vote. Out of the 447 electoral votes, the Democrat-Populist combination of Bryan, Sewall and Watson was only able to secure 110 as against 325 for their Republican competitors, with one State in doubt. The victory for sound money is even more strikingly shown in the popular vote. In this the pluralities from the most trustworthy data make it appear that McKinley and Hobart lead the opposition by more than 1,000,000 ballots. In the analysis by States the fact is made clear that the attempted coalition of the South and West has been an absolute and thorough failure. The boasted "solid South" has been broken.

What The London Standard Says.

London, Nov. 3.—In its issue to-morrow, The Standard, commenting upon the elections returns received from the United States, will say: Mr. McKinley has doubtless won a splendid victory. The mere silence of the Bryanites confirms the belief that they have sustained a crushing defeat. Even the indefinite preliminary announcement of the result of the election will go far to restore calm in commercial circles.

A Fatality at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—In an election row at Tenth and Cass-avenue, John Kerley, aged 30 years, and living at 1109 North Ninth-street, was shot and fatally wounded by John Eagan, a Republican ward politician, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. After the shooting Eagan attempted to escape, but was pursued and nearly lynched before the police rescued him.

Election Brawls in Delaware.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 3.—There were minor brawls to-day in Sussex County, and in two districts no election was held, the Union Republican Addicks refusing to permit the anti-Addicks people, or regular Republicans, to have voters' assistants.

In one district of Kent County there was no election for the same reason. The only fatal affray reported was at Baltimore Hundred, Sussex County, where one man was killed.

McKinley is supposed to have carried the state, but the Democrats get the Legislature and Congressmen.

Satisfaction at Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 3.—News of the result of the Presidential contest in the United States was awaited in Halifax with greater interest than any election in that country ever attracted here. The telegraph offices were surrounded by crowds all the evening. The sympathy of the people was almost altogether with the Republican candidate, the reports of his victory being received with pronounced satisfaction.

Montreal for McKinley.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—The greatest interest was taken in the American election in this city to-night, and the excitement was almost as intense as that which is shown in a Canadian election. Thousands of people gathered in front of the newspaper offices, where the returns were bulletined. The feeling seemed to be largely for McKinley, and when the returns showed that his election was a certainty there was loud cheering.

Apple Shipments From Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—For the week ending Oct. 31, the apple shipments from the port of Montreal amounted to upwards of 63,000 barrels. Of this number Liverpool took 23,000, Glasgow 20,000, London 12,000 and Hamburg 4500 barrels.

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

Break Up a Cold in Time BY USING PYNY-PECTORAL

The Quick Cure for COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc.

Mrs. Joseph Norwest, of 48 Soraurar Ave., Toronto, writes: "Pyny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of croup after a few doses. It cured myself of a long-standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for coughs, croup or hoarseness."

H. O. Barbour, of Little Rocher, N.B., writes: "As a cure for coughs Pyny-Pectoral is the best selling medicine I have. My customers will have no other."

RAILROAD MAN KILLED.

Harry Conners of the Canada Atlantic Fell Under the Wheels, While Coupling, and Was Mangled to Death.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Harry Conners, an employe of the Canada Atlantic Railway, met with a fatal accident at Rouse's Point last night. He was engaged in coupling cars in the yards when he stumbled and fell under the moving train. The train passed over him, completely severing the lower limbs from the body. He expired in a few moments. The remains passed through here at noon to-day en route to his home in Carleton Place. He is, as far as can be learned, a single man of about 29 years of age.

WE WANT TO KNOW.

Not a Single Reply to our Question—Not a Failure to Cure—A Half-Million Users of Dodd's Kidney Pills Satisfied.

Toronto, Nov. 2 (Special)—Without a single reply, for over two years, we have advertised this question:—"Does anyone, anywhere, know of any case wherein Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure any kidney disease at any stage?"

We estimate that a half million people must have joined in using the two and a half million boxes already sold in Canada, and yet not a single complaint—not one failure to cure.

Now, reader, here's one for you:—Do you know of a death from kidney disease or of heart failure, the victim having used Dodd's Kidney Pills?

Tobacco Heart

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief, by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

The Elections.

For the benefit of his patrons Frank Fairen had a special wire run into the Pullman last night, where the election returns were received and announced. The betting in town was $100 to $25 on McKinley.

An Example for the Town Council.

It would be well if the Town Council would take a leaf out of the book of the Board of Education. An enormous amount of business was transacted at last night's meeting in less than three quarters of an hour. The members confine themselves strictly to the business in hand.

New Fancy Goods Store.

Mrs. Appleby wishes to inform the ladies of Peterborough that she will, in a week or ten days, open for their inspection a stock of fancy goods at 426 Water street, south of Mason's greenhouse. A share of your patronage is respectfully solicited. Look out for new advertisement next week.

The Fraser Mission Band Concert.

Miss Hutchinson, of Toronto, Miss Alice Roger, of St. Catharines, and Miss Lola Ostrom, of Peterborough, are among those who will contribute to the entertainment to be given in the school room of St. Paul's church on Friday evening, November 6th, at eight o'clock. Admission 10 cents.

Acknowledgment.

The committee of management of the Peterborough Protestant Home gratefully acknowledge the following donations for the month of October :—Mr. Robert Fife, bag of apples ; Miss Drake, Grafton, basket of pears ; Oak Hall, pair of men's trousers ; Mr. J. B. McWilliams, barrel of apples ; Mrs. J. Flavelle, preserves and clothing ; Mrs. McGill, Toronto papers ; Mr. Sherlock, Chicago papers ; Mr. W. H. Moore, books and papers.

Neglected His Family.

The sad case of a wife appealing to the law to place her husband behind the bars, was witnessed in the police court this morning, when a worn out little woman went into the witness box to state that the big burly prisoner was in the habit of shamefully neglecting herself and three children by not providing them with the necessaries of life, when he was off on his periodical sprees. He had been on a spree for the last week and was not yet in his right mind. The prisoner made a disjointed denial of the charges and threatened to throw his family over for good on account of his wife bearing witness against him. He was remanded for eight days.

Meat Condemned.

At the market this morning Medical Health Officer Clarke condemned a quantity of mutton, offered for sale by a person who had purchased some carcases of sheep that had been worried by dogs. Dr. Clarke, while admitting that some of the wounded animals had been properly bled before death, felt that there was no doubt in some cases and to be on the safe side he promptly condemned the lot. He holds that meat for human use should be above suspicion. Besides he thinks there is a bare possibility that a dog or dogs that would attack sheep for the mere purpose of slaughter might possibly be made. Dr. Clarke properly holds that we have a first-class market now and that no means should be omitted that will tend to keep up its high standard.

VEN. ARCHDEACON CASEY ON "CANADA."

The Opening Entertainment in the Catholic Association Rooms.

The hall of the Catholic Literary Association was crowded last night, the occasion being the first of a series of entertainments to be held during the winter months.

Mr. L. V. O'Connor, B.A., the popular Secretary of the Association, occupied the chair, and seated on the platform were Ven. Archdeacon Casey and Rev. Fathers Canlan and Scanlan.

The programme opened by a brilliant pianoforte rendition of the "Venetian Grand March," by Misses Maggie Doherty and Maud Kelly, which was followed by the address of the evening.

The Archdeacon first referred to the objects of the Association, and the pleasure it afforded him to assist it in any way, and of the opportunity it afforded its members to improve themselves and lay the foundation of a successful future in life. He then dealt with the subject of his address, "Canada," tracing minutely its early history from the days of John Cabot, Jacques Cartier and Champlain, the last named he claimed being the first white man to sail over the navigable portion of the Trent Valley Canal. He referred to the struggles of the early settlers of the Dominion, and to the proud position Canada occupied to-day. In dealing with her illustrious sons, he paid a warm tribute to the late Sir John Thompson—a Canadian whose life was an example for all to follow. The reverend gentleman's address was an eloquent and patriotic one, and at its conclusion he was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

The next number on the programme was a tenor solo, "Douglas Gordon," sung in an excellent manner by Mr. Jas. Brown, who did not respond to a hearty encore. The little Misses Doris in a pianoforte duet of Irish melodies took the audience by surprise by their artistic playing, and on being recalled sang "Pretty Bunch of Daisies." Mr. Cook's pathetic solo, "A Mother's Love," was sweetly sung and earned for him a recall. Miss K. Simons in her vocal number, "The Volunteer Organist," sang with great taste and expression. "Sunshine and Sorrow" was very sweetly sung by Miss Jennie Riley, but her rendition of a parody on "Just Tell Them That You Saw Me," which proved a McKinley battle song, took the house, which was evidently in sympathy with the Republican candidate. Mr. Daniel O'Connell, B.A., treated the audience to an exceedingly clever and eloquent reading of "Mark Anthony's Oration over Cæsar," which was indeed a treat. Messrs. Roper and Talbot rendered an instrumental duet (guitar and banjo) "Over the Waves," which took the audience. They again favoured them with a spirited two-step. Messrs. Talbot and Hickey next rendered two excellent instrumental duets the programme closing with the National Anthem.

Misses. M. Butler, M. Doherty, N. Lewis and M. Begley were the accompanists of the evening.

The directors desire to thank all who contributed to the programme of the evening.

MUSICAL THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Entertainment of the Baptist Mission Circle.

A musical and thanksgiving service was held in the basement of the Murray street Baptist church last night, and it was a great success. There was a large attendance and the programme was of an unusually entertaining order.

Mrs. Hunter, president of Circle, occupied the chair and, with an address, introduced the programme, which opened with the singing the doxology, followed by Scripture reading in unison, and an anthem by the choir. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Donnelly and Mrs. Ellis. Then came the president's address, and during the evening two hymns were sung by the choir and audience. Miss Whiteside delivered two recitations during the evening, which gave evidence of most careful elocutionary training. She has a fine voice which she uses with great skill to interpret the emotions of her subject. Her last selection was received with so much favour that she was compelled to respond with a recall, which she did with a humorous selection, that showed that she is as much at home in this sphere as she is in more serious subjects. Miss Grace Stanley's vocal solo evidenced the great promise as a vocalist of this young lady. Miss Montgomery is entitled to special mention for the sweet manner in which she sang her solo. It was selected with good judgment, well adapted to her voice and was given with charming taste. Mrs. Mimms gave a reading admirably suited to the occasion.

At the conclusion of the most enjoyable programme a handsomely liberal freewill offering amounted to $57.00. The excellent refreshments were then served.

MISSION REPORT.

Mrs. (Dr.) Scott's report of the Women's Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary Society for Ontario west, read during the evening, stated that the foreign work was in the Telegu field, where the women's work was represented by the Coconada Girls Boarding School, in charge of Miss Baskerville. Last year there were 75 boarders. Then there is the Tamulotta station, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell and the spiritual condition of this field is highly encouraging. The Home Missionary Society carries on work in Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and the Northwest. The work is two-fold, including support of missionaries and churches in the Northwestern part of Ontario—Midland, Bracebridge, Sault Ste. Marie, Sandridge, Sturgeon Falls, Burke's Falls, Doe Lake, Sprucedale, Parry Sound and North Bay. The Society also sends out students from McMaster University to minister in churches in Ontario that cannot sustain a pastor. The French Canadian work is spreading generally, evangelizing French Canadians, supporting two missions, and supporting an Institute where French Canadians are trained for the ministry. This Institute has room for 120 pupils. The work in Manitoba and the Northwest was pronounced very encouraging. The Society is supporting a pastor at Calgary, and aids in building chapels and places of worship, and also helps in supporting a missionary among the Sandinavians. Work is also carried on among the Indians. One missionary reports 70 conversions among the Indians during the past year. The report ended with an appeal for aid in support of the work.

The thanksgiving entertainment was in every respect a most gratifying success, and those entrusted with the responsibility are entitled to great credit.

THE PETERBOROUGH PROTESTANT HOME.

THE ANNUAL MEETING WAS HELD YESTERDAY.

The Management of Ladies has Brought to a Finish Another Year of Prosperity—A New Furnace Purchased.

The annual meeting of the Board of Management of the Peterborough Protestant Home was held yesterday afternoon in the reception room at that institution.

Miss M. C. Roper, secretary, presented her annual report as appended :

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Again another year has rolled past in the history of the Peterborough Protestant Home, and as in previous years everything has gone on quietly and harmoniously. The inmates have all enjoyed very good health on the whole, no serious illness of any kind having been amongst them. There are twenty persons in the home at present, three of them having been put there by the C. A. S., until homes could be found for them. The committee is happy to be able to inform the public that they are this year able to put in a furnace, which has been very much needed for a long time, the building being so old and rambling a great many stoves were required to keep the house tolerably warm, but as soon as the furnace is in working order every part will be thoroughly heated.

In comparison with the work done in other institutions of a similar kind, the Peterborough Protestant Home stands very well in every respect.

Again through the kindness of Mr. T. Fitzgerald the inmates had a very enjoyable drive in the summer and greatly appreciated his thoughtfulness.

The committee and inmates would again express their sincere thanks to the clergymen and physicians who kindly visit the home so regularly and by whose visits the inmates are cheered and made to feel that others but those immediately connected with the Home take an interest in them.

They would also thank those who have contributed in any way towards the support of the Home, and to the editors of the three papers who also so generously insert notices, etc., gratuitously.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT was presented by Miss Roger, as follows:—

RECEIPTS.

Balance on hand from last year	$260 63
Grant from Ontario Government	428 51
For board from inmates and others on their account	558 50
Cash subscriptions	24 40
Interest on investments	980 00
Other sources	5 00
	$2,257 14

EXPENDITURE.

Salaries and wages	$271 83
Maintenance and outdoor relief	350 23
Fuel and light	107 90
Repairs and furniture	191 17
Medicine	28 98
Insurance	5 00
Sundries	76 49
Balance	727 55
	$2,257 14

After the reports had been formally adopted the following officers were elected :

President—Mrs. Vernon.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. J. G. Hall.
2nd Vice President—Mrs. Hazlitt.
Treasurer—Miss Roger.
Ass't Treasurer—Miss Davis.
Secretary—Miss Roper.

The ladies in whose hands the the management of the Home is entrusted cannot be too highly complimented on the painstaking manner in which they have discharged their trust. Under their experienced advice the institution will compare favourably with any in the province, which depends almost wholly for subsistence upon the contributions which these ladies make it their business to solicit. They take the welfare of the Home to heart and evince an interest in the troubles of the many old people within its walls, which is infinitely touching to see. To their noble efforts in behalf of the aged and infirm the public of Peterborough owes a debt of gratitude, which is only realized after a visit to the comfortable haven of rest which has been provided, and is maintained year after year by the untiring energy of the ladies who have devoted themselves to the undertaking. To the late Mrs. Nicholls, of course, the home is indebted for its standing helped, and the interest from her bequest as through her beneficience it is much enables the old people to have many comforts of which they would otherwise be deprived.

PERSONAL.

Miss E. Hubbs has returned from visiting Miss Ackerman at Whitby College.

Mr. Ed. Ryott, the genial clerk at the Grand Central, has returned from a trip to Toronto and Lindsay.

Mr. Fred. Philp, who has been in Nicholls Hospital for the past eight weeks with typhoid fever, left for his home in Port Hope, yesterday, looking very pale and weak.

Mr. Thomas Telford, THE EXAMINER's "weather prophet," is unfortunately prostrated with another severe attack of illness, but his condition is showing signs of improvement.

The Port Hope Guide says :—Rev. Carl Smith and wife, Peterborough, are in town, guests of Mr. Smith's father, South street. Mr. Smith leaves for his new charge in Berlin, on Thursday.

Mrs. Kirby and Master Tom left to-day by the C. P. R. express for Ottawa, to be present at the marriage of Miss Kirby. Mrs. Kirby returns after a short stay to spend the winter with Mrs. Bradburn.

Mr. A. J. Miller, of Toronto, has arrived in town to enter on an engagement as operator in Mr. Whiten's new photographic rooms. Mr. Miller comes to Peterborough with a first class reputation as an experienced artist, having filled engagements in several of the leading studios of Toronto.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

CURLING.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Colts was held last evening in the parlours of the Palace Restaurant, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year :

Hon.-Pres.—W. G. Ferguson.
President—C. N. Brown.
Vice-Pres—George Matthews.
Sec.-Treas.—G. J. Horkins.
Executive committee—W. J. Thompson, C. LeBrun and Dickson Hall.
Delegates to Midland Colts Association—C. N. Brown and Geo. J. Horkins.
Delegate to Scottish curlers—Dickson Hall.

The annual meeting of the Association will be held on Monday when two delegates will be present from each club in the Association, and the schedule of games struck for the season.

THE WHEEL.

Some of the boys are doing very fast work up at the Nicholls Park track. Lytle rode an unpaced quarter in 31 seconds yesterday. The track will be placed on the C.W.A. list and an effort will be made to lower some of the records.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. Hoods, heads, backs and breasts in black waterproof, impervious to water, soft and pliable. Any kind or style of ordered goods required. Lap rugs, strictly waterproof. Also cheese covers as requested by members of the Cheese Board, and for covering all kinds of goods liable to damage from wet. A. KINNEGOTTE, Tent, Sail and Awning manufacturer, 344 Water street, opposite market.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

The quadrennial upheaval in the United States, called the Presidential election, has resulted in the decisive victory of McKinley and the sound money party. The political, social and industrial unrest that can hardly be said to slumber, was evident throughout the months of one of the bitterest contests in the existence of the country, and if the election of McKinley does not bring the prosperity that the discontented working classes are clamouring for, the possibility of grave complications arising out of even so signal a victory for the McKinley party, is not to be ignored. Though the contest was ostensibly and almost solely over the subject of sound money versus debased currency, yet behind these issues are others. The unrest and discontent that led a respectably large section of the people to resort for relief to a quack remedy represented by the silver heresy, are too deep and ramifying to be exorcised by defeat. As to the effect on Canada, McKinley's rabid protectionism is proverbial, and at first sight we may expect no commercial favours or fairness from that quarter, but at the same time he is said, with all his high tariff predilections, to be in favour of reciprocity.

MILLIONS of Americans are to-day weeping Bryany tears.

THE prophets that foretold a sweeping free silver victory, must have been taking lessons from Sir Charles Tupper.

THE COMMITTEE ON SUPERVISION

reported through its chairman, Dr. Caldwell, as follows:

That the difficulty with Harry King was amicably arranged by his apologizing to Mr. Yenney, the Principal of the South Central School, who reinstated him in the school at once.

That the Botanical charts have been procured for the Institute.

That Mr. Jeffries appeared before the committee asking to be supplied with supplementary readings in literature, which it is now necessary to teach. Some $60 was granted five years ago, he said. The committee recommends that $40 be granted for that purpose, provided it can be taken from the special fund belonging to the Institute.

That the Principals of each school be notified that they and their assistants are expected not to recommend particular places of business for the purchase of books, and that it is illegal for any teacher to accept any commission on purchases made by the pupils.

That Mr. Yenney, Principal of the South Ward School, in the matter brought before the Board by Mr. Stevenson, exonerated himself to the satisfaction of the committee, and no evidence of improper influence was submitted.

That the recent changes are as follows: Miss Mark from the South Central, where she taught the third class, to be Principal of George street school Miss Beckett from the West Ward to the Central, where she is doing the same work. Miss Jenkins from the South Central where she taught the third class, to the West Ward School, where she teaches Junior Part II, Senior Part I and Junior Part I. Miss Ames from the Central to the George Street school, doing the same work. Miss Hall from the Central to the George Street school, doing the same grade of work. Miss Lough from the Central to the South Central; she is also doing the same work.

That some of these changes were made to supply teachers for the George Street school. With regard to the other changes the late Inspector did not consult the principals of the schools nor the Supervision Committee. Under the circumstances we deem it advisable not to express an opinion as to the advantages or otherwise of the changes made.

In the three rooms opened in George Street the Senior III, Junior III, and Senior Part I class were placed. This arrangement we find does not relieve some of the junior rooms, especially the classes in the second book. We recommend that the advisability of moving the senior third class from the George street school, and dividing the pupils between the Central and the South Central schools be considered at the Christmas vacation.

The recent changes in the boundaries were made on account of opening the George street school and also with the object of dividing the entrance pupils equally between the Central and the South Central school.

There has been some difficulty arranging them satisfactorily, and we recommend the following till the Christmas vacation:

The Central School, for all classes below the fourth:—On the north, the centre of Edinburgh street as far west as Rubidge street; on the west, the centre of Rubidge street as far south as Charlotte street, thence east along the centre of Charlotte street as far east as Bethune street, and thence again south along the centre of Bethune street as far as the Canadian Pacific Railway track; on the south of the Canadian Pacific Railway east to the river.

The South Central School, for all classes below the fourth:—On the north, from the western limits of the town, the centre of Charlotte street as far east as Bethune street, and thence to include all the southern portion of the town not within the limits of the Central School as specified above.

The Park street school, for all classes below the senior third:—On the north, the centre of Smith street from the western limits of the town east to the junction with Edinburgh street, thence east along the centre of Edinburgh street to Rubidge street; on the east, the centre of Rubidge street as far south as Charlotte street; on the south, the centre of Charlotte street west to the town limits; on the west the western limits of the town.

The Barnardo avenue school for all classes below the fourth. All that portion of the town north of the centre of Smith and Edinburgh streets.

For the fourth class: the Central school all that portion of the town lying north of the centre of McDonel street from the western limit of the town east as far as Rubidge street, the centre of Rubidge street south to Hunter street, the centre of Hunter street east to the river. For the South Central school, all that portion of the town not included in the Central school district.

THE COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS,

through its Chairman, W. H. Hill, recommended as follows:

1. In the question of the appointment of an Inspector we beg to report that we have not as yet fully decided on any particular man.

2. That in the case of the young ladies who were not re-appointed last mid-summer, your committee would recommend, owing to certain circumstances in connection with the case, that they be added to the supply staff until mid-summer, 1897, and that while they are actually engaged in teaching they shall receive the usual salary of $1.25 per day, and that the Inspector report on them at the date mentioned the same as on other applicants for positions on the staff at that date.

Your committee would further recommend that Miss Meharry be appointed on the staff to fill the vacancy recently made by the resignation of Miss M. E. Lough, at a minimum salary of $275 per annum.

Adopted.

SOME MOTIONS.

Trustees Hamilton and Hartley moved that Miss Warner be requested to at least twice a week take up the usual improvement work of assistants with the whole Kindergarten staff, with a view of harmonizing the work done in the Kindergarten schools.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Ferguson and Hill it was resolved that the caretaker of the Institute be paid the sum of $15.00 for his attendance at the examinations during the summer holidays.

Messrs. Hill and Bamford moved that the headmasters of the different schools be supplied with a copy of the resolution touching the school boundaries, as now fixed.—Carried.

The board then adjourned, after having cleared off the slate in three-quarters of an hour.

APPLICATIONS FOR POSITIONS on the staff were received from Misses A. F. Wilson, M. G. McKee and Ethel Dawson.

Resignations were received from Miss Anna Wood and Miss Maud Allen, as teachers of the school.—Accepted, on motion of Trustees Craig and Sheridan.

On motion of Rev. H. Symonds and Mr. Pollock the secretary was instructed to write to the headmasters of the Norwood and Lakefield public schools and ask them for information with regard to the working of the promotion examinations in connections with the schools.

On motion of Trustees Maniece and Pollock, Miss Erskine was appointed to fill one of the vacant positions on the staff, at a salary of $250.00 per year.

Mr. Symonds and Mr. Maniece moved that Miss Dawson be appointed to the other vacant position at a salary of $230.

In amendment Messrs. Sheridan and Craig moved that Miss Armstrong be appointed.

The original motion was carried and Miss Dawson received the appointment.

On motion of Trustees Sheridan and Craig the account of P. B. Doup, for 75 cents, was paid.

AN APPEAL

To the Lady Voters of the Town of Peterborough.

DEAR LADIES,—I am very anxious to obtain your signatures to a petition I am circulating in town, asking our Council to unite with the County Council to erect a House of Refuge for the aged, friendless poor of the town and county. You can easily do so when you or some member of your family calls at the post office, as there is a petition there specially for the ladies to sign. By so doing you will confer a great favour upon those who may need such a home now or in the future, and it will also be well to vote at our next municipal election for such petition. Hoping the above will meet your hearty approbation, I remain respectfully,

Yours,

November 4th, 1896.

PIPES! PIPES!

IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE.

The Farm Stock, Implements, Etc. of Mr. James McKibbin, Smith, to be Sold on Thursday, Nov. 12th.

On Thursday, Nov. 12th, Mr. James McKibbin, lot 19 in the 5th concession of the township of Smith, will offer for sale by public auction the whole of his farm stock, implements, etc. This sale, which includes some fine horses and cattle and extra good farm machinery, will commence at one o'clock sharp.

The terms are $10 00 and under cash and twelve months credit on amounts exceeding that, upon furnishing approved paper with a liberal discount off for spot cash.

Immediately after the sale of the farm stock Mr. McKibbin will offer for sale his own homestead, consisting of 150 acres, more or less. There is upon this property an extra good stone house, splendid barns, stables and driving sheds, sheep pens and hen houses.

This is one of the finest farms in the township of Smith, there not being one half acre of the whole farm that cannot be operated by machinery without leaving the machine. Splendidly fenced and the land being in extra good condition. There will be a reserved bid, and the conditions of sale will be made known at the time of sale.

There will also be sold, subject to a reserved bid, his cattle ranch containing about 325 acres, consisting of lots 41 and 42 in the 16th concession of Smith. This land is heavily wooded, 15 acres of good, cedar swamp, the balance is mixed timber. There are 80 cords of wood cut and piled on the premises, about half maple and the balance mixed wood, which will be sold at the same time.

As Mr. McKibbin purposes giving up farming, this sale offers an excellent opportunity for any person desiring a good farm or good stock.

On the homestead farm there is an excellent orchard, producing annually about 100 barrels of extra good quality of apples.

Possession will be given within two weeks after sale.

Children for Adoption.

At first ill-health creeps up slowly, but at last it comes at a gallop and the rider is death. Of all known forms of ill-health and disease, consumption is the most insidious. Its approach is slow and stealthy. But at the last death comes with a rush. Consumption has been frequently pronounced incurable. It is not. It may be stopped—warded off—at almost any stage. But if the sufferer neglects to take the proper remedy in the proper way, death is swift and certain.

Consumption like almost all manner of disease has its inception in a trio of all-embracing disorders. They are "imperfect digestion," "irregular bowels," an "impure blood." They are triplets. One is dependent for existence upon the other. Cure one, cure all. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all known remedies for this disorder. It corrects disordered digestion, invigorates the liver, regulates the bowels, makes the blood pure, and the nerves strong. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It makes the muscles firm and springy. It soothes and invigorates the nerves. It tones up body and brain. It cures ninety-eight per cent of all cases of consumption.

Mrs. Rebecca F. Gardner, of Grafton, York Co., Va., writes: "When I was married I weighed one hundred and twenty-five pounds. I was taken sick and reduced in health and broke out with a disease which my doctor said was eczema. He treated my disease but failed to do me any good, and I fell away to 90 pounds. I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and thank God and you, I began to improve. When I began taking the 'Discovery' my weight was 90 pounds and now I weigh 140 pounds and have only taken two bottles. I cannot say too much about the medicine. My husband is one of the happiest men in the world. He says I look younger than I did the first time he ever saw me, and that was fifteen years ago. Well, doctor, I am a well woman, and do all of my housework, tend to my fowls and cow and do some work in the garden. It is a miracle that I am cured."

Health and happiness formed a partnership in the garden of Eden. It has never been dissolved. You cannot have one without the other. Constipation is the usual cause of ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They cure constipation. One is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

HIS RING.

She Did Not Know It, But Wanted to Make Its Acquaintance.

At 9 o'clock last Sunday evening Algernon stood at the front door of the house of the girl he loved, but to whom he dared not say a word, says the New York Sun.

For a long time he had been sparring for points, but to the bashful these things do not appear in a clear light, even though they clearly exist.

He had rung the bell once, twice, thrice, but there had been no answer.

Nervously he stretched forth his hand to ring again, when the door was opened by the one being in the world who made his life worth living.

"Why, Algernon," she exclaimed, "if I had thought it was you I wouldn't have kept you standing out in the cold so long."

He thought of how long he had been standing out in the cold and wondered when the courage would come to him to go in out of it.

"You know," she continued, as she drew him inside and closed the door, "that the servants are out to-night, and some of the family have to answer the front door bell."

He thought he saw a chance to make a start in the right direction without alarming her. That had been the trouble all the time with Algernon; he was in mortal terror of frightening the girl by some emotional precipitancy or other, and thus destroying his hopes forever.

"Why, Miss Dora," he said, in tender, insinuating tones, "don't you know my ring yet?"

She looked down at her empty fingers, where no jeweled setting shone, and then looked up into Algernon's face.

"No, Algernon," she said, blushing, "I do not. But don't you think it is almost time that I did?"

Facts About Blue-Eyed Cats.

It is a curious fact that blue-eyed cats are invariably deaf. Mr. J. Harrison Weir, a great authority on the cat, once bought a big, white, blue-eyed beauty, which seemed to be every inch a good cat, except that its vocal organ was of such robust power that her cries drove the household frantic. After some strange experiences the problem was solved by this voiceful specimen being taken home by a kind old lady, who was herself stone deaf.

Dentistry for Widows.

Widows of Russian officers who are not entitled to pensions are to be provided with a novel means of obtaining a livelihood. In the autumn ten vacancies at one of the principal schools of dentistry will be open to them, and, after a two years' course of instruction, the successful candidates will be in a position to practise.

A Fair Certainty.

"Can I go to-day and bathe, mamma?"

"Don't bother me."

"But, can I?"

"Well, yes, then. But if you go and get drowned, don't venture to come and show me your face again."—Judy.

Correct Information.

"Uncle Allen, do you think there will be any pipes or cigars in heaven?"

"I think it very doubtful, my boy. It would seem more natural to go to the other place if you wanted to smoke."—Chicago Tribune.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. THE JACKET'S THE THING.

How It Was Constructed for a White Yachting Gown.

Bolero, Figaro and Eton—all three will prevail in modes for the coming autumn. Certain fanciful ones are already very popular, as, for instance, the Turkish bolero, made of bright cloth and heavily braided in gold. It should be sleeveless and worn over a bodice of white chiffon or mousselin de soie.

These jackets are a true index of coming modes, since not only will the bolero be very fashionable, but braiding of all kinds will be worn. In general the bodices will be covered almost entirely by the braided design, with the sleeve left plain. The front of the side panels only of the skirt should be embroidered, as to cover that garment entirely would make it too heavy. As a hint for summer work, why not braid one of these gowns during the hot forenoons on the veranda? A black or brown cloth of light weight should be selected and it should be nicely stamped with a design in long line effects, which prevent the gowns appearing clumsy. Then embroider, if a black gown, with black, if a brown with green braid. For a scroll design narrow braid is used, sewed on one edge: but many of the gowns will be trimmed with rows of broad braid, which should be sewed on both sides in order to make it lie flat.

A charming Parisian yachting gown is of creamy white cheviot, adorned with broad gold braid. A soft blouse of white mousseline de soie peeps from beneath a bolero so perverted as to be almost unrecognizable under that name. It is cut in a point which runs up the center of the back almost to the neck. In front a similar though smaller point is formed by extending the sides and crossing them. The neck is low, encircled by a broad sailor collar cut pointed all round, while a twisted cord about the waist hangs in two long ends down the front—a cord twisted of gold thread and ending with bunchy gold tassels.

The Care of Palms.

Indoor plants, especially palms, need very careful attention indeed, if the housewife desires them to appear in a healthy and flourishing condition. A very important thing to be observed in the culture of palms is that the leaves are kept as free from dust as possible. The surface of the leaves are the lungs of the plant, and if the pores once become clogged the palm suffers. Thus the housewife should see that the leaves are washed down at least once a week with a sponge, while the root should be well syringed as required.

If you stand a palm in the window be careful that you turn the pot round every day, so that one side of the plant does not get the sole benefit of the sun's rays. And, as regarding the pot, be sure that you get one sufficiently large, as otherwise your beautiful palm will soon show signs of falling off. When the blinds are drawn and the gas is lighted, remove your plants to the conservatory or other cool place, as few things are so damaging as artificial light.

One of the greatest palm fanciers in London is said to have discovered that the leaves should be washed, not with pure water, but milk and water, which has a wonderful effect of preserving them, and preventing the appearance of the brown spots which are so disfiguring.

Women and Exercise.

A woman who has paid great attention to this important subject says water and air are the best beautifiers. For bathing purposes she recommends long mittens made from Turkish toweling. At night the mittens should be put in a washbowl of water in which a little fine salt has been dissolved. On rising in the morning wring out the mittens, put them on and rub the whole body briskly. Dry on a towel, not too coarse, and dress quickly. Then go out of doors, if only for five minutes. Walking is the best exercise. If you cannot walk half a mile at first, walk a quarter; keep on walking the distance until you can walk three or four miles without fatigue. Fresh air will put a good color in the face, and when the health is good and the blood circulates freely the nerves will be all right.

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to throughly expel the poison from the system by the faithful and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy proves successful when all other treatment has failed to relieve the sufferer.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 29TH JULY, 1896.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. FOR RAINY DAYS.

A Charming Dress for Wearing on Damp Days.

Every woman should have at least one rainy-day garment in her wardrobe. It is commonly supposed that fashions in such garments change much less than in the ordinary wearing apparel, but if one looks through the shops where the best and newest of things are kept for those who can afford them, one will find, at short intervals, entirely new and novel styles in mackintoshes, cravenettes, etc.

No woman need look the dowdy because it is raining, and she must dress according to the weather. She may, if she is wise, be the charming, well dressed woman in bad weather as well as in fair.

Cravenettes have so far taken the place of mackintoshes that but comparatively few of the latter are now worn; the former material is so much lighter and just as serviceable, that women have learned to appreciate its value and prefer it to the thick, rubbery mackintosh material. While the dull, dark colors are chosen by most women because of their lasting qualities, the smart, light tones of tan and gray are liked by many because of their becoming qualities. A pretty girl may look charmingly dainty in a stylish tan-colored cravenette, the jaunty capes lined with brilliant changeable silk, the stiff collar turned up about her pretty face, and her bonny head covered with a nobby English derby hat made up of materials to match the cravenette. In such a dress she may defy the storm, scorn the umbrella and beautify her complexion by allowing the rain to caress it.

Two capes appear on the newest rain garments; the first a long, comfortable affair, covering the arms even when hanging straight at the side, as no sleeves are worn in them. The second and upper cape is short and jaunty, made circular in shape and exceedingly full, lined, as are both of them, with bright plaided taffeta.

The new collars are wide and deep enough to flare beautifully about the face when turned up.

Damp Hands.

Many girls suffer great discomfort from damp hands. This complaint generally arises from a weakly constitution and highly-nervous temperament. Excessive perspiration is not only unpleasant for the sufferer, but renders the hands repulsive to others; therefore, anyone who has the misfortune to suffer from this complaint should do their utmost to cure it. It is usually worse in hot weather; but in most cases the patient suffers both in winter and summer. If it is not a very bad case, it may be successfully treated with ablutions of very hot soft water, and the application, after drying, of fuller's earth, or a medicated powder prepared as follows: Salicylic acid, three parts; talc, seven parts; starch, ninety parts. Before going out into society in the evenings, when the hands are likely to get very hot and damp, plunge them into water in which some powdered alum has been dissolved.

In severe cases it will be found necessary to resort to more stringent remedies, and the inside of the hand should be rubbed two or three times a day with a cloth dipped in the following solution: Eau de Cologne, fourteen parts; tincture of belladonna, three parts.

It is well to assist this local treatment with careful diet. Avoid all fermented liquors, pickles, tea, coffee and high-spiced dishes, and shun as much as possible all gas-lighted and overheated rooms.

Sickly Women!

Out of sorts—easily tired, haggard, pale and listless, try Indian Woman's Balm. It makes rich new blood, banishes backaches, headaches, heart palpitation, constipation and all other ailments to which women are so subject. It is suffering womanhood's greatest boon. Has cured thousands—Why not you?

Sold in Peterborough by John McKee.

Women as Sailors.

The employment of women as sailors is not uncommon, according to a Berlin newspaper, in Denmark, Norway, and Finland. When a woman travels on one of the smaller sailing ships, whether she be the wife of the skipper, or merely occupying the position of stewardess, she has to take her turn in the work of the ship, even at the wheel or in the night watch. In Denmark several women are employed in the pilot service. They go out to meet the coming ship, clamber bravely up out of the boats, and steer the newcomer safely into harbor. Captains who have employed them say that they make excellent sailors.

How the French Lace Corsets.

The woman who tries to obtain a gracefully curved figure with the aid of one corset lacing is making a grievous mistake. The French women long ago learned the secret of employing three laces, whether the corset be worn loose or tight. The first lacing is put in at the top in the usual way, on each side as far as the two eyelet holes at the waist, which are placed near together. With another lace begin at the bottom and lace upward, leaving two eyelet holes, the third lacing into these eyelet holes, four on each side. With this arrangement, the corset may be made to fit the bust, hips and waist and in no other way.

One More Unfortunate.

I sneak across the street so wide,
I wriggle, squirm, I rush, I glide:
I take no chances, oh, so slim!
I trust to eye and nerve and limb;
I scoot to right, I gallop through,
I'm here and there, I'm lost to view;
My life, I know hangs in the toss—
Another plunge—I am across!
Oh, give me pity if you can—
I'm just a poor
pe-des-tri-an.

Tender Feet.

Those who suffer from sore feet should rub them night and morning with methylated spirit; it is not advisable to soak tender feet in warm water more than is necessary.

You can't be well if your blood is impure, but you may have pure blood and good health by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Teaching Them English.

The simple and effective method of teaching English to the children of Italians, Portuguese, Polish and German Jews, used in the North End school of Boston, might profitably be adopted by other cities which are obliged to face the fact that within their borders are thousands of foreign children who know nothing of the customs, institutions or language of this country. A writer in the Boston Transcript thus describes the method:—

The children, within a few days after their arrival, are sent to the public schools, as a rule without compulsion, and here they are first of all taught the English language. It is done by a system of object-lessons. The teachers in the elementary rooms are young women, as men would not be patient enough to accomplish the best results.

The teacher may point to her eye, and say, "This is my eye," repeating it several times and requiring the pupils to repeat it in unison. Other portions of the body are pointed out in a similar manner, and then familiar objects in the room are in the same way brought to the attention of the children.

Later, when they have made sufficient progress in the language, it becomes desirable to teach the different tenses. To accomplish this, a boy or girl is directed to run slowly round the room, when the teacher and children say in unison:—

"That boy is running," repeating the sentence several times. The boy is then told to halt, and the teacher and pupils say in unison: "That boy did run." Again: "That boy is standing still," "That boy can run," "That boy is walking," "That boy walks fast," "I can walk," "I can run, "I did walk," etc.

These and other sentences, as they are spoken, are written on the blackboard by the teacher, and the pupils write them on their slates. Thus they are taught the language, and taught to spell, read and write almost simultaneously.

Easy Traveling.

The amusing stories told about the sauntering of railroad trains are capped by one from New Zealand.

An engine-driver in that colony noticed a lady waving her hand at a siding where he was not timed to stop. On pulling up his train, he asked her if she wished to get aboard; but she said she was not traveling. She would be real grateful if the driver would ask the passengers if any one could oblige her with change for a one-pound note!—Our Railways.

Spoke to the Wrong Man.

A millionaire railway king has a brother who is hard of hearing, while he himself is remarkable as having a very prominent nose. One evening the railway man dined at a friend's house and was seated between two ladies, who talked to him very loudly, rather to his annoyance, but he said nothing. Finally one of them shouted a commonplace remark and then said, in an ordinary tone, to the other: "Did you ever see such a nose in your life?" "Pardon me, ladies," said the railway man, "it is my brother who is deaf." Imagine the horror of the lady.

Granby Rubbers

It is no wonder that rubbers, which are not the same shape as the boot, should be uncomfortable. It costs money to employ skilled pattern makers but the result is a satisfactory fit. Each year new patterns are added, to fit all the latest shoe-shapes, and Granby Rubbers are always "up-to-date." They are honestly made of pure rubber, thin, light, elastic, durable, extra thick at ball and heel.

BUDGET FROM OTTAWA.

The Postmaster-General a Very Busy Man—Government Will Buy Overplus Stamps From Business Men.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The Postmaster-General returned from Toronto to-day to resume the task of what he designates putting the department on a business basis. Without doubt Mr. Mulock is endeavoring to get something more than a cursory idea of the ramifications of his extensive department. He knows that Rome wasn't built in a day, neither can the biggest department in the public service be reformed in a week. One point was settled by Mr. Mulock this afternoon, which will commend itself to business people. A day or two ago mention was made in The World of some ill-feeling on the part of merchants in Toronto, because they had been forbidden to sell postage stamps, which come to them in the shape of remittances. It appears that the licensees to sell stamps receive their permits on the distinct understanding that they must purchase their supplies from the Government, and no person is allowed to sell stamps unless he has a stamp vendor's license. This is a provision in the Postoffice Act, not a mere arbitrary ruling on the part of the department. The reason for it is that, if the sale of stamps were unlicensed it would leave so many opportunities for boys to steal them, and it was with the specific object of preventing pequlation of stamps that the provision was inserted in the Postal Act. To meet the grievance that merchants, who receive stamps as remittances have, that they cannot get rid of them to vendors, the department has always redeemed them at a 5 per cent. discount. This is admitted to be too high, especially when it is considered that stamp vendors only make one per cent. on their sales. The Postmaster-General has, accordingly, decided that from this out the department will redeem stamps in sums of not less than a dollar, at a discount of one per cent, the same discount which the vendors get. The stamps must be pasted upon sheets of paper and sent to the department at Ottawa, when a cheque for the amount of the stamps so returned will be forwarded to the party sending them in. As no postage is required on letters to any of the public departments, no hardship will be entailed upon merchants by this decision on Mr. Mulock's part, but on the contrary it opens a way for the disposal by them of stamps accumulating in their possession.

In nearly every county in Ontario a local veterinarian has been appointed official inspector of sheep, in order to meet the requirements of the United States law. Dr. McEachren, Chief Veterinary Inspector for Canada, who was in town to-day, informed your correspondent that the new requirement of the United States Department of Agriculture was adopted in August of last year, but not until the first of this month has it been enforced, and it is to comply with the provisions of the regulation that these veterinary inspectors are being appointed. When sheep are exported from Canada hereafter to the United States, two affidavits must be carried by the man in charge of them, for presentation to the customs officers at the frontier point. One of these must be from the official veterinary inspector of the province or district, declaring that no contagious disease has prevailed for three months within the district from which the sheep came. The other affidavit must be from the owner of the sheep, setting forth that the animals have been in the district whence they are shipped to the United States for three months or more.

Hon. Mr. Mulock is still at work looking into the matter of mail contracts of which there are about 8000 in existence. He says it will take him months to go through them all, but he is in hopes that the action which he takes on them will commend itself to the country at large. Last week over 150 contracts were cancelled, this being permissible under the terms of the agreement between the Government and the contractor, on three months' notice. To-day 40 others followed in like order, while 12 new ones were let, irrespective of the political proclivities of the men tendering for them. These 12 contracts aggregate about $1600 a year, and the net result to the country by this change is a saving of $300. This may not be considered a very large amount, but if $300 can be saved on every dozen contracts now in existence, the aggregate will amount to a large sum.

Asked by your correspondent if it were true that he had cancelled the contract held by the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company, for carrying the mails between Montreal and Quebec, Mr. Mulock said that was one of a number of marine contracts which he purposes examining into during the winter. Before he dealt with the contracts for carriage of mails by water, he had asked the different inspectors to specially report upon them. Postoffice Inspector Barker of Toronto will aid the Minister in analyzing these reports.

The report about the organization of the flying column has arisen, it is thought here, over the inauguration in No. 2 district, recently of marching and shooting competitions. Teams of men were permitted to enter for the competitions equipped in drill order with leggings, and carrying rifles and ammunition, the conditions being that they had to march eight miles in two hours and 15 minutes, and then immediately go into action. As the desire of the department is to encourage shooting and also endurance of the men, it is probable that these competitions will be held in all the districts.

Mr. A. Boyd, M.P., arrived here to-day from the West, and intends remaining till the end of the week. He has been across the line, and heard Bryan deliver one of his addresses. In Mr. Boyd's estimation the silver king does not come up to Foster or Cartwright as a speaker.

The Postmaster-General will likely attend the Convention of the Postal Union of the World in Washington next May. The discussion will be on the general workings of the system and improvements which may be suggested. Elaborate preparations will be made for the reception of visitors in the American Capital.

A ROMAN CATHOLIC PRIEST

Father Groulx, of the Archbishop's Palace, Ottawa,

CERTIFIES TO THE VALUE

Of the Remarkable Medicine Ryckman's Kootenay Cure.

Archbishop's Palace,
OTTAWA, Canada, Nov. 8, 1895.
Mr. S. S. Ryckman, M.P.,
Hamilton, Ont.

MY DEAR SIR,—In order to comply with your request, I visited no less than twenty-six persons of different ages and conditions, residing in our city, who had used the medicine called "Kootanay Cure." Upon my inquiry, some informed me that after suffering atrociously for some years from Rheumatism, under one form or another, they had obtained considerable relief from the above named remedy, and were using it yet with the firm hope and almost certainty that in the near future all the painful effects would disappear. Others told me that they had been cured completely, felt no more pain, could digest perfectly, sleep soundly, had regained their lost weight, so much so that they could be said to have been resuscitated and to have been transformed into new men. I met with five cases of Skin Diseases, where the medicine had produced wonderful results, especially in one case of at least nine years' standing. In several cases of Rheumatism and Paralysis, eminent physicians, after careful study, had pronounced the cases incurable. As Rheumatism is such a common ailment, and as doctors have always such difficulty in overcoming it, I think it is quite proper to make known such a remarkable medicine to poor, suffering humanity. I am pleased to have the occasion of recommending it to the public of the Capital.

Wishing you further success in your undertakings, believe me, sir,

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) EUGENE GROULX, Pr.

HE CUT HIS THROAT.

Ghastly Suicide of a Missouri Farmer.

NEARLY SEVERED HEAD FROM BODY

John Lackey Went Out to His Barn in the Morning, Taking His Razor Along—His Wife Found Him Some Time After Dead in a Pool of His Own Blood.

Ingersoll, Ont., Nov. 3.—Mr. John Lackey of the 6th concession of East Nissouri committed suicide this morning by cutting his throat with a razor. The work was done most effectually, nearly severing the head from the body. Mr. Lackey was a farmer, owner of a 150-acre farm, and also followed the business of blacksmith. He went to the barn this morning and took his razor with him, as well as the razor strop. Mrs. Lackey and the hired man had their breakfast alone, expecting Mr. Lackey to come in every minute, but he did not return until after they had finished. Mrs. Lackey went out to see what was detaining him, when she found him lying in the barn dead, with his throat cut. No cause is assigned. His wife says he has several times spoken in a peculiar sort of way about them coming to poverty, but she knew of no cause for the remarks he made, as they were well supplied with all the ready money they required. Yesterday he went to his brother-in-law, and negotiated with him for a loan, and was to have come to the bank in Ingersoll to-day for the money. His place is about three miles northwest of Thamesford, and Dr. McWilliams of Thamesford is looking after the case.

ANOTHER SUICIDE.

A Respected Citizen of Drayton Hangs Himself in a Slaughter House.

Drayton, Ont., Nov. 3.—The village of Drayton was thrown into an unusual state of excitement this afternoon, when it was reported that Mr. Hossell H. Newton, a respected citizen, had committed suicide. Mr. Newton left home early this morning to go a short distance in the country to work. There is a slaughter house on the outskirts of the village, and it is supposed he entered it and hanged himself, as he was found hanging about 4 p.m. No cause can be assigned other than ill-health. Deceased was in comfortable circumstances. An inquest was not deemed necessary.

Defying the Probs

AND FORCING THE SEASON.

We Can't Change the Weather

BUT WE CAN CHANGE OUR PRICES.

At no time of the year are we satisfied to sell at regular prices. At no time of the year can we afford to allow unseasonable weather to clog our business. Our stocks must keep on the move. We're constantly running across lots of goods offered to us at Special Prices. That means ample opportunity to discount the trade in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings without any trouble. Please remember that this business is PERSISTENTLY in advance of every other, and that prices here are always, with seldom an exception, the LOWEST.

We start off this week with a double head of steam to Reduce all our prices on all our stock, and make business boom in defiance of the mild weather.

THE LATEST FIGURES

McKinley Shown to Have 277 Electoral Votes.

BUT BRYANITES HAVEN'T GIVEN UP

Chairman Jones Clings to a Belief in the Possibility of Bryan's Election—Comments of the New York and London Newspapers—Trade Circles Affected.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Chairman Jones at noon to-day sent the following message to Mr. Bryan:

Wm. J. Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.,—We have all along claimed for you the Southern States, with 156 votes, and the States west of the Missouri, with 61 votes, leaving necessary to success seven votes. I counted Michigan, Indiana and Minnesota. We have no information except by the press despatches indicating that we have lost any of these States. On the contrary, we are positively assured of all the South, except Maryland, and that we have not heard from. The West, so far as heard from, is safe. California, Oregon, Washington, Wyoming and Montana are reported by our friends to be all right. If we carry either of the three states of Minnesota, Michigan or Indiana we certainly win, and our reports are favorable from them all.

Martin, chairman of the committee in Indiana, wired me at 2 o'clock this morning that we have Indiana.

All reports from Michigan show immense gains, and Towne of Minnesota says he has carried his district, although the Republicans claim it.

Reports from our friends everywhere show press reports to be partisan and grossly unfair to us. Press bulletins persistently give Kentucky to McKinley, while Summers, chairman of the committee, wires me that 42 counties out of 119 give Bryan 23,535.

(Signed) James K. Jones.

Bryan Has North Carolina by 20,000.

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 4.—At Democratic headquarters at noon to-day Chairman Manley said: Returns from the State come in slowly, but indicate Democratic gains in every county save two so far as heard from, gains, which, if maintained, are safe to give Watson, Dem., a clear majority for Governor. I think it safe to say he is clearly elected. Bryan's majority, it now seems, will be not less than 20,000.

I think Kitchen and Doughten, Democrats, are elected to Congress from the fifth and eighth districts respectively. Kitchen has made great gains in the fifth on Settle's vote in 1894. I find that the Republican State chairman is basing all his estimates on the state of the vote of 1892, when we had "40,000 plurality."

Kentucky in Doubt.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—The Evening Times has figures from counties missing in The Courier-Journal table this morning, which give McKinley a plurality of 3578. The Evening Post says the State is in doubt, and the plurality is not going to be over 2500 either way.

Victory a Good Tonic

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Major McKinley was thoroughly rested at 9 o'clock this morning, and seemed to find victory a wonderful tonic. There is no abatement in the flood of congratulations he is receiving.

One of the first and warmest telegrams of congratulations Major McKinley received after his election was assured came from Senator-Elect Baker.

Bounced for Stumping for Bryan.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Secretary Carlisle to-day removed from office Thomas E. Brantley of South Carolina, Chief of the Army and Navy division third auditor's office, and Burton T. Doyle of Tennessee, Assistant Chief of the Warrant Division of the Secretary's office, Treasury Department. Each of these gentlemen had been on the stump for Bryan and free silver.

Bryan Says Watch the Returns.

Lincoln, Nov. 4.—Mr. Bryan has received a number of telegrams asking for definite information in regard to the election, and has given out the following general answer:

"The Democratic National Committee claims enough states to give a majority in the electoral college, but the vote is very close in several of the states, and the result cannot be known positively until the entire vote is counted. In all close contests it is wise for both sides to watch the returns to guard against the possibility of a mistake, intentional or unintentional."

Jones Hangs on.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—At 6 p.m. Chairman Jones of the Democratic National Committee said: "We cannot lose. The Republicans are perpetrating frauds. Indiana is for Bryan. Iowa's later returns are our way. Our people say Kentucky is all right. California and Oregon have gone for Bryan. I have no fear of West Virginia, and I do not concede McKinley's election."

Mr. Jones' statement is not borne out by the returns received up to this hour.

God Saved the Nation.

Saratoga, Nov. 4.—Bishop J. P. Newman to-day sent the following telegram to Major McKinley, President-Elect and Garret A. Hobart, Vice-President-Elect respectively.

"God has saved our nation again. The American people have been loyal to Him, and you will be true to our country.

"(Signed) Bishop Newman."

Cleveland at Work.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Private Secretary Thurber said to-day that the President had commenced the preparation of his annual message, and as has always been the custom, would be obliged to deny himself to the public until it was completed. The month of November is usually devoted to this task.

Bryan Offered a Good Salary.

New York, Nov. 4.—The following telegram was sent to Mr. Bryan at Lincoln to-day:

Hon. William J. Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.:

You have so thoroughly demonstrated your ability in the present campaign that we would like to know if you would accept an offer of $25,000 a year to manage a law department in our store.

(Signed) Siegel Cooper Company.
Per Henry Siegel, Pres.

A Fight at Lincoln

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—A riot occurred this afternoon in front of the Democratic headquarters in Ninth street. The Bryan supporters were receiving bulletins when several hundred Republicans, headed by a University Glee Club, attempted to force a way through the crowd. Fisticuffs were indulged in, and the windows of the headquarters building were smashed, but nobody was seriously hurt. The riot was soon quelled.

California is Close.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Returns from 1876 out of 2377 precincts in California give McKinley 128,795, Bryan 121,458. The same in 1892 gave Harrison 106,905, Cleveland 106,257.

Indiana Still in Doubt.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—The best figures obtainable by counties, many of which are complete, show that the Republicans have carried the State by from 15,000 to 17,000.

Kansas for McKinley.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 4.—One-sixth of the vote of Kansas gives McKinley 500 majority. Morrell (Rep.), for Governor, is 1000 ahead of Leedy (Fusion).

Both Claim Kentucky.

Louisville, Nov. 4.—Republican figures give Kentucky to McKinley by 5249, while Democratic estimates give it to Bryan by 2725.

Only Two Doubtful Now.

New York, Nov. 4.—Returns received today and to-night by the United Associated Presses reduce the doubtful states to two—California and North Dakota. Washington, Wyoming, Kansas and Nebraska, of the states which were in doubt last night, are transferred to the Bryan column, and Delaware, Oregon, South Dakota, Indiana and Kentucky are placed in the McKinley column. The vote in Kentucky is close, but advices indicate that the state is Republican by a small plurality. Delaware and Oregon are also close states, but are apparently carried by McKinley.

The later news from California and North Dakota is that in the precincts so far counted, McKinley leads, but the margin of votes is so small that both votes should be still classed as doubtful.

The latest returns indicate that the electoral vote of the states will be cast as follows:

LIFE AMONG RED MEN

A Missionary Says They Want More Schools.

HE TALKS ALSO ABOUT CHINESE

And Opposes the Idea of Enforcing a $500 Poll Tax—Says it is un-Christian and un-British—Montreal Bankers and the United States Election.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Rev. C. M. Tait, who has been laboring 27 years amongst the Indians and Chinese of Vancouver Island, is in the city and expresses himself as entirely opposed to the idea of taxing the Chinese $500 per head to enter Canada. "It is as un-Christian as it is un-British," says the Methodist missionary. In fact, the reverend gentleman declares that it would be very difficult to carry on some of the coast industries if Chinese labor were banished from the country. He claims that a good many of them become Christians and cites the case of a Celestial who died last year at Kamloops, leaving all he was worth to the Methodist Church, out of gratitude for all the missionaries had done for him. As for the Indians of British Columbia, Rev. Mr. Tait says that if the Government would give them more industrial schools they would soon become white men, and the Indian question would be solved. He says four schools for the Roman Catholics, two for the Church of England and only one for the Methodists, is an unfair distribution of Government favor.

Bankers and business men are not slow to express their pleasure at the result of yesterday's polling in the United States. Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, said: "I think it is a great thing for the United States, and will probably result in a considerable improvement in business almost, if not quite, immediately. It is a great advantage to Canada to have a country alongside it prosperous, and with its currency in a settled condition, instead of unsettled, as it was before, and I have no doubt that if business improves in the United States it will react beneficially on Canada. I think the silver question is now settled, because I understand the Republicans have a majority in Congress and in the Senate, and with a sound money President it is in their own hads to put it beyond peradventure in the future."

Hon. Louis Tourville, M.L.C. for the Alma division, died to-day, aged 65 years. Deceased was a large mill owner, a Liberal in politics, and leaves a good fortune.

THAT SIMCOE SENSATION.

An Affidavit Which Goes to Prove That Mrs. Cammell Was Unjustly Accused.

Toronto, Nov. 5.

In regard to the clothes stealing case at Simcoe recently, in which Mrs. Cammell was brought into court and acquitted, the following affidavit has been sent to The World with a request for publication:

"I, Daniel Brown McCool of the town of Simcoe, in the County of Norfolk, tailor, do solemnly declare that on the evening previous to the night Dr. Fitton's clothes were taken from his yard he (Fitton) wanted me to go down with him to his yard or house, and he said: 'You leave it to me and my wife won't go to the Old Country,' and I saw a bundle of linen tied up with a cord (with two clothes pins hanging from the cord) afterwards stored in Dr. Fitton's back room at his dentist office uptown. This was the next day after the clothes and line were taken, and he said: 'Look at them. My wife won't go to the Old Country,' speaking to me, and referring to the bundle of clothes in his office, which I saw there then.

"And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the 'Act Respecting Extra-Judicial Oaths.'

"Declared before me at the town of Simcoe, in the County of Norfolk, this 31st day of October, in the year of our Lord 1896.

"(Signed), Frank E. Curtis,
"A Commissioner, etc.
"(Signed), David B. McCool."

HE WANTED TO DIE.

But a Neighbor Pulled Him Off the Railway Track, and Thomas Hardwick Must Live and Pay Taxes.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—A man named Thomas Hardwick, a well-known resident of Stamford Township, attempted suicide about 6 o'clock last evening by throwing himself on the track in front of an approaching train near the Niagara Wine Company's factory, which is along the Allanburg division of the G. T. R. E. Lundy, who was near by noticed Hardwick lie down on the track and immediately pulled him off. Hardwick is considered to be of sound mind and no cause is known for the attempt on his life. He has often stated that he would kill himself.

SMASHED THE G. T. R. BRIDGE.

A Cumbersome Whaleback Did Not Answer Her Helm Promptly in the Canal.

Thorold, Ont., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—This morning about 10 o'clock a whaleback consort, while being towed up the Welland Canal, smashed the G. T. R. steel railroad bridge. The whalbacks are a very hard craft to steer, and consequently while this one was passing the bridge between locks 25 and 26 it swung around and crashed through one end. A gang of men were immediately sent to repair the damage, but the structure was so badly wrecked that it will not be again ready for use until some time to-morrow afternoon. All the trains on the Welland road are running via Niagara Falls, over the Allanburg division.

A PEOPLE'S GOVERNMENT.

THE Conservative journals of a certain class are still gloating over the success of the recent so-called Conservative conference in Toronto. "The enthusiasm and perfect unanimity was a guarantee of future success." The conference represented the machine and why should not the machine be unanimous? The rank and file were not consulted and the rank and file are kicking. At a meeting held on Tuesday night the Fourth Ward Conservative Association, of Toronto, protested strongly against the machine character of the Albany Club, and honest Conservatives all over the country resent the dominance of a few of the so-called leaders who represent the worst elements of the party. The folly of Sir Charles Tupper boasting of the solidity and unity of the Conservative party under his leadership is too transparent to require pointing out. The radical difference between the Conservative and Liberal leaders is that the latter desire to consult and be guided by the will of the people. At the great Liberal convention in Ottawa the people were represented by delegates selected by the people. But at the Toronto conference the politicians present represented the bosses only. The Liberal deference to popular opinion is thus set forth by the Montreal Herald: "It is one of the most conspicuous features of the Liberal regime that the Ministers show a strong desire to take the people into their confidence. The attitude too often assumed by their Conservative predecessors was that of master to servant. In other days the people were too seldom admitted to the councils of the Government, and when so favoured it was to ruler rather than to Minister that they were obliged to give ear. The new Government has nothing to hide, and desiring above all things the active and sympathetic cooperation of the people in the efforts for the building up of the nation, has missed no chance to acquaint the people with its opinions and its projects. The result is that there is apparent on all sides a generous warmth of feeling for the Administration, and an enthusiastic determination to assist it in the furtherance of all enterprises looking to the development of the resources of the country and to the prosperity and contentment of the people."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A wife beater should make a good footballist. He is experienced in kicking something that cannot kick back.

MR. W. J. BRYAN was evidently born with a silver tongue in his head, but there was no silver spoon to keep it company.

'TALK is cheap," and though the electors of the United States would stand any quantity of it from Bryan, they drew the line decisively at "cheap silver."

ONE curious effect of the telegraphers' strike on the C.P.R. was that thereby was delayed an exhibit of British Columbia fruit intended to be made at the Spokane, Washington, fair, until too late to be judged with other fruit. But it was so excellent that it has since been awarded a special prize of $25.

THE town of Preston voted last week on two by-laws, one for granting $10,000 to Mr. J. J. Stevens, of Galt, for manufacturing purposes for ten years, without interest, and exemption from taxes for this period, and the other for the granting of $5,000 for a market site. The first was carried and the second was defeated. The electors of Preston were evidently of the opinion that if they established the principle of giving bonuses, they would have little need for a market.

AT the dinner given to Hon. Mr. Davies in Charlottetown, last Thursday evening, he said he did not favour the spoils system. "A competent civil service is a necessity which must be maintained. It would be an unmitigated curse to change the civil service with every change of government. But neutrality is the price of civil service permanency. Every man has a perfect right to vote just as he pleases. But when he goes beyond that, takes an offensive partizanship and evidently strives for political fame, we propose to give him such a chance by ridding him of the ties which bind him to his office."

THE Ottawa Free Press: "The PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER says that 'Sir Charles Tupper is a heavy load to carry, and the Liberals are not at all sorry from a political point of view to see him at the head of the Conservative party.' Friend, you are correct, but indiscreet. Rather proclaim that you 'tremble' and that the 'pawing of the war horse of Cumberland' strikes terror to your political soul. Have you never heard of the man driving a pig on a certain road being asked 'Where are you taking him?'—and replying, 'Whist now! I'm taking him to Brandon, but he thinks he's going to Cork.' Liberals should not encourage the Tories to make any change. Not that it would make much difference."

BY PRAISE AND PRAYER

President Cleveland Enjoins the People of the United States to Observe Thanksgiving Day.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The Thanksgiving proclamation by the President of the United States is as follows:

"The people of the United States should never be unmindful of the gratitude they owe the God of Nations for His watchful care, which has shielded them from dire disaster and pointed out to them the way of peace and happiness. Nor should they ever refuse to acknowledge with contrite hearts their proneness to turn away from God's teachings and to follow with sinful pride after their own devices.

"To the end that these thoughts may be quickened, it is fitting that on a day especially appointed we should join together in approaching the throne of grace with praise and supplication.

"Therefore I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 26th day of the present month of November, to be kept and observed as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout our land. On that day may all our people forego their usual work and occupation and assemble in their accustomed places of worship; let them with one accord render thanks to the Ruler of the Universe for our preservation as a nation and our deliverance from every threatened danger; for the peace that has dwelt within our boundaries, for our defence against disease and pestilence during the year that has passed, for the plenteous rewards that have followed the labors of our husbandmen, and for all the other blessings that have been vouchsafed to us. And let us, through the mediation of Him who has taught us how to pray, implore the forgiveness of our sins and a continuation of heavenly favor.

"Let us not forget on this day of thanksgiving the poor and needy, and by deeds of charity let our offerings of praise be made more acceptable in the sight of the Lord.

"Witness my hand and the seal of the United States, which I have caused to be hereto affixed.

"[Seal] Done at the City of Washington, this 4th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and twenty-first.

"Grover Cleveland.

"By the President.
"Richard Olney, Secretary of State."

IT IS ALL TALK.

Yes, but it is Norwood Talk—The Kind That Tells in Norwood.

Talk that tells.
Talk that is endorsed.
Every day talk by people that know.
City talk.
Kidney talk.
Do the kidneys talk?
Well, yes, both loud and long.
You are learning the kidney language.
Backache in kidney language means kidney ache.
Lame back means weak kidneys.
Weak back means weak kidneys.
The kidneys are talking trouble.
Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

THE LATEST FIGURES.

Without California and North Dakota, McKinley apparently has 265 votes, or 41 more than is necessary to elect. The loss of Delaware, Oregon, Kentucky, South Dakota and Minnesota would still leave McKinley eight votes over the 224.

PRESS COMMENTS.

What the New York Papers Have to Say on the Result.

The Sun's extra says: "The State of Delaware gets into the Republican column, and so does Kansas, making the total electoral vote for McKinley 307. Texas goes into the list of doubtful States, and so does Virginia. "The early reports indicated they had voted for Bryan. The total electoral vote, it appears, at this writing will be: For McKinley 307, for Bryan 98, doubtful 44.

"In New York State the plurality for McKinley appears to be 266,387. Black, Republican candidate for Governor, carries the State by a plurality not much less. The plurality for McKinley in New Jersey is increased to 62,000. All the later returns tend to swell the Republican pluralities rather than diminish them, and it is more than likely that all the first estimates will be increased.

"The Republicans seem to have about 100 majority in the 55th Congress, and the Senate will also be Republican.

"The Assembly of the New York State Legislature will stand 114 Republicans to 36 Democrats."

The Tribune's latest edition says: McKinley and Hobart swept the country yesterday, winning at least 307 out of 447 electoral votes. There will be not less than 250 Republicans in the House of Representatives, more than a two-thirds majority, and a sound money majority in the Senate. On the great battlefield of the middle west the enemy was routed. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, and probably Kansas were all won by pluralities ranging from substantial to stupendous.

The solid South was split wide open. Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia and probably Tennessee joined the ranks of honesty and order. In the far west, California and Oregon are claimed for McKinley. The northwest furnishes McKinley electors from Minnesota and probably from both Dakotas.

New England is solidly and overwhelmingly Republican, redeeming the September promise of Maine and Vermont, and New Jersey rolled up an unprecedented majority. New York and Pennsylvania competed for the glory of leading the Republican column. They both broke all records. New York by 250,000 plurality and Pennsylvania by 340,000, which gives her the red, white and blue ribbon.

The Herald, in its leading editorial, says: The people have cast their votes in support of the republic, not in favor of a party. It was a battle of patriots against partisans, and the patriots have won a signal victory. At such a time party lines count for nothing; the permanence of the Government counts for everything. The emergency has been met promptly and decisively, and there need be no misunderstanding of the result. The people can be trusted to choose their presiding officer, and to decide on a national policy. Give them time to think, and they will not only discover what is for their best interests, but will vote overwhelmingly for the man who represents them.

Now that the result has been received, no one is to be more sincerely congratulated than the workingmen. Those of them who, from a false view of the situation, voted for Bryan have been saved from the disaster which they unwittingly tried to produce. They will sooner or later see that the man who puts his hand on the currency to debase it puts his hand at the same time on the throat of the laboring classes.

The Times says: We have had three years of silver panic and business depression. We have given three months to Bryan. Capital has been frightened, enterprise benumbed, industry paralyzed. Now that we have utterly eliminated Bryan and 16 to 1, let everybody pluck up courage and get to work. A season of prosperity richer than any in the country's history lies before us. It should be entered upon with zeal and confidence in the sober industrious spirit of a sensible people. It is no time for crazy "booms." It is a time for hard work and business skill, and judgment, and for push and enterprise in all legitimate fields. The American people are tired of hard times. They want good times. It will go ill with anybody who stands in the way of their enjoying them.

The Sun says: The full dimensions of the victory won yesterday by the American people cannot be measured exactly at this present time. That it is as tremendous as sweeping, and as complete as the occasion demanded, is manifest. The country has repudiated the repudiators, has warned the promoters of revolution to keep their hands off of our institutions, and has voted to maintain untarnished the nation's honor, by one of the most impressive demonstrations of honest and patriotic sentiment ever witnessed in our history.

The Tribune says: Bryan, Bryanism, Altgeldism, the free silver conspiracy and the wild plots of anarchists, are all buried under an avalanche of ballots. There have been few grander moments in the history of self-government than this.

The Journal says: The people have chosen Major McKinley instead of Mr. Bryan to be president. Nobody has a right to object, for the people's will is sovereign. It is the high privilege of the citizens of this republic to decide for themselves what is good for them, and when they happen to be wrong they always have the good sense to suffer the consequence with patience, knowing that at the ballot box they can set things straight again.

The Journal regrets the decision of the people. We have advocated the election of Mr. Bryan in the belief that bimetallism would be better for the country than monometallism, and for the reason that in our judgment—which has not been altered—the trusts and syndicates require checking rather than encouragement. By McKinley's election the money power has been enormously strengthened. Four years, however, constitute an insignificant space in the life of a nation, and the United States could bear up under heavier calamities than even the rule of the trusts during one presidential term. The duty of all good citizens now is to acquiesce loyally and quickly in Major McKinley's election, forget the rancours and excitements of politics as soon as possible—parting with no convictions, but remembering that there is a time for all things—and settle down to business. The country needs a rest.

The World says: Not since the fall of Richmond have patriotic Americans had such occasion for rejoicing as they feel to-day. Then the integrity of the union was secured. Now its honor is preserved.

THE ENGLISH PRESS.

London Papers Generally Commend the Decision of the Electors.

London, Nov. 4.—The Star, in an article under the caption: "The United States repudiate currency juggling," says: "It is creditable to the American Democracy that they fastened upon the paramount issue, disregarding all others."

The St. James Gazette says: "Behind the silver movement there was an undoubted feeling of popular discontent with the established order of things, which is likely to become more desperate through defeat. Indeed, it looks more like the beginning of a great social and economic struggle than the end."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The decision of the American electors will be universally accepted as most creditable, and implies that the Democracy when confronted with vital issues, will rally in reality and repudiate shams."

The Gazette takes occasion to laud President Cleveland's patriotism.

The Globe says: "From an outside standpoint the most satisfactory thing is the crushing blow which the result strikes the cause of confiscation the world over."

The Westminster Gazette, in a leader headed: "The great scare of a civilized people," says: "Whatever its grievances, it will not accept repudiation. As a matter of policy, The Gazette advises Mr. McKinley to leave the tariff alone."

Commercial Circles Pleased.

London, Nov. 4.—Liverpool commercial and shipping circles are well satisfied with the result of the Presidential election in America. When the extent of the majority received by McKinley was made known on the Stock Exchange this forenoon the speculators became greatly excited. The exchange was crowded at an early hour and the bidding was very active, resulting in advances in prices of from 1 to 6 points.

In Glasgow mercantile circles it is believed that the result of the election will stimulate exports to the United States, and there is a desire to rush export trade as much as possible before McKinley takes his seat, the general expectation being that a high tariff of at least two cents will be imposed upon sugar. A leading merchant of Glasgow said to a representative of the United Press to-day that the speculator will not be likely to lose anything, even at the tariff mentioned, seeing that sugar is selling at 9s a hundredweight. The expectation in mercantile circles is that Americans will buy largely for December, January and February, leaving Europe bare. No doubt is entertained that there will be a rush in the woolens and soft goods markets, or that the iron and steel trades will be so busy that the delivery of goods before March, 1897, will be virtually impossible. Ship owners do not expect to reap any benefit from the election, as most steamers are already chartered for the opening months of 1897.

Impetus to the Wool Trade.

London, Nov. 4.—The election of McKinley has given a great impetus to trade in the wool and clothing districts of Bradford and Yorkshire. American dealers cabled large orders to-day, and prices of raw and manufactured materials are advancing.

Rome Was Pleased.

Rome Nov. 4.—The victory of McKinley in yesterday's Presidential election in America has made an excellent impression in banking and business circles here. The bourse showed a great deal of animation to-day and rentes have risen.

BREACHES IN THE WALL.

The Weak Spot, the Kidneys—They Must be Guarded as Life Advances—Defence Strengthened by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope, Oct. 26.—(Special—Citizens called on here to vouch for correctness of the following statement without an exception endorsed it as true. Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Chief of Police and government fishery overseer of his own case said:—"For ten years my distress increased until the doctor called it Diabetes. At times my suffering was intense, and medicine taken did no good. At last a friend assured me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. A few boxes have kept that promise, and I thank these pills for a perfect, and I believe, permanent cure.

North Bay, Nov. 4.—Louis Beaucagn was out with his gun, on which was a tightly fitting cover. He met William Duchenneau, and on laying the gun on a log it went off, the bullet hitting the latter, passing through him, and flattening itself against the unfortunate man's backbone. Dr. Baxter was called in and removed the bullet, but it was a hopeless case from the start, and Duchenneau died about midnight.

Quebec's Big Bridge.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await checque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

The Tax Collector Sworn In.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Henry Denne was formally sworn in as tax collector, and is up to his ears in business this morning.

Remember the Concert in St. Paul's School Room, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Tickets 10c.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

No Matinee.

There was no matinee this afternoon as Mrs. General Tom Thumb and her company did not arrive until five o'clock. A performance, however, will take place this evening at the Opera House when the little ones will have an opportunity of meeting the Lilliputians.

Opera House To-night.

Mrs. Gen. Tom Thumb and her company of vaudeville artists will be the attraction at the opera house. This company gives a very pleasing entertainment, consisting of songs, dances, music, etc. The prices are 15, 25 and 35c. Parents bring the children. 15c secures a seat for a child in any part of house.

Natural Science Association.

The members of the N. S. A. are reminded that next Tuesday evening they are requested to have a synopsis of their observations regarding their study, during the summer, ready to present for the benefit of the association. Several contributions are promised, therefore all may not have the privilege of giving theirs. Yet we hope none will stay away on that account.

Cold for the Tramps.

The cold nights render the night air too chilly for the tramp fraternity and consequently Burnham's Point is deserted in the evenings and the police cells are being liberally patronized. Seven tramps registered last night, but when they were sent on their way this morning the chief warned them to make themselves scarce as soon as possible, as if caught hanging around they would take their chances of being sent to the Central Prison for six months. All vanished with surprising alacrity.

What the People Think of Shredded Whole Wheat.

"It is the most delicious article we ever used."

"It is very palatable, and I serve it in different ways for each meal."

"I never used any article on the table which has given the entire satisfaction Shredded Whole Wheat has."

Hunters Galore.

Game Warden Smith of Belleville, who is acting in place of the Chief Game Warden, reports that the demand for licenses to hunt deer has been far beyond the highest calculations. Already 4,700 have been sent out, but these were quickly exhausted, and to satisfy the demand which still exists the local Game Wardens have been instructed to issue special permits to anyone applying for them. Mr. Smith also states that settlers' permits are not issued free, as reported in some of the Provincial papers. A very rigid enforcement of the Act, however, will not be expected where it is proved that a settler has shot a deer for food.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. Samuel McIntyre and Miss Emma Sutcliffe.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Sutcliffe, Argyle street, when her eldest daughter, Miss Emma, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel McIntyre, formerly of town, but now a resident of Lambton, Ont.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Rae, pastor of the Charlotte Street church.

The bride was assisted by Miss Ella Burke, whilst Mr. Walter McIntyre performed the duties of groomsman. The young couple were the recipient of many handsome and useful presents, showing the high esteem in which they were held by their hosts of friends. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre left on the 4.45 C.P.R. express for Lambton, where their many friends will wish them a long life of wedded happiness in their new home.

A SAFE CRACKED.

The Door Taken off Henry Bros. Strong Box.

The patrons of Henry Bros.' grocery this morning were surprised on entering to see the large door of the safe lying on the floor with pieces of the interior mechanism strewn about near it, and the books and papers scattered in heaps about the office.

Burglars, however, had not cracked the safe, but the door of it was swung to yesterday afternoon, when the bolts were shot out, and consequently the bar to which the bolts were attached inside the door was sprung, necessitating the removal of the door from its hinges. The bar was then removed after much labour, as the door is a steel shell filled in with composition, which had to be removed before access could be gained to the bolts and bars. The bar will be replaced by a new one during the day.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH INTERESTS.

Meeting of Men to Confer on the Subject—An Important Conference—The Meeting of Women—Addresses by Mrs. Broughall—All Women are Invited.

On Monday evening forty of the men members of the Church of England, and of the congregation of St. John's interested in the progress of the church, assembled at the Rectory, Hunter street, to consult as to means to advance the general interests of the church.

A statement was made in regard to the different church societies composed of men, some of which required immediate reinforcement, and it was further pointed out that men might forward the active work of the church, both inside the House of God and outside of it, without being connected with any of the Societies.

A conversational and informal discussion revolved around three heads: First—How to get men to church; secondly—How to treat them when there; and, thirdly—What we have to offer them.

It was pointed out that the spirit and worship of the church were such as should appeal strongly to the best part of men's nature, and that no amount of attendance and worship on the part of wives and sisters could compensate for the loss of the efforts and devotion of the men of the church.

A pleasantly social and informal atmosphere, pervaded the gathering and during the evening music was supplied by Mr. Percy Owens, organist of St. John's. At the conclusion of the conference all present partook of the refreshments provided by the Rector.

THE BETTER PART.

This afternoon at 3.30 a meeting, composed of the women of the congregation, in connection with the dedication festival of the church was addressed in St. John's school house by Mrs. Broughall, wife of the beloved rector of St. Stephen's church, Toronto. Mrs. Broughall is one of the leading spirits both in connection with the Women's Auxiliary movement and the King's Daughters Society. She will deal with both in the course of her address to be repeated in St. John's school house this evening.

A general invitation is extended to all women to attend this meeting.

GILMOUR MEMORIAL CHURCH.

The Anniversary Services on Sunday and Tea Meeting Monday Evening.

Anniversary services were conducted by Rev. C. E. McLeod, pastor, at the Gilmour Memorial church on Sunday last, when Rev. L. S. Hughson, B.D., of Lindsay, delivered both the morning and evening sermons. Mr. Hughson has not been heard in the country before and the impression he created was a most favourable one. His delivery is fluent and the sermons which he gave were most suitable to the occasion.

On Monday evening a monster tea meeting was held—the largest since the opening of the church. Addresses were delivered by Rev. A. B. McDonald, of Lakefield; Rev. G. R. Clare, of Bridgenorth; and Rev. Mr Hugnson. A fine musical and literary programme also formed a part of the entertainment. A large number attended the tea meeting from town.

SELWYN LITERARY SOCIETY.

The first regular meeting of the Selwyn Literary Society was held in the Temperance Hall, Selwyn, on Oct. 31st. The meeting was opened at 8 o'clock with the President in the chair, and the following programme was rendered:

Address	President
Reading	Mr J Roberts
Instrumental music	Miss E Blaker
Recitation	Miss L Middleton
Reading	Mr M Succee
Song	Messrs R Pearson, F McConkey and W Hatton
Speech	Mr W Hatton
Club swinging	Mr H Trennum

We "Meat" Everybody

At our store, and tender tender meat to our patrons. Our mutton is sold as mutton—not spring lamb. Same with beef—cuts are sold as such. Yet the people keep coming to JOHN J. HOWDEN'S Meat Store, 416 George street. Telephone 39.

A Prodigious Pine Tree.

In the memory of the men now living in the township of Seymour the biggest stick of timber that was ever put afloat in the Trent River was cut in the year 1844, on the farm now occupied by Mr. J. W. Johnston, about half a mile from Campbellford. One of the old settlers of this locality informs us that it contained something more than 900 feet of square timber. It was drawn by nine teams of horses and a yoke of oxen, and it required a day and a half in its removal to the river, about a mile distant. We are told that a portion of the stump of the giant tree is still to be seen on Mr. Johnston's farm. It was cut 52 years ago.

"Mikado" Still in the Market.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have completed arrangements by which we can supply our old brands of flour manufactured with every care to suit the requirements of our trade. We can guarantee the same satisfaction that our flours have always given, as we are having them made from our own blends of wheat and under our personal supervision. Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & MCALLISTER Millers.

RENOVATION OF THE CELLS.

Mr. Thomas Rutherford Has the Contract—The Work Progressing.

The work of renovating the cells at the police station is now almost completed. Mr. Thos. Rutherford has the contract, and the improvement is one which has been long needed.

Frequent were the complaints about the stench which was generated in the old cells and it was known that the place swarmed with vermin. It was therefore determined by the council to have the cells thoroughly renovated and the work was undertaken.

The old wainscotting of wood has been torn out as has the flooring. A solid floor three inches deep of cement is being put in and the walls are also of cement. The floor slopes to one corner where a trap is inserted, connecting with the sewer, thus making the sanitary arrangements perfect.

It is proposed to flush out the cells each morning with the hose, when they can be thoroughly cleansed and all possibility of vermin again infesting the place thus prevented.

The changes have been needed for a long time and as the result it is thought that the cells will now be pure and wholesome, and the disagreeable odor will not in future assail the olfactory senses of those having occasion to go into the police station.

PERSONAL.

Mr. E. Garlick, of Bobcaygeon, was in town to day.

Mr. R. English was up in town for the day from Keene.

Dr. Willoughby, M. P. P., of Colborne, was in town on business to-day.

Miss Matie Owens, of Campbellford, is in town spending a few weeks as the guest of Mrs. Geo. A. Horkins.

Mr. Adam Davidson is suffering from a severe attack of erysipelas, which has settled in his nose.

Mrs. Broughall, of Toronto, will continue her address to women in the Sunday school room of St. John's, this evening.

Mr. J. Turner, jr., of Peterborough, the Lindsay Post says, was in town to-day and took away a number of awnings to be repaired.

Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's preaches in Millbrook on Sunday afternoon at a special service for the Sunday school scholars.

Miss Ethel Turner left to-day for Ottawa to visit friends for a few weeks. At the completion of her visit Miss Turner will attend school in Montreal.

Mr. John Lucas has removed from Peterborough to Kingston and has taken up his abode on Nelson street. His household effects arrived at the C.P.R. freight sheds to-day.—Whig.

Mrs. Kenly, representing the Home Art Society of New York, will hold a reception and display of Art needlework on Monday, the 9th inst., between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p. m., in Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co.'s parlours and will arrange for lessons free of charge, commencing Tuesday, 10th inst., and ending the 14th. All are cordially invited.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Guy Fawkes' Day.

—Bicycles are being stowed away for the winter.

—The steamer Beaver is up with a large load of wood from Rice Lake.

—New block crossings are being put in at the corner of George and Brock streets.

—The Lindsay council has decided by a vote of 6 to 5 not to adopt the ballot system.

—Mr. George Paxman was down to Campbelltown the other day, and bagged thirty-six black squirrels.

—George street is at last being repaired. The grading machine has been over it and broken stone is being spread.

—The North Star came into port yesterday with a scow load of hogs from Harwood for the Geo. Matthews Coy.

—A gulley trap is being constructed at the corner of Water and Hunter streets and will be connected with the sewerage system.

—The street inspector had a number of men at work this morning sweeping the crossings. The mud was inches deep and the move was a wise one.

—The contract has been awarded to the Hamilton Bridge Company for the construction of one of the bridges over the Trent Valley at Auburn.

—The rafters which formerly covered the old water tank in front of Thos. Brady's grocery on Brock street were torn up yesterday and removed. The tank was filled in last year.

—You can buy 30 pounds of the best light brown sugar for one dollar at J. Giles' grocery. Surprising how cheap he sells. Just ask the price of other things when you are getting your sugar.

HUNTING NOTES.

Dr. Wade, of Brighton, was met by Dr. Thorne, of Bobcaygeon, here, to-day, and the two medicos have gone north on a hunting expedition.

Messrs. Harry Winch, W. H. Bradburn, F. D. McKay and John D. Craig were out hunting, yesterday, at the head of Mud Lake. No game was secured, although an exciting fox chase was enjoyed—a sort of "guy" fox hunt.

Messrs. M. A. Jameson and Charlie James were out in North Monaghan yesterday on a fox hunt. The did exceedingly well considering the inclemencies of the weather, succeeding in capturing one red fox and eight rabbits, returning home early in the evening pretty well drenched.

DEATH OF MR. SAMUEL EAKINS.

A Prominent and Highly Respected Resident of Millbrook Passes Away.

It is with regret that the announcement is made of the death of Mr. Samuel Eakins of Millbrook, which took place at that place Tuesday.

Mr. Eakins has been ill for two or three years and notwithstanding all that medical aid could do, he gradually sank until the end came. He was for many years a resident of Cavan, residing on his farm near Centreville, but a number of years ago he removed to Millbrook, where he went extensively into the cattle business exporting largely to Glasgow, Scotland, and personally visited these cities in connection with his shipments. His business naturally gave him a wide intercourse with the people of the country, and he always bore a high reputation of character and fair dealings. His transactions in business, as well as in private affairs, were always just, and he was a man with whom it was a pleasure to come in contact.

He took a deep interest in the welfare of Millbrook, and was always ready to lend a hand to further its interests, and his course in the municipal council, of which he was an active member for many years, earned for him the good will of all classes of the people.

Mr. Eakins leaves a widow and family to mourn his end, among whom are Mr. John Eakins, well and favourably known as a cattle dealer in the district, and Mrs. W. H. Turner, of Midland.

CARD OF THANKS.

H. J. Smith, Superintendent London Life Insurance Company, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—Please convey to your company my thanks for the prompt payment of $36 75, amount of claim caused by the death of my son, Wm. O'Donnell, on the 2nd of November, who was insured in your company 40 weeks on the endowment plan at 10c. per week premium, and I can strongly recommend the plan of Industrial Insurance in your company to all working people, both young and old.

These Fine Days; Wall Papers.

The spanking list of low prices at which we are selling our Wall Papers is inducement enough, surely. Even at this time of the year with goods right and prices low enough we can sell without much of an effort.

Wall Papers are as saleable now as at any time, only you pay less. Thanks to the present fine weather and our good fortune in buying, you pay VERY MUCH LESS.

The money saving hobby is in active operation here all the time.

We've planned for a few more days of brisk Wall Paper selling, while the present fine weather continues. We are making the cost so insignificant it ought to be an inducement to re-paper one room if not the entire house:

600 Rolls of Wall Paper, finished in metal colourings, suitable for bedrooms, kitchens, dining rooms and halls, with 6 and 9 in. border to match, regular price 7c and 8c, sale price this week only.....	.5

Farewell Gathering.

A number of the members of Lydford Lodge, S. O. E., says the Belleville Sun, assembled at their lodge room last night to say farewell to one of their members, Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, who left to-day for Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Ketcheson has been an enthusiastic member of this lodge ever since its inception and is highly respected by his fellow members of the order. The evening was pleasantly spent in song and story and all departed for home at an early hour sorry to loose so able a member of their order, but in the hope that the change would be to his advantage. Mr. Ketcheson was formerly mail clerk on the Peterborough-Belleville Division.

A Dangerous Pastime.

A man in Columbus, Ind., who persisted in kissing his sweetheart when she had diphtheria, is now ill with it, and the State Health Secretary, therefore want to interdict all kissing, concerning which he says: I am convinced of the difficulty the Health Board will meet in trying to taboo kissing among sweethearts. Although a most dangerous pastime, there seems to be an inherent tendency to indulge in it, and we have little hope of ever being able to do away with it. I may have to recommend a disinfectant. All that would be necessary would be to rinse the teeth well with it, and rub it well on the lips. That would ensure devotees against the danger." What an unfeeling wretch that health secretary is.

An Artist in his way.

Few people and impersonators are the equal of Grenville Kleiser. You should hear him in his delineating of characters and scenes from "Our American Cousin" at the Opera House, Thursday evening, Nov. 12th. The entertainment is refined and humourous. Of Mr. Kleiser's work, Mr. R. C. McAllister, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Committee, Ann Arbour, Mich., says: "Mr. Grenville Kleiser presented "Our American Cousin" as the closing number of our Y. M. C. A. Course, and gave the highest satisfaction. His work is finished, artistic, and humourous, without any approach to buffoonery. Personally he is a gentlemen, in every way attractive, and I congratulate any committee securing his services." Don't forget Thursday, Nov. 12th, Opera House. Prices, 25 and 35c. MEETING OF THE SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD LAST NIGHT.

A Short Session Held at Which Important Business was Transacted.

At the monthly meeting of the Separate School Board, which was held last night, there were present Trustees Quinlan, chairman; McGrath, Hickey, Doris and Sheehy.

The superintendent of the schools, Ven. Archdeacon Casey, was also in attendance.

ACCOUNTS

were received as follows and referred to the Finance Committee:

Rathbun Co	$12 28
H Carveth	4 00
H Carveth	2 00

THE REPORT OF ATTENDANCE

for October was submitted as follows:

On motion of Mr. Sheehy, seconded by Mr. Doris, the report was adopted. The meeting then adjourned.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

LACROSSE.

Next year will undoubtedly see the formation of a strong eastern league in lacrosse circles, owing to the fact that the west has assumed to itself too much influence on the Executive of the C. L. A., and eastern clubs are never allowed the benefit of the doubt in close decisions, or treated in a fair or sportsmanlike spirit. The Kingston Whig has now fallen into line and is backing up the EXAMINER in its call for the formation of a league composed of clubs in Peterborough, Millbrook, Port Hope, Cobourg, Campbellford, Belleville, Madoc, Kingston, Perth, Almonte and other eastern towns.

HOCKEY.

Isn't it about time time that the hockey club met for re-organization? Nearly all the other clubs in the province have fallen into line.

A lot of new blood will have to be introduced into the team this year, as Phelan King and Parsons of last year's team are missing.

THE WHEEL.

One "humourous" tack-scatterer has got his just deserts. At a recent bicycle race meeting in a Swiss city the approach to the track was liberally besprinkled with tacks, resulting in more or less injury to a large number of tires. Through the combined efforts of the municipal authorities and the members of the bicycle clubs the "joker" was discovered. His "fun" cost him upward of $400, and but for his ability to pay the amount he would have devoted nearly two years in gaol for reflection.

CURLING.

The third annual meeting of the Campbellford Colts was held on Friday, when the following officers were elected:

Patron—T. S. Tait.
Patroness—Mrs. Tait.
Pres.—G. A. Benor.
Vice-Pres.—W. H. Haynes.
Sec.-Treas.—T. E. Bell.
Committee of Management—F. J. Smith, D. H. Douglas, G. A. Benor.
Skips—D. H. Douglas, F. J. Smith.

The Lindsay Bonspiel Committee held a second meeting last Monday evening, says the Post, and it was decided to hold the bonspiel in Lindsay, to commence Tuesday morning, January 10th. The committee believes that the citizens of the town will generously respond to their request to make the bonspiel such that clubs from all over the the province will send one or more representative rinks. A bonspiel in Lindsay will mean the presence in town, for four or five days, of nearly two hundred active curlers; the rinks, both the skating and the curling rink, will be the scene of matches between the crack rinks of the province almost continually, morning, afternoon and evening; that these rinks will be thrown open to the public free of charge at all times, so that any of the citizens can have a whole week's amusement free of cost. The committee feel that all the clubs in the neighbourhood are sure to send at least two rinks, but they also believe that rinks from the far east of our province to the west may be induced to be present. The eastern curlers have on very many occasions heard of the strong clubs of Western Ontario, but very seldom has an opportunity been given to test their strength. Such an opportunity will be given this year if the committee, having the bonspiel in hand, can make the inducements of it such as to entice these western clubs to visit it.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eyes.

Judging from what may be seen occasionally it is not generally known that it is a criminal offence to allow cattle to run at large within half a mile of a railway crossing, but such is the case. There is danger to the lives of trainmen and valuable property when cattle stray upon the railway track; and if the owners of cattle so trespassing were brought to task by the railway authorities there would be a severe penalty inflicted.

Winter rates are now in effect.

Owing to the rush of freight on the G. T. R. it has been necessary to employ a number of new men as brakesmen.

General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk Railway has issued an order to lighten the work of telegraph operators. He says the wires have been burdened with many unnecessary telegrams and that G.T.R. business which would be promptly executed is delayed, and the co-operation of all the officials on the road is asked to restrict the use of the wires while maintaining the effectiveness of the road. The heads of departments have been instructed to inspect every despatch sent by subordinates, and superintendents are ordered to prevent unnecessary telegraphing by trainmen and others. The following officers who formerly used the operators at will have been shut out of the free list:—Sleeping car conductors, firemen, brakemen, porters and news agents.

DON'T MAKE CHEESE AFTER OCTOBER.

Important Circular Issued From Montreal—Result of Discarding Fodder Cheese—Better Quality and Better Prices Obtained.

At the general meeting of the Butter and Cheese Association at the Board of Trade a committee was appointed to draw up a report in reference to November cheese. This the committee has done and the document is as follows:

"In March last, the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association issued a circular to the cheese manufacturers of Canada, strongly advising them in their own interests, as well as of the cheese trade generally, to discontinue the manufacture of fodder cheese, knowing that the manufacture of these cheese tended to lower in a serious manner the price, as well as the high standard of our product in the British markets. The result of the factorymen following the advice then given unquestionably caused the depletion of stocks in the British markets, and resulted in factorymen obtaining such a substantial advance for their fall cheese.

"The Association now desire to call the attantion of the Canadian cheese manufacturers to the desirability of stopping the manufacture of cheese at the end of October, Should any large quantity of November and December cheese be made, it would react in an equally unfavourable manner on the market, as that produced by the manufacture of April or fodder cheese. The members of the association believe that it is strongly to the interest of the producers to only make cheese during those months most suitable for the production of the highest grade, and have no doubt but the net returns will be larger, and the character of our goods stand higher if the advice of the association is followed in this matter, and are confident that the factorymen will thereby obtain much higher prices for their product next season if this recommendation is adopted.

"In offering this advice this association does not forget that if cheese are not made the farmer is faced with the question of what to do with his November milk, and would point out that a very much finer quality of butter can be made in the winter than of cheese. The association notes with pleasure the large exports of butter, the result of improvement in quality and means of transportation, and would urge our factorymen wherever practicable, to make creamery butter during November and balance of season, packing it into boxes, which is now the favourite package for export. Canadian butter is now sought after, and the English markets are open and ready to receive all we can send, and and the demand for home consumption is also gradually increasing.

FRESH WATER HERRINGS.

They are Now Running in the North Country;

Fenelon Falls Gazette.

The little fresh water herrings have commenced "running" at the Rosedale locks, where they generally make their appearance a few days earlier than at Fenelon Falls; and if any considerable number of them get back to the lake it will be chiefly on account of the discoloration of the water caused by explosions of dynamite in the bed of the river just this side of the village.

A resident of the Falls who went up on Monday and Tuesday and caught a few pailfuls of the fish, told us on Wednesday morning that he did not think he would return, as not only residents of the vicinity, but men and boys from Lindsay, Ops and Mariposa were camping around the locks, and as many as fifty dip nets at the very least, were sometimes in operation.

The herrings not only arrive earlier and are much more numerous at Rosedale than at the Falls, but some persons assert that they are of a better flavour also, which, however, we are inclined to doubt.

CHANCE FOR THE RAILROADS.

Why Not Haul Surplus Apples to the Large Cities for the Poor?

The apple crop in Massachusets is as heavy as elsewhere and the farmers seem to be putting their spare fruit to very good use. The railways running into Boston are supplying free transportation and the farmers are sending in hundreds of carloads to the charitable organizations of that city. Here the hundreds of carloads are rotting in the orchards. There is no doubt the farmers of Ontario are just as big hearted as those of Massachusetts, and if the railroads followed the example of the eastern lines many hundred poor families in Toronto, Ottawa, Kingston and Montreal could be supplied with a whole winter's stock of fruit.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Mr. J. R. Moore, we are pleased to say, is much improved in health, and has gone with his little daughter, Mary, to visit relatives in Foxboro.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The ninth annual convention of the Dominion Woman's Christian Temperance Union will open to-morrow morning in the Zion Congregational church, College street, Toronto, and continue until Tuesday evening. Many prominent workers in the temperance movement will be in attendance and take part in the proceedings, which promise to be of exceptional interest. On Friday evening the Toronto W. C. T. U. will extend a welcome to the visiting delegates and give a reception tea at the Elm Street Methodist Church. Among those who will take part at the public meeting following the tea are Rev. Dr. German, Mrs. Cowan, Toronto; Dr. Amelia Yeomans, of Winnipeg; and Mrs. Thornley, President for Ontario. An important event in connection with the convention will be the address at the Pavilion meeting on Sunday afternoon of Miss Slack, of Derbyshire, England, Secretary of the World's W.C.T.U. Miss Slack will also speak at the mass meeting to be held in Broadway Tabernacle on Monday night. Mrs. Wilson, President of the Buffalo W. C.T.U., will deliver an address at the closing meeting on Tuesday night at Zion church. A large number of ladies from Peterborough will attend.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Geo. A. Leach of Montreal, formerly of this place, and son of Mr. A. Leach, town, was married to Miss May Mills of Mount Pleasant. Mr. Leach was always an enthusiastic sportsman, and while here took an active part in the lacrosse and hockey clubs. Last winter he left here for Montreal to accept a lucrative position and in which, we are pleased to learn, he has met with great success. His many friends wish him a long and prosperous married life.

Mr. L. F. Clarry left on Wednesday for Toronto to resume his studies at Osgoode Hall.

Mr. Henry Fallis, son of Mr. W. A. Fallis, M.P.P., who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever, is now recovering.

Miss Nellie Hetherington, who has so efficiently filled a responsible position in the post office for some time, has resigned. Before leaving Miss Hetherington was presented with a handsome silver tea service by the business men of the town Miss May Armstrong has taken the position rendered vacant by Miss Hetherington's retirement.

Mr. Will Kerr, son of Mr. James Kerr, has left for British Columbia.

Miss Mina Bateson returned home on Tuesday after a four weeks' visit with her brother, Mr. James Bateson, Norwood.

Mr. James Brown of Peterborough, rendered two solos, "Lead Kindly Light," and "Evening Prayer," at the C. E. convention which was held here last week. It is needless to say that Mr. Brown delighted his audience.

The concert given in the town hall on Friday evening by the Charles Kelly Coy. was well attended.

Mr. Robt. McMahon has accpted a position in the power house of the Electric Light Company.

Mr. S. G. Parkin of Lindsay, was in town last week.

Mr. W. S. Given and R. W. Clarke were in London last week attending a provincial Sunday school convention.

STEWART'S—OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, a very successful fowl supper and entertainment was held at the River Road Union Hall, Stewart's, Otonabee. The attendance was excellent; many were present from town. The supper was all that could be desired.

After supper the following programme was rendered, Mr. Alexander Savigny being in the chair.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Hallowe'en will soon have passed into oblivion. Nothing unusual took place excepting that some of the farmers' gates which were not stationary were removed a distance from their location and left in some obscure spot.

Mr. C. McMahon is engaged in building a fine frame residence for Mr. Samuel Pearson, who intends to move into it in the course of a week or two.

Messrs. F. Dettman, C. Greaney, George Wilson and one or two others, who compose an excellent hunting party, have moved to Nogie's Creek, somewhere in the vicinity of their old hunting ground, where they will camp during the hunting season.

Mr. A. Watson, (merchant, Kinmount, who has secured a contract to deliver a quantity of cedar ties, is anxious to buy. But it is rather early in the season to haul to the railway track, where he requires them, or at least a portion of them, by the 10th of this month.

MRS. CASSIDY

423 George Street.
Two Doors north of Examiner Office.

How many happy marriage ties are daily cut asunder by the grim destroyer, death. How many women go radiantly to the altar, only to pass a few short months of agony and pain, and then go down to early graves. There is one cause of this ever-recurring tragedy. No woman should enter the marriage state without some knowledge of the physiology of the female organs of reproduction, and of the necessity of keeping them always healthy and vigorous. Ignorance on these points digs graves for thousands of happy brides but a few months' journey from the altar. There is a sure and speedy remedy at hand.

The most marvelous medicine ever discovered for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the discovery of a most eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It acts directly on the delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them healthy and strong. It cures all weakness and disease. Taken during the expectant period it insures a healthy baby and makes parturition easy and almost painless. Women who wish to know all about the "Favorite Prescription" should write to Dr. Pierce.

Mrs. W. Robinson, Springhill, Cumberland Co., Nova Scotia, writes: "I feel that I cannot say enough about your 'Favorite Prescription.' I was confined on the 8th of April, and I was only sick about thirty minutes in all. I can truthfully say that your medicine worked wonders in my case. Although the physician was in the house I did not seem to require his aid. I am going around doing my own work and before I had to keep a girl three months till I was able to do my work. I recommended the medicine to a lady friend of mine and she is taking it. She expects to become a mother next month."

Constipation if neglected will lead the most robust to the doctor's office. The blood gets loaded down with impurities which it deposits in every organ and tissue in the body. Serious illness is the inevitable result. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are prompt and pleasant in their action. They never gripe. They cure permanently, and are not mere temporary palliatives. Druggists sell them. If you accept something said to be "just as good," you will regret it.

NEW NOISE PRODUCER.

A Suggestion Picked Up by a Traveler in South Australia.

Boys, here is a way by which you can make a new noise—new, at any rate, to this part of the world. It has been heard many a time over in South Australia ever since I do not know how long ago. And very likely those who love peace and quiet have often been saying: "Boora gabooro, corroboree" which Jack is informed means: "Stop that racket!" or something of the sort.

Now look at this picture, and do as the young Australian does when he takes it into his woolly head to make a perboregan, and you will have something to see and especially to hear. Get a stout stick of stringy-bark wood (or if you can't manage that some other stout wood, like ash or hickory, will do) and see that it tapers like a whip handle and is about 18 inches long. Next, cut from a shingle, if you can't get a good slice of Australian wattle bark, a three-cornered piece, about four inches long, of the shape shown in the sketch. When he has these two ready, the young black fellow asks his mother to make for him a cord out of the twisted sinews of a kangaroo's tail. If your mother doesn't find it convenient to do this, probably a bit of stout fishing-line will answer the purpose. Tie your three-cornered piece of shingle to one end of the cord, and then tie the other end of the cord around a groove in the top of the handle so that it will turn freely, and so that the lash will be about as long as the stock of this whip. Now your perboregan is made, and you are ready to begin having fun with it. Get off by yourself—in the middle of a ten-acre lot would be about right—and swing the thing around your head as hard as ever you can. Then stop it suddenly with a peculiar twist or jerk and it will crack like a horse-pistol. They say it can be heard two miles on a still day; but perhaps it would be well to prove this, if you can, by going about that distance from other folks whenever you practise.

The best way to cure disease is to drive it from the system by purifying the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE KANGAROO CAT.

One of These Strange Creatures is Owned by a Chicago Man.

One of the most curious animals in the world is the kangaroo cat. These funny creatures are very scarce. You might easily travel all over the world without seeing one.

They have fur and claws and whiskers, just like any other cat, and they are fond of hunting mice, but otherwise they resemble the kangaroo.

The nose of the kangaroo cat is long and sharp, just like a shepherd's dog, and they sit up on their hind legs, and have a long, stout tail; they jump about about like a kangaroo, too, and you know the kangaroo is a famous jumper.

A Chicago man who owns one of these queer pets has had it since it was a wee kitten about six weeks old. This odd little fellow can jump from the ground to the top of a high board fence, and a blow from his thick, hard tail would break your arm.

You can see from the portrait of the kangaroo cat published with this what a peculiar feline the animal is, and how funny he looks when he is sitting down.—N. Y. Recorder.

The Reward of "Strategy."

A Western paper tells a story of a thrifty citizen who, from laborious and frugal poverty, had advanced to great wealth by the manufacture of oatmeal. Though he was said to be the possessor of a million, he persevered in many of the frugal habits of his days of comparative adversity. One of these thrifty characteristics was the wearing of an old blue army overcoat, which he had bought at the close of the Civil War for a very small sum. Nothing could induce him to part with this garment, which, although he had worn it for twenty winters, still hung together with the aid of a strap which fastened it about his body.

Meantime Mr. S. had a son growing up, whose ideas of what is due to the general public in the matter of personal attire were very different from his father's. He tried in vain to get his father to discard the old army coat. Persuasion being in vain, Mr. S. junior finally resorted to deception.

He entered into an arrangement with a tailor to sell his father an excellent overcoat, made of expensive cloth, for the pretended price of fifteen dollars, while he, the son, agreed to pay the remainder of the real price of the coat, which was sixty-five dollars.

This stratagem arranged for, Mr. S. junior waited in the store until his father came along, clad in the old coat, and called him in.

"Father," he said, "just come in and look at the bargain this man has here!"

Mr. S. came in reluctantly, and looked at the garment. He knew that it was a remarkably good piece of cloth, he had lately become half-convinced that his old army coat was about worn out, and though fifteen dollars seemed to him an extravagant price to pay for an overcoat, he saw here an opportunity to get a garment which would last him another twenty years.

After some unsuccessful haggling, therefore, he bought the coat, paid the fifteen dollars, put the new garment on, had the old one done up in a paper, and started on his way down the street with the parcel under his arm.

Then the son paid the tailor the remaining fifty dollars, and rejoiced that his father was at last respectably covered.

Old Mr. S., in the new overcoat, was not recognized by some of his oldest friends; but one friend did recognize him, and said to him:—

"Why, S., that's a splendid coat you have on!"

"Well, I should think it ought to be," said S., "I paid fifteen dollars for it."

"Fifteen dollars!" exclaimed the other, who knew a piece of cloth when he saw it; "why, I'll give you twenty dollars for the coat right here!"

"It's your coat," said S. "I don't know a quicker way to make five dollars than that."

So he took off the new and magnificent garment, pocketed the twenty dollars, unwrapped the old army coat, put it on, and went his way in perfect satisfaction—a satisfaction not shared, it need hardly be said, by his son, when that young gentleman came home and found what the outcome of his cunning strategy had been.—Youth's Companion.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Six Donkeys and Seven.

In Turkey professional story-tellers go about gayly dressed in waistcoat and baggy trousers of gaudy colors trimmed with gold and amuse the people with their stories. Often they sit in the restaurants and public squares and as they talk they shrug their shoulders, gesticulate and make faces to impress their hearers. This is one of the fables that a famous story-teller relates.

One day a wealthy man called upon Nasartin Hodja to ask him how much he would charge to educate his son.

"Three hundred piasters," said the Hodja.

"What are you talking about?" exclaimed the man. "That is too much. I can buy six donkeys for 300 piasters."

"That is well said," answered Nasartin, "but if you buy six donkeys with your 300 piasters instead of educating your son you will be master of seven donkeys, including your son."

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

BOYS AND GIRLS

COMPANY MANNERS.

The Worst Element That Ever Entered Into a Family.

If the people would only realize how very easy it is to teach children good manners when little, it seems to me they would never neglect to attend to it. The youngster is allowed to go his own way, to violate every rule of courtesy, sometimes of decency, until his habits are, to an extent, formed. Then there is a great breaking up of established notions, and the child is punished and nagged and worried for doing that which it has heretofore been permitted to do without criticism. It becomes angered, sullen, unsettled and irritable, and if it has a strong sense of justice—which, by the way, is more common in children than people, as a rule, give them credit for—it feels outraged and abused, and becomes unmanageable and rebellious. The best school of manners for a child is the parent's example and home training.

Company manners are, by all odds, the worst element that ever entered into a family. Just why people should indulge themselves in all sorts of careless, indifferent and ill-bred habits when they are alone at home, and put on a veneer of courtesy, amiability and polish when somebody comes, is one of the many mysteries of this very mysterious thing we call life. How much easier it would be to maintain the steady, uniform deportment, to follow out the same theories and hold to the same principles Sunday and week days, storm and shine, alone or in society.—Detroit Free Press.

To Boys of Sixteen.

In most of the homes that we reach there must be a great many boys of about this age. Why should we not address an editorial to them? They will soon be men. A short five years will bring them to the enjoyment of all the rights and privileges of American citizenship. Nor will it be much longer till they will be crowding forward, a mighty army, to seize the places of power and influence that are now held by their fathers. Will not our young friends listen for a brief space to one who sincerely loves all the boys in the world?

To discerning eyes, at least, the boy of sixteen usually gives promise of what he is likely to become in later years. It is the natural order that it should be so; and the exceptions to the rule are fewer than is usually supposed. People properly take it for granted that a good boy will turn out to be a good man, and vice versa. The late Dr. E. E. Wiley, who gave more than half a century to the cause of education in connection with Emory and Henry College, and who was one of the most sagacious men that we ever knew, once said to us: "First and last. I have taught more than 6,000 boys; and in less than a score of instances have I found it necessary to revise in subsequent years the judgments that I formed of my students while they were under my eye in the class room." Such an utterance from such a source ought to have great weight. We quote it here for the purpose of emphasizing the thought that the boy who proposes to spend the opening period of his life in idleness or vicious indulgence, promising himself, meantime, that he will make a great change, and be of some account when he gets to be a man, is cherishing a most dangerous delusion.

It is an awful truth that character is often fixed and destiny seated before one passes the line of twenty-one. The importance of this fact is too great to be overestimated. With whatever power we can command, we wish to urge the consideration of it on all our friends. Let us not be understood as advocating the premature development of boys into sedate and quiet men. We do not regard that this as a desirable end to be attained. There is a time of life in which it is natural for mortals to grow, run, jump, shout, and indulge in agreeable sports and pastimes. To deprive them of all opportunity for such innocent merriment is neither wise nor kind. The mature man who cannot look back upon the season in which he fairly reveled in the mere joy of existence is to be pitied.

But innocent sports are a very different matter from what is called "sowing wild oats." The latter phrase suggests the idea of dedicating one's brightest and holiest days to the service of the devil, a thing which is not to be tolerated for one moment. A strong, healthy, alert boy, running over with life and spirit, may still be a God-fearing Christian, an obedient son, a diligent student, and an honest worker at all his Providential tasks. The notion that it is necessary to be vicious in order to be happy is fit to have come from Satan himself. Any falser statement was never uttered in this world.

The inspired writer bids us remember our Creator in the days of our youth. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. True religion is the glory of childhood as well as of old age. They that seek the Lord early shall find him. Blessed are all those who enter into covenant with him while the dew of the morning is still fresh upon their hearts, and who abide faithful to him till their heads are crowned with gray hairs.

But some one may ask us whether religion is the same thing in a boy as in a man. We answer, yes and no. There are undoubtedly points of difference in minor details, but an essential identity in main features. One of the chief tokens of piety in a boy is reverence for his parents. The absence of this is the sure sign that his moral and spiritual nature has never been fully aroused. Parents stand in the place of God to their children, and are to be honored accordingly. The commandment which teaches this lesson is the first one to which a promise is attached. "That it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee." Purity in action, speech, and thought, is as possible for the young as for the old. The example for all alike is Jesus Christ, "across the clear heaven of whose mind there never floated a defiling imagination." Absolute honesty that spurns the mere thought of appropriating what has not been fairly earned; utter truthfulness that despises a lie or even the appearance of it; manly diligence that scorns to eat idle bread; gentle courtesy that abhors rudeness and coarseness of speech and manners; an eager desire for knowledge that accounts ignorance a curse and a disgrace; all these virtues should adorn the character of every boy.—Nashville Advocate.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which the doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

Send 31 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

Safer.

It is sometimes embarrassing to presume too far on one's own nobility of countenance. There is a story of an Edinburgh sheriff who lost a two-penny railway ticket, and was accordingly asked for his fare.

"I have already paid it," said he.

"Then where's your ticket?"

"I have lost it."

"Then you must pay again."

"Come now, friend," said the sheriff, "just glance at my face, and tell me if I look like a man who would tell a lie for tuppence"

The cash-taker obediently inspected the countenance offered, and then said, dryly:—

"I'll just thank you for that tuppence!"

Still Says So.

"Do you remember," asked the young lawyer and promoter, "that you once said I would never be rich? I rather think I am on the road to riches, at last."

"I never said you would not be rich," answered the elderly cynic. "I only said you would never have any money of your own, and I still say so."—Indianapolis Journal.

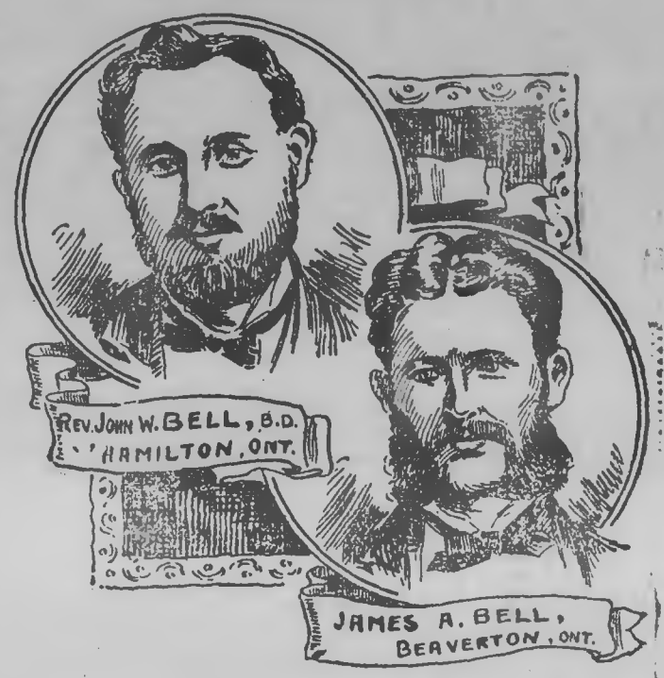
BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.



James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches

A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are better known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Butter-Making Industry in the Northwest.

POINTERS IN REGARD TO PACKING

Prof. Robertson Believes There are Great Possibilities for Dairying in the Great West of Canada—That Indian Murderer Again Eludes the Mounted Police.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—According to advices received by the Dairy Commissioner, the last shipments of butter for this season from the Government dairy stations at Indian Head and Prince Albert are now on their way to Montreal. The quantity made at Indian Head during the season was 32,222 pounds, and at Prince Albert 27,108 pounds. It is expected that the output at boh places next year will double the season just passed.

Hardly a week passes but Prof. Robertson receives some new device for packing either butter or cheese. One improvement in the butter trade this year is the general use on steamers of square boxes as packages for butter. These boxes hold 56 pounds net, and are lined inside with thick greaseproof or parchment paper. They occupy less space for storage than the circular tubs. They also cost less and carry the butter in a rather more acceptable condition to the consumers' shops.

Prof. Robertson has great hopes of the Northwest as a dairying country. In two or three years he expects to see in that country an output of butter which will not only meet all the local requirements, but afford a large quantity for export. There are great possibilities ahead for shipping butter from the Northwest to the far East. France is exporting butter put up in tin packages to India, China, and Japan, and Denmark is copying the French package. Prof. Robertson purposes securing some of these lines from France with the idea of encouraging their manufacture in Canada. He thinks the Northwest should be able to export large quantities of butter to eastern countries.

Mr. W. F. King, Chief Astronomer of the Interior Department has left for Port Stanley to continue astronomical work, at which Mr. Otto J. Krotz of the same department has been engaged all summer. It has been felt necessary to again determine the international boundary running through Lake Erie, and Mr. Klotz has been engaged all summer on the lake taking astronomical observations and carrying out a survey. Mr. King was at the same time engaged in astronomical observations at Ottawa, and with a view to checking each other's work there has been a change of places between the two astronomers.

Advices were received at the Indian Department to-day to the effect that the Blood Indian who killed another Indian two or three weeks ago had visited the reserve again. The mounted police got on his track, but his friends concealed him, and he has not yet been captured. The squaw and children of the murderer have returned to the reserve.

Mr. W. J. Stewart of the Marine Department, with his two assistant engineers, who were engaged all summer on the hydrographic survey of Lake Erie, returned to the city last night, their work being finished. Plans for the continuance of the work next season have not up to the present been decided on, but the probability is that Lake Ontario will next engage attention.

S. R. Cossey of Halifax writes to the Minister of Trade and Commerce urging a permanent exhibit of minerals and products of Canada in England. He also suggests having in connection with the same a bureau of information for intending emigrants to Canada and also a list of some of the farms for sale in the Dominion.

A writ was filed at the court house to-day claiming $5000 damages from Mr. James Robinson, wholesale boot and shoe merchant of Montreal, for the false imprisonment of Mr. McCallum on charges of fraud preferred against him by Mr. Robinson, of which he and Mr. Brown were acquitted by Magistrate O'Gara.

The Journal says to-night that Mr. Bifton may arrive here this week and be sworn in Minister of the Interior. He is now referring the terms of the school settlement to the Liberal committee at Brandon. The chances are that he will not be opposed.

Postmaster-General Mulock had a complaint from Victoria, B. C., regarding the prices of boxes and drawers at the postoffice, as compared with Vancouver. Mr. Mulock has decided that in both cities boxes will hereafter be $4 and drawers $5. In Vancouver boxes were $4 and drawers $5, and in Victoria they were $5 and $6. The change in Victoria will benefit 600 citizens to the extent of $1 per year.

There are two members of the survey staff still in the field. Mr. Chalmers is working in the Eastern Townships and Mr. Fletcher in Nova Scotia.

Sir Charles and Lady Tupper left for Montreal to-day en route for England.

W. R. Campbell of Digby was here to-day in connection with the subsidy to the steamship service between St. John and Digby.

Mr. Featherston, M. P., was here to-day on departmental business.

Contrary to expectation, there were no dismissals from the Government Printing Bureau to-day.

Men and Woman Agree

That corns are painful, not easily cured, and quite useless. Men and womtn who have used Putnam's Corn Extractor testify that it is the best, acts without pain, and cures. Use Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor.

Kept His Promise.

A novel method of extracting a tooth without pain was employed by an eccentric old carpenter in a New England town some years ago. He had in his employ a colored boy who had groaned for days over an aching tooth, but utterly refused to go to the dentist, and was in a state of abject terror whenever that worthy individual's name was mentioned At last his employer said to him:—

"Pomp, if you'll trust me, I'll engage to get your tooth ont here in the shop, without your feeling any pain." After some urging, the boy at last consented to allow his employer to try his skill. Thereupon the carpenter tied a piece of twine around the boy's tooth, and fastened the end of it securely to his vise bench. When this had been accomplished, he seized a heavy hammer, and held it menacingly above Pomp's head as if he were about to hit him.

The darky with a yell of fright jumped as far as he could, and in less time than it takes to tell it, the offending tooth was dangling from the end of the twine, while the boy's face was a study as he discovered what had happened.

"You done tole de truf, massa," he acknowledged, when his mingled emotions had sufficiently subsided for him to articulate, "you done tole de truf: dis chile was so took up wid looking at dat hammer, he nebber knew nuffin 'bout dat toof's being pulled till he saw it hanging on de string!"

New Furniture.

At A. Clegg's:—A large assortment of floor rocker cobler seats, in oak, natural birch and mahogany finish. These are of superior styles and finish and very cheap. Also a lot of reed and rattan rockers—cheap! cheap! Several cases of pictures, good subjects, complete, at less than you have been accustomed to pay for frames only. A. Clegg, 427 George street.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. Hoods, heads, backs and breasts in black waterproof, impervious to water, soft and pliable. Any kind or style of ordered goods required. Lap rugs, strictly waterproof. Also cheese covers as requested by members of the Cheese Board, and for covering all kinds of goods liable to damage from wet. A. Kingscotte, Tent, Sail and Awning manufacturer, 344 Water street, opposite market.

The women know that a few cents saved here and there on Groceries soon count-up. Men don't notice such things. They say, "Get the best." Women say, "Get the best and get it at the cheapest place." That's the reason why we have so many women customers. We are making it worth their while to buy here and buy often, during our Guessing Competition for the 100 bars of our Soap.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO MURDER.

A Couple of Finlanders Got Into an Altercation With Serious Results.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 4.—John Hantala, alias Tollinja, a Finlander, is in the district jail here charged with attempting to murder John West, a fellow-countryman. The two men were out on a drunk together. West had the money, and the other wanted him to spend it all. An altercation ensued, which the proprietor of the hotel made them settle outside of his house. West says that in the course of fistic combat Hantala drew a dirk and stabbed him in the neck, arms, breast and sides. West crawled to his home, his adversary having meanwhile decamped. The wound in the former's neck was within a quarter of an inch of the jugular vein. Thirteen stitches were applied, however, and he will recover. The accused man was caught at Red Bank, a little hamlet on the American side of Lake Superior, and 25 miles away.

THE SILVER BOYCOTT AT WINDSOR

Banks Received U. S. Currency From Business People Yesterday.

Windsor, Nov. 4.—The banks are to-day receiving all kinds of American currency, and assuring their customers that the only reason why they ever started the boycott was to prevent having a lot of American silver on hand in case the Americans declared in favor of free coinage. They have not yet notified the Government officers that they will take American money, and the Postoffice Savings Bank and Custom House still refuse to handle anything but legal tender. It will probably be some time before these departments make a change, as Canadian Government officers are extremely conservative.

The transfer of the city's account from the Bank of Commerce to the Merchants' Bank will be made to-morrow.

The Canadian Government steamer Petrel arrived in port last night from Lake Erie, where she had seized more than five miles of nets belonging to American fishermen.

A Boom for Workingmen.

Pittsburg, Nov. 4.—The Leader publishes the following this afternoon: For about three years the skilled workmen employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad shops between Pittsburg and Altoona have been working only five days in the week and only eight hours a day. This morning the General Superintendent of the division issued an order restoring all shopmen to work ful ltime at six or seven days a week, as desired by the men, at twelve hours a day, and at an advance in their wages of ten cents per day all round. Notice to the above effect was posted at 6 o'clock this morning in the 28th and 33rd-street shops. As a result six hundred idle men who had anticipated the turn of affairs were on hand and went to work. To-morrow the order will go into effect at Wall-street and Altoona shops. M. W. Chandler, General Secretary of the Pennsylvania Railroad department of the Y.M.C.A., stated that the above order is the result of yesterday's election.

Inquiry at the office of General Agent Robert Pitcairn failed to secure a confirmation of the report. The information, they say, must come from Altoona.

LOCAL LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Supplied by H. P. Kennedy.

There is little change to note in the condition of the market since our last report. Butcher cattle have been offering very freely, and if anything at a decline on the already low prices, some loads being shipped from here to outside points selling at the rate of about 1½c per lb., which showed the farmers that inferior and half fat stock simply cannot be handled at a profit. Some choice steers, averaging about 1200 lbs, have changed hands during the past week on the local market at about 2¼ to 3c per lb. Sheep and lambs continue about the same price, sheep 2 to 2½ per lb, and lambs 2½ to 3c. Live hogs offer at about the same prices, with the exception of heavy hogs, between 200 and 250, which have advanced 5c, present prices being, selects $1.50 to $2.00, $3.60, choice heavies $3.25, sows 2½c. The dressed meat market has been overstocked and prices continue low. Beef by the quarter 3 to 5c, lamb 5 to 6c, pork 5 to 6c, mutton 4 to 6c.

Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They cure Constipation and Sick Headache.

Defying the Probs

AND FORCING THE SEASON.

We Can't Change the Weather

BUT WE CAN CHANGE OUR PRICES.

At no time of the year are we satisfied to sell at regular prices. At no time of the year can we afford to allow unseasonable weather to clog our business. Our stocks must keep on the move. We're constantly running across lots of goods offered to us at Special Prices. That means ample opportunity to discount the trade in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings without any trouble. Please remember that this business is PERSISTENTLY in advance of every other, and that prices here are always, with seldom an exception, the LOWEST.

We start off this week with a double head of steam to Reduce all our prices on all our stock, and make business boom in defiance of the mild weather.

WHEAT'S UP! CLOTHING'S DOWN! We quote below a few sample prices that tell the tale of how well we are loaded up with Bargains all over our two BIG STORES

Ordered Work.

Tweeds and Worsteds must get a quicker move on like everything else. Boom! Boom! all along the Cloth Department. Well dressed men come here—this store appeals to gentlemen of refined taste, and provides most fully for all. Our Fall Stocks of Cloths and Tweeds for custom work will please all who prefer their garments made up to their own measure from carefully selected fabrics. We deny the right of High Prices to exist while this balmy weather hangs on.

Just imagine the condition of things where everything is held for a regular profit until sold. Gough Bros. the progressive and aggressive leaders of Low Prices, make prices the moving power all along the line. JONES CAPITULATES

And Notifies Bryan That He is Defeated.

THE LATTER SHOWS GOOD HUMOR

And Wires Congratulations to Mr. McKinley—Mark Hanna Explains All About the Farmer Vote and Its Change Over—Indiana and Minnesota are Republican.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Chairman Jones of the Democratic National Committee has given up the fight, and his conceded McKinley's election.

Bryan Congratulates McKinley.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—At 8.25 o'clock this evening Senator Jones telegraphed to Mr. Bryan that he had given up the fight. The message was handed to Mr. Bryan at his residence.

"You may say," said Mr. Bryan to the United Associated Press reporter "that the election of McKinley is conceded, and that I will issue a statement to-night."

Immediately after receiving Senator Jones' telegram Mr. Bryan wrote the following despatch:

"Hon. William McKinley, Canton, Ohio: Senator Jones has just informed me that the returns indicate your election, and I hasten to extend my congratulations. We have submitted the issues to the American people and their will is law.

"(Signed) William J. Bryan."

Indiana is Republican.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—Returns from all counties in Indiana show that McKinley's majority is 23,179. The Republicans elect 53 members of the House, Democrats 47. The Senate stands: 34 Republicans and 16 Democrats. The Congressional delegation will be eight Republicans and four Democrats, with one in doubt.

No Doubt About Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Nov. 5.—There is no doubt whatever that Clough, Republican, has been elected Governor of this State by at least 8000 majority. McKinley's majority in the State is about 50,000.

Hoss Hanna Explains.

New York, Nov. 5.—In an interview Republican National Chairman Hanna was asked what, in his opinion, changed the farmers' vote to McKinley in the Middle West States. Mr. Hanna said "The farmers of the middle West were away off in the beginning on the money question, and on that results that would follow McKinley's election. They believed at first that if McKinley was elected silver would be wiped out of circulation. The farmers confounded the gold standard with monometallism, but they learned the truth, as the result of the campaign shows."

"Do you think the tariff question figured much in the result?"

"Yes, sir; decidedly so. It figured very, very much."

Mr. Hanna was questioned about what would be Major McKinley's position on the tariff question.

"I would prefer to let McKinley speak for himself on the tariff question," he replied.

Mr. Hanna then called attention to what Major McKinley said at the dinner of the Marquette Club in Chicago on Feb. 12.

"Major McKinley then said," said Mr. Hanna, "these words: 'I am not an advocate for schedules, but for the principles of protection.'"

"We all know that the dominant issue of this campaign has been the monetary question, and yet later that, in the closing days of the campaign, was made secondary, and it was narrowed down to the masses against the classes."

"Do you feel that the silver question is dead?"

"Well, I feel that it is the beginning of the end. I don't hesitate to say that the result of this election will bring about a serious consideration of the question, and that the opinion of the country will be reflected in the Senate and Congress."

"Will both Houses be for sound money?"

"Undoubtedly."

Mr. Hanna said the silver men in both the Congress and Senate would not be able to seriously interfere with legislation.

The Reasons for It.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—Governor Wm. J. Stone, when asked what, in his opinion, were the causes of Bryan's defeat, said:

"First, and chiefly, money.

"Second, the betrayal of the Democratic party by men who owed it everything.

"Third, the influence of a subsidized press."

Governor Stone said he would begin at once organizing the people of the State for the campaign of 1900. "The cause we have fought for is right," he continued, "it involves a question affecting the prosperity of our country, and the happiness of mankind. It will not be settled until it is settled right. The battle has not been in vain, as by it we have separated the wheat from the chaff. The party will grow stronger in future, when every man in it is ready to fight and die for its principles.

"The cause of free silver is not lost by this defeat. The blessings that would flow from bimetallism will be delayed, but they will come at last in response to the resolute and unyielding demands of the people."

Mr. Manna's Official Statement.

The following statement was given out this afternoon at Republican National Headquarters by Chairman Mark A. Hanna:

"Official returns have been received to satisfy me that the following states have been carried by McKinley and Hobart:

"California 9, Connecticut 6, Delaware 3, Illinois 24, Indiana 15, Iowa 13, Maine 6, Maryland 8, Massachussets 15, Minnesota 9, Michigan 14, Montana 3, North Dakota 3, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 10, New York 36, Ohio 23, Oregon 4, Pennsylvania 32, Rhode Island 4, South Dakota 4, Vermont 4, West Virginia 6, Wisconsin 12, Wyoming 1: total, 268, which will insure McKinley's election by a majority of 86 in the electoral college, even if every other electoral vote goes against us.

"Another most significant fact of this victory is that McKinley and Hobart's election has been secured by a plurality of over one million of the popular vote—the largest ever given. I am confident that we shall secure the other two electors in Wyoming and the 13 in Kentucky, and North Carolina's eleven votes are in doubt.

"The importance to the country of this result cannot be over estimated and is a matter of congratulation to all loyal and patriotic citizens of the United States. Incendiary utterances and pretended claims which question the accuracy of this statement should not disturb the public mind.

"(Signed) M. A. Hanna, Chairman."

McKinley Goes a-Visiting.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Major McKinley, yielding to the pressure of friends and his physician, has at last decided to absent himself from Canton for a time, and will, with Mrs. McKinley, leave for Cleveland within a few days. Major and Mrs. McKinley will spend a week or so quietly with Col. M. T. Herrick, at the latter's home in Cleveland. He has made no engagements, and expects to control his time absolutely.

Mark Hanna in Good Spirits.

New York, Nov. 5.—Mark A. Hanna, chairman of the Republican National Committee, arrived in this city from Cleveland this morning. On his arrival at the Waldorf, Mr. Hanna was greeted by many friends and held an informal reception. He was in the best of spirits.

TWO MEN DROWNED.

They Were Port Bruce Fishermen and Their Flat-Bottomed Boat Was Capsized.

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 5.—Two of Young Bros.' men, W. Anderson and E. Burrows, fishermen of Port Bruce, while trying to make the harbor at Port Burwell this afternoon in the gale, were drowned by the capsizing of their flat-bottom lifting boat. There were four in the boat at the time, two of whom were saved. The deceased were both lately married.

MRS. STERNAMAN

Examined by Commissioner Fairchild of Buffalo

WITH A VIEW TO HER EXTRADITION

The Woman Betrayed Nervousness When Listening to Statements of Doctors—Poison Declared to Have Been Administered Not Over 48 Hours Before Death.

Buffalo, Nov. 5.—Mrs. George W. Sternaman, who was charged by the Canadian authorities with having poisoned her husband, was placed on examination by Commissioner Fairchild this afternoon. This hearing was held for the purpose of determining whether Mrs. Sternaman could be extradited by the Canadian Government or not. The defendant was attired in a black dress and wore a crape veil over her bonnet. She was defended by Attorney Duckwitz.

Attorney Thomas, for the Canadian Government, conducted the prosecution. He began by reading a statement from Dr. Parkes, who attended Sternaman previous to his death, and who made a diagnosis for arsenic troubles. He also read the report of Prof. Ellis of Toronto, Ont., a chemist, who made the chemical examination, and on whose reports the arrest of Mrs. Sternaman followed. Dr. Parkes said that some of the actions of the people attending Mr. Sternaman during his illness were suspicious.

Detective John W. Murray of Toronto, who was in attendance this afternoon, has worked assiduously on this case and is hopeful of securing a conviction. It was through his efforts that the analysis of Sternaman's stomach was made. The doctors learned that poison had been administered not longer than 48 hours before the death.

"Mrs. Sternaman won't make a confession," said Mr. Murray, "but the chain of circumstances is strong enough to convince us that the death was not due to natural diseases or complaints."

Mrs. Sternaman appeared to be very nervous during the reading of the different doctors' statements. She pulled off her mackintosh and spoke very briefly to two female companions. She watched every movement of Detective Murray, and her blue eyes seemed to penetrate the corners of Attorney Thomas' book as he read off the reports.

The most important evidence was the reading of the testimony of William Hodgson Ellis, a Toronto chemist and official analyst for the Province of Ontario. He testified that he found arsenic in the stomach, brain and liver of the deceased, and in sufficient quantities to have caused the man's death. Mr. Thomas, for the prosecution, finished reading his package of affidavits at about 4.20 o'clock. The court was very quiet during the reading and Mrs. Sternaman, who sat between her attorneys, smiled occasionally, as certain mention of her name was made.

Among the defendant's friends and relatives present were Mrs. Ellen Sevenpiper, her mother, and Mrs. Eliza Chipman, the mother of her first husband.

After a short discussion about the continuance of the hearing, Commissioner Fairchild fixed the date of the next session for next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Frame Work for the New Bridge—Dr. McEachren's Investigations—Other News.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—A. H. Smith, assistant mechanical superintendent of the G.T.R., London, was in town to-day.

The second shipment of frame work for the new steel arch bridge arrived to-day over the G.T.R. It was transferred to the Niagara Falls Park and River Electric road, where it was sidetracked and unloaded.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Stamford Agricultural Society was held in Niagara Falls South to-day. The treasurer's report shows this year's show to have been the most successful in the history of the society, and a snug balance is in the treasury.

A deanery meeting of the clergy of the Niagara diocese was held in All Saints' Church, Niagara Falls South, this afternoon, in celebration of All Saints' Day.

An aspirant to the Mayoralty chair of Niagara Falls was taken in to the extent of a silk hat on the chestnut wager that four months after the inauguration of McKinley, all the banks in the United States would be closed. Inauguration takes place on the 4th of March, and four months later is the 4th of July.

Dr. McEachran of Montreal, the Dominion Inspector of Live Stock, has just completed an official inspection of the Niagara frontier, and had a conference with Dr. Boulter, the Frontier Inspector of Horses. Messrs. Baxter Bros. of Buffalo made a request that the usual fee of $1 per head for horses inspected on coming across the river be dispensed with in their case. Inquiry showed that the firm owned a farm near Fort Erie, where they wintered about 75 horses which were working on the Erie Canal during the summer months. Their request was granted. The inspector expressed himself pleased with the way affairs in his department were run on the frontier. Dr. Boulter has just been appointed Inspector of Cattle, Sheep and Swine at this point, in addition to that of horses.

Her Birthright for a Prince.

Vienna, Nov. 4.—Arch-Duchess Dorothea of Austria to-day formally renounced her rights of succession to the Austrian throne prior to her marriage to the Duke of Orleans, which will take place Nov. 6.

THE TEST OF PATRIOTISM.

The present affords a grand opportunity to the leaders of the Conservative party to show that they place patriotism before party. The Manitoba School Question has been for years a gravely disturbing element in our politics, where it should never have found a place. Now that Mr. Laurier announces that a settlement has been arrived it on the basis of mutual concessions it is to be expected that all true patriots will acquiesce in this settlement, and not throw obstacles in the way of its loyal acceptance by the people at large. Mr. Laurier says that it is not expected that the settlement, he will be able to announce in a few days, will be acceptable to the extremists on either side; but it is one that should receive the endorsation of all fair-minded men. And whoever objects to the settlement from ulterior objects, and seeks to gain party advantage by prolonging a struggle that has threatened, and unless amicably settled, threatens, to disrupt Confederation is incurring a very grave responsibility. If the Conservative party follow the one of Sir Charles Tupper, the ill-starred leader who has just wrecked the party, that party will abet that leader in striving to rebuild the party fortunes with the wreckage and on the shattered foundations which the people shook at the last general elections. In a speech at Montreal, yesterday, Sir Charles plainly indicated that the policy of obstruction to the peaceful settlement of the Manitoba school question was to be maintained, and he practically advised the Conservative party to enter upon a course that will tend to separate, antagonize and place in hostile camps the two great bodies of the Dominion for the mere sake of gaining, as he thinks, a paltry party advantage. We are asked to call this statesmanship. It is not statesmanship. It is treason to the best interests of Canada. It is the deliberate act of the wrecker who kindles a false beacon light to turn the richly laden craft on the rocket, that he may, in the hour of destruction, snatch the spoil. The respectable members of the Conservative party were justified in recoiling from the proposition to make Sir Charles Tupper their leader; and he is not their real leader to-day. He is merely the foreman of the machine element of the party. He is simply the "boss" of the "bosses."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

WOMEN appreciate a talker. Wyoming, the only state that has female suffrage, went for Bryan, who, as a talker, holds the record.

THE Toronto World claims that the result of the elections show that the people of the United States are as strongly protectionist as ever. This is pure assumption. Millions of tariff reform Democrats had a greater dread of free silver than they had of high taxation, and in voting against free silver they had, perforce to vote incidentally for high tariff.

THE Toronto World, a rapid high taxation organ, inferentially pronounces in favour of tariff reform, which, of course, involves tariff reduction. It says that when the Democratic party in the United States avoided fads it carried Cleveland and both Houses in two elections. Yet Cleveland was strong for tariff reform, and therefore tariff reform is not a "fad."

HERE is a chance for the Mail to trot out its guillotine. United States Secretary Carlisle has "bounced" two high officials for "offensive partisanship"—they stamped for Bryan in the recent contest. The Mail has hard work to establish the principle that a public servant can have his cake and eat it too—that is, can keep his office in the service of the people as a whole and enjoy the fun of active participation in party politics.

AMONGST the wreckage of the Democratic party piled over with the debris of all the chaotic elements that associated themselves with Bryan, there still lives the great Democratic principle that will continue to hold popular reverence subject to its influence. That is popular rights as against monopolies, popular rights as against special privileges. In this condition the Democratic party will naturally turn to its old love. Mr. Cleveland was the first President to lead that party to victory after the war of the rebellion. The Globe points out that the very foundation of Cleveland's political creed is "opposition to the principles of paternalism in Government, whether that principle found its expression in a protective tariff system, or in artificial maintenance of the value of silver." The more the situation is analyzed the less reason have the Republicans to be proud of their victory. The Democrats were handicapped in the start by the free silver burden, which was one of the mightiest levers in the hands of their opponents, and overbore the great influence of Bryan's campaign against the monopolies and trusts, which were ranged solidly on the side of the Republicans.

WARSAW.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Lily Hamblin has returned from Deseronto.

Miss Roundon, of Sarnia, is visiting at Ruben Hamblin's.

Miss Ada Crosson, of Peterborough, is home for a few days.

Mr. S. R. Payne is having Mr. Wm. Moore's house, on Main street, fitted up and will move into it in a few days.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Alfred Blight, who has been sick for the last few days, is able to be out again.

The "Warsaw Hunting Party" was organized last week, with John Bluett as Captain, and started for the woods on Friday morning. The party was composed of Messrs. Morgan, Lyn, Wasson and Millar. F. Tully is the cook.

The demand for flour has increased lately, so that in order to supply it Mr. Wasson has been obliged to keep the mill running day and night.

Part of the machinery for the butter factory arrived last week and is being placed in position. The factory will not start until next week, as some of the shafting, etc., went astray in shipment.

Mr. Hughes had part of his oven taken down and re-built last week. The bread should be No. 1 now since both grist mill and bakeshop have been repaired.

Rev. Mr. Warren will hold special services in Zion church on Sunday next.

A large fire was seen north of town on Saturday evening and word has since reached here that it was Mr. Robert McCracken's barn. This will be a heavy loss, as the building was only put up last summer, and was not insured. It is supposed to have been set on fire.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We are sorry to announce the death of Mrs. James Wood, who passed away on Thursday night, after a very short illness. She was a most estimable lady and highly respected by all with whom she came in contact. She was buried on Sunday in the Methodist burying ground and the funeral was largely attended by her friends and relations.

Master Russell Morrison, son of Mr. D. H. Morrison, is suffering from an attack of an abdominal disease. An operation was performed last Wednesday by Drs. McKee, of Bailieboro, and Gray and Greer, of Peterborough, with an experienced nurse from the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough. He has had a very severe trial, but it is hoped he will recover under the careful supervision of Dr. McKee.

Mr. Jos. Morrison, of Montreal, attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. James Wood.

Duck shooting is attended with very little success this fall. Sportsmen seem to be almost as plentiful as game in this vicinity at present.

Most of the farmers are done threshing and fall plowing, and are now engaged in preparing for the winter.

NORTH HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The revival came to an end last Tuesday night. Although the ministers laboured very faithfully still few were converted. We trust those that underwent a change may prove faithful.

The temperance meeting was postponed for a week on account of the revival meetings. Owing to illness the president was not present. Jas. Oliver occupied the chair for the evening. There was a very good programme.

Jas. Richmond has taken the contract from the Rathbun Coy. for cutting the timber on one of their lots that was burnt over last summer. He will start work within a week.

John O'Donnel, we understand, has also secured a contract from the company for cutting the timber on the lot south of the Squaw river road.

Several hunters went back north on Sunday to be ready for the opening of the season on Monday.

Mr. Wm. Cain has purchased a block of 15 or 16 acres of hardwood bush from Jos. S. Cairnduff, which he intends cutting this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Quibell, who were visiting friends in Gelert have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ventress are visiting friends at Reaboro.

Mr. D. Lavery is getting considerable to do now as auctioneer. He has two sales for next week, both in Verulam, on the 9th and 11th respectively.

WE WANT TO KNOW.

Not a Single Reply to our Question—Not a Failure to Cure—A Half-Million Users of Dodd's Kidney Pills Satisfied.

Toronto, Nov. 3 (Special)—Without a single reply, for over two years, we have advertised this question:—"Does anyone, anywhere, know of any case wherein Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure any kidney disease at any stage?"

We estimate that a half million people must have joined in using the two and a half million boxes already sold in Canada, and yet not a single complaint—not one failure to cure.

Now, reader, here's one for you:—Do you know of a death from kidney disease or of heart failure, the victim having used Dodd's Kidney Pills?

As Well as Ever.

Dear Sirs,—After suffering for two years from acute indigestion I tried B.B.B. I took only three bottles, which made me as well as ever I was. I highly recommend B. B.B. to all dyspeptics.

Mrs. John White, Austin, Man.

W. H. CUDNEY, Port Barwell, Ont., says—"I was afflicted with Rheumatism and tried all cures. I did not get relief until I tried Miller's Compound Iron Pills, and before I had finished two boxes I was completely cured, and now feel like a different man." Only 25 cents a box. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Norway Pine Syrup cures Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, etc.

WON'T TAKE HOARDED GOLD.

New York Sub Treasury Refused Deposits of the Yellow Metal.

New York, Nov. 5.—The sub-Treasury is still refusing to take deposits of hoarded gold, as the working force is engaged in counting silver deposits which accumulated uncounted in the week preceding the election. Recent hoarders of gold are showing anxiety to get rid of the metal in exchange for greenbacks. Banks to-day reported the receipt of large amounts. In every case, so far as the National and State banks are concerned, the gold was taken on deposit only, and greenbacks for it were refused, even to old depositors.

KNOCKED OUT FOR GOOD.

John Connors Died From the Effects of a Blow Received in a Prize Fight.

New York, Nov. 5.—John Kiernar was arraigned in court to-day on the charge of homicide, and remanded charged with having caused the death of John Connors. Both men were pugilists, and on the night of Oct. 17 they indulged in a fight. Connors was knocked unconscious by one of Kiernan's blows. He was removed to a hospital, where he died last night, never regaining consciousness.

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness, puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and, in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE

Owe Their Health to Munyon's Improved Homœopathic Remedies.

Ask Your Druggist for Munyon's Guide to Health—Buy a 25 Cent Munyon Remedy and Cure Yourself.

Mrs. Henriette Hahne, 171 Sherbourne Street, Toronto, says:—"I was troubled, off and on with rheumatism for the last nine years, and it has been so bad at times that I have practically not been out of the house for two years. The last attack kept me in the house for three weeks, and I then tried Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. It relieved the pain at once, and enabled me to walk around the house almost immediately. It certainly gives splendid results. My son, who is frequently troubled with Cramps, took a few doses of Munyon's Colic Cure, and has had no pain since.

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure seldom fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure positively cures all forms of indigestion and stomach trouble. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Cold Cure prevents pneumonia and breaks up a cold in a few hours. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Cough Cure stops coughs, night sweats, allays soreness, and speedily heals the lungs. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins and groins and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in three minutes. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boon to all women.

Munyon's Asthma Remedies relieve in 3 minutes and cure permanently. Price, $1.

Munyon's Catarrh Remedies never fail. The Catarrh Cure—price 25c.—eradicates the disease from the system, and the Catarrh Tablets—price 25c—cleanse and heal the parts.

Munyon's Nerve Cure is a wonderful nerve tonic. Price, 25 cents.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost vigor. Price, $1.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25c a vial.

TO ABANDON CYPRUS.

London Graphic Says Britain Will Give Up the Little Island in the Mediterranean.

London, Nov. 5.—In its issue to-morrow The Daily Graphic will claim to have authority confirming a statement published Wednesday in Truth, that the Government has decided to abandon the island of Cyprus, which was given up to Great Britain for administration by the Anglo-Turkish Convention of 1878. The Graphic adds that the evacuation of the island is recognized as a necessary corollary to the abandonment of the Anglo-Turkish Convention. The decision of the Government was hastened by Russia's view that the convention implied mistrust of the Russian policy, and that the retention of Cyprus nullified the contention that the convention had ceased to exist.

Officials at the Colonial Office declare that they are ignorant of any intention on the part of the Government to evacuate the island.

The article in Truth asserted that Cyprus would be made independent, but this is not confirmed.

FRANCO-AUSTRIAN ALLIANCE.

The Duke of Orleans Married to Archduchess Marie Dorothea Amelie.

Vienna, Nov. 5.—Prince Louis Philippe Rupert was married this forenoon to Archduchess Marie Dorothea Amelie of Austria, the ceremony being performed in the Hofburg Chapel at 11 o'clock in the presence of Emperor Francis Joseph, the Queen of Portugal, sister of the bridegroom, and a number of Austrian and foreign royalties. The procession from the state apartments to the church was formed in the following order: The Duc d'Orleans, accompanied by the Duc d'Chartres, his uncle, and Archduke Joseph of Austria; the bride, accompanied by the Countess de Paris, mother of the Duc d'Orleans, and Archduchess Clotilde of Austria; Emperor Francis Joseph and the Queen of Portugal, the Duke of Connaught and the Duchess of Aosta, the Duke of Aosta and Archduchess Maria Josepha of Austria.

Cardinal Gruscha, Archbishop of Vienna, received the procession at the entrance to the chapel and sprinkled the bridal pair with holy water. The services, having been thus formally opened, the Court Chaplain, Dr. Mayer, proceeded to perform the marriage ceremony.

MAMIE WAS BURNED TO DEATH.

The Daughter of a New York Policeman Was Cut Off by the Flames.

New York, Nov. 5.—A fire occurred shortly after 12.30 o'clock this afternoon in the 5-storey, double-brick flat at 546 West 126th-street, and gutted the building.

Mamie Deacher, 7 years old, the daughter of Policeman Deacher, was cut off by the flames and burned to death, and the father, in attempting to rescue her, was badly burned about the face, hands and arms. Several other persons were scorched and slightly burned, either in escaping from the house or in the work of rescue. A policeman and several citizens did heroic work, risking their lives to save the tenants of the house, whose means of escape were cut off by the flames, and who would inevitably have been burned to death but for the prompt aid given them. The damage to the building is small. The origin of the fire has not been definitely ascertained.

BREACHES IN THE WALL.

The Weak Spot, the Kidneys—They Must be Guarded as Life Advances—Defence Strengthened by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope, Oct. 21.—(Special—Citizens called on here to vouch for correctness of the following statement without an exception endorsed it as true. Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Chief of Police and government fishery overseer of his own case said:—"For ten years my distress increased until the doctor called it Diabetes. At times my suffering was intense, and medicine taken did no good. At last a friend assured me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. A few boxes have kept that promise, and I thank these pills for a perfect, and I believe, permanent cure.

THE BIBLE AS A TEXT BOOK.

An Anglican Delegation Waits Upon Premier Hardy and His Ministers—A Catechism Suggested.

Toronto, Nov. 6.

A deputation from the Synods of the Church of England in Ontario waited on the Ministers at the Parliament Buildings yesterday on the subject of religious instruction in Public schools, all the Ministers being present except the Hon. G. W. Ross, who was unwell. The synods desire to have the Bible introduced as a Text Book in the schools, and memorized and taught and examined upon, and a Catechism introduced, in which answers are given in the words of the Bible itself. They also wish the ministers to have the right to instruct the children of their own denominations half an hour daily during school hours, the first part of the day preferred. The case was presented by Mr S H Blake, Dr Langtry, Senator Allan, Dean Innes, Canon Bland, Prof Clark, Rev C L Ingles and Rev Septimus Jones. There were also present Provost Welch, Principal Sheraton, Rev Dr Pearson, Judge Sinclair, Rev A H Baldwin, Rev Mr Broughall, Rev A McL Ballard, Rev J C Roper, Rev Mr Symonds, W. Heaven, Mr S G Wood, Mr Barlow Cumberland, Mr T R Clougher and Mr W F Summerhayes. The Attorney-General stated that the subject had been under discussion, and would be fully considered.

Capital Has Confidence.

Baltimore, Nov. 5.—Alexander Brown, head of the banking house of Alexander Brown & Sons, who a few days ago was credited with having said that not less than $16,000,000 was simply awaiting McKinley's election for its investment in industrial enterprises in Maryland, said to-day: "Some time ago I stated that $16,000,000 was ready for investment in this State in the event of McKinley's election. While I cannot give the details regarding the transactions involving this money, I can say that it is available and that it will be immediately invested in pulp mills, iron mills, various other manufactories, and in the promotion and development of the industrial interests of Baltimore and the State, and thousands of men will be benefited thereby. Capital has the confidence and its influence toward the return of general prosperity will soon be felt."

Hamilton's Credit is Good.

Hamilton, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Tenders for the sale of city debentures were opened at the Finance Committee to-night, and nearly all the offers were at par or better. The Bank of Hamilton tendered $208,307 for the whole amount, except one debenture of $1204.20. R. S. Morris tendered $86,703 for the $85,000 of sewage disposal debentures, and the Bank of British North America tendered $102.50 for the jail debentures. The two latter tenders were accepted, and it was decided to advertise for the $85,000 of Collegiate Institute debentures.

Application was made by the H. G. and S. Electric Railway for the handing over of the $5000 bonus due when the line was completed to Beamsville and for the release of the $20,000 of first mortgage bonds held by the city. No action was taken.

Money Going Back From Canada.

Buffalo, Nov. 5.—Interviews with local bank presidents reveal a wonderfully optimistic estimate of future prosperity as a result of the defeat of the free silver movement. One of these presidents, George Sandrock, of the German American Bank, said in the course of an extended interview: "Of course, the people who have drawn money out of the banks will not begin to return it to any extent for a week or ten days yet, still large sums of money are coming back to this city to-day from Canada. It began to come back from Toronto and other Canadian cities yesterday, and will continue to come until we get every dollar of it back."

Cuban Rebels Capture a Town.

Havana, Nov. 5.—Information has been received here of the capture of the town of Guimaro, in the Province of Puerto Pricipe, by the rebels, who had besieged the place since Oct. 11, making a number of attacks upon the town and its stronghold, Fort Reus. The Spanish had eight men killed and four officers, including a major, and eighteen privates wounded.

Steamers Detained by Fog.

Liverpool, Nov. 5.—The steamers Indiana and Majestic, which sailed from this port yesterday respectively for Philadelphia and New York, are detained in the Mersey by fog.

TOSSED BY THE GALE.

Tugs on Lake Erie Had to Abandon Their Tows—Four Men Adrift Near Port Colborne.

Buffalo, Nov. 5.—While attempting to make the harbor this afternoon the barge Young of Marine City, Mich., in tow of the tug Storm King, parted her tow line and went on Horseshoe Reef. The crew were rescued by the life saving station men. A heavy sea is running, and it is feared she will break up before morning. The Young was owned by M. Sickmon, Marine City, Mich., and was loaded with lumber.

The tug Chauncey Morgan arrived in port about 10.30 o'clock to-night, and reports having parted with her tow, which she picked up at Erie, Pa., barges Nos. 11, 14, 15, three miles west of Dunkirk. She was unable to pick them up again and was obliged to abandon them and make for shelter. There were two men on each boat. Nothing is known of their fate.

The Delta, a small tug, which accompanied the Morgan, also tried to pick them up, but put into Port Colborne for shelter. A heavy gale is blowing, and it is feared other vessels known to be on the lake will suffer much damage.

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to throughly expel the poison from the system by the faithful and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy proves successful when all other treatment has failed to relieve the sufferer.

Wedded in Belleville.

A Belleville despatch says,—Miss McNulty, of Peterborough, and Mr. C. Mullin, of this city, were married this morning in St. Michael's church, by the Very Rev. Monsignor Farrelly. Miss Kate Mullin was bridesmaid, and Mr. Edward McGinty assisted the groom.

Statute Labour Tax.

A number of citizens were before the magistrate this morning, charged with neglecting to pay their statute labour tax. Mark Lockington thought he ought to be exempt on account of only having one arm and the magistrate gave him a chance to appeal to the council. Other offenders will have five dollars added to the tax.

Rice Lake Duck Shooting.

Mr. Harry Neil, of Ashburnham, returned from Rice Lake this morning with nine fine ducks, which he shot there yesterday. The rest of the party are remaining at the lake until Wednesday. This rough weather is driving the ducks inshore and a great many were bagged yesterday. Edg. Hartley and Jack Frost got twenty-seven.

Prodigious Chrysanthemums.

Mr. Ford, Superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery, has grown a lot of chrysanthemums of which he has reason to feel proud. Some of the flowers measure 8½ inches across, fully as large as sunflowers. The bloom and colour are of the most improved and varied character, having been raised from specially imported plants. Mr. Ford had a dozen of these prodigious flowers photographed yesterday.

Jimmy Walbrook's Death.

Word was received in town yesterday by Mrs. Wm. Lundy, Aylmer street, to the effect that her brother, Mr. James Walbrook, had died suddenly in the United States. Jimmy was well known the continent over as a song and dance artist of the highest class, and as such Peterborough was proud of him. Particulars have not yet reached town concerning the nature of his last illness. The mother of deceased resides in Bobcaygeon with a sister, and Mr. Wm. Walbrook of town is brother.

THE S. O. E. CONCERT.

The Members Enjoy a Pleasant Evening With Their Friends.

There was a good attendance at the tea and entertainment given under the auspices of the S.O.E. An excellent tea was served from 5 to 8 p.m., and very much appreciated by all.

The concert commenced sharp at 8 o'clock with Rev. Mr. Symonds in the chair, and was opened by a selection from the Sons of England Band, which was given in excellent style. This was followed by an address by Rev. Mr. Symonds, in which he urged all, if possible, to become members of the Order. He also spoke of the high state of efficiency which the S.O.E. band had reached under the painstaking efforts of Mr. J. Miller. A male chorus, consisting of members of the Order, then gave an excellent selection. Miss Lillie Miller then sang a solo, and was compelled to respond to an encore. Mr. Sidney Mitchell gave a recitation which was much appreciated by the audience. The instrumental solo by Miss I. Melrose did her great credit. Mr. W. Taylor appeared to be the favourite of the evening. He was on the programme three times for vocal solos, and at every appearance he had to respond to one or two encores. The cornet duet by Mr. Miller and Miss Wyebrough was a grand success, as it was something new to have a lady cornetist on the programme. The quartette sung by Messrs. Harvey and Squires and Misses Annie and Clara Bellegheem proved most pleasing. The club swinging of Miss Wilson was very accurately and neatly executed. Mr. J. Miller gave a cornet solo, which was followed by a reading by little Miss Errett. The S.O.E. Quartette then gave another much enjoyed selection, after which the band played the National Anthem, and this highly successful concert was brought to a close.

TRUE BLUE'S CELEBRATION.

A Concert and Entertainment to Celebrate the Unearthing of the Gunpowder Plot.

An entertainment to signalize the anniversary of the seizure of the late Guy Fawkes in the cellars of the British Parliament Buildings, was held in the True Blue Hall, Simcoe street, last night. Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong occupied the chair. The following programme was presented :

GUY FAWKE'S TRIAL.

It Was Held With All Ceremony at Downer's Corners Last Night.

There was a big celebration at Downer's Corners last night which was inaugurated with a grand supper in the Orange Hall, which was liberally patronised.

Addresses on the duties of Orangemen were delivered by Rev. Bros. J. J. Rae and J. G. Potter of town and then the famous trial of Guy Fawkes was held, occupying about two hours. The arch conspirator was afterwards blown sky high, in effigy, in an adjoining field.

The chair was occupied during the evening by Mr. Dawson Kennedy, Master of Col. Sanderson's Lodge, No. 231. The roughness of the night prevented the attendance from being as large as it otherwise would undoubtedly have been.

A FIELD DAY WITH LINDSAY ODDFELLOWS.

OTONABEE LODGE DEGREE TEAM WINS THE PRIZE.

A Big Crowd of Local Oddfellows From Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges Attend the Reception Which was Tendered Grand Master White in Lindsay Last Night.

It was a field day for Oddfellows in Lindsay last night, on the occasion of the first official visit of Mr. Henry White, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario.

Representatives were present from nearly every lodge in the district bounded by Midland, Port Hope, Uxbridge and Coboconk. It was without doubt the largest attendance ever present in Ontario at the subordinate lodge, it being estimated that fully four hundred representatives from outside points, took occasion to visit Lindsay and participate in the reception which was accorded the Grand Master.

THE GRAND MASTER

was met at the train, and a torchlight procession of huge proportions formed to escort the guest of the evening to the fine new opera house, which was crowded to the doors, the general public being admitted. An address of welcome was read from the Lindsay Lodge to the Grand-master by Mr. F. A. McDiarmid, and another was read from the Detroit Lodge, No. 31, by Bro. Thompson, D.D.G.M., of Sunderland.

In his reply the Grandmaster returned thanks for the complimentary strain which characterized the two addresses and enlarged to some extent on the history, principles and objects of Oddfellowship.

Addresses were also made by Bro. Hoyle, P.G.M., and representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, of Cannington, and by Dr. Bell, P. G. M., of Peterborough. An orchestra and harmony band were in attendance, and during the evening rendered a number of pleasing selections.

At the conclusion of the public reception the lodges went into private session and a highly interesting competition in the work of the initiatory degree took place between teams from Otonabee Lodge, Peterborough and the Lindsay Lodge, the teams being composed as follows :

DEGREE TEAMS.

Judges—Hy White, G M, W H Hoyle, P G M, and P W Bell, M D, P G M.

The competition between the two teams was close, but amidst great cheers Otonabee was awarded the victory by the judges.

An adjournment was then made to the old opera house, where a magnificent banquet was spread for the visiting representatives, the menu being as follows :

MENU.

Oysters, Scalloped.
Roast Turkey, Roast Chicken, Jellied Chicken, Ham, Tongue.
Salads.
Beet, Cabbage, Onions, Jellies, Cranberry Sauce, Celery, Cheese, Coffee, Cakes, Fruits.

After spending an hour in discussing the good things which had been provided, the chairmen rapped his gavel and order prevailed as he called for the drinking of the Queen's health. The toast list in its entirety was as follows :—

TOAST LIST.

HER MAJESTY, THE QUEEN—
"In faith and by the heaven's queue."

THE SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE—
"Here's to those who make our laws,
To the eternal joy of lawyers."
Bro. Hoyle, P. G. M., Grand Representative to the Grand Lodge.

THE GRAND LODGE OF ONTARIO AND OUR GUEST, ITS GRAND MASTER—
"Deep on his front engraven deliberation sat and public care."
Bro. Henry White, Grand Master of Grand Lodge of Ontario.

THE DISTRICT LODGE—
"And marshalling the heroes of his name
As, in their order, next they came.
Bro. Thompson, D. D. G. M., of Sunderland.

OUR COMPETITORS—
"They made a bold and plucky struggle."
Dr. Bell, P. G. M., Otonabee Lodge, Peterborough.

OUR SISTER LODGES—
"Blest be the tie that binds."
Bro. Wm. Quinn, N. G., for Otonabee Lodge.
Bro. John Smith, N. G., for Peterborough Lodge.

The Grand Master then proposed the health of Lindsay Lodge, which was honoured with cheers and enthusiastic applause.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the banquet and reception to a close.

OTONABEE LODGE was well represented and quite a few also went over on the special train from Peterborough Lodge. In all eighty-four Oddfellows from town took advantage of the special train to visit Lindsay and participate in the great reception which was tendered the Grand Master. The local representatives arrived home at an early hour this morning and cannot speak too enthusiastically concerning the welcome with which they were greeted. Lindsay Lodge, they say, undoubtedly bears off the palm for being the most genial entertainers in the district. The evening's engagement will long remain green in the memories of Peterborough Oddfellows, and whenever any of the members of Lindsay Lodge have occasion to visit the town they may be assured of a royal welcome. The Lindsay Lodge committees were composed as follows :

General Arrangements—Bro. F. A. McDiarmid, chairman ; Bros. J. W. Anderson, George Lytle, E. Williamson, W. R. Widdess.

Decorations—Bro. Stewart Robinson, chairman ; Bros. F. A. Walters, A. Storer, R. Preston, T. A. Walton, H. A. Middleton, W. Chestnut.

Golden Chariot—Bro. T. W. Greer, chairman ; Bros. J. W. Anderson, J. S. Henderson and Geo. Lytle.

Torches—Bros. A. Fisher and Alex. Carmichael.

Reception—The Noble Grand, officers and members of Lindsay Lodge.

WHO IS ANNIE STEIN.

The appended item appeared in the Toronto World on Tuesday last, but the police of Peterborough know nothing whatever about Annie Stein or the birch bark letter to which reference is made :

"The feeling aroused by the discovery of the birch bark letter at Milne's hollow, in which the writer, Annie Stein, announced that her dead body would be found in the woods near by, died out after a day or two. A big snowstorm prevented a thorough search, and no pecuniary provision was made to enable the police to work on the case. The newspaper paragraphs, however circulated about the country and these two letters are among the results :

"ATHERLY, Oct. 29.

"Editor Sun, Markham :

"DEAR SIR,—Yours of the 27th to hand. The thing may be a hoax, but it seems strange that the shoe print found should be made by a shoe same size exactly as Miss Stein wore. The doctor she consulted in Orillia was Dr. Gilchrist. Should there be any further developments kindly let me hear from you. I enclose you part of a letter which Miss Stein sent from Peterborough to my sister, Mrs. A. McDonald, and bears her signature. Please return the letter. I hope you may be able to clear the whole matter up soon.

"Yours turly,
"(Signed), S. R. PAYNE."

The enclosed letter referred to, which shows a clear and rather firm hand and is strikingly similar to the writing on the strip of bark, is as follows :

"There seem to be a great many changes here in the last two years. The Y. M. C. A. are building a very nice new block. They will have a very nice place when they get it finished. How did the anniversary come off? Did they have a good time and a good entertainment? How is little Miss Myrtle? I presume she has got shoes and stockings for the chickens by this time. I will have to say good-bye for this time, with love to all, I am your friend,

"ANNIE STEIN,

These Fine Days; Wall Papers.

The spanking list of low prices at which we are selling our Wall Papers is inducement enough, surely. Even at this time of the year with goods right and prices low enough we can sell without much of an effort.

Wall Papers are as saleable now as at any time, only you pay less. Thanks to the present fine weather and our good fortune in buying, you pay VERY MUCH LESS.

The money saving hobby is in active operation here all the time.

We've planned for a few more days of brisk Wall Paper selling, while the present fine weather continues. We are making the cost so insignificant it ought to be an inducement to re-paper one room if not the entire house :

600 Rolls of Wall Paper, finished in metal colourings, suitable for bedrooms, kitchens, dining rooms and halls, with 6 and 9 in. border to match, regular price 7c and 8c, sale price this week only..... .5

800 Rolls of American and Canadian Gilts and Glimmers, in newest designs, for halls, parlours, sitting rooms and bedrooms, with matched border, 9 and 18 inches wide, regular price 10c, sale price this week only..... .6

400 Rolls Glimmer Wall Paper, with ceilings to match, new designs, suitable for parlors, bedroom, sitting rooms, etc, usually sold at 10c and 12½c, this week only..... .7

700 Rolls Gilt Wall Paper, with ceilings to match, conventional patterns, in light and medium colours, suitable for parlours, sitting rooms, children's rooms, etc., usually sold at 12½c and 15c per single roll, this week only..... .8

500 Rolls Special line of Gilt Papers, suitable for parlours, dining rooms, &c., with 18 inch gilt fringe to match, delicate shades, such as light blue, green, buff, terra cotta and mauve, regular price 20c, sale price this week..... .10

400 Rolls heavy Embossed Gilts, in exquisite designs and shades, for halls, libraries and drawing rooms. Regular price 30c and 40c, sale price this week only..... .20

Come early—the morning is the best time to choose Wall Papers. But come any time that suits you.

LOCAL NEWS.

Another Student.

Mr. Samuel Johnson of Otonabee, has entered upon a full course in Messrs. Pringle & McCrae's Business College.

The 5th in Baillieboro.

There was a big physog torchlight procession in Bailliebero, last night, when Guy Fawkes was burnt in effigy and a good time in general enjoyed. Messrs Miller and McCabe were out assisting the local band.

New Fancy Goods Store.

Mrs. Appleby wishes to inform the ladies of Peterborough that she will, in a week or ten days, open for their inspection a stock of fancy goods at 423 Water street, south of Mason's greenhouse. A share of your patronage is respectfully solicited. Look out for new advertisement next week.

Property Sold.

Messrs. Dumble & Johnston have disposed of the two dwellings on London street belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Ellsworth to-day for $2,000. There were several purchasers for the brick residence, but the directors preferred selling the two residences to the one person. The Ashburnham property is still open for sale.

Palms.

A fine assortment of palms from Holland has just been received at the West End greenhouse, Park street (at the residence of G. M. Roger). These palms have graceful shapes, perfect leaves and are hardy plants. No better house plant grown; withstands cold, dust, gas or neglect better than any other. 6d

Wanted a Home.

Thomas Brown, of Lennox county, who claimed that he had lived in Peterborough twenty-four years ago, was before the magistrate, this morning, as a vagrant, and stated that he would like a home for the winter. He was warned to leave the town immediately or he would be given a home in the Central Prison.

Who Will Get It?

We have a great bargain for some one in thirty volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica. It must be sold by the middle of the month. Anyone anxious of securing this valuable work, but who may have financial considerations, should not miss this chance, as the price has been greatly reduced. A. H. JUNIOR SINGING CLASS.

Mr. Mulligan's Class will commence study to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, (instead of Friday), in the Y.M.C.A. Hall. If your children can sing at all send them along. $1 for whole term. Music free. 1d Provincial Road Inspector.

Mr. M. Lounsbury, inspector of Ontario colonization roads and bridges, returned this morning, says the Lindsay Post, from the north country, having completed his examination of roads in Somerville township and of the Monk road, west of Norland. During the past ten days Mr. Lounsbury has also inspected the Buckhorn road north of the village of that name, and also several roads in Dummer township, near Norwood. He left for the city this afternoon to report to the department.

Street Railway Tracks.

The Street Railway Company, it seems, was a trifle too hasty in replacing their car tracks on George street after the construction of the sewer, as the recent rains have caused the loose earth to settle in the sewer excavations and the tracks consequently sank below the street grade. They are being raised to-day by the company. As the rails will project above the roadway it was suggested that in order that no wheels will be taken off, that granite sets should be placed on each side of the track, as is done in Toronto. There is a great quantity of sets, which could probably be purchased for a song, near Burleigh.

Once Again

We would remind the public of the change in the late Mr. Hatrick's meat market, Mr. Jas. Hutchinson, the genial clerk, who has conducted the said business at 387 Water street, will continue to do so for Messrs. Kennedy & Nelson, who are always open to investment, kindly took the business off the hands of the executors. The store has been greatly improved, having been papered, painted and remodelled and altogether presents a very neat and finished appearance. Old as well as new customers are cordially invited to call. See adv. on page five. 2d

LACROSSE.

The Mail and Empire says: The Peterborough-Madoc match game of lacrosse lately played at Campbellford has been protested by the latter club, who claim that Peterborough played two ringers in McCabe and Latimer. Madoc sports are said to be willing to wager any part of $1,000 on the result of the game, to be played at Belleville.

In regard to this it might be said that the manager of the Madoc's has been invited to come to town and put up his $1000, but he has not responded to the invitation. Madoc should not "squeal" about ringers, as they played Cross and McDonald of the Tecumsehs.

HOCKEY.

The Globe says,—The race in the western district junior O. H. A. series promises to be unusually interesting this season. With the re-organized Guelph Club, Listowel, Galt and last year's district champions (Berlin) a convenient schedule can be arranged. The well known rivalry of the western towns in baseball and football will surely assert itself in hockey.

Some of the clubs are actively engaged getting together players even at this early stage. Von Cramer's Guelph club has secured Geo. Franks of the champion Granites and Johnston of Pembroke, and it is said to be after another well-known Toronto man.

"Hookey" Dixon may be found with Listowel. Brierley, the big ex-Toronto lacrosse man, will probably also sign with Listowel. Berlin will likely strengthen their team.

In Toronto the O.H.A. junior champions, the Granites, are in a bad way, now that the hockey rink at the Granite Club has been abolished. The removal of the team to the Mutual is spoken of. Another idea is to have the Wellingtons and Granites amalgamate and take up ice at Prospect Park. The champions are sure to lose three of their best men and will need a few of "Tommy" Morrison's crack city champions.

In the east the Peterboroughs, always an important factor in the championship race, will be weak. Walter Phelan, centre forward, is in Chicago, and Lionel King, the Upper Canada man, and Peterborough's best wing player, is at Ann Arbor, Mich. The absence of these men will put the eastern club out of any chance of regaining the championship.

A WOMAN TO WOMEN.

MRS. BROUGHALL, OF TORONTO, SPEAKS ON CHURCH WORK.

A Large Attendance at St. John's Sunday School to Hear an Address Concerning the Work and Methods of the Woman's Auxiliary and the King's Daughters.

There was a large attendance of the ladies of the congregations of St. John's church and the South Ward Mission present in the Sunday school building, last evening, to hear an address from Mrs. Broughall, wife of the rector of St. Stephens, Toronto. Mrs. Broughall is greatly interested in the formation of Ladies' Auxiliaries in connection with the church, in the organization and progress of the different branches of King's Daughters, consequently her address largely concerned these church societies and their methods of work.

The results of the work of the Women's Auxiliary was so well known, the speaker explained, that little could be said about it, for with the facts of it the audience were now already acquainted. A special word of warning was given the women, not to which was intended by God for man alone. The value of giving freely was enlarged upon, and the difference explained between giving where an effort was involved and where the giving cost nothing.

Regarding the King's Daughter of St. Stephen's church, Mrs. Broughall stated that when a new member was admitted to the organization, it was made the occasion of a special service in the church, conducted by the rector, and at which all the members were present. Two meetings were held in each month—one purely devotional and the other devoted to business.

At the devotional meetings the leader or sub-leader took charge, and the Rector was generally present, as well as the church wardens.

The first business meeting last year was a "mother's meeting," which was very pleasant. The mothers brought their babies, and this led to the introduction of a new feature in the society, whereby young girls would give a portion of their time to minding the little ones, whilst the mothers were out or collecting, for which they were better fitted than some of the younger members. Through the collecting many poor families were kept in coal all winter.

VISITING THE SICK

A corporate communion service was held once a month when every member made it a point to be present.

Those who could not attend meetings could still bear in mind that they were King's Daughters, and many opportunities arose for the accomplishment of much good.

In reply to a question Mrs. Broughall counselled that as the St. John's Chapter had never, as yet, held a service, at which new members should be admitted, that all should return their membership badges and have them presented at a service as suggested.

"Consecration and Concentration" formed the subject of a short address in conclusion.

THE NECESSITY

of these two qualifications in the life of the true Christian was enlarged upon to considerable extent.

All should make up their minds that they were called to be holy, to be perfect, and try to attain this condition, to kill out self and allow Him to live and grow in us. Each one was called to her own special perfection in perfect mothers, perfect sisters or perfect sisters of the King's daughters. All need not be perfect in the same manner.

There was a list of attainments necessary and all began with "P."

"Position" had first to be obtained. Humility was the first requisite. Then came the hunger and thirst of the Christian. Then the duty came next—be merciful to your neighbours. Be ye also pure and remember that blessed is the peacemaker.

The "privilege" of being able to peruse the Bible almost at will was dwelt upon and the necessity of exercising the POWER OF FAITH.

"Partnership" or the fellowship in his sufferings was then mentioned, and the ladies present urged to "press" forward for the "prizes" which was "perfection."

In speaking of "Consecration" Mrs. Broughall mentioned amongst other things the habit which was readily fallen into of stopping at the church door for a little gossip or talk, reminding her audience of the solemn presence which they were about to enter and of the error which was being committed. Again upon returning from church if the fire was obstinate or anything went wrong concerning the dinner the temper was very apt to be lost.

O, we who have offered ourselves, be watchful, continued she. God loves us to be tried, as every temptation conquered make us so much stronger. Remember that conscience is the voice of God. If resented it speaks less and less audibly until it is not heard at all, but if attention is paid to its whisperings it is a living monitor always with us.

And remember, said Mrs. Broughall in conclusion, that you have but one thing to do, "Seek the kingdom of God" and everything else will be added to you.

USE OF THE SHOP WINDOW.

How Grocers, as Well as Others Can Make Their Premises Attractive.

Much has been said on the subject, and yet it will stand more, especially in Peterborough, where the almost universal presence of plate glass windows permits of the most attractive displays. As the holidays are nearing, every retail merchant should secure designs for the decoration of his windows. Nothing looks more attractive than a clean, well-made display of groceries, and it is as beneficial to the grocer as to the dry goods or hardware dealer. Why do the large dry goods and department stores employ practical window dressers? Because it pays, it helps to sell. "I have been in business a number of years," says one grocer, "and from the day I made my initiation into the grocery business I have constantly kept my store windows attractive by displaying each week a different variety and style of goods. It not only adds to the appearance, but it brings me trade. Numbers of people pass my store to and from their respective places of employment, every day, who, seeing my goods displayed in an attractive manner in my window, stop to look at them and often come into the store and price the various articles. That alone gives me an opportunity to speak to them on the quality and merits of the goods, and often does thereby make him a purchaser. I always aim to keep my store as clean as possible, windows are decorated every week, and during the holidays every two or three days. During the fall months when cold weather has set in, cheese, butter, fruits and other perishable articles can be shown. There are so many varieties of articles in a grocery that no one should need to pile his window full of canned goods. There are preserves, condiments—well, articles too numerous to mention, that help to make an attractive display. And yet you will find merchants who have the same can of peas in their window as they did four months ago. Course, they must not and cannot expect results."

The man who lies wounded on the battle-field is an object of pity. The first thought of a tender-hearted comrade is to offer succor and sympathy. There are many wounded men and women on the battle-field of life. Shattered in body and mind, and suffering tortures before which the brief suffering of the wounded hero on the battle-field of war, pales into insignificance. They make no outcry and their friends and acquaintances pass them by without offering help. Their sufferings are known only to themselves. These are the thousands of sufferers from ill-health. Their name is legion.

The pity of it is that if they but knew it there is relief at hand.

An unfailing cure for all the multitude of ills that are due to disorders of the digestion and to impure blood is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes the digestion perfect. It restores the appetite. It fills the blood with the life-giving elements and drives out all impurities. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder.

Mrs. A. I. Gibbs, of Russellville, Logan Co., Ky., writes: "I can heartily recommend your 'Golden Medical Discovery' to any one who is troubled with indigestion and torpid liver. I was so bad I could not lie on my left side and could scarcely eat anything. I had a dull aching and pain in my stomach all the time. Now it is all gone after taking one bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

"The People's Common Sense Adviser" explains symptoms of ailments common to every family, and suggests remedies. It has several chapters on woman's diseases and weaknesses. A WIZARD OF PLANTS.

SOME WONDERS AT THE MOST SCIENTIFIC FARM IN THE WORLD.

An Ideal, Magical Spot Where Nature Is Moulded by Man—Productions Which Almost Surpass Belief—The "Edison of Plant Life."

The most remarkable farm in the world is in California. Farm it is called, yet it is unlike any other farm that ever existed.

It is a magical, ideal spot, where nature is moulded by man; where plants live in a strange, unnatural way. Here dwarf trees are made to grow perfect trees, but smaller than the smallest bush; pears are reared as large as watermelons; the gorgeous lily is trained so that it is produced in miniature, so small that it can scarcely be seen, and the marvellous perfection of its delicate make-up must be found with a microscope.

At this farm art has produced such a wonderful change in nature that all the beauties of the world of agriculture and horticulture are shown side by side, but so enhanced, diversified, corrected and changed that in walking through the grounds one comes upon sights that are never seen except in the mythical land of dreams. And yet all this is produced in a most natural way, and is the working out of the ideas of one man.

This scientific farm has been started near Santa Rosa, Cal., and its founder, Luther W. Burbank, has already earned the title of "Edison of Plant Life." The marvel of it all is that he works for purely scientific motives. He has devoted his life to a cause, and refuses to receive wealth or court fame. In fact, he so persistently refuses money for his products that he has come to be looked upon as somewhat of a crank.

Burbank abandoned a growing nursery business of $10,000 a year to devote his time and energy to scientific research in the world of agriculture. A believer in the laws of evolution, this wizard of agriculture produces his wonders under the theory that all the world is akin, and that the relation between the species is so intimate that by constant artificial selection, which is one of the many steps in the production of new types, the lines of life forces can be changed. Working out this theory to make it practical, Burbank has broken up the old habits of plants, and by a constant struggle inculcated new traits.

The wizard has produced results to startle the scientific horticulturist and farmer of the world. He plants the seed of a known specimen of plant life. Suppose it is a common quince, with which he has made vast experiments. It grows and puts forth its fruit. Science is then called upon. Cross-pollination, hybridization follows, and by constant and faithful work the wizard is rewarded by a new and valuable creation.

There are other creations, the usefulness of which is not so readily recognized. In one part of the great garden there is a perfectly formed lily less than half an inch in diameter, and another snow-white flower of the same variety three feet in circumference. These specimens bloom side by side, yet neither is like any other in the world, and yet they are both of the variety that are seen in normal size every day.

Another change wrought by this pryer into nature's mysteries is in the prunes, which he has developed to a giant size, six times as large as those in general use, and from which they were derived. A plum twelve times the size of the parent species has also been created, and pronounced by good judges to be the handsomest in existence.

The primus, a creation evolved from the Siberian raspberry and the California dewberry, is a marvel. For in this hybridization the good qualities of the parent berries are devolved a thousand fold to make a growth of immense size, perfect in taste, symmetrical in form, and in appearance more like a painted bit of fruit than a reality.

The common Delaware plum tree has been developed into a bush three feet high, growing a plum which is indescribably delicious. From this stock, also, has been developed the Shipper plum, so large that two of them will fill a fruit jar.

But it is in the flower kingdom that this modern wizard has produced the new creations that have most amazed the world. He has now in bloom over 86,000 unnamed types of lilies, specimens such as the world knows nothing of, but which are the direct outcome of a type known to the merest schoolboy. These unnamed varieties alone represent a value of a quarter of a million of dollars. Yet the greater number of them will be destroyed, for destruction follows where the created type is not considered superior to the parent stock.

In this veritable Garden of Eden nothing is impossible, for the science of the masterly gardener has been able to make nature produce any sort of tree or shrub, plant or fruit, almost at will. There is a great plot containing the Japanese iris, in which are thousands of the queenly flowers, no two without distinctive points of difference. Every color revealed by the spectroscope, every combination of hues found in the rainbow arch are here mingled in interminable profusion.

The immense garden is conducted so quietly that no one except the great experts of the plant world understand just what is being done. And yet every fruit, as well as every garden vegetable, grass, grain and flowering plant cultivated in the temperate zone, is being experimented with, and in thousands of instances new varieties have been evolved or old ones improved upon.

This scientific experimental farm, in its situation alone, is quite as wonderful as the creation almost daily developed. It has every condition of soil and climate best suited to the work of propagating plants. There is a gentle slope toward the east, which permits the full benefit of the morning sun. The soil is light and not overcharged with moisture, but in the understratum are many hidden springs, so that the plot of ground is subirrigated.

Conservative as the Edison of plant life is, the benefit already accruing to the world from his new creations in fruits and flowers is incalculable. A potato of his origination, which bears his name, is eaten by Californian and New Yorker, and forms a part of the diet of the peasant of Ireland and the prince of family. His plums, pears, apples, prunes and quinces are carried to every country of the world, while rare flowers which he has produced grow in the parks of kings, and others are regarded as treasures in the conservatories of millionaires.

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

For the Sick Room.

The most trying time for a sick person is between the hours of 1 and 4 in the morning. Vitality becomes diminished, and the strength should therefore be fortified as far as possible with some strong food, either soup or eggs and milk, about mid-night. The nurse should always make the meals look as tempting as possible, with snowy serviettes, sparkling glass, and always a flower or two in a dainty vase. Even a spray of mignonette will often work wonders in interesting and pleasing the patient. These small details are too often omitted by the nurse on the plea of not having time to see to them, but they ought to be considered as essential to the progress of the patient as the punctual administration of the medicine itself. Often they are more potent than this last. It is very uncertain, too, that the nurse who would find details of her service irksome is no true nurse, and ought not to be entrusted with the care of a sick person.

Further, it is a mistake to leave untouched food by a person's bedside in the hope that he may eat it later on. He will simply be disgusted with food altogether. Many sick people have a great craving for tea, and when this is the case the tea leaves should be infused in boiling milk instead of water, thus forming a very strengthening and refreshing beverage.

A Effervescing Drink.

Take one quart of the juice of raspberry, strawberry, currant or orange; filter it, and boil it gently into syrup with one pound of loaf sugar. To this add 1½ ounces of tartaric acid. When cold, put into a bottle for use. Two tablespoonfuls added to a tumbler of water forms a pleasant beverage. By dissolving half a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda in the water before adding the syrup, a delicious effervescing drink is produced. The color of the syrup may be improved by adding a little soluble cochineal.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills:
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

Wood's Phosphodine.—The Great English Remedy.

Is the result of over 35 years treating thousands of cases with all known drugs, until at last we have discovered the true remedy and treatment—a combination that will effect a prompt and permanent cure in all stages of Sexual Debility, Abuse or Excesses, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Mental Worry, Excessive Use of Opium, Tobacco, or Alcoholic Stimulants, all of which soon lead to Insanity, Consumption and an early grave. Wood's Phosphodine has been used successfully by hundreds of cases that seemed almost hopeless—cases that had been treated by the most talented physicians—cases that were on the verge of despair and insanity—cases that were tottering over the grave—but with the continued and persevering use of Wood's Phosphodine, these cases that had been given up to die, were restored to manly vigor and health—Reader you need not despair—no matter who has given you up as incurable—the remedy is now within your reach, by its use you can be restored to a life of usefulness and happiness.

Price, one package, $1; six packages, $5; by mail free of postage.

One will please, six guaranteed to cure. Pamphlet free to any address.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

How the Car Was Lost.

In the year 1887 one of the great Western railroads lost a freight-car containing more than fifty thousand dollars' worth of merchandise. It disappeared between Green River and Laramie, in Wyoming, and for more than a year the officers of the road were at their wits' end to know what could have become of it. It had been loaded at San Francisco with silks and wine, and was in the middle of a train known as a "silk special." At Green River the train, which consisted of sixteen cars, was inspected as usual, the numbers taken, seals examined, and all the customary precautions observed. Then came the long run through the Bitter Creek country, across the Red Desert, and over the mountains of Laramie. Here another inspection was in order. The train was late, the conductor was impatient, but the "number snatcher"—the inspector, that is—could not make the train agree with the way-bills.

There were but fifteen cars where sixteen were called for, and a further examination showed that car No. 907 was missing. Nobody could explain the discrepancy, but at last the train was allowed to proceed.

Meantime the wires were at work. All stations were telegraphed to, but none of them had seen anything of the missing car. Green River was sure that 907 left that point all right.

Days, weeks and months passed, and the matter remained a mystery. Then, one day, a cowboy riding across the Red Desert in search of a stray steer came suddenly upon a freight-car in a gulch miles from any station. At first he thought he must be dreaming; but no there it was unharmed and with its seals unbroken. He took the number and the name of the railroad and rode to the nearest telegraph station.

The operator seemed incredulous till the cowboy mentioned the number—907. Then he sprang to his key, and in an instant was calling Laramie.

Not to prolong the story, which we have condensed from the St. Louis Globe Democrat, the news was despatched to Omaha, and a wrecking-car was soon on its way to the Red Desert. The lost car was raised from the gulch, put upon the track, and on examination of the cargo it was found not to have sustained a dollar's damage.

But how came the car in the gulch? The explanation was simple. The trainhands now remembered that in the run down the mountains the train had broken apart. This was nothing so very unusual, and the men did as they had always done under such circumstances. The train was making sixty miles an hour. The hands on the detached cars tended the brakes, and after many a sharp curve had been rounded, a safe halting-place was reached, the train stopped, the cars were re-coupled, and the run was resumed.

But meanwhile, in rounding one of the curves, the rear car of the forward section had "snapped off" and gone down the embankment, leaving nobody the wiser. And there it and its fortune of a cargo might have remained indefinitely but for the cowboy's chase after a stray steer.

NOTES FOR THE LADIES.

Wear a Lucky Garter—Facts and Fancies From Real Life.

The most fashionable hats among carswomen are manillas, with black or scarlet bands. Navy blue serges are, of course, being worn, and their sombreness is relieved by bands of white cloth, edged with light blue braid or piping. The sash is once again basking in the shine of fashion's favor. The broad richness that adds such a pleasant note to the gown of last season or serves so well to link the colorings of a blouse and skirts for a distinct reaction, has set in against the cleft-in-swain effect we have harbored so long and so fondly.

An English paper, in discussing the "coming out" period, suggests that a year or six months before the formal and triumphal entry in society a girl should be brought out, so to speak, in her own family, attending little "at homes" and small parties, as this gives her confidence and imparts the advantage of unaffected manners.

A writer in an English magazine claims to have discovered that marriage is a mere accident, and no test whatever of sex attractiveness. Beyond the fact of marriage there is nothing to distinguish the wedded from the unwedded. Some of both classes are pretty, some plain, some are jolly, some are shrewdish, some are intellectual, some are stupid. Spinsters are just the inevitable remnant resulting from monogramatic institutions and the overplus of the sex.

There is an old superstition that the maiden who receives the garter worn by a bride on her wedding day is certain to become herself a bride before the year is out. A bride's garters are therefore much in demand, and as ordinarily she wears but two the supply is limited.

To obviate this difficulty a charming young woman who was recently married wore twenty garters on her wedding day, and after the ceremony distributed them among her bridesmaids and unmarried friends.

Half a dozen young women took examinations for admission to the bar in New York several weeks ago and without attracting much attention. Several of them will begin to practice law at once. Had they taken these examinations ten years ago the incident would have excited wide discussion and many comments that would have been unpleasant to the candidates. It is accepted as a matter of course now that a constantly growing percentage of candidates for diplomas in law and medicine shall be women.

For the Tea Table.

A dainty bonbonniere for the tea table such as is shown in the sketch is easily made, and will make a pretty souvenir. The basket proper may be bought or made, according to one's ingenuity. The bag is of silk, lined with oiled paper to keep the bonbons from sticking.

A pretty one is made of bright green silk, with wicker work in green and gold, and ornamented with bows of green satin ribbon matching the silk in color. The pendant balls are of chenille to match; or the bag and decorations may be entirely made of crepe paper in any of the dainty colors.

A violet and white tinted basket has a bag of violet silk and ribbons of white; it is to be filled with candied violets.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which the doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

Send 31 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

A Valuable Note.

An honest old blacksmith down in Texas, despairing of ever getting cash out of a delinquent debtor, agreed to take his note for the amount due. The debtor wished to go to a lawyer and have the document drawn up, but the knight of the anvil, who had been a sheriff in days gone by, felt fully competent to draw it up himself. This he proceeded to do, with the following result:—

"On the first day of June I promise to pay Jeems Nite the sum of eleving dollars, and if said note be not paid on the date aforesaid, then this instrument is to be null and void and of no effect. Witness my hand, etc."

The Best Advertisements.

IS IT HOG CHOLERA?

Some Experts Say That it is a Parasitic Affection of the Lungs.

Hog cholera is said to have broken out around Whitebread in Chatham township. It is spreading rapidly. It appears to be extending all down the Soy, and farmers in the vicinity expect to lose heavily. James Gammage and other residents in the vicinity of Whitebread have already suffered from its ravages. Walpole Island is said to be one of the latest districts infected, the hogs dying off there by hundreds. In neither of these districts has its presence before been reported to the press.

"Yes," said Dr. Radley, V. S., to the Planet this morning, "I hear the cholera is spreading rapidly in Chatham township. It seems to be a bad outbreak this time."

"What about Walpole Island?"

"I'm told the carcasses of dead hogs are lying all over the island by hundreds."

"Then this outbreak is worse than the last."

"Much worse. Why, last time there was some doubt as to whether the disease was hog cholera or not. There can be no doubt about this outbreak."

"After diseased hogs are killed and dressed would there be any way of telling that the meat was bad?"

"Yes, several. The simplest is that you will find it soft and flabby, and different in appearance from the sound article."

Dr. Radley estimates that the loss to the farmers will be very large.

Hogs are being slaughtered on the infected farms in Essex, and an indemnity under the contagious diseases animals act paid, namely, one-third for those which are actually diseased, and three fourths of the value of those in contact. About 1500 hogs have already been slaughtered, and about $1,000 a month is being paid out by the department in indemnity.

It is said that the disease is not true hog cholera but the effects of a parasite that attacks the lungs.

Collectors of Foreign Stamps Get Warning

FROM THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT

A Controversy as to Whether Very Old Civil Servants Must Continue to Pay Into the Superannuation Fund—Increased Demand for Fishery Privileges Noted.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Customs Department has felt it necessary to put a stop to a practice which is the outcome of the craze or hobby for collecting foreign stamps. Complaints have been repeatedly made by the Postoffice Department of the removal of postage stamps from postoffice parcels while such parcels are under the supervision and control of officers of the customs. It is contrary to the regulations of the Postoffice Department for postage stamps to be removed from any postal packages before the same have been delivered to the parties to whom addressed, for the reason that when the packages or parcels are not delivered and have to be returned to the country of origin it is necessary that such parcels should be returned intact. Collectors of customs have, therefore, been instructed that under no circumstances are postage stamps to be removed from postal packages or parcels while the same are under customs control.

An interesting controversy affecting the older officers of the public service, is now going on between the Auditor-General and one of the public departments. It arose out of the case of an officer who had completed 35 years in the public service, and the point is as to whether he is entitled to his superannuation abatement, or, in other words, whether he shall cease to pay the 2 per cent. on his salary into the superannuation fund. Clause 13 of the Superannuation Act says: "Service in an established capacity in any of the departments of the executive Government or offices of the Legislature of any of the provinces now included in the Dominion, before such province became a portion thereof, by any person who has thereafter entered the civil service, shall be reckoned in computing his period of service for the purposes of this act."

The officer in question was formerly employed by the Government of old Canada, but the question is whether it was "service in an established capacity." The Auditor thinks "established capacity" means a permanent employe, which this officer was not, at least for a certain number of years. Clause 14 says in any case of doubt the Governor-in-council may, by general or special regulations, determine to what persons the provisions of this act do or do not apply, and the conditions on which and the manner in which they shall apply in any case or class of cases.

As this is the first case of the kind which has occurred, the Government will probably take action under clause 14.

Consequent on greatly improved salmon catches in Canadian waters, the Department of Marine and Fisheries has received during the last season or two a largely increased number of applications for salmon fishing privileges. The increase in the number of salmon is attributed to the policy of the department in preventing the excessive use of nets, also to the fact that angling clubs (mostly from the United States) have bought out fishermen's gear and privileges, and that salmon have been planted year after year by the department.

Information was received in the city a day or two ago of the destruction by fire of the Governor-General's office on his ranche at Cold Stream, B. C. All the official papers, books and records in the office were destroyed, and it will be necessary for the Privy Council Department to duplicate these.

According to advices received at the Marine Department there is a steady increase in the service across Lake Erie between Port Dover and Conneaut. Col. Tisdale took a great interest in the opening up of this route and was instrumental in securing from the late Government an appropriation whereby the harbor of Port Dover was greatly improved. During the past month 923 cars and freight amounting to 22,530 tons were carried across between the two points.

The Prentiss murder case is one which has been before the Department of Justice now for some little time. Mr. Osler, for the defence, would ask for a new trial, basing the claim on the charge made to the jury, but as there is no money in the lad's possession for any such move they will content themselves with a commutation to life imprisonment, if the executive here can be shown reason for clemency. The case will likely be taken up in council in the course of another week.

The Minister of Justice has remitted the last 25 lashes which were to have been inflicted to-day on a convict in the Montreal jail, named Laurendeau, who is imprisoned on a complaint by his wife and daughter.

Sir Henri Joly will send a circular to the Province of Quebec dealing with the subject of illicit distillation. A strict supervision will hereafter be exercised in this matter.

Chiefs John Thompson and Thomas Lazarre of the St. Regis Indians interviewed Hon. R. W. Scott yesterday with the object of inducing the Government to re-establish the old system which permitted the election of Indian chiefs for the term of their natural life. This system was abolished about 30 years ago.

The tariff commission will commence operations at Toronto. Owing to the absence of Mr. Fielding it may not be possible to begin before the 16th inst.

Daniel Movin, a young man who usually resides on Broad-street, when he is not confined in jail, and his brother Horace were sentenced to 18 months each in the Central Prison for brutally assaulting and robbing Joseph Lebarge, a shantyman, in the C.P.R. lumber piles.

A council meeting was convened this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Premier, with Hon. R. W. Scott, Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. Wm. Mulock, were present. Routine business was transacted.

The Premier to-day received a Cornwall deputation which desired to urge a subsidy to the Ontario Pacific Railway.

Mr. W. Wainwright, assistant manager of the G.T.R., and Mr. Thomas Tait, assistant manager of the C.P.R., were here to-day, and had an interview with the Controller of Customs, it is said, on coal duties.

Sir Oliver Mowat has returned to the city.

Hon. Mr. Davies returns to the city on Saturday.

Capt. Erskine, A.D.C. to the Governor-General, leaves for England next week on three months' leave.

The Supreme Court concluded its business for the present term to-day. Argument was concluded in Torrop v. the Imperial Insurance Co. The appeal was dismissed with costs. The court will deliver judgments Wednesday, Dec. 9.

Mr. Justice King, Canadian Arbitrator on the Behring Sea Claims Commission, leaves for Victoria in a day or two.

The Bishop of Huron and Mrs. Baldwin were in town to-day.

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS

Bakery, Confectionery, Fruit and Dining Room Business for sale.

Having decided to retire from business in Peterborough, I will sell by Public Auction, on Saturday Afternoon, Nov. 7, at 2 o'clock, on the premises, No. 426 George St., all the stock in Trade, Fixtures, Business, &c., en bloc, just as it now stands and is being conducted.

This is one of the best paying businesses in Peterborough, established 15 years, and will be sold, as I purpose giving up business on account of ill-health.

The Bakery is in good condition; the Confectionery Business is first-class; the Dining Rooms pay well; and in the Fruit Season large quantities are sold.

A great chance to secure an established business, well stocked and in good running order. Further particulars on application to

J. C. CRAIG,

Defying the Probs

AND FORCING THE SEASON.

We Can't Change the Weather

. BUT WE CAN CHANGE OUR PRICES.

At no time of the year are we satisfied to sell at regular prices. At no time of the year can we afford to allow unseasonable weather to clog our business. Our stocks must keep on the move. We're constantly running across lots of goods offered to us at Special Prices. That means ample opportunity to discount the trade in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings without any trouble. Please remember that this business is PERSISTENTLY in advance of every other, and that prices here are always, with seldom an exception, the LOWEST.

We start off this week with a double head of steam to Reduce all our prices on all our stock, and make business boom in defiance of the mild weather.

WHEAT'S UP! CLOTHING'S DOWN! We quote below a few sample prices that tell the tale of how well we are loaded up with Bargains all over our two BIG STORES

Ordered Work.

Tweeds and Worsteds must get a quicker move on like everything else. Boom! Boom! all along the Cloth Department. Well dressed men come here—this store appeals to gentlemen of refined taste, and provides most fully for all. Our Fall Stocks of Cloths and Tweeds for custom work will please all who prefer their garments made up to their own measure from carefully selected fabrics. We deny the right of High Prices to exist while this balmy weather hangs on.

Just imagine the condition of things where everything is held for a regular profit until sold. Gough Bros. the progressive and aggressive leaders of Low Prices, make prices the moving power all along the line. Mrs. Castle Convicted and Sentenced to Three Months.

SENSATIONAL SCENES IN COURT.

No Case Against Mr. Castle—The Unhappy Woman Grew Hysterical and Had to be Carried From the Court Room—Steps Taken to Secure Her Release.

London, Nov. 6.—The case of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Castle of San Francisco, who are accused of shop lifting, came up for trial in the Clerkenwell Sessions this morning. There were eleven indictments against the prisoners, charging them with stealing articles the total value of which was £43 10 shillings.

Chairman McConnell presided, and on the bench with him were half a dozen magistrates. The court room was crowded, many of the spectators being ladies. A number of the officials of the United States Embassy were present, including Secretary Roosevelt and Chief Clerk Hodson.

The case for the prosecution opened promptly at 10.30 o'clock. When the chairman called for the surrender of Mr. and Mrs. Castle by their bondsmen, they having been at liberty under £40,000 bail pending their trial, there was a pause, during which the crowd was hushed and expectant, until Mrs. Castle made her appearance, attended by two female nurses and her husband.

Upon the reading of the charge Mr. Castle stood boldly upright and answered "Not guilty" to each of the counts.

On behalf of Mrs. Castle Sir Edward Clarke said that she pleaded guilty to each charge, and proceeded to give the reasons for making such a plea. While Sir Edward Clarke was speaking Mrs. Castle remained seated. She was dressed in sombre black, and kept her face covered with a handkerchief. While the jury was being sworn the silence was broken only by Mrs. Castle's sobbing.

When the first charge was read, that of stealing a sablette worth £9 and a skin worth 5s, Mr. Avory, for the prosecution said: "Subject to any opinion which Your Lordship may express, it appears to me that Mr. Castle was not a party to the thefts, and, therefore, the prosecution will not offer any evidence against Mr. Castle. While the case was in the Police Court, and both prisoners were denying guilt, it was impossible for the prosecution to take this course, for as long as the wife denied her guilt it was possible that the husband had taken the things."

The chairman replied: "I have read the depositions carefully and have arrived at the same conclusion. There is nothing in the evidence that has impeached the innocence of Mr. Castle, and I entirely approve the course you have taken in the matter."

Mr. Avory, upon receiving the reply of the chairman, announced formally that the prosecution would not offer any evidence against Mr. Castle. The chairman then addressed the jury, saying: "As there is no evidence to support the indictment against the defendant, Walter M. Castle, it is your duty to render a verdict of not guilty."

The jury responding with a verdict of not guilty, Mr. Castle was immediately discharged, and upon the application of Sir Edward Clarke to the court, Mrs. Castle was allowed to leave the court room attended by her nurses.

Sir Frank Lockwood, Q.C., then began his opening for the defence, dilating in the course of his address upon the terrible position of Mrs. Castle, who had hitherto been a reputable woman occupying a high social position.

Mr. Avory replied, giving the details of the evidence, as taken in the Police Court, in regard to the searching of Mrs. Castle's trunks, in which a museum of articles was found, many of them still having their sale tickets attached. In not a single instance, he said, was Mrs. Castle detected in taking anything; so that she must have done her work so skilfully that even her husband, who was beside her, was unable to see what she was doing.

Sir Edward Clarke, Q.C., for the defence, said that in view of the cruelty to which Mrs. Castle would have been subjected in having the facts discussed before her, he had advised the lady to plead guilty. She was not in want of money, and the insanity of her proceedings was proved in the fact of her handing a piece of fur with the sale ticket attached, showing the name of the owner, the price, etc., to another person for the purpose of getting the fur matched. Mrs. Castle, he said, had had a mental malady when she was a girl, and that malady had been recurring during the last few months.

Dr. Grigg, a specialist in women's diseases, testified that he had examined Mrs. Castle and found that her condition was such as to justify him in concurring in the statement made by Sir Edward Clarke. Such a condition, he said, generally resulted in mental disturbances, religious and other forms of mania rendered the sufferer irresponsible for her actions.

Dr. George H. Savage, one of the leading specialists in female diseases in England, next took the stand and corroborated the testimony of Dr. Grigg.

At this point in the proceedings the crush in the court room had become almost suffocating, and a number of ladies in the crowd were allowed to take seats upon the magistrates' bench, an unusual occurrence, while others found seats upon the stairs and in and around the counsels' benches, until every inch of available space was filled.

Alderman Routledge, Major Egan, U. S. A., H. J. Hawse of San Francisco, and other friends of Mr. and Mrs. Castle, were in court ready to testify in behalf of Mrs. Castle, and Mr. Castle himself, who had left the room after his discharge, now reappeared in court.

Dr. Gabriel of the College of Surgeons supported the testimony already given by medical experts, and said that uterine troubles had affected Mrs. Castle's mind. He had warned her several times to avoid all excitement. He, together with Drs. Scott and Savage, had seen her professionally on October 11, while she was in jail, and the three had discussed her case exhaustively at that time. They had agreed that her further imprisonment would imperil her reason.

Dr. Scott, who was the next witness, testified that the nervous illness from which Mrs. Castle suffered had continued during the entire time that she was in jail, and he had made a report of his examination of the case to the Home Office, advising against her further imprisonment. The lady had no fixed delusions, he said, but she was of unstable mind and liable to do eccentric things unless she was carefully looked after by her friends.

Sir Edward Clarke here interposed, saying that Mrs. Castle's friends were only anxious to remove her to a place of quiet, if the court took a favorable view of the matter.

The chairman said that the question as to the effect which imprisonment would have upon Mrs. Castle was one which must be considered elsewhere.

The chairman and the magistrates then retired to another room for the purpose of deliberation. After fifteen minutes' absence the magistrates returned to the court-room, in which profound silence reigned.

Mrs. Castle was then brought into court and the clerk of the court announced that Ella Castle had been convicted upon all of the indictments against her.

Chairman McConnell said: "The court has had great difficulty in dealing with an exceedingly painful case, upon which sympathy so powerful has been brought to bear as to almost interfere with justice." The court knew, he said, that the sentence which it became his duty to pass upon the prisoner would be well weighed elsewhere, and if any suffering dangerous to her life or intellect should follow it would be immediately met by another authority. He would not prolong the painful scene, and, therefore, would at once proceed to pass sentence, which was that the prisoner be confined in jail, without hard labor, for three months.

As the chairman pronounced the sentence all eyes turned upon Mrs. Castle, who stood dazed for a moment, and then, as the full import of the chairman's words came to her, she became hysterical, obliging the nurses and prison warden to support her. She then began to moan piteously and finally to scream and struggle violently. She was removed from the room as quickly as possible, and as she was being taken away cried out: "What does it mean? My God, what does it mean?"

A good many of the ladies in the court-room exhibited strong emotion, several of them weeping, and all expressing deep sympathy with the unfortunate prisoner, whose screams could be heard faintly issuing from the underground passage through which she was taken, even after the court room had been cleared.

Mr. Castle was congratulated upon his own release from custody. He said it was only justice that he had received, but he was not satisfied with the result of his wife's case. He was exceedingly anxious about her, he said, and desirous of removing her to a place of rest at the earliest possible moment. Application has already been made to the Home Office for Mrs. Castle's release, and it is understood her sentence is practically formal, and that she will be liberated in a few days.

The Central News announces that a petition was lodged at the Home Office this afternoon praying for the Queen's clemency in the case of Mrs. Castle, on the ground that the lady's physical and mental condition is not equal to the strain of imprisonment.

United States Ambassador Bayard, the Central News says, has also addressed a note to Sir Matthew W. Ridley, Home Secretary, on the subject.

STEAMER BOUND FOR SYDNEY, C.B.

Crashed Into the Schooner Maggie With Disastrous Results Some of the Passengers Were Caught in the Sails, Others Exhausted Dropped Into the Sea.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 6.—The steamer Tiber, Captain Delisle, bound for Sydney, left here at 7 o'clock to-night. Fifteen minutes later, when just beyond the entrance to the harbor, she collided with the schooner Maggie, bound from Bona Vista Bay for St. John's, with a cargo of fish and lumber. The schooner carried a crew of nine men and 14 passengers, five of whom were women. The schooner had her lights displayed and there was no justification on the steamer's part for the collision, because the night was clear and the schooner quite near the shore in a part of the entrance where steamers rarely go. The schooner was struck amidships, cut in two pieces, and sank immediately. All aboard were on deck. They were thrown into the water and those saved were only rescued by the help of the floating deckload of lumber. Several were caught under the sails and dragged down with the sinking vessel. Others were unable to keep afloat until the rescue boats arrived, and dropped off the planks. Two men climbed up the steamer's side and seven were saved by her boats. One woman was also saved, making 10 persons in all rescued. The other 13—nine men and four women—were drowned. Capt. Blundon's wife, who was bringing her consumptive 16-year-old boy to he hospital at St. John's, was drowned. The boy was saved. The captain's brother and nephew were also lost.

Two passengers named Holloway, brother and sister, were drowned, as were also James Power and his wife.

The pecuniary losses of the survivors are heavy. Captain Blundon owned 800 quintals of fish aboard, valued at $3000. Several other men had their summer's wages, $400 a piece, with them and two men had $1000 each and were coming to St. John's to make purchases.

The accident happened within half a mile of the town. The steamer lay to while she sent a boat ashore to land the survivors and then continued her voyage.

The police are arranging to cause the arrest of the Tiber's captain at Sydney on a charge of manslaughter. The Government is caring for the survivors.

A MELANCHOLY LOVER

Drank Oxalic Acid With Suicidal Intent and Then Got Sorry and Rushed for a Doctor.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 6.—John Pickney, an Englishman, who came here from New York State, recently grew melancholy because of a change in the affections of "his best girl," and while drinking beer in the Albion Hotel poured a quantity of oxalic acid in the tumbler and drank the mixture. Then he was sorry when death faced him and he hastened to a doctor. He took an emetic that will make his throat raw and police officers took him to headquarters to recover and meditate. He has been in police circles before.

MRS. VANDERBILT DEAD.

The Mother of the Famous Millionaire Railroad King Passes From This Troublesome World.

New York, Nov. 6.—Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt, the mother of Cornelius and William K. Vanderbilt, died at Scarborough, N.Y., this afternoon. Her death was due to heart disease. For some time past Mrs. Vanderbilt had been troubled with the disease, which finally resulted in her death, and this morning while out riding with her sister she felt severe pains in the region of her heart. She asked to be taken home and her request was immediately complied with, but the pains and suffering increased, and at 1.30 o'clock she expired. Her daughter, Mrs. Elliot F. Shephard, and her sister, Mrs. Bromley, were present at the death bed. Mrs. Vanderbilt was 75 years of age.

THIEVING AT BRADFORD.

Churches and Private Residences Robbed of Valuables.

Bradford, Ont., Nov. 6.—An almost incredible amount of plundering has been going on here since Tuesday night, when Mr. S. Luke's stable was entered and a set of harness worth $50 was stolen. The same night the Model School was entered and a number of valuable framed pictures were taken. It has since been discovered that the vestry of Trinity Church is stripped of its furnishings, and from the Presbyterian Church a new sofa, half a dozen choice chairs and quantities of dishes belonging to the ladies have also disappeared. In addition to the above, other private property has been taken, consisting of a horse, a wagon, a second set of harness and various provisions from cellars. Efforts are being made to locate the thieves, but so far they have not been caught. The council has offered a reward of $50 for information that will lead to the conviction of the thieves.

This is the Correct Thing.

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—A change in the running schedule of the Consolidated Traction Company will go into effect Dec. 1. The workmen presented a scale to President C. L. Magee, who accepted it. It calls for ten hours instead of thirteen now worked and $2 per day. More men will be employed, and no change will be made in wages.

7000 Men Put to Work

Chicago, Nov. 5.—J. W. Gates, President of the Illinois Steel Company, said to-day: "In consequence of the victory of sound money, we started up our Joliet works last night, which give employment to 2300 men, and I think that within a few weeks, probably early in December, we will start up the South Chicago works."

THE NEW COUNTY COUNCILS.

Next year the County Council of the County of Peterborough will be composed of ten instead of twenty-three members. The time for the new county councils act coming into force is drawing near and as the matter is beginning to engage public attention, a little information in respect to the general provisions of the new law may be given.

In this county there are five districts, each electing two members to the County Council.

No. 1, or Otonabee Division, includes Otonabee.
No. 2, or Bridgenorth Division, includes North Monaghan, Smith and Ennismore.
No. 3, or Lakehurst Division, includes Galway, Cavendish, Harvey, Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos.
No. 4, or Norwood Division, includes Asphodel, Norwood, Havelock, Belmont and Methuen.
No. 5, or Lakefield Division, includes Lakefield, Douro and Dummer.

The nominations will take place on Monday, Dec. 21st, at the place designated by the nominating officers. These nominating officers will have full control of the nomination proceedings. The nominating officers and place of nomination for the several divisions have been appointed and fixed by Mr. Warden Middleton, as below:—

No. 1 district, James Drummond will be the nominating officer, and Keene the place of nomination.
In No. 2 division—or Bridgenorth division—the officer will be Mr. F. J. Bell, and the place Bridgenorth.
No. 3 or Lakehurst division, James Cairnduff will be nominating officer, and the place Burleigh Falls.
No. 4 division—W. E. Roxburg will be the nominating officer and Norwood the place.
No. 5—Lakefield division—Samuel Edwards will be the nominating officer, and Warsaw the place.

The nominations will be made in the same way as the ordinary municipal nominations. Parties nominated at the nomination meeting, if they do not desire to be candidates, can withdraw at the meeting or on the following day by handing to the nominating officer a statement, properly sealed and witnessed, to the effect that they do not intend to be candidates. Parties who have been nominated, and who have sent in their disclaimer, will not have their names placed on the ballots, but all who fail to do this will have their names placed on the ballots and will be voted on. The proceedings in this respect are precisely the same as at the ordinary municipal election. No person will be allowed to occupy a position in the county council and in the local municipal council at the same time, but local councillors and reeves of this year will be eligible for nomination and election to the county council, but they will have to discontinue their connection with the local council, whether as reeve, deputy, councillor, clerk, assessor or collector. The election takes place on the first Monday in January, on the same day as the local municipal elections, and the same deputy returning officers act at the one as at the other. The qualification for voters is the same as at the regular municipal elections. The qualification for candidates is the same as for reeves

Each elector is entitled to two votes. He can give a vote to each of two candidates, or he can give both votes to one candidate. In the event of his desiring to do this he will have to make two crosses instead of one opposite that candidate's name on the ballot. The ballots are provided by the county clerk, and the local municipal clerks will have to make a return to him of the votes polled for the respective candidates in their respective municipalities. He sums up the votes and proclaims the result in the several divisions. The local municipal councils are left the same as now, the only difference being that the reeve and deputy reeve are not members of the county council. The county councillors are elected for two years, so that, except in the case of a vacancy occurring, there will only be a county council election every other year.

As was expected, the Act has given rise to much discussion and difference of opinion throughout the province. The bill not only reduces the number of members of the council and the expenses connected therewith, but provides for a more equitable representation of the taxpayers. Under the old Act the reeve of a village paying $100 county rate had a vote in the council, while some of the larger townships, represented by a reeve and two deputy reeves, with only four votes, paid $5,000 county taxes. To overcome this inequality, which was much complained of by large municipalities, the division of the county into districts was deemed necessary.

The object the new law is good—to reduce the number of councillors and consequently the expense, while it is held the interests of the county will be equally well guarded. Of course, under the new law, several prominent and active municipal members will necessarily fail to get seats in the county council, but the township councils remaining the same, these gentlemen can still occupy situations of usefulness as the reeves and deputy reeves of the same.

THE LIBERAL POLICY.

The Toronto News, in answer to a paragraph in the EXAMINER pointing out that the Conservatives were very willing to take credit for increase in trade but decline to accept blame for extravagant expenditure, assumes a peculiar position. It says our statement indicates that the one policy of the Liberal party is economy—"its chief plank to save money." That is partly true. Heaven knows, there is need for economy and retrenchment and of a cessation of the terrible waste of public money to reward, directly and indirectly partisans of the late government. Every day there is being unearthed examples of the corrupt dealings of the late Government in almost every department, including waste of public funds to reward political heelers. To remedy this is, it goes without saying, the policy of the Liberal party. It is an important part of the function of the Government to save money. The proverb, "a penny saved is a penny gained," applies with equal force to government as well as ordinary transactions. But that is not the whole of the Liberal policy. The Liberal Government is not averse to spending money, and spending money liberally, so long as the need of such expenditure is clearly indicated. It is not averse to even adding to the public debt, burdensome as that now is, if the public works to be represented thereby are necessary to the development of the country and the increase of the national prosperity. But in the process it is necessary to practice the "economy" that the News, as a typical Tory organ, sneers at. The policy of the Liberal party is to prevent a practice that expends $100 on a public work, with $10 of it going to a favoured contractor to find its way in part into the Conservative election campaign fund. The Liberal policy is economical expenditure of necessary sums to promote the prosperity of the country, but no administrative kite-flying.

The total production of silver is eight billion, eleven million, one hundred and twenty-two thousand and thirty-five ounces, of the value of ten billion, three hundred and fifty-seven million, eight hundred and fourteen thousand, one hundred.

FROM AGONY TO JOY.

Acute Sufferings from Acute Rheumatic Ailment Relieved by South American Rheumatic Cure When Hope had Well-Nigh Gone—Mrs. W. Ferris, Wife of a Well-Known Manufacturer of Glencoe, Cheerfully Tells the Story of Her Cure.

"I was for years a great sufferer from rheumatic affection in my ankles, and at times was so bad that I could not walk. I tried every known remedy and treated with best physicians for years, but no permanent relief. Although my confidence in remedies was about exhausted, I was induced to try South American Rheumatic Cure. I purchased a bottle. The very first dose gave me relief, and after taking two bottles all pain had vanished and there has been no return of it. I do cheerfully recommend this great remedy." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

To Stain Wood.

It is a fact not universally known that almost any dry pigment, mixed with spirits of turpentine, will stain wood. It should be applied until the desired shade is obtained. Strong ammonia applied to wood will give it an aged appearance. The best finish for carved work is beeswax or linseed oil.

A Month of Dread

To All Rheumatic Sufferers.

Paine's Celery Compound a Priceless Blessing to Suffering Humanity.

November, with its variable weather, is a month of terror and torture for all rheumatic sufferers.

At this time, a remedy that has power to eradicate the cause of rheumatism from the system is indeed a priceless blessing. Such a remedy, for all forms of rheumatism, will be found in Paine's Celery Compound.

In thousands of cases Paine's Celery Compound has produced marvellous cures. Even in the longest standing and nearly incurable cases the great medicine has given wonderful and magical results.

If you are a sufferer, delay not a moment; procure Paine's Celery Compound and test its powers. If you are vainly trying to effect a cure with other medicines, throw them aside and use the medicine that is now curing your friends and neighbours.

Mrs. J. Vince, Barrie, Ont., after vain attempts to effect a cure with the ordinary medicines of the day, used Paine's Celery Compound with truly blessed results. She writes thus:

"I am happy to say that I have taken Paine's Celery Compound with great results. I had sciatica so badly that I could not turn in bed or walk without help; and for a period of three weeks was helplessly laid up and suffered pain that at times was unbearable.

"I tried many medicines, but all in vain, I was afterwards recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. I used six bottles and am entirely cured, and enjoy good health. I take great pleasure in recommending the valuable medicine that cured me."

British Schooner Lost.

Nassau, N. P., Nov. 5.—The British schooner Bessie E. Crane, Captain Michaelson, was stranded on Ragged Island on Nov. 1. The vessel, which was in ballast, is a total loss. Her crew and part of her materials were saved and have arrived here. The Bessie E. Crane was a wooden schooner of 164 tons. She was built at Parrsborough, N.S., in 1885, and owned by Allen Haley of that place.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS.

THE EXPERIENCE OF MR. GRANT DAY, OF HARROWSMITH.

He Suffered Much From Rheumatism Especially During Spring and Autumn Following a Neighbour's Advice Brought About a Cure.

From the Kingston Whig.

One who has been released from years of suffering is always grateful to the person or the medicine that has been the medium of release. It is therefore safe to say that one of the most thankful men in the vicinity of Harrowsmith is Mr. Grant Day, who for years past has been a sufferer from rheumatism, but has now been released from its thraldom. To a reporter Mr. Day told his experience substantially as follows: "I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for upwards of twenty-five years. It usually attacked me worst in spring and fall and at times the pain I endured was intense, making it difficult for me to obtain rest at night. From my hips down to my feet every joint and every muscle appeared to be affected, and the pains appeared to chase one another until I was at times nearly wild, and mind you this was my condition for upwards of twenty-five years. During that period I tried many remedies, and while I obtained temporary relief from some, I could get nothing in the way of permanent benefit. But last year the pains did not come back, and they have not returned since, and this is the way it came about. One day while telling my neighbour, Mr. W. C. Switzer, how badly I was feeling he said:—'Get half a dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and use them according to directions, and you will find that they will do just what they are advertised to do—cure you. I know this from experience in my own family.' Well, I got the pills and used them and the rheumatism has been driven out of my system, and last winter and spring for the first time in more than twenty years I was entirely free from my old enemy. But there is one thing more Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me, and which astonished me a little. Over forty years ago I had a severe earache, and used a liquid preparation in the hope of getting relief. It nearly ruined my hearing, and for all the years since I have been partially deaf. After I took the Pink Pills my hearing came back, and my ear is now all right. My wife and sister have also found much benefit from Pink Pills when run down by overwork, and it is safe to say that they will always be found in our house."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scrofulous troubles, etc., these pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many women a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excesses, will find in Pink Pills a certain cure. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail postpaid, at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

Fears for the Iona.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 5.—Grave fears are entertained for the safety of the schooner Iona, which left Apple River for New Haven with a load of grindstone on the 11th of October, since which time nothing has been heard of her crew. The Iona hailed from Sackville, N.B.

Queen Lil Pardoned.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—A letter from Honolulu says: "The Hawaiian Government has granted a full pardon and restoration of her civil rights to ex-Queen Lilliuokalani. The pardon is based upon the fact that during her partial freedom she has faithfully kept the terms of her parole."

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to throughly expel the poison from the system by the faithful and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy proves successful when all other treatment has failed to relieve the sufferer.

PYNY-PECTORAL

Positively Cures

COUGHS and COLDS

In a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & Son, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Chenoux of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. C. McComber of a long-standing cold.

Mr. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 393 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine.

MORLEY ON ROSEBERY

The Ex-Chief Secretary Eulogizes His Former Leader.

WHAT THE LIBERAL PARTY WANTS

The First Thing is a New Leader and Mr. Morley Intimates That Sir William Harcourt is All Right—Sir Donald Smith on the United States Elections.

Glasgow, Nov. 6.—In a speech delivered here to-night John Morley, formerly Chief Secretary for Ireland, eulogized Lord Rosebery. He said he could not discover such a divergence between Lord Rosebery and the Liberal party's views regarding the Armenian question as to justify Lord Rosebery in severing himself from the leadership. Regarding the internal difficulties that had prevailed in the Rosebery Ministry, Mr. Morley said that such troubles arose in all Cabinets. They were merely passing differences, like those that sometimes sprang up between a husband and wife.

Continuing, Mr. Morley said that the chief question before the Liberals was the leadership of the party in the House of Commons. No change, he declared, was mooted there. He dilated upon Sir William Harcourt's capacity and manner, his language implying that he advocated the giving of the leadership of the party to Sir William.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

Mayor Albuquerque is Making Things Lively in Mozambique.

Lisbon, Nov. 6.—The Tempo says that Major Monsinho Albuquerque, Governor of Mozambique, has suspended the constitution, dissolved the municipal council and proclaimed martial law. He has also arrested three aldermen, including a brother of a judge of the Supreme Court at Loando, on the charge of supplying arms and munitions to the Namorallos, a tribe of natives with whom the Portuguese are at war. The prisoners are awaiting trial in the fortress at Mozambique. Their offense is punishable by death.

Major Albuquerque, who recently led an expedition into Manicaland, was surprised by 2000 Namorallos and was compelled to retreat after fighting 22 hours. The Portuguese force comprised 300 natives of Portugal and 180 blacks. Two of the Portuguese were killed and Major Albuquerque and 34 other members of the expedition were wounded. The loss inflicted on the Namorallos was heavy.

SIR DONALD SMITH

Does Not Expect Much of a Tumble-Up After McKinley's Election.

London, Nov. 6.—The Daily Mail will to-morrow print an interview with Sir Donald Smith, High Commissioner for the Dominion of Canada in Great Britain, on the subject of the election of Mr. McKinley. Sir Donald says that he does not expect that the result of the elections will be in any way injurious to Canada, and that he does not expect that any radical changes will be made in the American tariff. Mr. McKinley, he adds, fully recognizes the aid given by Democrats in his election, and he will not employ his success for partisan ends. Altogether Canada has many reasons to be pleased with Mr. McKinley's election.

Referring to the alleged fears that a Republican Government will give energy to the American opposition to the Canadian Pacific Railroad, Sir Donald says that the opposition is more apparent than real, and exists chiefly in newspapers. The Canadian Pacific is really an international road and benefits the United States as well as Canada.

HEART'S HEALER.

Mrs. Mugger, wife of Captain Charles Mugger, of Sydney, C. B., Gets Relief in Thirty Minutes from Heart Disease of Four Years Standing, and Declares She Owes her Life to Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart.

"It affords me great pleasure to commend Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. I was sorely afflicted with heart trouble, accompanied with dizziness, palpitation and smothering sensations. For over four years I was treated by best physicians, and used all remedies known to man. I determined to try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. The first dose gave me great relief inside of thirty minutes. I used two bottles and feel to-day that I have been completely cured." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

North Tonawanda, N. Y., Nov. 5.—President-elect McKinley at Canton touched the button which started up the fires in the new Niagara furnace of the Tonawanda Iron and Steel Company at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon.

Worsted Mills Burned.

London, Nov. 5.—The extensive worsted mills of Dawson & Sons at Bradford have been destroyed by fire. The loss on buildings, machinery and stock amounts to £70,000.

St. Louis Theatre Burned.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—The Globe Theatre was destroyed by fire about 5 o'clock this morning. Forty persons in the building escaped. William Gray, stage manager, sustained fatal injuries. Loss $15,000.

BREACHES IN THE WALL.

The Weak Spot, the Kidneys—They Must be Guarded as Life Advances—Defence Strengthened by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope, Oct. 26.—(Special—Citizens called on here to vouch for correctness of the following statement without an exception endorsed it as true. Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Chief of Police and government fishery overseer of his own case said:—"For ten years my distress increased until the doctor called it Diabetes. At times my suffering was intense, and medicine taken did no good. At last a friend assured me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. A few boxes have kept that promise, and I thank these pills for a perfect, and I believe, permanent cure.

GOLD AND WHEAT.

London Times Thinks More of the Yellow Metal Will Go to the States—Wheat Will Still Advance.

London, Nov. 6.—The Times, in its financial column to-day, again discusses the probability as to the gold movement. It thinks that the activity in the grain and cotton markets will for the time being prevent the return of recently hoarded gold from the United States to Europe, while the payment of American imports from Europe will not need to be made until 1897, and those payments will be to some extent offset by European purchases of American securities.

The Times does not think the European investor will purchase blindly, but that he will buy the securities of sound companies which have been neglected during the Bryan scare. "The present indications, therefore," the paper concludes, "are that the United States will take a million or two more of gold before the year is out, but early in 1897 a reflux is probable."

A special article in The Times on the wheat question expresses the opinion that the price will continue to advance, and advises English producers not to play into the traders' hands by overstocking the market.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights, Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

Send in Your Claims.

Persons having claims against town and township councils should present such under the new municipal law before the last meeting in December. New councils cannot be expected to know the validity of claims contracted by predecessors. Under the old system the number of county councillors elected throughout the province was 1400, and the new act reducing the number to 500 will save the farmers, it is estimated, about $25,000 a year.

A Runaway.

A Peterborough young lady was a participant in a runaway accident in Lindsay on Sunday last. The Warder has the following to say of the affair :—Three young ladies had quite an exciting time Sunday behind Mr. T. Sylvester's fiery little pony. While Miss Edith Spier, Miss Alda Sylvester and Miss Genevieve Kempt, of Peterborough, were driving up William street the pony became unmanageable and kicked around in the most annoying fashion. Miss Sylvester and Miss Kempt made good their escape by jumping out when the animal had gone about a block Miss Spier followed the example of her companions. The horse turned up Wellington street and landed at his stable all sound, but minus a goodly portion of the phaeton.

THE FRASER MISSION BAND CONCERT.

It Meets with a Most Liberal Patronage at the Hands of the Public.

The concert given by the Fraser Mission Band in St. Paul's school room last evening, was a decided success, both in point of numbers and the general excellence of the programme. The Mission Band have good reason to feel elated at the result of this, their first, entertainment, and no doubt future evenings of a like nature (a number of which we understand are to be given during the winter) will be accorded the same enthusiastic support as was given last night. The Fraser Mission Band is certainly a deserving body, for only those who are closely connected with and know the work of the Band, can appreciate the really excellent work being done.

The programme rendered last evening included an instrumental duet by Misses Lillian Hall and Bessie Connal, two selections by banjo and guitar by Messrs. Roper and Talbot, a quartette by Messrs. Manning, Crane, Lount and Nelson, a whistling solo by Mr. E. Hall, who was forced to respond to an encore. All these numbers were well rendered. Miss Hutchinson of Toronto, contributed two solos, and responded to an encore with a charming "Lullaby." Miss Hutchinson has a sweet voice of considerable compass and also shows excellent training in phrasing and intonation. It is to be hoped that we shall hear more from this young lady during her stay in our midst.

Miss Alice Roger, who has recently opened a class in town for the study of pianoforte, rendered two solos, and was honoured with an encore (usually unheard of in Peterborough.) Her playing is characterized by brilliant technique, warmth of tone, excellent judgment, and places Miss Roger among the ranks of artists in pianoforte playing. We were not able to get the names of her selections, but they were both of the nature that require skill of a high order in interpretation.

Our own little Lola Ostrom more than delighted her audience last night in four or five selections and she was never heard to better advantage. She was most enthusiastically applauded and twice recalled. Her work was really most wonderful.

The programme was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. Roper acted in the capacity of chairman.

During the absence of the judges Miss Murphy gave the critic's report.

The meeting then closed with the National Anthem.

THE SATURDAY MARKET.

Butter, Eggs and Fowl were a Trifle Short This Morning.

Owing to the bad state of the roads and the threatening weather, the market today was only fair.

Although everything was bought up in the way of fowl, butter and eggs, yet the prices did not rise to any extent. There were plenty of vegetables, and a great quantity of apples exposed for sale. Butter brought from 18 to 22c. per pound by the roll; chickens sold for from 30 to 40c. per pair, ducks brought 50 and 60c; geese were worth from 40 to 50c., and from 75c. to a dollar was asked for turkeys. Eggs were 15 and 16c. a dozen, and potatoes easily sold at 50c., one farmer refusing to sell fifty bags at 40c.

A Norwood Hunting Party.

The Fraser hunting party left on Saturday last on their annual expedition to the forests of the north. The party this season is composed of Messrs. T. Fraser, the genial captain, and Fred. W. Ashe, of Norwood; E. B. Stone, barrister; Thos. Brightman and Oscar Creggall, of Peterborough; W. S. Clouston and E. A. Whitehead, of Ottawa, and Albert Ingram, "The Faraday Bard" as dogman. The party will be the guests of their old friend, Mr. Garrat Vadder, La Valley Lake, North Hastings.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. Hoods, heads, backs and breasts in black waterproof, impervious to water, soft and pliable. Any kind or style of ordered goods required. Lap rugs, strictly waterproof. Also cheese covers as requested by members of the Cheese Board, and for covering all kinds of goods liable to damage from wet. A. KINGSCOTE, Tent, Sail and Awning manufacturer, 344 Water street, opposite market.

"Mikado" Still in the Market.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have completed arrangements by which we can supply our old brands of flour manufactured with every care to suit the requirements of our trade. We can guarantee the same satisfaction that our flours have always given, as we are having them made from our own blends of wheat and under our personal supervision. Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & MCALLISTER Millers.

THE FALL ASSIZES BEGIN ON MONDAY.

CHIEF JUSTICE MEREDITH WILL BE ON THE BENCH.

This is the First Occasion of a Visit to Peterborough in his Official Capacity—No Criminal Cases on the Docket—The Civil List.

The fall assizes open on Monday afternoon at one o'clock, before Chief Justice Meredith, who makes his first visit to Peterborough in his official capacity since his appointment. There is not a single criminal case on the docket.

THE GRAND JURY

list is as appended :

Robt. Allan, Douro; Wm. Buck, Asphodel; Andrew N. Cameron, Otonabee, P. H. Campbell, Peterborough; Wm. Harper, Lakefield; John Knox, Asphodel; Wm. S. Northey, Smith; James Roberts, Smith; W. E. Sanderson, Smith; Roland Tivey, Ashburnham; Adam Thompson, Otonabee; James Wiseman, Havelock; Chas. Wynn, Peterborough.

The cases filed for trial with Mr. John Mahoney, County Clerk, are as follows :

JURY CASES.

No. 1—Varty vs. Pickens.

The plaintiff, George Varty, is a Belmont farmer, and accuses the defendant, John Pickens, a farmer of Percy in the County of Northumberland, of seducing his daughter. Damages to the extent of $2,000 are claimed.

Solicitor for plaintiff, G. A. Payne, of Campbellford; for the defendant, Stratton & Hall, Peterborough.

No. 2—Meldrum vs. Consolidated Milling Co.

Meldrum & McAllister in this case claim that they sold to the defendants 10,000 bushels of wheat to be delivered at Midland at 71½c. per bushel, and the defendants would not accept the same or pay the plaintiffs therefor, whereby the plaintiffs incurred expense, in keeping and reselling the wheat, to the amount of $1,242.82, which amount they seek to recover.

In their statement of defence the defendants state that the sale was made on the understanding that the wheat was a new purchase of 20,000 bushels, of which the defendants were to take 10,000 bushels at cost price. The defendants affirm that they discovered at a later date that the wheat was not a new purchase, but stock which was on hand. They claim therefore that a fraud was perpetrated in the sale, thus rendering it null and void.

E. B. Stone for plaintiff; Dumble & Johnston for defendants.

No. 3—Bullock vs. Jory.

The plaintiff, W. J. Bullock, of Douro, claims $500 damages from the defendant, Thomas E. Jory, of Douro, for having said, concerning him, "He has committed forgery—he forged the name of my father to money orders on the treasurer." The plaintiff was at that time a candidate for election as a member of the municipal council of Douro, and claims to have lost votes through the publication of these words, and that he was greatly injured in his credit and reputation.

The defendant denies the charge, but states that if he used the words it was in a joke and not with the intention of attributing any wrong doing to the plaintiff.

Stratton & Hall for plaintiff; E. B. Stone for defendant.

NON-JURY CASES.

No. 1—Ashe vs. Collins.

The plaintiff, as assignee of the estate of John Baskin, insolvent, seeks to recover from Joshua W. Collins, lumber dealer, of Toronto, a balance said to be due the estate of $243.94.

The defendant denies the charge and submits a statement of the transaction, showing the balance due the plaintiff to be $33 09.

W. A. F. Campbell, of Norwood, for plaintiff; Thorne, Warner & Starr, of Toronto, for defendant.

No. 2. Jackson vs. Peterborough.

In this case Georgina Jane Jackson sues to recover $500 from the town of Peterborough for damages alleged to have been sustained by a fall on Park street, whereby the plaintiff severely injured her left leg and her arms, and sustained other serious bodily and internal and permanent injuries. The statement of claim sets forth that the accident was caused by the defective and improper construction and maintenance of the sidewalk.

The defendants state that the plaintiff could, by the exercise of proper care, have avoided the accident, and hold further that the plaintiff did not give notice within seven days after the accident as provided by the consolidated municipal act, 1892.

John Green for plaintiff, E. B. Edwards for defendant.

No. 3. Waddell vs. Goodfellow.

Hugh Waddell, the plaintiff in this case, recovered judgment against the defendant Andrew Goodfellow, on Sept. 17, 1895, for the sum of $379.33, but as the defendant had transferred all his property to his son, the amount of the judgment was not recoverable. The plaintiff asks the court to allow the property transferred to be sold.

The son of the defendant claims that the lands belong to him but that as he pays his father an annuity of $100 the claim should be liquidated through the annuity.

E. B. Edwards for plaintiff, A. P. Poussette for defendant.

OTONABEE.

Scarlet Fever in one Neighbourhood—Death of an Old Resident.

There are several cases of scarlet fever in this township, about two miles north of Allandale. They are confined at present to two or three families. The Board of Health are placarding the premises, and taking steps to prevent the spread of the disease.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

Sarah Miller Armstrong, wife of David Armstrong, of Otonabee, died at the family residence on Friday morning. The deceased lady was seventy-one years of age, sixty-five of which had been spent in this country. She was born in Country Antrim, Ireland, in 1825, and came to Canada with her parents, who settled in Ashburnham, and later removed to Douro. At the age of twenty six years she was united in marriage to Mr. David Armstrong and took up her residence in Otonabee where she has since resided, enjoying the high respect of the community in which she lived. There were eight children, of whom six are living,—Messrs. David, Stewart and Simpson Armstrong, of Otonabee; Mrs. John Kerr, Ashburnham, Mrs. David Fife, of Douro, and Miss Anna Armstrong, who resides on the homestead. Mrs. Armstrong leaves one brother, Mr. John Miller, who lives in the Western United States. The deceased lady was in religion a Presbyterian, and leaves behind her a memory that will be warmly cherished by a wide circle of friends.

The funeral takes place on Sunday afternoon at 1.30 from the family residence lot 26, con. 5, Otonabee, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

There will be a good meeting at 4.15 tomorrow afternoon for men, addressed by Rev. Mr. Grant. The singing will be led by Mr. G. W. Mulligan.

Remember the usual Gospel and song service to-night at 8 o'clock. Topic, "Trust."

Too Late to be Caught.

A printing office is considered by many persons to be a rather tough place and a newspaper worker likely to be a bad man. "Statistics, however, do not bear out that idea," said a police captain to a Philadelphia Bulletin reporter. "In looking over a book containing the records of prisoners I find that in the state penitentiary of of Texas, out of 3,890 convicts there is not a single newspaper man or printer. There were, however, ministers, doctors, bankers, barbers, photographers, barkeepers, cooks and members of all other professions and callings." In Kingston penitentiary there is not one printer.

Once Again

We would remind the public of the change in the late Mr. Hatrick's meat market. Mr. Jas. Hutchinson, the genial clerk, who has conducted the said business at 387 Watar street, will continue to do so for Messrs. Kennedy & Nelson, who are always open to investment, kindly took the business off the hands of the executors. The store has been greatly improved, having been papered, painted and remodelled and altogether presents a very neat and finished appearance. Old as well as new customers are cordially invited to call. See adv. on page five. 2d

Repairing the Locks.

Mr. R. B. Rogers, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, was in town on Wednesday, and looked over the Government works. The breastwork from the north end of the dam towards Petrie's mill is to be gravelled at once and made tight. The Lock platform will be repaired in the spring, and probably the upper wharf and entrance to the wharf will be attended to. This last repair should undoubtedly be done at once, while the water can be lowered, and without interruption to navigation. The traffic on Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes is of great importance to the district, and the maintenance of the works at this point to hold the height of water on the upper lake, and give quick and easy access through the locks, demands the closest attention.

The Globe Annual and Encyclopaedia For 1897.

As announced before to our readers The Globe annual and Encyclopedia for the coming year will be ready for issue about the 1st of December.

The publishers of this valuable work are sparing neither time nor money in making it the standard book of information for Canada.

Containing, as it does, between 400 and 450 pages of data, statistics and general information, and bound in a handsome and durable cover, it cannot fail to create a wide demand.

Already orders are coming in from all parts of Canada for the book, and those who wish to obtain a high class authoritative reference book should order at once.

RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of the Examiner

DEAR SIR,—I notice in yesterday's Globe a report of a deputation of ministers who waited upon the Ontario Government to urge the latter to make the Bible a text book in the schools and to impose still further burdens upon the already overburdened pupils. Is it possible that the dear ministers of the Gospel are thus willing to confess the failure of their work and to unload a part of their responsibility upon the teachers, who are, as a rule, as little qualified to teach religion as the average minister is to teach school? I, for my part, do not want anything of the kind. We have thousands of ministers, paid big salaries to preach the Gospel and instruct their flocks in morals, and if they fail to give, or fail to qualify parents to give, the necessary religious instruction to their children, aided by an army of Sunday school teachers, they (the ministers) should be ashamed of themselves. We do not want our children taught religion (which is too sacred a thing for experimental dabbling) in the schools, that are specially designed for imparting secular learning. Our children are piled with home lessons to the top notch now; so much time is taken up with the frills of education—Temperance and hygiene, etc., and so little time is left for the real object of the schools, that teachers give big lessons to be learned at home, when growing children should be at play or in bed; and we see little tots staggering home under a back-load of books, bigger than the library of the average backwoods cottage. Give our children good, sound secular education. See that the ministers and Sunday school teachers do their share, or in case of default, get somebody that will. I have no sympathy with those who wish to shirk their share of work and want to unload it upon the already overworked teachers. Every man to his trade—the parson to his preaching, the teacher to his task.

The Ontario Government has had my support in the past, but if they add another burden—if they pursue a policy of converting our schools into churches, and our teachers into amateur parsons, and feeding our children on milk and water theology and ethics, I shall have to find a new place on the ballot for my cross.

I want good schools, and am willing to pay for them; I want the teachers to teach what they are paid to teach. Let the ministers do what they are paid to do, and they will find little time to dabble in secular matters, and to try to unload upon teachers the responsibility of religious teaching—which is their mission. Ne surtor ultra crepidam.

Yours, etc.,

PARENT.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The big twelve-ton roller, drawn by four horses was being utilized to level George street to-day.

—A citizen points out that the broken stone which is being placed on George street is not crushed fine enough. Specifications generally call for the stone to be broken to such a size as to pass through a two-inch ring.

—The spruce forests rival the great white pine in its value to Ontario. Canada has the largest supply of spruce—paper making material—in the world, and it will soon prove a source of great wealth to the provinces.

—If you want to economize burn the People's Coal Coy's coal. All kinds of coal in stock, including best hard coal for stoves and furnaces, soft coal for grates, and smithing coal. Office—230 Charlotte street. Telephone 36d.

—The village of Bancroft is taking great interest in the smelter which the Irondale and Bancroft railway intend to erect at that place. The furnace will employ 75 men, but 1,000 will be employed at the various mines in the neighbourhood.

—This is a year of abundance. In fruit, vegetables and cereals it is hard to tell which is in the greatest quantity. People are able to stock their cellars this fall for a few dollars. $10 will buy quite a quantity of apples, potatoes, pumpkins, turnips, beets, carrots and cabbages.

—In view of the hideousness of the made-up birds upon women's hats, a lover of the feathered tribe hopes the hideousness will be progressive and that the milliner-made bird will become so frightful the feminine sex will rise in a body and refuse to wear corpses of slaughtered singers upon their heads any longer.

The "Ontarios" expect to place three teams on the ice this this winter and no doubt under able management everyone of them will prosper.

Hec. Read, who played for the Toronto Bank team, Toronto, last year will be quite an acquisition to the "Ontarios" this season.

The "Ontarios" will enter into communication with clubs in the district at once and a good programme will be furnished from early in the season.

The boys express commendation at the active steps taken by the management of the rink in making enlargements, thus affording the hockey club a rink for themselves. The work is progressing.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. LXXVII.

We offer this week a characteristic poem of Brownings. As everyone knows, Browning is not an easy poet to read. He demands careful thought and close attention. The following poem is no exception to the rule; the third speaker is especially difficult, until we come to the last two stanzas which interpret what has gone before. The object of the poem is to portray "three stages in the development of religion. The poet presents first a picture of the worship of a trascendent deity in the splendid Hebrew ritual." The second speaker pictures "the sad effect of modern criticism upon faith. The presence of Christ in the world is pictured as a star that had come to the earth and opened, revealing the actual presence of God. Driven away by critical unbelief, the star had closed, and and retreated, leaving the earth desolate, and man sadly recognizing himself as the highest in the universe." In the third Scene Faith is again restored. Not the faith of the Hebrew in a transcendent God, far away in the heavens, but faith in an indwelling God "in whom we live and move and have our being."

EPILOGUE.

FIRST SPEAKER.

I.

On the first of the Feasts of Feasts,
The Dedication Day.
When the Levites joined the Priests
At the Altar in robed array,
Gave signal to sound and say,—

II.

When the thousands, rear and van,
Swarming with one accord,
Became as single man.
(Look, gesture, thought and word)
In praising and thanking the Lord,—

III.

When the singers lift up their voice,
And the trumpets made endeavour,
Sounding, "In God rejoice."
Saying, "In Him rejoice
Whose mercy endureth forever!"

IV.

Then the Temple filled with a cloud,
Even the House of the Lord;
Porch bent and pillar bowed,
For the presence of the Lord,
In the glory of His cloud,
Had filled the House of the Lord.

SECOND SPEAKER.

Gone now! All gone across the dark so far,
Sharpening fast, shuddering ever, shutting still,
Dwindling into the distance, dies that star
Which came, stood, opened once! We gazed our fill
With upturned faces on as real a face
That, stooping from grave music and mild fire,
Took in our homage, made a visible place
Through many a depth of glory, gyre on gyre,
For the dim human tribute. Was this true?
Could man indeed avail, mere praise of his,
To help thy rapture God's own rapture too,
Thrill with a heart's red tinge that pure pale bliss?
Why did it end? Who failed to beat the breast,
And shriek, and throw the arms protesting wide,
When a first shadow showed the star addressed

Itself to motion, and on either side
The rims contracted as the rays retired;
The music, like a faun sin'sickening pulse,
Subsided on itself; awhile transpired
Some vestige of a face no pangs convulse,
No prayer retard; then even this was gone,
Lost in the night at last. We, lone and left
Silent through centuries, ever and anon
Venture to probe again the the vault bereft
Of all now save the lesser lights, a mist
Of multitudinous points, yet suns, man say—
And this leaps ruby, this lurks amethyst.
But where may hide what came and loved our clay?
How shall the sage detect in yon expanse
The star which chose to stoop and stay for us?
Unroll the records! Hailed ye such advance,
Indeed, and did your hope evanish thus?
Watchers of twilight, is the worst averred?
We shall not look up, know ourselves are seen,
Speak, and be sure that we again are heard,
Acting or suffering, have the disk's serene
Reflect our life, absorb an earthly flame.
Nor doubt that, were mankind inert and numb,
Its core had never crimsoned all the same.
Nor, missing ours, its music fallen dumb?
O, dread succession to a dizzy post,
Sad sway of sceptre whose mere touch appals,
Ghastly dethronement, cursed by those the most,
On whose repugnant brow the crown next falls.

THIRD SPEAKER.

I.

Witless alike of will and way divine,
How Heaven's high with earth's low should intertwine!
Friends, I have seen through your eyes, now use mine.

II.

Take the least man of all mankind, as I:
Look at his head and heart, find out how and why
He differs from his fellows utterly;

III.

Then, like me watch, when nature by degrees
Grows alive around him, as in Arctic seas
(They said of old) the instinctive water flees

IV.

Toward some elected point of central rock,
As though, for its sake only, roamed the flock
Of waves about the waste; awhile they mock

V.

With radiance caught for the occasion—hues
Of blackest hell now, now such reds and blues
As only heaven could fitly interfuse—

VI.

The mimic monarch of the whirlpool, king
Of the current for a minute; then they wring
Up by the roots and overswoop the thing,

VII.

And hasten off, to play again elsewhere
The same part, choose another peak as bare,
They find and flatter, feast and finish there.

VIII.

When you see what I tell you—nature dance
About each man of us, retire, advance,
As though the pageant's end were to enhance

IX.

His worth, and—once the life, his product, gained—
Roll away elsewhere, keep the strife sustained,
And show thus real, a thing the North but feigned,—

X.

When you acknowledge that one world could do
All the diverse work, old yet ever new,
Divide us, each from other, me from you,—

XI.

Why, where's the need of Temple, when the walls
O' the world are that? What use of swells and falls
From Levites' choir, Priests' cries, and trumpet calls?

XII.

That one Face, far from vanish, rather grows,
Or decomposes but to recomposes,

Residence—176 Harvey Street, Peterborough.

At first thought it seems impossible that any human being should wilfully embrace death. Yet thousands of women daily court the grim-visaged monster. Some do so through ignorance and others through wilful neglect. The woman who neglects to look after the health of the organs most essential to her womanhood ignorantly or wilfully courts death, and death in a slow and agonizing form. Ills of this description render a woman's life a daily burden and approaching motherhood a menace to the grave.

An infallible cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on these organs. It prepares the maid for wifehood and the wife for motherhood. It does away with the usual discomforts of the period preceding motherhood. It insures a healthy baby and makes parturition easy and comparatively painless. Thousands of women have testified to its wonder-working virtues. Get it at the druggists and refuse all substitutes. There is nothing "just the same" or "just as good." The druggist who tells you there is, is either mistaken or dishonest.

"I am very thankful to you indeed for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. Etta E. Smith, of Grenola, Elk Co., Kansas. "About a month before I was confined I had such pains I could stand up only a little while at a time. I could not rest at night at all, nor at any other time. I could scarcely eat anything at all. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after the second dose I felt better. From then until I was sick, I carried nearly all the water that was used, up a long hill and worked in the garden every day, besides my other work, and did not feel at all bad. When the baby was born the doctor and the women who were with me said I had a very easy time. The women said I had an easier time than any one they ever saw for the first time. The baby is very healthy and growing right along. I got up when she was five days old and have been up ever since. After two days I began my own work in the garden, and felt stout and healthy. The baby is now a month old."

In nine cases out of ten sickness is caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, speedy and safe cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

AN EXCITED MEETING.

The British South Africa Company Appear to Have Had a Rousing Time.

London, Nov. 6.—An excited and extremely uproarious meeting of the directors and shareholders of the British South Africa Company was held in London this afternoon, the Duke of Abercorn presiding. The Duke of Fife, Lord Gifford and Sir Horace Farquhar were among those in attendance. The shareholders rejected a scheme formulated by the directors for an underwriting of new shares, and the result of the vote caused great excitement.

The Duke of Abercorn was cheered as he arose to address the meeting from the chair. The outbreak of the natives in Rhodesia, he said, had been unforeseen and had cost heavily, exhausting the fund of £500,000 in cash which the British South Africa Company had on hand last February. The outbreak had been quelled, however, the rinderpest, which had worked great havoc in the company's territory, was abating, and the general outlook had encouraged the directors to bring forward the proposed increase of the company's capital by £2,000,000 in shares of £1 each. The Duke said he could not discuss the Jameson raid or the resignation of Mr. Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Beit from the directory of the company until after a parliamentary committee had made an enquiry into the events which had occurred in South Africa affecting the company. The motion to increase the capital of the company was seconded by the Duke of Fife. Shareholder De Pass protested against the proposed increase, but the Duke of Abercorn nevertheless declared, amid great confusion, that the increase had been carried. The Duke then moved that the meeting approve the arrangements which had been made by the directors to underwrite £300,000 of these new shares. The motion was received with shouts of dissent and Mr. De Pass moved that the meeting give a direct negative to the underwriting proposal. Mr. De Pass' motion was carried by a large majority.

When the motion offered by the Duke of Abercorn was lost, the Duke said: "Then I rely upon you to take up the shares." The uproar was renewed and several shareholders shouted: "Are the new shares intended to pay Krueger's indemnity?"

Finally, it was decided that the new shares should be issued without underwriting, the directors saying that they counted upon the shareholders subscribing the money.

WE WANT TO KNOW.

Not a Single Reply to our Question—Not a Failure to Cure—A Half-Million Users of Dodd's Kidney Pills Satisfied.

Toronto, Nov. 2 (Special)—Without a single reply, for over two years, we have advertised this question:—"Does anyone, anywhere, know of any case wherein Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure any kidney disease at any stage?"

We estimate that a half million people must have joined in using the two and a half million boxes already sold in Canada, and yet not a single complaint—not one failure to cure.

Now, reader, here's one for you:—Do you know of a death from kidney disease or of heart failure, the victim having used Dodd's Kidney Pills?

CANADA AND PARISIAN.

Both Made Fast Trips Across the Atlantic—General News From Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—The Dominion Line steamship Canada came into port at 2.45 o'clock this afternoon. This is three hours ahead of her time to this port on her former trip.

The R.M.S. Parisian of the Allan Line, now on her way up the river, has had one of the most noteworthy voyages in her long career. Her passage, though not up to her best record, is, considering the season, unusually fast. She left Liverpool at 5 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 29, and after a wait of 11 hours at Moville for the mails, started for this port, making the passage in 5 days, 16 hours. The Parisian reached Rimouski at 4 a.m. yesterday, and is expected in port to-morrow afternoon. The Allan Liner's average speed between Innishowen Head and Heath Point was 14.66 knots.

The people around the City Hall are considerably exercised over a charge that has been made against several of the aldermen, the matter having come to light in the following manner:

Mr. George Tempt has taken an action against the City of Montreal in order to have annuled a bilaw permitting railway companies to receive money on account of the abattoirs. The plaintiff, amongst other things, alleges "that the sum of $6,000 was made over to members of the City Council, directly or indirectly, by the said company in order to adopt illegally by corruption the said resolutions by the City Council contrary to the law."

The other evening about dark two infants, newly born, were left at the door of the Grey Nunnery, Guy-street, one of them being dead and the other dying. The authorities are of the opinion that a crime has been committed, for just before the Sisters found the babes a man under the influence of liquor came to the door and asked to see the Superior, but before the rev. lady could get down he had disappeared.

Asst. Grand Chief Pierson of the Telegraphers is still hovering around and says a committee of the Order will soon have an interview with Mr. C. W. Spencer regarding matters of material interest to the company and the men.

A man giving his name as J. Balfour died to-night at the General Hospital in this city under peculiar circumstances. The man arrived at the Windsor Hotel a few days ago and registered as J. Balfour, city. Last night he was found unconscious in his room and removed to the General Hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from acute morphine poisoning. He remained unconscious all day and died to-night. All that could be found out about the man was that his name was J. Balfour Carmichael and that he came from Glasgow.

GENUINE HOG CHOLERA.

The Disease in Essex County Which is Causing Such Havoc Declared to be Such.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 6.—A number of the veterinary surgeons in Essex and Kent Counties have issued a statement that the so-called hog cholera which is causing such ravages at present is nothing but a lung disease caused by long white parasites preying upon the tissue of the lungs, but the Government staff of veterinary surgeons at Windsor have made a scientific investigation and are now convinced that it is genuine hog cholera. In spite of all they have been able to do the disease is spreading at an alarming rate, and now the Walker farm at Walkerville and the Robinson and Hurst farms at Sandwich South are quarantined. On the Walker farm 60 hogs were slaughtered yesterday and the rest are to be killed. Thirteen hogs, all that Hurst owned, were slaughtered yesterday. Dr. McEachran, the Dominion Government chief inspector, is on the spot aiding the local officers to stamp out the plague. The most stringent precautions are being taken in view of the terribly contagious nature of the disease. The carcasses of the animals killed have to be burned and the ashes buried in lime or in earth eight feet deep and covered with four inches of lime. The clothing of all persons who come into contact with the infected animals is to be boiled in a solution of carbolic acid, and the fences and woodwork of the pens in which the hogs were have to be burned.

CAME NEAR DROWNING.

Brantford and Port Rowan Duck Hunters Had a Thrilling Time in the Storm at Long Point.

Port Rowan, Ont., Nov. 6.—During the heavy gales raging here yesterday and throughout the night two of our townspeople, V. E. Brown and Clarence Brown, with friends, Messrs. Ashton and Cockshutt of Brantford, came near losing their lives. Early in the morning they all started after ducks, intending to spend a few days living on their yacht to save returning evenings. About 8 o'clock last night they noticed their boat rolling heavily and on inspection found to their dismay that the anchor would not hold. Immediately a small piece of sail was made to try and run in close to shore, but no sooner shown than was torn into shreds, until not a vestige of canvas remained. Having lost both skiffs in tow it began to look serious, when they began to signal the lifeboat by firing their guns. After shooting 70 rounds their signal was noticed. The wind made such a noise a gun could be heard no distance. The lifeboat immediately started to their assistance. All hands reached shore safely this morning. The crew of the lifeboat were called to meet at the Hotel Pearsall, where they were handsomely recompensed by the survivors, who were stopping there. The gale was the worst known for years.

False Statements Made to Reap Large Profits.

Diamond Dyes Hold the Fort Everywhere.

The false statements, "just as good as the 'Diamond,'" "Put up same as the Diamond Dyes," used by many dealers in order to sell worthless and crude dyes, are sufficient to stamp them as mean and dishonorable. Such men are capable of any form of business dishonesty.

The common dyes are offered to you simply because the dealer makes a far greater profit out of them than he can from the sale of Diamond Dyes.

Ladies, you who buy these common dyes, are the sufferers; the dealer pockets your money, leaving you to chagrin, loss and disappointment.

The experiences of long years point to the Diamond Dyes as first and best. With them your work is well and quickly done, and you derive a satisfaction that you have saved time and money. Use only the "Diamond"; beware of the JURY AS GOOD kind.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly. I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. Fields, Bloomfield, Ia.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
ALWAYS CURE

After Ten Years Suffering

Two Box Cure

Milverton, 29th July, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

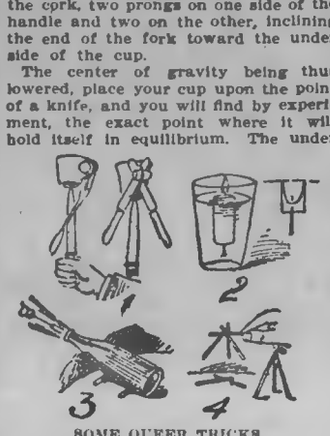
SOME QUEER TRICKS.

Odd Ways in Which French Youngsters Amuse Themselves.

To balance a cup of coffee on the point of a knife is a feat not many of us would undertake with any hope of success; but with the aid of a few accessories which are readily at hand the trick may be made comparatively simple. A cork, a fork—these are all the implements necessary, only do not forget to have on hand a little adroitness.

Put a cork of proper size into the handle of a cup of coffee so that it will fit securely and solidly, though not so tightly as to run any risk of breaking the handle. Stick a fork in the cork, two prongs on one side of the handle and two on the other, inclining the end of the fork toward the under side of the cup.

The center of gravity being thus lowered, place your cup upon the point of a knife, and you will find by experiment, the exact point where it will hold itself in equilibrium. The under



SOME QUEER TRICKS.
1. The Terror of Housekeepers. 2. A Peculiar candlestick. 3. The Cannon Shot. 4. The Problem of the Three Matches.

side of the cup usually being glazed, you must keep the hand that holds the knife steady. In the beginning you would do better to keep your other hand near the handle of the fork, so that you could seize it quickly in case of the danger of a fall.

Perhaps if you want to be entirely sure of your morning coffee you would better drink it before making your first experiment.

One of the little domestic details that surprised me most when I was first in Paris was a glass of water doing duty as a candlestick. But in spite of its simplicity, it perfectly supported the candle, and was in all points of usefulness quite the equal of any candlestick going. Only you must know the little dodge of preparing the candle.

You have only to pierce the end of a candle with a nail, but you must take great care that your nail is of just the right weight to carry the candle entirely under water; that is to say, the water must be just even with the top of the candle without wetting the base of the wick.

Then light the wick, and you may safely wager that in spite of the unfavorable element into which it is plunged, your candle will burn to the very end.

This seems extraordinary at first, but a little reflection will make the reason of it clear. You see, if the burning shortens the candle and so seems likely to bring the wick in contact with the water, on the other hand, the weight of the candle is diminished in just the same proportion and so ascends, little by little.

I have often vainly tried to analyze, especially on the national holidays, why it is that boys find a big noise more amusing than all other sports combined. I only know that they do; that to touch off a cannon, to hear the roar which frightens nervous people, to see a ball spin into the air with the rapidity of lightning, and to watch the consequent recoil is the greatest fun alive. So I am going to tell you how to produce these effects in the most innocent manner possible.

First procure at any drug store the two little packages of powder that are used in making seltzer water. Then take an empty bottle of thick glass like the one indicated in the illustration, and fill it about a third full of water. Dissolve in this water the bicarbonate of soda contained in one of the little packages, and put the powder of the other (tartaric acid) into a card rolled up into the form of a cylinder. Plug up one end of this little cylinder with a wad of blotting paper, and suspend your cartridge thus made to the cork of the bottle by means of a pin to which a thread is attached.

Force this cork with its little attachment well into the bottle, and behold, your artillery charged. All that remains to be done is to fire it off. To do this, it is only necessary to place the bottle horizontally on two lead pencils placed parallel upon the table. The water at once penetrates the tube of pastebord, dissolves the tartaric acid, and the carbonic acid gas suddenly produced forces the cork out with a violent explosion, while by the effect of reaction the bottle rolls back upon the lead pencils, imitating exactly the recoil of a piece of artillery.

Some time when you want to entertain your friends after dinner, propose to them the problem of the three matches. Make a slit in the end of one match, and after slightly sloping with a knife the end of a second match introduce it into the opening of the first in such a way as to form an acute angle. Now stand them up on the table and lean a third against them as indicated in the design. Hand a fourth match to anyone present and ask him to lift in the air with its aid the three others all together.

The solution of it is indicated in the illustration:

Just lean the fourth match lightly against the first in order to let the third fall under the one which you hold. Then lower the hand so that the third may pass into the angle formed by the first two. Now lift into the air the match which you hold in your hand and the others will come with it, two on one side and one on the other.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

HE TAKES THE SAME.

They stood together at the stile
As tenderly he breathed her name
And whispered, "Dearest, will you, while Life lingers, always be the same?"

Confidingly she raised her face
To his, her eyes with love aflame,
And answered, "While the stars hold place Above us I will be the same."

Alas! she jilted him; but he
Her pledge in sacredness did frame,
And to refresh his memory
Is often seen to take "the same."

The American People's Party.

Just now the platform of this party's demands (condensed) is interesting: 1. A national currency issued only by the general government, a full legal tender for all debts. 2. Free and unrestricted coinage of gold and silver alike at the ratio of 16 to 1. 3. A speedy increase in the volume of currency sufficient to meet the demands of business and restore the former just prices of labor and its products. 4. Denounces the sale of bonds except when especially authorized by Congress. 5. Demands laws to prevent demonetization of lawful money by private contract. 6. Demands that our government shall exercise its legal right and pay its debts in gold or silver at its own option, not at the creditor's option. 7. Demands a graduated income tax as really constitutional. 8. Demands postal savings banks as furnishing safe means to aid the industrious in time to own homes; denounces land speculation and grants of mineral lands to railways; advocates the "initiative" and the "referendum" in legislation; demands national ownership and control of railroads, especially of those built by national aid or credit; and demands the national ownership and control of the telegraph, like the postoffice system, in the interests of the people.

The Eyes of Animals.

Those who have seen wolves' eyes speak of them as little and crafty. The fox looks out of the corners of his eyes without turning his head as he trots past some one he has met unexpectedly. It has been asserted that a snake's eyes have a hypnotic influence over its prey. Certain it is that the eyes play a very important part in the unexplained phenomena of charming birds and beasts. One of the curious experiences which few, if any, hunters have escaped is the feeling that something, they do not know what, is looking at them. As the hunter walks along this feeling comes over him. He casts his glances about, getting decidedly nervous to think of what may be after him—a panther, a she bear perhaps. Sometimes the beast, whose gaze seems thus to be felt has been seen. There are a dozen authentic tales where panthers being seen after th men had fled to camp. Hunters tell how deer have started off on the jump, though the beasts could have neither heard nor seen nor smelt the men. They, too, seemed to feel they were followed.—New York Sun.

How many young men and women are cut off just as the future seems brightest fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which the doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

IN A VERY CURIOUS MANNER

DID MR. FERRIER GET HIS FIRST INKLING OF CORUNDUM.

Found in Carlow Lands—The Find Will Likely Lead to the Opening up of an Industry, Owing to the Abrasive Value of the Material—What Corundum is.

(Toronto World's Correspondence.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—The recent discovery of corundum in Hastings county by Mr. W. F. Ferrier, lithologist of the Geological Survey Department, came about in a somewhat curious way. He had recognized the mineral amongst a number of crystals labelled "Pyroxene, Township of Carlow," which came into his possession some time ago, and on communicating the facts to Dr. Dawson, director of the survey, was authorized by him to visit Carlow township and endeavour to locate the mineral and determine the extent of the deposits. Mr. Ferrier was accompanied by Mr. A. Cole, and after considerable difficulty found the mineral on the 14th lot of the 14th concession of Carlow township, in Hastings county. The corundum was found to occur in a coarse-grained red, felspathic rock, which forms, together with red and brown micaceous gneiss, a perpendicular cliff from 80 to 100 feet high at the base of a sloping mountain. Well developed crystals, often of large size, and generally of a grayish or brownish colour, as well as irregular masses of the corundum are thickly distributed through the rock, and the mineral was observed throughout this rock for a distance of about 300 feet across the strike, and traced along the strike for about 700 feet. The interest of the find lies not in the possibility of the discovery of the gem varieties of the mineral, ruby and sapphire, which is improbable in view of the nature of the occurrence, but in the fact that this is the first time that the mineral has been found to exist in Canada in any quantity and that it is valuable as an abrasive material on account of its great hardness, which, in the pure mineral, is next to that of the diamond. Corundum is an oxide of aluminum, the crystalized varieties being essentially pure, whilst the granular variety, to which the name "emery" is given, contains more or less impurities, chiefly magnetite and hematite. The transparent purer kinds of blue and colors constitute the gems sapphire and ruby. These usually occur as rolled pebbles in river beds, or as crystals imbedded in limestone, as in the famous ruby mines of Burmah. As already stated, the value of the mineral lies in its employment as an abrasive material, and statistics show that there is a widespread market for it. The supply of the mineral in the United States comes chiefly from North Carolina, small quantities of emery being also obtained in Winchester County, New York State. The finer grades of emery continue to be imported from Turkey and Greece. Should further investigation prove the existence of this mineral in large quantities in Hastings County, it will, without doubt, lead to the opening up of an important industry.

The Ontario Gazette will to-morrow contain notice of application for a charter for incorporation of the Yum-Yum Gold Mining Company of Ottawa, limited, with a capital of $1,000,000. The first directors are C. Magee, J. Coates, J. Mather, Dennis Murphy, Edward Seybold and John Burns. All the stock is retained in about a dozen hands, including Messrs. Clark, Fraser and Burley Smith, who secured the claim. Mr. Smith is now at the mine with a dozen men already at work stripping the veins. The mine is located on Shoal Lake, near Rat Portage, and adjoins the famous Mikado. The promoters gave $35,000 for the property.

It is currently reported in the city that Judge Ross, the senior county judge of Carleton, will be retired very shortly. Mr. D. B. McTavish, City Solicitor of Ottawa, has been designated as likely to secure the position, but laterly strong influences have been at work for Mr. Frank Anglin of Toronto. It is thought here, however, that Mr. McTavish's chances are very good.

The contention put forth recently regarding a revision of the rules governing the Royal Military College, with a view either to a reduction in fee o else offering a number of free cadetships to senior scholars in the High schools, is borne out by the result of the advertisement of supplementary examinations, which were fixed for next Tuesday week, had any candidates presented themselves. Despite the publicity given not a single application has been received.

There are good prospects of a new opera house being built in Ottawa within a year. The Russell Company has succeeded in making a satisfactory arrangement with the tenants of the property in rear of the hotel where the opera house is to be located, by which the ground will be ready for active building operations in April next. It is hoped the new opera house will be ready for use by the fall of next year.

One of Ottawa's oldest and most respected merchants, Mr. Thomas Beament, for many years in business on Sparks-street, died in London, England, yesterday.

It is reported that the reason why the mails are not being carried on the steamship Canada is because the Dominion Line would not accept the same subsidy as is paid to other steamers.

RYCKMAN'S KOOTENAY CURE.

A Lost Voice Restored—Unexpected Deliverance—Praise Given Where Praise Was Due.

Monastery of Our Lady of Charity,
411 St. Andrew Street,
OTTAWA, May 19, 1896.

S. S. Ryckman, Esq.,
Hamilton, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—You must have found it strangely ungrateful on our part never to have thanked you for the Kootenay Cure you were so kind as to send us last winter. The fact is we had it a long time before we knew to whom we were indebted, until Rev. Father McGuckin, Rector of the Ottawa University, told us that he had sent you our name and you were kind enough to send the medicine gratis.

Those amongst our sisters who took it find themselves much benefitted, especially cases of Indigestion, poverty of the blood, and the after effects of the Grippe. But there is one thing it cures which we have not noticed in your publications, and which we are happy to be able to announce to all great singers. One of our singers who sings in our choir took the Grippe last December. She was ill a long time, as it specially affected the bronchial tubes, and although she recovered slowly, still continued weak. Her voice, however, remained so husky that she had to give up singing altogether. About two weeks ago she began to try the Kootenay Cure, and besides feeling stronger, finds her voice coming back so quickly that she is already able to sing short pieces.

Thanking you heartily for the medicine you sent us and recommending it to all sufferers, and especially to all singers, we have the honour to be sir,

Your humble servants,
THE SISTERS OF OUR LADY OF CHARITY,
GOOD SHEPHERD.

ATTEMPTED WRECK.

The Fredericton Express Had a Narrow Escape From Destruction.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 6.—An attempt was made to-day to wreck a C.P.R. train about two miles from this city. The Flying Yankee passed the place shortly after 8 o'clock and the track was clear. When the Fredericton Express was approaching the place at about 9, the engineer saw an obstruction on the rails just as he was entering a rock cutting. He applied the brakes and reversed his engine, and thus saved many lives, as had the train struck the pile of nail kegs and timber a terrible disaster would have occurred. Two freight trains were due to pass the spot ahead of the Fredericton train, but one was late and the other was held until the arrival of the express.

HE SHOT HIMSELF.

That is the Verdict in the Case of Architect Day of Guelph.

Guelph, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—An inquest was called at 7 o'clock this evening in the case of Architect Day, whose dead body was discovered this morning. Mr. W. S. Jackson was appointed foreman. After the evidence was taken the following verdict was brought in: "That the deceased John Day came to his death by shooting himself in the head on or about Nov. 4, during a fit of despondency caused by ill-health and reverses in business."

Defying the Probs

AND FORCING THE SEASON.

We Can't Change the Weather

BUT WE CAN CHANGE OUR PRICES.

At no time of the year are we satisfied to sell at regular prices. At no time of the year can we afford to allow unseasonable weather to clog our business. Our stocks must keep on the move. We're constantly running across lots of goods offered to us at Special Prices. That means ample opportunity to discount the trade in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings without any trouble. Please remember that this business is PERSISTENTLY in advance of every other, and that prices here are always, with seldom an exception, the LOWEST.

We start off this week with a double head of steam to Reduce all our prices on all our stock, and make business boom in defiance of the mild weather.

WHEAT'S UP! CLOTHING'S DOWN! We quote below a few sample prices that tell the tale of how well we are loaded up with Bargains all over our two BIG STORES

OPEN WAR EXPECTED

Between the Wool Growers and Manufacturers.

THE U.S. TARIFF TO BE REVISED

Mr. Dingley Will Set to Work on a General Tariff Measure as Soon as the New Administration Gets Into Harness—Wool to be Protected.

New York, Nov. 7.—The McKinley administration is not going to lose any time, according to excellent information, in enacting a new tariff bill ti raise adequate revenue for the support of the Government along the lines indicated by Mark Hanna in a recent public interview. There is to be an extra session of Congress called without delay after March 4, and the enactment of a bill restoring strong protective duties on wool and woolens and other manufactured articles will be pushed through.

Chairman Dingley of Maine, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee of the present Congress will, as soon as Congress convenes, construct a general tariff bill. The course pursued will be similar to that taken a year ago, when holiday week was devoted to formal public hearings. Pressure may extend the time a few days, but every effort will be made to put rigid limits upon it, so that the horde of protected interests will not have time to swoop down on the Capitol and hold up the committee. But it will require a longer time than the Republican leaders intend for the completion of a tariff bill. None would be more willing to admit this than Major McKinley and Chairman Dingley, who have had much experience in such work. Their purpose simply is to make all the progress possible at the coming session in order to hasten the work of the special session. There appears to be little doubt that the Republicans will have a safe tariff majority in the Senate. They may not have upon the face of returns a majority of Senators who are both for a new tariff and the maintenance of the gold standard, but they can rely upon the support of two or three moderate silver Republicans to consitute a tariff majority. It is not believed that the silver minority will filibuster against a new tariff bill, with prospects of two years of the new Congress before them, but the usual deliberation of the Senate may postpone the passage of the bill until late in the summer. The new tariff bill will raise rates all along the line, in accordance with the declared policies of the Republican party.

The promise of a new schedule of duties, to go into effect next August, simply means that the warehouse will be choked to suffocation with imported wools and woolens during the time which passes before the new law takes effect. The only alternative is the passage of the Dingley bill of the last Congress within the next four months, before wool and woolen goods can be largely imported. The wool growers are not willing to accept this program, even if it could be carried out, because they are not satisfied with the duties on wool in the Dingley bill, and they fear that if they submit to these it will be very difficult to obtain better terms later.

Open war is likely to break out over this mattter between the wool-growers and the manufacturers. The Republicans do not propose to potter with any suggestions from Sound Money Democrats that the tariff should be let alone because of the combination of influences which elected McKinley. They declare that the demand for higher protection contributed to the sweep of the Republican victory in West Virginia, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota and Iowa, and to the increase of the Republican vote in Tennessee and Kentucky. The increase in duty on agricultural products will be especially intended as a recognition of the loyalty of the Republican farmers of North New York and Michigan and Minnesota, whose products come directly in competition with those of the Canadian provinces along the border.

Detroit, Nov. 7.—Senator McMillan, in an interview to-day in regard to Mr. McKinley's calling an extra session of Congress, after his inauguration as President, said: "The less Congress is in session the better. It is impossible at this time to judge as to the probabilities of a special session. We want to see how the Wilson bill will operate under the new order of things. It depends on importations. If the receipts of revenues should increase sufficiently to meet the expenses of the Government, I doubt whether a special session would be called. If, however, they should prove insufficient, prompt measures would, I suppose, be demanded. Republican action on tariff revision is, in the future, a subject for consultation with the Sound Money Democrats—a subject for consultation and compromise."

A MOST SOLEMN HOUR.

Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface Discourses on the School Question in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface spoke on the school question at the ceremonies attending the reopening of St. Mary's Church, this city, to-night. He congratulated the congregation on their zeal in improving that church and said:

"If we did not hope in the future of this country; if we did not hope for a restoration of the liberties secured to us by the constitution, we would not increase our churches. I would not have given such permission in this case. Our hopes, it is true, have not always been realized, but surely we are now on the point of securing forever that most sacred right by which Catholic parents can have their children educated in the teaching of their religion. We need a church to come and pray for our schools. We need to do this because the hour is a most solemn one. It is to me, to know what they mean to do with us and what they have done. If our rights are to be secured; if we are to have what is most certainly given us by the constitution, the sacred right of educating our children according to our faith, it is all right. We will accept; but if things have been settled on other lines, and if our rights have been sacrificed, it is no political question, it is a question of justice, it is a question of the constitution, it is a question of the Catholic conscience, and each one of you, no matter who you are, must in the matter consult his Catholic conscience, directed by his Church, and also consult the constitution. Your children belong to you by nature; they belong to the Church, to me, by grace, and consequently we are both bound to see that their rights to a Catholic education in this country are safeguarded. Caesar must protect the right of the people; Caesar must uphold the constitution; Caesar must provide the means to see and insist upon every child receiving a first-class secular education. This is the right of Caesar and we recognize he has that right; but there are also the rights of Christian parents, and who is the man with authority to dispose of them and barter them away? Your children must not only have a mere smattering of religious teaching; there must be no question of bringing Christ into the school at a certain hour, but He must reign in that school as He should reign over the whole earth. When you have satisfied the state by giving proper secular education, the state has nothing to do with the rest, that is our business. I feel quite satisfied that the honest people of Manitoba, if properly consulted, would be quite willing to give us what we ask—to declare that if we were not in the hands of politicians who act for their own interests, and if we could leave it to the honest common people of the country, who would look only to what is right and just, the question would immediately be settled according to equity, justice and the constitution." His Grace concluded by asking his hearers to pray that the time might be near when they should enjoy the rights they were entitled to as free men and as British subjects.

SOUTHERN HOCKEY ASSOCIATION.

Annual Meeting Held at Hamilton—Practically No Change in Districts.

Hamilton, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Southern Hockey Association was held in the St. Nicholas Hotel on Saturday night. Among the delegates present were: C. W. Lawton and J. K. Martin, Paris; W. L. Gibson, Brantford; P. A. Kerr and R. L. Innes, Simcoe; F. P. Walsh and P. E. Best, Niagara-on-the-Lake; F. C. McBurney and H. P. Stephens, Niagara Falls; A. L. Hamilton and A. N. Myer, Dunnville; Norman Clark, Woodstock; W. Windham and E. J. Leith, Hamilton Victorias.

The members of the latter club are strenuously objecting to the grouping of the clubs, and demand classification with the Western district clubs, otherwise they threaten to withdraw from the association. The chief objection the Victorias have to the Eastern district appears to be the twelve-mile drive from St. Catharines to Niagara-on-the-Lake.

After a prolonged discussion it was decided to make practically no change in the districts, Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Niagara-on-the-Lake and Dunnville being placed in the Eastern district, and Paris, Woodstock, Simcoe and Brantford in the Western district. It was decided to reduce the annual club dues to $3, with an initiation fee of $2. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President, William Wyndham, Hamilton; Vice-Presidents, Eastern, P. E. Best, Niagara-on-the-Lake; Western, J. S. Armitage, Paris; Secretary-Treasurer, H. P. Stephens, Niagara Falls; Executive Committee, Harvey Powell, Woodstock; W. L. Gibson, Brantford; R. L. Innes, Simcoe, and A. N. Myer, Dunnville.

HIS WAGON WAS SMASHED.

A Kleinburg Farmer Got in the Way of a C.P.R. Train and Was Hurt.

Woodbridge, Nov. 7.—As the C. P. R. train due here at 6.15 was passing a crossing it collided with the rig of Farmer Greenwood of Kleinburg, who was returning home from Toronto. The wagon was broken in two and the horses ran until they reached here, when they were stopped. The injured man was taken aboard the train and conveyed to the Dominion Hotel, Woodbridge, where medical aid was summoned.

AS TO RECIPROCITY.

The Canadian Government Will Make a Move.

HON. MR. FIELDING'S STATEMENTS

The Finance Minister and Hon. Messrs. Paterson and Blair Went to New York to See the Close of the Campaign Mr. Fielding Was Interviewed.

New York, Nov. 8.—Three Canadian Cabinet Ministers felt sufficient interest in the Presidential election to come here several days before it took place in order to be on hand to watch the finish of the campaign and to see the election machinery at work. They came unheralded about ten days ago and remained quietly at the Hotel Waldorf until last night, when they left town to return to Ottawa. They are Hon. William S. Fielding, Minister of Finance; Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs, and Hon. Andrew G. Blair, Minister of Railways. They started for home apparently well pleased at the result of the election. They do not seem to share the opinion expressed by a large part of the Canadian press, that President McKinley will be unduly hostile to them on the reciprocity, fisheries, bonding negotiations, quarantine and other questions at issue between this country and Canada.

Mr. Fielding, who acted as spokesman for the party, when seen at the Waldorf last evening by a representative, said on this point: "No, I do not see any reason why Canadians should be alarmed at Mr. McKinley's election. I think the chances of arriving at an amicable arrangement regarding a number of questions over which Canada and the United States are at variance will be quite as good, if not better, after his inauguration than at any time in the last four years."

"Then you do not believe that the fact that Mr. McKinley is a protectionist will militate against Canadas chances of obtaining a reciprocity treaty?"

"I do not see why it should, for the Republican platform declares for both protection and reciprocity."

"The Canadian Government will, then, proceed to make overtures looking to a reciprocity treaty?"

"Certainly; and, unlike our predecessors in office, we shall be in earnest about it. We shall send representatives to Washington at as early a date as expedient after Mr. McKinley's inauguration, to ascertain whether negotiations can be opened on the subject of reciprocity. One of the first items to be discussed will be the quarantine regulations. The feeling exists that there is no further need for the 90 days' quarantine against cattle. Mr. Fisher, the Minister of Agriculture, will go to Washington at an early date to discuss this matter."

When asked about Sir Charles Tupper's avowed intention of proceeding at once to England to take steps to have Lord Aberdeen, the Canadian Governor-General, relieved because of his alleged over friendliness to the Liberal party during the recent crisis which led to the overthrow of the Tories, Mr. Fielding exclaimed: "Absurd; Lord Aberdeen never at any time exceeded his constitutional authority. The British Government, although now a Conservative one, would hardly interfere to make partisan capital in Canada to please a beaten and disgruntled politician."

"What do you think of the way in which an election is conducted here?" Mr. Fielding was asked.

"I spent nearly the whole of election day looking into your elective system while it was in active operation, and was agreeably surprised at what I saw. Your ballot system is vastly superior to what I had been led to believe, but there is still, I think, room for considerable improvement in it. You seem, however, to be getting very near to the Canadian system, under which absolute secrecy is secured. Perhaps, however, the Canadian system in its entirety would hardly suit a country in which there are so many candidates to be voted for at every election as in New York."

Mr. Fielding, who is an old newspaper man, expressed great admiration at the full and speedy manner in which the New York newspapers presented the election returns.

HE KNEW IT WAS LOADED.

But Didn't Know it Was Cocked, and the Result is About the Same Boy Badly Wounded.

Teeswater, Ont., Nov. 7.—This afternoon Archie Gillies, the 16-year-old son of Mr. A. Gillies, was accidentally shot. It seems that he, his brother and a chum had been out shooting. On returning they cleaned the gun and young Gillies picked up the empty gun, pointing it at his chum and remarked that he could hold up both of the others.

"Could you?" said the chum, picking up a cocked revolver lying on a table and pointing it at Gillies. At this juncture the revolver went off, the bullet entering the lower part of the throat and lodging in the shoulder. It was a case of knew it was loaded but did not know it was cocked. Serious results are not apprehended. Dr. Gillies, who was called, will probably probe for the bullet to-morrow or Monday.

A BIT OF ROMANCE.

But It Ended Up With a Suit for $2500 Damages, Brought by a Pretty Danish Barmaid.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Joseph R. Genereux, hotel-keeper, was yesterday afternoon, on complaint of Marie Iverson, formerly of Vamderup, Denmark, arrested on a charge of seduction and breach of promise of marriage, damages to the amount of $2500 being claimed. The accused was brought before Mr. Justice Curran, and in default of bail was committed to jail. The story of this case is a most romantic one. M. Genereux, so it is alleged, during a European tour last spring stopped over for some time at a small hotel in Vamderup, Denmark. There he met the plaintiff, who was barmaid of the establishment, and whom, despite, their differences of nationality and language, he succeeded in completely fascinating.

FARMER ELFORD'S CRIME.

Mentally Unbalanced He Cut His Throat While in Jail

Cobourg, Ont., Nov. 7.—This evening about 6 o'clock Robert Elford, who is an inmate of the county jail, cut his throat with a dinner knife and died in 20 minutes. Elford, who has well-to-do relatives, lived in Cramahe Township, and was sent to the infirmary ward at the county jail suffering from spine disease. He was a very intelligent man of 44 years of age, but became despondent because his relatives would not take care of him. This evening after tea had been served Elford took a dinner knife, walked to the water closet, and cut a deep gash across the front of his throat. He then walked back into the day room of the jail, holding the knife in his hand

STILL HAVE CONFIDENCE.

Last summer during the elections political pessimists were predicting that the return of the Liberals to power spelled blue ruin; that capital would take fright, that the wheels of industry would be paralyzed and a whole host of unmentioned evils would result. But the people did not believe these dismal forebodings, nor do subsequent events justify their correctness. The Montreal Herald has compiled a list of paragraphs from the many that are chronicled in the press, which by no means include all the enterprises that are taking on a new activity as an earnest of the confidence of capital in the present political regime:

A four story-high manufactory, 200 by 70 feet, is about to be established at St. Jerome, Quebec, for the purpose of manufacturing rubber goods.

The McMillan & Haynes Company of St. Catharines, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $30,000 to manufacture saws, axes, sythes, etc.

A. R. Burrows, of Guelph, proposes to establish a factory in Galt to manufacture carpets, chenille, etc.

The Canadian Manufacturer says that the Granby, Que., last works are making an addition to their buildings and adding two machines to their plants, having a considerable United States contracts, which makes the additions necessary.

The new pulp mill of the Sault Ste. Marie Pulp and Paper Company is expected to be running about the beginning of the new year. Then the company will have two mills in operation, capable of turning out daily 200 tons dry weight.

Harvey & Co., box manufacturers, Toronto, will rebuild on the Esplanade. Their new factory will be much larger than that which was burned down.

James King & Co., Sarnia, have rebuilt their flouring mill, recently burned down The new structure is of brick and stone four stories high.

Midland, Ont., is soon to have a large pulp mill. So is Sturgeon Falls, Ont.

The Ottawa Specialty Manufacturing Company, Ottawa, have been incoporated with a capical stock of $45,000, to manufacture wooden and metal ware etc.

Harlow & Kempton, Milton, have added to their planing factory.

The Waterous Company will put up a factory for wire drawing and cooperage.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

WHEN Sir Charles has run the Conservative party through the machine the result will be—hash.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S scheme for the reorganization of the Conservative party involves the uniting of the entire Conservative party of the Dominion into one "harmonious whole"—Dominion, provincial and municipal politics are to be fused into one pot—and a splendid dash is to be made for all the offices from premier to pound-keeper.

THE Montreal Herald under its new management shows sure signs of rejuvenation, One turns to its editorial pages with the assurance that he will find something there in reference to the public questions of the day well worth reading. Its news department shows a keen appreciation of the modern journal's duty to its readers. Its typography is excellent, and is, in every respect, a morning journal worthy of the great metropolis it represents.

ON two good authorities, Mr. Laurier is a double-dyed traitor. Sir Charles Tupper in his speech at Montreal charges Mr. Laurier, in respect of the settlement of the School question, with bribing Manitoba ministers to betray Manitoba, and on the same platform Mr. Tallon charges Mr. Laurier with betraying the minority. We have always regarded Mr. Laurier as a clever man, but we never knew how clever he was till these two gentlemen disclosed the secret. These two gentlemen have good cause for holding spite against Mr. Laurier. By his settlement of the School Question he has robbed them of their capital and politically bankrupted them. The only means they have of making further political capital out of the school question, is by opposing the acceptance of the settlement.

"QUEEN VICTORIA; HER LIFE AND REIGN."

J. Castell Hopkins' Great Work Under This Title.

One of the most notable books of the closing decade of the century is entitled "Queen Victoria; Her Life and Reign," by that brilliant historiographer, J. Castell Hopkins. The book is notable for several reasons. Because it is a complete history of the life and reign, with all that that implies, of a monarch who has swayed the royal sceptre of England not only longer than any precedent monarch, but longer than any monarch of history; whose reign has been marked by the greatest wisdom of administration and legislation; by the greatest progress in civil liberty by the greatest advance in all the arts of civilization. Because not only as a queen, but as a woman, she has shown a prudence and wisdom, and has "worn the white flower of a blameless life" to a degree that has enshrined her not only in the hearts of her millions of subjects but of the civilized world as well, as a peerless queen and pattern wife and mother. For this reason millions who have only a general knowledge of her career and noble qualities of character, will hail with delight a work like that of Mr. Hopkins, which is a reflex of her deeply interesting domestic and social life, and also furnishes a historic pageant of the great and glorious reign, the most momentous of history. The life of Her Majesty as maiden, wife, mother and widow, is so full of womanly sweetness in all these relations that every home will be brightened and elevated in which the beautiful incidents of her life are read in the graphic story of the writer of this book. Her reign is so studded with great achievements in every field that its history is to a very large extent the history of human progress during the last three score years. His Lordship Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto, in referring to this work thus beautifully and comprehensively sets forth its scope:—"The book is ably written and it recounts in graphic style the salient events of the longest and most remarkable reign recorded in British history. While reading its pages we see spread out before us a glorious panorama of the most thrilling events. We behold the triumph of the great empire in peace and war. We see the Empire constantly extending the sphere of well ordered liberty, enlarging the bounds of Christian civilization, and sowing the soil of its new acquisitions, with the fruitful seeds of human freedom and happiness, till the "universal majesty" of British peace and law spreads abroad over its multitudinous peoples, like the calm splendour of a summer day. How much the Queen influenced, moulded and directed the progress and greatness of the vast Empire, is well and ably told in the graphic pages of this interesting work."

This work has received not only this distinguished endorsation, but that also of such eminent men as Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Rev. A. Carman, D.D., Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. G. E. Foster, Rev. Dr. Thomas, Toronto, and Rev. Wm. Cochrane, D.D., Brantford, and also of Lord Dufferin, who has written the preface to the book, which contains the most eloquent tribute to the greatness of Canada's resources and capabilities yet put into print.

Hopkins' "Queen Victoria, Her Life and Reign," is a book of 500 large octavo pages of entirely Canadian production, and the printing, binding and illustrations are splendid specimens of the several arts involved. The illustrations are plentiful, including portraits of the Queen at several periods of her life—from childhood to the present—portraits of the other members of the royal family and pictures of her castles, of notable royal palaces and public buildings, portraits of the great statesmen who have served the Queen during the last sixty years, and of statesmen of eminence in Canada and the other colonies. This work in fine is a superb specimen of the bookmaker's art that will adorn any home, and as a comprehensive, beautifully illustrated and absorbingly interesting story of the life and reign of the greatest of British sovereigns, should, next to the Bible, be given a place of honour in every loyal Canadian home. It is published by subscription only, and Mr. John O'Donnell, is sole and only authorized agent for this town.

ALMOST SANK ANOTHER.

The Steamer Tiber Was Within Twenty Feet of Cutting Down a Second Fishing Schooner.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 7.—The steamer Tiber, which sank the three-masted schooner Maggie off this harbor last night, drowning thirteen people, nearly sank another schooner at midnight last night near Cape Spear, three miles from the scene of the sinking of the Maggie. The crew of the schooner experienced the greatest difficulty in attracting the attention of those on board the steamer to her presence. They burned flares, shouted lustily and resorted to every device possible to make the presence of the schooner known, but without avail. Finally, as a last resort, the mainsail was let go and allowed to drop with a crash. The noise made by this procedure must have attracted those on board the Tiber, for she immediately altered her course She passed within 20 feet of the schooner.

Inquiring Into It.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 7.—A magisterial inquiry into the Tiber collision is progressing to-day. It is reported that warrants have been issued for the arrest of the Tiber's captain, mate and lookout man when they arrive at Sydney. No bodies have been recovered from the schooner Maggie, the vessel that was run into and sunk by the Tiber.

A MARVELLOUS CURE.

Helped by the First Box—Could not Lift Fifty Pounds—Cured by a few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Arthur, Nov. 9 (Special).—Among his more intimate friends it has long been known here that Mr. J. C. Morrison had been gradually failing in health for many years. The acuteness of his sufferings was known only to a few. His complete recovery is a surprise here and is causing much talk. Of his cure he says:—"Yes I got help from the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I have taken fifteen boxes. I kept getting better every day. When I commenced I could not lift fifty pounds; now I am as strong and well as ever in my life."

A WAVE OF PROSPERITY.

Idle Clothing Factories at Egg Harbor, N. J., Start Up After Being Idle All Summer

Egg Harbor, N. J Nov 7.—Egg Harbor City has been struck by a wave of prosperity. Fifteen of the 33 clothing factories have resumed operations, after being idle all summer The knife handle factory has received orders for one year ahead, and the national parchment paper factory has enough orders on hand to employ thirty men all winter. A franchise for the erection of an electric light plant was also awarded by the city council last night.

No Grounds for a Boom.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Thomas Lloyd, the editor of The London Statist, descants upon the result of Tuesday's election in a cablegram to his paper in part as follows:

"The outcome of the election was a surprise to both parties. McKinley's majority is a decisive proof that the people are resolved to fulfil their obligations to the letter. The spirit of confidence has been strengthened, trade will now gradually improve and prosperity will return, but there are no grounds for a boom. It remains to be seen whether Republican leaders will prove equal to the occasion. The good reason for judicious speculation now, as properties are cheap. Investment is safe if care is exercised. The best of Americans hope for a slow recovery other than a boom."

Boom at Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 7.—The New Departure Bell Company works at Bristol Commons begin this week to run six days a week.

The spoon department of the Bristol Glass and Clock Company is running full time and may be working overtime within a few weeks. All the manufacturers in Bristol report an improved feeling in business and feel confident that an era of prosperity is at hand. Two firms are arranging for the enlargement of their plants.

Findlay Industries Booming.

Findlay, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The Dalzell, Gilmore & Creighton glass globe and window glass works, Findlay Clay Pottery Works and the Findlay Table Factory have started up on full time and with an increased number of hands to fill orders which were received contingent upon McKinley's election.

Preparing to Start Up.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Interviews with manufacturers show that nearly 30 concerns are preparing to start factories with a full force on full time within the next ten days.

Put on 100 More Men.

Shelby, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The Shelby Steel Tube Works, which has employed only 300 men all summer, has hired 100 more since the election. The Shelby Cycle Works is increasing its force.

Silk Mills to Start.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 7.—Cheney Bros. will start up their silk mills at South Chester on full time next week. They have been running on short time for several months.

ROBBED HIS BEDFELLOW.

A Chance Acquaintance Who Was Not Square—Drowning Case.

Kingston, Nov. 8.—Friday afternoon Nicholas Palmater came over from Cape Vincent. On the boat he met a man named N. McCormack, and the pair became quite friendly. On reaching Kingston they put up for the night, rooming together. At about 2 o'clock Saturday morning McCormack got out of bed and disappeared. At 3 o'clock Palmater discovered that $39 had been taken out of his trousers pocket, and the matter was reported to the police. P.C. McCullagh and Palmater started in pursuit of the suspect. He was run down at Napanee and brought back here for trial.

W. L. Hodgson of Sunbury, while temporarily insane, is supposed to have drowned himself in Rideau Canal. His hat was found among driftwood. H was a young and prosperous farmer. His body has not been recovered.

BOSTON SUFFERS FROM FIRE.

The Works of the Boston Bridge Company Gone Up in Smoke.

Boston, Nov. 7.—The large four-storey works of the Boston Bridge Company on Sixth-street, Cambridgeport, were burned to-night. Shortly after the fire started a number of terrific explosions occurred, greatly alarming the thousands of people who had been attracted by the fire. The explosions were caused by the oil used for heating rivets and other pieces of iron. Burning oil scattered all the flames to every part of the [illegible] D. H. Andrews of Keene, owner of the bridge works, places the loss at [illegible] on which $5,000 is on [illegible] with a total [illegible] of $75,000.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Saturday Was a Very Busy Day for the Premier.

TWO VERY IMPORTANT MATTERS

Which Occupied the Attention of Mr. Laurier—The Settlement of the School Question and the Instructions to the Pacific Cable Representatives—Other Items.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Yesterday was an exceptionally busy day for the Premier. He was, so to speak, between two fires. The Manitoba Cabinet was considering the settlement of the school question, while the cable commissioners, who are to meet representatives from sister colonies, and the Mother Country in London to-morrow were receiving their instructions.

It is given out here that there will be no official announcement of the terms of the school settlement before Wednesday. This is to give time to permit of the draft agreement, as modified by the Greenway Government yesterday, to reach here by mail, so that the Federal Cabinet may have an opportunity of carefully scrutinizing its provisions and judging of the effect of the modifications. These, it is claimed, are only of a minor character. The general basis of agreement is as announced some time ago: Half an hour daily for religious exercises, certificated Catholic teachers in school sections where 25 families reside, and provincial control over the schools.

A good deal of interest attaches to the course the Government is likely to pursue on the Pacific cable question. The late Government were prepared to commit Canada to defraying one-third the cost of building the line, but it is said the commissioners appointed by the Laurier Ministry are not authorized to pledge the Dominion to any specific line of policy, but only to hear what the other Governments are prepared to do, and report to Ottawa.

Justice Taschereau of the Supreme Court, who is now in India for the benefit of his health, has been granted an extended leave of absence by the Government. It is not likely that Judge Taschereau will return to Canada until after the winter months are over.

The Government yesterday forwarded a batch of orders-in-council to Lord Aberdeen in British Columbia for His Excellency's approval. They were principally duplicates of those consumed by the burning of the Governor-General's office.

Major McGillivray, M. P., arrived in Ottawa on Friday night from the east. He had been lobbying a bill through the State Legislature of Vermont on behalf of the Independent Order of Foresters, who are doing business in Vermont, but not incorporated under the State laws, or invested with the right to sue for liabilities against the I. O. F.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, K. C. M. G., publisher; John W. London, Charles Bowell, John Wills, Mackenzie Jamieson, all of Belleville, Ont., who are to be the provisional directors, have applied for incorporation as "The Intelligencer Printing and Publishing House." The company will carry on The Daily Intelligencer and Weekly Intelligencer.

The Dominion Statistician is compiling figures in regard to the pork packing industry of Canada, which were desired by the Pork Packers' Association at Toronto.

From advices received at the Agriculture Department, the hog cholera in Essex County has spread to Walpole Island and Kent County, adjacent to the localities where the epidemic broke out. An officer has been sent up to make full enquiry.

New regulations are published in yesterday's Gazette from the Inland Revenue Department regarding the bottling of spirits in bond. They are calculated to make the bottling much more strict than it has been and provide for the payment of $50 per month to the department for supervision. Duty will be collected on any deficiency between the quantity entered and that bottled. No quantity less than twelve cases shall be entered by one entry, and the bottles are to be labelled and stamped.

Mme. Laurier has returned to the city from Arthabaskaville.

The well-known Ottawa legal firm of Chrysler & Lewis have dissolved partnership.

Troup is After These Students.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—Alexander Troup, Connecticut member of the Democratic National Committee made a formal demand to Yale faculty that the leaders of the Yale students who interrupted the speech of William J. Bryan when he spoke on the Green a month ago be summarily punished. The letter declares that the ringleaders are well known and that if they are not punished by the Yale faculty they will be brought into court and sentenced.

SHOT HIS CHUM.

Boys Went Shooting Sunday Afternoon and One is Now in the Hospital With His Lungs Pierced.

Brockville, Nov. 8.—A serious shooting accident occurred here about 5 o'clock this afternoon. While three young men named Thomas Mallon, Harry Songer and John Davis were shooting in the bush about a mile west of the town, a 36-calibre revolver in the hands of Songer went off, the bullet piercing both lungs of Mallon, who now lies in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in a very critical condition. The poor boy Songer is near crazed with grief, and immediately on his return to town gave himself up to the police, who are holding him pending investigation.

Train Robbed of Specie.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 7.—A considerable amount of specie has been stolen from a railroad train while in transit across the Isthmus. The specie was intended for shipment by one of the mail steamers to Europe. The amount secured by the thieves is estimated at from $5000 to $15,000.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of using saline or other drastic purgatives. All that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore the regular movement of the bowels, and nature will do the rest. They keep the system in perfect order.

Good Square Pianos
FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad, but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

The Court House Park.

The Chief of Police was up at the Central school this morning, warning the boys to keep off the Court House Park Grounds. I cannot speak too highly of Mr. Kleiser's ability as an entertainer; and to say that he gave perfect satisfaction would be voicing the sentiment of our entire committee and the large and appreciative audience present on that occasion; and, being more emphatic, would say he is in every sense a 'tremendous' success." Be sure and hear him Thursday evening, Nov. 12. Prices 25c. and 35c. Plan at Stratton's Bookstore. 1d

WRECK ON THE C. P. R.

A Lot of Freight Cars Derailed—No One Was Injured.

A severe loss was sustained by the Canadian Pacific Railway on Saturday afternoon by the occurrence of a smash-up on the line four miles east of manvers, when the axle of the rear truck of the engine tender broke, derailing thirteen cars and putting them into the ditch. The remaining dozen remained on the track.

The accident happened in a cut, therefore the damage to the freight was not as serious as it would otherwise have been, although the contents of a number of cars are scattered far and wide. The fact of the smashup taking place rendered it difficult to clear the track. The accident occurred early in the afternoon and though an auxiliary was immediately sent to the scene from Havelock, the track was not cleared in time for the 4.45 p. m. Express to get through, so its passengers were taken to the wreck and transhipped to the local coming from Toronto and due here at 7.53. The 4.45 took the passengers of the local back to Havelock, where it remained until the track was cleared at about eleven o'clock at night. Conductor Mitchell was in charge of the freight.

THE POST OFFICE STEPS.

The Right Step Taken at Last—The Results of Botch-Building.

The steps forming the approaches to the post office letter boxes, which were tumbling down of themselves, have been removed and are to be replaced properly. The tearing up of these steps in anticipation of a complete collapse on their own account, shows how the work was originally done or, rather, not done. To begin with, the steps had no proper foundation. The heap of stones and mortar representing the foundation seems to have been thrown in in a most hap-hazard and careless way, forbidding any hope of permanence. The cut stone steps on the under side were not properly cut and will have to be recut before they can be relaid in a workmanlike manner. Was it the fault of the plans and specifications, or where was the fault? Where was the inspector of works when such work was being done? The man who laid the steps was a good workman and told the contractor, it is said, that the work would not last but he was overruled, and the work done in the shipshod manner that resulted in steps, that should last a century, tumbling down in nine years. It would appear that a good deal of the same kind of work characterized the building generally, as witness the cracks in the different parts of the building, and the bulging and heaving of the floor. We are apt to consider government works as the types of solidity and permanence; as a rule no expense is spared. But the post office, as a building, is not to be regarded as an everlasting structure. There is evidence that it has been a good deal of a "job" from the purchase of the site to the so-called finish of the work. Mr. John Smith has charge of reconstructing the steps, and there is reason to believe that the work will be properly done this time.

ANOTHER SUIT ON THE TOWN'S HANDS.

Mrs. Chatten Seriously Injured her Shoulder by Falling off an Unfinished Sidewalk.

The Town Clerk has received official notification from Edmison & Dixon, acting for Mrs. Elizabeth Chatten of Smith Street, that their client has sustained serious injuries by falling on Bethune street, half way up the hill.

A new sidewalk was being constructed on the Bethune street hill and, it is alleged, that on the night of October 28th, the walk was left in an unfinished condition, highly dangerous to pedestrians, inasmuch as from the finished part of the sidewalk to the unfinished there was a sudden drop of nearly two feet.

Mrs. Chatten and her daughter were descending the hill after sunset, and not noticing the break in the sidewalk both are said to have fallen, and Mrs. Chatten received serious injuries to her right shoulder.

Dr. Fife is in attendance and yesterday Mrs. Chatten's injuries assumed, it is said, so serious an aspect that she was removed to the Nicholls' Hospital.

A claim for damages from the corporation is now being prosecuted at the Assizes. Mrs. Georgina Jackson claims $500 for injuries sustained by falling on an alleged defective walk on Park street.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—A hard frost last night.

—The interior of the Court room has been newly varnished.

—It is expected that operations will be begun on the Brock street sewer in a few days.

—The Charlotte street sewer will be completed to-day with the exception of the manhole.

—Simper's "They sow in tears" was well rendered as an anthem in St. Paul's church last night.

—The Street Inspector is having sand strewn over the broken stone which has been placed on George street.

—The regular meeting of the Daughters of England will be held on Wednesday evening, 11th inst., at 8 p. m., in the S. O. E. Hall, Hunter street.

—If you want to economise burn the People's Coal Coy's coal. All kinds of coal in stock, including best hard coal for stoves and furnaces, soft coal for grates, and smithing coal. Office—220 Charlotte street. Telephone 306.

—On a G. T. R. train between Kingston and Cornwall last week a newly-married couple furnished amusement to the 19 male passengers in the coach. By actual count the bride kissed the groom 21 times, unabashed by the presence of the 19 men who gazed with undisguised disgust on the performance.

—A serious question has arisen at Oshawa. An issuer of marriage licenses there has been selling licenses for 20 years past, his only authority being an notice that he had been appointed an issuer of such licenses. He holds no official commission. In a recent lawsuit the point was raised that he could not issue legal licenses, and this view is likely to be sustained. It follows, therefrom, that all licenses issued in 20 years are illegal and void, and will put people married on such licenses in an uncomfortable position.

Good Roads in Canada.

The system of road-making promulgated by the Ontario instructor, Mr. A. W. Campbell, C. E., is meeting with the approval of the Governments of the other provinces, and the work of improvement as carried on in Ontario will, in all probability, be a model for action along that line throughout Canada. In order to farther this Mr. Campbell is having his latest road bulletin mailed to all the provincial, as well as the federal members of Parliament. A copy will be sent to any person wishing one, by sending their address to the Good Roads Department.

THE FALL ASSIZES.

Chief Justice Sir William R. Meredith Addresses the Grand Jury.

The Fall Assizes opened this afternoon before Chief Justice Sir William Meredith with the following members of the bar present: Messrs. W. A. Payne, Colborne; G. S. Payne, Campbellford; W. A. F. Campbell, Norwood; Warren, Toronto; D. W. Dumble, R. E. Woods, E. B. Edwards, W. A. Stratton, John Green, G. M. Roger, E. B. Stone, R. M. Dennistoun, C. W. Sawers, F. E. Gladman, F. D. Kerr, and D. O'Connell.

The following members of the Grand Jury were in attendance:

Messrs. Robt. Allan, Douro; Wm. Buck, Asphodel; Andrew N. Cameron, Otonabee; P. H. Campbell, Peterborough; Wm. Harper, Lakefield; John Knox, Asphodel; Wm. S. Northey, Smith; James Roberts, Smith; M. E. Sanderson, Smith; Adam Thompson, Otonabee; James Wiseman, Havelock, Chas. Wynn, Peterborough.

Mr. M. E. Sanderson, of Smith, was chosen foreman.

His Lordship in charging the Grand Jury stated that the business of the session, judging from the calendar which had been placed in his hands, would be very light. There was one man in gaol he believed on a charge of larceny, but he was said to be insane. The Crown Officer had not yet arrived, and it was not decided what steps should be taken in the matter, but if the bill was presented to the Grand Jury, it was not for them to decide as to the prisoner's sanity. They were to leave that question aside and simply decide on whether the crime had been committed or not, leaving the question of his sanity to be decided by the petit jury.

The county was to be congratulathed on the state of affairs there being so little criminal business for the Court.

His Lordship noticed that there were a great number of vagrants confined in the gaol. Some of these were very old—as old as 78 years—and others again were quite young. It seemed strange that so many should be confined on this charge. The gaol was not the place for these people, who should not be herded in with the criminals. There should be a poor house provided for them, where the stigma of crime would not be attached to its inmates. Young people having to go to gaol on account of being poor would come out much worse than when they went in.

Many poor houses had been erected in Western Canada and the results had been most satisfactory both from the point of the general public and from that of the locality.

His Lordship hoped that the town and county would speedily come to some arrangement concerning the matter.

The matter of the recent changes concerning the Grand Jury was then spoken; these His Lordship considered had not in the least impaired the efficiency of that body and had greatly lessened the expense. The petit jury, he mentioned, could now give a decision if ten of its members were agreed on a civil case, though the full twelve was still required in the criminal cases.

The new enactment concerning suits for damages against municipalities also received a passing reference. The law, His Lordship stated, formerly required that a notice of an accident on an icy or badly repaired sidewalk should be given inside of three months. It had been changed so that a notice now had to be filed in seven days after the occurrence. He asked the Grand Jury to consider the question in order that those in whose hands Legislation lay could have the benefit of their opinion.

The first case called was that of VARTY VS. PICKENS.

In this case George Varty, a farmer of Belmont brought suit against John Pickens, a farmer of Percy township, Northumberland county, to recover $2000 damages for the seduction of the daughter of the plaintiff. The evidence of the latter was taken and as there was no evidence for the defence put in, the case was referred to the jury to assess the damages—which were placed at $1,000. Mr. Payne, Campbellford, for plaintiff; Messrs. Stratton & Hall for defendant.

POGUE ACQUITTED.

Judge Weller Decides That he Did Not Obtain Goods Under False Pretences.

Charles Pogue was acquitted on Saturday afternoon before Judge Weller on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretences.

It will be remembered that Pogue was committed for trial by Police Magistrate Dumble, the circumstances being that he traded off a rig to John Cox for a cow and calf and some other things and the rig not being paid for, it was seized and taken from Cox, who swore out an information against Pogue.

At the trial it transpired that Pogue had told Cox the rig was not paid for, and after it was seized had gone to him and offered him a horse in settlement.

It is understood that Pogue has now settled for the rig, and all parties are satisfied.

Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for the defence.

COUNTY POLICE MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

Cases of Alleged Fraud and Interference With a Sheriff's Officer.

On Saturday before County Police Magistrate Edmison, Barney Corrigan, charged with attempt at fraud, was committed for trial.

James Armstrong was arrested by High Constable Cochrane and Archie Moore in Ashburnham, on a warrant charging him with obstructing a sheriff's officer (Mr. B. M. Wylie) in discharge of his duty. He was arraigned, and elected to be tried summarily. The case was enlarged till the 17th. The prisoner was admitted to bail.

PERSONAL.

Miss Bella Miller, of Keene, is visiting with Miss Wright, Stewart street, Ashburnham.

Mrs. W. Campbell and son are visiting at the residence of the former's father, Mr. Geo. Farr, in Harwood.

Geo. H. Rapsey, of Port Arthur, and John Donohue, of Ennismore, entered the Business College this morning.

Miss Kate Carveth, of Millbrook, who has been the guest of Miss Maude Macfarlane, Homewood Avenue, for the last month, has returned home.

Mr. Austin, of Gananoque, who has been transferred from the branch of the Bank of Toronto at that place to Peterborough, has arrived in town to assume his position.

Mr. Eustace Grubbe, McDonel street, who has been home for his holidays, has been transferred to the Toronto branch of the Montreal Bank, and has left to assume his new position.

Mr. John Rawlings, an old town boy, but now connected with the Salvation Army and lately stationed in the Northwest, is in town. He now wears the title of Staff Captain.

Mr. John Roach left this morning for Brantford, where he has secured a situation with the Slingsby Woollen Company of that place. "Jack's" many friends wish him success in the Telephone City.

In the November number of "Ups and Downs," the official organ of the Dr. Barnardo Homes, there appears an excellent photogravure of Miss Woodgate, former superintendent of the local branch.

Mr. Malcolm Smith, organist of South Side Presbyterian church, Toronto, who has been a guest at St. Andrew's manse for a few days, left for home this morning on his bicycle. Mr. Smith left Toronto last Monday morning at 6 o'clock and arrived here via Port Hope at 5 o'clock the same day.

NORTH SMITH DAIRY COMPANY.

Turns Its Attention During the Winter to Butter Making.

Mr. M. E. Sanderson, of the North Smith Dairy Company, was in town this morning and to a representative of the EXAMINER stated that the cheese output of the company's factory was about the same as last year. Of course this was affected the latter part of the season by the unfavourable weather, but the increased output of the spring operated as compensation and maintained the average.

This factory is pursuing a wise policy in deciding not to risk the reputation of cheese by continuing the manufacture, when the conditions of transportation, etc., are unfavourable to the production of good cheese by even the best makers. The company will, therefore, begin the manufacture of butter about the middle of this month. The services have been secured of Mr. Perry of Sharbot Lake, a practical butter maker of long experience, and with the co-operation of the patrons, a profitable season of butter making can be secured. It is to be hoped that the patrons will keep up a good supply of milk, recognising the wisdom of making their cows earn as much as possible. The best authorities say that with proper feeding, care and management, the winter manufacture of butter can be profitably conducted, while equally good authorities assert that late fall cheese making cannot be conducted successfully—there may be a fair immediate profit but this will be at the expense of the good name of cheese, and in cheese, as in other things, a good name is better than riches—at least it has proven to be "riches" to the cheese makers of Canada. Therefore so long as winter butter making can be made to profitably take the place of fall cheese making it is the part of wisdom to turn attention to winter butter making.

WEDDING BELLS.

A Popular C. P. R. Brakeman Joins the Benedicts.

A large number gathered in St. John's church, Havelock, one afternoon last week to witness the marriage of Mr. George Anderson, C.P.R. brakeman of that village, to Miss Mary E. Rylott, daughter of Wm. Rylott, of the township of Belmont.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. O. Tarrant.

The bride looked charming, dressed in blue satin, trimmed with cream silk lace, with hat and glove to match, and was assisted by Miss Hattie Anderson, sister of the groom, who wore a gown of French satin cloth with trimmings of cream silk and lace. Mr. Wm. Rylott, brother the bride, ably filled the position of groomsman.

After the ceremony the happy couple left amid showers of rice for the home of Mr. Rylott, Belmont, where a wedding feast was prepared for them.

The choir with Miss Scrivers presiding at the organ, rendered excellent music. Mr. E. M. Williams ably acted as usher.

DIPHTHERIA REPORTED.

Prevalence of the Disease in Some Districts in Muskoka — How it often Originates.

Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health has received letters from various districts north reporting the presence of diphtheria. The monthly returns of deaths for October show the disease to have been more prevalent than it has hitherto been during the summer months. Inquiry in those cases where a number of deaths have occurred points to the fact that the local authorities were not informed of the first cases, or that the character, owing to the mildness of the disease, had been overlooked. Here and there enquiry has elicited the fact that Municipal Councils from motives of economy have neglected to appoint a medical health officer, and that further in some cases the duties of these officers, like their pay, is mostly nominal. The spread of infection in almost every instance is due to lack of isolation of the first case and of members of the family being in attendance on the sick. The extremely contagious nature of the disease is in some instances notably illustrated. In two cases of sickness sent out from Gilmour's lumber camp one is reported to have been suffering from quinsey. There went out along with him a man who had cut his foot. They rode together part of the way and it is related that the man whose foot was hurt drank from the same cup of milk as the man who was supposed to have quinsey. They made several stops along the route and when the hospital in Huntsville was reached the man supposed to be ill from quinsey was found to be suffering from a very virulent type of diphtheria. His fellow traveller was also taken sick and one of this man's children has since died. Several cases have occurred since the appearance of the disease. The necessity for sanitary control and medical attendance on the sick in the large lumber camps is only too apparent, since these camps are ordinarily situated in unorganized townships. Similar complaints are received every year soon after lumbering operations begin and the unfortunate settlers in the district have to suffer from the parsimony of the lumber camps.

PETERBOROUGH VICTORIOUS.

Collegiate Institute Juniors vs. Lakefield Preparatory School.

On Saturday afternoon the junior Rugbys of the Collegiate Institute played the return match with the boys of the Lakefield Preparatory School. Below are the teams:

Peterborough.		Lakefield.
Carleton	full back	Smith
Bradburn	halfs	Hutchins
Maybee		Strickland
Dixon		Coffin
Sawers	quarters	Labatt
Robinson	scrimmage	Strickland
Peace		Gibbald
McDonnell		Carey
Sawers	forwards	Kains
McGrath		Bellaais
Poussette		Smith
Dobbin		Leonard
Kemp		Dunn
Irwin		Gill
Roy		Sheldrake

Lakefield won the toss and elected to kick down hill. The grade was considerable. The game was much more closely contested than the one of the previous Saturday. The "Grove" team made a creditable effort to redeem their defeat of a week ago, Hutchins in particular putting up a fast game. Good kicking and passing, aided by the sloping field, kept the play well down on the Peterborough goal, and at the end of the first half of the game the score stood 13—5 in favour of Lakefield. In the second half Peterborough plainly had the advantage. They had no snap, however, as accurate passing frequently brought the play dangerously close to the upper goal, and a touch was scored by Lakefield in the early part. This completed the Lakefield score. In the second half the Collegiate Juniors played with a dash and vim which nothing could withstand. Bradburn and Carleton were not idle, and Sawers at quarter played a brilliant game throughout. The score at the close was 36—17 in favour of Peterborough. The play was fast throughout, and was witnessed by a great many spectators of both sides. Mr. Fred Lefevre acted as referee.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

LACROSSE.

The EXAMINER's call for the formation of an Eastern Lacrosse League is backed up by the Millbrook Reporter, as follows: "The final match in the Canadian Lacrosse Association series, was played on Saturday last, between Georgetown and Wiarton and was won by the former by a score of six to three. Had the judiciary committee of the C.L.A., used a little good judgement and dismissed the Orillia-Peterborough protest, there is not the least doubt, but that the championship would have been won by the eastern town. It has been the custom, however, of such organizations to "roast" eastern towns and it has certainly done much to retard the progress of such games, especially lacrosse in this district. At last a change is in sight. Next year the west can have the C.L.A. to themselves, and it is proposed to form an Eastern Association, comprising Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Hope, Millbrook, Cobourg, Campbellford, Tweed, Madoc, Stirling, Marmora, Norwood, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Prescott, Perth, Almonte and Pembroke. This proposition is being favourably received by all our local lacrosse ists, who think that it would give the national game a great boom here. Millbrook can certainly get together a strong twelve and if they receive any support from the citizens they will make a strong fight for the championship of the new league. It is to be hoped that this will be looked after and early next year a meeting of representatives from the above mentioned towns should be held to discuss the matter."

THE WHEEL.

Peterborough will make no claim for the C.W.A. meet next year. Why Peterborough has been so slighted by the C.W.A. is more than many true sportsmen can understand.—Lindsay Warder.

CURLIANA.

The Lindsay Warder says:—"The Curling Colts Association of Midland district will hold its annual meeting in Peterborough next Monday. The association comprises Port Hope, Cobourg, Kingston, Belleville, Campbellford and Peterborough. Why is not Lindsay in it? Doubtless Lindsay's reputation as a curling town scares the others."

Lindsay Colts would be welcome, but they have never yet sent in their application. Let them show up on to-day.

COUNTY COUNCIL CANDIDATES.

Movements in County and Township Politics—Candidates under the New Law.

The season for the municipal nominations is near at hand, and special interest is attached to the occasion by reason of the change in the law in relation to the election of county councillors. There is likely to be, in some quarters, considerable rivalry for the honour of being representatives in the new County Council, and a reference to the names suggested as candidates will be of interest:

No. 1 Division, composed of Otonabee township, will in all probability see a contest, though it is thought by some that there will only be two candidates; but it is probable that this old and wealthy township will not like to see its first representatives in the new County council elected without a fight. It is contended by some that Otonabee pays enough to be represented by two members. In any case Mr. William Anderson and Mr. John Burnham who have been members of the County Council for several years, are said to be candidates.

The councillors in this township seem to favour promotion, and it is said that first deputy reeve Johnston will be a candidate for the reeveship of the township council, and Mr. John Lancaster will be a candidate for the deputy reeveship, and the second deputy reeveship will doubtless bring out a contest. There is abundant time for new candidates to enter the field, and it is extremely doubtful if walk-overs will be allowed for any of the important civic positions.

In No. 2, or Bridgenorth division, there is promise of a brisk contest. Of course Mr. Middleton, the present warden, who has shown himself an excellent representative in the county council, will be a candidate for the county council again, and will doubtless be one of the two members sent by this division. For the other seat the fight, it is understood, will be amongst Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, Mr. J. G. Armstrong and Mr. Jos. Forster, with a probability of other candidates. It is said that Mr. McIntosh will be a candidate for the reeveship of North Monaghan.

In No. 3, or the Lakehurst division, the candidates already mentioned are the reeves—Mr. Shaw, of Harvey, Mr. Hales, of Chandos, Mr. Brown, of Burleigh and Mr. Mansfield of Galway. In Harvey there is talk of a contest for the reeveship between Mr. Arthur Dewdney and Mr. A. G. Shearer. The latter has been a member of the township council for nine years, and, if length and fidelity of services are regarded as qualifications he should commend himself to the electors. Mr. Dewdney is a valuable councillor, and it is probable that he will devote his time as township councillor for a few years, as he is practically a new member.

In No. 4, or the Lakefield division, the candidates will doubtless be Mr. Casement, of Lakefield, Mr. E. Hawthorne, of Dummer, and Mr. Moloney, of Douro. All three have been long-time representatives in the county council, and the contest will doubtless be an energetic one, as the elector in favour of either one may feel that his candidate, by virtue of experience, should be a member of the new county council.

In No. 5, or the Norwood division, there will be a plethora of candidates, as the names of no less than than seven present and former reeves of the several municipalities composing the division, are mentioned. The names suggested are Messrs. John Finlay and J. B. Pearce, Norwood; Mr. Wm. Buck, Asphodel; Mr. John Brown, ex-reeve of Belmont and an ex-warden; Mr. S. Joyce, reeve of Havelock; Mr. John Walsh, ex-reeve of Asphodel and an ex-warden, and Mr. Jas. Moore, an ex-reeve.

Of course the candidates for the reeveships of the several townships, with a few exceptions, have not yet developed, but the occasion will no doubt call out a large number of worthy candidates.

DEATH OF AN AGED PRIEST.

Demise of Rev. Father Higgins, of Hastings.

The Rev. Father Higgins died Sunday morning at the residence of his niece, Mrs. John Coughlan, Hastings. The reverend gentleman was in his 83rd year, and had he lived a few weeks longer he would have completed 51 years in the ministry. He was born in the County Mayo, Ireland, educated in Maynooth, finished his ecclesiastical studies at the Grand Seminary in Montreal, where he was ordained by Bishop McDonald in December, 1845.

His first parish was Hastings, then called Crook's Rapids, where he spent five years. From that place he was transferred to Camden, thence to Sheffield, when after a few years' ministration he became one of the resident priests attached to the cathedral in Kingston, from which place he was sent to Tweed, during the smallpox epademic in that locality. From Tweed he was sent to Alexandria, but, enfeebled in body through age and the arduous duties of missionary work, was compelled to retire from active labour, and he sought retirement in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston.

Desiring to spend his remaining years in his first mission, Hastings, where his parents ended their days, he, three years ago, took up his abode with his niece, Mrs. John Coughlan. Although very feeble he occasionally officiated in the parish church ther until about a year ago, when he became completely helpless. For several weeks his death was hourly expected, and yesterday morning he passed peacefully and painlessly away. The body will lie in state in the parish church until Tuesday, at 10 a.m., when the interment will take place in Asphodel cemetery, and his body will repose beside the remains of his parents.

EAST PETERBOROUGH AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Directors Show Their Sympathy for Young Convey in a Practical Way.

Norwood Register.

The directors of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society met at the town hall here on Saturday afternoon. The following were present: Messrs. F. Birdsall, president, John Knox, Andrew Cameron, Geo. Elliott, Hugh Nelson, J. B. Pearce, Charles Nicol, Jos. Johnston, and W.E. Roxburgh, Secretary.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The secretary read communications from the following persons:

From Mr. Robert Reesor, of Locust Hill, in which he congratulated the Directors upon having the best county fair he had attended this year, and added that so long as such men as Mr. Birdsall, the president and Mr. Roxburgh, the secretary, were at the head of the Society it was bound to success.

From Mr. Geo. Pratley, of Peterborough, making some suggestions in regard to the better classification of poultry.

From Mr. W. A. Bell, of Peterborough, suggesting that cash prizes be offered for best lady rider, and that competition take place earlier in the afternoon to allow ladies to attend to the packing of their exhibits in the hall. Also that blue peas and black tartan oats be added to the list next year and offering to give a special prize of $1.00 on each.

Moved by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Nelson, that the above communications be received and fyled and that the suggestions made by Messrs. Pratley and Bell be carried out.—Carried.

The action of the Secretary-Treasurer in paying prizes on articles, etc., recommended by the judges, was approved of.

The secretary read a communication from Mr. Joseph Howson, protesting against the awarding of Grafton & Co.'s prize to Mr. P. Drummond on the ground that he was not the owner of the wagon.

Moved by Mr. Nelson, seconded by Mr. Johnson, that the protest made by Mr. Howson be sustained and that the prize be withheld.—Carried.

The accident which occurred to young Convey on the afternoon of the second day of the fair was discussed and the following resolution, moved by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Johnston, was passed:—

"That whilst regretting the accident which happened to the boy on the speeding ring, and also disclaiming any liability for damages, as every precaution was used by the officials of the Society to prevent such an occurrence, at the same time the directors express their sympathy for the boy and and his parents, and in view of their circumstances, do now donate to them the sum of twenty dollars to assist in payment of medical fees.

DEAD AT HIS DESK.

That is the story the morning newspapers tell of the modern business man. Too much money-getting. Too little care for health. Too much rush, and strain, and wear and tear. Too little time to eat, to sleep, to digest the food, to rest tired body and tortured brain. Not enough time to think once in a while of health and strength and happiness and a long and useful life. A widow and orphans left to mourn. A big estate that under the dissecting knife of the executor falls all to pieces. 'Tis the story of thousands of business men in life reputed wealthy and successful. It is a story that is unnecessary—need not be.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if resorted to occasionally will keep a man or woman in good health. It goes to the roots of things. It tunes up the strings of life and makes them vibrate to the music of good health. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion good, the blood pure, and the nerves strong. Then ill-health is an impossibility, and work is a pleasure. Thousands say so.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has been a great physician to our family," writes Mr. Ira S. Foust, of Naylor, Ripley Co., Mo. "My wife's father had Bright's Disease. His water was almost pure blood. We got a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it did him so much good that he tried another and then a third, and the fourth entirely cured him."

Nothing in the world so many times pays for itself to its owner as a good medical book. The very best one is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Now for a limited time, an edition, paper-covered, will be distributed FREE. Send 31 one-cent stamps (to pay the cost of customs and mailing only), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For 50 stamps you may obtain the book in cloth.

A BOY WITH A KINK.

It Has, However, a Useful and Entertaining Lesson.

All the neighbors say that Ran Hughitt has a kink in his head. They all like him, too, only no one ever feels certain what odd prank he will play next.

Ran, or Ransome, according to the family Bible, lives with his father on a market garden near Evanston, says the Chicago Record. Most of the year he has to work pretty hard, but this does not interfere with his having a good deal of fun in a quiet way. No doubt he would like to rig up a sailboat or play baseball, but not having the opportunity to enjoy either of these sports, he makes friends with the squashes and cucumbers in his father's garden.

Take a walk with him some afternoon, and he will show you some very odd things. One of these is his bottled cucumber. This suggests a pickle bottle, gayly labeled and sealed with wax. But Ran's cucumber is an entirely different affair. It is a full-size, living cucumber, and it has grown inside of a bottle until it is almost bottle-shape, and it could not possibly be removed without breaking the glass.

When the cucumber was small Ran thrust it into the narrow neck of the bottle, and there, safe from insects, it has grown until it has attained unusual size. Next fall Ran proposes to exhibit his bottle-shaped cucumber at the fair. He thinks it will be the oddest vegetable displayed.

Another bottle experiment which he has tried has not turned out so well. He enclosed a young apple in an old ink bottle, tying the bottle to the limb above. The apple grew larger and larger in spite of its close quarters, and Ran was certain he was going to have a bottle-apple to go with his cucumber. But the apple refused to be thus restricted, and one day when Ran wasn't looking it burst the ink bottle in two and began to grow out through the crack. An ink bottle may be pretty strong and an apple rather soft, but the glass could not withstand the steady pressure of the growing fruit.

"Turn the rascals out"—the familiar partyery — may be applied to microbes as well as to men. The germs of disease that lurk in the blood are "turned out" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla as effectually as the old postmasters are displaced by a new administration.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

EAST YORK PLOWMEN.

Great Interest Taken in the Annual Match at Scarboro—The Prize List.

Toronto, Nov. 6.

It was a day for Scarboro' and John Little's boys at the seventh annual match of the East York Plowmen's Association, held yesterday on the farm of James Robinson, just west of Markham Village. Proceedings commenced promptly at 9 o'clock, and before half-past 4 all had finished. The recent rains had not made much impression on the land, which was stony, heavy stiff clay.

About 6 o'clock the judges had made their awards, which were read from an upper window of the Franklin House by Mr. Thomas Hood, the hon. secretary, to an enormous crowd. The value of the prizes was about $400. The winners were:

First-class, in sod, open to all—1, Silver cup, $25, presented by W. F. Maclean, M.P., George Little Scarboro'; 2, Thomas McLean, York; 3, Thomas Little, Scarboro'; 4, James Hood, Markham; 5, J. H. Bussell, Hornby; 6, James McLean, Vaughan.

Second-class men—1, James Ronnie, Scarboro'; 2, Thomas Shadlock, Scarboro'; 3, Frederick Fisher, Scarboro'; 4, Alex. Weir, Scarboro'.

Third-class, boys—1, John Malcolm, Scarboro'; 2, George W. Williams, Vaughan; 3, William Wells, King.

Fourth class, men, in stubble—1, Alfred Mason, Scarboro'; 2, William E. Bennett, Scarboro'; 3, Joseph Nash, Scarboro'; 4, John Monk, Scarboro'; 5, William Fisher, Scarboro'; 6, Walter Hood, Markham.

Fifth class—1, Nelson Wagg, Scarboro; 2, Robert Malcolm, Scarboro'; 3, Richard Beckett, Markham; 4, Arch. Patterson, Scarboro'; 5, Arthur Little, Scarboro'; 6, William Simpson, Scarboro'.

Sixth-class, boys under 16—1, William Leask, Darlington; 2, Richard Fright, York; 3, Roy Milliken, Markham; 4, Gardham Tren, Markham; 5, Bert Coates, Beach.

Special prize list:

Best turnout in whole field—1, Alex. Doherty, Thorncliffe Stock Farm.

Best-kept harness and team in sod—1, Frank Weir; 2, Thomas Little.

Best centre or middle and neatest ends—1, J. H. Bussell, Hornby.

Best six-crown furrows in sod—1, J. H. Bussell, Hornby.

Best six-crown furrows, boys under 16—1, William Leask.

Best finish—1, William Leask.

Best turnout in stubble-field—1, Alex. Doherty; 2, William E. Bennett.

Best-going team in sod—William Petch; 2, George Little.

Best-going team in stubble—1, Richard Beckett; 2, William E. Bennett.

Best-going team for boys in stubble—1, Richard Wright.

Best-going team in sod—1, Frank Weir; 2, Thomas Little.

If cheers count for anything, the successes of George Little, Alfred Mason and William Fisher were very popular.

East York plowmen have a reputation which is not provincial only, but is continental.

There were 46 entries, as against 39 last year. The success of the match is largely due to the efforts of Mr. Thomas Hood.

After the announcement of the prize list a banquet was held in the Franklin House.

Factories Will Start.

Racine, Wis., Nov. 6.—Several large factories here will resume operations at once.

Others have found health, vigor and vitality in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it surely has power to help you also. Why not try it?

Discovered.

As he sauntered into the only barber shop in the town, the lather knight sized him up as a newcomer and a guest of the hotel.

"Hair cut," said the genteel customer, laconically.

"Yes, sah. Plain or fancy, sah?"

"Give me a short crop and no frills."

"Yes, sah. Certainly, sah."

The barber cut and trimmed, turned on tonics and roached the bang until his man looked as neat as if he had been run through a mangle.

"Does you like the effec', sah?"

"Very well," said the customer, who was young and good-looking.

"I hope the lady will like it, sah."

"What lady?" asked the surprised stranger.

"Your wife, sah—de bride."

"How did you know I was married?"

"Rice in your hair, sah—I done brush out a heap."

The Archbishop and the Boy.

After distributing prizes at a Leeds school the late Archbishop ladies in Stranher were going to the when he saw a boy by the roadside making mud into designs.

"Boy," said the Archbishop, "I know your face; you were at the Leeds Ragged school and got a prize for drawing."

"Ay, mon."

"And so you are building there in the mud. What is it?"

"Whoi yon's a church and a poopit and pews."

"Well, but where's the parson?"

"Eh, mon," he replied. "It taks a deal o' muck to mak' a parson."

And the Archbishop rode on.—Household Words.

Why He Broke Down.

Andrews—"Too bad about Billings, wasn't it?"

Davis—"What's happened to him?"

Andrews—"He's looney."

Davis—"You don't tell me! What's the cause of it?"

Andrews—"He came home after 13 o'clock the other night, and his wife let him in without an unkind word. The shock was too much for him."—Cleveland Leader.

Consoling.

"How are you, old chap? Are you keeping strong?"

"No; only just managing to keep out of my grave."

"Oh, I'm sorry to hear that!"—Tit-Bits.

Tweed people are learning fast.
Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. Fields, Bloomfield, Ia.

RAINY DAY COSTUME.

THE CHIC DESIGN WHICH WON THE NEW YORK JOURNAL PRIZE.

A Simple, Stylish and Sensible Costume for the Purpose Intended—The Dress Severe in Outline and of Excellent Length.

RAINY day costume is one which has been agitated for in every community, and the New York Journal has just received the award of the jury to decide which model should secure its handsome prize.

The committe decided upon to select the best design out of the thousand sent in, consisted of Dr. Grace Peckham Murray, Mrs. Donald MacLean and Mrs. Jenness Miller. These ladies have in turn examined carefully and conscientiously the designs submitted to them and have in each instance made a first, second and third choice. Although only one prize could be given, there were many costumes found worthy of honorable mention.

The prize, consisting of a tailor gown, made from the winning design, was won by Miss Margaret F. Burnet, Plainfield, N. J., her sketch being the first choice of a majority of the Committee of Award, Dr. Grace Peckham Murray and Mrs. MacLean both selecting it.

In deciding upon this design in preference to the many submitted, Dr. Murray gave her reasons in the following words:

"This costume is simple, stylish, and sensible. It is short enough to escape the mud and soil of a rainy day, and yet not short enough to render the wearer conspicuous. The material suggested for dress and leggins, a strong waterproof cloth, also meets my approval, and the skirt is not full enough to drag on the hips and tire the wearer. The weight of a dress is a matter of vital importance, and one that usually meets but little consideration. The hat is small, light and without trimming, which is the proper sort of a rainy day hat, and the waist is double-breasted. This brings the warmth of the jacket just where it should be in stormy weather—over the lungs and other vital organs."

AN OPEN SECRET. It is for women to know that for all their ailments and disorders INDIAN WOMAN'S BALM is pre-eminently the remedy. Tired women, weak women, sick women—it cures them all. Never known to fail. Price $1.00.
Pamphlet free by addressing:
Balm Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.
Sold in Peterborough by John McKee.

Mrs. MacLean's reasons for selecting the same model for her first choice are: "That it has the distinction of severe outlines and is an excellent length for muddy weather. The cut is of such a style that the Norfolk jacket could be made of two weights of cloth—light for summer and heavy for winter. It also possesses the merit of absolute plainness without ugliness. The hat and neck gear are neat and could not be injured by rain."

Mrs. Jenness Miller's vote for first choice was given to a design similar in every respect to Miss Burnet's except that the waist and skirt are joined.

Miss Burnet, who wins the prize, is a young art student at Cooper Union. She is the daughter of John M. Burnet, of Plainfield, and her home has been in that town all her life. Miss Burnet's portrait forms our initial letter.

First Fall Hats.

In shape the newest fashions in fall hats all resemble the Alpine, only with slight variations. Quills, wings, and feather aigrettes are used as trimming, and the majority of them are adorned with a simple ribbon band.

One model, which promises to be much in favor for a between-season hat, is of dark gray felt, with a broad brim and a dented crown. The brim turns up slightly and is extremely broad at the sides. Encircling the crown is a band of black velvet, and directly in front are two white quills specked with black, and a feathery, gray aigrette capped with metallic-colored Impeyan scales.

NEWEST FALL HATS.

Another stylish hat is of dark blue felt, with broad, curved brim and dented crown. The hat is trimmed with a green velvet band and a cluster of cock feathers in the varying peacock shades.

A new fall hat perhaps a trifle less severe in its style than the other shapes is of brown felt, with the brim finished with a binding of fawn color ribbon. A band of the same colored ribbon trims the crown. At the left side is a bird in fawn and brown, whose wings are mingled with the cock's feathers in green.

All of these hats are, of course, for everyday wear, and are to be used as substitutes for the Alpine.

Cloth hats in shapes resembling those just described will be a feature of the early fall millinery. They will be made to order to match tailor-made costumes. Many of them will be trimmed with a band of ribbon velvet and a velvet ribbon rosette at the left side.

Others will have a cluster of cock's feathers for their decoration It will be the fashion this fall in ordering a cheviot gown to order a hat to match.

The hat will only be suitable for shopping and ordinary wear. As the season advances many velvet hats will appear. In the large Gainsborough shapes, trimmed with feathers, they will be most picturesque.

The whole Story

Of the great sales attained and great cures accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla is quickly told. It purifies and enriches the blood, tones the stomach and gives strength and vigor. Disease cannot enter the system fortified by the rich, red blood which comes by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Madagascar.

Madagascar was never seen by Europeans until within the last 400 years, though it was well known to Arab traders at least 1000 years ago. Presumably they saw there some of the eggs of the Aepyornis—a gigantic fowl which at that time doubtless still survived—and brought back the accounts which have been embalmed in the fables of the roc. The Venetian traveler, Marco Polo, speaks of Madagascar, though he never visited the island, and refers to the roc incidentally. It is now known that there was quite an extensive family of rocs, some of which were tall as an ostrich, while others were only the size of a turkey. In the northern part of Madagascar is the most remarkable natural fortress in the world. It is occupied by a wild tribe, who call themselves the People of the Rocks. The fortress is a lofty and precipitous rock of enormous size, 1000 feet high, and eight square miles in area. Its sides are so steep that it cannot be climbed without artificial means. Within it is hollow, and the only entrance is by a subterranean passage.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentry, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Secres of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

What Makes Us "BEST?"

There are two ways of supplying Furs at ever decreasing prices. One is to use a large outlet, and complete organization in manufacture and purchase, as levers to gather directly goods from all parts of the world, always maintaining the highest and best qualities of stock.

The other way is to substitute and reduce qualities to correspond with prices.

THE FIRST WAY IS OUR WAY. With ever increasing output, Peterborough, Toronto and Lindsay,—with all our energies focussed on the study of the things to be known and the things to be done, the best qualities, the best markets, the best time to buy, the quantity, the styles, the lowest freights, the labour saving inventions, the whole field from A to Z.

Where else can you be so sure that close prices do not mean reduced qualities. IT'S OUR LIFE BUSINESS. We began in boyhood and we have the pride in it that makes us know it through and through, and places us in a position to sell you to your advantage as well as ours. Call and see our Fur stock. None finer, none larger, none so up-to-date.

HARVEY GOT OFF LIGHTLY.

The Ex-Treasurer of Guelph Pleaded Guilty and Was Sentenced to Only Three Months.

Guelph, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—At 10.30 this morning the celebrated Harvey case was called. All the seating room in the court house was taken up, many having to stand. The people were doomed to disappointment again, as Mr. B. B. Osler, Q. C., failed to connect and was unable to attend in the morning, and Mr. Johnston, having no desire to appear disobliging in the matter, consented to an adjournment till 3 p.m. The legal talent, witnesses, etc., were sharp on time and there was a crowded court room at the hour set for the resumption of the trial. The feeling was rather tense, recalling the other trials of wide public interest.

Mr. Osler arrived in the court room at 3.10, accompanied by Mr. Macdonald. Counsel for the Crown were in their places at the hour set, prepared to proceed with the charge investigated at the police court, wherein Harvey was committed for trial for omitting to enter a sum of $500 received by him for the corporation from H. O'Hara & Co.

At 3.30 County Crown Attorney Peterson told the sheriff to announce to Judge Chadwick that they were ready to proceed.

The prisoner Harvey was then ushered into court by High Constable Merewether and given a seat at the table beside his counsel. The prisoner was apparently as cool as ever.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston rose, and, addressing the judge, said that there were a number of indictments in the case and in some the facts were necessarily the same, but the offence was charged in a different way. They had arranged the order of the indictments and the Crown were prepared with witnesses, books, etc. There were seven charges altogether, the other four being practically duplicates.

The judge asked which charge they proposed going on with and Mr. Johnston replied: "In the order in which you have them."

Mr. Osler said he was ready to go on with the case.

The judge told him that he had already pleaded guilty.

Mr. Osler said: "We propose in the seven indictments to withdraw the plea of not guilty and to plead guilty to each and all of these indictments. There were eleven charges, but four of them were duplicates. The disposal of the seven really disposes of the whole eleven, and," he reiterated, "we withdraw the plea of not guilty and plead guilty to the seven indictments as they are charged."

Mr. Johnston: The facts are practically the same in all of these except that they were different transactions and the evidence we have is simply of the payments of the money and the entries in the books. The seven charges set out the different transactions.

Mr. Peterson: The Crown proposes to offer no evidence on the four which are duplicates.

The judge: It is proposed that I should pass sentence on these seven indictments now, then.

Mr. Peterson: Yes.

The judge: I would be glad to hear what the counsel have to say in the case. I am not particularly well informed as to what reason there is for any particular sentence. I thought I would hear what you have to say before I pronounce sentence, which, if I can see my way clear, I will do now; for instance, if restitution had been made.

Mr. Osler: I will have something to say as soon as the Crown moves for the passing of sentence.

Mr. Peterson: I move that the sentence of this court be passed on the prisoner.

Mr. Osler commenced to address the court on behalf of his client, stating that, in his opinion, restitution had been made satisfactory to the city. "My client has, acting under the advice of myself and my associate, Mr. Macdonald, decided to plead guilty. The lapse, as lapse it is, from the path of right which he has made is a lapse deeply regretted by my client, and the punishment that he has already had is punishment of a lifetime. He who has climbed the ladder above his fellows when he falls rarely recovers himself. He has spent two months in jail and with great difficulty, by impoverishing himself and his relatives, made restitution which is satisfactory to the city. He loses his office, his place in society, his whole position in life. Without one hour of imprisonment from now on he has been grievously punished for his wrong. I submit that this be taken into consideration in the sentence which is to be passed by Your Honor."

Mr. Johnston spoke briefly on behalf of the Crown. He dealt with the principal points of the charges and left the case in the hands of the judge.

His Honor then proceeded to pass sentence, recounting alleged extenuating circumstances in the case. Restitution had been made satisfactory to the city. The prisoner had lost his position in society and had already suffered much by his imprisonment. He would impose what many would, no doubt, consider a light sentence, but one which he and the Crown officers considered would meet the ends of justice. He then sentenced Harvey to three months' imprisonment on each of the charges, the sentences to run concurrently.

When the sentence was pronounced the crowd signified its disapproval with lend and long-protracted "Oh's," which were squelched by the sheriff.

It is said $10,000 was paid to the city.

They Sang at McKinley.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Major McKinley had many callers to-day. Among them were two little old women attired in black. Their faces were pale and they looked nervous, but there was a purposeful gleam in their eye. They advanced side by side to Major McKinley, and extending their hands in turn sang four lines of congratulation in rhymes. This is the first experience Maj. McKinley has had with poets since his election, and the first congratulation he has had in song from the lips of composers.

That Missing Nova Scotia Schooner.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—No word has yet been received from the missing schooner Iona, from Apple River, N.S., for this port, and grave fears for her safety are entertained in shipping circles She carries a cargo of grindstones. She sailed from Apple River October 11th and with ordinary weather she should have arrived several days ago. The Iona is a ninety-ton schooner, commanded by Capt. Henry E. Hummelfman of Lunenburg, N.S.

Died From Heart Disease.

New York, Nov. 7.—Louis Boas, a retired merchant and one of the founders of the Hamburg-American line of steamers, died suddenly to-day from heart disease at the home of his son, Emil L. Boas, New York agent of the Hamburg-American line. The deceased arrived from Europe this morning on the steamer Phoenicia. He appeared to be in the best of health and spirits. He was driven to his son's house, where he expired.

MORE WHEEL RECORDS.

Little Michael Rides Five Miles in 9.12 3-5 on a Quarter Mile Track—Notes of the Wheel.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 7.—With a strong wind on the back stretch and a slight mist falling at the close under the most discouraging conditions altogether, Little Michael, the Welshman, regained the four and the five-mile world's records made by himself in his ride of October 14 and lost to Tom Linton at Crystal Palace track October 19 in London.

Michael and the Lintons are fellow-townsmen and bear much friendly feeling toward one another, together with the natural rivalry. Michael broke Linton's mark of 9.17.3-5, doing 9.17.1-5 October 14. Linton did 9.16 on October 19, and now Michael has placed the mark at 9.12 3-5, a substantial cut He took the same large slice off the four-mile mark, and now holds the two-mile at 3.35, the three-mile at 5.29 4-5, which mark he missed by but two-fifths of a second to-day; the four-mile at 7.21, breaking 7.24 2-5, and the five-mile at 9.12 3-5.

His first mile to-day was ridden in 1.45 2-5, and was paced by the sext, the second mile paced by T. Jallus in 1.53, the third mile paced by the Phillips triplet in 1.51 4-5, the fourth mile by the Weinig quad in 1.50 4-5, and the fifth mile by the sext and T. Jallus in 1.51 3-5. The little wonder was calling for faster pace continually, and is capable of doing under eight minutes for the mark on a favorable kind of a day. The performance occurred at to-day's race meet at the quarter mile cement track, a half thousand spectators being present and cheering the many beautiful pick-ups by the pace making team.

MICHAEL CUTS ANOTHER.

New Orleans, Nov. 7.—James Michael broke the world's record for five miles here to-day. He rode the distance in nine minutes and 12 seconds. He was paced by a triplet, two quads and a sextet

Real Nice.

"I hear that your daughter Mamie is married, Mrs. Trott."

"Yes, she is; and she's got a real nice man."

"Oh, has she?"

"Indeed she has. I've been makin' them a little visit and I tell you he does everything to make home pleasant for Mamie."

"That is good of him."

"It is so. He gits up of a morning and builds the fire and gits his own breakfast and makes Mamie a cup of coffee and fetches it to her bed ev'ry morning before he goes down town."

"Indeed?"

"Yes, and of a Monday he gets the washing all started and some the things on the line before Mamie is out of bed."

"That's nice for Mamie."

"Ain't it, though? And that man does ev'ry bit of the sweeping and marketing, and he never bothers Mamie about his buttons, but just sets down and sews them on himself."

"That saves Mamie a good deal."

"I guess it does. Then when he comes home at night he does up all the supper dishes, while Mamie sets in the parlor and rocks or lays out in the hammock. I tell you, he's an awful nice man. He ain't goin' to let Mamie kill herself workin'. He's real nice."

The Way They Traded.

"I witnessed a novel marriage in Virginia a few days ago," said a traveling salesman to a Washington Star reporter.

"A couple on a gaunt, bony horse rode up to the hotel where I was stopping. The swain dismounted and took half a dozen chickens into the house to sell them to the landlord. He was not in need of chickens, and the man said:

"'Tain't no use, Sal. We'll hev ter come agin termorrer.'

"The next morning they rode into town again and made the round of the stores. I watched, and finally the man went to the county clerk's office. I followed and heard the colloquy.

"'Mister, me an' my gal wants ter git married. We bringed in chickens ter git money fer a license, but no one won't give us no money fer 'em. Kin sell 'em in trade over hyar, an' ef you'ns 'll take th' trade, I'll buy a license.'

"The deal was made, and the couple rode home, looking as happy as though the course of true love had always run smoothly."

The two most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman, and the woman a mother. At these times Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is of incalculable value. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all the ills of womankind are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." There are not three cases in a hundred of woman's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will not cure.

Defying the Probs

AND FORCING THE SEASON.

We Can't Change the Weather

BUT WE CAN CHANGE OUR PRICES.

At no time of the year are we satisfied to sell at regular prices. At no time of the year can we afford to allow unseasonable weather to clog our business. Our stocks must keep on the move. We're constantly running across lots of goods offered to us at Special Prices. That means ample opportunity to discount the trade in Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings without any trouble. Please remember that this business is PERSISTENTLY in advance of every other, and that prices here are always, with seldom an exception, the LOWEST.

We start off this week with a double head of steam to Reduce all our prices on all our stock, and make business boom in defiance of the mild weather.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA

Meetings of Council Had to be Postponed

BECAUSE MINISTERS WERE BUSY.

Newspapers Were a Little Previous About the Appointment of a Commandant for the Royal Military College—Col. Bacon Will Resign From the D. R. A.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—Although there were five Ministers in the Capital, Messrs. Davies, Blair and Fielding had so much to attend to in the departments that there was no time for a Cabinet Council to-day. It was therefore put off till to-morrow, when Mr. Mulock and Sir Richard Cartwright will be back.

The militia officers have been on the qui vive for some time past respecting the appointment of a commandant to the Royal Military College in succession to Major-General Cameron. Nothing of an official character has been received confirmatory of the press despatches that Major Kitson of the Royal Rifles has been chosen for the office. I asked Mr. Laurier to-night if he had heard anything about Major Kitson, and he replied in the negative. Continuing, he said: "We asked Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of War, to select a good man for us, and have every reason to believe that he will do so, but we have not been apprised of his choice."

"Dont you think it rather strange," remarked your correspondent, "that the first intimation of the appointment should come through newspapers, before even the Government has been notified of a choice?"

"Perhaps," replied the Premier with a laugh, "there are enterprising newspaper men over there as well as here, who know all these things in advance."

And, still chuckling over his "very palpable hit," Mr. Laurier bade your correspondent a hearty good-night. Subsequently I saw General Gascoigne, who also said he had no advices of the position having been filled.

Col. Blair, late superintendent of the branch experimental farm at Nappan, Nova Scotia, was in the city to-day on his way west to Detroit for the purpose of examining into the working of steam dredges, which it is proposed to use in reclamation of marsh lands in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

COL. BACON WILL RESIGN.

It is understood that Col. Bacon, secretary of the D. R. A., will resign that office at the forthcoming meeting of the association. Col. Bacon has held the position of secretary for many years. He is one of the old-timers of the association, and has rendered good service. He now feels that he may be permitted to retire.

Captain Dunn of the Government fishery cruiser Petrel is in the city consulting with the Customs Department in regard to the seizure of the mud scow Grace Ruell of Detroit, for breaking bulk, otherwise dumping garbage into Canadian waers without reporting at the customs. Capt. Ruelle, owner of the boat, has, as already stated, made a claim for $50,000 damages. This claim the Washington authorities have sent to England, and now the matter is before the Customs Department to report upon. The Dominion Government has a very strong case, and it is unlikely that Captain Ruelle will succeed in getting his claim recognized.

The appeal of the Ottawa Gas Company against the increased assessment on the company's mains was heard by the Court of Revision to-day. The assessment against the company is, for land $2,100, for buildings $60,000, and for mains $50,000. Last year the assessment was $11,900 on the property, the mains having been assessed this year for the first time. For fifteen years prior to 1895 it stood at $42,400. Evidence was put in as to the value of the works constructed. Mr. Ferguson, Q. C., who appeared for the Gas Company, among other points, submitted that, as the assessors had put the whole of the assessment as being in By Ward, they could not now make any change by assessing the main in other wards. It was shown that the pipes did not exist in By Ward, and in the recent decisions in Toronto the judge had not given any decision on this point. Judgment was reserved.

The Government will soon have to select a building which can be utilized for militia stores, the present building and site being required for the central depot. It is said the Parry Sound Railway will give the Government $10,000 for the present building, and that this, with the requisite additional amount, will be used for putting up a new geological museum. The present museum will be converted into a militia stores building.

There is no truth in the report that Mr. Schreiber, who has gone to British Columbia to look over the Kamloops and Yale branch of the C. P. R., will also make a report to the Government on the proposed Crow's Nest Pass Railway. The advisability of constructing this road has been under the consideration of the Government for some time, but the Pass has been thoroughly surveyed and there is no question about a feasible line being secured.

Messrs. W. Davis & Son of this city have received the contract from the Government for clearing out part of the Galops Rapids in the St. Lawrence River. The work will amount to between $8000 and $9000. A large amount of money has been expended on this work, but so far vessels have not taken advantage of it. It is thought that a slight additional expenditure will make the canal navigable.

The Free Press says there has been much said of the burning of official documents in His Excellency's ranche offices in British Columbia and the impropriety of sending them out there at all. The general opinion seems to be that they should have been attended to by the Deputy Governor at Ottawa, Sir Henry Strong, that being the very purpose for which his office exists. It can easily be seen what inconvenience the burning of these orders-in-council has been to the public. They are all being copied over again, and in the meantime the Government has taken the wisest course under the circumstances, in writing the Governor-General to telegraph his assent to such of the orders as he had considered."

There is a lively contest now going on between the Hull Electric Company and the Aylmer Road Company over the construction of the electric tracks in the streets of Aylmer. The Road Company claim the Electric Railway is entrenching on their property. This morning a portion of the road tracks were torn up.

The Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. W. G. Parmelee, returned to his departmental duties this morning after a fortnight's hunting. He was up in the country to the northwest of Lake Temiscamingue, and bagged considerable small game. There was snow on the ground a foot deep when he left.

It is said the Government is considering the advisability of erecting a new wing to the eastern block, to consist chiefly of storage vaults, where the public documents of the country, notes of surveys and Dominion land patents, thousands of which are still unclaimed, could be safely kept.

Flags were flying from the public buildings to-day in honor of the birthday of the Prince of Wales.

Archbishop Duhamel left for Portage du Fort to-day to dedicate a new Roman Catholic Church at Vinton.

Father Grignon of Maniwaki is in town. He says the Government are making great efforts to purchase the Indian reserve in the village of Maniwaki, and have offered as high as $40,000 for lots of 60 acres. But the Indians have become so attached to their reserve that they say money cannot buy their land.

Hon. A. G. Blair arrived at noon to-day.

Hon. L. H. Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has returned to the city.

Premier Murray of Nova Scotia came to the city to-day.

The Department of Public Works was notified to-day that Mr. Tarte and party had left Winnipeg for the Coast.

Hon. W. S. Fielding returned to the city at noon to-day, and will start out on the work of tariff revision in a few days, commencing at Toronto.

Mr. A. D. Provand, M.P. for Blackfriar's district, Glasgow, Scotland, who was here for the past few weeks in the interest of the Chignecto Ship Railway shareholders, has left for home, having given up the fight. There is no prospect of the subsidy being renewed.

Mr. Justice King of the Supreme Court left for Victoria to-day. The Behring Sea Claims Commission meets in that city next Monday.

Col. Cotton, Inspector of Artillery for this district, is here on official duties.

AFTER THE CZAR AGAIN.

The Engine Drawing the Imperial Train Found to Have Been Tampered With.

Vienna, Nov. 9.—The Neue Freie Presse publishes a despatch from St. Petersburg saying it is stated there that a railway train which was conveying the Dowager Czarina, Grand Duke Michael, Grand Duke Nicholas and Grand Duchess Olga, was stopped between Sombatowo and Mikalejewo, the engineer finding that parts of the locomotive had been wilfully loosened. The occupants of the train were compelled to walk to Mikalejewo. Several of the employes of the railway have since been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the attempt to wreck the train.

The Liberty Bell Seized.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The Columbian Liberty bell is in the hands of the sheriff. The Henry McShane Manufacturing Company of Baltimore, which cast it, claims that it has never been paid for the work, and this morning the firm's local agent, with a deputy sheriff, brought the bell from Evanston to Chicago. It will be shipped to Baltimore, where the firm intends to place it on exhibition. The bell was attached once before, just prior to its final jaunt to the Atlanta Exposition, but a note for $125, the amount of the attachment, was given to secure the debt. The McShane Company claim the bell cost them $1200.

Burned His Little Sister to Death.

Newark, N.J., Nov. 9.—Fred Ritz, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ritz, while left alone in the house with his 2-year-old sister, Jennie, this morning, poured a can of kerosene oil over her clothing and set fire to it. The little one was burned almost to a crisp and died in great agony. The boy told his frenzied mother he did it "just to see Jennie burn."

THE VENEZUELA DISPUTE SETTLED

What Lord Salisbury Said at the Guild-hall Banquet Regarding the Foreign Relations of Great Britain The Turkish Question Referred to by the Premier.

London, Nov. 9.—The Lord Mayor's show, marking the installation into office of the new Lord Mayor, George F. Phillips, started from the Guild Hall at 11 o'clock this morning. The weather was bright and sunny, and the crowds which lined the streets through which the pageant passed were enormous. The procession was more or the nature of a military parade than usual, contingents of regulars, volunteers, cavalry, and artillery being included in the line. Among the features of the show were cars containing illustrations of the uniforms worn in the British army within the last century and similar illustrations of those worn in the navy during the same period. There were also stage coaches containing men and women in the costumes in vogue in 1795. These were followed by the motor cars now in use as street conveyances, and behind them were allegoric cars describing the history of the city of London. The entire show was of a most gorgeous character.

There was a sumptuous display tonight at the banquet marking the installation into office of George Faudel Phillips, the new Lord Mayor of London. The banqueting hall of the Guild Hall was crowded, many of those present being of world-wide celebrity, including Prime Minister Salisbury, Right Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty; Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India; Lord Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor; Right Hon. Charles T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade; General Lord Wolseley, Commander-in-Chief of the British forces; Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchener, Sirdar of the Egyptian army; Right Hon. William Court Gully, Speaker of the House of Commons, and Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, the American Ambassador.

Interest centred in the speech made by Lord Salisbury, it being the custom in recent years for the Prime Minister at the Lord Mayor's banquet to make a statement regarding the foreign and domestic policies of the Government.

Ambassador Bayard replied to the toast "The Foreign Representatives." Mr. Bayard, in treating of the community of interests of the nations of the world, all being affected by the doings of others, referred to the Presidential election in the United States, saying: "I am very sure that it was in no narrow party sense, no merely national sense, that the heart of the people which it is my highest honor to represent was echoed in a verdict that could not be misunderstood, standing, as it does, for national honor and the continuity of national obligations, making the world safer in the trust of each part, and speaking as emphatically as the human mind and human heart ever spoke in favor of that honesty which is an essential condition of civilization everywhere."

When Lord Salisbury arose to reply to the toast, "Our Ministers" he received an ovation. After thanking the Lord Mayor and the others present for the warmth of the welcome extended to him, he said: "I thank the Ambassador of the United States for his presence here and for joining in a great historic meeting. By the few words he has uttered he has raised his own plane of observation so high above the mere level of party that, though contrary to practice to remark upon the internal politics of other states, I may be permitted without impertinence to congratulate him upon the splendid pronouncement the great people he represents have made in behalf of the principles which lie at the base of all human society. It is rather bathos to have to turn therefrom to the rather unimportant controversy this country and ours have had in recent months. I only do so for the purpose of expressing the belief that it is at an end. You are aware that in the discussion had with the United States on behalf of their friends in Venezuela, our question has not been whether there should be arbitration, but whether arbitration should have unrestricted application, and we have always claimed that those who, apart from historic right, had the right which attaches to established settlements, should be excluded from arbitration. Our difficulty for months has been to define the settled districts, and the solution has, I think, come from the Government of the United States, that we should treat our colonial Empire as we treat individuals; that the same lapse of time which protects the latter in civic life from having their title questioned should similarly protect an English colony, but beyond that, when a lapse could not be claimed, there should be an examination of title and all the equity demanded in regard thereto should be granted.

"I do not believe I am using unduly sanguine words when I declare my belief that this has brought the controversy to an end.

"It is a matter of no small satisfaction to the Government that at a time when anxious social questions which are far more important than political questions are troubling the United States, and, therefore, troubling the world, we should remove any semblance of political difference that might hinder common action in defence of the common heritages of society.

"We have had an anxious year at the Foreign Office, but we have floated into a period of comparative calm, and I do not intend to trouble you with matters that have passed away."

Lord Salisbury then proceeded to the Turkish question. He repeated the arguments against Great Britain taking isolated action against the Porte, and emphasized the fact that the military occupation of Turkey would be necessary if such action were taken. Great Britain, he declared, could not occupy the country unless they established conscription. He pictured the risk of an European war, and said that the six great powers must act in concert. Any of these powers was able to veto the others. He denied that the powers were acting on selfish principles. They had firm ground for difference of opinion. The motives influencing the Bri-

ONTARIO'S MINERAL WEALTH.

In addition to the well-known extensive mineral wealth of Ontario, we have been hearing a great deal about a discovery of coal in the Northwestern part of the Province. Opinions differ as to whether it is really anthracite coal or anthtbraxolite. Now, it appears that these two names suggest a distinction without a difference. Anthraxolite is a name said to have bestowed by Prof. Chapman on coal occurring in veins, while anthracite is applied to coal of the same or similar quality occurring in beds. There is also difference of opinion, even among experts, as to the true nature of the Algoma coal find. But the deposits seem to be of so valuable a commercial nature as to suggest that the Ontario Government should not rest content with the report of its own geologist but should provide for some other additional opinion—for the greatest doctors disagree. If it comes to that, it might even be advisable for the Government to conduct active operations for the purpose of determining the real nature and extent of the alleged deposits of coal. The important relation between the existence of coal in the regions mentioned, and the development of our immense deposits of iron, would warrant a liberal expenditure. The dictum of one expert, no matter how eminent, should not be allowed to shelve the matter, if that is likely to be the fate of the new find. It would seem that the indications of coal are of so promising a nature that the Government would be justified in making considerable expenditure to determine whether such a deposit is of the value it is alleged to be. In such a matter the Government, it seems to us should lead, not follow. So much depends upon the fact of the new discovery being coal of commercial value, that the people would heartily endorse an aggressive policy on the part of the Ontario Government, looking not only to an authoritative decision in reference to the coal discovery, but a broader policy that would develop our undoubted wealth of minerals in the new districts, and thus promote the prosperity of the province, increase of of population and the settlement of the hundreds of thousands of acres of our unoccupied, but undoubtedly rich agricultural area.

PEOPLING THE NORTHWEST.

In the House of Commons on Sept. 24th, Mr. Fraser, the representative of Guysboro, N.S., spoke upon the question of immigration, and pointed out that the immigration policy of the late government was one of the most doleful of failures. He pointed out also that the late government was responsible for the slow settling of the Northwest. They began by locking up immense tracts of the best lands in the hands of speculative companies. They gave the public to understand that men could go to the Northwest, traffic in public lands, make large fortunes and return to "civilization" to enjoy them—forgetting that the only settler of value is one that makes his home in a country. In no other way can we get a stable population. It was also suggested that every acre of land should be freed and given to the people. It is a prominent plank in the platform of the Liberal party adopted in national conference in June, 1893, that the land should be for the settler and not for the speculator. This is the true policy and in direct contrast to the course pursued by the late government. In effect the late government instead of making the acquisition of land as easy as possible for the settler, made it as difficult as possible—their policy was short-sighted and has been fatal to the attainment of the greatest desideratum—population for the great Northwest. There we have, ready-made, homes for millions and it only needs a wise and liberal land policy and judicious assistance and encouragement such as the present government, we believe, are willing to give—to secure the rapid filling up of the Northwest. There can be no question that this subject is one of the most important now before the country. We have arranged and re-arranged tariffs in the, so far, futile effort to provide a home market for our industrial products, but if we never create such a market, we shall go a long way towards it by filling up the Northwest with the population it is capable of supporting—a population, which necessarily devoting its energies to agricultural pursuits, will create a demand for the manufactured products of the older provinces, which will be of mutual advantage. In connection with immigration, the Western Canada Immigration Association, of Winnipeg, is moving energetically, and will doubtless, from the experience of its members, be able to give valuable assistance to the Government in formulating a bold scheme for making the Northwest the great and populous section of the Dominion, it is suited to become, the homes of millions of stable and solid citizens.

TARIFF REFORM.

During the late general election campaign Mr. Laurier promised that the work of reforming the tariff should proceed so gradually and with so careful reference to the interests concerned as to create a minimum of industrial disturbance; that the people interested should be consulted and have an opportunity of presenting their case before the Government. In conformity with this, therefore, a committee of the Government is now engaged in eliciting opinion with a view of forming a basis for a scheme of tariff reform. While the committee of the Government charged with this work is willing and anxious to consult as many interests as possible, it is impracticable that they should go hunting for persons who have a case to lay before them. It is thus desirable that all who have any suggestions to make should put themselves in communication with the committee, when no doubt the committee will gladly make a visit to the locality desiring a conference with them. In view of this would it be well for the several manufacturing interests in Peterborough to make a move looking to a conference with the Ministers. Peterborough has rather large manufacturing interests which will doubtless be effected by a readjustment of the tariff. We have the millers, the lock manufacturers, the manufacturers of agricultural implements, the manufacturers of woollen goods and other fabrics, the builders of bridges, the manufacturers of electrical apparatus and supplies, manufacturers of engines, boilers, saw mill and mining machinery, lumbermen, canoe builders, etc. It is suggested that these several industries should through the Board of trade, or otherwise, place themselves in communication with the Tariff Committee of the Government with a view of placing their views in the matter of tariff reform. We are sure the Commission will be most anxious to meet them for it is the desire of the Government to benefit the people by a revision of the tariff, to assist as far as may be both the manufacturer and the consumer.

YOUR OWN ARTIST.

A Child can use Diamond Dyes.

You can gild gold, silver, bronze or copper fancy baskets, frames, emblems, gas fixtures, lamps, furniture, household ornaments and statuettes by using Gold, Silver, Bronze and Copper Diamond Paints which are manufactured by the proprietors of Diamond Dyes.

By the aid of Diamond Paints you can make old things look like new. None of the fifty cent paints surpass them either in quality or quantity, and but few are as good.

With a ten cent package of Diamond Paint and a bottle of Diamond Paint Liquid, even a child can double the worth of many a household ornament.

When buying any of the Diamond Paints buy at the same time a bottle of Diamond Paint Liquid with a large size camel's hair brush, sold at ten cents. Each bottle contains enough liquid to mix two or three packages of paint.

RECIPROCITY WITH THE U. S.

A Montreal Forwarder Wants the Treaty of 1854 Again.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Fielding's statement in New York to the effect that the Ottawa Government would soon press for a treaty of reciprocity has set the merchants discussing the probability of such a treaty. Mr. Hugh McLennan, one of our leading forwarders and a director of the Bank of Montreal, said: "I favor a renewal of the treaty of 1854." He said to-day: "If it is possible to secure that, and I want it to include the privileges for both nations of coasting and inland waters, I want it made possible for a Canadian vessel to carry a cargo from one American port to another, and the same privilege to be extended to American vessels. The treaty of 1854 was certainly favorable to the two countries, and I don't believe that the conditions of to-day would make any difference. If a new treaty is negotiated, it should be as much as possible a repetition of the treaty of 1854, with the additions I have spoken of regarding navigation."

Is Parnell Still Alive?

London, Nov. 9.—The Sunday Times says that a firm of London publishers wrote last week to Professor Haddon of Dublin anent the matter of preparing a life of Parnell. Professor Haddon replied that a general belief exists that Parnell is alive on an obscure ranch in a Western State. Shortly after the announcement of Parnell's death Professor Haddon approached the widow, mother and personal friends of Parnell with a view of obtaining materials for a biographical sketch. Documents and statements concerning Mr. Parnell were refused, the reason being given in confidence that Parnell is still alive.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of using saline or other drastic purgatives. All that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore the regular movement of the bowels, and nature will do the rest. They keep the system in perfect order.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

Trifling With Life.

The Penalty Comes Swift And Sure.

If You Are Not Using Paine's Celery Compound You Are In Peril and Danger.

If you are suffering from any of the maladies that are so prevalent amongst all classes, and endeavouring to find a cure by the use of the common patent medicines of our times, you are simply trifling with your life.

This trifling and useless experimenting, be assured, will soon increase your woe and anguish; the penalty of foolishness will come swift and sure in the form of death.

Are you, poor sufferer, risking your life by using medicines that only aggravate disease? If you are not using Paine's Celery Compound, nature's simple but efficacious cure, your case may soon become so desperate that no earthly power can save you.

You surely have a knowledge of some of the wonderful cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound. These cures, vouched for by the best and most reliable people in Canada, have been noticed by the press of the country, and have convinced and converted some of the most obdurate of skeptics.

With such medicine as Paine's Celery Compound near you, the fault is your own if you continue weak, nervous, broken-down and diseased.

Let us beg of you, for the sake of your family and near friends, to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial, when, like your neighbours, you will be thoroughly convinced that it is the sufferer's salvation and life-giver. Get "Paine's," as vile substitutes are offered by some dealers.

PEACE WITH HONOUR.

tish Government must influence all conscientious rulers. Her Majesty's Government, he added, had been urged by the Right Hon. John Morley and others to abandon its policy of the past, and renounce certain lands, in which case the Foreign Powers would accept Great Britain's policy. He did not believe in anything of the sort. At all events he did not see any cause to abandon the policy hitherto pursued or to relinquish an acre of ground now occupied by the British.

Continuing, Lord Salisbury declared that the concert of Europe seemed to be in a more favorable condition to extirpate the terrible disease in the east than ever before. He eulogized the speech made on Tuesday last by M. Hanotaux, the French Foreign Minister, in the Chamber of Deputies. He did not, he said, expect that France would try to baffle the action of the European concert, while he added that the Triple Alliance had always been in sympathy with the British doctrines regarding the Eastern question.

Lord Salisbury repudiated the idea that there was necessarily permanent antagonism between Great Britain and Russia. Such an idea was a superstition of antiquated diplomacy. He had, he said, good ground for believing that Russia had the same views. He did not desire to imply that there was any power with which Great Britain would specially act. He only protested against the idea that any power was especially Great Britain's opponent. He would not say there would be difficulty in concurring in any scheme to exercise force if the other powers agreed, but he did not know whether the use of force was meditated against Turkey. He referred to the latest promises of reform made by the Sultan, and said that the future alone could determine how far even such humble promises as these would be realized. He hoped the powers would be able to convince Turkey that she was drifting in the current towards an abyss, and that they would succeed in deverting her before she arrived at the edge.

The Daily News, commenting to-morrow upon Lord Salisbury's speech at the Guildhall, will say in reference to his explanation of the Venezuelan matter, that the terms of the settlement as stated by the Prime Minister are perfectly satisfactory, involving no surrender of essential principles. The solution arrived at will enable each side to claim a victory. Lord Salisbury can justly say he succeeded in protecting the rights of the British settlers, and Mr. Olney can claim with literal truth that he succeeded in bringing Great Britain to consent to arbitration.

The Post will say that the settlement of the Venezuelan dispute is wholly satisfactory to Great Britain and the United States.

The Daily Graphic holds that the solution of the vexatious question reflects the highest credit upon all concerned. It fully justifies the intervention of the United States.

The Standard will briefly welcome the "auspicious announcement."

The Chronicle will say that it finds Lord Salisbury's statement rather puzzling. It doubts whether settled colonists exist in any great numbers, but supposes it is all right.

The Daily Telegraph says the terms of the settlement leave the dignity and interests of Great Britain and the United States unimpaired.

The Times will say it believes where British occupancy of settled districts extending back fifty years can be proven arbitration will be barred, and that all remaining claims will be submitted to an Anglo-American tribunal.

The Daily News is of the opinion that thirty years will be recognized as giving title, and The Graphic thinks that 12 years will be sufficient to establish British ownership.

IMPERIAL CUSTOMS UNION.

The Saturday Review Intimates That Mr. Laurier Must Favor the Scheme.

London, Nov. 9.—The Saturday Review publishes an article on "Canada and the Imperial Customs Union," in which it calls attention to the "spirit of disaffection with the Empire which is at work in Canada," and says:

"Canada's peculiar geographical position regarding the United States is a natural aid to the propagation of this spirit, and annexation to the United States would be the logical outcome. What needs to be done in the direction of customs union should be done quickly. How incredible is the folly of the attitude which Downingstreet has hitherto adopted towards Canadian proposals for commercial federation!

"Though it is idle to hope that the new Laurier Ministry has inherited the old enthusiasm for the federation, it is nowise unlikely that the Premier will favor the project, because he believes that Canada must enter into closer commercial relations either with Great Britain or with the United States. Even a Liberal Ministry would hesitate at the awkward vista of problems which the latter alliance opens.

"The enthusiastic reception of the United Empire Trade League delegate in Australia points that a suggestion in favor of a zollverein may be expected thence. If so, it will rest with the Imperial Government to summon an Imperial conference, which will be the best celebration of the Queen's 60th anniversary of her reign."

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

As Sized Up by Mr. George Hague of Montreal.

TRADE IS CERTAIN TO BE BETTER

Lumber in Particular Will Benefit by the Improved Conditions in the United States—No High Tariff Bill Can be Put Through the Present Congress.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Mr. George Hague, general manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, who returned to-day from New York, made the following statement to The World, which will be of interest to the business men of Canada:

"There can be no doubt that the result of the presidential election will be to inspire confidence in all business circles and there will be a renewal of confidence and activity in manufacturing enterprises, especially those which have been dull for some time past. In fact I noticed before I returned home that a large number of establishments in several of the states which had been running half time were soon going full time, while others which had been closed down altogether have resumed operations. I think that one probable effect upon Canada will be the better demand for that which has been manufactured for the American market and which can only be sent there. The increased activity in manufacturing will give rise to a greater demand for lumber and will enable Canadian stocks to be got forward at a profit. The lumber market of Michigan cannot fail to be benefited, and as many of them seek their supply of logs in Canada a renewal may be looked for in that direction. It was understood some time ago that few logs would be manufactured in Canada for Michigan firms, but if such a demand springs up, as indicated, it is quite likely that operations in the woods may proceed almost on the usual scale. This of course will employ men in Canadian forests and the sending in of supplies will stimulate Canadian business. Then there is the indirect effect in Canada of the improved tone of business in the United States, which need not be dwelt upon further.

"So far as banking interests are concerned," continued Mr. Hague, "it will relieve Canadian bankers from the apprehension they have been laboring under for several years back, viz., a possibility of the currency of the United States going down to a silver basis, and gold going to a premium."

Being questioned as to the probability of a change in the American banking system, the General Manager said: "There is a general consensus of opinion amongst American bankers and persons in financial circles, that the currency system of the United States should be placed on a better footing by the retirement of the silver notes and greenbacks and the substitution therefor in some form of a bank currency. There are many in fact who have come to the conclusion that the Canadian system of bank currency would be admirably adapted to the United States, if such a system could be inaugurated. The question, however, is a difficult one, owing to the great number of small banks and the danger of allowing the privilege of a bank note issue to such a multitude of corporations with such a small capital."

In conclusion, Mr. Hague said: "With regard to tariff legislation under Mr. McKinley, I did not hear much, but I fancy that, owing to so large a number who voted for him being Democrats and free traders, it will be almost impossible to pass a tariff bill through Congress that would impose higher duties than those at present prevailing."

A BATCH OF FIRES.

The Wilmot Homestead at Newcastle Destroyed and Other Property in the Neighborhood.

Newcastle, Ont., Nov. 9.—Fire at 4 p.m. to-day destroyed the old Wilmot homestead, known as "Belmont." It started in the roof of the kitchen. Most of the contents were saved. The house was situated about one and a half miles west of the town, near the Government fish hatchery, and was built over 70 years ago by the pioneer, Mayor Wilmot, father of Mr. Samuel Wilmot, who resided with his son-in-law, Mr. D. J. Galbraith, the occupant. The building and contents were insured in the Lancashire.

On Saturday morning last at 3 o'clock the McMurtry Hotel, Newtonville, was destroyed by fire, and all the contents burned. The house was insured in the Imperial. The building was owned by Mr. A. A. McMurtry of No. 7 Brant-place, Toronto. The contents were insured in the Commercial Union. The house was run by Mr. Samuel Emerson, but the license was recently taken away, and it has recently been kept as a temperance house.

A week ago Friday the farm dwelling of William Martin, on the lake shore, three miles east of here, went up in smoke. Mr. Martin arose about 5 a.m., lit the fire in the stove and went out to the pasture after his team. When returning he observed flames through the upstair windows. He arrived in time to save some of the downstairs stuff. The house was insured and was owned by a loan company in Toronto.

Mrs. Belanger, a Montreal Widow of Seven Years, Charged With Concealment of Birth.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Two women, a Mrs. Belanger and her cousin, Anna Lebel, are under arrest, charged with a serious crime. Mrs. Belanger, who has been a widow for seven years, gave birth to twins, and some time after Miss Lebel left the infants on the steps of the Grey Nunnery, Guy-street, and although one of them was then alive, it did not live long. The women are accused of concealing the birth of the children and of having abandoned one of them while still alive.
